Introduction

Rise is a tabletop role-playing game. This chapter explains what that means, and how Rise is different from other existing games.

What Is A Tabletop Role-Playing Game?

In tabletop role-playing games like Rise, you play a specific character of your own design. Your character can try to do anything you can imagine in a world that the game master, or GM, creates. Of course, you won't always succeed. The details of your character's capabilities are defined in the pages ahead; when you're done creating a character, it will have a personality of its own, along with strengths, weaknesses, and special abilities. Usually, your character will go on adventures with other characters, each of which is played by other players. Together, you will create and experience a story with the Game Master, or GM, who defines the universe that the player characters inhabit.

Describing Actions

Most of the time, when you're playing a game of Rise, you simply describe what you want your character to do. For example, you can say that your character steps out of their room in the inn and walks over to knock on a friend's door. Although Rise has rules that could govern some aspects of that scenario, such as an Awareness check to see if your friend notices you knocking, you wouldn't usually reference those rules explicitly. Even in the unlikely scenario that your friend doesn't notice you knock the first time, you can just knock again, so there's no point in worrying about the details. If something seems reasonable, it probably is, and you don't need to worry about the fiddly bits.

Sometimes, when you describe what your character tries to do, the action has a narratively relevant chance of failure. Instead of knocking on the door to say hi, you might only have time to bang on it once to warn your sleeping friend about an attack from assassins. In that case, there's some chance that your friend is sleeping too deeply to notice the noise the first time you knock. You could try knocking again, just like in the first scenario, but in this scenario that failure would cost you valuable time to survive the attack. In that scenario, you would roll a die to determine whether you succeed in your action - or in this case, whether your friend would succeed in their attempt to notice you.

Your character doesn't have to take a specific "knock on door" action that the rules define. However, Rise has broadly written mechanics to describe many aspects of the universe, including how likely your friend is to notice things while asleep. Intuitively, you should be more likely to succeed if your friend is very aware of their surroundings, or has an unusual sleeping practice, such as if they are an elf. The rules of Rise attempt to make the results of gameplay match your intuition.

Using Specific Abilities

Instead of describing broadly what you want to have happen, you might choose one of a list of clearly defined abilities that your character can use. Every character has specific abilities unique to them, such as a wizard's spells known. There are also a number of simple abilities that anyone can use, such as the dirty trick or trip abilities. These universal abilities attempt to adequately describe a wide variety of reasonable improvised actions that you might try to use in combat.

Explicitly defined abilities have rules for determining what happens when you use them. Some abilities, such as attacks in combat, require rolling dice to determine how effective they are. Of course, you can use your character's abilities at any time, not just in combat. Abilities such as the create water or distant hand spells can be used to solve other kinds of problems entirely.

Rolling Dice

Eventually, you'll have to determine whether something succeeds or fails. This can happen as part of using a specific ability that tells you exactly what to roll, or because you tried to narrate your character taking an action that has a dramatically relevant chance of failure. In either case, you'll roll a single ten-sided die, also known as 1d10. You'll add some modifier that represents how skilled your character is at the particular thing that they are trying to do. At the GM's discretion, they may also give the roll an extra bonus or penalty based on the circumstances that your character is in. If your die roll is high enough, your character succeeds at whatever they were trying to do. Otherwise, your character fails, which may sometimes have additional consequences.

In Rise, it's entirely possible for characters to be so skilled that they succeed at what they are trying to do even if you roll a 1. Likewise, there are tasks that are so obviously impossible for your character that they cannot possibly succeed. In those cases, there's no reason to roll! Of course, the GM is the final arbiter of whether rolling is necessary. They may have information that the players do not.

Why Use So Many Rules?

Tabletop role-playing games attempt to create rules to define how their universe works. Some games are intentionally vague or minimalist about their rules, which can be fun! Simple games are easy to start playing, and they try to avoid getting in the way of good role-playing. However, Rise takes a different approach. It spends a lot of effort - and words - attempting to define an internally consistent universe, and creating a large number of specific abilities that can be used in that universe. There are a few important advantages to taking this approach: establishing expectations, supporting multiple play styles, and assisting the GM.

Establishing Expectations

Different people can have very different ideas about what is realistic - or narratively appropriate - in a made-up fantasy universe. To some people, kicking in the tavern door and starting a brawl is just some good clean fun, and you'll take a few good punches and then laugh about it later that evening over drinks. But to other people, that might sound like a good way to find yourself imprisoned for the foreseeable future with all of your possessions confiscated by the town guard. Another interpretation of that scenario might see the brawler seriously injured with a broken bottle in the eye, leaving them partially blinded for weeks - or indefinitely.

All of those ideas are valid, and they each match the narrative of a particular type of story. However, it's important that everyone setting at a table and playing a game agrees about what to expect. Players can get confused or frustrated when their actions have consequences that feel arbitrary or unfair. Generally, games are more fun if everyone in the game shares a common set of expectations and conventions. Otherwise, games can devolve into disagreements about what is or isn't reasonable.

One way to establish these expectations is to use a rules system like Rise that defines some expectations explicitly. If the scenario above happened in Rise, the last outcome of an incapacitating bottle to the eye shouldn't normally be possible, since the rules explicitly define how injury works. Knowing what is and isn't possible can help give players and GMs a useful set of guardrails for what they try to do in the universe. It's relatively easy to get everyone to agree about simple things that regular human people have experience with, like how difficult it is to climb a tree. However, Rise is full of superhuman people and monsters, and eventually you'll need to figure out how far a barbarian as strong as Hercules can throw a bear. Having a single authoritative resource to consult can cut off long disagreements about details that are difficult or impossible to determine objectively.

Of course, different games played with a flexible rules system like Rise can have very different tones and themes. Either of the first two scenarios in the tavern are still plausible in different games, and a GM can use house rules to make vital wounds have more long-term consequences if they want. Using a rules system like Rise can help, but it is not the full answer by itself. The GM and players always share responsibility for establishing expectations about what genre a game will be, and conforming to those expectations to the extent that it makes the game more fun.

Supporting Multiple Play Styles

Some people deeply enjoy the process of role-playing itself. They enjoy the process of getting into a character and speaking in their voice, exploring their needs and desires, and building a narrative for them over time. These people often do not need the confines of a robust rules system, and can play equally well in games with minimal rules or none at all.

Other people do not enjoy role-playing as an end in itself, or even at all. However, they may still enjoy the game aspect of a role-playing game. Instead of playing a character for their personality and backstory, they may play a character for their unique mechanics and tactical advantages.

Still other people may be interested in role-playing as a concept, but find it daunting. The blank page in front of you when you start painting a picture or writing an essay can be daunting, and that first step is often the hardest to take. Giving people a clearly defined set of abilities and specific tools for interacting with the world can enhance creativity by providing a safe space for interaction and experimentation. Even if you don't enjoy or feel confident in speaking in your character's voice, you can still engage with the narrative aspects of the adventure by cast a relevant spell or making a relevant skill check. People in this middle ground can sometimes enjoy deeper role-playing games while being lost in role-playing games with minimal or nonexistent rules.

One of the joys - and challenges - of Rise is drawing together people with very different desires and play styles to share a single experience. Rules-free role-playing games and tactical wargames can both have a narrower appeal than rules-heavy role-playing games like Rise, which try to provide something for everyone. You can run games with deep role-players alongside tactical gamers, and it can be a lot of fun. It does place a greater burden on the GM to provide the right ratio of content to keep everyone happy, and it does require the players to be patient when their preferred playstyle is put in the background to support the needs of other players. A well-blended game can also draw people out of their comfort zones slowly and safely over time as they observe and start to enjoy the playstyles of the other players in the game.

Assisting the GM

The Game Master carries an extra weight of responsibility to shape the flow of the game. Creating narratively consistent universes, appropriate challenges, and engaging storylines out of thin air is deeply challenging. If this job is too difficult, no one will want to do it, and then no one will play the game! Making the GM's job easier is a critical component of any role-playing game.

There are several ways that Rise can make the GM's job easier. It provides information about the mechanics and tropes of the universe that the game takes place in, which helps establish expectations and resolve disputes that might come up during the game. It will provide a clear narrative foundation for the world and the characters in that world, which minimizes the up-front work required to run a game, once that section of the book is more complete. It will provide a wealth of pre-packaged challenges appropriate for players of any power level or play style, and advice for how to use those challenges appropriately, once that section of the book is more complete. The GM-focused sections are currently the most unfinished part of Rise, and this will be a more useful guide before Rise is done.

What Makes Rise Different?

If you haven't played other tabletop role-playing games, feel free to skip this section. If you have, you may wonder what makes Rise unique in a crowded sea of games. Rise has five fundamental principles that differentiate it from other TTRPGs: minimal resource management, simultaneous combat, optional complexity, unbounded scaling, and a bounded action economy.

Minimal Resource Management

Many games make use of resources like mana, spell slots, or timed cooldowns to limit how often characters can use their abilities. These systems have fundamental problems that undercut the fun and flow of a TTRPG, and Rise essentially does not use resources to limit character ability usage. In Rise, characters can cast spells or use special attacks any number of times in a row without consuming resources.

Some systems have resources that are designed to ebb and flow in the course of a typical combat. You might expend mana to use a powerful spell, and then regain mana over time by using weaker spells or fulfilling certain conditions. Alternately, you might use a spell and then wait some number of in-game turns before you can use that same spell again. This can be fiddly to track and hard to recover from if you forget what happened to your resource pool, which is why this approach is more common in video games than in TTRPGs. More importantly, this system has no clear way to handle ability usage outside of combat. It effectively gives unlimited ability usage when time is no obstacle, but only in an awkward and convoluted way. This category of system is unsuitable for Rise because it is too fiddly in combat and doesn't make sense out of combat.

Some systems have finite-use resources that are tied to the expenditure of in-game time, such as taking long rests, or session breaks. You might spend a spell slot to use a powerful spell, and then be unable to cast that spell again until your character rests for some period of time. This can be manageable from a complexity perspective if the number of unique resources is small. However, it can get dangerously convoluted if characters have a large number of separate or partially interchangeable resource pools, such as using separate pools for individual spell levels.

The real problem is that this limitation requires you to make your decisions based on not just the current situation, but also on your prediction of all future situations you will encounter before you have the opportunity to rest. This contributes significantly to the tactical complexity of deciding each individual action in combat, which slows down the pace of the game. It is also punishing to newer players who have less experience with the metagaming required to deduce how many resources an individual fight is worth. This strategic complexity is compounded if hit points are treated as an additional resource, since you now have to trade off the potential impact of one limited resource against another limited resource.

Optimization of resource usage can be unintuitive and out of character, but failure to correctly manage your resources can leave you with no useful abilities remaining. This concern can be exacerbated if some characters are extremely resource-intensive while others have no meaningful resources to track. No one likes being forced to hide from a difficult fight or take only insignificant actions while your more resource-savvy or resource-independent allies continue using dramatic and powerful abilities. It can also add stress to the party dynamics when one character frequently asks for long rests after fights because they expended resources and no one else needs to rest. This category of system is unsuitable for Rise because it creates complexity in ways that detract from the fun and narrative of a game instead of adding to it.

Rise does not use resources to limit normal actions in combat. The vast majority of spells, special martial attacks, and other abilities that affect enemies or your environment can be used any number of times. There are a small number of abilities with one-round cooldowns, and a universal ability that can only be used once per short rest. However, there is no time tracking in the system longer than "next round". Small cooldowns are a fine-grained balancing tool that allow characters to have powerful abilities which would have detrimental effects for the game if they could be used every turn.

Rise does use a single universal resource, called "fatigue", that recovers based on long rests. This allows some opportunity to invest extra effort into difficult fights, and to eventually tire over the course of a long day, but it is simple to use and track. Damage taken during a fight is easily recovered after a ten minute rest, with the exception of rarer vital wounds. This gives a GM time to force a party to undergo multiple sequential fights if it is appropriate. If multiple fights in a row are possible, that is often obvious from the narrative context, so metagaming about future fights is almost always pointless.

Overall, Rise uses resource limitations very sparingly. This allows it to gain some of their benefits while avoiding the detrimental effects that come from making resource limitations a fundamental part of the system.

Simultaneous Combat

In most TTRPGs, combat takes place in a series of turns. When your turn comes up, you take all of your actions, and then you wait through everyone else's turn until your turn comes again. This system has one foundational disadvantage: it is very, very slow. Rise uses a simultaneous combat system that dramatically increases the pace of combat.

Imagine a typical 4-5 player game with 1-2 enemy groups using a traditional turn-based initiative system. In this scenario, you have to wait through about 5 turns before it comes back to your turn. This number can increase significantly in large-scale fights. Each of those 5 or so turns can meaningfully change the battlefield situation on its own by moving, weakening, or defeating various enemies and allies. The state of the battlefield at the end of your turn is often drastically different than the state of that battlefield at the start of your next turn, so there's no point in immediately planning for your next turn. Player coordination can be challenging, since they must coordinate in the specific order assigned by the initiative system, and enemy turns can intervene to ruin coordinated plans.

In theory, every player would accurately track the unfolding battlefield state through each of the intervening turns, so they already know what they will do when their turn comes up. In practice, many players find that difficult or impossible, so the first question when someone's turn comes up is: what is the current situation? Not everyone asks this explicitly, but it must always be analyzed anew. Once this information has been processed, players can choose their actions from among a typically large pool of potential actions. Everyone else must wait and do nothing while the active player decides their actions - and there are often multiple actions involved, since this includes both movement and any number of sequential attacks. Once the active player has decided their actions, those actions must be fully rolled and resolved before combat can proceed, so there is little point in trying to make plans until the results are revealed. All of this combines to make even short combats take an hour or more, and six-person adventuring groups can feel dangerously bloated.

Rise works differently. Combat in Rise is broken up into three phases: the movement phase, the action phase, and the delayed action phase. During the movement phase, all creatures move simultaneously, and no attacks are possible. Characters can declare certain simple reactive movements like "stay adjacent to this enemy" to ensure that they end up in a reasonable position regardless of enemy actions. If the movements of characters conflict in impossible ways, initiative checks can temporarily force a linear order of resolution. Each player declares their own actions in an arbitrary order as soon as they decide them, so people are not forced to wait and do nothing while slower players contemplate their choices. Player coordination is easy, since all actions are happening together.

During the action phase, all creatures take combat actions simultaneously, unless they delay. The delayed action phase works in the same way, with all creatures who delayed their actions acting together. The effects of all actions are applied simultaneously, so attacks during this phase cannot "interrupt" each other. Attackers are always responsible for rolling instead of using "saving throws" or similar mechanics that force defenders to roll. All of this means that players can fully resolve their own actions without waiting for slower players to decide what they will do.

The start of each phase still requires a general assessment from all acting players about the current state of the battlefield, which takes just as much time as the assessment in a classic initiative system. However, the time required for this tactical analysis only increases marginally as the number of players and enemies in the game increases. This makes Rise scale much better to large player counts or large enemy hordes. Combat in Rise flows by quickly, making it much easier to balance time between combat and non-combat encounters within the same game session - or to run through multiple separate, individually challenging combats without sacrificing the pace and energy of the game.

Optional Complexity

Many games operate at a consistent level of complexity. Many rules-light games are always simple, and many rules-dense games are always complex. This is a perfectly reasonable design philosophy. Among other benefits, it makes it easy to know what to expect from the game, which helps give the game a well-defined niche.

Rise is designed to allow players to choose their own level of complexity. This broadens its potential audience by allowing people with very different play styles or tolerances for complexity to enjoy the same game together. This goal is manifested in several key ways in Rise's design. First, simplicity is the default. Second, complexity is centralized around the character creation and leveling process, rather than gameplay. Third, complexity is only loosely connected to narrative and storytelling roles. Fourth, gameplay complexity is unconnected to character power.

In order for complexity to be truly optional, simplicity must be the default. The fundamental infrastructure of the game must be easy to pick up and understand. Complexity must be isolated to specific areas where people can choose to interact with it if they enjoy that process.

As a necessary consequence of making simplicity the default, the gameplay in a session for a typical character must not be overly complex. You should be able to pick up a typical character and figure out how to play as them without extensive study. If gameplay is simple by default, and complexity must live somewhere, then the complexity must be located in the process of character creation. Building a perfectly optimized Rise character is designed to be an difficult and rewarding challenge for people who enjoy it. The core systems - attributes, classes, attunements, and feats - interact with each other in nuanced ways. However, building a Rise character driven solely by narrative concerns is only moderately difficult, since you can make each decision independently.

Even for simple characters, the process of character creation is still one of the most complicated aspects of Rise. That is why Rise provides (or will provide, once that section is done) an extensive selection of premade characters for a wide variety of narrative archetypes. Each premade character includes advice for how to play that character and level them up. The premade characters make the system more accessible to people who don't want to interact with the complexity of character creation, or who want a starting point that they can customize to match their own character's narrative more closely.

Not all complexity is contained within the character creation process. Characters are allowed to have significant gameplay complexity. What's important is that players intentionally opt in to playing a more complex character, and don't feel forced to.

If players must never feel compelled to take on more complexity than they enjoy, then complexity should be mostly separate from narrative concerns. For example, it would be a bad idea to define a system where martial characters are simple and spellcasters are complicated. Both of those are rich and evocative narrative constructs. Many people who don't enjoy complexity will want to play spellcasters, and many people who enjoy complexity will want to play martial characters. Gameplay complexity must be more finely tuned and localized than those sweeping strokes.

In Rise, gameplay complexity is generally generated by acquiring a large number of increasingly situational abilities. Every class has some archetypes that grant additional abilities known and some archetypes that grant additional passive abilities. If you like having a lot of unique abilities, you can be a human with a high Intelligence to maximize your insight points, and focus on learning spells and maneuvers that attack your enemies or have situational effects. If you like minimizing complexity, you can instead choose archetypes or learn spells that simply grant you passive benefits, and focus on one or two standard attacks that you specialize in. Some feats give you new abilities and new circumstances to pay attention to that make you more effective, while others simply increase your passive statistics and defenses.

Of course, all of this customization of complexity would be mostly pointless if complexity was strongly correlated with character power. If exceptionally complicated or hyper-specialized characters were obviously and consistently more effective than other characters, it would push everyone to use those characters. Rise makes the tradeoffs between gaining raw power and gaining additional options balanced enough that neither is always superior. There will always be specific contexts where one character's mechanics are superior to another's. For example, a specialized defensive melee character may excel in a campaign that consists of entirely of series of duels in confined spaces, while being exceptionally weak in a campaign that consists entirely of large-scale battles against cavalry archers on open fields. However, each character's strengths and weaknesses are well defined, and their raw power is close to each other, so a GM should not have great difficulty designing a campaign where everyone feels relevant and useful.

Unbounded Scaling

Some systems use bounded bonuses for accuracy or other game statistics. This means that every character of the same power level - or in some systems, of any power level - has a similar chance of success with any given skill check or attack roll. This can frequently cause narratively inappropriate and even comical events, and Rise explicitly rejects this philosophy.

Imagine a typical party of four players, with one character being exceptionally skilled at a particular task. Perhaps the rogue is exceptionally skilled at lying, or a barbarian is exceptionally skilled at climbing. If "exceptionally skilled" only means that they have a +5 bonus on a d20 compared to +0 from the rest of the party, the exceptionally skilled character will only get the best result in the party half the time. The other half of the time, some other character with no relevant skills will meet or exceed the skilled character's result - sometimes by a dramatic margin. When failure compared to rank amateurs happens this often, it becomes hard to take seriously the idea that any character can be exceptionally skilled at anything.

Rise characters can have dramatic statistical differences between each other, even at low levels. It uses a d10 as the fundamental die, which makes every bonus more significant. In addition, a 1st-level character can easily reach a +6 bonus with a skill check that is particularly relevant to their character. This means that a skilled character can beat a party of rank amateurs 80% of the time, and at higher levels their success becomes completely guaranteed. Likewise, the Mental defense of a powerful sorcerer and a cowardly rogue can allow mind-affecting attacks to almost always hit a rogue while almost never hitting the sorcerer. These statistical differences do not always grow with level, but they remain significant at every level.

One advantage of systems with bounded scaling is that it is easier to guarantee that every character is relevant in any situation. Even if your character has no useful abilities of any kind, you might sometimes succeed on important actions through sheer luck. However, this design philosophy often breaks the symmetry between magical and non-magical characters. Magical characters can often use extremely specific and powerful abilities that are impossible for nonmagical characters to duplicate. If magical characters also have similar odds of success with all generic mechanics of the game, they will almost certainly have far more influence over the narrative of the game than any nonmagical character can hope to match.

The philosophy of Rise is that it's okay for some characters to be irrelevant in specific contexts. It's good to give people time in the spotlight where their character's abilities help solve the specific problem that the group is facing when no other character could. Rise encourages that, and makes it impossible for one character to be relevant in all contexts. Each character has their own strengths and weaknesses, and if you try to be good at everything, you'll fall behind people who specialize in a particular area. This will naturally rotate the spotlight between different characters, allowing each player to feel relevant and important in turn.

This dramatic scaling is also used to govern the power of characters over time, in addition to the power of characters relative to each other. Rise attempts to model a massive power range for player characters. They are expected to start their journeys at level 1 as little more than commoners, and by level 21 they are effectively demigods who can alter the fate of entire worlds. This is a critical part of the narrative fabric of Rise, and it is reflected in the statistics and abilities of characters. If a level 1 kobold posed even a tiny threat to a level 21 character, the mechanics of the game would sabotage the purported narrative of power and growth. In Rise, overall character power doubles approximately every two to three levels. The system takes some care to avoid bloating numbers to unwieldy levels on this journey, and the use of the d10 as the standard die helps immensely.

Bounded Action Economy

It is dangerous to give characters too many actions each turn. Each additional action a character can take increases how difficult it is for a player to decide what to do on their turn. In addition, each additional action increases the complexity of the change between the start of the turn and the end of the turn. This is especially risky with Rise's simultaneous initiative system, which combines the actions taken by all characters into a single resolution process.

Rise places significant limitations on how many relevant actions each character can take on their turn. Generally, characters can only move during the movement phase and then take one significant action each turn. Some characters can use a minor action to accomplish something useful. However, that essentially marks the end of action economy scaling, even up to the maximum level.

Detrimental effects that could deny actions are also heavily limited. Total action denial effects are only usable by high level characters, and even then they only work against weak enemies or enemies that have already been significantly damaged. Taking actions is fun, and sitting quietly while everyone else does things can be very frustrating. Similarly, completely removing an enemy's ability to act can easily remove the tension from a fight before it's actually over.

Chapter 2

The Universe

Rise does not attempt to define a single geography with specific countries and locations that is shared between all games. It is common for GMs to define their own setting when running a game, and that freedom is important. However, the universe of Rise does differ in a number of important ways from the real world. The fundamental assumptions that Rise makes about the world are listed below. These fundamental elements are ambiguous about some details, and GMs are encouraged to fill in those details as they see fit. Of course, a GM has absolute power, and can create a world that changes any number of these assumptions. However, doing so can significantly change the tone of the game and create logical inconsistencies, so it should be done carefully.

Magic is Common

The world of Rise is a magical place. Many people are capable of using magic to perform feats that would be impossible in the real world. Not everyone is capable of magic, of course. As an overly broad generalization, it's reasonable to assume that about a quarter of the civilized people in the world have some ability to use magic. In some societies, such as a feudal human-dominated society with a large number of commoners and serfs, the percentage of people with magic can be much lower. However, this is balanced by the existence of other societies that tend to be much more magical, such as societies ruled by gnomes and elves. Even in low-magic societies, everyone knows that magic exists, and almost everyone has observed or been personally affected by magic at some point in their lives.

People can have magical abilities for a wide variety of reasons. There are three main categories to explain why people can access magic: intrinsic magic, learned magic, and gifted magic. Each class with magical abilities belongs to one of these groups. Characters with magical feats are free to choose any of those three explanations for their feats. The explanation does not have to be the same as for any other magical abilities they possess. For example, a cleric may be gifted their magical cleric abilities because they worship a particular deity, but they may also be naturally telepathic.

Some people are simply intrinsically magical. They may require training and experience to improve their natural magical talents, but they had magical capabilities before doing any training. This intrinsic magic can come from magical ancestry, unusual birth circumstances, magical experimentation, exposure to powerful magic, simple random chance, or any number of other sources. This is the standard explanation for sorcerers. In addition, this is the most common explanation for the magical abilities of monsters.

Some people gain access to magic through personal training or research. These people find ways to tap into some pre-existing magical property of the universe and manipulate it at their command. This is the standard explanation for monks, rangers with the Beastmaster archetype, rogues with the Bardic Music archetype, and wizards.

Some people are gifted magic by their association with powerful magical entities or forces. They offer worship, allegiance, or their souls, and are granted magical power in exchange. This is the standard explanation for clerics, druids, paladins, and warlocks.

Personal Power Comes From Great Deeds

The average person in the world of Rise is not particularly more or less competent than the average person in the real world. Training can help people improve their skills, but as in the real world, anyone who tries to improve themselves through training and practice eventually reaches an upper limit to their potential. However, unlike in the real world, people in Rise can reach beyond their ordinary limitations. By defeating powerful foes and performing great deeds that influence the world around them, people can gain levels, which allows them to reach new heights of power. At high levels, people can perform clearly superhuman feats that would be impossible for ordinary humans, even without the influence of magic.

People in Rise wouldn't usually talk about "levels" as a discrete concept ranging from 1 to 21. They would perceive the world as a spectrum, and the specific divisions would be more subtle. However, they would be aware that some people are fundamentally stronger and more skilled than others. Individual scholars or scholastic groups may create their own concepts in-universe to categorize and explain the phenomenon of levels, since the growth of personal power over time is observable and studiable. However, those in-universe concepts would never exactly replicate the metagame concept of a level.

It is common for people in positions of political power to also wield unusually large amounts of personal power. High level individuals can be savvier, wiser, and more persuasive than any ordinary human. They are more likely than low-level individuals to be able to gain political power through whatever means they see fit, and more likely to maintain their hold on that power. In addition, political power can grant further opportunities for performing great deeds, which helps those in power to gain levels and stay ahead of any competition.

The fastest path to acquiring personal power does not come from pursuing political power. It comes from adventuring. Adventurers can defeat powerful monsters, help towns in need, and otherwise have a significant personal influence on the world. In the process of these adventures, they can amass personal power much more rapidly than ordinary people. Of course, adventuring also has an unusually high risk of death. Even worse, people who die while adventuring often leave their corpse in the middle of nowhere - in a monster's stomach - which prevents them from being resurrected without incredibly rare magic. Adventurers must constantly seek out new challenges to test their limits, or else they will stagnate and stop acquiring personal power, so it is never a sustainable long-term activity. There are many people in the world who were adventurers at some point in their past, and everyone is familiar with the concept, but active adventurers are still unusual.

Deities and Afterlives

When a humanoid creature dies in Rise, they know beyond a shadow of a doubt that they will go to an afterlife. Most likely, they know exactly which afterlife they will go to, either as a result of their alignment or their worship of a particular deity. In that afterlife, they will live again for as long as they want, though they cannot leave without being magically resurrected. People are confident that this is true because deities have told them so, and deities are provably real. Also, rare and powerful magic can be used to communicate with people in their afterlife, or even to physically travel to an afterlife plane.

It is an undisputed fact that Rise is filled with a wide variety of deities of varying power and influence. They divinely empower their clerics to act on their behalf. Many people know, though some chain of connections, someone who chose to become a cleric and was quickly rewarded with divine magic far beyond anything they could previously do on their own. Everyone has heard legends of deities intervening more directly in the world even without a cleric, though these stories are rare and few have experienced them firsthand.

There are nine distinct afterlife planes, with one plane for each alignment combination. Each of those planes is divided into layers. Some of those layers are reserved for deities, with major deities claiming layers that are entirely their own and multiple minor deities sharing territory within a single layer. The remaining layers have no specific associated deity. People can travel between the layers, though the specific mechanisms for traversing layers are different for each afterlife plane. Most people do not know this level of detail about afterlife planes, and a commoner would simply be confident that they will go where they belong.

It is well known that the afterlife planes for evildoers are much harsher than the other afterlife planes. The three evil afterlife planes are collectively referred to the Abyss. Demons stalk those planes, tormenting evildoers for their own sadistic reasons. One of the reasons that some people worship evil deities is to gain a promise of safety, since evil deities protect their worshippers from demonic torment in the afterlife. It is also said that demons only torment the weak-willed, and that those who escape demonic torments are free to live in hedonistic luxury. There is truth in this, though there are far more people who are confident that they would rule proudly in the Abyss than people who succeed.

A list of specific well-known deities is given in Table 2.1: Deities. Of course, the GM may introduce new major deities, and the many minor deities worshipped by monsters are not listed here.

Secrets of the Universe

There are many mysteries in the universe of Rise. This section gives a glimpse into some of the underlying truths, though few characters in the universe would understand such details.

Power Ultimately Derives From Souls

At a surface level, Rise seems to have a deep and fundamental divide between magical and mundane effects. The physical abilities of a mighty barbarian and the divine magic wielded by a cleric are generally believed to come from completely different sources. In truth, these are all just reflections of the ultimate source of power for everything in Rise: the soul.

When living creatures are born, they enter existence with a new soul. This is the fundamental miracle of life, and no one knows where these souls come from. Souls in Rise have an intrinsic power, but not all souls are equal in power. Even the combined power of the souls inhabiting a vast colony of ants is dwarfed by the soul of a dog or cat, and that too pales in comparison to the soul of a humanoid creature like a human or elf. Humanoid creatures have unusually potent souls, though some rare monsters, such as dragons, have souls of similar intrinsic strength.

Transferring Souls

The intrinsic power of souls can be transferred. The simplest method of transfer is through death. When a predator kills its prey, the prey's soul is shattered and vulnerable in the moments after death. If the killer's soul is strong enough, it can ingest a fraction of the dead creature's and make its energy a part of its own soul. Weak-souled creatures are unable to feed on soul energy in this way. No matter how many rabbits a typical wolf kills, it will never gain a level. It is simply a wolf, and lacks the capacity to be more than that.

Strong-souled monsters can gain a great deal of power by feeding on the souls of dead creatures. By repeatedly killing creatures with souls and feeding on the soul splinters emitted during death, they grow their own power. Likewise, an adventurer that kills a monster claims a piece of that monster's soul - including the combined power of all soul splinters the monster absorbed in its life. With appropriate magical rituals, it is possible to allow deities or distant creatures to feed on the soul of a dying creature. Demons and minor deities sometimes use this principle to feed on souls offered to them in ritual sacrifices by their cultists.

Transferring a soul's power through death is deeply inefficient. Under normal circumstances, only a fraction of a soul's power can be absorbed in this way. Some of the soul's power splashes into the surrounding world at the location of a creature's death, where it creates or fuels natural magical phenomena in the area. Creatures with strong souls, like humanoid creatures, retain their sense of self and are reborn in an appropriate afterlife with the vast majority of their soul intact (see Deities and Afterlives, page 12).

A soul's power can be transferred without the inefficiency of death. Commonly, it is simply freely given through love and emotional connection in the form of soul motes. Creatures who love each other naturally share small portions of their souls with each other. Over time, deeply connected creatures, such as old married couples, can mix their souls so fully that they become virtually indistinguishable.

Voluntary soul sharing does not have to be perfectly symmetric, of course. Tyrants can earn soul motes through the enforced fear and subservience that they create in their underlings. Worship is another method of transferring soul motes, and many deities fundamentally derive power from the combined soul motes willingly given by their legions of worshippers. In exchange, deities can use their power to protect their worshippers, either through divinely empowered clerics or more rarely through direct intervention. More mundanely, adventurers who save a town from a dire threat may earn soul shards freely granted from the gratitude of its inhabitants.

Soul Motes and Splinters

Souls can be subdivided into lesser pieces. There are two forms of lesser soul pieces: motes and splinters.

Soul motes are emitted from souls unconsciously, like light is emitted from a torch. It is possible for a soul that emits a large number of soul motes to diminish if it does not receive any in exchange. For example, a minor underling who pledges their life to an uncaring leader might give away far more soul motes than they receive in exchange. Most people have enough interpersonal relationships to avoid this danger, but completely isolated people who are neither loved nor hated, but simply ignored, may diminish in this fashion. Even with this risk, the process of emitting soul motes is not harmful or individually significant in any way. In addition, individual soul motes are far too small to be manipulated or used by magical effects.

Soul splinters are created in a much more dramatic fashion.

When a soul undergoes significant trauma that shakes its will and sense of self, it may splinter, losing a chunk of its soul. Of course, death is one of the greatest traumas of all, and almost all souls splinter to some degree when they die.

Soul splinters can be consumed or manipulated in a variety of ways. For example, demons are formed from soul splinters that drift into the Abyss. Undead creatures are animated by splintering a soul that originally inhabited a corpse and using that splinter to animate the corpse.

Souls and Intrinsic Power

As creatures gain soul splinters and motes, they may increase their personal power, which is represented in Rise as increasing their level. This does not mean that a creature's level or overall combat power is directly correlated to the strength of its soul. A well-trained soldier will easily defeat a commoner in battle, but this does not mean that the soldier's soul is stronger. Bears are physically much stronger than humans, and a typical bear is higher level than a commoner, but they have much weaker souls.

Essentially, a creature's intrinsic strength, including its special abilities, determine the baseline power for a standard adult of that species. For monsters, this baseline power can be far beyond an ordinary human. Training and experience alone can increase that power slightly, but up to a clear limit, which is generally up to three levels beyond the baseline. To develop beyond that point, a creature must draw power from other souls into itself.

The strength of a creature's soul determines how much power it can incorporate from other souls. Creatures with a weak soul cannot master the raw energy contained within soul splinters they are exposed to, and cannot gain levels in this way by any means. A strong soul allows a creature to fully incorporate the energy of other souls into itself, and the strength of the soul determines the upper limit. For example, a dire wolf has an unusually strong soul for an animal, but it still eventually reaches a maximum level that it cannot surpass. Typically, only about 10% of the humanoid population has a strong enough soul to exceed 10th level, though of course few even reach that point. All player characters are assumed to have have exceptionally strong souls even relative to normal humanoid creatures, and are able to reach 21st level. Legendary monsters of epic proportions may have still stronger souls, and be able to surpass that limit.

Mysteries of the Soul

The mysteries of differing soul strength have no clear and consistent explanation. In broad terms, the strength of a creature's soul usually correlates to its emotional and intellectual potential, as well as its force of will. Humanoid creatures and dragons are unusually mentally capable - not just in raw intelligence, but also in empathy, determination, and capacity for belief - and correspondingly have unusually strong souls. There are individual exceptions that suggest that this is not the entire dimension of what causes strong and weak souls. It is not uncommon for animals to have unusually strong souls for no known reason, causing them to develop over time into their "dire" variants. Dire animals, who have gained levels by feeding on soul splinters, do not seem obviously more emotionally or intellectually capable than ordinary animals. Perhaps there is simply an element of randomness in the creation of each new soul.

The fundamental mysteries of souls and their sharing is not widely known in the universe of Rise. Individual elements of this truth are widely known, such as the observation that people can become stronger by slaying monsters, but monsters do not seem to grow dramatically in power by killing people. Strange phenomena can occur where death occurred, and old battlegrounds are often haunted by naturally occurring undead. Learned scholars may understand that the civilized species like humans seem to have unusually strong souls, and that this is related to their capacity for drastic personal growth. They may identify the general phenomena surrounding soul splinters, but not soul motes.

Some powerful and unusual entities, such as deities and greater demons, know particular elements of how soul energy can be transferred. Greater demons are generally aware that they can feed on soul splinters from souls in evil afterlife planes as they lose their cohesion over time. They attempt to torment weaker souls to accelerate this breakdown, and avoid souls that are too strong to break. However, they are unaware of the subtler aspects of soul sharing, such as willing soul mote transfer between loved ones. Powerful deities know more about souls than any other entities as a result of being worshipped and maintaining the existence of their personal afterlife planes. In exceptionally rare occasions they may see fit to share that knowledge if it serves their purposes.

Soul-Fuelled Phenomena

The peculiar nature of soul energy causes a wide variety of strange and unique effect in the Rise universe.

Deities

Deities are among the most obvious phenomena that are fundamentally created by the energy of souls. When hordes of living creatures pay homage to the same entity, that entity can feed on that outpouring of worship and become incredibly powerful if it has a strong enough soul. The background of Rise is full of minor deities and demigods who either lack a sufficient base of worshippers to become a true deity or who lack a strong enough soul to effectively use the worship they receive.

Not every powerful entity with a large amount of soul energy is a deity. Deities are sentient creatures that fundamentally owe their power to voluntary worship. Soul energy gained through voluntary transfer, including worship, is subtly different from soul energy gained through other means. The most notable difference is that this soul energy is easier to efficiently re-transfer to other entities. This makes deities more likely to share their power with select worshippers who serve their ends. In most societies, these empowered worshippers are called clerics.

A deity that gains a sufficient base of worshippers can claim territory within the afterlife plane associated with its alignment. Deities have extraordinary power within their claimed territory, and can reshape it as they see fit. However, they must expend a significant amount of soul energy to maintain their territory. As a result, deities are always hungry to gain additional followers, and only successful deities expend the effort to claim any territory at all.

Any souls that worship a deity will be reborn within that deity's territory in the appropriate afterlife plane, even if that plane does not match their personal alignment. This is both a reward for worshippers and a way for deities to accumulate soul energy. When a soul in an afterlife eventually loses the will to maintain its individual existence, its soul energy is absorbed by the afterlife plane it is on. Deities can harvest a portion of that power for themselves, though most of it still transfers to the plane as a whole. In addition, this allows deities to eventually reclaim the soul energy they invested in their clerics.

Nature

Nature itself has an immensely vast soul, but although people can worship Nature, it is not a deity because does not depend on mortal worship for its power. Nature claims the greatest tithe of every unclaimed death - every predator hunting a prey, every swatted fly. These souls are individually tiny. However, the combined soul energy released by billions of deaths over millenia dwarfs the power of any other individual entity in the Rise universe.

Nature lacks a coherent anthropomorphic representation, and its will is almost never brought to bear in any organized way. Druids are granted power by Nature, but they need not agree to any particular ideology, and their usage of that power is virtually never policed or revoked by Nature itself in the way that a misbehaving cleric might be punished by their deity. Nature welcomes a diversity of viewpoints, for it is itself almost infinitely diverse. It has a wealth of power, and it does not expend soul energy maintaining territory in an afterlife plane, so it does not need to jealously hoard its gifts like deities must. The only druids who have had their powers revoked were a rare few who turned their powers to the explicit and intentional destruction of Nature itself.

People who worship nature do not have any special territory in an afterlife reserved for them, since Nature claims no part of any afterlife. The afterlife planes are where Nature's power is weakest, and it can claim no tithe of any deaths there, since the planes themselves absorb the soul energy. Instead, devoted worshippers of Nature may have their souls reincarnated instead of going to a normal afterlife. This gift is not granted to all worshippers, and indeed many would prefer to go to a normal afterlife.

Every plane that is not the Astral Plane an afterlife plane is a manifestation of Nature's power in some sense, and it claims deaths that occur on any of those planes. The four Elemental Planes - Air, Fire, Earth, and Water - are the grandest manifestations of Nature's power.

Pact Magic

Entities of great power can make pacts with mortals. In these pacts, the mortals offer their soul to the entity for a period of time after death, and the entity who becomes their soulkeeper. In exchange, the soulkeeper grants the mortal soul energy from its own supply. The soulkeeper's goal is to have the mortal gain a great wealth of its own soul energy in its life, and then to break the will of the soul while it is in the soulkeeper's clutches. If the soulkeeper succeeds, it gains the rare and powerful ability to feed on the mortal's entire soul. This is a vast wealth of soul energy compared to the normal shards extracted from death and worship, and it annihilates the mortal's soul, preventing it from travelling it to its normal afterlife.

Successful soulkeepers can therefore amass great power. However, it is a risky business, much like adventuring is for mortals. If the mortal resists the soulkeeper's torments during its time in the afterlife, it may take its entire soul intact to its normal afterlife. When this happens, the soulkeeper loses the bounty of the soul, all of the soul energy it originally invested in the mortal, and time it wasted trying to break the mortal's spirit. This is particularly likely if the mortal dies soon after making the pact, so soulkeepers must choose their mortal partners wisely.

Failing to break a mortal's spirit is not the worst thing that can happen to an overly successful soulkeeper. It may may attract attention from more powerful entities within its own plane. When a soulkeeper is killed, ownership of the soul is transferred to whatever killed it. This means that soulkeepers with active contracts - especially active contracts with mortals who are nearing death after a long life - are extremely attractive targets for anyone who wants to steal the reward of the soul.

Demons are the most common soulkeepers. They are more likely than any other type of creature to meet the four main prerequisites for offering soul pacts. First, they have sufficient raw soul energy to make soul pacts. Second, they have enough understanding of magic and soul energy to transfer power through the pact. Third, they have the patience to wait until the mortal dies to claim their reward. Fourth, they have the ambition and risk tolerance to take the gamble of being a soulkeeper and risk not being able to reclaim the energy they invest.

There is nothing that prevents a deity from becoming a soulkeeper. On very rare occasions, deities may make a pact and become a soulkeeper for a non-worshipper. Mortals that gain power in this way are called favored souls. However, being a soulkeeper is risky. Few deities would risk the possibility of losing their soul energy entirely when they could instead use that soul energy to more safely empower a cleric. In addition, being known for making soul pacts can discourage people from voluntarily worshipping the deity.

Ambient Magic and Magical Creatures

The world of Rise is full of strange creatures that have superhuman strength or magical abilities, like minotaurs and manticores. It is common knowledge that such creatures are typically found only in distant wilderness or in deep dungeons. In general, the farther you get from civilization, the more powerful the monsters in the area become, and the more likely you are to encounter strange magical phenomena. Small towns seem to cause a subtle warding effect, and powerful monsters in the area will typically avoid them. Even monsters that lack the intellectual capacity to understand complex causation chains like "if I attack the town, they may send powerful warriors to hunt me down" will typically avoid interacting with civilization unless necessary.

All of this can be explained by the behavior of souls. The constant cycle of life and death in nature produces a great wealth of soul energy. Most of it is claimed by Nature itself, but some spills out at the location of each death. This soul energy lingers and can build up over time in the form of ambient magic. Many monsters can instinctively feed on this ambient magic. This naturally allows them to build their power to near the limit of their soul's potential by the time they are adults.

Civilization disrupts the natural cycles of life and death, reducing the soul energy present in an area. Although humanoid creatures have powerful souls, they die less frequently, and the vast majority of the soul energy of their death moves with them to their afterlife. From the perspective of creatures that feed on ambient magic, civilized areas stand out as a dead zone.

Since educated people in the universe of Rise can observe that monsters tend to avoid civilization if they study the phenomenon, they may have their own theories about why this is true. Reasonable theories that might have truth to them in some contexts could include “monsters have evolved to instinctively avoid civilization to avoid death from monster hunters”, “druids magically discourage monsters from entering civilization so they don't get killed”, or “monsters have to kill other strong monsters to get stronger, so they try to avoid areas that don't have any powerful prey”.

Planes

The universe of Rise is divided into planes. A plane is a distinct realm of existence. Except for the connections between planes through planar rifts, each plane is effectively an isolated universe, and different planes can obey different fundamental laws. For example, the Material Plane has gravity that exerts a consistent acceleration in a single absolute direction. However, the Astral Plane has subjective gravity, where each creature on the plane chooses the direction that gravity pulls it in, if any.

General Cosmology

The planes of Rise are divided up into groups.

Primal Planes: The primal planes are manifestations of the basic building blocks of the universe. Each plane in this group is predominantly composed of a single element or type of energy. There are four primal planes: Air, Earth, Fire, and Water.

Aligned Planes: The four aligned planes are manifestations of the four alignments. The Celestial Heavens is good-aligned, the Abyss is evil-aligned, Ordus is law-aligned, and Discord is chaos-aligned.

When mortal creatures die, their souls travel to an appropriate location on an aligned plane, where they gain new plane-forged bodies and live again. If they pledged their soul to a deity in life, that deity can take ownership over their soul in death, and the soul is reborn within that deity's territory and under their protection. Otherwise, they appear on the aligned plane that most closely reflects their primary alignment in life.

Nexus Planes: The nexus planes are composite planes with a number of distinct environments and filled with creatures of myriad alignments. Nexus planes comprise the majority of civilization across all planes. They do not have their own unique planar essence, and no planar creatures are native to nexus planes. There are two nexus planes: the Material Plane and the Astral Plane.

Demiplanes: These planes are small, fragmentary realms that are greatly limited in their scope. There is no specific list of demi-planes, and they share few common properties. Most demiplanes were created for particular purposes by beings of great power, though some simply came into existence through unknown means.

Planar Rifts

Normally, there are boundaries between different planes that prevent direct passage between them. However, planar rifts are places where these boundaries have weakened, making interplanar travel easier. A planar rift joins a specific location on one plane to a specific location on a different plane. Most planar rifts lead to and from the Astral Plane, which is the space between the other planes (see The Astral Plane, page 19).

Most planar rifts still require the use of magic, such as the plane shift ritual, to actually cross between planes. Some especially large rifts enable physical travel between planes without the use of any magic.

Planar Traits

Gravity Direction

The direction of gravity on a plane can take one of the following forms:

- Fixed Gravity: Gravity points in a fixed direction and with a fixed strength at all locations on the plane. Almost all planes with a fixed gravity have a perfectly flat surface.
- Absolute Directional Gravity: Gravity points in a consistent direction according to a rule that applies equally to everything on the plane, but which is not in a fixed direction. For example, a plane filled with floating spheres where gravity always points towards the closest sphere has absolute directional gravity.
- Subjective Gravity: Each creature on the plane chooses the direction of gravity for that creature. The plane has no gravity for unattended objects and nonsentient creatures. A creature on the plane can make use the control gravity ability as a minor action.

Control Gravity

Make a Willpower check with a difficulty value of 10. Success means that you choose the direction of gravity that applies to you on the current plane. Alternately, you can choose for gravity to not apply to you.

Failure means you gain a +2 bonus to the next control gravity ability you use on this plane. This bonus stacks with itself and lasts until you succeed at a control gravity ability on this plane.

Gravity Strength

The strength of gravity on a plane can take one of the following forms:

- Normal Gravity: Gravity is about the strength of Earth.
- No Gravity: There is no gravity on the plane. The range limits of ranged weapons are quadrupled.
- Light Gravity: Gravity is about half the strength of Earth. The weight of all items is halved. The range limits of ranged weapons are doubled.
- Heavy Gravity: Gravity is about twice the strength of Earth. Creatures take a -2 penalty to Strength and Dexterity-based checks. The weight of all items is doubled. The range limits of ranged weapons are halved, to a minimum of 5 feet.
- Extreme Gravity: Gravity is about four times the strength of Earth. Creatures take a -4 penalty to Strength and Dexterity-based checks. The weight of all items is quadrupled. The range limits of ranged weapons are reduced to one quarter of the normal value, to a minimum of 5 feet.

Light

Various planes are illuminated in different ways.

- Fixed Source: There is a single constant source of light on the plane.
- Mobile Source: There is a single source of light on the plane that moves around it, illuminating different parts of the plane at different times.
- None: There is no natural source of light on the plane. Other sources of light, such as torches, function normal.

Limits

The behavior of a plane at its limits can vary widely. Some planes have different behaviors at different limits depending on their shape.

- Astral Gate: If you reach the limits of the plane, you find a planar gate to the Astral Plane.
- Barrier: If you reach the limits of the plane, you find an impassable barrier. The barrier takes the form of a substance relevant to the plane's nature. It may be possible to dig tunnels into the barrier to some depth, but there is nothing behind the barrier. As you progress past the limit, the barrier becomes increasingly difficult to break through, and eventually it becomes completely impenetrable.
- Looped: If you go beyond the limits of the plane, you wrap around to the opposite side of the plane. There is no obvious transition point or perception of transportation when this occurs - the shape of the plane simply connects to itself. On very small planes, this can allow you to see your own back, though looped planes of that size are rare.
- Infinite: The plane has no limits. This is extremely rare.

Planar Connectivity

Different planes have different degrees of connection to other planes.

- Isolated: The plane is difficult to reach or leave. It has no permanent planar rifts, and temporary rifts are rare or nonexistent.
- Stable Connected: The plane has multiple permanent planar rifts. However, temporary rifts are rare.

- Unstable Connected: The plane has no permanent planar rifts, but temporary rifts are common.
- Conduit: The plane has a large number of permanent planar rifts, and temporary rifts are common.

Shape

The shape of a plane defines the shape of its core surface, and what happens if you travel beyond that surface.

- Flat Surface: The plane consists of a flat surface generally made of earth or similar material. Most activity and civilization on the plane happens on this surface. It is usually possible to construct tunnels into a flat surface plane to some depth, depending on the size of the plane.
- Hollow Sphere: The plane consists of a hollow sphere with an outer boundary generally made of earth or similar material. Most activity and civilization on the plane happens on the inner surface of the sphere or in the vast open space between. Some hollow sphere planes have an outer surface that can also be accessed, but in most planes it is impossible to leave the interior of the sphere.
- Solid Sphere: The plane consists of a solid sphere generally made of earth or similar material. Most activity and civilization on the plane happens on the surface of the sphere. It is possible to construct tunnels into a solid sphere plane, but it may become increasingly difficult to traverse the plane as you approach the center of the sphere. In general, the limit of a solid sphere plane is located at ten times the radius of the plane's primary sphere.
- Uniform: The plane has no well-defined surface or ground layer. Some uniform planes have no ground or solid obstacles, while others are composed almost entirely of ground and firmament. Uniform planes almost always still have limits of some kind.

Planeformed Creatures

A planeformed is a type of creature that is fundamentally composed of the essence of one or more planes. The vast majority of planeformed creatures are composed of only a single plane. When a planeformed dies, its essence returns to its native plane or planes. Weak planeformed lose their independent identity and become part of the core composition of the plane once more. Strong planeformed can retain their identity and reform from that raw material given time, making them difficult or impossible to kill completely. In either case, planeformed cannot be resurrected by soul-based magic such as the resurrection spell.

Plane Descriptions

Primal Planes

The Plane of Air

The Plane of Air is a soaring landscape unencumbered by gravity or ground. The vast expanses of empty air are littered with clouds and unpredictable winds. Any inhabitants of the plane must adapt to a highly mobile lifestyle. A number of towns and structures have been built in the plane using raw materials brought from other planes. They sail through the air at the whims of the wind, and are occasionally battered by intersections with other wind streams.

The Plane of Air has the following planar traits:

- Gravity strength: No gravity
- Light: Fixed source, from a sun outside the limits of the plane
- Limits: Barrier, formed from wind currents which push back with such force that nothing can travel far.
- Planar connectivity: Unstable connected
- Shape: Hollow sphere with a radius of about 2,000 miles.

The Plane of Earth

The Plane of Earth is a titanic large body of earth and stone. A labyrinthine series of mostly airless tunnels weave their way through the plane, connecting the few cities. The plane is a major source of valuable gems, diamonds, and rare metals like mithral, but the dense rock and airless environment make successful mining difficult. In addition, earthquakes periodically reshape the environment by collapsing old tunnel systems and constructing new ones. Some cities have been carved out in vast underground rooms reinforced to survive the earthquakes.

The Plane of Earth has the following planar traits:

- Gravity direction: Fixed
- Gravity strength: Normal
- Light: None
- Limits: Barrier, formed from increasingly dense rock that eventually becomes so hard that no known material or magic can damage it.
- Planar connectivity: Stable connected
- Shape: Hollow sphere with a radius of about 500 miles.

The Plane of Fire

The Plane of Fire is an endless searing inferno. The plane's essence is highly combustible, allowing fires to burn indefinitely without any obvious fuel. However, the intensity of flames on the plane are highly uneven, as the plane generates fuel in various locations that shift over time. Some pockets on the surface are devoid of natural fuel, allowing the allow the construction of trading hubs where the few inhabitants of the plane who are not naturally immune to fire can survive.

The Plane of Fire has the following planar traits:

- Gravity direction: Fixed
- Gravity strength: Normal
- Light: None, though the constant fires provide sufficient illumination in most locations on the plane
- Limits: Barrier, formed from fires which burn so fiercely that further travel becomes physically impossible, even for creatures immune to fire.
- Planar connectivity: Unstable connected
- Shape: Flat surface, in a disc with a radius of about 2,000 miles.

The Plane of Water

The Plane of Water is an impossibly vast ocean. Powerful currents sweep through the ocean, but much of it is calm, and many forms of aquatic life abound in the water. The Plane of Water is the most densely populated Primal Plane, both by sentient creatures and monsters. Magnificent underwater cities are carved from huge rocks that float peacefully suspended in the water. Though there is no sun, simple creatures akin to plankton form the base of the food chain by feeding directly on the plane's essence.

The Plane of Earth has the following planar traits:

- Gravity strength: No gravity
- Light: None, though bioluminescent creatures like plankton are extremely common, making many parts of the plane well-lit
- Limits: Barrier, formed from water currents which push back with such force that nothing can travel far.
- Planar connectivity: Stable connected
- Shape: Hollow sphere with a radius of about 1,000 miles.

Aligned Planes

The Celestial Heavens

The Celestial Heavens are beautiful and majestic. Mountains rise dramatically out of misty clouds, trees are massive and laden with delicious fruit, and buildings surpass the wildest dreams of mortal architects. A serene blue sky gives way to a night so lit by stars that it is almost as bright as the day.

The Abyss

The Abyss is a hellscape of fire, brimstone, and distant screaming. With the exception of the great palaces of demon princes, the buildings that exist are designed for defense rather than aesthetics. The terrain is typically rocky and dull, and most of the color belongs to carcasses left behind after violent battles.

All manner of nightmarish creatures stalk the Abyss. The best known of these creatures are demons and devils. Demons are formed when mortal souls are splintered by trauma. The soul splinters drift into the Astral Plane, and from there are guided to the Abyss by ancient astral currents. When they arrive in the Abyss, its planar essence envelops them in new plane-forged body, much like dead souls gain new bodies in their proper afterlife.

Newly formed demons, known as demonspawn, are barely functional creatures. They are driven entirely by the primal emotion that separated the soul splinter from its original soul, such as rage, grief, or pain. This makes them functionally insane, and they are almost always driven to lash out at everything around them. Rage-born demons violently attack anything they see, pain-born demons try to lessen their pain by sharing it, and so on. When they succeed in their attacks, they can feed on the trauma they inflict, strengthening their soul. Unfortunately, this does not generally make them more sane, since they only feed on the same urges that created them.

Demonspawn instinctively avoid attacking other demonspawn, since they can find no gratification for their urges in attacking such small, broken souls. Instead, they hunt creatures with complete souls, which generally means attacking the afterlife bodies of evil-aligned creatures who went to the Abyss for their afterlife. The greatest feast, however, comes from attacking mortal souls, which are much easier to splinter. Demonic incursions into other planes are devastating but fortunately rare.

Unlike demons, devils are native to the Abyss itself. They are far more intelligent and organized than demons, but also far less numerous. Devils rule vast territories within the Abyss, using demons as their foot soldiers to protect and enlarge their territorial claims.

The only competition with devils for rulership of the Abyss comes from the evil deities and greater demons. Evil deities are fairly simple to deal with. They have absolute dominion over their own territory, so invading their lands is pointless. In addition, since their territorial limits come from their divine power rather than force of arms, they have little ability to expand or even exert significant influence outside of their own lands. As a result, devils and greater demons alike mostly ignore the deities.

Greater demons are much more troublesome. On rare occasions, demonspawn are so successful in their attacks that they claim soul splinters outside the scope of their original urges. This typically happens when demons find and break mortal souls. When this happens, the demonspawn gains a more complete soul, and becomes a little more sane. Often, this simply entices other demonspawn to attack and destroy the wayward demon. However, if the demon survives the attacks from its allies and repeats this process, it can grow in power.

Demons who have expanded their soul beyond a single soul splinter are called greater demons. Eventually, the demon can gain something resembling a complete soul from all of the splinters it has collected, making it a demon prince. Though more sane and functional than demonspawn, these more developed demons are no less evil. Both greater demons and demon princes have enough skill with splintering and manipulating souls to make pacts with warlocks. In addition, demon princes have the power to command armies of demonspawn and greater demons, allowing them to claim territory like devils do.

Ordus

Ordus is a masterpiece of logical organization. It is the most consistently civilized of the aligned planes, and the cities are exquisitely planned. However, laws are enforced with extreme severity. Outside of the cities, even the natural territories are cleanly and simply divided. A forest of evenly spaced trees might border a field in a sharp, clean transition along a perfectly straight line.

Discord

Discord is a wild maelstrom. Much of the plane can be freely reshaped with only minimal force of will. By working together, its inhabitants can create vast cities from thin air, though they can be destroyed with similar ease. Beyond the shaped spaces, the terrain is constantly changing. A field might grow trees that are consumed by a forest fire and then fall into chasms newly formed by an earthquake in a matter of minutes.

Nexus Planes

The Material Plane: The Material Plane is the plane that most Rise adventures begin on. The surface of the plane is a massive sphere with a radius of about 4,000 miles. It is the most familiar to most humanoid creatures.

The Material Plane has the following planar traits:

- Gravity direction: Absolute Directional, pointing to the center of the sphere
- Gravity strength: Normal
- Light: Mobile Source, from a sun and moon outside of the plane's limits
- Limits: Looped
- Planar connectivity: Isolated
- Shape: Solid Sphere, with a radius of about 4,000 miles.

The Astral Plane: The Astral Plane is the space between the other planes. It is a necessary intermediate destination for virtually all planar journeys, as all planar rifts lead to and from the Astral Plane. Most activity on the Astral Plane occurs in a space called the Inner Astral Plane, a massive but finite region where all planar rifts on the Astral Plane appear. However, unlike all other planes, the Astral Plane has no known limits to its extent, and may in fact be infinite. The area outside the Inner Astral Plane is known as the Deep Astral Plane, and few venture into those sparsely populated realms. The Deep Astral Plane has magical turbulence that interferes with long-range communication and transportation magic, making exploration difficult.

The Astral Plane has the following planar traits:

- Directional gravity: Subjective
- Gravity strength: Normal
- Light: Fixed Source, from the infinite reaches of the Deep Astral Plane
- Limits: Infinite
- Planar connectivity: Conduit
- Shape: Uniform

Creatures and Objects

In the world of Rise, creatures and objects are meaningfully different. Many abilities affect only creatures or only objects. The difference between a creature and an object is defined as being agency. Creatures have agency, and objects do not. This is not the same as sentience or life, which either creatures or objects may have.

For example, skeletons are nonsapient, nonliving creatures. Conversely, trees are a nonsapient, living objects. Some rare magic items can be made intelligent by magic, making them sapient, nonliving objects. Some unintelligent animals and magical beasts like ants and giant spiders are nonsapient, living creatures.

Animates

One type of entity in the world is both an object and a creature. Animates are a type of creature that are made of nonsapient matter given a semblance of life and sentience by some form of magic. Fire elementals, clay golems, and plant creatures like treants are all animates. Animates are considered to be both creatures and objects, and are affected fully by abilities that affect both.

Chapter 3

Characters

There are five major customization systems in Rise that all characters share. In rough order of how much they affect your character's play style, they are your class archetypes, attributes, skills, insight points, and species. At the GM's discretion, you may also have one or more feats, which can have a strong impact on your character's identity (see Feats, page 380).

This chapter explains those five fundamental elements. If you plan on playing a premade character, the information in this chapter will still be useful so you can understand how your character works, but you can skip the Character Creation section at the end. Some of the information in this chapter won't fully make sense until you've read future chapters. You can either skim past terms you don't yet understand or look them up as you go along.

Classes Overview

Each character has one of ten classes. Your class determines what your character's fundamental source of power is, and has a large impact on the play style of your character. Of course, any two members of the same class can be very different in both narrative style and mechanics based on the other choices they have made. Classes are intended as an aid to help give your character a cohesive identity, not a limitation on the possible character concepts you can fulfill.

The ten classes are briefly summarized below. Each class has five archetypes, and any individual character chooses three of the five archetypes from their class. For full details about how each class works, see Classes, page 67.

- Barbarians are primal warriors who draw power from their physical prowess and unfettered emotions.
- Clerics are divine spellcasters who draw power from their veneration of a single deity.
- Druids are nature spellcasters who draw power from their veneration of the natural world.
- Fighters are highly disciplined warriors who excel in physical combat of any kind.
- Monks are agile masters of "ki" who hone their personal abilities to strike down foes and perform supernatural feats.
- Paladins are divinely empowered warriors who exemplify a particular alignment.
- Rangers are skilled hunters who bridge the divide between nature and civilization.

- Rogues are exceptionally skillful characters known for their ability to strike at their foe's weak points in combat.
- Sorcerers are arcane spellcasters who draw power from their inherently magical nature.
- Warlocks are pact spellcasters who draw their power from a sinister deal made with infernal creatures.
- Wizards are arcane spellcasters who study magic to unlock its powerful secrets.

Attributes

Each character has six attributes: Strength (Str), Dexterity (Dex), Constitution (Con), Intelligence (Int), Perception (Per), and Willpower (Wil). Each attribute represents a character's raw talent in that area. A 0 in an attribute represents average human capacity. That doesn't mean that every commoner has a 0 in every attribute; not everyone is average, after all.

Strength (Str)

Strength measures your muscle and physical power. Characters with a high Strength tend to have strong offensive capabilities with nonmagical abilities, and prefer wearing heavier armor. It has the following effects:

- Strength determines how much you can carry (see Table 4.3: Weight Limits by Strength, page 46). You generally need a Strength of at least 1 to wear heavy body armor.
- You add half your Strength in dice increments to your damage and healing with mundane abilities (see Dice Pools, page 41).
- If your Strength is positive, you reduce your encumbrance from armor by an amount equal to your Strength (see Encumbrance, page 30).
- You add your Strength to Strength-based skills: Climb, Jump, and Swim (see Skills, page 142).

Dexterity (Dex)

Dexterity measures your hand-eye coordination, agility, and reflexes. Characters with a high Dexterity tend to have strong defensive capabilities, and prefer wearing lighter armor. It has the following effects:

- You add your Dexterity to your Reflex defense.

- You add your Dexterity to your Armor defense. This bonus can be reduced if you use medium or heavy armor (see Table 8.10: Armor and Shields, page 179).
- You add your Dexterity to Dexterity-based skills: Balance, Flexibility, Ride, Sleight of Hand, and Stealth (see Skills, page 142).

Constitution (Con)

Constitution represents your health and stamina. Characters with a high Constitution tend to have strong defensive capabilities. It has the following effects:

- You add your Constitution to your level for the purpose of determining your hit points and damage resistance (see Hit Points, page 30, and Damage Resistance, page 29).
- You add your Constitution to your fatigue tolerance (see Fatigue, page 30).
- You add your Constitution to your Fortitude defense.
- You add your Constitution to the Constitution-based skill: Endurance (see Skills, page 142).

Intelligence (Int)

Intelligence represents how well you learn and reason. Characters with a high Intelligence tend to have more options and special abilities. It has the following effects:

- If your Intelligence is positive, you become trained in a number of skills equal to your Intelligence (see Trained Skills, page 142).
- You add your Intelligence to the number of insight points you gain (see Insight Points, page 23).
- You add your Intelligence to Intelligence-based skills: Craft, Deduction, Disguise, Knowledge, Linguistics, and Medicine (see Skills, page 142).

Non-sentient creatures like animals have an Intelligence of -6 or lower. Sentient creatures have an Intelligence of at least -5.

Perception (Per)

Perception describes your ability to observe and be aware of your surroundings. Characters with a high Perception tend to have strong offensive capabilities. It has the following effects:

- You add half your Perception to your accuracy with all attacks (see Accuracy, page 29).
- You add your Perception to Perception-based skills: Awareness, Creature Handling, Social Insight, and Survival (see Skills, page 142).

Willpower (Wil)

Willpower represents your ability to endure mental hardships. Characters with a high Willpower tend to have strong offensive capabilities with magical abilities. It has the following effects:

- You add half your Willpower in dice increments to your damage and healing with magical abilities (see Dice Pools, page 41).

- You add half your Willpower to your fatigue tolerance (see Fatigue, page 30).
- You add your Willpower to your Mental defense.

Skills Overview

Skills represent the myriad of talents that people can have, such as cooking or swimming. Each character is trained in a certain number of skills. If you are trained in a skill, you have a higher likelihood of succeeding when you try to use it. The number of skills you are trained in is mostly determined by your class and Intelligence.

The twenty-six skills are summarized below. For full details about how each skill works, see Skills, page 142.

- The Awareness skill represents your ability to observe things which you might otherwise fail to notice.
- The Balance skill represents your ability to maintain your balance and poise in difficult circumstances.
- The Climb skill represents your ability to climb obstacles.
- The Craft skills represent your ability to construct objects from raw materials.
- The Creature Handling skill represents your ability to influence non-sapient creatures.
- The Deception skill represents your ability to lie or otherwise mislead people without being caught.
- The Deduction skill represents your ability to make logical deductions based on evidence.
- The Devices skill represents your ability to manipulate mechanical devices such as locks, traps, and other contraptions.
- The Disguise skill represents your ability to create disguises to conceal the appearance of creatures or objects.
- The Endurance skill represents your ability to persevere through physical trials.
- The Flexibility skill represents your ability to escape bindings and move through small areas by contorting your body.
- The Intimidate skill represents your ability to intimidate and coerce people into doing what you want.
- The Jump skill represents your ability to jump.
- The Knowledge skills represent your understanding of particular aspects of the world.
- The Linguistics skill represents your mastery of spoken and written languages.
- The Medicine skill represents your practical understanding of how to tend to the wounds of living creatures.
- The Perform skills represent your ability to create particular forms of entertainment.
- The Persuasion skill represents your ability to convince people to think what you want them to.
- The Profession skills represent your practical understanding of a particular profession.
- The Ride skill represents your ability to ride and control horses and other mounts.
- The Sleight of Hand skill represents your ability to pick pockets, palm objects, and perform other feats of legerdemain.

- The Social Insight skill represents your ability to read body language and emotion.
- The Stealth skill represents your ability to escape detection while moving or taking large-scale actions.
- The Survival skill represents your ability to take care of yourself and others in the wilderness, including the ability to follow tracks.
- The Swim skill represents your ability to swim.

Insight Points

You can spend insight points to gain new special abilities. Your class gives you a certain number of insight points, and you gain a bonus (or penalty) to that number of insight points equal to your Intelligence. Some abilities can also grant insight points.

You can spend two insight points to become a multiclass character (see Multiclass Characters, page 67). In addition, every class has at least one way to spend insight points to learn additional abilities. These options are listed below.

- Barbarian: Combat styles and maneuvers
- Cleric: Mystic insights, mystic spheres, and spells
- Druid: Mystic insights, mystic spheres, spells, and wild aspects
- Fighter: Battle tactics, combat styles, and maneuvers
- Fighter: Combat styles, ki manifestations, and maneuvers
- Paladin: Mystic spheres and spells
- Ranger: Combat styles, hunting styles, and maneuvers
- Rogue: Bardic performances, combat styles, maneuvers, and trained skills
- Sorcerer: Mystic insights, mystic spheres, and spells
- Warlock: Mystic insights, mystic spheres, and spells
- Wizard: Mystic insights, mystic spheres, and spells

Species

Each character has a species. There are seven common species described below. At the GM's discretion, you may be able to play a character with a more unusual species (see Uncommon Species, page 419).

Humans

Humans are the most common and least well-defined of all Rise species. They are not the smartest, the strongest, or the most durable of the civilized races. They have no supernatural senses or impossible talents; anything a human can do, a member of another species could do at least as well. Despite their limitations, humans are practically universal, and their civilizations are the most powerful and numerous of all.

The success of humanity comes from one core strength: their adaptability, both individually and as a whole. Individual humans can learn new skills with surprising ease compared to other species, and they often have a breadth of talent that few can rival. The relatively short human lifespan prevents their society from stagnating under the guidance of elders whose wisdom is now hundreds of years out of date. When radical changes sweep the world, humans can adapt where other species would founder.

Size: Medium.

Attributes: No change.

Special Abilities:

- Flexible: Humans gain an additional insight point. Insight points can be spent to learn new special abilities (see Insight Points, page 23).
- Skilled: Humans gain an additional trained skill (see Skills, page 142).

Automatic Language: Common, any two common languages or one rare language (see Communication and Languages, page 46).

Dwarves

Dwarves are short, stout, and sturdy. It has been said that the first dwarf was carved from stone, and the similarities have been noted by many. All dwarves naturally have beards, and the vast majority keep them long and elegantly maintained.

Most dwarves live underground in mining communities. These communities can grow to massive size, and dwarven kings can rule vast underground cities. The dwarven fascination with strong drink is legendary, though somewhat misleading. Their natural resilience means they need stronger drinks to even notice the effects, so other species tend to gain an exaggerated impression of dwarven drunkenness when they try to drink dwarven ale.

Size: Medium.

Attributes: +1 Constitution, -1 Dexterity.

Special Abilities:

- Darkvision: Dwarves have darkvision with a 60 foot range, allowing them to see in complete darkness (see Darkvision, page 378).
- Depth Sense: Dwarves can intuitively sense their approximate depth underground as naturally as a human can sense which way is up.
- Earthen Crafting: Dwarves gain a +2 bonus to the Craft (metal) and Craft (stone) skills.
- Enduring: Dwarves gain a +1 bonus to their fatigue tolerance.
- Slow and Steady: Dwarves have a -10 foot penalty to their speed with all movement modes. However, wearing heavy body armor does not reduce a dwarf's speed (see Armor Usage Classes, page 178). In addition, a dwarf's land speed cannot be reduced below 10 feet.
- Stable: Dwarves reduce the distance they are moved by unwilling knockback and push effects by 20 feet.

Automatic Languages: Common, Dwarven, any one common language (see Table 4.5: Common Languages, page 47).

Elves

Elves are tall, lithe, and graceful. They tend to have an air of confidence at all times, and even their mistakes seem intentional. Elves have the longest lifespan of any civilized species, and even comparatively young elves carry a weight of experience that can be daunting for non-elves.

For millennia, elves were the most powerful civilization above ground, while dwarves claimed the underground. More recently, humans have usurped elves as the most powerful civilization above ground, while dwarves have kept their claim. This history, combined with their natural differences, has created an ancient rivalry between elves and dwarves that sometimes manifests as outright hatred.

Size: Medium.

Attributes: -1 Constitution, either +1 Dexterity or +1 Perception.

Special Abilities:

- Elven Serenity: Elves gain a +1 bonus to Mental defense.
- Keen Senses: Elves gain a +2 bonus to the Awareness skill (see Awareness, page 142).
- Low-light Vision: Elves have low-light vision, allowing them to see clearly in shadowy illumination (see Low-light Vision, page 378).
- Sure-Footed: Elves gain a +2 bonus to the Balance skill (see Balance, page 143).
- Trance: Elves do not sleep, and are immune to magical effects that would cause them to sleep. Instead of sleeping, elves can trance for 4 hours. An elf in trance may make Perception-based checks at a -5 penalty. Elves must still avoid strenuous activity for 8 hours to heal and gain other benefits of taking a long rest.

Automatic Languages: Common, Elven, any one common language (see Table 4.5: Common Languages, page 47).

Gnomes

Gnomes are the smallest, most magical, and most short-lived of the civilized species. Their large eyes and heads give even adult gnomes almost child-like proportions. Fae blood runs in the blood of all gnomes, and gnome societies have many traditions and rituals that seem superstitious to outsiders. However, these rituals have a purpose, and gnomes understand that failing to appease the hidden powers in the world can have dangerous consequences.

Most gnomes live in forests, but they can be found in remote areas all over the world. Gnomish settlements are almost always overseen by minor fae, such as dryads, who protect the settlement. In many cases, the settlements were originally built around a site of mystic power, though some settlements have outlived their original protectors.

Size: Medium.

Attributes: -1 Strength, either +1 Constitution or +1 Intelligence.

Special Abilities:

- Fae Light [Magical]: A gnome can use the fae light ability as a minor action.

Fae Light

A Tiny glowing orb appears at a location within Medium (60 ft.) range. It sheds pale, bright illumination in a Small (15 ft.) radius, and shadowy illumination in a Medium (30 ft.) radius. The orb is intangible, and cannot be moved once placed.

This ability lasts until you use it again or until you dismiss it as a free action.

- Magic Affinity: Gnomes gain an additional insight point. They can only spend this insight point to learn magical abilities, such as spells.
- Short Stature: Gnomes gain a +2 bonus to the Stealth skill.
- Tinkerer: Gnomes gain a +2 bonus to two Craft skills of their choice (see Craft, page 145).

Automatic Languages: Common, Gnome, either Sylvan or any one common language (see Table 4.5: Common Languages, page 47).

Half-Elves

Half-elves carry both human and elven heritage. They are caught between two worlds, with neither the unconscious grace of elves nor the limitless adaptability of humans. However, they have their own unique forms of versatility based on their understanding of both worlds.

Size: Medium.

Attributes: No change.

Special Abilities:

- Diplomatic: Half-elves gain a +2 bonus to the Persuasion skill.
- Low-light Vision: Half-elves have low-light vision, allowing them to see clearly in shadowy illumination (see Low-light Vision, page 378).
- Versatile: Half-elves only need to spend one insight point to gain access to an additional class (see Multiclass Characters, page 67).

Automatic Language: Common, Elven, any two common languages or one rare language (see Communication and Languages, page 46).

Half-Orcs

Half-orcs carry both human and orcish heritage. They have much of the brute strength of orcs, but tempered by human adaptability.

Size: Medium.

Attributes: +1 Strength, -1 Intelligence.

Special Abilities:

- Darkvision: Half-orcs have darkvision with a 60 foot range, allowing them to see in complete darkness (see Darkvision, page 378).
- Intimidating: Half-orcs gain a +2 bonus to the Intimidate skill (see Intimidate, page 149).
- Physical Instincts: Half-orcs gain an additional insight point. They can only spend this insight point to learn mundane abilities, such as combat styles and maneuvers.

Automatic Languages: Common, Orcish.

Halflings

Halflings stand at about half the height of a human, but have generally human-like proportions. They tend to be plucky, adventurous, and outgoing. Of all species, halflings have the fewest halfling-only communities. Instead, halfling groups tend to live in the gaps between the “big people”, especially in large cities.

Size: Medium.

Attributes: –1 Strength, either +1 Dexterity or +1 Willpower.

Special Abilities:

- Nimble Combatant: Halflings gain a +1 bonus to Reflex defense.
- Short Stature: Halflings gain a +2 bonus to the Stealth skill.
- Stout-Hearted: Halflings gain a +1 bonus to Mental defense.
- Sure-Footed: Halflings gain a +2 bonus to the Balance skill (see Balance, page 143).

Automatic Languages: Common, Halfling, any one common language (see Table 4.5: Common Languages, page 47).

Alignment

A creature’s general moral and personal attitudes are represented by its alignment: lawful good, neutral good, chaotic good, lawful neutral, neutral, chaotic neutral, lawful evil, neutral evil, or chaotic evil.

Alignment is a tool for developing your identity. It is not a straitjacket for restricting your actions. Each alignment represents a broad range of personality types or personal philosophies, so two characters of the same alignment can still be quite different from each other. In addition, few people are completely consistent.

Good vs. Evil

The ancient battle between good and evil takes many forms, and distinguishing good from evil is a deeply complex task. For the purposes of Rise, good and evil are strictly defined according to selfishness vs. altruism. The actions of good characters may at times be morally reprehensible, and the actions of evil characters may seem to be virtuous. However, this narrow definition of good and evil avoids the complexities of defining a more robust moral system while preserving the fundamental conflict between good and evil.

Good: Good characters are altruistic. They take other creatures into account when making decisions, and actively try to help or improve others around them. Good characters may have significant disagreements about what actions are best, but they consistently prioritize the good of others or the “greater good” over their own desires. Different good characters may also have different perspectives on who they should take into account when making decisions. For example, some good characters actively work to protect animals and plants, while others only care about sapient creatures.

Sometimes, altruistic characters can commit reprehensible actions out of necessity or because they believe that a greater good is being served. As long as their motivation is selfless, those characters are still considered to be “good” from the perspective of Rise’s alignment system, which does not attempt to model all of the complexities of real-world morality.

Evil: Evil characters are selfish. They consistently prioritize their own desires and needs over the desires of others, even their allies or friends. Evil characters may take actions that help others and can even work effectively as a team, but their ultimate motivation is to help themselves or make themselves feel better, not to help others.

Neutral: Characters that are neutral between good and evil are neither consistently altruistic nor consistently selfish. Most neutral characters behave altruistically in some ways and selfishly in other ways – either at different times, or about different aspects of life. They often have strong bonds to particular individuals who they care about selflessly, but are not altruistic in a general sense. Non-sapient beings such as animals are neutral rather than good or evil.

Law vs. Chaos

Law: Lawful characters value consistency. They obey rules that guide their actions. Some lawful characters draw their rules from external forces, such as serving a particular master or following the legal laws of the land. Other lawful characters follow rules they make for themselves.

Chaos: Chaotic characters value flexibility and freedom. They make decisions based on what they think or feel at the time, even if it is inconsistent with their previous statements or actions.

Neutral: Characters that are neutral between law and chaos are neither exceptionally consistent nor exceptionally inconsistent. They tend to be generally consistent but may change their minds under the right circumstances. Non-sapient beings such as animals are neutral rather than lawful or chaotic.

Personal Appearance

Age

The typical age for each species is listed in Table 3.1: Typical Ages. If you are old, you take a –2 penalty to checks based on Strength, Dexterity, Constitution, and Perception. However, you gain a +2 bonus to checks based on Intelligence and Willpower. If you are venerable, these modifiers change to –4 and +4 respectively. In general, player characters should not start as old or venerable age, but the GM can always allow it for specific campaigns if they want.

When you reach venerable age, the GM secretly rolls your maximum age, which is the number from the Venerable column on Table 3.1: Typical Ages plus the result of the dice roll indicated on the Maximum Age column on that table. They record the result. If you reach your maximum age, you die of old age at some time during the following year.

The maximum ages are for player characters. Most people in the world at large die from pestilence, accidents, infections, or violence before getting to venerable age.

Table 3.1: Typical Ages

Species	Adulthood	Middle Age	Old	Venerable	Maximum Age
Human	15 years	35 years	55 years	70 years	+4d10 years
Dwarf	40 years	125 years	190 years	250 years	+2d% years
Elf	110 years	175 years	250 years	350 years	+4d% years
Gnome	10 years	25 years	40 years	55 years	+1d10 years
Half-elf	20 years	60 years	90 years	125 years	+6d10 years
Half-orc	14 years	30 years	45 years	60 years	+2d10 years
Halfling	20 years	50 years	75 years	100 years	+1d% years

Table 3.2: Typical Height and Weight

Species	Average Height	Average Weight
Human	5' 5"	150 lb.
Dwarf	4' 2"	160 lb.
Elf	5' 0"	110 lb.
Gnome	3' 4"	50 lb.
Half-elf	5' 2"	130 lb.
Half-orc	5' 10"	200 lb.

Height and Weight

The typical height and weight for each species is listed in Table 3.2: Typical Height and Weight, page 26. The average man from each species is slightly taller and heavier than the average woman, but this is not a restriction for player characters.

Character Creation

Creating a character involves a mixture of thematic and mechanical decisions that will work together to create a fun character that is rewarding to play. As mentioned earlier in this chapter, there are four core systems for customizing your character's mechanics: class, attributes, skills, and species. In addition, there are five core thematic considerations when creating a character: concept, personality, motivation, background, and appearance.

These decisions are described below in a order that makes sense for many characters, and full details for each decision are given after this initial list. It is essentially a sandwich, with narrative decisions wrapped around a central core of your character's mechanical components. However, you can make several of these decisions in any order, and you may find it easier to create a character in a different way. The only real limitation is that your skills must be the last mechanical choice you make, since they are strongly affected by all of your other choices.

1. Character concept: Describe your character with a short, simple phrase that captures their essence.
2. Motivation and goal: Describe what your character wants.
3. Alignment: Describe your character's moral compass.
4. Species: Define your character's species.
5. Attributes: Define your character's fundamental physical and mental potential.
6. Class archetypes: Define your character's source of power.
7. Insight points: Learn new abilities.

8. Skills: Define your character's areas of non-combat expertise.
9. Personality: Describe how your character acts and reacts to the world.
10. Background: Describe what made your character become who they are now.
11. Appearance: Describe what your character looks like.
12. Name: Choose a name.

Step 1: Character Concept

Fundamentally, who is your character? You should think of a short phrase that describes the core concept behind the character you will create. It's best to think in broad strokes when creating a character concept. Your concept should be more than just a factual description of your species or what you do. It should be something that makes you memorable. Some sample character concepts are given below for inspiration.

- Pragmatic wanderer
- Artistic pixie
- Mushroom-obsessed hermit
- Bumbling do-gooder
- Dim-witted bodyguard
- Cowardly storyteller
- Bear-barian
- Parsimonious law enforcer
- Peaceful naturalist
- Trigger-happy pyromaniac
- Heroic, simple-minded warrior
- Friendly necromancer
- Chaotic speed demon
- Pompous ex-noble
- Sarcastic mercenary
- Battle-scarred priest
- Ambitious arcane prodigy
- Charismatic musician
- Aloof scholar
- Blunt-spoken warrior
- Crazy prophet
- Polite warrior
- World-weary pirate
- Devout cultist
- Con artist with a heart of gold

Step 2: Motivation and Goal

Why does your character put in all of the effort that adventuring requires? They probably have a goal that they are trying to achieve, or an ideal that they are trying to embody. Writing down a specific goal or ideal can be helpful as an anchor point when defining the character.

Step 3: Alignment

Your character’s alignment reflects their moral character: are they more inclined to good or evil, and to chaos or order? Alignments are described in more detail at Alignment, page 25.

Step 4: Species

It’s often convenient to make your species your first mechanically relevant choice. Your species can have a strong effect on your personality and narrative, but it has a relatively small effect on your character’s play style. It’s also easier to know your species before you choose your attributes, since your species can slightly modify your attributes.

Choose one of the seven common species options, or talk with your GM about choosing an uncommon species (see Uncommon Species, page 419). Record any specific abilities the species gives you on your character sheet, but if this is your first mechanical choice, you won’t be able to finalize any of your statistics yet. You should also choose the languages that you can speak, since that is influenced by your species (see Communication and Languages, page 46).

Step 5: Attributes

Your attributes are a good option for your second mechanically relevant choice. They have a large impact on your character’s strengths and weaknesses, so it’s useful to know them as soon as possible. They’re also much easier to understand and finalize than your class archetypes.

There are two common ways for you to determine your attribute scores: using a predefined set of scores, or using a point buy system. Once you have chosen your attributes and applied your species modifier to attributes (if any), you should record in your character sheets the various effects that your attributes have on your statistics.

Predefined Attribute Scores

This is the simplest method. Simply take the following set of attribute scores and distribute them as you choose among your attributes:

- 3, 2, 2, 2, 1, 0
- This set of attribute scores is called the “elite array”. For more extreme characters, you may use the “savant array”:
 - 4, 2, 2, 1, 0, 0.
- Finally, for more well-rounded characters, you may use the “balanced array”:
 - 2, 2, 2, 2, 2, 0

Point Buy

With this method, you can fully control your attribute scores to precisely match what you want to be able to do. All your attribute scores start at 0. You get 15 points to distribute among your attributes. Attributes can be bought according to the costs on Table ??: Attribute Score Point Costs. The listed cost is the total cost required to gain the listed attribute.

Table 3.3: Attribute Point Costs

Attribute	Cumulative Point Cost

Attribute Penalties

You can voluntarily take penalties to your attributes. If you reduce an attribute to a total of –1, you become trained in an additional skill (see Trained Skills, page 142). If you reduce an attribute to a total of –2, you instead gain an additional insight point (see Insight Points, page 23). You cannot gain these benefits from reducing more than two attributes below 0 in this way.

Step 6: Class and Class Archetypes

This is the most complicated choice you have to make for your character. It requires the most reading in the Classes chapter to understand what your options are and which classes and class archetypes are interesting to you. Class details can be found in Classes, page 67.

You should choose one of the ten classes, and then any one of the five archetypes within that class. You gain the rank 1 ability from that archetype. You should also choose the weapon groups that you have access to, since that is influenced by your class (see Weapon Groups, page 161).

When you reach levels 2 and 3, you’ll choose new archetypes from the same class, becoming rank 1 in each of those archetypes as well. After that, you won’t gain any more new archetypes when you gain levels. Instead, you’ll just increase your rank in the three archetypes you already have.

If you are particularly adventurous, this is also when you should choose if you want to be a multiclass character. Multiclass characters can gain access to archetypes from multiple classes. This does not increase the number of archetypes you know, so it does not directly increase your power. However, multiclass characters can be more specialized or more versatile than single-class characters, and can represent unusual character concepts. For details, see Multiclass Characters, page 67.

Step 7: Insight Points

Once you have chosen your class archetypes, attributes, and species, you know how many insight points you have, and can choose how to spend them. Don't forget to record on your character sheet how you spent each insight point. Otherwise, you might get confused later about why you have more spells known than you normally would.

In some circumstances, you might want to delay spending your insight points until you are higher level. For example, a fighter/sorcerer multiclass character who wants to have both spells and maneuvers can't have access to both spells and maneuvers at level 1, so they wouldn't be able to spend insight points on both spells and maneuvers. You aren't forced to spend all of your insight points, so you can save them up for later. You can also talk to your GM about spending them at level 1 and then retraining those insight points once you are higher level.

Step 8: Skills

You should choose which skills you have trained (see Skills, page 142). Your class gives you a certain number of trained skills from among the class skills for that class. The class skills for each class are summarized in Table 7.1: Class Skills, page 143.

There are other ways to become trained in skills that are not part of your class. If your Intelligence is positive, you gain additional trained skills equal to your Intelligence. You can also spend insight points to gain one trained skill per insight point (see Insight Points, page 23). Some abilities can grant additional trained skills.

If you are untrained in a skill, your bonus with that skill is equal to half of its associated attribute (if any). If you are trained in a skill, your bonus with that skill is equal to 3 + the higher of its associated attribute (if any) and half your level. Many abilities can increase or decrease your bonus with particular skills.

The number of skills you can have trained, and which skills those are, depend on every preceding step, so it's a good place to finish.

Sometimes, you might have more trained skills than you know what to do with, especially if you are still figuring out the details of your character concept. You aren't forced to decide all of your trained skills at level 1, so you can save them up and choose more trained skills when you level up. You can also talk to your GM about letting you decide your trained skills on the fly during the first game session or two based on what actions you take during the session. This can be a fun way to figure out what your character's personality is through the process of playing them.

Step 9: Starting Equipment

When you create a character, they can start with some basic items. Items have item ranks that indicate the approximate rank that characters can reasonably get access to them. Typically, you can start with a single rank 1 item, up to three rank 0 items, and a standard adventuring kit. Individual campaigns or character backstories may significantly change what starting equipment is available, so check with your GM.

Step 10: Personality

How does your character behave? You should decide, in broad terms, what your character's personality is. This will change over time, especially as you start playing the character in the game, so you don't need to define everything perfectly. However, having a general sense of how your character behaves is helpful.

For most games, it's important to have a personality that can tolerate working with others in a group. A character that is excessively aloof, moody, or obnoxious can make the game more difficult to enjoy for everyone. Likewise, a character who tries to speak for everyone or who repeatedly steals the spotlight from others can be frustrating to work with. You should figure out the right balance with your fellow players and your GM.

Step 11: Background

What happened in their character's past to make them the way that they are? What were their parents like, and where are they now? You don't have to have all of the answers when you first create a character, but it's good to have some idea. The richer your backstory, the more the GM can weave that into the narrative of the current story. Sometimes, it's fun to take a break from saving the world to go visit someone's grandma.

Step 12: Appearance

What does your character look like? What would someone's first impression of them be? This can be helpful for understanding how other characters in the game world - or even monsters - would react to you.

Step 13: Name

What is your character's name? This seemingly minor choice can reveal a lot about the tone your character will set in the universe. If your name is Sir Patty Cakes or Shanky, the game is likely to be lighter and sillier in tone. Fancy fantasy-appropriate names like Ayala or Theodolus tend to push the game in a slightly more serious direction, especially if you make the daring choice to include a canonical last name. As always, stay in tune with what the GM and the other players are expecting.

Character Advancement

As you accomplish challenges and defeats foes, you gain experience. If you have enough experience, you gain a level. You gain some abilities at specific levels, as described in Table 3.4: Character Advancement.

When you gain a level, the following things happen:

- Your hit points increase (see Hit Points, page 30).
- Your damage resistance increases (see Damage Resistance, page 29).
- You gain an additional archetype rank (see Archetypes, page 67)
- At even levels, your bonus with trained skills increases (see Trained Skills, page 142)
- At even levels, your accuracy increases by 1 (see Accuracy, page 29)
- At even levels, all of your defenses increase by 1 (see Defenses, page 29)

- At 3rd level, and every 6 levels thereafter, you gain a legacy item upgrade (see Legacy Items, page 29).
- At 4th level, and every 3 levels thereafter, your maximum archetype rank increases (see Archetype Ranks, page 67).

At your GM's discretion, you may also change some of the choices you have made about your character when you level up. For example, you could change one of your trained skills for a different skill, change which weapon groups you are proficient with, or change the mystic spheres you have access to (and corresponding spells). The GM may ask for a specific narrative justification for the change, require spending in-game time to retrain, or disallow changing some fundamental aspects of your character.

Legacy Items

Over time, items associated with places and people of great power gain magical properties. This process takes place for you as you gain levels in addition to in the world as a whole.

At 3rd level, you choose a nonmagical weapon, body armor, shield, apparel item, or implement you own. That item becomes a legacy item. You choose a single magic item property of rank 2 or lower, and your legacy item gains that property. You do not have to attune to your legacy item to gain its benefits. However, for each deep attunement property that your legacy item has, you reduce your maximum attunement points by one.

The property must be appropriate for the category of item you chose: weapon, armor, apparel, or implement. You do not have to precisely match the location of an apparel item, just the category. For example, you can choose an amulet as your legacy item and give it the effect of the boots of translocation, or apply the effects of a hardblock shield to your body armor.

Legacy Item Scaling: Your legacy item increases in power as you gain levels. At 9th level, you can add an additional item property to your weapon. The item property must be rank 4 or lower. At 15th and 21st level, you can change the properties on your legacy item, and the maximum rank of both properties increases by 2, to a maximum of rank 7. This is summarized below.

- 3rd level character: One property with max rank 2
- 9th level character: One property with max rank 4, one property with max rank 2
- 15th level character: One property with max rank 6, one property with max rank 4
- 21st level character: One properties with max rank 7, one property with max rank 6

Losing Your Legacy Item: If you lose your legacy item, you must retrieve it to regain its power. There are rituals to facilitate this retrieval such as seek legacy and retrieve legacy. If your legacy item is destroyed, you can designate a new item of the same type to be your legacy item, causing it to gain all of your legacy item abilities. Designating a new item in this way requires taking a long rest while holding or wearing the replacement item.

Unique Legacy Items: Legacy items are fundamentally a reflection of the character who wields them. Their effects can be more unusual and complex than abilities on normal magic items, and they can have a larger effect on the way that character interacts with the world. As a player, you can work with your GM to create custom magical effects of an appropriate power that are a better reflection of your character's personality and powers than the magic item abilities that exist.

Character Statistics

Accuracy

Your accuracy with an attack is the number that you add to the attack roll. Your accuracy with an attack is normally equal to half your level + half your Perception. In addition to this base number, your accuracy can include any number of bonuses and penalties from other sources.

Damage Resistance

Your damage resistance measures how much damage you can shrug off without any effects. For details about how damage resistance is used, see Taking Damage, page 42.

The amount of damage resistance you have is defined in Table 3.5: Hit Points and Damage Resistance, page 31. You add your level and your Constitution to find the corresponding base value. Body armor also provides a significant bonus to damage resistance, and many special abilities can increase your damage resistance.

Defenses

Usually, when you are attacked, the attacker has to make an attack roll against one of your four defenses (see Attack Rolls, page 40). If the attack roll is at least as high as that defense, the attack hits. The four defenses are described below.

- Armor defense (AD): Your Armor defense protects you from normal physical attacks, such as attempts to hit you with a sword. It is the most commonly used defense.
- Reflex defense: Your Reflex protects you from physical attacks that armor does not help against, such as pit traps or bolts of lightning.
- Fortitude defense: Your Fortitude defense protects you from attacks you have to physically endure or resist, such as poisons and life-draining spells.
- Mental defense: Your Mental defense protects you from attacks you have to mentally endure or resist, such as terrifying creatures and magical mind manipulation.

Your defenses are calculated in the following way:

- Armor: Half level + Dexterity (modified depending on equipped armor) + class defense bonus + defense bonuses from equipped body armor and shield
- Fortitude: Half level + Constitution + class defense bonus
- Reflex: Half level + Dexterity + class defense bonus
- Mental: Half level + Willpower + class defense bonus

Each defense may also have various bonuses or penalties applied by special abilities.

Encumbrance

20th	—	+10	—	20,000
21st	—	+10	Legacy item: ranks 7 and 6	30,000

1. See Archetype Ranks, page 67.

Your encumbrance is a value that represents how much you are burdened by your armor (see Armor, page 178). You apply your encumbrance as a penalty to all Strength and Dexterity-based checks you make. If your Strength is positive, you reduce your encumbrance by an amount equal to your Strength. This cannot reduce your encumbrance below 0.

Hit Points

Your hit points measure how hard you are to seriously injure or kill. For details about how hit points are used, see Taking Damage, page 42.

The amount of hit points you have is defined in Table 3.5: Hit Points and Damage Resistance, page 31. You add your level and your Constitution to find the corresponding base value. Some special abilities can give you additional hit points.

What Hit Points Represent: Hit points represent a combination of durability, luck, divine providence, and sheer determination, depending on the nature of the creature being damaged. When lose hit points from an orc with a greataxe, the axe did not literally carve into your skin without affecting your ability to fight. Instead, you avoided the worst of the blow, but it bruised you through your armor, the effort to dodge the blow fatigued you, or it barely nicked you through sheer luck – and everyone’s luck runs out eventually.

Power

Your power is a general representation of how strong your abilities are. Many abilities have stronger effects depending on your power.

Your base class provides a bonus to your power (see Class-Based Power Bonuses, page 67). In addition, some abilities can increase it.

Resources

Attunement Points

Many special abilities and magic items only function as long as a creature attunes to them. The number of effects that you can attune to is based on the number of attunement points that you have. Most effects require only a single attunement point, but some require two. For details, see Attunement, page 47.

Your class gives you a certain number of attunement points. At 5th level and 11th level, you gain an additional attunement point. A small number of abilities can also grant additional attunement points.

Fatigue

Throughout the day, you can become fatigued by your exertions both in and out of combat. While hit points are easy to restore, reducing your fatigue level generally requires a long rest. Fatigue is still easier to recover from than vital wounds.

Fatigue Level

Your fatigue level measures how fatigued you are. A number of abilities and attacks can cause you to increase your fatigue level. The most common abilities that increase your fatigue level are

Table 3.5: Hit Points and Damage Resistance

1. For negative values, reduce maximum hit points by an amount equal to the negative value.

2. For values beyond 22, double the hit points and damage resistance of a creature with a value that is 6 lower. For example, a level 21 creature with a 4 Constitution would have 144 hit points and 64 damage resistance.

the desperate exertion, recover, and sprint abilities. All of those abilities are described in Universal Abilities, page 59.

Fatigue Tolerance

Becoming slightly fatigued is not immediately detrimental. Your fatigue level can be as high as your Constitution + your Willpower without suffering any consequences (minimum 0). This value is called your fatigue tolerance. Your class gives you a bonus to your fatigue tolerance, and some abilities can also modify it.

Fatigue Penalty

You take a penalty to accuracy and checks equal your fatigue level – your fatigue tolerance. This penalty is called your fatigue penalty.

Exhaustion

When your fatigue penalty reaches –5, you fall unconscious until your fatigue penalty is reduced below –5. Generally, this means that you are unconscious for 8 hours.

Recovering From Fatigue

When you take a long rest, your fatigue level is restored to 0 (see Resting, page 45). There are no other ways to reduce your fatigue level.

Sample Characters

This section lists sample characters for each class archetype. You can simply pick up one of these characters and use it as your character. Alternately, you can use a sample character as a starting point and adjust it to match your own character concept. The sample characters are ordered by class first, and by archetype within each class second.

Barbarian

Battleforged Resilience

Species: Dwarf.

Attributes: 2 Str, 0 Dex, 4 Con, 0 Int, 2 Per, 2 Wil (after species modifiers).

Class: Barbarian.

Archetypes: Battleforged Resilience first, Primal Warrior second, Totemist (bear totem) third.

Insight Points: None.

Skills: Awareness, Climb, Endurance, Medicine, Survival

Weapon Groups: Axes, thrown weapons.

Languages: Common, Dwarven, Giantish.

Equipment: Battleaxe, standard shield, scale mail. As you gain levels, use the best medium armor you can afford. If you gain proficiency with heavy armor, use that instead.

Legacy Item: Shield. At level 3, choose covering shield. At level 9, choose greater covering shield and shield of arrow catching. At level 15, choose supreme covering shield and greater shield of arrow catching.

Combat Styles: Herald of War, Unbreakable Defense.

Suggested Feats: Shieldbearer, Martial Training, Regenerator, Toughness.

Combat Tactics: You are extremely difficult to kill. Take advantage of that by wading into the front lines of combat and drawing attention away from your more vulnerable allies. If you find yourself in danger, use defensive maneuvers like defensive strike and flamboyant parry to keep yourself safe. On the other hand, if your foes try to ignore you after realizing how durable you are, force them to engage with you using maneuvers like challenging strike and guard the pass.

Battlerager

Species: Half-orc.

Attributes: 4 Str, 2 Dex, 2 Con, –1 Int, 2 Per, 1 Wil (after species modifiers).

Class: Barbarian.

Archetypes: Battlerager first, Primal Warrior second, Totemist (lion totem) third.

Insight Points: None.

Skills: Awareness, Climb, Endurance, Intimidate, Jump.

Weapon Groups: Crossbows, headed weapons.

Equipment: Greatmace, scale mail. As you gain levels, buy a heavy crossbow and use the best medium armor you can afford.

Legacy Item: Weapon. At level 3, choose bloodfuel. At level 9, choose greater bloodfuel and bloodspray. At level 15, choose supreme bloodfuel and greater bloodspray.

Combat Styles: Ebb and Flow, Herald of War.

Suggested Feats: Greatweapon Warrior, Rapid Reaction, Swiftrunner.

Combat Tactics: You are a furious frenzy of devastating damage and lethal critical hits. When you roll a 10 on an attack roll, whatever you attacked will probably die. Staying close to your allies is generally a good plan, since you don't have the durability to run into the middle of a horde of enemies safely. Your maneuvers help you deal with high-Armor enemies and enemy swarms, and give you the ability to sacrifice most of your statistics other than damage in exchange for more damage.

Outland Savage

Species: Elf.

Attributes: 2 Str, 4 Dex, 1 Con, 1 Int, 2 Per, 0 Wil (after species modifiers).

Class: Barbarian.

Archetypes: Outland Savage first, Primal Warrior second, Totemist (wolf totem) third.

Insight Points: 1 point for proficiency with exotic armor weapons.

Skills: Awareness, Climb, Endurance, Jump, Stealth, Survival.

Weapon Groups: Armor weapons, flexible weapons.

Languages: Common, Orcish.

Equipment: Flail, standard shield, scale mail. As you gain levels, use the best light armor you can afford. When you can, get spikes and a spiked knee crafted onto your armor.

Legacy Item: Apparel. At level 3, choose phasesstep boots. At level 9, choose enlarging belt and phasesstep boots. At level 15, choose supreme phasesstep boots and enlarging belt.

Combat Styles: Dirty Fighting, Mobile Assault.

Suggested Feats: Savage, Brawler, Swiftrunner.

Combat Tactics: You can move around the battlefield very quickly, and you are incredibly accurate with special combat actions like shoving and grappling enemies. Make the most of that by repositioning enemies, tripping them, or holding them in grapples so your allies can hit them. While you aren't in a grapple, use your flail in two hands to maximize your damage. When you enter a grapple, use your spiked knee to attack, since your flail is much less effective while grappling. If you don't have any allies who like being on the front lines, you won't be as effective at helping them deal damage to enemies, but you're still very skilled at preventing enemies from reaching your allies. In that case, consider choosing bear totem or shark totem instead of wolf totem.

Primal Warrior

Species: Human.

Attributes: 3 Str, 2 Dex, 2 Con, 1 Int, 2 Per, 0 Wil.

Class: Barbarian.

Archetypes: Primal Warrior first, Battleforged Resilience second, Outland Savage third.

Insight Points: 1 point for an additional combat style, 1 point for an additional maneuver.

Skills: Awareness, Climb, Endurance, Intimidate, Jump.

Weapon Groups: Axes, crossbows.

Languages: Common, Dwarven, Orcish.

Equipment: Greataxe, scale mail. As you gain levels, buy a heavy crossbow and use the best medium armor you can afford.

Legacy Item: Weapon. At level 3, choose shocking. At level 9, choose banechannel and shocking. At level 15, choose greater dimensional trace and banechannel.

Combat Styles: Dirty Fighting, Herald of War, Unbreakable Defense.

Suggested Feats: Greatweapon Warrior, Weapon Focus, Swiftrunner.

Combat Tactics: You have a great breadth of options available to you thanks to the number of maneuvers you know. You have the survivability to stand in close combat, especially if you use maneuvers from Unbreakable Defense, but you can also shout at mobile enemies from range with maneuvers from Herald of War. Both Dirty Fighting and Herald of War give you maneuvers that work well against enemies with a high Armor defense, so you can adapt to whatever battle you find yourself in. You can make the most of your versatility by learning maneuvers like disarm weapon that are sometimes useless, but which can be devastatingly effective in the right context.

Totemist

Characters from this archetype can be very different based on their chosen totem. A bear totem character might resemble the typical character for the Battleforged Resilience archetype. A lion totem or shark totem character might resemble the typical character for the Battlerager archetype. A wolf totem character might resemble the typical character for the Outland Savage archetype.

If you want to quickly create a character based on the eagle totem from this archetype, make the following choices:

Species: Human.

Attributes: 2 Str, 2 Dex, 1 Con, 0 Int, 4 Per, 0 Wil.

Class: Barbarian.

Archetypes: Totemist (eagle totem) first, Primal Warrior second, Outland Savage third.

Insight Points: 1 point for proficiency with exotic bows.

Skills: Awareness, Balance, Climb, Creature Handling, Jump, Survival.

Weapon Groups: Crossbows, bows, thrown weapons.

Languages: Common, Elven, Giantish.

Equipment: Longbow, leather body armor. As you gain levels, buy a flatbow and use the best light armor you can afford.

Legacy Item: Weapon. At level 3, choose longshot. At level 9, choose greater iridescent and longshot. At level 15, choose supreme iridescent and greater longshot.

Combat Styles: Penetrating Precision, Unbreakable Defense.

Suggested Feats: Sniper, Blindfighter, Swiftrunner.

Combat Tactics: You have incredible accuracy from very long range. Your defenses are relatively low, but as long as you stay far enough away from your foes, they can't take advantage of that weakness. You have the ability to prioritize any target on the battlefield, so make the most of your maneuvers that impose conditions or deal additional damage on weakened foes.

Cleric

Divine Magic

Species: Gnome.

Attributes: -1 Str, 0 Dex, 3 Con, 1 Int, 2 Per, 4 Wil (after species modifiers).

Class: Cleric.

Archetypes: Divine Magic first, Divine Spell Mastery second, Domain Influence third.

Insight Points: 1 point for an additional mystic insight (choosing an extra mystic sphere), 2 points for an additional mystic sphere, and 2 points for additional spells known.

Skills: Knowledge (local, religion), Medicine, Persuasion, Social Insight Languages: Common, Gnome, Halfling.

Equipment: Mace, standard shield, scale mail. As you gain levels, use the best medium armor you can afford.

Legacy Item: 1-handed implement. At level 3, choose splitting staff. At level 9, choose staff of radiance and splitting staff. At level 15, choose greater splitting staff and staff of radiance.

Domains: Good, Magic

Mystic Spheres: Bless, Channel Divinity, and Photomancy

Suggested Feats: Celestial Heritage, Sphere Focus: Bless, Sphere Focus: Photomancy

Combat Tactics: You can protect and enhance your allies and invoke divine wrath on your foes. Your attacks can hit a variety of defenses, so use the best spells for the situation. If you are facing a foe that not particularly vulnerable to your attacks, you can focus on helping your allies with “boon” spells to make their actions more effective and keep them safe.

Divine Spell Mastery

Use the typical character for the Divine Magic cleric archetype. Even if you focus on spells through this archetype, you should generally still rank up your spells before improving your rank in this archetype.

Domain Influence

Characters from this archetype can be very different based on their chosen domains. A character with spellcasting-focused domains might resemble the typical character for the Divine Magic cleric archetype. If you want to quickly create a more martial character based on the Strength and War domains from this archetype, make the following choices:

Species: Dwarf.

Attributes: 2 Str, 0 Dex, 4 Con, 0 Int, 2 Per, 2 Wil (after species modifiers).

Class: Cleric.

Archetypes: Domain Influence first, Divine Magic second, Preacher third.

Insight Points: 3 points for additional spells known.

Skills: Awareness, Knowledge (local, religion), Medicine

Weapon Group: Club-like weapons.

Languages: Common, Draconic, Dwarven.

Equipment: Morning star, standard shield, scale mail. As you gain levels, use the best heavy armor you can afford.

Legacy Item: Armor. At level 3, choose armor of health. At level 9, choose greater armor of health and armor of fortification. At level 15, choose supreme armor of health and armor of mystic fortification, and greater featherlight armor.

Domains: Destruction, War

Mystic Sphere: Channel Divinity

Suggested Feats: Weapon Focus, Sphere Focus: Channel Divinity, Shieldbearer

Combat Tactics: You are a frontline fighter first and foremost. Your magically enhanced resistance and high defenses make you durable in combat, though you lack mobility. When you need to distract foes or face down hordes, you can use your abilities from the Preacher archetype.

Healer

Species: Human.

Attributes: 0 Str, 2 Dex, 2 Con, 1 Int, 0 Per, 3 Wil.

Class: Cleric.

Archetypes: Healer first, Divine Magic second, Domain Influence third.

Insight Points: 2 points for an additional mystic sphere, 3 points for additional spells known.

Skills: Awareness, Deduction, Knowledge (local, religion), Medicine

Weapon Group: Club-like weapons.

Languages: Common, Draconic, Halfling.

Equipment: Morning star, standard shield, scale mail. As you gain levels, use the best medium armor you can afford.

Legacy Item: 1-handed implement. At level 3, choose staff of potency. At level 9, choose greater staff of potency and staff of pleasant healing. At level 15, choose supreme staff of potency and greater staff of pleasant healing.

Domains: Life, Protection

Mystic Spheres: Bless, Vivimancy

Suggested Feats: Sphere Focus: Vivimancy, Boongiver, Sphere Focus: Bless

Combat Tactics: You have an unmatched mastery of healing and protection. You have reasonably high defenses, so you can take to the front lines as necessary to make the most of your divine aid and divine protection abilities. Although your healer's grace ability is powerful, you shouldn't feel bad about attacking enemies. That's especially important early in a fight when your allies don't need healing yet and your enemies haven't realized that it's pointless to attack your allies while you are still standing.

Preacher

Species: Human.

Attributes: 0 Str, 0 Dex, 2 Con, 2 Int, 4 Per, 0 Wil.

Class: Cleric.

Archetypes: Preacher first, Divine Magic second, Divine Spell Mastery third.

Insight Points: 2 points for additional mystic insights (including an extra mystic sphere), 4 points for additional spells known.

Skills: Awareness, Knowledge (local, religion), Linguistics, Medicine, Persuasion, Social Insight Languages: Common, Dwarven, Elven.

Equipment: Club, standard shield, scale mail. As you gain levels, use the best medium armor you can afford.

Legacy Item: Apparel. At level 3, choose amulet of blessed oration. At level 9, choose greater amulet of blessed oration and greater shieldburst bracers. At level 15, choose supreme amulet of blessed oration and supreme shieldburst bracers.

Mystic Spheres: Enchantment, Revelation

Suggested Feats: Persuasion Specialization, Sphere Focus: Enchantment, Sphere Focus: Revelation

Combat Tactics: Your social skills are virtually unmatched, and you have a wide variety of spells that give you narrative power in social situations. In combat, your denounce the heathens ability is essentially guaranteed to hit, so you should stay close enough to the front lines to make good use of it. You can take advantage of the lowered defenses of your denounced foes to succeed with powerful mind-affecting spells.

Druid

Elementalist

Species: Human.

Attributes: 0 Str, 0 Dex, 1 Con, 2 Int, 4 Per, 2 Wil.

Class: Druid.

Archetypes: Nature Magic first, Elementalist second, Nature Spell Mastery third.

Insight Points: 2 points for a mystic sphere, 1 point for a mystic insight (choosing an extra mystic sphere), 3 points for spells

Skills: Awareness, Balance, Jump, Knowledge (dungeoneering, nature), Survival, Swim

Languages: Common, Sylvan

Equipment: Sickle, buckler, hide armor. As you gain levels, keep using hide armor. You may want to keep leather armor around in case you need to do a lot of jumping or swimming - or at high levels, flying.

Legacy Item: Implement. At level 3, choose staff of potency. At level 9, choose greater staff of potency and greater selective staff. At level 15, choose supreme staff of potency and supreme selective staff.

Mystic Spheres: Any three of the four elemental mystic spheres. Your elemental spell ability gives you access to spells from the fourth mystic sphere. That means that the specific three mystic spheres you choose mostly just affect which wands you can use and which feats you can take.

Suggested Feats: Sphere Focus: Aeromancy, Aquamancy, Pyromancy, or Terramancy

Combat Tactics: You are a master of all four elements, so you have an immense variety of options available to you - if you choose the right spells. You have a very high accuracy thanks to your Perception and a reasonably high power, so your primary role in combat will usually be to deploy the perfect damaging spell or debuff for the situation. Your skills and Elementalist abilities give you a lot of narrative power, so stay alert for opportunities to overcome challenges without needing to fight at all.

Nature Magic

Species: Elf.

Attributes: 0 Str, 3 Dex, 0 Con, 1 Int, 4 Per, 2 Wil (after species modifiers).

Class: Druid.

Archetypes: Nature Magic first, Nature Spell Mastery second, Elementalist third.

Insight Points: 1 point for a mystic insight (choosing an extra mystic sphere), 3 points for spells

Skills: Awareness, Creature Handling, Knowledge (nature), Stealth, Survival

Weapon Group: Headed weapons

Languages: Common, Elven, Halfling.

Equipment: Sickle, buckler, leather armor. As you gain levels, use the best light armor you can afford.

Legacy Item: Implement. At level 3, choose extending staff. At level 9, choose bushwalker's staff and extending staff. At level 15, choose supreme extending staff and bushwalker's staff.

Mystic Spheres: Toxicology, Verdamancy

Suggested Feats: Sphere Focus: Verdamancy, Sphere Focus: Aquamancy, Herbalist

Combat Tactics: You are a master of plants and natural magic. Your spells excel at constraining and debilitating your foes, especially with poisons. Larger foes tend to be resistant to both poisons and movement impediments, so it's a good idea to have Reflex attacks like ensnaring grasp and fire seeds to deal with them.

Nature Spell Mastery

Use the typical character for the Nature Magic druid archetype. Even if you focus on spells through this archetype, you should generally still rank up your spells before improving your rank in this archetype.

Shifter

Species: Human.

Attributes: 3 Str, 3 Dex, 3 Con, 0 Int, 0 Per, 0 Wil.

Class: Druid.

Archetypes: Shifter first, Nature Magic second, Wildspeaker third.

Insight Points: 1 point for a wild aspect, 3 points for spells

Skills: Awareness, Balance, Climb, Jump, Stealth, Survival

Languages: Common, Sylvan

Equipment: Natural weapon, buckler, chain shirt. As you gain levels, use the best light armor you can afford.

Legacy Item: Armor. At level 3, choose lifesaver ring. At level 9, choose bracers of mighty fists and lifesaver ring. At level 15, choose supreme lifesaver ring and bracers of mighty fists.

Mystic Sphere: Polymorph

Suggested Wild Aspects: Your choice of wild aspects has a significant effect on your capabilities, so choose wild aspects that match your goals. The Bear, Viper, and Wolf forms excel at dealing damage in combat. The Bull and Constrictor forms improve your ability to take unusual combat actions. Other forms can be useful in specific circumstances and out of combat.

Suggested Feats: Sphere Focus: Polymorph, Regenerator, Brawler, Savage

Combat Tactics: You are a lethal blend of claws and teeth. You can shift your form to gain the perfect abilities for your current circumstances, and your high physical attributes make you hard to kill and hard to ignore. Your flexibility between natural weapons, spells, and high physical skills give you a lot of options in and out of combat. In general, you do the most damage in close quarters where you can attack with your natural weapons, but you can use your spells to soften up strong enemies and finish off weakened enemies.

Wildspeaker

Species: Gnome.

Attributes: -1 Str, 0 Dex, 3 Con, 0 Int, 4 Per, 2 Wil.

Class: Druid.

Archetypes: Wildspeaker first, Nature Magic second, Nature Spell Mastery third.

Insight Points: 1 point for a mystic insight, 3 points for spells.

Skills: Awareness, Creature Handling, Knowledge (nature), Ride, Survival

Weapon Group: Headed weapons

Languages: Common, Gnome, Sylvan

Equipment: Sickle, buckler, scale mail. As you gain levels, use the best medium armor you can afford.

Legacy Item: Apparel. At level 3, choose amulet of sturdy companionship. At level 9, choose greater amulet of sturdy companionship and shrinking belt. At level 15, choose supreme amulet of sturdy companionship and greater shrinking belt.

Mystic Sphere: Electromancy

Suggested Feats: Sphere Focus: Electromancy, Ride Specialization, Creature Handling Specialization, Toughness

Combat Tactics: You lead your faithful natural servant in battle. It distracts your enemies while you blast them with lightning from afar. Once you get a shrinking belt or some other way to shrink yourself, you can ride your natural servant into battle, which compensates for your short gnomish legs. If you are both lucky and persuasive, you be able to use your speak with animals ability to convince an animal to aid you on your journey, at least for a short time, in addition to your natural servant.

Fighter

Combat Discipline

Species: Dwarf.

Attributes: 3 Str, 0 Dex, 4 Con, 1 Int, 0 Per, 2 Wil (after species modifiers).

Class: Fighter.

Archetypes: Combat Discipline first, Martial Mastery second, Sentinel third.

Insight Points: 3 points for maneuvers.

Skills: Climb, Endurance, Jump, Swim

Weapon Groups: Axes, crossbows

Languages: Common, Dwarven, Orcish.

Equipment: Battleaxe, standard shield, scale mail. As you gain levels, buy a heavy crossbow and use the best heavy armor you can afford. You can switch between a shepherd's axe for hard to hit enemies, a battleaxe for multi-enemy fights or fights where you need the extra damage from holding it in two hands, and throwing axes when you need a ranged weapon.

Legacy Item: Shield. At level 3, choose shield of arrow catching. At level 9, choose hardblock shield and shield of arrow catching. At level 15, choose supreme shield of arrow catching and hardblock shield.

Combat Styles: Rip and Tear, Unbreakable Defense

Suggested Feats: Shieldbearer, Toughness, Regenerator

Combat Tactics: You are extremely difficult to kill, and your ability to ignore and remove conditions makes it hard for your foes to whittle you down over time. You can charge confidently into the middle of battle, cutting down enemy ranged attackers regardless of their surrounding allies. Alternately, you can hold the line to protect your own allies.

Equipment Training

Species: Halfling.

Attributes: 1 Str, 5 Dex, 0 Con, 1 Int, 2 Per, 0 Wil.

Class: Fighter.

Archetypes: Equipment Training first, Martial Mastery second, Combat Discipline third.

Insight Points: 3 points for maneuvers.

Skills: Awareness, Balance, Flexibility, Stealth

Weapon Groups: Blades, bows

Languages: Common, Gnomish, Halfling

Equipment: Kukri, standard shield, scale mail. As you gain levels, buy a longbow and use the best armor you can afford that allows you to apply your full Dexterity bonus to your Armor defense. Keep an extra kukri with you so you can dual wield in fights where you don't need to use a shield.

Legacy Item: Weapon. At level 3, choose potency. At level 9, choose greater potency and seeking. At level 15, choose supreme potency and wolfpack.

Combat Styles: Flurry of Blows, Rip and Tear

Suggested Feats: Swiftrunner, Rapid Reaction, Executioner, Two-Weapon Fighting

Combat Tactics: You have an exceptionally high Armor defense, and your strikes are very accurate. However, your low Strength and small weapons mean that you don't deal a lot of damage. Focus on debilitating maneuvers like brow gash or maneuvers that increase your damage like tear exposed flesh to stay relevant in combat. When your Armor defense isn't as important, such as when fighting spellcasters, you can dual wield to increase your damage. Unlike most fighters, you are very agile and stealthy, so you can accompany rogues on scouting missions.

Martial Mastery

Species: Human.

Attributes: 4 Str, 0 Dex, 2 Con, 1 Int, 2 Per, 0 Wil.

Class: Fighter.

Archetypes: Martial Mastery first, Combat Discipline second, Tactician third.

Insight Points: 1 point for an additional combat style, 3 points for maneuvers.

Skills: Awareness, Climb, Endurance, Jump, Swim

Weapon Groups: Blades, thrown weapons.

Languages: Common, Giantish, Orcish.

Equipment: Broadsword, standard shield, scale mail. As you gain levels, buy throwing axes and use the best heavy armor you can afford.

Legacy Item: Armor. At level 3, choose resistant armor. At level 9, choose greater resistant armor and armor of fortification. At level 15, choose supreme resistant armor and armor of mystic fortification.

Combat Styles: Ebb and Flow, Herald of War, Rip and Tear

Suggested Feats: Executioner, Blindfighter, Toughness

Combat Tactics: You have great versatility in combat. You have a large number of maneuvers, and by mixing in thrown weapons and shouts, you can attack at multiple ranges and hit multiple defenses. When your shield is unnecessary, you can hold your broadsword in two hands to improve your already respectable damage. Many of your maneuvers work at any range, so you aren't forced to fight in melee against highly mobile or excessively lethal foes. In addition to using maneuvers, you can coordinate your allies with battle tactics.

Sentinel

Species: Dwarf.

Attributes: 2 Str, 0 Dex, 3 Con, 0 Int, 4 Per, 0 Wil.

Class: Fighter.

Archetypes: Sentinel first, Martial Mastery second, Equipment Training third.

Insight Points: 2 points for maneuvers.

Skills: Awareness, Endurance, Intimidate

Weapon Groups: Axes, crossbows

Languages: Common, Dwarven, Orcish

Equipment: Shepherd's axe, standard shield, scale mail. As you gain levels, buy a throwing axes, a heavy crossbow, and a greataxe and use the best heavy armor you can afford.

Legacy Item: Apparel. At level 3, choose protector's amulet. At level 9, choose greater boots of speed and protector's amulet. At level 15, choose supreme boots of speed and greater protector's amulet.

Suggested Feats: Shieldbearer, Toughness, Regenerator

Combat Tactics: You hold the line in the middle of the fray, protecting your allies all over the battlefield. You have an unmatched ability to constrain your foes' movement and force them to pay attention to you, limiting their ability to harm your allies. Your damage is reasonable, but your main focus should be on defense so you can protect your more vulnerable and reckless allies. A shepherd's axe is convenient because it allows you to attack foes who try to keep their distance from you. However, when you need to deal damage, consider switching to a greataxe or dual-wielding a second shepherd's axe instead of holding a shield.

Tactician

Species: Human.

Attributes: 2 Str, 3 Dex, 1 Con, 2 Int, 2 Per, 0 Wil.

Class: Fighter.

Archetypes: Tactician first, Martial Mastery second, Equipment Training third.

Insight Points: 2 points for battle tactics, 3 points for maneuvers.

Skills: Awareness, Deduction, Endurance, Knowledge (dungeoneering, local), Medicine

Weapon Groups: Bows, polearms.

Languages: Common, Draconic, Elven

Equipment: Longhammer, standard shield, chain shirt. As you gain levels, buy a longbow and use the best armor you can afford that allows you to apply your full Dexterity bonus to your Armor defense.

Legacy Item: Weapon. At level 3, choose resistant armor. At level 9, choose greater resistant armor and swiftstep armor. At level 15, choose supreme resistant armor, greater swiftstep armor, and greater armor of health.

Combat Styles: Blunt Force, Mobile Assault

Suggested Feats: Precognition, Leadership, Medicine Specialization

Combat Tactics: You have a wealth of options in combat. You can buff your allies' attacks, defend your allies, deal damage, or debuff your foes. Use whichever battle tactics are most relevant to the current situation. Your longhammer and high mobility allows you to keep your distance in combat while knocking your foes into more tactically advantageous positions. Since you don't use a shield, you don't have the defensive power of most fighters, so you can't just charge heedlessly into the fray.

Monk

Airdancer

Species: Elf.

Attributes: 2 Str, 5 Dex, 0 Con, 0 Int, 2 Per, 0 Wil.

Class: Monk.

Archetypes: Airdancer first, Esoteric Warrior second, Ki third.

Insight Points: 1 point for a ki manifestation, 1 point for a maneuver.

Skills: Balance, Climb, Flexibility, Jump, Stealth, Swim

Weapon Groups: Monk weapons

Languages: Common, Elven, Halfling

Equipment: Two jitte. Use your ki barrier for your body armor.

Legacy Item: Apparel. At level 3, choose boots of levitation. At level 9, choose greater boots of levitation and greater boots of reliable motion. At level 15, choose supreme boots of levitation and supreme boots of reliable motion.

Combat Styles: Mobile Assault, Penetrating Precision

Suggested Feats: Jump Specialization, Balance Specialization, Swiftrunner, Two-Weapon Fighting

Combat Tactics: You are highly acrobatic in combat, leaping around your opponents with ease. Once your Jump check result is high enough to jump over enemies, you can start ignoring attempts to block your movement. The Leap of the Heavens ki manifestation can help you reach that point quickly. You are highly accurate, and your high Dexterity helps both your defenses and your skills. If you are in physical danger, you can sheathe one of your kamas and use your ki barrier as a shield to further increase your Armor defense. However, your middling Constitution means you should pick your fights carefully. Use your mobility to pick your battles and avoid being surrounded unnecessarily.

Esoteric Warrior

Species: Human

Attributes: 2 Str, 3 Dex, 2 Con, 1 Int, 2 Per, 0 Wil.

Class: Monk.

Archetypes: Esoteric Warrior first, Perfected Form second, Transcendent Sage third.

Insight Points: 4 points for maneuvers.

Skills: Awareness, Balance, Climb, Flexibility, Endurance, Medicine, Jump, Stealth

Weapon Groups: Monk weapons

Languages: Common, Draconic, Elven

Equipment: Two kunai, chain shirt. As you gain levels, buy spare kunai, and use the best light armor you can afford.

Legacy Item: Apparel. At level 3, choose gauntlet of the ram. At level 9, choose bracers of mighty fists and boots of speed. At level 15, choose supreme boots of speed and bracers of mighty fists.

Combat Styles: Dirty Fighting, Flurry of Blows

Suggested Feats: Brawler, Juggernaut, Swiftrunner, Two-Weapon Fighting

Combat Tactics: You can beat your opponents to death with nothing more than your bare hands. Your primary combat strategy is generally to grapple, trip, or otherwise debuff your opponents with your free hands before you pummel them into submission. You have a high movement speed, and you can take advantage of that by rushing down enemies who would prefer to keep their distance. When that is combined with your immunity to many common debuffs, you are exceptionally effective against enemy spellcasters. If you find yourself fighting more martially skilled foes, you may need to keep your distance with kunai or a bow, at least until they are weakened.

Ki

Species: Halfling

Attributes: -1 Str, 2 Dex, 2 Con, 1 Int, 0 Per, 5 Wil.

Class: Monk.

Archetypes: Ki first, Esoteric Warrior second, Transcendent Sage third.

Insight Points: 2 points for ki manifestations, 1 point for a maneuver.

Skills: Balance, Flexibility, Endurance, Medicine, Knowledge (arcana), Survival, Stealth

Weapon Groups: Monk weapons

Languages: Common, Draconic, Elven

Equipment: Two kama. Use your ki barrier for your body armor. As you gain levels, buy spare kunai.

Legacy Item: Weapon. At level 3, choose potency. At level 9, choose greater potency and hefty. At level 15, choose supreme potency and greater hefty.

Combat Styles: Flurry of Blows, Mobile Assault

Suggested Feats: Two-Weapon Fighting, Ghostblade, Iron Will, Spellwarped

Combat Tactics: Although you appear small and physically weak, your attacks hit hard thanks to your ki energy ability. You can use a variety of ki manifestations to have surprising effects in combat. Look for tricky combinations, like tripping your foes at a distance with extend the flow of ki or using burst of blinding speed to increase the power of movement-based maneuvers. You can also use your ki manifestations to augment your skills in non-combat situations. Your defenses are high and well-rounded, and you have immunities to a variety of common debuffs, so you can fight aggressively in combat. Generally, you should dual-wield kama, but you can drop to a single kama if you need more Armor defense, or you can switch to throwing kunai to hit distant foes.

Perfected Form

Species: Human

Attributes: 3 Str, 3 Dex, 3 Con, 0 Int, 0 Per, 0 Wil.

Class: Monk.

Archetypes: Perfected Form first, Esoteric Warrior second, Airdancer third.

Insight Points: 1 point for a trained skill, 2 points for maneuvers.

Skills: Balance, Climb, Flexibility, Endurance, Jump, Stealth, Swim

Weapon Groups: Monk weapons

Languages: Common, Giantish, Orcish

Equipment: Two kunai, chain shirt. As you gain levels, buy spare kunai, and use the best light armor you can afford.

Legacy Item: Apparel. At level 3, choose gauntlet of the ram.

At level 9, choose bracers of mighty fists and boots of speed. At level 15, choose supreme boots of speed and bracers of mighty fists.

Combat Styles: Dirty Fighting, Mobile Assault

Suggested Feats: Brawler, Juggernaut, Swiftrunner, Two-Weapon Fighting

Combat Tactics: Your general fighting style is the same as the Esoteric Warrior sample character. Your main differentiating factor is that you have even greater martial aptitude and durability. However, you are less able to avoid to debilitating conditions, so be careful when fighting magical foes.

Transcendent Sage

The transcendent sage archetype by itself does not strongly influence your character's fighting style or abilities. It provides a variety of passive abilities and immunities that require other archetypes to make a compelling character concept. A typical character focusing on this archetype would be similar to the Ki character. If you want to be more martially inclined, follow the Esoteric Warrior character.

Paladin

Devoted Paragon

The devoted paragon archetype can have different play styles based on your devoted alignment. The character below is reasonable for any alignment other than evil. An evil devoted paragon might focus more on inflicting debilitating conditions with spells from the enchantment or vivimancy mystic spheres.

Species: Dwarf

Attributes: 2 Str, 0 Dex, 4 Con, 0 Int, 2 Per, 2 Wil.

Class: Paladin.

Archetypes: Devoted Paragon first, Divine Magic second, Stalwart Guardian third.

Insight Points: 2 points for spells.

Skills: Endurance, Persuasion, Social Insight

Weapon Groups: Club-like weapons, crossbows.

Languages: Common, Dwarven, Giantish

Equipment: Morning star, standard shield, scale mail. As you gain levels, buy a heavy crossbow and use the best heavy armor you can afford.

Legacy Item: Shield. At level 3, choose covering shield. At level 9, choose greater covering shield and soulguard shield. At level 15, choose shield of mystic reflection and greater covering shield.

Mystic Sphere: Bless.

Suggested Feats: Leadership, Weapon Focus, Shieldbearer, Sphere Focus: Bless

Combat Tactics: You are a beacon to guide your allies in combat. You should stay close to the front lines to ensure that your allies gain the benefit of your aligned aura ability and take advantage of your reasonable melee damage. You are very durable, and you can blanket your allies with powerful buffs from the bless mystic sphere. At high levels, make sure you have a special strike ability like exalted strike or a powerstrike weapon.

Divine Magic

Species: Human

Attributes: 1 Str, 0 Dex, 2 Con, 2 Int, 0 Per, 4 Wil.

Class: Paladin.

Archetypes: Divine Magic first, Divine Spell Expertise second, Devoted Paragon third.

Insight Points: 2 points for an extra mystic sphere, 3 points for spells.

Skills: Endurance, Medicine, Persuasion

Weapon Groups: Axes, thrown weapons.

Languages: Common, Dwarven, Giantish

Equipment: Battleaxe, standard shield, scale mail. As you gain levels, use the best heavy armor you can afford and switch to using an implement instead of a weapon.

Legacy Item: Implement. At level 3, choose potency. At level 9, choose greater covering shield and soulguard shield. At level 15, choose shield of mystic reflection and greater covering shield.

Mystic Sphere: Channel Divinity, Vivimancy.

Suggested Feats: Sphere Focus: Channel Divinity, Sphere Focus: Vivimancy, Boongiver

Combat Tactics: Paladins make unusual spellcasters. They lack the flexibility of more dedicated spellcasting classes because they lack the mystic insight ability and access to a variety of mystic spheres. However, your divine spell versatility and divine conduit give you a unique combat style that rewards staying directly on the front lines. In addition, you have an unusually high power thanks to wellspring of power and paragon power, so your damage and healing spells can be quite potent. Make sure you have single-target damage spells like mystic bolt and lifesteal to make the most of your abilities.

Divine Spell Expertise

Use the typical character for the Divine Magic paladin archetype. Even if you focus on spells through this archetype, you should generally still rank up your spells before improving your rank in this archetype.

Stalwart Guardian

Species: Halfling

Attributes: -1 Str, 3 Dex, 3 Con, 0 Int, 0 Per, 4 Wil (after species modifiers).

Class: Paladin.

Archetypes: Stalwart Guardian first, Divine Magic second, Zealous Warrior third.

Insight Points: 2 points for spells.

Skills: Endurance, Medicine, Ride

Weapon Groups: Club-like weapons, thrown weapons.

Languages: Common, Dwarven, Giantish

Equipment: Smallsword, standard shield, scale mail. As you gain levels, buy spare throwing axes and use the best light armor you can afford.

Legacy Item: Apparel. At level 3, choose amulet of divine healing. At level 9, choose greater amulet of divine healing and boots of speed. At level 15, choose supreme amulet of divine healing and greater boots of speed.

Mystic Sphere: Fabrication.

Suggested Feats: Shieldbearer, Sphere Focus: Bless

Combat Tactics: You have exceptionally high defenses, and you can heal your less well protected allies. Your damage is reasonable thanks to your smite ability, which allows you to use your high Willpower in place of your poor Strength. You can use spells like mystic barrier and blade barrier to control the battlefield and funnel your foes into positions where you can make the most of your defensive abilities.

Zealous Warrior

Species: Elf

Attributes: 1 Str, 0 Dex, 0 Con, 0 Int, 4 Per, 4 Wil (after species modifiers).

Class: Paladin.

Archetypes: Zealous Warrior first, Divine Magic second, Stalwart Guardian third.

Insight Points: 2 points for spells.

Skills: Awareness, Persuasion, Social Insight

Weapon Groups: Club-like weapons, bows

Languages: Common, Dwarven, Giantish

Equipment: Greatmace, scale mail. As you gain levels, buy a longbow and use the best heavy armor you can afford.

Legacy Item: Weapon. At level 3, choose potency. At level 9, choose greater potency and blessed. At level 15, choose supreme potency and honed.

Mystic Sphere: Channel Divinity.

Suggested Feats: Greatweapon Warrior, Spellsword, Celestial Heritage

Combat Tactics: You are an extremely dangerous martial combatant. Thanks to your smite ability, you have high damage dice and devastatingly powerful critical hits. Your defenses are unimpressive, but you have enough damage resistance to avoid being too squishy. The biggest weakness you have is your slow speed and vulnerability to debilitating conditions. Make sure you take some ranged spells like retributive judgment to deal with foes who try to avoid your greatmace.

Alternately, you could focus more heavily on ranged combat, since smite works at any range. If that is your goal, consider the Mystic Archer and Sniper feats instead of Greatweapon Warrior and Spellsword.

Chapter 4

Core Mechanics

This chapter describes the core mechanics of Rise.

Defining the Undefined

This book does not attempt to include specific rules for every aspect of a realistic world. Unless defined otherwise - or if it's not worth the effort to look up Rise's exact rules in the flow of a game - you should assume that the universe works more or less like the real world does, and as long as everyone agrees that something is reasonable, it's not worth worrying about in more detail.

For example, Rise does not have specific rules for how long it takes to eat a meal, the arc that a thrown ball takes through the air, or how much extra weight a well-made chandelier can hold without breaking. It's possible to imagine situations where each of those might be important to a game, however, so you'll have to guess what would be reasonable as obscure situations arise. The Game Master has the final word when defining ambiguities like this.

Making Attacks

Anything that affects another creature in a potentially harmful way, such as striking a creature with a sword, is an attack. Many abilities are always considered attacks, even if you use them in a way that you believe is not harmful. To make an attack, you must make an attack roll.

Attack Rolls

To make an attack roll, roll 1d10 and add your accuracy with the attack. The sum of your die roll and your accuracy is called your attack result. You compare your attack result to a defense that your target has (see Defenses, page 29). All attacks specify which defense they are compared to.

If your result is equal to or higher than your target's defense, the attack hits. This almost always means the target suffers some harmful effect, such as taking damage (see Dealing Damage, page 41). If your result is 1 or 2 lower than the defender's defense, you get a glancing blow (see Glancing Blows, page 40). Otherwise, the attack misses. When an attack misses, the defender almost always suffers no effects from the attack. Even if the attack had no obvious physical or visual effects, a creature that resists an attack still feels a hostile force or a tingle, but cannot usually deduce the exact nature of the attack.

Creatures can voluntarily lower their defenses against attacks that they are aware of. When they do, their defense is treated as 0 against the attack.

Exploding Attacks

When you make an attack roll, if you roll a 10 on the d10, the die explodes. In addition, some effects can cause your roll to explode without rolling a 10.

When an attack roll explodes, you roll it again and add the second result to the original result before applying your accuracy. If you roll a 10 on the extra roll, you keep rolling until you stop rolling a 10 and add all of the rolls together.

Critical Hits

If your attack result is at least 10 higher than your target's defense, your attack is a critical hit. Some attacks have specific effects when you get a critical hit, as indicated in their descriptions or in other abilities. In addition, all damaging attacks have a standard critical hit effect. For every increment of 10 by which you beat the target's defense, you double the number of damage dice you roll. As normal, two doublings become a tripling, so if you beat your opponent's defense by 20, you roll triple the damage dice. This does not increase the damage from your power or any other non-dice damage modifiers.

Objects are not normally subject to critical hits. Some creatures are also not subject to critical hits, as noted in their descriptions.

Critical hits with melee attacks are a Size-Based effect. This means you cannot normally get a critical hit with a melee attack against a creature that is two or more size categories larger than you (see Size Categories, page 45).

Glancing Blows

When you miss on an attack by 2 or less, it is called a glancing blow. All damaging attacks have a standard glancing blow effect. Non-damaging attacks do not have any special effects on a glancing blow. If you get a glancing blow with a damaging attack, you roll no damage dice. This does not reduce the damage from your power or any other non-dice damage modifiers. If you would not normally add your power to the attack, it deals no damage.

A glancing blow is not considered to be a miss for the purpose of abilities that trigger on missed attacks. However, many abilities trigger on both glancing blows and missed attacks, such as a hardblock shield.

Dealing Damage

Many attacks deal damage to their targets. In general, most damaging attacks deal an amount of damage determined by rolling some number of dice and adding some multiplier of your power with that attack. The details are given in each attack's description.

When a creature is dealt damage, the damage first reduces that creature's damage resistance (see Damage Resistance, page 29). Any damage in excess of the creature's remaining damage resistance causes it to lose that many hit points (see Hit Points, page 30). If you take damage that would reduce your hit points below 0, you gain one or more vital wounds (see Negative Hit Points, page 42). Monsters typically do not gain vital wounds like player characters do. Instead, they simply die or fall unconscious when they reach 0 hit points.

Dealing Damage, Taking Damage, and Losing Hit Points: You deal damage whenever you hit with a damaging attack, regardless of whether the target loses hit points or only damage resistance. Likewise, you take damage whenever anything deals damage to you. However, you only lose hit points if the damage is not mitigated by your damage resistance. Many active abilities require the target to lose hit points from a damaging attack, which does not happen if the damage is resisted.

Dice Pools

Almost all attacks deal damage based on a dice pool. Likewise, healing abilities usually heal hit points based on a dice pool. Dice pools are written with the number of dice, followed by "d", followed by the size of dice to roll. For example, 2d6 means you roll two six-sided dice. You always sum the roll of all dice rolled in a dice pool to determine the total result.

Some modifiers add or subtract flat values from the result of the dice pool. Others add or subtract dice increments.

A die increment is a single increase or decrease in the value of a dice pool. Increasing by one die increment is written as +1d, and decreasing by one die increment is written as -1d. Damage dice change in size according to the following pattern:

- 1 damage (minimum)
- 1d2
- 1d3
- 1d4
- 1d6
- 1d8
- 1d10
- 2d6
- 2d8
- 2d10
- 4d6
- 4d8
- 4d10
- 5d10
- 6d10
- 7d10

- 8d10

For each die increment that increases the damage, move one space down the list. Likewise, for each die increment that decreases the damage, move one space up the list. After the dice pool reaches 8d10, each additional die increment adds an additional 1d10. In practice, you are unlikely to ever roll that many dice.

Dice Bonuses From Attributes: Your attributes can add or subtract dice increments from all dice pools you roll. Whenever you use a mundane ability that has a dice pool, you add half your Strength in dice increments to the dice pool. If your Strength is negative, this can reduce your damage or healing. Likewise, you add half your Willpower in dice increments to your dice pools with magical abilities. For example, if you are using a spell that normally deals 1d8 damage, and your Willpower is 2 or 3, you would deal 1d10 damage with that ability instead.

Items are an exception to this rule. Some items specify their own dice pools, like a firebomb or a vampiric weapon. Your Strength and Willpower do not modify the dice pools specified by items.

Damage Types

Almost all damage falls into one of two categories: energy damage or physical damage. Physical damage is the most common type of damage. Energy damage is usually caused by magical effects.

A rare few effects deal damage that has no type. Poisons are the most common way to deal untyped damage. Untyped damage has no special properties, but effects that help you specifically resist energy damage or physical damage do not help against untyped damage.

Damage Subtypes

Physical damage has three subtypes: bludgeoning damage, piercing damage, and slashing damage. Energy damage has five subtypes: acid damage, cold damage, electricity damage, fire damage, and sonic damage. Damage of a particular subtype is also considered damage of its primary type. For example, if you are impervious to physical damage, that applies against bludgeoning damage because bludgeoning damage is a subtype of physical damage.

Some damage types have special properties, as described below.

Cold: Abilities that deal cold damage can freeze liquids and have similar effects appropriate to a sudden drop in temperature.

Electricity: Abilities that deal electricity damage can ignite nonmagical fires if they damage combustible objects.

Fire: Abilities that deal fire damage provide light equivalent to a torch for their duration. Abilities without a duration create a brief burst of torchlight. While underwater, they deal half damage and have no nondamaging effects.

Multiple Damage Types

Some attacks deal damage that has multiple damage types. Defensive abilities such as defense bonuses or damage immunities apply against an attack only if they apply to all damage types dealt by the attack.

Special Damage Types

These special damage types are separate from the standard damage types, like fire damage or energy damage.

Subdual Damage

Some attacks and environmental effects deal subdual damage. Subdual damage works in the same way as normal damage, except it cannot inflict vital wounds. If an attack that deals subdual damage would inflict a vital wound, the target increases its fatigue level by three instead. Whenever you make a strike, you can choose to deal subdual damage instead of normal damage. If you do, you deal half damage with the strike.

Environmental Damage

Some abilities and environmental effects deal environmental damage. Environmental damage is never dealt as the result of a successful attack roll. Environmental damage works in the same way as normal damage, except that environmental damage is reduced by your damage resistance without subtracting from its remaining value. Any environmental damage in excess of a creature's damage resistance is causes the creature to lose hit points just like normal damage.

It is possible for damage to be both environmental damage and subdual damage.

Taking Damage

Taking damage from attacks reduces your damage resistance, and then your hit points, before finally inflicting vital wounds. To calculate your damage resistance and hit points, see Character Statistics, page 29. This section explains those concepts in more detail.

Whenever you take damage, you reduce your damage resistance by an amount equal to the damage you took. Any damage in excess of your remaining damage resistance reduces your hit points. There are two main difference between hit points and damage resistance. First, losing hit points makes you vulnerable to many debilitating debuffs. Second, many abilities can restore hit points lost during combat, but damage resistance is extremely difficult to recover without taking a short rest.

Negative Hit Points

You can have negative hit points, but only briefly. At the end of each phase, if your hit points are negative, you gain a vital wound and your hit points are set to 0 (see Vital Wounds, page 43). If your negative hit points equal or exceed half your maximum hit points, you gain an additional vital wound. You gain an additional vital wound for each increment of half your maximum hit points that you have in negative hit points.

Resolving Simultaneous Damage

Many attacks have special effects when they cause you to lose hit points. In addition, some attacks have special effects based on other triggers, like whether you resisted all damage from the attack. When you take damage from multiple sources during the same phase, it may not be obvious how to determine whether any individual attack caused you to lose hit points. There is a rule for this situation: each attack's special effects are triggered as if all damage you took in the current phase was dealt by that attack.

For example, assume that you started a phase with some damage resistance remaining. You are hit by two attacks: the organ failure spell and the strip the armor maneuver. The combined damage from the two attacks exceeds your damage resistance, so you lose some hit points. The organ failure spell would cause you to be stunned (-2 defenses), because it would be treated as if it made you lose hit points, even if your damage resistance at the start of the phase exceeded the damage dealt by that spell. Likewise, the strip the armor maneuver would not have its bonus effect that triggers if you resist all damage from the attack, because you lost hit points from that attack as well.

Non-damaging attacks are simpler. They always care about your current state at the time the attack is made, regardless of any damage you may take during the phase.

Simultaneous Damage and Healing: If you regain hit points or damage resistance and take damage simultaneously, apply all healing effects before applying any damaging effects. While you are resolving these effects, you are allowed to heal beyond your maximum hit points and damage resistance. At the end of the phase, if your current hit points or damage resistance exceeds your maximum, your current value is reduced to be no higher than your maximum value. This order allows you to survive incoming damage by receiving simultaneous healing, potentially allowing you to avoid gaining vital wounds.

Most healing effects are Swift, which avoids some of this complexity. Swift healing effects are fully resolved before damage is dealt, so you cannot heal beyond your maximum hit points and damage resistance.

Noticing Damage Resistance

In general, it is impossible to determine whether a creature has damage resistance simply by observing them unless there are obvious visual cues like bleeding injuries. However, when a creature takes damage from an attack, an observer can determine the result of the attack with an Awareness check with a base difficulty value of 10 (before applying the normal modifiers for distance, visibility, and so on). The creature dealing the damage gains a +10 bonus to this check. Success on this check allows an observer to distinguish between the following three possibilities:

- The creature resisted all damage from your attack.
- The creature resisted some damage from your attack, but also lost some hit points. This means that the target's damage resistance was reduced to 0 during this phase.
- The creature did not resist any damage from your attack, and took all damage from the attack from their hit points.

Most of the time, you can simplify this to simply "if you attack someone, you know if you beat their damage resistance". The Awareness calculation is useful to handle unusual situations like maximum range longbow shots, where you might not be able to observe the exact result of your attack.

Vital Wounds

A vital wound represents serious damage to your body. Each vital wound has a specific detrimental effect on you. You gain vital wounds by taking damage in excess of your remaining hit points (see Negative Hit Points, page 42).

To determine the effect of a vital wound, make a vital roll and find the corresponding effect in Table 4.1: Vital Wound Effects. The effect of the vital wound lasts until you remove that vital wound. The effects of vital wounds stack with each other, even if you roll the same effect twice for different vital wounds.

Vital Rolls

To make a vital roll, roll 1d10. You take a penalty to this roll equal to twice the number of vital wounds you already have, not counting the vital wound you are rolling for. This includes vital wounds that have no specific vital wound effect. The result determines the effect of the vital wound, as listed in Table 4.1: Vital Wound Effects, page 43. Vital wound effects from vital rolls below 1 are lethal if untreated, but the Medicine skill can be used to prevent you from dying (see Medicine, page 152). This roll is not a check, so you can't affect it with abilities like desperate exertion.

Delaying Death: Vital wounds with a vital roll below 1 can kill you. While you are dying in this way, if you receive healing that causes you to regain hit points, you delay your death by one round. This benefit applies even if you are already at full hit points. You cannot delay your death in this way by more than 5 rounds.

Table 4.1: Vital Wound Effects

Vital Roll	Effect
-6 or less	You immediately die
-1--5	You are unconscious, and you die at the end of the next round
0	You are unconscious, and you die after one minute
1	You are unconscious while you have less than full hit points
2	You have a -10 foot penalty to your speed with all movement modes
3	You have a -5 foot penalty to your speed with all movement modes
4	You take a -2 penalty to all defenses
5	You take a -1 penalty to all defenses
6	Your maximum damage resistance is 0
7	Your maximum damage resistance is halved
8	You take a -2 penalty to accuracy
9	You take a -1 penalty to accuracy
10 or more	No extra vital wound effect

Removing Vital Wounds

Vital wounds take time to heal. Whenever you take a long rest, you remove one of your vital wounds. If you have multiple vital wounds, you may choose the order in which your vital wounds are removed.

Making Checks

Checks are required to perform actions that have a chance of failure where the difficulty is not measured by the defense of another creature or object. For example, climbing a wall or remembering an obscure piece of trivia may require a check.

To make a check, roll 1d10 and add your modifier with the check. You compare that result to a difficulty value that represents the difficulty of the task. The more difficult the task, the higher the difficulty value will be. If your result is equal to or higher than the difficulty value, the check succeeds. This usually means you accomplish a task successfully. Otherwise, the check fails. This usually means that nothing happens, though sometimes there are specific consequences for failure.

Critical Success

If your check result is at least 10 higher than the difficulty value, your check is a critical success. Some checks have a special effect on a critical success. For example, a critical success while climbing means you move twice as quickly (see Climb, page 144).

Standard Difficulty Values

Most checks are made against a fixed difficulty value that represents how hard the task is. Detailed rules for determining difficulty values in specific circumstances can be found in the Expanded Skills chapter from the Tome of Guidance. However, most of the time, it's not worth the effort to consult charts and tables to figure out how hard a task is. Instead, you can estimate it based on the guidelines below.

- DV 0 - Easy: Only an exceptionally incompetent or impaired person could possibly fail a DV 0 check. For example, this includes walking on rough ground without tripping (Balance) or noticing that a yelling, red-faced person is angry (Social Insight).
- DV 5 - Average: A typical human with no relevant skills should still succeed at a DV 5 check without much issue. However, it would be possible to fail in a stressful situation where time is limited if the person had no relevant training. For example, this includes climbing a ladder (Climb) or hearing the topic of a nearby conversation in a crowded bar (Awareness).
- DV 10 - Hard: A typical human with no relevant skills might succeed at a DV 10 check, but only if they were very lucky or had a lot of time on their hands. An experienced practitioner might fail infrequently in stressful circumstances, but a world-class expert would never fail. For example, this includes swimming in fast-moving water (Swim) or providing first aid to mitigate a barely lethal wound (Medicine).
- DV 15 - Very Hard: Only an experienced practitioner could succeed at a DV 15 check, and they would still need to get lucky if they were in a rush. Even a world-class expert at the peak of real-world human potential could fail, but only rarely.

For example, this includes picking a well-made lock (Devices) or holding your breath for eight minutes while staying still (Endurance).

- DV 20 - Almost Impossible: A world-class expert like an Olympic medalist could succeed at a DV 20 check if they were lucky or patient. Succeeding consistently at tasks of this difficulty requires superhuman capabilities. For example, this includes climbing a weathered natural rock wall without equipment (Climb) or squeezing through a space with a diameter of only half a foot (Flexibility).
- DV 25+- Impossible: No real-world human can succeed at a DV 25 check. This sort of feat is only possible for high-level Rise characters who have explicitly surpassed ordinary limitations. For example, this includes running at full speed along a slack rope (Balance) or jumping to grasp the edge of a twenty-foot cliff (Jump).

Trying Again

You can think of checks as being broadly divided into two categories: checks that give you information, and checks that cause a change in the world around you. In general, you can retry checks that change your environment indefinitely until you succeed. The only major limiting factor to those checks is that failure sometimes also changes your environment in ways that may punish your failure or make it impossible to retry the check. For example, if you are trying to climb a cliff, you can keep trying until you succeed, but you may take falling damage from falling off while halfway up the cliff.

You generally cannot retry checks that give you information unless the situation changes in a way that is relevant to your check. This often takes the form of giving you new information. For example, if you've already examined a creature to determine whether they are disguised, you can't keep just keep staring that creature to make sure. However, if you splash the creature with water which washes away some makeup, you can try again now that you have more information.

In addition, checks that require a free action to make can never be made more than once for the same purpose within a round.

Opposed Checks

An opposed check involves multiple creatures competing to get the highest result. In case of a tie, all tied creatures roll again to break the tie. Usually, the creature with the highest result succeeds, while all other creatures either fail completely or simply succeed less effectively depending on the situation.

Some opposed checks involve multiple creatures using the same skill to see who does the best job. For example, a climbing race up a wall might involve each participant rolling a Climb check, or you might make a Strength check to hold a door closed while another creature tries to shove it open. Alternately, it can involve creatures rolling opposite skills. For example, if you are trying to hide, you roll a Stealth check opposed by the Awareness check of any creatures who could notice you.

Not all opposed checks require all participants to roll at the same time. For example, a creature who creates a disguise rolls the Disguise check at the time that the disguise is created. A creature who tries to notice the disguise would roll their Awareness check at the time they see the disguised creature.

Hidden Checks

The GM can always make checks on your character's behalf without telling you. Generally, this is used for observation-based skills. For example, it's very suspicious if the GM tells you to make an Awareness check and then tells you that you don't see anything interesting. One of the ways a GM can avoid that is by simply rolling a check on behalf of your character and only telling you the result if you succeed.

Group Checks

When multiple characters are trying to make the same check simultaneously, they may be able to work together. There are two kinds of group checks.

Collaborative Checks: When making a collaborative check, each member of the group gets their own result. Collaborative checks might include a group of scouts sneaking up on an enemy camp, a group of adventurers climbing a cliff, or a group of spies lying about their true allegiances.

When making a collaborative check, the group must choose a leader before making the check. Each member of the group can make the check using the higher of their check modifier and half the leader's check modifier. Other modifiers apply normally.

The group leader must remain in a position to help the other members of the group for the group members to gain this benefit. For example, if a group is making a collaborative check to leap across a chasm, the leader must jump last. If the group is making a collaborative Stealth check, the leader must remain adjacent to the other members of the group to prevent their mistakes quietly. The exact circumstances depend on the situation.

Collective Checks: The group works together to get a single result. Collective checks might include a group of diplomats persuading a noble to go to war, a group of medics tending to a dying warrior, or a group of scouts keeping watch for enemy attacks.

When making a collective check, the group uses the highest result from any character making the check. In addition, that character gains a +1 bonus for each other character who also attempted the check, as long as their check result was no more than 5 points lower than the check's difficulty value.

Making Group Checks: A group check is not always possible. If the whole group is leaping over a chasm at once to escape a dragon, there is not enough time to designate a leader and have them aid the others to make a collaborative check. In general, a group check is only possible if the group has at least five rounds to work together, though this time may vary widely depending on the situation and the check being made.

Resting

When you have a moment to relax, you can rest to regain some of your expended resources. There are two main types of rests: a short rest and a long rest. Resting is not actually an ability in the same sense as most other abilities. You do not declare that you are using the “short rest” ability, and you do not have to differentiate between whether you intend to take a short rest or a long rest. The benefits of taking a short rest or long rest happen automatically after you spend enough time avoiding strenuous activity. Resting at night is often combined with sleeping, but you can rest at any time without sleeping.

Short Rest

Resting for ten minutes is considered a short rest. When you take a short rest, you gain the following benefits.

- Your hit points become equal to your maximum hit points.
- Your current damage resistance becomes equal to your maximum damage resistance.
- You regain any attunement points you released from deep attunement effects (see Deep Attunement, page 47).
- You remove all conditions affecting you (unless they cannot be removed normally).
- Some other abilities have specific effects that last until you take a short rest.

Long Rest

Resting for eight hours is considered a long rest. When you take a long rest, you gain the following benefits.

- You remove one of your vital wounds (see Removing Vital Wounds, page 43). The Medicine skill can increase this healing (see Accelerate Recovery, page 152).
- Your fatigue level becomes 0.
- Some other abilities have specific effects that last until you take a long rest.

You can take multiple long rests consecutively to recover from extensive vital wounds.

Size Categories

Your size affects your space in combat, your speed with any movement modes that depend on your size category’s base speed, your attributes, and how noticeable you are (see Stealth, page 156). These effects are shown on Table 4.2: Size Categories.

Space

A creature’s space is the area its body occupies while fighting. All humanoid species take up a 5-ft. by 5-ft. space in combat, which is a single square. Normally, other creatures can’t be in the space you occupy. Most creatures have a space significantly larger than the physical space their body occupies because they need room to maneuver in combat.

Exceptionally large creatures can often attack at some distance from their core body thanks to long arms or other appendages.

This is represented by making their space larger than their body alone would require. Even Colossal creatures can still only make melee attacks against adjacent foes - or more often, against smaller creatures sharing space with them.

Base Speed

Each size category has a base speed that indicates how far creatures of that size category can generally move. Most movement modes use a speed equal to the base speed for a creature’s size category. For details about other speeds, see Movement Modes, page 56.

Other Effects

A creature’s size affects some additional skills and abilities. For example, larger creatures have a penalty to the Stealth skill (see Common Stealth Modifiers, page 156). The effects of unusual size are described in those skills and abilities. Unusually large or small creatures also have other special rules apply to them, as described below.

Very Small Creatures

Space: If a creature takes up less than a single square of space, you can fit multiple creatures in that square. Ignoring flight, you can fit four Small creatures in a square, twenty-five Tiny creatures, 100 Diminutive creatures, or 400 Fine creatures. If the creatures can fly, the number of creatures that can fit into a space increases drastically.

Movement: Creatures two size categories smaller than you are not considered obstacles and do not hinder your movement.

Very Large Creatures

Space: Very large creatures take up multiple squares. Anything which affects a single square the creature occupies affects the creature.

Movement: Creatures two size categories larger than you are not considered obstacles and do not hinder your movement.

Weight Limits

Your Strength determines how much you can carry or push, as shown in Table 4.3: Weight Limits by Strength. Your weight limits are measured in terms of how many objects or creatures of a given weight category that you can carry or push at once (see Weight Categories, page 46). The limit of how much you can hold in your hands or on your body is called your carrying capacity. If you need to move more weight than that, you can push or drag objects or creatures up your pushing and dragging limit as a standard action. When you do, you move the weight 5 feet.

In general, it is not meaningful to consider the weight of any objects with a weight category lighter than your maximum weight category. If it matters, you can treat eight objects of one weight category as having an equivalent weight to a single object that is one weight category heavier.

Large Creatures: Unusually large or small creatures gain a bonus to their Strength for the purpose of determining their weight limits. For details, see Table 4.2: Size Categories, page 46.

Multi-Legged Creatures: The figures on Table 4.3: Weight Limits by Strength are for bipedal creatures. A creature with four or more legs can carry, push, or drag twice as many objects as a bipedal creature of the same Strength.

Weight Categories

Weight is generally measured in weight categories rather than pounds or kilograms. Weight categories use the same terms as size categories, as shown in Table 4.4: Weight Categories, page 46. In general, a creature's weight category is the same as its size category.

Objects and creatures can also be either lightweight or heavyweight. Lightweight objects and creatures have a weight category that is one category lighter than their size category. Heavyweight objects and creatures have a weight category that is one category heavier than their size category.

Objects that occupy only a small percentage of the space appropriate for their size category, such as swords, are usually lightweight. Objects that fully occupy the space appropriate for their size category, like boulders, are usually heavyweight.

Communication and Languages

Literacy: All characters with an Intelligence of -2 or higher are presumed to be literate, allowing them to read and write any language they speak. Each language has an alphabet, though sometimes several spoken languages share a single alphabet.

Language Rarity: Some languages are widely spoken in the world, while others are only encountered in unusual circumstances. Common languages are summarized on Table 4.5: Common Languages, below. Rare languages are summarized on Table 4.6: Rare Languages, below. Rare languages are more difficult to learn, and are usually only spoken by unusual creatures.

Learning Languages: Learning a language is a time-consuming process, and most characters only know a few languages based on their species. You can learn two common languages or one rare language by becoming trained in the Linguistics skill (see Linguistics, page 151). In addition, you can talk to your GM about knowing an additional language based on your character’s personal background.

Attunement

Many special abilities and magic items only function as long as a creature attunes to them. Attuned abilities have the Attune tag. Attuning to an ability typically require investing a single attunement point (see Attunement Points, page 30) Some abilities, called deep attunement abilities, require two attunement points instead of one (see Deep Attunement, page 47). You can never attune to the same ability more than once.

As long as you remain attuned to an ability, you cannot recover the attunement points you used to attune to that ability by any means. As a free action, you can dismiss any number of effects that you are attuned to, which makes you stop being attuned to them. After you stop being attuned to an ability, you recover that attunement point at the end of the current phase.

Normally, the creature using the attuned ability must attune to it. If that creature stops attuning to the ability, the ability ends. In the special case of rituals, any number of ritual participants can attune to the ability, and the ability lasts as long as any participant is still attuned to it.

There are two special subtypes of attunement abilities: deep attunements and targeted attunements. They are described below.

Deep Attunement

Some attuned abilities are more powerful and complicated than others, and require additional investment to take effect. These are called deep attunement abilities. They are identified as Attune (deep).

Deep attunement abilities have two main differences from ordinary attunement abilities. First, they require expending two attunement points instead of only one. Second, the attuning creature can’t get back those attunement points by any means until they take a short rest, even if they release the attunement.

Targeted Attunement

Some attuned abilities affect specific creatures instead of the caster. These are called targeted attunement abilities. They are identified as Attune (target).

The creature using a targeted attunement ability does not need to attune to the ability unless it targets itself. Instead, each target must attune to its own version of the effect. The effect lasts on that target as long as it stays attuned to it, regardless of whether any other targets stay attuned to the effect.

Ability Mechanics

Magical and Mundane Abilities

There are two types of abilities: magical abilities and mundane abilities.

Magical Abilities: A magical ability is an ability fundamentally composed of or fuelled by magic. Magical abilities often have effects that would be impossible without magical intervention. Examples include spells, a dragon’s breath weapon, and a paladin’s ability to smite foes. Abilities that are magical in nature are indicated with a (Magical) indicator. Abilities that are not magical are mundane.

Mundane Abilities: A mundane ability has some form of natural explanation and does not fundamentally originate from a magical source. Examples include weapon attacks, a dragon’s frightful presence, and a barbarian’s rage. Mundane attacks often target Armor defense. Unless otherwise indicated, all abilities are mundane in nature. Abilities that are not mundane are magical.

Targets

Almost all abilities affect targets. A target of an ability is a creature directly affected by the ability in some way. Many abilities affect targets within a specific range.

Targeted Abilities

Some abilities allow you to choose specific targets. There can be restrictions on the targets of the ability, such as “a creature or object” or “an ally”. These abilities are called targeted abilities.

Area Abilities

Some abilities affect all valid targets within a given area. There can be restrictions on the targets of the ability, such as “all creatures” or “all enemies”. However, you cannot individually choose to include or exclude specific targets. These abilities are not targeted abilities.

Invalid Targets

You can always attempt to use an ability on an invalid target. If the target is still invalid when the ability resolves, the ability automatically fails and has no effect on the target.

Primary and Secondary Targets

Some abilities that affect multiple targets distinguish between their primary and secondary targets. For example, the chain lightning spell affects secondary targets within a small radius around a primary target. If an ability does not mention secondary targets, all of its targets are primary targets. Unless otherwise specified, abilities have the same effect on their primary and secondary targets. However, some targeting rules are different between the two.

First, line of effect for secondary targets is always measured from the primary target, rather than from the ability’s source. However, line of sight is still measured from the ability’s source. This can allow you to hit secondary targets behind walls if you can still see them or otherwise target them, and if there is no wall separating from the primary target.

Second, secondary targets use the same longshot penalty as the primary target, even if they are farther away.

Range

Many abilities can only affect targets or areas within a given range of you. For abilities that affect specific targets, all targets must be within the range. For abilities that affect an area within a range, the area’s point of origin must be within the range (see Point of Origin, page 63). There are five common ranges: Short (30 ft.) range, Medium (60 ft.) range, Long (120 ft.) range, Distant (180 ft.) range, and Extreme (240 ft.) range. Unless otherwise noted, all abilities with a range require both line of sight and line of effect to the point of origin or to all targets.

Area

Some abilities affect targets within an area. All areas have a point of origin, an area shape, a measurement of their size in feet, and an area type (see Point of Origin, page 63).

Area Shapes

Cone: A cone extends from the point of origin in a quarter-hemisphere, up to the given length. A square is affected by a cone if it is within the cone’s 90 degree arc and all of the square’s points of intersection are no more than the cone’s length away from the cone’s point of origin.

Cylinder: A cylinder extends out from the point of origin in a circle, up to the given radius. Cylinders also have a specific height. Unless otherwise specified, a cylinder’s height is the same as its radius. Cylinders ignore obstacles that partially block line of effect, as long as there is a path around the obstacle that lies entirely within the ability’s area.

Line: A line extends from the point of origin in a straight line, up to the given length. Lines also have a specific width and height. Unless otherwise specified, a line-shaped ability affects an area 5 feet wide and 5 feet high. The affected squares are chosen such that they stay close to the chosen line as possible. All squares affected by a line must be contiguous, so every square is adjacent to another affected square, disregarding diagonals.

Sphere: A sphere extends from the point of origin in all directions. Any ability which only specifies a radius for its area is sphere-shaped.

Wall: A wall is like a line, except that its width is not defined in squares. Narratively, all walls have a nonzero width. Mechanically, walls are considered to have no width and simply occupy the boundary between squares. Like lines, some walls are shapeable.

All walls share the following common properties unless their description says otherwise. A wall’s height is equal to half its length for straight walls, or half its radius for circular walls, to a minimum of 10 feet high. The entire wall is considered to be a single object, and is attacked and destroyed as a single unit. All of a wall’s defenses are 0, but like other objects, they are immune to critical hits. Most abilities that create walls indicate how many hit points the wall has. If an ability does not specify a wall’s hit points, it does not have hit points and cannot be destroyed with damage.

If you create a wall within a space too small to hold it, it fills as much of the space as possible, starting from the middle of the chosen space. This can allow you to completely block off small tunnels.

Walls can normally be created within or adjacent to occupied squares, but not within solid objects. If a wall has hit points, it cannot be created inside the space of a single creature, but it can be created between two adjacent creatures.

Area Size

The area affected by many abilities falls into one of six sizes. Each size defines the extent to which the ability extends out from its origin, whether as a radius or as a length. Many abilities have specific sizes, as given in the ability description.

Tiny: Tiny areas extend 5 feet from their point of origin.

Small: Small areas extend 15 feet from their point of origin.

Medium: Medium areas extend 30 feet from their point of origin.

Large: Large areas extend 60 feet from their point of origin.

Huge: Huge areas extend 120 feet from their point of origin.

Gargantuan: Gargantuan areas extend 240 feet from their point of origin.

Area Types

Burst: A burst ability has an immediate effect on all valid targets within an area. If an ability does not explicitly specify its area type, it is normally a burst effect. However, abilities that create wall-shaped areas are always zones.

Emanation: An emanation ability has effects within an area for the duration of the ability. It emanates from a specific creature or object, rather than a location. If that creature or object moves, the emanation moves with it.

Zone: A zone ability has effects within an area for the duration of the ability. Unless otherwise noted, it does not move after being created.

When casting an area ability, you select the point where the ability originates. The point of origin of a ability is always a grid intersection. When determining whether a given creature is within the area of a ability, count out the distance from the point of origin in squares just as you do when moving a character or when determining the range for a ranged attack. The only difference is that instead of counting from the center of one square to the center of the next, you count from intersection to intersection.

You can freely decrease a ability's area, provided that you decrease it uniformly across all of the ability's dimensions. For example, you can cast a fireball spell that affects a 5 foot radius if you choose to do so, but you can't cast a fireball with any shape other than a sphere.

You can count diagonally across a square, but remember that every second diagonal counts as 2 squares of distance. If the far edge of a square is within the ability's area, anything within that square is within the ability's area. If the ability's area only touches the near edge of a square, however, anything within that square is unaffected by the ability.

Ability Durations

An ability's duration determines how long its effect lasts. Abilities can have one of several different kinds of durations.

If an ability targets creatures or objects directly, the effects travel with the subjects for the ability's duration, even if the subjects go outside the ability's initial range. If an ability creates or summons objects or creatures, they last for the duration of the ability, and are capable of moving outside the ability's initial range. Such effects can sometimes be destroyed prior to when their duration ends.

Attuned Abilities

Many abilities last as long as a creature attunes to them. For details, see Attunement, page 47.

Conditions

Many abilities impose conditions on their targets. A condition lasts until it is removed. You can remove conditions by taking a short rest or using the recover ability (see Recover, page 61). There are several other abilities that can also remove conditions.

Sustained Abilities

Sustained abilities have the Sustain tag. They last as long as you take an action to sustain them each round. The type of action required is always specified in the ability's tag, such as "Sustain (standard)" for a standard action, or in the ability's description. At the end of each round, the ability is dismissed unless you initiated the ability that round or took the action to sustain the ability that round.

Some sustained abilities include "attuneable" in the tag before the action type. When you use that ability, you can choose to attune to it instead of sustaining it. If you do, it gains the Attune tag and loses the Sustain tag, so it stays active as long as you stay attuned to it.

If a sustained ability has effects that trigger at the end of the round, it ends before having its effects if you fail to sustain the ability.

Taking an action to sustain an ability only allows you to sustain a single use of that ability. However, you can sustain multiple separate abilities at once if you have available actions.

You can normally only sustain an ability for up to 5 minutes. After that time, the ability's effect is dismissed.

Permanent Abilities

Some abilities last permanently. Such abilities never expire on their own, but can be dismissed or removed by other abilities appropriately.

Combining Effects

Abilities do not generally affect the way another abilities function. However, sometimes multiple effects can be in conflict on a creature. If one effect makes another effect irrelevant or impossible, the latter effect is ignored. If two effects both conflict with each other, the most recent effect takes precedence, and the other is ignored. Unless otherwise noted, two different uses of the same ability are always considered to be conflicting with each other.

All abilities will still have as much of their effect as possible. It is possible for an ability to be partially effective in this way.

Suppressing Abilities

Abilities can be suppressed by effects such as the suppress magic spell. While an ability is suppressed, it has no effect. However, if it stops being suppressed, its effects continue as if they had not been interrupted.

Ability Tags

Many abilities have tags that describe the nature of the ability. Many of these tags have no game effect by themselves, but they govern how the ability interacts with spells, other abilities, unusual creatures, and so on. For a list of ability tags, see Ability Tags, page 375.

Spell and Ritual Mechanics

Spells and rituals share many common properties, defined here.

Categories of Magic

Magic Sources

There are four magic sources that characters can use to cast spells and perform rituals: arcane (cast by sorcerers and wizards), divine (cast by clerics and paladins), nature (cast by druids), and pact (cast by warlocks). Each magic source has a set of associated mystic spheres (see Mystic Spheres, below).

Characters with Multiple Magic Sources: A character can have access to multiple sources of magic through the use of abilities like the Hybrid Training ability (see Half-Elves, page 24). The mystic spheres, spells, and rituals that character knows are tracked separately for each source of magic that character has access to. If you have access to the same spell or ritual from multiple sources, the two versions of the ability are generally considered to be the same ability. When you cast the spell or perform the ritual, you choose which source you are using for the ability.

Mystic Spheres

A mystic sphere is a collection of thematically related magical effects that includes both spells and rituals. Each mystic sphere can be associated with any number of magic sources. The mystic spheres are listed at Mystic Spheres, page 244.

Ability Tags

All spells have the Magical and Spell ability tags, and all rituals have the Magical and Ritual ability tags. Since spells and rituals are already clearly indicated in the Mystic Spheres chapter, the tags are omitted here for convenience. Elsewhere in this book, such as in monster descriptions, those tags are used to indicate that some abilities are considered spells and rituals.

Casting Components

Unless otherwise noted, all spells and rituals require verbal components to cast or perform. In addition, spells and rituals from arcane and pact mystic sources require somatic components. You cannot start casting a spell or performing a ritual without all required components. If you lose those components before the ability resolves, the spell fails with no effect.

To provide the verbal component for a spell or ritual, you must speak in a strong voice with a volume at least as loud as ordinary conversation. To provide the somatic component for a spell or ritual, you must make a precise series of movements with at least one free hand. These movements involve your whole arm in addition to gestures with your fingers.

Somatic Component Failure

Encumbrance from armor interferes with the somatic components required to perform arcane spells, pact spells, and all rituals. When you cast a spell or perform a ritual that requires somatic components while you have an encumbrance, you must roll 1d10. If your result is less than or equal to your encumbrance, the spell fails with no effect. When you perform a ritual, this roll must be repeated at the end of each round during the ritual.

Dismissal

Many abilities can intentionally be ended early if you dismiss it. When an ability is dismissed, all of its lingering effects immediately end. Unless otherwise noted, all magical abilities with a duration can be dismissed, but mundane abilities cannot be dismissed. This includes conditions, brief effects, and other abilities with more specific durations. You can dismiss abilities as a free action that requires only mental effort.

Resurrecting the Dead

Several rituals have the power to restore dead characters to life.

When a living creature dies, its soul departs its body, travels through the Astral Plane, and goes to abide on the plane where the creature's deity resides. If the creature did not worship a deity, its soul departs to the plane corresponding to its alignment. Bringing a creature back from the dead means retrieving their soul and returning it to their body.

Death and Old Age: While a creature is dead, it still tracks that time towards its maximum age. A creature's maximum age is largely determined by the strength of its soul, not the condition of its body. No magic can return a creature to life when it has passed its maximum age.

Preventing Resurrection: Enemies can take steps to make it more difficult for a character to be returned from the dead. Except for true resurrection, every ritual to raise the dead requires a body, so keeping or destroying the body is an effective deterrent. The soul bind ritual prevents any sort of revivification unless the soul is first released.

Involuntary Resurrection: A soul cannot be returned to life if it does not wish to be. A soul infallibly knows the name, alignment, and patron deity (if any) of the character attempting to revive it and may refuse to return on that basis.

Functioning Like Other Spells

Many spells and rituals say they "function like" some other spell or ritual, often with some noted changes. Except as otherwise noted, they retain all of the original effects and targets of the spell. However, they do not have the same rank upgrades as the original spell or ritual.

Impossible Spells and Rituals

When you try to use a spell or ritual in an impossible way, the ability fails with no effect. This most commonly happens if you attempt to declare an invalid target for a spell.

Spells

A spell is a discrete magical effect with a name, a rank, and an effect. Each mystic sphere has a number of spells associated with it. An ability that gives you access to mystic spheres will define how many spells you know. A spell's rank is the minimum archetype rank you must have in the relevant spellcasting archetype to be able to learn and cast the spell.

Cantrips

Some mystic spheres have minor spells called cantrips. Anyone who has access to a mystic sphere knows all cantrips from that sphere.

Rituals

Each mystic sphere has a number of rituals. Some spellcasting characters can learn and perform rituals. Rituals are ceremonies that create magical effects. Like spells, each ritual has a name, a rank, and an effect. Although rituals are similar to spells, abilities that affect spells do not affect rituals unless they say they do in their descriptions. A ritual's rank is the minimum archetype rank you must have in the relevant spellcasting archetype to be able to learn and perform the ritual.

You don't memorize a ritual as you would a normal spell. Rituals are too complex for all but the most knowledgeable sages to commit to memory. To perform a ritual, you need to read from a book or a scroll containing it. You must have access to the mystic sphere a ritual is from in order to perform the ritual.

Ritual Descriptions

Rituals are described in the body of the mystic sphere they are associated with, following the description of spells from that mystic sphere.

Scribing Rituals

A ritual book contains one or more rituals that you can use as frequently as you want, as long as you can spend the time and fatigue level to perform the ritual. Scribing a ritual costs precious magical ink with a value equal to an item of the ritual's rank (see Table 8.2: Item Ranks, page 159).

Performing Rituals

To perform a ritual, you must have a ritual book containing the ritual and the material components required for the ritual. Some rituals cause the creatures performing them to increase their fatigue level, as indicated in their descriptions. Other creatures can suffer this fatigue to help you perform rituals; see Ritual Participants, below.

Ritual Participants

Creatures can assist in the performance of rituals even if they are unable to perform rituals themselves. A creature that helps perform a ritual is called a ritual participant, and the creature performing the ritual is called the ritual leader. A ritual participant may increase their fatigue level in place of or in addition to the fatigue level gained by the creature performing the ritual. If multiple creatures are willing to increase their fatigue level or attune to effects, the ritual leader decides which creatures increase their fatigue level or attune to the ritual's effects.

The steps required to participate in rituals can be complex. Ritual participants must be given specific instructions for the actions they must perform during a ritual by a creature who knows how to perform the ritual. This instruction generally takes one tenth of the time required to perform the ritual. A creature cannot participate in rituals unless it has an Intelligence of at least 0, can speak at least one language, and has the fine motor control required to perform the somatic components of rituals.

Normally, a ritual participant can only contribute fatigue levels up to a maximum of their fatigue tolerance. If the participant has access to the same magic source as the ritual, they can contribute any number of fatigue levels (until they drop unconscious). Creatures willing to fatigue themselves generally tire at a rate no faster than one fatigue level per ten minutes spent performing the ritual.

Changing Ritual Participation: Rituals are deeply complex magic, and they cannot be abandoned or paused partway through. If the number of ritual participants in a ritual decreases below its initial value, the ritual fails at the end of the next round if the number of participants is not restored. However, ritual participants can transfer their participation to other creatures without disrupting the ritual.

In order to transfer ritual participation, the new creature must be able to participate in the ritual. Similarly, the ritual leader can transfer their leadership to another creature. In addition to the requirements for transferring ritual participation, the new leader must know the ritual and be able to perform it themselves.

Changing ritual participation and leadership is usually done when performing extraordinarily long or demanding rituals.

Attunement Rituals: Rituals with the Attune (ritual) tag require a single ritual participant to attune to the ritual's effect. Any ritual participant can attune to the effect, but only one ritual participant can attune to the effect unless otherwise noted in the ritual's description. For details, see Attuned Abilities, page ??.

Magical Writings

To record a spell in written form, a character uses complex notation that describes the magical forces involved in the spell. The notation constitutes a universal language that spellcasters have discovered, not invented. Each writer uses this universal system regardless of their native language or culture. However, each character uses the system in their own way. Another person's magical writing remains incomprehensible to even the most powerful spellcaster until they take the time to study and decipher it.

Breaking Objects

There are two main ways of breaking objects. You can deal damage to objects with attacks, similarly to how you can deal damage to creatures. Alternately, you can attempt to sunder the object with sheer strength.

Damaging Objects

Objects have hit points and damage resistance like creatures. However, they treat all damage they take as environmental damage (see Environmental Damage, page 42). That means that all damage they take is reduced by their damage resistance without subtracting from the remaining value of their damage resistance.

An object becomes broken if its hit points are reduced to 0 (see Broken and Destroyed Objects, page 52). Objects cannot gain vital wounds. Objects are also not normally subject to critical hits.

Object Statistics

An object’s size primarily influences the number of hit points it has. The primary material it is constructed from determines its damage resistance, and can modify the number of hit points it has. Details are given in Table 4.7: Object Statistics By Size, page 52 and Table 4.8: Object Statistics By Material, page 52.

Table 4.7: Object Statistics By Size

Size	Hit Points	Sunder Difficulty Value
Fine	1	1 ¹
Diminutive	2	2
Tiny	5	5
Small	10	10
Medium	20	15
Large	50	20
Huge	100	25
Gargantuan	200	30
Colossal	500	35

1. Extremely small objects may be difficult to grip effectively, which can significantly increase the difficulty to sunder them.

Table 4.8: Object Statistics By Material

Material	DR ¹	Hit Points Multiplier ²	Sunder Difficulty Value Modifier
Adamantine	30	x3	+20
Glass	5	x1/2	—
Ice	1	x1/2	–5
Iron or steel	12	x2	+10
Leather or hide	3	—	—
Mithral	15	x2	+10
Paper or cloth	1	x1/2	–5
Rope	2	—	—
Stone	8	x2	+5
Wood	5	—	—

1. See Damage Resistance, page 29.
2. Any value here modifies the number of hit points the object would normally have based on its size.

Sundering Objects

As a standard action, you can attempt to sunder an object you can touch. This requires two hands. An object’s size and primary material determines the difficulty value of the check. The difficulty value of this check decreases by 2 if the object is below its maximum hit points. Success means that the object breaks. Failure by 5 or less means the object loses a hit point, but it does not break. Failure by 6 or more means nothing happens.

Broken and Destroyed Objects

An object that is reduced to 0 hit points becomes broken. You can destroy an object by causing it to lose additional hit points equal to ten times its maximum hit points, or by succeeding at a check to sunder the object by 20.

Broken Objects: Broken objects cannot be used for their intended purpose, but still retain enough of their original form to be repaired without too much work. For example, a broken wall lies in pieces on the ground and no longer blocks passage, but can be repaired with far less effort than would be required to create a wall from scratch. Magic items that are broken retain their magical properties once fixed. Broken (but not destroyed) objects can be repaired with the Craft skill for a cost equal to 10% of their value (see Craft, page 145).

Destroyed Objects: Destroyed objects have been damaged beyond hope of any sort of repair short of crafting the object again from raw materials. For example, a destroyed wall is reduced to dust or small, useless chunks of rubble. Magic items that are destroyed irrevocably lose their magical properties. The remains of a destroyed object generally occupy a space one size category smaller than the original object.

Relative Damage Resistance

When an object would take damage from a strike, if the damage resistance of the attacking object or creature is lower than the damage resistance of the defender, the attacking object or creature takes the damage instead. For example, if you try to break a stone wall with a wooden club, the club will break instead of the wall.

Poison

Poisons can deal damage, weaken creatures, or even kill them. Some effects which are not literally poisonous, such as animal venom or fungal spores, are considered poisons. Unless otherwise noted, poisons are not conditions, and cannot be removed by abilities that remove conditions (see Conditions, page 49). Common poisons are listed in Table 8.15: Consumable Tools, page 215.

Poison Transmission

There are three ways that poisons can be contracted.

Contact: A contact poison affects any creature that touches it with bare skin.

Ingestion: An ingestion poison affects any creature that eats, drinks, or breathes it, depending on the type of poison. Ingestion poisons have no effect when touched or used to coat weapons.

Injury: An injury poison affects any creature that loses hit points from something bearing the poison. Almost all injury poisons take liquid form, and are typically used to coat weapons.

Poison Forms

There are four forms of poison.

Gas: Gaseous poisons are difficult to store, but easy to affect foes with. Unless otherwise noted, a gas poison can be thrown within Short (30 ft.) range, and affects a Tiny (5 ft.) radius.

Liquid: Liquid poisons are the most common type of poison. Liquid poisons can be used to coat weapons, slipped into food, or simply thrown at foes. A dose of a liquid poison is usually about one ounce of the poison.

Pellet: Some rare poisons come in small, solid pellets or cubes. Typically, these pellets contain a powerful liquid poison that becomes inert quickly after being exposed. Pellet poisons are typically applied by being slipped into food.

Powder: Poison in powder form cannot be used to coat weapons, but can be slipped into food or thrown at foes. Unless otherwise noted, a powder poison functions as a thrown weapon with range limits of 5/15.

Coating Weapons with Poison

As a standard action, you can coat a weapon with a single dose of a liquid contact-based or injury-based poison. The next time a creature takes damage from a strike using that weapon, the struck creature is affected by the poison. This removes one dose of the poison from the weapon. Coated poisons expire and lose their effectiveness after ten minutes.

Strikes that do not deal damage do not remove poison doses from a poisoned weapon. An injury-based poison has no effect if the strike does not cause the struck creature to lose hit points, but the dose is still removed from the weapon. For this reason, injury-based poisons are typically applied to secondary weapons that can be used after the subject is already weakened.

A weapon can hold up to three poison doses of the same poison. Mixing different poison types on the same weapon is ineffective, as each poison dilutes the others. Only the highest rank poison on the weapon has any effect. Choose randomly between equal rank poisons to determine which poison remains effective.

Poison Effects

Poisons can have a wide variety of effects, as determined by the type of poison used. However, most poisons share certain common properties.

Becoming Poisoned: All poisons have a base accuracy. When a creature first comes into contact with a poison, the poison makes an attack roll using its accuracy against the Fortitude defense of the poisoned creature. On a hit, the target becomes poisoned and suffers the effects of the first stage of the poison. On a critical hit, the target becomes poisoned and suffers the effects of the two stages of the poison. On a miss, the target is not poisoned.

Some attacks make the target poisoned if they hit the target. In that case, the ability's accuracy defines the poison's accuracy.

Many poisons have an additional effect when they hit the target for the third time.

Poison Attacks: At the end of each subsequent round after the target becomes poisoned, the poison makes an attack roll against the Fortitude defense of the poisoned creature. If the poison was applied by a spell or other special ability, the accuracy bonus of this attack is equal to the accuracy of the original ability that applied the poison.

Each hit increases the poison stage of the poison. For every 10 points by which the attack hits, the poison progresses by an additional stage. On a miss, the creature gets closer to resisting the poison (see Resisting Poisons, below).

Resisting Poisons: If a poison misses a creature three times with its attack at the end of each round, the creature stops being poisoned by that poison.

Multiple Doses: A creature can be affected by multiple doses of the same poison. This does not cause the same effect to occur multiple times. However, each extra dose increases the accuracy of the poison by 1, up to a maximum bonus of +10 more than the poison's normal accuracy.

A poison is considered the same if it has the same name and comes from the same source. For example, a creature bitten multiple times by the same giant spider suffers multiple doses of the same poison. A creature bitten multiple times by different giant spiders considers each spider's poison separately.

Poison Quality: Some poisons are unusually high or low quality.

Creating Poisons

You can use the Craft (poison) skill to create poisons. To create a poison, you must make a Craft (poison) check against a difficulty value equal to 10 + the poison's base accuracy. For every 2 points by which you beat this difficulty value, the created poison's accuracy gains a +1 bonus, up to a maximum bonus of +10 more than the poison's base accuracy.

Creating a poison requires special materials. The type of materials required, and how those materials can be acquired, depend on the type of poison.

- Plant: Plant-based poisons can typically be harvested by making a Survival check to search in appropriate terrain. The difficulty value of this check is usually equal to 10 + the base accuracy of the poison.
- Venom: Venom requires an appropriate body part from a creature – often, poison it naturally produces.
- Alchemical: Alchemical poisons require alchemical materials. These cannot normally be found in nature. In unusual circumstances, these components can be synthesized from natural chemicals or magical materials with a Craft (alchemy) check equal to 10 + the base accuracy of the poison.

General Calculations

Stacking Rules

Usually, modifiers stack with each other, meaning that you add or subtract all of the modifiers to get the final result. However, some modifiers do not stack with each other, as described below. When bonuses don't stack with each other, you only apply the largest bonus. Likewise, when penalties don't stack with each other, you only apply the largest penalty.

Special Exceptions:

- Effects from the same source do not stack. Any ability with the same name has the same source.
- Magic bonuses do not stack with each other.
- If a creature gains the same condition multiple times, the effects do not stack, but each instance of the condition is tracked separately. The creature must remove all instances of the condition before the effects are removed.
- Multiple magical effects that change a creature's size category do not stack. If multiple magical effects both increase and decrease size, size increases offset size decreases on a one-for-one basis to determine the creature's final size.
- If you have two separate abilities which grant you a special sense with a particular range, such as darkvision or blindsight, you sum the range from both abilities to find your total range with that sense.

Maximum Bonuses

Some bonuses specify that they cannot increase the value beyond a given point. These bonuses must always be applied last, and cannot be combined with other bonuses to exceed the maximum value. If multiple bonuses specify different maximum values, use the lower maximum value. If a bonus with a maximum value is applied to a value that already exceeds the maximum value the bonus can provide, simply ignore the bonus and its maximum value.

Doubling and Halving

If you double any in-game value twice, it becomes three times as large. An additional doubling would make it four times as large, and so on. Likewise, if you halve any in-game value twice, it becomes one-third as large. For example, if you have two different abilities that double your power with an attack, you triple your power with that attack.

This also applies to calculations using real-world values, such as movement and distance, as long as you're calculating the effects of abilities. For example, if you have two different abilities that double your range with a spell, your total range with that spell is three times the spell's normal range.

Changing Statistics

Your modifiers and defenses can change for many reasons. In general, all changes take effect immediately.

It is not normally possible for a character to lose access to resources that require them to make choices, such as insight points or trained skills. If a character does somehow lose the prerequisites for choices they have made, such as if their Intelligence is permanently reduced, they immediately lose relevant abilities until they are within their new limits.

Rounding

In general, if you encounter a fractional number, you round it down.

Chapter 5

Combat

The world of Rise can be a harsh one, and not all disagreements can be resolved peacefully. At some point, you will be forced to enter combat. This chapter explains how combat works in Rise.

Combat Time

This section explains how time passes in combat.

Rounds

Combat takes place in a series of rounds, which represent about six seconds of time. Each round of a combat is divided into three phases (see Phases, page 55). After all phases are complete, the round ends and the next round begins.

Actions

You can take actions in combat to defeat your foes. There are four types of actions: standard actions, minor actions, move actions, and free actions.

Standard Actions

Most common activities require a standard action, such as attacking with a weapon, casting a spell, and using many special abilities. Using a standard action generally takes about three seconds of time within the game, and it requires most of your attention during that time.

You can take one standard action per round.

Minor Actions

Some special abilities require a minor action. Using a minor action does not take much time or attention, and it can be done at the same time as any other actions. You cannot use a minor action during the movement phase.

You can normally take one minor action per round. However, you can choose to take an additional minor action in place of a standard action.

Move Actions

Abilities that require a move action typically move you around the battlefield, and are usually used in the movement phase. Using a move action generally takes about three seconds of time within the game, and it requires most of your attention during that time.

You can normally take one move action per round. However, you can choose to take an additional move action in place of a standard action.

Free Actions

Many minor activities require a free action, such as drawing or sheathing a weapon. Using a free action does not take much time or attention, and it can be done at the same time as any other actions.

You can take any number of free actions per round.

Phases

There are three phases in each round: a movement phase, an action phase, and sometimes a delayed action phase. Each phase specifies the types of actions that can be taken during that phase. As a special case, free actions may be taken during any phase.

The Movement Phase

During the movement phase, you can take one move action. The most common move action is the hustle ability, which allows you to move a distance equal to your speed. For details, see Movement and Positioning, page 56.

The Action Phase

During the action phase, you can take one minor action and one standard action. Alternately, you can take a move action or additional minor action in place of your standard action. Most of the time, you will simply take a single standard action.

The Delayed Action Phase

During the delayed action phase, you can take a minor action, a standard action, or both if you did not use the corresponding action in the action phase. Alternately, you can take a move action or additional minor action in place of a standard action. In addition, some abilities have effects during the delayed action phase instead of or in addition to their effects in the action phase. For example, the spring attack maneuver allows you to move during the action phase and again during the delayed action phase.

Triggered Ability Timing

Some abilities trigger at the start or end of particular phases, or at the start or end of the round. Here is the order in which these abilities trigger each round, and some notable events that occur during the round:

- Start of round
- Start of movement phase
- End of movement phase
- Start of action phase
- End of action phase
- Start of delayed action phase
- End of delayed action phase
- End of round

Resolving Actions

Within each phase, actions of all creatures are simultaneously resolved in the following order. All allies with the ability to communicate can freely coordinate their actions with each other, within reasonable limits.

1. Choose actions.
2. Determine targets affected by actions.
3. Apply the results of Swift abilities.
4. Check action success. Example: Making attack rolls.
5. Determine action results. Example: Making damage rolls.
6. Apply action results. Examples: Adding vital wounds, moving creature locations, and applying penalties.

In the vast majority of cases, there is no need to go through this order explicitly. Combats will run much faster if attack and damage rolls are generally made and announced at the same time as those actions are chosen, even before all characters have explicitly stated their actions. However, the order of resolution is important because it limits direct interaction between player actions and enemy actions. Even if a player is knocked unconscious or suffers a debilitating penalty from an enemy attack, they still get to act normally during that phase.

Swift Abilities

Some abilities resolve before other actions in the same phase. These abilities have the Swift tag. They resolve after targets are determined, but before attack rolls are made. Swift abilities never require attack rolls, and almost always affect only the creature using the ability.

For example, the total defense ability is a swift ability. It increases your defenses against attacks made during the same phase (see Total Defense, page 62).

Some abilities have only part of their effect resolve early. For example, the reckless attack ability immediately reduces your defenses, which affects attacks made against you during the current phase, and makes an attack with the normal timing.

Conflicting Actions

Sometimes, actions that occur in the same phase can conflict with each other. In this case, each creature involved with conflicting actions in that phase rolls an initiative check (see Initiative, page 56). Starting from the highest check result and continuing to the lowest, each creature immediately resolves its chosen action. Creatures that resolve their action afterward accomplish as much of their intended action as possible before being blocked or otherwise prevented.

For example, if three different creatures move into the same space, only the creature with the highest initiative check would actually enter that space. The other two creatures would take their intended path, but they would interrupt their movement when they cannot proceed farther, generally because they run into the space occupied by the first creature.

In general, directly conflicting actions are rare. Most movements do not conflict - even reactive movements, such as when one creature attempts to follow a withdrawing creature. In that case, no initiative check is necessary - both creatures simply move as far as they can, and the creatures' relative movement speeds determine who is more successful. This does make it possible for creatures to be "stranded" out of melee range of any attackers. Player characters are normally allowed to break this symmetry by reactively using the sprint ability, while monsters cannot sprint. This can help prevent melee characters from feeling stuck or useless. In addition, the charge universal ability can be helpful in such cases.

Initiative

When multiple creatures take mutually impossible actions simultaneously, such as racing to be the first one to a door, they must roll an opposed check with their initiative modifier. For details, see Conflicting Actions, page 56. Your initiative modifier is equal to your movement speed that you are using to take the action. In the unusual situation that no movement speed is relevant, just roll without applying a modifier.

Movement and Positioning

This section describes how creatures move and position themselves on a battlefield.

Movement Modes

A movement mode is a method of moving from one location to another. The most common movement mode is a land speed, which allows creatures to move across the ground. Unless otherwise noted, all creatures have a land speed equal to the base speed for their size (see Size Categories, page 45). In addition, some abilities grant creatures the ability to move in unusual ways. These forms of movement are described here.

Burrowing: A creature with a burrow speed can move through the ground at the indicated speed in any direction, even vertically. Unless otherwise noted, the creature can only burrow through dirt and loose earth, not rock or harder substances. It does not leave behind a usable tunnel for other creatures.

Climbing: A creature with a climb speed can move a distance equal to its climb speed with a successful Climb check (see Climb, page 144). In addition, it gains a +10 bonus to any Climb checks it makes.

Flying: A creature with a fly speed can fly through the air at the indicated speed. Flying is more complicated than some other movement speeds. For details, see Flying Mechanics, page 57.

Gliding: A creature with a glide speed can glide through the air at the indicated speed. It must not be carrying weight in excess of its maximum carrying capacity (see Weight Limits, page 45). Whenever a creature glides, it takes a –2 penalty to Armor and Reflex defenses until it reaches solid ground.

While in the air, a creature with a glide speed can control its fall as a move action. This allows it to move up to its speed horizontally in a direction of its choice while moving only five feet down. If it desires, it can move half as far horizontally and fall down twice as fast. It takes no falling damage if it touches the ground while gliding.

Land: A creature with a land speed can move across the ground at the indicated speed. Most creatures have a land speed.

Flying Mechanics

A creature with a fly speed cannot fly while it is carrying weight in excess of its maximum carrying capacity (see Weight Limits, page 45). In addition, it cannot fly while it has any encumbrance.

Maximum Height: Some abilities that grant a fly speed also have a height limit for the maximum height you can reach with that fly speed. This height measures your maximum distance directly above an object at least two size categories larger than you that is free-standing and capable of supporting your weight. You can fly above surfaces like water as long as they are thick enough to support your weight.

Falling: If a flying creature loses control, usually by failing to maintain its minimum forward speed, or loses the ability to fly, it falls just like any other creature would in midair. As long as it still has the ability to fly, it can regain control of its fall as a standard action, causing it to resume flying normally.

Size-Based Abilities While Flying

You can reach a creature's weak spots more easily while flying than while trying to attack its feet from the ground. While flying, you are treated as one size category larger than normal for the purpose of determining the effects of your Size-Based abilities. This cannot be combined with other effects that increase your effective size for the purpose of Size-Based abilities, such as climbing on creatures (see Creature Climb, page ??).

Flying Maneuverability

Each creature with a fly speed also has a maneuverability: good, average, or poor. Unless otherwise specified, a creature with a fly speed has average maneuverability.

Good Maneuverability:

- Minimum speed: The creature does not need to move horizontally to maintain its flight, allowing it to hover.
- Vertical movement: The creature can move up at the same speed as it moves horizontally, and it can fly down twice as fast.

Average Maneuverability:

- Defense penalties: Whenever the creature flies, it takes a –2 penalty to Armor and Reflex defenses until it reaches solid ground.

- Minimum speed: The creature must move horizontally by at least a quarter of its fly speed each round. If it does not, it falls.
- Vertical movement: The creature can fly up at half speed, but can fly down twice as fast.

Poor Maneuverability:

- Defense penalties: Whenever the creature flies, it takes a –4 penalty to Armor and Reflex defenses until it reaches solid ground.
- Minimum speed: The creature must move horizontally by at least half its fly speed each round. If it does not, it falls.
- Vertical movement: The creature can move up or down by only one square vertically per square traveled horizontally. The creature can fly up at half speed, but can fly down twice as fast.

Measuring Movement

For simplicity, all movement in combat is measured in five-foot increments. While it is possible to be more precise than that, it's generally not worth the complexity.

Squares: Area is commonly measured in 5-ft. by 5-ft. spaces called squares. A single square represents the area occupied by a single humanoid creature in combat. Sometimes, movement and distance are represented by the number of squares travelled. A 30-ft. movement is the same thing as moving six squares.

Diagonals: When measuring distance, the first diagonal counts as five feet of movement, and the second counts as ten feet of movement. The third costs five feet, the fourth costs ten feet, and so on. You can move diagonally past corners and enemies.

Movement Abilities

Almost all creatures can use these abilities to move around a battlefield. Many movement abilities are reactive, allowing you to move automatically in response to the movement of other creatures. For example, you can try to follow a creature wherever it goes that round. In all cases, if you run out of movement speed before accomplishing your intended task, you simply stop where you ran out of movement.

The most common types of reactive movements are the block, follow, and withdraw abilities, which are described below. However, you can come up with other reactive movements. The main requirement is that a reactive movement must have a simple criteria for determining how you move based on easily observable events. Secondly, reactive movements should be simple to resolve. If you find yourself rolling a lot of initiative checks to get through the movement phase, you're probably trying to make overly complicated movements.

Hustle: As a move action, you can use the hustle ability to move. This is the most common movement ability.

Hustle

Choose a path that you want to travel. You travel that path, up to the limit of your relevant movement speed.

Block: As a move action, you can use the block ability to prevent a creature from entering a particular area.

Block
Swift

When you use this ability, choose a creature you can see. During the current phase, whenever that creature attempts to move from a space adjacent to you into another space adjacent to you, you can attempt to block its movement. This includes a creature whose path takes it through two consecutive spaces adjacent to you, even if neither the creature's location at the start of the phase nor its intended location at the end of the phase are adjacent to you. When you do, make an opposed initiative check against the target. If you beat it on the initiative check, it must spend additional movement equal to one of your relevant movement speeds to move from its space. If it cannot, it stops moving. This represents you automatically repositioning yourself to block its movement.

If a creature has the ability to move through your space, such as if it uses the overrun ability, it can ignore this additional movement cost. If multiple creatures are able to block the same creature from moving, it must pay both additional movement costs, which generally keeps it stuck in place.

Follow: As a move action, you can use the follow ability to follow a creature as it moves.

Follow

Choose a creature you can see, and the maximum distance you want to follow at. During the current phase, you automatically move such that your distance to the target is no greater than your desired follow distance, up to the limit of your relevant movement speed.

If the target uses an ability that makes it impossible for you to follow its movement, such as teleporting or disappearing from your sight, it is harder for you to follow its movement. If you can see its destination, such as if it teleported to a different location within your line of sight, you must beat the target on an opposed initiative check. Success means that you can follow its movement normally. If you fail at the initiative check, or if you cannot tell where the target went, you complete your movement as if the creature was still at the location where it disappeared.

React: As a free action, you can use the react ability to try to choose your movement after seeing what another creature is going to do.

React
Swift

Choose a creature that you can see. Make an opposed initiative check against that creature. If you beat it on the initiative check, you learn whether it is going to take a move action during the current phase, and if so, what that move action will be. This does not give you any information about actions other than move actions, so using this ability during the action phase is often pointless. If you fail, you learn nothing about that creature's movement, and that creature automatically beats you on any other opposed initiative checks during the current phase. This represents you wasting time trying to watch the creature, giving it extra time to beat you in any sort of opposed contest or race.

Withdraw: As a move action, you can use the withdraw ability to keep away from creatures as they move.

Withdraw

This ability functions like the follow ability, except that you specify a minimum distance between you and the target instead of a maximum distance. In addition, you can specify multiple targets and try to keep away from all of them.

Movement Impediments

Difficult Terrain: Some terrain is hard to move through, like thick bushes or a swamp. If a square is difficult terrain, it increases the movement cost required to move out of the square by 5 feet.

If a square is considered difficult terrain for multiple reasons, the cost increases stack. For example, a square in a swamp that also has thick bushes blocking your passage would cost 10 extra feet of movement to leave.

Obstacles: An obstacle is anything that gets in your way. Enemies and large solid objects like walls completely block your movement. If you can get past an obstacle, like a low wall, that square is treated as difficult terrain. Some obstacles require a check to bypass, such as an Balance check (see Balance, page 143).

Squeezing: In some cases, you may have to squeeze into or through an area that isn't as wide as the space you take up. You can squeeze through or into a space that is at least half as wide as your normal space. While squeezing (-2 Armor and Ref), you move at half speed, and you take a -2 penalty to your Armor and Reflex defenses. You can squeeze into tighter spaces with the Flexibility skill.

Creatures that take up multiple squares take up half their normal number of squares while squeezing. For example, a Large creature who normally takes up four spaces takes up two spaces while squeezing.

Accidentally Squeezing: Sometimes a character ends its movement while moving through a space where it's not normally allowed to stop. When that happens, the character is squeezing in the space until it can move. If squeezing is impossible, the creature immediately moves to the closest available space. Try not to do this.

Undergrowth: Vines, roots, bushes, and similar plants that can obstruct sight are common in forested areas. These small plants can impede movement in large quantities. There are two kinds of undergrowth: light undergrowth and heavy undergrowth.

Light Undergrowth: Light undergrowth provides concealment.

Heavy Undergrowth: Heavy undergrowth provides concealment and is difficult terrain, which increases the movement cost required to move out of each square by 5 feet.

Forced Movement

Some abilities can physically move you against your will. Effects that limit movement speed, such as difficult terrain, similarly limit the distance you can be moved by forced movement effects. There are two kinds of forced movement: push effects and knockback effects. Unless otherwise noted, all forced movement effects move the target in a single straight horizontal line.

Push Effects

A creature affected by a push effect is being pushed by a constant force. If it encounters another creature or a solid obstacle during the movement, the forced movement effect ends without causing additional harm to the creature or the obstacle. Similarly, if a creature being pushed stops being supported and would fall, it falls instead of being pushed further. This can allow creatures pushed off the edge of a cliff to grab the edge of the cliff.

Knockback Effects

A creature affected by a knockback effect is thrown backwards by a single point of impact. If it encounters another creature or a solid obstacle during the movement, it and the obstacle each take 1d6 damage per 10 feet of movement remaining. A creature moving as a result of a knockback effect does not have to be supported during the movement by solid ground. This can allow you to knockback creatures off of cliffs without allowing them to save themselves.

Universal Abilities

All creatures can use the following abilities.

Strikes

A strike is the most common type of attack. There are three kinds of strikes: melee, projectile, and thrown. Many abilities allow you to make one or more strikes. Whenever you make a strike, you can choose which kind of strike to make.

All strikes are mundane abilities. Your accuracy with a strike is the same as your accuracy with most other abilities (see Accuracy, page 29). Your damage with a strike is determined by your Strength, your power, and the damage dice for the weapon you hit with (see Strike Damage, page 59).

Whenever you make a strike, you must choose one weapon to make the strike with. Wielding two weapons does not change anything about each strike you make. However, wielding two weapons can allow you to make an additional strike each round. For details, see Offhand Strike, page 61.

Melee Strike

Instant

Choose one weapon you are wielding and are able to attack with. Make an attack vs. Armor with that weapon against anything adjacent to you. If you are using a Long weapon, you can instead attack anything within 10 feet of you. You must have line of effect to the target.

Hit: The target takes damage from the weapon (see Strike Damage, page 59).

Critical hit: You double your damage dice with the attack, as normal for critical hits (see Critical Hits, page 40).

Projectile Strike

Instant

Choose one weapon with the Projectile weapon tag that you are wielding and are able to attack with (see Weapon Tags, page 162). Make an attack vs. Armor with that weapon against anything that you have line of effect to. You suffer a longshot penalty if the target is at long range from you with that weapon (see Weapon Range Limits, page 162).

Hit: The target takes damage from the weapon (see Strike Damage, page 59).

Critical hit: You double your damage dice with the attack, as normal for critical hits (see Critical Hits, page 40).

Thrown Strike

Instant

Choose one non-projectile weapon that you are wielding and are able to attack with. If the weapon does not have the Thrown weapon tag, your range limits with the attack are 10/30, and you are not treated as being proficient with the weapon (see Weapon Proficiency, page 161, and Weapon Proficiency, page 161). Make an attack vs. Armor with that weapon against anything that you have line of effect to. You suffer a longshot penalty if the target is at long range from you with that weapon (see Weapon Range Limits, page 162).

Critical hit: You double your damage dice with the attack, as normal for critical hits (see Critical Hits, page 40).

Strike Damage

When you deal damage with a strike, you roll your weapon's damage dice and add your power with the strike to get the total damage. Almost all strikes are considered mundane abilities, so you would normally use your Strength to determine their damage (see Dice Bonuses From Attributes, page 41).

Weapon damage dice are defined in the Equipment chapter (see Weapons, page 161). Some abilities modify your weapon damage dice with dice increments, such as by granting you a +1d bonus to your weapon's damage dice. For details about dice increments, see Dice Pools, page 41.

Secondary Strike Targets

Some abilities allow you to make strikes that affect secondary targets in addition to the primary target or targets. You make the same attack roll and damage roll against all targets of the strike. For example, weapons with the Sweeping weapon tag can make attacks against secondary targets adjacent to the primary target. If a strike has multiple primary targets, you must choose a single creature to be treated as the primary target for the purpose of all abilities that reference secondary targets.

Multiple abilities that cause a strike to affect secondary targets stack normally unless noted otherwise.

1. This ability increases your fatigue level when used.
2. This ability is Size-Based (see Size-Based, page 375).

Charge: You can use the charge ability as a standard action.

Charge

After you use this ability, you briefly take a -2 penalty to all defenses. This ability does not have the Swift tag, so it does not affect attacks made against you during the current phase.

Move up to your speed in a single straight line. At the end of your movement, you can make a melee strike from your new location.

Desperate Exertion: You can use the desperate exertion ability to succeed at a critical moment when you would otherwise fail. Using this ability is not an action, and can be done at any time. You can decide to use this ability after you learn whether the original roll succeeded or failed. You can even use it after you learn what the effects of a successful attack or check would be, if that is information you could normally learn if it succeeded. However, you must use it before the phase is over.

Desperate Exertion

Swift

After you use this ability, you increase your fatigue level by two (see Fatigue, page 30).

You reroll any attack or check you just made and gain a +2 bonus. You must reroll the entire roll, not just one die from the roll (such as if the original roll explodes). As normal for rerolls, if you already rerolled the attack or check because of another ability, you simply roll one additional time when you use this ability.

You cannot use this to affect rolls that are not attacks or checks, such as vital rolls. You cannot use this ability multiple times to affect the same roll.

Dirty Trick: As a standard action, you can use the dirty trick ability to creatively impair a foe's ability to fight.

Dirty Trick

Size-Based

When you use this ability, you must describe the kind of dirty trick you are performing. For example, you can pull a creature's pants down, throw sand, or otherwise use your environment to attack. The same creature can be affected by multiple dirty tricks, but each must apply a different penalty.

Make a melee attack with a free hand against the Fortitude or Reflex defense of one creature adjacent to you. The target uses whichever defense is appropriate to the nature of the trick you describe.

On a hit, the target briefly suffers a -2 penalty to one defense of your choice: Armor, Fortitude, Reflex, or Mental. You choose the defense, which must be appropriate for the action you described. On a critical hit, the effect becomes a condition.

Disarm: As a standard action, you can use the disarm ability to knock an item out of a foe's hands.

DisarmSize-Based

Make a melee strike against an object. Unlike most abilities, this ability can target specific items attended by creatures. This attack must beat the target's Reflex defense. If the target is attended by a creature, the attack must also beat the attending creature's Reflex defense.

Hit: You choose whether the target object takes damage from the weapon you hit it with. In addition, if it is attended and is not held in a hand or well secured, you can choose to knock it loose. Well secured objects include rings worn on fingers, equipped shields, and similarly affixed objects. If you do, it falls to the ground in the square occupied by the attending creature that is closest to you.

Critical hit: As above, except that you can deal double damage and you can also knock loose objects that are held in a single hand, but not objects that are held in two hands or well secured.

Grapple: As a standard action, you can use the grapple ability to physically grab and restrain a creature.

GrappleSize-Based

Make a melee attack with a free hand against the Fortitude and Reflex defenses of one creature adjacent to you.

On a hit against both defenses, you and the target are grappled by each other. For details, see Grappling, page 62.

Offhand Strike: As a minor action, you can use the offhand strike ability to quickly attack with an offhand weapon while you attack with a primary weapon. Your Dexterity must be at least 1 to use this ability.

Offhand Strike

Make a strike. The weapon must be held in a single free hand or must not require a free hand to attack with, such as a bite natural weapon. You cannot use this ability unless you also make a strike with a different weapon as part of a standard action during the same phase. You take a -2 penalty to accuracy with this strike, and you do not add your power to damage with the strike. In addition, you take a -1 penalty to accuracy with the strike for each non-light weapon you attack with this phase, including the weapon used to make this strike.

Overrun: As a move action, you can use the overrun ability to move through creatures in your way.

OverrunSize-Based

After you use this ability, you increase your fatigue level by one.

Move up to your movement speed in a straight line. You can try to move directly through creatures in your way during this movement. Each creature in your way can choose to avoid you, allowing you to pass through its square unhindered. If a creature does not attempt to avoid you, you make an attack vs. Fortitude against it. You use your full Strength in place of half your Perception to determine your accuracy with this attack. If you move into a creature's space with this ability, but you do not move out of it, you and the creature are usually considered squeezing (-2 Armor and Ref) as long as you continue sharing space (see Squeezing, page 58).

On a hit, you can move through each target's space. On a critical hit, each target is also knocked prone (half speed, -2 Armor and Ref). On a miss, you end your movement immediately.

Recover: You can use the recover ability as a standard action.

RecoverSwift

After you use this ability, you increase your fatigue level by two, and you cannot use it again until you take a short rest.

You regain hit points equal to half your maximum hit points. In addition, you remove any number of conditions affecting you. Because this ability has the Swift tag, the removed conditions do not affect you during the current phase. This cannot remove effects applied during the current round.

Shove: As a standard action, you can use the shove ability to physically move a creature.

ShoveSize-Based

Choose either one creature adjacent to you or all creatures grappling you (see Grappling, page 62).

Make a melee attack with a free hand against the Fortitude defense of each target. You use your full Strength in place of half your Perception to determine your accuracy with this attack. If you are not able to use any of your movement speeds, such as if you are being carried by a flying creature, you automatically fail when you try to use this ability, and your defense is treated as 0 against this ability.

On a hit, you can move up to half your movement speed in a straight line, pushing each target as you move. On a critical hit, you can move up to your full movement speed instead.

Sprint: As a move action, you can use the sprint ability to move more quickly.

Sprint

Swift

When you use this ability during the movement phase, you increase your fatigue level by one. Sprinting during the action phase does not increase your fatigue. You can use this ability in the middle of a phase after noticing that your movement is insufficient to keep up with an enemy’s reactive movement (see Movement Abilities, page 57).

You can immediately take another move action. For the duration of that move action, you double your speed with all of your movement modes.

Throw: You can use the throw ability to throw an object. You can use the ability as a standard action. Alternately, you can use it as a move action. If you do, you take a –20 penalty to the check, and you cannot make an attack roll to hit with the thrown object.

As long as you have a Strength of at least –2, you do not have to use this ability to throw weapons that are sized appropriately for you and which are designed to be thrown. Instead, you can simply use the listed range limits for those weapons.

Throw

Make a Strength check to throw an object you hold in at least one hand. The base difficulty value of this check is 0. For each size category larger or smaller than the target that you are, you gain a +10 bonus or penalty to the check, to a maximum bonus of +20. You cannot throw an object whose weight exceeds your maximum carrying capacity (see Weight Limits, page 45).

If you succeed, you throw the object five feet. For every 5 points by which you succeed, you double the distance you throw the object. Unlike normal, this doubling uses real-world doubling rules: ten feet, then twenty feet, then forty feet, and so on. If you throw the object at a creature or object, you can make an attack roll to hit it with the thrown object, as the thrown strike ability. That attack roll is rolled separately from the Strength check you make to use this ability.

Total Defense: As a standard action, you can use the total defense ability to focus entirely on defending yourself.

Total Defense

Swift

You gain a +2 bonus to your defenses until the end of the round. Because this ability has the Swift tag, this improves your defenses against attacks made against you during the current phase.

Trip: As a standard action, you can use the trip ability to trip a creature.

Trip

Size-Based

Make a melee attack using a free hand or a weapon with the Tripping tag against a creature’s Reflex defense (see Weapon Tags, page 162). If you attack with a weapon, you add the weapon’s accuracy bonus, if any, to the attack. However, this is not a strike, so abilities like the Sweeping weapon tag have no effect on this attack.

On a hit, the target becomes prone (half speed, –2 Armor and Ref). In addition, if you made the attack with a Tripping weapon, the target also takes damage as if you had hit it with a strike using the weapon. You do not add your power to this damage.

Grappling

A grappled creature is physically struggling with at least one other creature. While grappled, you suffer certain penalties and restrictions, as described below.

Being In A Grapple

While grappling, you suffer certain penalties and restrictions, as described below. Other than these restrictions, you can act normally. You can also take certain actions in a grapple, as described in Grapple Actions, page 62

- One of your hands cannot be used for any purposes other than grappling. This prevents humanoid creatures from taking any actions which would require having two free hands, such as attacking with heavy weapons. This does not affect creatures without hands.
- You take a –2 penalty to Armor and Reflex defenses.
- You cannot move unless you push all creatures grappling you, such as with the shove ability (see Shove, page 61).

Grapple Actions

While grappled, you can use two special abilities to try to affect the grapple.

Escape Grapple: As a standard action, you can use the escape grapple ability to try to stop being grappled.

Escape Grapple

Make an attack against any number of creatures that you are grappled by. You may use either the Flexibility skill or half your level + your Strength in place of your normal accuracy with this attack (see Flexibility, page 149). The defense of each creature is equal to the result of the attack it made with its maintain grapple ability, or 0 if it did not use that ability. For each size category by which a creature is larger than you, it gains a +4 bonus to its defense against this attack. For each target, if you hit that target with this attack, it stops being grappled by you and you stop being grappled by it.

Maintain Grapple: As a free action, you can use the maintain grapple ability to maintain a grapple that you are part of. If you do not use this ability while you are in a grapple, then creatures can easily escape the grapple with the escape grapple ability.

Maintain Grapple

Swift

Make an attack using a free hand. You may use half your level + your Strength in place of your normal accuracy with this attack. This attack has no immediate effect. The attack result determines how difficult it is for a creature to escape the grapple during the current round using the escape grapple ability.

Asymmetric Grappling

Normally, when you use the grapple ability, both you and the target become grappled by each other. Some abilities allow you to grapple other creatures without becoming grappled yourself. You can release a creature that you are not grappled by as a free action. If you do, the creatures stops being grappled by you.

Vision and Light

Some creatures have darkvision or other extraordinary senses, but most creatures need light to see by. In an area of bright illumination, all characters can see clearly.

Creatures can see only dimly into areas that have shadowy illumination. Everything in the area has concealment. This allows creatures in the area to make Stealth checks to hide even if they don't have cover (see Stealth, page 156).

In an area with brilliant illumination, creatures can see clearly just like an area with bright illumination. In addition, no shadows exist within an area of brilliant illumination. This makes many effects from the umbramancy mystic sphere difficult or impossible to use.

In areas of total darkness, creatures without darkvision or some other form of supernatural vision are blinded (50% miss chance, -2 Armor and Ref).

Attacking Unseen Foes

You can make targeted attacks against creatures and objects you cannot see. To do so, you choose a 5-foot square and make the attack against that square. You have a 50% miss chance with the attack. Otherwise, you hit a random valid target in that square with your attack, if one exists.

Concealment

Concealment represents anything which makes it more difficult to see your target, such as shadowy illumination. All targeted attacks against a creature or object with concealment from you have a 25% miss chance. Generally, this means that you roll 1d4, and the attack misses on a 1. Determining concealment works similarly to determining cover. You must use the same points of origin and target square when determining concealment that you would use to determine cover.

Determining Concealment: There are two things that can cause a creature to be concealed: poor lighting, and intervening obstacles that block sight. Determining concealment from obstacles that block sight works the same way as determining cover (see Cover, page 63).

Determining concealment from lighting conditions is simpler, since it ignores lighting conditions between you and the target. If your target square is in lighting that provides concealment, the target has concealment. Otherwise, it does not.

Obstacles and Cover

In a battle, you may not be able to perfectly see all of your opponents. When obstacles get in the way, they may make some attacks impossible. Almost all abilities, including strikes, must have line of sight and line of effect. Smaller obstacles may simply provide cover instead of making attacks impossible. This section explains how to deal with obstacles and related limitations.

Point of Origin

When you make an attack, you have to determine the point of origin. For targeted attacks, which are the most common, the point of origin is a grid intersection of your choice that is touching your space. For area attacks, the point of origin depends on the shape of the area and whether it has a defined range.

If an area attack has a defined range, the point of origin is a single grid intersection of your choice within that range. Cones, lines, and walls without a range use a grid intersection of your choice that is touching your space, just like targeted attacks. Cylinders and spheres without a range are unusual, since they radiate from your whole body instead of a single point. When determining their total size, treat every grid intersection touching your space as a point of origin. When determining cover and similar effects, only use the grid intersection that is closest to the target.

Cover

Cover represents any obstacle that physically prevents you from striking your target, such as a tree or intervening creature. A creature or object behind cover gains a +2 bonus to Armor and Reflex defenses. If an attack misses the defense of a creature or object behind cover by no more than the defense bonus provided by the cover, the attack is applied to the obstacle instead of to the intended target. In the case of area attacks, this cannot cause an individual creature or object to be targeted or attacked twice by the same ability. This can protect creatures behind cover from glancing blows (see Glancing Blows, page 40). In addition, a creature behind cover can hide (see Stealth, page 156).

Cover is only relevant if the attacker has line of effect to its target (see Line of Effect, page 64). If you don't have line of effect, you generally can't attack the target at all, so the defense bonuses from cover don't matter.

Measuring Cover

To measure cover for a particular attack, draw a cone from the attack's point of origin to the two closest corners of the target's space. Note that these must be corners where the target's space ends, not just grid intersections touching the target's space. The defender can choose between equally distant corners. If there are any obstacles in that cone, the target has cover.

Obstacles only provide cover if the relevant part of the obstacle is no more than one size category smaller than the target. You should ignore any irrelevant parts of the obstacle that are outside of the cone. For example, although a tree might be Gargantuan or Colossal if you include all of its leaves and branches, most trees are only a Medium size obstacle at ground level, since only their trunk is relevant. The rules typically ignore the complexity of three-dimensional space, so you'll have to estimate what would provide reasonable cover in some cases.

Improved Cover

Cover of the same type generally doesn't stack; a creature behind two trees is not substantially more protected than a creature behind a single tree. However, exceptionally well covered creatures, such as a creature behind an arrow slit in a castle, may gain a greater than normal benefit to defenses from cover at the GM's discretion.

Line of Sight

Unless otherwise noted in an ability's description, you cannot target a creature, object, or location that you do not have line of sight to. Line of sight measures whether you can see things, not whether you can touch or reach them.

A line of sight is a straight, unblocked path between an attacker and a target. To measure line of sight for a particular attack, draw a line between any grid intersection touching your space and any grid intersection touching the target's space. If you're targeting a particular point, you would naturally draw the line to that point instead. If this line is not blocked by any obstacles that impede sight, you have line of sight to your target.

Line of Effect

Almost all abilities, including strikes, must have a line of effect to function. Line of effect measures whether physical passage is possible between two locations, regardless of any sight obstacles. For example, a pane of glass would block line of effect, but not line of sight.

Unless otherwise noted in an ability's description, you cannot target a creature, object, or location that you do not have line of effect to. In addition, abilities that affect an area do not affect targets that the ability does not have line of effect to.

A line of effect is a straight, unblocked path between an attacker and a target. To measure line of sight for a particular attack, draw a line between the attack's point of origin and any grid intersection touching the target's space. If you're targeting a particular point, you would naturally draw the line to that point instead. If this line is not blocked by any obstacles that make physical passage impossible, you have line of effect to your target.

Destroying Barriers

Some abilities deal damage to both creatures and objects. If a physical barrier is broken by an ability, that barrier does not affect the ability's line of effect. For example, a thin curtain of silk normally blocks line of effect. However, an ability that destroyed the curtain would have its full effect on everything behind the curtain.

Inside Creatures

Creatures block line of effect to the inside of their own bodies. As a result, you cannot use an ability that takes effect inside a creature unless you are also inside the creature. This restriction applies even if there is no physical barrier to the inside of the creature. For example, you cannot place the point of origin for an area inside a creature's mouth, even if the creature has its mouth open at the time.

Awareness and Surprise

In combat, creatures are sometimes not fully aware of danger, which makes them less able to defend against it. A creature can be described as either aware, unaware (-6 Armor and Ref), or partially unaware (50% miss chance, -2 Armor and Ref) of an attack against it. Normally, creatures are aware of all attacks against them in combat. This causes no special bonuses or penalties.

Sometimes, creatures are fully unaware (-6 Armor and Ref) that they are in danger from attack. This typically happens as a result of stealth, but it can also happen as a result of sudden treachery. A creature takes a -5 penalty to Armor and Reflex defenses against attacks that it is unaware of. After being attacked, an unaware creature typically stops being fully unaware of future attacks.

A creature that knows that it is in danger and is attempting to defend itself, but does not know the exact location or nature of its attackers, is partially unaware (50% miss chance, -2 Armor and Ref). For example, a creature that is already in combat that is attacked by a previously unseen foe is partially unaware of the attack. Similarly, a creature that just barely fails to beat an opponent's Stealth check may hear an ominous sound that makes it partially aware of danger without knowing the exact location of any attackers.

Surprise Attacks

Sometimes, creatures are not aware that combat is taking place when the combat starts. This most commonly happens with ambushes. Any creature that is not aware of the combat continues taking whatever actions it would normally be taking until it becomes aware of the combat. It is usually unaware (-6 Armor and Ref) of all until that point, though unusually vigilant or perceptive creatures may be partially unaware (50% miss chance, -2 Armor and Ref).

If a surprise attack begins a combat, the creatures who initiate the attack can choose which phase to start in. Generally, this should start in delayed action phase, though sometimes the movement phase is more advantageous for the attackers. Starting a surprise attack during the action phase is generally a bad idea because the attacked creatures may be able to take actions during the delayed action phase.

Special Combat Rules

Unusual Combat Situations

Mounted Combat

Horses in Combat: Warhorses and warponies can serve readily as combat steeds. Light horses, ponies, and heavy horses, however, are frightened by combat. At the start of each round, you must make a difficulty value 10 Ride check to control such a horse. Success means you can act normally that round, directing the horse's movements as if it was trained for combat. Failure means that the horse acts of its own volition that round, usually fleeing in panic.

Space: A horse (not a pony) is a Large creature, and thus takes up a space 10 feet (2 squares) across. While mounted, you share your mount's space completely. Anyone who is close enough to hit your mount can attack either you or your mount.

In the case of abnormally large mounts (two or more size categories larger than you), you may not completely share space. Such situations should be handled on a case-by-case basis, depending on the nature of the mount.

Flying Mounts: Flying mounts are harder to ride and control than terrestrial mounts, especially mounts that can change directions rapidly. The difficulty value for all Ride checks on a mount using a fly speed is increased by 10 if the mount has poor or average maneuverability, or by 15 if it has perfect maneuverability.

Combat while Mounted: With a difficulty value 5 Ride check, you can guide your mount with your knees so as to use both hands to attack or defend yourself. This is a free action.

If your mount is moving in the current phase, you take a -2 accuracy penalty with ranged strikes. If your mount uses the sprint ability, this penalty increases to -4 (see Sprint, page 61).

If Your Mount Falls in Battle: If your mount falls, you fall to the ground with it.

If You Are Dropped: If you are knocked unconscious, you fall from your mount to the ground, which may cause you to take falling damage. If you have a military saddle, you stay on your mount instead. In either case, the mount acts according to its nature. Most mounts flee combat without a rider.

Allies and Enemies

Each creature you interact with in Rise is either an ally, an enemy, or a neutral party. Some beneficial abilities only affect allies, and some offensive abilities only affect enemies.

You can choose how you consider each creature at the start of each phase. You cannot consider yourself an ally or an enemy. While you are unconscious, you treat all creatures as allies.

Allies: An ally is any creature you consider an ally who also considers you an ally. If you consider someone an ally, but they do not consider you an ally, you treat them as a neutral party for the purpose of your abilities. Allies can move through your space.

Enemies: An enemy is any creature who you consider to be an enemy. Enemies cannot move through your space.

Neutral Parties: A neutral party is any creature who is neither an ally nor an enemy. You treat all creatures you have not declared an opinion of as neutral parties. Neutral parties can move through your space.

Sleep and Fatigue

A typical creature needs a minimum of 6 hours of sleep for every 18 hours spent awake, and a minimum of 50 hours of sleep every week. You can stay awake beyond those limits with the Endurance skill (see Stay Awake, page ??).

Teleportation

Some abilities can teleport creatures or objects. When you are teleported, you move through the Astral Plane and arrive at a new location. You can be teleported between two different locations on the same plane, or between two different locations on different planes. If for some reason you cannot access the Astral Plane, you cannot be teleported.

Unless an ability explicitly teleports to other planes or specifies otherwise, anything being teleported must have both line of sight and line of effect to its destination. Otherwise, the teleportation fails without effect.

Teleportation Noise

Creatures and objects that are teleported make a sound when they depart and arrive. This noise is caused by the displacement of air (or other substances) created by the teleportation. The base difficulty value of an Awareness check to hear this sound for a Medium creature or object is 10. This difficulty value changes based on the size of the teleported creature or object:

- Fine: 30
- Diminutive: 25
- Tiny: 20
- Small: 15
- Medium: 10
- Large: 5
- Huge: 0
- Gargantuan: -5
- Colossal: -10

Carrying Objects

When a creature is teleported, it can bring along equipment and held objects as long as two conditions are met. First, the combined weight of the objects cannot exceed the creature's maximum carrying capacity (see Weight Limits, page 45). If a creature is teleported while carrying more than its maximum carrying capacity, all excess objects are left behind, starting with the heaviest object and proceeding in order of weight.

Second, no object can extend more than two feet away from the creature's body. Any objects that extend beyond that distance are left behind. For example, a creature wearing handcuffs will arrive at its teleportation destination still wearing the handcuffs. However, a creature that is tied to a post by a long rope will arrive at its teleportation destination without the rope.

Horizontal Teleportation

Some planes have a curved primary surface. On those planes, “horizontal” teleportation isn’t objectively horizontal. Instead, it is horizontal relative to the surface of the plane.

Resolving Ambiguity

When the rules are ambiguous about how they apply to you and no other creature, you decide how to resolve that ambiguity. For example, if an ability causes you to remove one of your vital wounds, and you have more than one vital wound, you choose which vital wound is removed. When the rules are ambiguous in any other situation, the GM decides how to resolve that ambiguity. This includes situations where multiple creatures are relevant and situations where no particular creature is relevant.

Chapter 6

Classes

Your character’s class represents the things your character has chosen to train in. This choice determines a great deal about your character’s abilities.

How Classes Work

When you first create a character, you choose a class. Each class grants some basic class features to all members of that class. In addition, each class has a number of archetypes that grant more powerful and specific abilities.

Class-Based Power Bonuses

Your class gives you a bonus to your power as part of its basic class abilities. The value of the bonus is listed in the table for each class. Most classes provide the same power bonus, while barbarians and warlocks have a slightly higher power bonus.

The value of this power bonus increases as you gain ranks. Your rank for determining your power bonus is equal to your highest rank in any archetype from your base class.

Archetypes

Each class has five class archetypes. An archetype is a collection of thematically related abilities. For examples, barbarians have the Battlerager archetype, which grants abilities related to being angry and flying into a rage in combat.

Archetype Ranks

You have an archetype rank associated with each of your archetypes. Each ability from an archetype has a minimum rank required to gain the ability. When you gain a rank in an archetype, you gain all abilities associated with that rank. In addition, some of your existing abilities may increase their power based on your rank in that archetype.

At 1st level, you choose a single archetype from your class (or classes). You become rank 1 in that archetype, and you do not have any other archetypes. At 2nd and 3rd level, you choose an additional archetype from your class or classes. Each time, you become rank 1 in that archetype.

After 3rd level, you never gain additional archetypes. Instead, at each level, you increase your rank in one of your existing archetypes. Each archetype rank has a minimum level, as shown on Table 6.1: Archetype Ranks by Level. The minimum level is included in each class table as a reminder. In practice, this means that you have to increase all of your ranks evenly instead of specializing in a single archetype.

Table 6.1: Archetype Ranks by Level

Archetype Rank	Minimum Level
5	13
6	16
7	19

Duplicate Archetypes

Some archetypes can be gained by multiple classes. For example, both clerics and paladins have the Divine Magic archetype. You cannot gain two archetypes with the same name, even if you can choose archetypes from multiple classes.

Multiclass Characters

You can spend two insight points to become a multiclass character (see Insight Points, page 23). If you do, choose a class other than your original class. You gain the following benefits relating to that class.

- You gain the class skills of that class in addition to your existing class skills.
- If that class has any special class abilities which are not part of an archetype, such as a warlock’s soul pact ability, you gain those abilities.
- Whenever you gain a new archetype, you may choose an archetype from either your original class or your new class. If have multiple archetypes when you become a multiclass character, you may exchange any number of archetypes from your original class for that many archetypes from your new class. However, you must always have at least one archetype from your original class.

You may gain access to multiple classes in this way, spending two insight points for each class. Unless your GM says otherwise, you can only become a multiclass character as part of initial character creation. Changing a higher level character into a multiclass character can be a major change that requires losing access to abilities that you have already had for some time. Generally, you should have an explicit narrative justification for a major character change like that. Of course, every game is different, so talk to your GM.

Class Description Format

Each class is described from the perspective of a member of that class, using “you” in the description.

Class Table: Each class’s table describes the special abilities a member of that class gains at each rank of each of that class’s archetypes.

Alignment: Some classes require specific alignments (see Alignment, page 25). Most classes allow characters of any alignment.

Skills: Each class has specific skills that members of that class are typically good at (see Skills, page 142). These skills are called class skills. For details, see Trained Skills, page 142.

Defenses: Each class grants bonuses to specific defenses.

Weapon Proficiencies: This indicates the types of weapons that members of this class are proficient with.

Armor Proficiencies: This indicates the types of armor that members of this class are proficient with.

Other Special Abilities: Some classes have abilities shared by all members of the class that are not part of an archetype, such as a druid’s druidic language ability.

Archetypes: The abilities associated with each of the three archetypes the class has.

Barbarian

Barbarians are primal warriors that draw power from their physical prowess and unfettered emotions. They fight with a raw, untamed aggression that draws inspiration from more primitive times.

Most barbarians originate from to the outskirts of civilization, where the societal constraints of civilization are less present. Of course, becoming a barbarian is no secret rite. The only thing that is required is a willingness to fully experience one’s emotions and channel them into physical betterment. This path evokes an ancient memory of more primitive times, before the complexity of civilized warfare, where physical supremacy was sufficient for victory. Anyone can discover that path for themselves.

Barbarians are famous for their furious battle-rage. Anger is one of the easiest emotions to access and channel into the violence of battle, and it is a common starting point for new barbarians who are still learning how to tap into their emotions. However, any emotion can be used as a source of primal power, as long as it is sufficiently intense.

Barbarians and monks are, in some ways, two sides of the same coin. Both groups develop their physical body to its peak, and believe that the mind and body must work together to maximize their potential. However, a typical monk sees emotions as a tool at best and an obstacle at worst. They value serenity and control over their mind and body. From the perspective of a barbarian, monks completely surrender to civilization’s taming and placating influences, and abandon their primal heritage. Barbarian-monk multiclass characters are exceptionally rare, but not impossible. Typically, they control all of their emotions in the style of monks except for a single emotion, which they unleash in the style of barbarians.

Rangers and druids are natural allies of barbarians, since all three groups prefer to live at the edges of civilization. However, each has different reasons for their preference. Barbarians enjoy the emotional and societal freedom of the frontier, but are typically too social to prefer life as a hermit in the deep wilderness. Druids prefer nature to civilization ideologically, and rangers are best able to fulfill their responsibilities on the frontier.

Alignment: Any.

Archetypes: Barbarians have the Battleforged Resilience, Battlerager, Outland Savage, Primal Warrior, and Totemist archetypes.

Basic Class Abilities

If you are a barbarian, you gain the following abilities.

Defenses

You gain the following bonuses to your defenses: +7 Fortitude, +5 Reflex, +3 Mental. In addition, you gain a +1 bonus to your vital rolls.

Resources

You have the following resources:

- Three attunement points, which you can use to attune to items and abilities that affect you (see Attunement Points, page 30).

Table 6.2: Barbarian Progression

- A fatigue tolerance equal to 5 + your Constitution + half your Willpower. Your fatigue tolerance makes it easier for you to use powerful abilities that fatigue you (see Fatigue, page 30).
- A number of insight points equal to your Intelligence. You can spend insight points to gain additional abilities (see Insight Points, page 23).
- Five trained skills from among your class skills, plus additional trained skills equal to your Intelligence (see Skills, page 142).

Weapon Proficiencies

You are proficient with simple weapons and any two other weapon groups.

Armor Proficiencies

You are proficient with light and medium armor.

Class Skills

You have the following class skills:

- Strength: Climb, Jump, Swim.
- Dexterity: Balance, Flexibility, Ride.
- Constitution: Endurance.
- Intelligence: Craft, Medicine.
- Perception: Awareness, Creature Handling, Deception, Persuasion, Survival.
- Other: Intimidate.

Battleforged Resilience

This archetype improves your durability in combat.

Rank 1 – Instant Recovery

You can use the recover ability as a minor action. When you do, you do not remove any conditions affecting you.

Rank 2 – Battle-Scarred

You gain a bonus equal to three times your rank in this archetype to your damage resistance (see Damage Resistance, page 29).

Rank 3 – Battleforged Force

You gain a +1d bonus to your damage with all weapons.

Rank 3 – Resilient Recovery

When you use the recover ability, you also regain a quarter of your maximum damage resistance (see Recover, page 61). This effect has the Swift tag, like the recover ability.

Rank 4 – Primal Resilience

You gain a +1 bonus to your Constitution.

Rank 5 – Battle-Scarred+

The damage resistance bonus increases to five times your rank in this archetype.

Rank 6 – Battleforged Force+

The damage bonus increases to +2d.

Rank 6 – Resilient Recovery+

The damage resistance recovery increases to half your maximum damage resistance.

Rank 7 – Limitless Recovery

You can use the recover ability any number of times between short rests. In addition, when you use it as a standard action, you only increase your fatigue level by one.

Battlerager

This archetype grants you a devastating rage, improving your combat prowess.

Rank 1 – Rage

You can use the rage ability as a free action. For most barbarians, this represents entering a furious rage. Some barbarians instead enter a joyous battle trance or undergo a partial physical transformation into a more fearsome form.

Rage	Emotion, Sustain (free), Swift
For the duration of this ability, you gain the following benefits and drawbacks:
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> You gain a +2 bonus to your power. You gain a +2 bonus to vital rolls. You take a –2 penalty to Armor and Reflex defenses. You are unable to take standard actions that do not cause you to make mundane attacks. You are unable to use any magical abilities that require a standard action. Cleric

Clerics are divine spellcasters who draw power from their veneration of a single deity. The powers of any individual cleric can vary greatly depending on their deity, and the specific aspects of that deity they choose to emulate. Many clerics have exceptional healing or oratory talents, which are powerful tools in spreading the influence of their deity.

Deities are a constant background presence in the world of Rise. Commoners acknowledge the influence of many deities on their life, and offer gifts or prayers to each deity according to their purview. Clerics are the primary means by which deities answer these prayers. In exchange for their mighty divine power, clerics are charged with serving the deity's interests in the world.

Clerics are the most common spellcasting class in the world. The path to becoming a cleric is easier than for any other spellcasting class except for sorcerers, and unlike sorcerers, clerics require no special birthright. Many clerics have specific responsibilities to their deity that preclude adventuring. The most well-known example of this would be clerics who offer divine healing to anyone who enters their temple, but similar responsibilities exist for all deities.

Adventuring clerics can exist for a variety of reasons. They may be charged to help spread knowledge of their deity, and becoming well-known as an adventurer can serve that end. Alternately, they may simply be charged by their deity to grow their personal power. Deities need powerful clerics to maximize their influence on the mortal world.

Paladins and druids are closely related to clerics, since all three draw power from their veneration of external entities. However, the specific nature of each connection is quite different. From the perspective of clerics, the largest difference is that paladins and druids have no oversight and unclear responsibilities. Clerics can always be confident that they are serving their deity's best interest, while paladins and druids simply act as they see fit. This makes them unreliable allies at best and ideological foes at worst. In particular, clerics and druids have some intrinsic tension. Clerics want to expand the worship of their specific deity, which is easiest in civilized areas where many potential worshippers can be found. This runs opposite to the typical druidic preference against civilization.

Alignment: Any.

Archetypes: Clerics have the Divine Magic, Divine Spell Mastery, Domain Influence, Healer, and Preacher archetypes.

Special Class Abilities

Deity

You must worship a specific deity to be a cleric. For details, see Table 2.1: Deities, page 13.

Seek Guidance

You can ask your deity for guidance about how best to serve your deity's interests. This requires a ritual or prayer lasting ten minutes, with the details depending on the deity. By the end, you will have received a vision, emotional instinct, or other guidance. You cannot ask specific questions of your deity, and this is not a general method for sharing information. Deities tend to disapprove of clerics who seek guidance to solve mortal problems that they should be able to deal with themselves. You are simply informed what your current responsibilities are, such as "tend to the wounded who enter my temple" or "do battle with those who serve evil".

Divine Magic

This archetype grants you the ability to cast divine spells. All abilities from this archetype are magical.

Rank 1 – Divine Spells

Your deity grants you the ability to use divine magic. You gain access to one divine mystic sphere, plus the universal mystic sphere (see Divine Mystic Spheres, page 244). You may spend insight points to gain access to one additional divine mystic sphere per two insight points. You can only learn divine spells from divine mystic spheres that you have access to.

You automatically learn all cantrips from each mystic sphere you have access to. In addition, you learn two rank 1 divine spells. You can also spend insight points to learn one additional rank 1 spell per insight point.

Divine spells require verbal components to cast (see Casting Components, page 50). Unless otherwise noted in a spell's description, casting any spell requires a standard action. For details about mystic spheres and casting spells, see Spell and Ritual Mechanics, page 50.

When you gain access to a new mystic sphere or spell rank, you can forget any number of spells you know to learn that many new spells in exchange, including spells of the higher rank.

Advancement: The maximum rank of divine spells that you can learn is equal to your rank in this archetype. Divine spells also increase in power in unique ways based on your rank in this archetype, as indicated in their descriptions.

Whenever you learn a new spell, you may change which of your spells this ability affects.

The maximum rank of divine ritual you can learn or perform is equal to the maximum rank of divine spell that you can cast. In addition, you automatically learn one free divine ritual of each rank you have access to, including new ranks as you gain access to them. You cannot choose this ability multiple times.

Widened Spell: Choose a divine spell you know with a standard area: Small, Medium, Large, Huge, or Gargantuan. You increase that spell's area to the next standard area category, to a maximum of a Gargantuan area. You can choose this ability multiple times, choosing a different spell each time. Whenever you learn a new spell, you may change which of your spells this ability affects.

Rank 2 – Turn Undead

As a standard action, you can use the turn undead ability.

Turn Undead

Make an attack vs. Mental against all undead creatures within a Large (60 ft.) radius from you.

Hit: Each target is frightened (-2 Mental, -2 accuracy vs. source) by you as a condition. Once this effect ends, the creature becomes immune to this effect until it takes a short rest.

At rank 3, you gain the domain aspect for another one of your domains.

Rank 4 – Domain Essences

Each domain has a corresponding domain essence. You gain the domain essence for both of your domains (see Cleric Domain Abilities, page 79).

Rank 5 – Miracle

Once per week, you can request a miracle as a standard action. You mentally specify your request, and your deity fulfills that request in the manner it sees fit. At your deity's discretion, this can emulate the effects of any divine spell or ritual, or have any other effect of a similar power level.

Miracles are most effective when your request is directly related to your deity's domains and general purview. They do not have to be extremely specific, since deities prefer to have leeway to act as they see fit, but they should not be overly broad or vague. If the deity has a direct interest in your situation, the miracle may be of even greater power.

If you perform an extraordinary service for your deity, you can gain the ability to request an additional miracle that week.

Rank 6 – Domain Masteries

Each domain has a corresponding domain mastery. You gain the domain mastery for both of your domains (see Cleric Domain Abilities, page 79).

Because this ability has the Swift tag, this improves the target’s defenses against attacks made against it during the current phase.

You can use the condemn the fearful ability as a standard action.

Condemn the Fearful

Make an attack vs. Mental against all enemies within a Large (60 ft.) radius from you. Your accuracy is equal to your Persuasion skill.

Mastery: You gain a +4 bonus to your power with all abilities.

Earth Domain

If you choose this domain, you add the terramancy mystic sphere to your list of divine mystic spheres (see Mystic Spheres, page 244).

Gift: You gain a +2 bonus to Fortitude defense.

Aspect: You gain a bonus equal to three times your rank in the Domain Mastery archetype to your maximum hit points.

Essence: You can use the Speak with earth ability as a standard action.

Speak with Earth

Attune

You can speak with earth within a Huge (90 ft.) radius zone from your location. You can ask the earth simple questions and understand its responses.

After you use this ability on a particular area of earth, you cannot use it again on that same area for 24 hours.

Rank 6: The area increases to a Gargantuan (120 ft.) radius.

Mastery: The bonus from this domain’s gift increases to +3, and the number of hit points you gain from its aspect increases to four times your rank in the Domain Mastery archetype.

Evil Domain

Gift: At the start of each phase, you may choose an adjacent ally. Whenever you lose hit points this round, that ally loses half of those hit points in place of you. You are both considered to have lost hit points from the attack for the purpose of any special effects from the attack.

Aspect: You can use this domain’s domain gift to target any ally within Medium (60 ft.) range.

Essence: You can use the compel evil ability as a standard action.

Compel Evil

Compulsion

Make an attack vs. Mental against a creature within Medium (60 ft.) range. Creatures who have strict codes prohibiting them from taking evil actions, such as paladins devoted to Good, are immune to this ability.

Hit: The target takes an evil action as soon as it can. Once it takes the evil action, this effect ends. You have no control over the act the creature takes, but circumstances can make the target more likely to take an action you desire. After this effect ends, the target becomes immune to this effect until it takes a short rest.

You gain a +1 bonus to accuracy with the attack for each rank beyond 4.

Mastery: You can use your domain gift to redirect your hit point loss to an adjacent unwilling creature. You cannot target the same unwilling creature more than once with this ability between short rests.

Fire Domain

If you choose this domain, you add the pyromancy mystic sphere to your list of divine mystic spheres (see Mystic Spheres, page 244).

Gift: You are impervious to fire damage.
Aspect: Your abilities cannot deal fire damage to your allies.

Essence: You can use the Speak with fire ability as a standard action.

Speak with Fire

Attune

You can speak with and command fire within a Huge (90 ft.) radius zone from your location. You can ask the fire simple questions and understand its responses. If you command the fire to perform a task, it will do so do the best of its ability until this effect ends. You cannot compel the fire to move farther than 30 feet in a single round. Fire that ends the round on non-combustable materials usually goes out, depending on the circumstances.

After you use this ability on a particular area of fire, you cannot use it again on that same area for 24 hours.

Rank 6: The area increases to a Gargantuan (120 ft.) radius.

Mastery: Whenever you deal fire damage, you also treat that damage as being pure energy damage. This can help you deal damage to enemies that are highly resistant to fire damage. In addition, you become immune to fire damage.

Good Domain

Gift: Whenever an adjacent ally suffers a vital wound, you may gain a vital wound instead. You gain a +2 bonus to the vital roll of each vital wound you gain this way. The original target suffers any other effects of the attack normally.

Aspect: This domain’s domain gift affects any ally within a Medium (30 ft.) radius emanation from you.

Essence: You can use the compel good ability as a standard action.

Compel Good

Compulsion

Make an attack vs. Mental against a creature within Medium (60 ft.) range. Creatures who have strict codes prohibiting them from taking evil actions, such as paladins devoted to Good, are immune to this ability.

Hit: The target takes a good action as soon as it can. Once it takes the good action, this effect ends. You have no control over the act the creature takes, but circumstances can make the target more likely to take an action you desire. After this effect ends, the target becomes immune to this effect until it takes a short rest.

You gain a +1 bonus to accuracy with the attack for each rank beyond 4.

Mastery: Once per round, when an ally within a Medium (30 ft.) radius emanation from you would lose hit points, you may lose those hit points instead. The target suffers any other effects of the attack normally, though it is not treated as if it lost hit points from the attack for the purpose of special attack effects.

Knowledge Domain

If you choose this domain, you add all Knowledge skills to your cleric class skill list.

Gift: You gain an additional trained skill (see Trained Skills, page 142).

Aspect: Your extensive knowledge of all methods of attack and defense grants you a +1 bonus to Fortitude, Reflex, and Mental defenses.

Essence: You can use the share knowledge ability as a standard action.

Share Knowledge

Make a Knowledge check of any kind. Your allies within a Large (60 ft.) radius learn the results of your check. Creatures believe the information gained in this way to be true as if they it had seen it with their own eyes.

You cannot alter the knowledge you share with this check in any way, such as by adding or withholding information.

Rank 6: You gain a +3 bonus to the Knowledge check.

Mastery: You gain a +1 bonus to accuracy with all attacks. In addition, you can use your share knowledge ability to affect all creatures, not just your allies.

Law Domain

Gift: You gain a +2 bonus to Mental defense.

Aspect: When you roll a 1 on an attack roll, it is treated as if you had rolled a 6.

Essence: You can use the compel law ability as a standard action.

Compel Law

Compulsion

Make an attack vs. Mental against all creatures within a Large (60 ft.) radius from you.

Hit: Each target is unable to break the laws that apply in the area, and any attempt to do so simply fails. The laws which are applied are those which are most appropriate for the area, regardless of whether you or any other creature know those laws.

When you use this ability, you also gain the condition. If this condition is removed from you, it is also removed from all other affected creatures. In areas under ambiguous or non-existent government, this ability may have unexpected effects, or it may have no effect at all.

You gain a +1 bonus to accuracy with the attack for each rank beyond 4.

Mastery: When you roll a 1 or a 2 on an attack roll or check, it is treated as if you had rolled a 6.

Life Domain

Gift: You gain a +3 bonus to the Medicine skill (see Medicine, page 152).

Aspect: You gain a +1 bonus to vital rolls (see Vital Rolls, page 43).

Essence: At the end of each phase, if you became unconscious from a vital wound during that phase, you can use one magical ability you have that modifies vital rolls or removes vital wounds on yourself without taking an action.

Mastery: You gain a +1 bonus to your Constitution.

Magic Domain

If you choose this domain, you add the thaumaturgy mystic sphere to your list of divine mystic spheres (see Mystic Spheres, page 244).

Gift: You gain a +3 bonus to the Knowledge (arcana) skill (see Knowledge, page 150).

Aspect: You learn an additional divine spell from a mystic sphere you have access to.

Essence: You gain a +3 bonus to your power.

Mastery: The power bonus from this domain's essence increases to +6.

Protection Domain

Gift: You gain a bonus equal to twice your rank in this archetype to your damage resistance (see Damage Resistance, page 29).

Aspect: You can use the divine protection ability as a minor action.

Divine Protection

Swift

Choose an ally adjacent to you. It gains a +1 bonus to all defenses until the end of the round. Because this ability has the Swift tag, this bonus applies against attacks made in the current phase.

A creature that sees an attack against an ally protected in this way can observe that you are the cause of the protection with a difficulty value 5 Awareness check. While this ability is active, you cannot gain a defense bonus from this ability, even if another creature with this ability uses it on you.

Essence: The bonus from this domain's gift increases to three times your rank in this archetype.

Mastery: The bonus from your divine protection ability increases to +2.

Strength Domain

If you choose this domain, you add the Climb, Jump, and Swim skills to your cleric class skill list.

Gift: You gain an additional trained skill (see Trained Skills, page 142).

Aspect: You can use the divine strength ability as a minor action.

Divine StrengthAttuneUsage time: One minor action.

You gain a +1 bonus to your Strength.

Essence: You gain a +1 bonus to your Strength for the purpose of checks and determining your weight limits (see Weight Limits, page 45).

Mastery: Your divine strength ability loses the Attune tag. Instead, it lasts until you use it again.

Travel Domain

If you choose this domain, you add the astromancy mystic sphere to your list of divine mystic spheres (see Mystic Spheres, page 244). In addition, you add the Knowledge (nature), Survival, and Swim skills to your cleric class skill list.

Gift: You gain an additional trained skill (see Trained Skills, page 142).

Aspect: You can ignore difficult terrain from inanimate natural sources, such as heavy undergrowth.

Essence: You can use the dimensional travel ability as a standard action.

Dimensional Travel

You teleport up to 1 mile in any direction. You do not need line of sight or line of effect to your destination, but you must be able to clearly visualize it.

Rank 6: The maximum distance increases to 5 miles.

Mastery: When you would move using one of your movement speeds, you can teleport the same distance instead. This does not change the total distance you can move, but you can teleport in any direction, including vertically. Being grappled or otherwise physically constrained does not prevent you from teleporting in this way.

You can even attempt to move to locations outside of line of sight and line of effect, up to the limit of your remaining movement speed. If your intended destination is invalid, the distance you tried to teleport is taken from your remaining movement, but you suffer no other ill effects.

Trickery Domain

If you choose this domain, you add the Deception, Disguise, and Stealth skills to your cleric class skill list.

Gift: You gain an additional trained skill (see Trained Skills, page 142).

Aspect: You gain a +2 bonus to the Deception, Disguise, and Stealth skills.

Essence: You can use the compel belief ability as a standard action.

Compel BeliefCompulsion, Sustain (minor)

Make an attack vs. Mental against a creature within Medium (60 ft.) range. You must also choose a belief that the target has. The belief may be a lie that you told it, or even a simple misunderstanding (such as believing a hidden creature is not present in a room). If the creature does not already hold the chosen belief, this ability automatically fails.

Hit: The target continues to maintain the chosen belief, regardless of any evidence to the contrary. It will interpret any evidence that the falsehood is incorrect to be somehow wrong – an illusion, a conspiracy to deceive it, or any other reason it can think of to continue believing the falsehood. At the end of the effect, the creature can decide whether it believes the falsehood or not, as normal. After this effect ends, the target becomes immune to this effect until it takes a short rest.

You gain a +1 bonus to accuracy with the attack for each rank beyond 4.

Mastery: You are undetectable to all magical abilities. They cannot detect your presence, sounds you make, or any actions you take. For example, a scrying sensor created by a Scrying effect would be unable to detect your presence, and a creature with magical darkvision would not be able to see you without light.

War Domain

Gift: You gain proficiency with an additional weapon group of your choice. In addition, you gain proficiency with an additional usage class of armor. You must be proficient with light armor to become proficient with medium armor, and you must be proficient with medium armor to become proficient with heavy armor.

Aspect: You gain a +1d bonus to your damage with all weapons.

Essence: You gain a +1 bonus to your Armor defense.

Mastery: The bonus from this domain's aspect increases to +2d.

Water Domain

If you choose this domain, you add the aquamancy mystic sphere to your list of divine mystic spheres (see Mystic Spheres, page 244). In addition, you add the Flexibility and Swim skills to your cleric class skill list.

Gift: You gain a +2 bonus to the Flexibility and Swim skills.

Aspect: You can breathe water as easily as a human breathes air, preventing you from drowning or suffocating underwater.

Essence: You can use the speak with water ability as a standard action.

Speak with WaterAttune

You can speak with and command water within a Huge (90 ft.) zone from your location. You can ask the water simple questions and understand its responses. If you command the water to perform a task, it will do so to the best of its ability until this effect ends. You cannot compel the water to move faster than 30 feet per round.

After you use this ability on a particular area of water, you cannot use it again on that same area for 24 hours.

Rank 6: The area increases to a Gargantuan (120 ft.) radius.

Mastery: Your body becomes partially aquatic, allowing you to manipulate it more easily. The bonuses from this domain's gift increase to +10. In addition, you gain a +1 bonus to Armor and Reflex defenses.

Wild Domain

If you choose this domain, you add the verdancy mystic sphere to your list of divine mystic spheres (see Mystic Spheres, page 244). In addition, you add the Creature Handling, Knowledge (nature), and Survival skills to your cleric class skill list.

Gift: You gain an additional trained skill (see Trained Skills, page 142).

Aspect: This ability functions like the wild aspect druid ability from the Shifter archetype (see Shifter, page 87), except that you cannot spend insight points to learn additional wild aspects.

Essence: You learn an additional wild aspect.

Mastery: You can maintain both of your wild aspects simultaneously.

Ex-Clerics

If you grossly violate the code of conduct required by your deity, you lose all spells and magical cleric class abilities. You cannot regain those abilities until you atone for your transgressions to your deity.

Druid

Druids are nature spellcasters who draw power from their veneration of the natural world. They worship Nature herself, the over-deity who guides and nurtures all living things. Nature grants her followers influence over her domain in gratitude for their service.

All druids value the continuation of life - in the abstract, universal sense, not the specific sense. Predation is a critical part of the natural world, and most druids have no prohibitions against killing. Life as a whole, across all species and levels of sentience, must continue. The worst nightmare of all druids is a dead world, inhabited only by rocks and memories of the life that once existed.

Individual druids have a great variety of opinions and interpretations about which aspects of Nature's domain are most important. Some druids treat all forms of life as equal. Others draw distinctions between different forms of life, such as prioritizing the needs of highly sentient or highly complex life over others. Of course, many druids don't dwell on philosophical questions about the precise value of Nature's various aspects. They focus more on practical maintenance of nature in the world around them according to their own instincts. Nature's domain is immense, and her guidance is virtually nonexistent.

Many druids avoid or actively reject overly developed civilization. The details and causes of this aversion can be source of great disagreement between different druids. Civilization tends to displace or kill natural life, and replaces the vibrant diversity of a forest or jungle with a the smaller subset of life that can exist in cities and cultivated farms. In general, druids who value all forms of life equally and consider diversity to be intrinsically valuable tend to reject civilization most strongly. On the other hand, druids who value life according to its sentience or complexity are typically more tolerant of civilization.

Most druids belong to a specific druidic circle. Druidic circles are groups of druids that share a similar philosophy. Like druids, druidic circles have highly varied structures. Some druidic circles function as communes where all members live together, either nomadically or in a specific area of land claimed by the circle. Others simply have annual meetings to discuss critical matters, with many of the circle's members living in isolation at all other times.

Since druids tend to be more isolated than most, their attachment to druidic circles may seem odd to outsiders. There are many reasons for this tradition, but foremost among them is the importance of continuity of knowledge in the absence of advanced civilization. Druids are unlikely to simply go to a library in a city to gain important knowledge about the natural world. Instead, they must learn from someone who has the knowledge they lack. This means they need access to wise elders who are willing to pass on what they know. Their wisdom must be kept alive between generations through oral traditions. Druidic circles provide a place for this knowledge transfer to occur, and offer a path to welcoming new druids into the fold.

Alignment: Any.

Archetypes: Druids have the Elementalist, Nature Magic, Nature Spell Mastery, Shifter, and Wildspeaker archetypes.

Defenses

You gain the following bonuses to your defenses: +5 Fortitude, +4 Reflex, +6 Mental.

Resources

You have the following resources:

- Four attunement points, which you can use to attune to items and abilities that affect you (see Attunement Points, page 30).
- A fatigue tolerance equal to 4 + your Constitution + half your Willpower. Your fatigue tolerance makes it easier for you to use powerful abilities that fatigue you (see Fatigue, page 30).
- A number of insight points equal to 3 + your Intelligence. You can spend insight points to gain additional abilities (see Insight Points, page 23).
- Five trained skills from among your class skills, plus additional trained skills equal to your Intelligence (see Skills, page 142).

Weapon Proficiencies

You are proficient with simple weapons, scimitars, and sickles.

Armor Proficiencies

You are proficient with light armor and hide armor.

Class Skills

You have the following class skills:

- Strength: Climb, Jump, Swim.
- Dexterity: Balance, Ride, Stealth.
- Constitution: Endurance.
- Intelligence: Craft, Deduction, Knowledge (dungeoneering, nature).
- Perception: Awareness, Creature Handling, Deception, Persuasion, Survival.
- Other: Intimidate.

Elementalist

This archetype grants you influence over four elements that define the natural world: air, earth, fire, and water. All abilities from this archetype are magical.

Rank 1 – Elemental Spell

If you have access to nature magic, you learn a spell from any of the mystic spheres associated with the four elements: aeromancy , aquamancy , pyromancy , or terramancy . You do not have to have access to that mystic sphere. As normal, you can change which spell you learn with this ability as you gain access to new spell ranks.

Rank 1 – Elemental Strike

If you do not have access to nature magic, you gain the ability to make a strike imbued with elemental force. You can use the elemental strike ability as a standard action.

Elemental Strike

Magical

Make a strike with a +2 damage bonus. Damage dealt by the strike is bludgeoning and fire damage in addition to its normal damage types. You may use either your Strength or your Willpower to determine your damage with this ability (see Dice Bonuses From Attributes, page 41).

Rank 3: The damage bonus increases to +4.

Rank 5: The damage bonus increases to +8.

Rank 7: The damage bonus increases to +16.

Rank 2 – Elemental Influence

You can use the elemental influence ability as a standard action.

Elemental InfluenceSustain (standard)

You can speak with air, earth, fire, and water within a Huge (90 ft.) zone from your location. You can ask the elements simple questions and understand their responses. Each element has different limitations on its memory and awareness, as described below.

- Air: Air can remember events up to an hour ago on a very calm day or only a few minutes ago on a windy day. Moving air is aware of events near where it blew through, not necessarily in your current location.
- Earth: Earth can remember events up to a year ago, but its awareness is extremely limited. It can only remember very large events, such as giant creatures tearing up the terrain, earthquakes, or major construction. Earth can tell you whether there exist underground tunnels within the area, but any sort of detailed mapping is beyond its ability to communicate.
- Fire: Fire can remember everything it touched and consumed since it started burning. Individual pieces of a very large fire, such as a particular burning tree in a forest fire, are not aware of the behavior of the entirety of the fire. However, the fire on burning tree could tell you how it got to the tree and everything it burned along the way, including the event that started the forest fire.
- Water: Water can remember events up to a day ago in a very calm pool or only a few minutes ago in a turbulent river. Moving water is aware of events near where it moved through, not necessarily in your current location.

Air, earth, and water are only able to give information about what they touch. This includes the general shapes, sizes, and locations of creatures and objects they interacted with, but not any details about color or subjective appearance. Fire is also able to give information about anything illuminated by its light, allowing it to report more detailed information like color. It is still unable to make meaningful subjective judgments like a creature would.

Rank 2 – Elemental Power

You gain a +2 bonus to your power.

Rank 3 – Elemental Balance

You gain a benefit from each of the four elements.

- Air: You gain a glide speed 10 feet slower than the base speed for your size.
- Earth: You gain a +1 bonus to your Fortitude defense.
- Fire: You are impervious to fire damage.
- Water: You gain a swim speed 10 feet slower than the base speed for your size.

Rank 4 – Elemental Spell+

You learn an additional spell with this ability.

Rank 4 – Elemental Strike+

If you do not have access to nature magic, your melee strikes with the elemental strike ability gain the Long weapon tag, allowing you to attack targets up to 10 feet away from you (see Weapon Tags, page 162).

Rank 5 – Elemental Control

When you use your elemental influence ability, you can also command the elements to move as you desire. Each element has different limitations on its ability to move, as described below.

- Air: You can change the wind speed of air by up to 50 miles per hour. If you reduce the air's speed to 0 and then increase it again, you can change the direction the air blows.
- Earth: You can reshape earth or unworked stone at a rate of up to one foot per round.
- Fire: You can make fire leap up to 30 feet between combustible materials, suppress fire so it smolders without being extinguished, or snuff out fire entirely.
- Water: You can change the speed of water by up to 30 feet per round. If you reduce the water's speed to 0 and then increase it again, you can change the direction the water flows.

Rank 6 – Elemental Power+

The power bonus increases to +6.

Rank 7 – Elemental Balance+

Your benefits from each element improve.

- Air: You gain a fly speed 10 feet slower than the base speed for your size with a maximum height of 15 feet (see Flying, page 56). At the start of each phase, you can increase your fatigue level by one to ignore this height limit until the end of the round.
- Earth: The bonus to your Fortitude defense increases to +2.
- Fire: You treat all fire damage you take as being environmental damage.
- Water: You gain a +10 foot bonus to your swim speed.

Nature Magic

This archetype grants you the ability to cast nature spells. All abilities from this archetype are magical.

Rank 1 – Nature Spells

Your connection to nature grants you the ability to use nature magic. You gain access to one nature mystic sphere, plus the universal mystic sphere (see Nature Mystic Spheres, page 244). You may spend insight points to gain access to one additional nature mystic sphere per two insight points. You can only learn nature spells from nature mystic spheres that you have access to.

You automatically learn all cantrips from each mystic sphere you have access to. In addition, you learn two rank 1 nature spells. You can also spend insight points to learn one additional rank 1 spell per insight point.

Nature spells require verbal components to cast (see Casting Components, page 50). Unless otherwise noted in a spell's description, casting any spell requires a standard action. For details about mystic spheres and casting spells, see Spell and Ritual Mechanics, page 50.

When you gain access to a new mystic sphere or spell rank, you can forget any number of spells you know to learn that many new spells in exchange, including spells of the higher rank.

Advancement: At ranks 2, 4, and 7, you learn an additional nature spell. The maximum rank of nature spells that you can learn is equal to your rank in this archetype. Nature spells also increase in power in unique ways based on your rank in this archetype, as indicated in their descriptions.

Nature Spell Mastery

This archetype improves the nature spells you cast. You must have the Nature Magic archetype from the cleric class to gain the abilities from this archetype. All abilities from this archetype are magical.

Rank 1 – Mystic Insight

You learn how to further refine your spellcasting abilities. Choose two mystic insights from the list below. You can also spend insight points to learn one additional mystic insight per insight point. You cannot choose the same spell with more than two mystic insight abilities.

Distant Spell: Choose a nature spell you know with a standard range: Short, Medium, Long, Distant, or Extreme. You increase that spell's range to the next standard range category, to a maximum of Extreme range. You can choose this ability multiple times, choosing a different spell each time. Whenever you learn a new spell, you may change which of your spells this ability affects.

Mystic Sphere: You gain access to an additional nature mystic sphere, including all cantrips from that sphere. You cannot choose this ability multiple times.

Precise Spell: Choose a nature spell you know. You gain a +1 bonus to accuracy with that spell. You can choose this ability multiple times, choosing a different spell each time. Whenever you learn a new spell, you may change which of your spells this ability affects.

Rituals: You gain the ability to perform nature rituals to create unique magical effects (see Rituals, page 51). The maximum rank of nature ritual you can learn or perform is equal to the maximum rank of nature spell that you can cast. In addition, you automatically learn one free nature ritual of each rank you have access to, including new ranks as you gain access to them. You cannot choose this ability multiple times.

Widened Spell: Choose a nature spell you know with a standard area: Small, Medium, Large, Huge, or Gargantuan. You increase that spell's area to the next standard area category, to a maximum of a Gargantuan area. You can choose this ability multiple times, choosing a different spell each time. Whenever you learn a new spell, you may change which of your spells this ability affects.

Rank 2 – Plant Channeling

Whenever you cast a spell, you may treat all effects of the spell as if you were located at any Tiny or larger living plant within Medium (60 ft.) range instead of in your current location. This allows you to measure the spell's range from the plant's location, cone-shaped areas originate from the plant's location instead of your own, and so on.

Rank 3 – Wellspring of Power

You gain a +2 bonus to your power.

Rank 4 – Mystic Insight+

You gain an additional mystic insight.

Rank 5 – Attunement Point

You gain an additional attunement point.

Rank 6 – Wellspring of Power+

The power bonus increases to +6.

Rank 7 – Mystic Insight+

You gain two additional mystic insights.

Shifter

This archetype grants you the ability to embody aspects of the natural world in your own form. All abilities from this archetype are magical.

Rank 1 – Wild Aspects

You gain the ability to embody an aspect of an animal or of nature itself. Choose two wild aspects from the list below. You can also spend insight points to learn one additional wild aspect per insight point.

As a standard action, you can gain the effects of one wild aspect that you know. You cannot change your wild aspect more than once per round. That effect lasts until you activate a different wild aspect you know or until you dismiss it as a free action.

The abilities in the list below describe the effects of the aspect. Your appearance also changes to match the aspect's effects, but the nature of this change is not described. Different druids change in different ways. For example, one druid might grow brown fur when using the Form of the Bear, while another might instead change their face to become broader and more bear-shaped when embodying the same aspect. You choose how your appearance changes when you gain a wild aspect. This change cannot be used to gain an additional substantive benefit beyond the effects given in the description of the aspect.

Form of the Bear

You gain a +2 bonus to your Fortitude defense. In addition, your mouth and hands transform, granting you a bite and two claw natural weapons (see Table 8.6: Natural Weapons, page 170).

Rank 3: The Fortitude bonus increases to +3.

Rank 5: The Fortitude bonus increases to +4.

Rank 7: The Fortitude bonus increases to +5.

Form of the Bull

You can move your full movement speed when you push a creature with the shove ability even if you do not get a critical hit (see Shove, page 61). In addition, your head transforms, granting you a gore natural weapon (see Table 8.6: Natural Weapons, page 170).

Rank 3: You gain a +2 accuracy bonus with the shove ability.

Rank 5: The accuracy bonus increases to +4.

Rank 7: When you push a creature with the shove ability, the pushed creature also takes damage as if you had hit it with your gore natural weapon. This damage cannot be combined with other effects that deal damage with a shove, such as the wall slam ability.

Form of the Constrictor

You gain a +2 bonus to accuracy with the grapple ability and all grapple actions (see Grapple, page 61). In addition, you can contort your body, allowing it to act as a free hand for the purpose of using the grapple ability and grapple actions even if you do not have a free hand. Finally, you gain a bite natural weapon (see Table 8.6: Natural Weapons, page 170).

Rank 3: When you grapple a creature with the grapple ability, they also take damage as if you had hit it with a strike using your bite weapon. You do not add your power to this damage.

Rank 5: The accuracy bonus increases to +4.

Rank 7: When you grapple a creature with the grapple ability, you are not considered to be grappled (see Asymmetric Grappling, page 63).

Form of the Fish

You gain a swim speed 10 feet slower than the base speed for your size. In addition, you gain a bite natural weapon (see Table 8.6: Natural Weapons, page 170).

Rank 3: You can breathe water as easily as a human breathes air, preventing you from drowning or suffocating underwater.

Rank 5: You gain a +10 foot bonus to your swim speed.

Rank 7: You are immune to magical effects that restrict your mobility. In addition, you are impervious to the grapple ability and grapple actions (see Grapple, page 61).

Rank 5: The skill bonuses increase to +5.

Rank 7: You gain a fly speed equal to the base speed for your size with a maximum height of 60 feet (see Flying, page 56). At the start of each phase, you can increase your fatigue level by one to ignore this height limit until the end of the round.

Form of the Hound

You gain the ability to move on all four limbs. When doing so, you gain a +10 foot bonus to your land speed, but you have no free hands. When not using your hands to move, your ability to use your hands is unchanged. You can descend to four legs and rise up to stand on two legs again as part of movement. In addition, you gain a bite natural weapon (see Table 8.6: Natural Weapons, page 170).

Rank 3: You gain the scent ability.

Rank 5: You can run on three limbs instead of four, allowing you to retain one free hand while keeping the speed bonus.

Rank 7: You gain an additional +10 bonus to scent-based Awareness checks (see Awareness, page 142).

Form of the Monkey

You gain a climb speed 10 feet slower than the base speed for your size. In addition, you gain a bite natural weapon (see Table 8.6: Natural Weapons, page 170).

Rank 3: You grow a tail that you can use as a free hand for the purpose of climbing.

Rank 5: You gain a +10 foot bonus to your climb speed.

Rank 3: When you use this wild aspect, you can choose to shrink by one size category, to a minimum of Tiny. In addition, if you shapeshift into this form with the animal shape ability, you can shrink by two size categories instead of only one.

Rank 7: When you use this wild aspect, you can choose to shrink by up to two size categories instead of only one.

Form of the Viper

You do not need to use free hands to climb (see Climb, page 144). In addition, you gain a bite natural weapon (see Table 8.6: Natural Weapons, page 170). When a creature takes damage from your bite natural weapon, it is poisoned (see Poison, page 52). The first poison stage makes the target dazed (-1 defenses) as long as it is poisoned. The third poison stage makes the target stunned (-2 defenses) instead of dazed.

Rank 3: You gain a +1 accuracy bonus with all poisons.

Rank 5: The accuracy bonus increases to +2.

Rank 7: The accuracy bonus increases to +3.

Form of the Wolf

You gain a +1 bonus to accuracy against creatures that are adjacent to you and one of your allies. In addition, you gain a bite natural weapon (see Table 8.6: Natural Weapons, page 170).

Rank 3: You gain the scent ability.

Rank 5: The accuracy bonus increases to +2.

Rank 7: The accuracy bonus applies even if you are not adjacent to a creature, as long as one of your allies is adjacent to the creature.

Myriad Form

If you are trained with the Disguise skill, you gain a +3 bonus to it. Otherwise, you are treated as being trained in that skill.

Rank 3: When you use this wild aspect, you can choose to grow or shrink by one size category (see Size Categories, page 45). If you increase your size, you are slightly clumsy in your new size, and you take a -10 foot penalty to your speed with all of your movement modes.

Rank 5: You can use the disguise creature ability to disguise yourself as a standard action (see Disguise Creature, page ??).

Rank 7: When you use this wild aspect, you can choose to grow or shrink by up to two size categories instead of only one.

Photosynthesis

As long as you are in natural sunlight, you regain hit points equal to half your power at the end of each round. This cannot heal you above half your maximum hit points.

Rank 3: You do not gain hunger or thirst while in natural sunlight. When you leave natural sunlight, you continue gaining hunger or thirst at your normal rate, ignoring any time you spent in natural sunlight.

Rank 5: Using the recover ability while in natural sunlight only increases your fatigue level by one.

Rank 7: When you take a short rest while you are in natural sunlight, you can remove a vital wound. When you do, you increase your fatigue level by four.

Plantspeaker

Your speed is not reduced when moving in heavy undergrowth. In addition, you can ignore cover and concealment from plants whenever doing so would be beneficial to you, as the plants move out of the way to help you. This prevents you from suffering penalties on your attacks, and also prevents creatures from using cover or concealment from plants to hide from you.

Rank 3: You gain a +1 bonus to your Armor and Reflex defenses while standing in undergrowth.

Rank 5: All light undergrowth within a Large (60 ft.) radius from you is treated as difficult terrain for your enemies.

Rank 2 – Shift Body

You can use the shift body ability whenever you finish a long rest.

Shift Body

Rank 3 – Natural Force

You gain a +1d bonus to your damage with natural weapons.

Rank 3 – Regenerative Shift

Whenever you activate a new wild aspect, you regain hit points equal to a quarter of your maximum hit points. This cannot increase your hit points above half your maximum hit points.

Rank 4 – Animal Shape

Whenever you activate a wild aspect that represents a specific animal, you can fully shapeshift to match that animal's shape. This cannot increase your size category, but you can shrink by one size category if it is appropriate for that animal. You may choose to re-shape any body armor you wear as barding to fit the animal instead of melding it into your form. The armor regains its normal shape if you take it off,. For details about shapeshifting, see Shapeshift, page 378.

Rank 5 – Shift Body+

This ability loses the Attune tag. Instead, it lasts until you use it again.

Rank 6 – Natural Force+

The damage bonus increases to +2d.

Rank 6 – Regenerative Shift+

When you heal using this ability, you can also remove one condition that was not applied during the current round.

Rank 7 – Animal Shape+

You may either grow or shrink by one size category when you shapeshift with this ability, regardless of whether it would normally be appropriate for that animal.

Rank 7 – Instant Shift

You can change your wild aspect as a minor action. When you change in this way, it gains the Swift tag, so you can use your new abilities immediately. However, you do not gain the benefit of your regenerative shift ability, and you briefly cannot change wild aspects as a minor action again.

Wildspeaker

This archetypes deepens your connection to animals and plants, and allows you to call animals to aid you in combat. All abilities from this archetype are magical.

Rank 1 – Natural Servant

You can use the natural servant ability. This ability requires spending 1 hour performing rituals in a natural area.

Natural Servant	Attune
An animal native to the local environment appears to help you. It follows your directions to the best of its ability as long as you remain in its natural environment. If you leave the animal’s natural habitat, it remains behind and this effect ends. Your magical connection to the animal improves its resilience and strength in combat. The animal’s statistics use the values below, except that each animal also gains a special ability based on the environment you are in. <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Its size category is Medium, and its base speed is the normal base speed for its size (see Table 4.2: Size Categories, page 46).• Its fatigue tolerance is 0, and it cannot use abilities that would cause it to increase its fatigue level.• Its hit points and damage resistance are equal to the standard value for your level (see Table 3.5: Hit Points and Damage Resistance, page 31).• Each of its defenses is equal to 5 + half your level.• Its accuracy is equal to half your level + half your Perception.• Its power with its attacks is 0.• It has no attunement points.• The damage dealt by its natural weapons increases by +1d for each rank in this archetype beyond 1.• It does not make vital rolls, but it automatically drops unconscious if it gains a vital wound. If it gains three vital wounds, it dies.• It automatically shares the benefits of all of your magic bonuses to hit points, damage resistance, and power. Animals are unable to understand complex concepts, so their ability to obey convoluted instructions is limited.

The special ability of the animal that appears depends on your environment, as described below. You may choose a different animal native to that environment that is similar in size and type, but that does not change the animal’s statistics. For example, your natural servant in an aquatic environment may be a fish or seal instead of a shark. Unusual environments may have different animals than the standard animals listed below.

- Aquatic: A shark appears that has a 30 foot swim speed and no land speed. It has a bite natural weapon.
- Arctic: An arctic fox appears that has no penalties for being in cold environments. It has a bite natural weapon.
- Desert: A hyena appears that has no penalties for being in hot environments. It has a bite natural weapon.

- Mountain: A goat appears that can move up or down steep slopes without slowing its movement. It has a ram natural weapon.
- Forest: A wolverine appears that has two additional hit points. It has a bite natural weapon.
- Plains: A wolf appears that has the scent ability. It has a bite natural weapon.
- Swamp: A crocodile appears that has a 20 foot land speed and a 30 foot swim speed. It has a bite natural weapon.
- Underground: A dire rat appears that has low-light vision. It has a bite natural weapon.

Rank 2 – Animal Speech

You can use the animal speech ability as a standard action.

Animal Speech Sustain (minor)

Choose an animal within Long (120 ft.) range. You can speak to and understand the speech of the target animal, and any other animals of the same species.

This ability does not make the target any more friendly or cooperative than normal. Wary and cunning animals are likely to be terse and evasive, while stupid ones tend to make inane comments and are unlikely to say or understand anything of use.

Rank 2 – Nature's Ally

Animals will not willingly attack you or your allies within a Large (60 ft.) radius emanation from you. They can be compelled to attack despite this protection with a Creature Handling check against a difficulty value equal to 10 + your level. If any target attacks a creature that this ability protects you from, this ability is suppressed until you take a short rest.

Rank 3 – Nature's Might

You and your natural servant gain a +1d damage bonus with natural weapons.

Rank 4 – Natural Attunement

Your natural servant gains an attunement point. This attunement point is shared among any creatures you summon with your natural servant ability. In addition, you can cast Attune spells on your natural servant if it is within Short (30 ft.) range of you. When you do, the natural servant attunes to the spell instead of you, as if the spell was an Attune (target) spell.

Rank 5 – Nature's Ally+

This ability also protects you and your allies from plant-based animates and elemental-based planeforged. In addition, all creatures that you are protected from with this ability automatically attempt to aid you and your allies if they observe you fighting. Finally, the effect can no longer be bypassed with a Creature Handling check or any other form of control that does not first suppress this effect. Even creatures summoned by enemies to fight you will immediately turn on their summoners or otherwise avoid attacking you.

Rank 6 – Animal Speech+

When you use this ability, you may target any living creature that knows at least one language. If you target a non-animal in this way, you do not gain the ability to speak with and understand the speech of other creatures of the target's species.

Rank 6 – Nature's Might+

The damage bonus increases to +2d.

Rank 7 – Natural Attunement+

Your natural servant gains an additional attunement point.

Rank 7 – Natural Servant+

You may choose to have a Large natural servant appear instead of a Medium natural servant.

Ex-Druids

A druid who ceases to revere nature or who changes to a prohibited alignment loses all magical druid class abilities. They cannot thereafter gain levels as a druid until they atone for their transgressions.

Fighter

Fighters are highly disciplined warriors who excel in physical combat of any kind. They have a deep mastery of the implements and strategies of battle thanks to their extensive training. Other martial characters may be physically stronger or capable of strange and improbable tricks, but fighters are unmatched as battlefield champions.

Each fighter has a different area of specialization, but most fighters have some amount of battlefield control. They can guard their allies, impede the movement of their foes, or give battle commands to their allies to guide them. This makes fighters invaluable in large-scale battles, and they are the most common class found in organized military forces. The regimented nature of army life tends to drive away many people used to more freedom, but fighters are often compatible with the discipline found in armed forces.

More broadly, fighters are the most common class in many civilized settings. A fighter's training requires no secret wisdom, and it can be self-taught or guided by a mentor. Many people undergo some battle training regardless of their ultimate path in life, leading them to discover that they may enjoy it for its own sake.

Monks are closely related to fighters, since both classes use training and discipline to improve themselves. However, monks focus more on mental control and exploring the supernatural powers that come from tapping into the body's potential. In contrast, fighters have a more grounded approach, and focus more on practical knowledge that can be directly applied to physical combat. A typical monk would consider fighters to be overly limited in their focus on day-to-day combat, while a typical fighter would consider monks to be wasting their training with mysticism and esoteric nonsense.

Alignment: Any.

Archetypes: Fighters have the Combat Discipline, Equipment Training, Martial Mastery, Sentinel, and Tactician archetypes.

- A number of insight points equal to 2 + your Intelligence. You can spend insight points to gain additional abilities (see Insight Points, page 23).

- Three trained skills from among your class skills, plus additional trained skills equal to your Intelligence (see Skills, page 142).

Equipment Training

This archetype improves your combat prowess with weapons and armor.

Rank 1 – Weapon Training

You can use the weapon training ability by spending an hour training with a weapon. You cannot use this ability with an exotic weapon that is from a weapon group you are not proficient with.

Weapon Training

You become proficient with the weapon you trained with. You gain a +1 bonus to accuracy with that weapon unless it is an exotic weapon that you would not be proficient with without this ability. This ability's effect lasts until you use this ability again.

Rank 4: You can use this ability with only five minutes of training.

Rank 6: You can use this ability as a minor action.

Rank 2 – Equipment Efficiency

You gain an additional attunement point. You can only use this attunement point to attune to magic weapons and magic armor.

Rank 3 – Armor Expertise

Rank 4 – Weapon Expertise

You gain a +1d bonus to your damage with all weapons.

Rank 5 – Equipment Efficiency+

You can use the item attunement ability to attune to weapons and armor as a minor action (see Item Attunement, page 160).

In addition, you gain access to any combat style of your choice (see Combat Styles, page 224). You may spend insight points to gain access to one additional combat style per insight point. You can only learn martial maneuvers from martial combat styles that you have access to.

You learn two rank 1 martial maneuvers. You may spend insight points to learn one additional maneuver per insight point. Unless otherwise noted in an ability's description, using a maneuver requires a standard action.

When you gain access to a new rank in this archetype, you can exchange any number of maneuvers you know for other maneuvers, including maneuvers of a higher rank.

Whenever you increase your rank in this archetype, you can change your enhancements. However, you must still apply them to rank 1 martial maneuvers.

Counter Maneuver: You gain a +2 accuracy bonus with your chosen maneuver against creatures who attacked you during the previous round. You can only apply this enhancement to maneuvers which cause you to make a strike.

Debilitating Maneuver: You gain a +2 accuracy bonus with your chosen maneuver. However, your power with the maneuver is treated as 0. You can only apply this enhancement to maneuvers which can inflict a condition.

Guarding Maneuver: You gain a +1 bonus to your Armor defense when you use the maneuver. This is an Swift effect, so it protects you from attacks against you during the current phase. You can only apply this enhancement to maneuvers which cause you to make a strike.

You learn an additional martial maneuver. In addition, you gain access to rank 7 martial maneuvers.

Sentinel

This archetype improves your ability to protect your allies in combat and control the battlefield.

Rank 1 – Guarding Strike

You can use the guarding strike ability as a standard action.

Guarding Strike

Make a melee strike. Your power with the strike is halved. Each creature damaged by the strike is goaded (-2 accuracy vs. non-goaded creatures) by you as a condition. This condition is removed if you move farther away from the creature.

You can use the protect ability as a minor action.

Protect

Swift

Choose an ally adjacent to you. It gains a +2 bonus to its Armor defense until the end of the round. Because this ability has the Swift tag, this bonus applies against attacks made in the current phase.

A creature that sees an attack against an ally protected in this way can observe that you are the cause of the protection with a difficulty value 5 Awareness check. While this ability is active, you cannot gain a defense bonus from this ability, even if another creature with this ability uses it on you.

Rank 3 – Threatening Influence+

The area affected by this ability increases to a Small (15 ft.) radius emanation from you. However, it does not affect creatures who are moving in a straight line directly towards you.

The damage bonus increases to +2d.

Tactician

This archetype helps you lead your allies in combat with tactical abilities that allow you to adapt to different circumstances.

You can lead your allies using tactics appropriate for the situation. Choose two battle tactics from the list below. You can also spend insight points to learn one additional battle tactic per insight point.

You can initiate a battle tactic as a minor action. When you initiate a battle tactic, you choose whether to use visual cues like gestures, auditory cues like shouts, or both to communicate your tactic with your allies. Your battle tactics affect yourself and your allies who can either see or hear your chosen communication style.

All battle tactics have the Sustain (minor) tag, so they last as long as you sustain them (see Sustained Abilities, page 49). You cannot sustain multiple battle tactics simultaneously, and any existing battle tactics end as soon as you activate another battle tactic.

Bonuses from multiple battle tactics, such as the bonus to Armor defense from the duck and cover and group up abilities, do not stack. However, each creature can benefit from both battle tactics at once.

Monk

Monks are agile masters of “ki” who hone their personal abilities to strike down foes and perform supernatural feats. They undergo extensive training to control their mind and body in unison, using each to improve the other. The techniques required to become a monk are strange and unintuitive, and only a legendary few can discover them on their own. Instead, most monks are trained at monasteries, where they learn how to master themselves long before they turn their attention to besting others in combat.

Unlike every other class capable of magical feats, monks draw their power entirely from themselves. They have learned to tap into the life energy within their bodies, use it to cause dramatic effects in the world around them, and then reclaim that energy instead of letting it dissipate into the world. This process is deeply dangerous if misapplied, which is why the training required to become a monk is so rigorous. Expending one’s life energy without being able to reclaim it is a fast path to inadvertent death.

Monks are famous for their ability to fight completely unarmed, and for their tendency to use unusual weapons that few non-monks use. This is more a matter of tradition than any necessity. Some monks prefer more common weapons, and any fighter could learn how to use monk weapons given time to train with them. However, the monk weapons are well suited to the fighting styles that monks learn as part of their training.

The combat training for monks often consists of dueling other monks, and rarely involves fighting non-humanoid monsters. As a result, they often try to trip, disarm, and distract their foes in combat. These strategies are all most effective against humanoid opponents.

Weapon Proficiencies

You are proficient with simple weapons and monk weapons.

Armor Proficiencies

You are proficient with light armor.

Class Skills

You have the following class skills:

- Strength: Climb, Jump, Swim.
- Dexterity: Balance, Flexibility, Perform, Ride, Stealth.
- Constitution: Endurance.
- Intelligence: Craft, Deduction, Medicine.
- Perception: Awareness, Creature Handling, Deception, Persuasion, Social Insight, Survival.
- Other: Intimidate.

Airdancer

This archetype improves your acrobatic ability and mobility in combat.

Rank 1 – Acrobatic Accuracy

Whenever you make a Jump check that moves you over or adjacent to a creature, if your Jump check result beats that creature's Reflex defense, you gain a +1 bonus to accuracy against that creature for the rest of the current round. This is a Swift effect, so it helps you if you make a Jump check in the same phase that you make a strike, such as with the leaping strike maneuver.

Rank 2 – Evasion

You take half damage from abilities that affect an area and attack your Armor or Reflex defense. This does not protect you from any non-damaging effects of those abilities, or from abilities that affect multiple specific targets without affecting an area. If you have the evasion rogue ability with the same effect as this ability, you reduce the total damage you take to one quarter of the normal value instead.

Rank 3 – Airdance (Magical)

When you move with a Jump check, you can land in midair as if it was solid ground. Your landing location must be no more than 30 feet above an object at least two size categories larger than you that is free-standing and capable of supporting your weight. You cannot walk in the air, but you can continue jumping or remain in place. The air holds you until the end of the current round, at which point you fall normally. After you land on air in this way, you briefly cannot do so again.

Rank 4 – Acrobatic Accuracy+

The accuracy bonus increases to +2.

Rank 5 – Evasion+

This ability also protects you from area attacks against your Fortitude and Mental defenses.

Rank 6 – Airdance+ (Magical)

When you use this ability to land in the air, you can walk around freely in the air as if it was fully solid until the end of the round. In addition, the maximum height above the ground increases to 60 feet.

Rank 7 – Acrobatic Accuracy+

The accuracy bonus increases to +3. In addition, the effect lasts briefly instead of only for the current round.

Esoteric Warrior

This archetype improves your combat prowess with unusual abilities you can use in combat.

Rank 1 – Esoteric Maneuvers

You can perform a wide variety of unusual attacks. You gain access to one of the following combat styles: dirty fighting, flurry of blows, or mobile assault. In addition, you gain access to any combat style of your choice (see Combat Styles, page 224). You may spend insight points to gain access to one additional combat style per insight point. You can only learn esoteric maneuvers from esoteric combat styles that you have access to.

You learn two rank 1 esoteric maneuvers. You may spend insight points to learn one additional maneuver per insight point. Unless otherwise noted in an ability's description, using a maneuver requires a standard action.

When you gain access to a new rank in this archetype, you can exchange any number of maneuvers you know for other maneuvers, including maneuvers of a higher rank.

Advancement: Some esoteric maneuvers also increase in power in unique ways based on your rank in this archetype, as indicated in their descriptions.

Rank 2 – Esoteric Force

You gain a +1d bonus to your damage with all weapons.

Rank 3 – Esoteric Maneuvers+

You learn an additional esoteric maneuver. In addition, you gain access to rank 3 esoteric maneuvers.

Rank 4 – Enhanced Maneuvers

You gain the ability to customize your weaker esoteric maneuvers. For each rank 1 esoteric maneuver you know, choose one enhancement from the list below.

Whenever you increase your rank in this archetype, you can change your enhancements. However, you must still apply them to rank 1 esoteric maneuvers.

Debilitating Maneuver: You gain a +2 accuracy bonus with your chosen maneuver. However, your power with the maneuver is treated as 0. You can only apply this enhancement to maneuvers which can inflict a condition.

Guarding Maneuver: You gain a +1 bonus to your Armor defense when you use the maneuver. This is an Swift effect, so it protects you from attacks against you during the current phase. You can only apply this enhancement to maneuvers which cause you to make a strike.

Mobile Maneuver: You can move up to 5 feet before or after using your chosen maneuver. You cannot apply this enhancement to maneuvers that already allow you to move using one of your movement modes.

Powerful Maneuver: You gain a +2 bonus to your power with your chosen maneuver. This bonus increases to +3 at rank 4, and to +4 at rank 6.

Precise Maneuver: You gain a +1 accuracy bonus with your chosen maneuver.

Rank 5 – Esoteric Force+

The damage bonus increases to +2d.

Rank 5 – Esoteric Maneuvers+

You gain access to rank 5 esoteric maneuvers.

Rank 6 – Enhanced Maneuvers+

You can also choose an enhancement for each of your rank 3 and rank 5 esoteric maneuvers. In addition, you double the effect of enhancements you apply to your rank 1 esoteric maneuvers.

Rank 7 – Esoteric Maneuvers+

You learn an additional esoteric maneuver. In addition, you gain access to rank 7 esoteric maneuvers.

Ki

This archetype grants you unusual abilities based on tapping into your inner ki. If you have any encumbrance, you lose the benefit of all abilities from this archetype. All abilities from this archetype are magical.

Rank 1 – Ki Energy

Whenever you make a strike, you can choose to treat it as a magical ability. This allows you to use your Willpower to determine your damage instead of your Strength (see Dice Bonuses From Attributes, page 41). In addition, that strike does not deal physical damage or any physical damage subtypes. If the strike would normally deal one or more subtype of energy damage, the damage is of those types. Otherwise, all damage dealt by the strike is energy damage.

Rank 1 – Ki Manifestations

You can channel your ki to temporarily enhance your abilities. Choose two ki manifestations from the list below. You can also spend insight points to learn one additional ki manifestation per insight point. You can use any ki manifestation ability you know using the type of action indicated in the ability's description.

After you use a ki manifestation, you briefly cannot use a ki manifestation again.

Abandon the Fragile Self

Swift

You can use this ability as a free action. You can negate one condition that would be applied to you this phase. In exchange, you take a –2 penalty to defenses this phase.

Rank 5: The defense penalty is reduced to –1.

Rank 7: The defense penalty is removed.

 Rank 5: This becomes a brief effect.
 Rank 7: You can attack enemies up to 20 feet away from you.

Flash Step

You can use this ability as part of movement with your land speed. You teleport horizontally instead of moving normally. If your line of effect to your destination is blocked, or if this teleportation would somehow place you inside a solid object, your teleportation is cancelled and you remain where you are.

Teleporting a given distance costs movement equal to twice that distance. For example, if you have a 30 foot movement speed, you can move 10 feet, teleport 5 feet, and move an additional 10 feet before your movement ends.

Rank 3: The movement cost to teleport is reduced to be equal to the distance you teleport.
 Rank 5: You can use this ability to move even if you are immobilized (-4 Ref, cannot use movement speeds) or grappled.
 Rank 7: You can attempt to teleport to locations outside of line of sight and line of effect. If your intended destination is invalid, the distance you spent teleporting is wasted, but you suffer no other ill effects.

Flurry of a Thousand CutsSwift

You can use this ability as a free action. When you use the offhand strike ability this round, you roll the attack roll twice and take the higher result.

Rank 3: You also gain a +1 accuracy bonus with the offhand strike ability.
 Rank 5: This becomes a brief effect.
 Rank 7: The accuracy bonus increases to +2.

Hear the Rustling WingsSwift

You can use this ability as a free action. You gain a +4 bonus to the Awareness skill this round (see Awareness, page 142).

Rank 3: The Climb bonus increases to +8.

Rank 3: The bonus increases to +3.
 Rank 5: This becomes a brief effect.
 Rank 7: The bonus increases to +4.

Step Between the Mystic WorldsSwift

You can use this ability as a free action. All attacks against you have a 20% failure chance this round. However, your attacks also have a 20% failure chance this round.

Rank 3: The failure chance for attacks against you increases to 25%.

Rank 5: When you use this ability, you can choose whether it becomes a brief effect.

Rank 7: The failure chance for attacks against you increases to 30%.

Thread the Eye of the StormSwift

You can use this ability as a free action. You reduce your longshot penalty with thrown weapons by 1 this round (see Weapon Range Limits, page 162).

Rank 3: The penalty reduction increases to 2.

Rank 5: This becomes a brief effect.

Rank 7: The penalty reduction increases to 3.

Rank 2 – Ki Barrier

While you are not wearing other body armor, you gain a ki barrier around your body. This functions like body armor that provides a +3 bonus to your Armor defense and has no encumbrance. It also provides a bonus to your damage resistance equal to four times your rank in this archetype.

You can also use a free hand to wield the barrier as a shield. This functions like a buckler, granting you a +1 bonus to your Armor defense, except that you do not need to be proficient with light armor. Since this bonus comes from a shield, it does not stack with the benefits of using any other shield.

Rank 3 – Ki Power

You gain a +2 bonus to your power with all abilities.

Rank 4 – Hardened Ki

You gain a +1 bonus to your Willpower.

Rank 5 – Ki Barrier+

Perfected Form

This archetype improves the perfection of your physical body through rigorous training.

Rank 1 – Unarmed Warrior

You gain a +2 bonus to accuracy and a +1d bonus to damage with the punch/kick natural weapon (see Natural Weapons, page 161).

Rank 1 – Unhindered Movement

You gain a +10 foot bonus to your land speed while you have no encumbrance.

Rank 2 – Perfect Precision

You gain a +1 bonus to accuracy with attacks using weapons from the monk weapons weapon group, natural weapons, and to any attack using one or more free hands. This does not include abilities that simply use somatic components.

Rank 3 – Perfect Body

Choose a physical attribute: Strength, Dexterity, or Constitution (see Attributes, page 21). You permanently gain a +1 bonus to that attribute.

Rank 4 – Unarmed Warrior+

The damage bonus increases to +2d.

In addition, you gain lifesight with a 30 foot range, allowing you to see living creatures without light (see Lifesight, page 378).

The range of your lifesense increases by 120 feet, and the range of your lifesight increases by 30 feet.

Rank 5 – Transcend Emotion

You are immune to Emotion attacks. In addition, you are immune to being shaken (-1 Mental, -1 accuracy vs. source), frightened (-2 Mental, -2 accuracy vs. source), and panicked (-4 Mental, cannot attack source).

Rank 6 – Transcend Mortality (Magical)

You are no longer considered a living creature for the purpose of attacks against you. This means that attacks which only affect living creatures have no effect against you. In addition, you no longer take penalties to your attributes for aging, and cannot be magically aged. You still die of old age when your time is up.

Rank 6 – Transcendent Might+

The damage bonus increases to +2d.

Rank 7 – Feel the Flow of Life+ (Magical)

The range of your lifesense increases by 240 feet, and the range of your lifesight increases by 60 feet.

Paladin

Paladins are divinely empowered warriors who exemplify a particular alignment. They can shift easily between physical combat and spellcasting depending on the situation. Many paladins can heal themselves and their allies, and can share their divine connection with those nearby, making them a beacon on a battlefield.

The scope of each alignment is quite broad, so even paladins of the same alignment can be as diverse in personality and morality as any other class. Paladins of law tend to be the most homogeneous in their beliefs, but even they may have stark disagreements about the rightful code to follow, and in what circumstances a personal or universal code of ethics can supercede the law in a specific territory.

Paladins are both famous and infamous for their dedication, and for their tendency to exhort those around them to act according to the paladin's ideals. There is some truth to the stereotype of the stony-faced paladin who regards any form of compromise as unacceptable. However, few of those overly zealous paladins make their way into adventuring parties. Only paladins who understand the necessity of working as an effective team with others who do not share their ideals are likely to have any success adventuring. For some paladins, this is a compromise they grudgingly make in the pursuit of the greater good - or the greater evil. Others perceive no conflict at all, and eagerly work with those of opposed alignments with the goal of demonstrating the superiority of their moral compass by example.

Of all spellcasting classes, paladins are in some ways the most limited. They have access to a relatively small number of mystic spheres. However, they are also the only spellcasting class that can naturally use heavy armor, and they have some unique abilities that can make them powerful frontline casters.

Paladins and fighters share a similar ability to influence a battlefield at a large scale while being difficult to kill. Their methods and ideology may be different, but they can often work together easily and effectively. It is more difficult to characterize the relationship between paladins and other classes, since so much depends on the paladin's alignment and personal interpretation of that alignment. Paladins of law typically despise barbarians and rogues, while paladins of chaos distrust the rigid mentality common to monks and fighters. Warlocks are deeply suspicious to paladins of good, though paladins of good tend to be more forgiving than other paladins. Paladins of evil despise druids who have too much respect for the sanctity of life. All paladins may have strong feelings about clerics depending on the alignment of that cleric's deity.

Special Class Abilities

Devoted Alignment

You are devoted to a specific alignment. You must choose one of your alignment components: good, evil, lawful, or chaotic. The alignment you choose is your devoted alignment. Your paladin abilities are affected by this choice. Your alignment cannot be changed without extraordinary repercussions.

Devoted Paragon

This archetype deepens your connection to your alignment, granting you an aura and improving your combat abilities.

Rank 1 – Aligned Aura (Magical)

Your devotion to your alignment affects the world around you, bringing it closer to your ideals. You constantly radiate an aura in a Medium (30 ft.) radius emanation from you. You can suppress or resume the aura as a minor action. Whenever you resume the aura, you can choose which creatures within the area are affected by aura as any combination of yourself, your allies, your enemies, and other creatures. The effect of the aura depends on your devoted alignment, as described below.

Chaos: Whenever a target rolls a 9 on an attack roll with a strike, it explodes (see Exploding Attacks, page 40). This does not affect bonus dice rolled for exploding attacks (see Exploding Attacks, page 40).

Evil: Each target suffers a –1 penalty to its Armor defense as long as it is affected by at least one condition.

Good: Whenever a targeted ally would gain a vital wound, you may gain a vital wound instead. You gain a +2 bonus to the vital roll of each vital wound you gain this way. The target suffers any other effects of the attack normally.

Law: Whenever a target rolls a 1 on an attack roll with a strike, the attack roll is treated as a 6. This does not affect bonus dice rolled for exploding attacks (see Exploding Attacks, page 40).

Chaos: You are immune to being slowed (half speed, –1 Ref) and immobilized (–4 Ref, cannot use movement speeds).

Good: You are immune to Curse attacks and being dominated (must obey commands).

Law: You are immune to being dazed (–1 defenses).

Rank 3 – Paragon Power

You gain a +2 bonus to your power with all abilities.

Rank 4 – Aligned Aura+ (Magical)

The effect of your aligned aura becomes stronger, as described below. In addition, the area increases to a Large (60 ft.) radius emanation from you.

Chaos: The effect applies to all attacks, not just strikes.

Evil: The penalty applies to all defenses.

Good: When a targeted ally would lose hit points, you may lose those hit points instead. This causes you to suffer any special effects of the attack that trigger on taking damage or losing hit points, while the target does not. The target suffers any other effects of the attack normally.

Law: The effect applies to all attacks, not just strikes.

Rank 5 – Aligned Immunity+ (Magical)

This immunity is shared with your allies within the area of your aligned aura.

Rank 6 – Paragon Power+

The power bonus increases to +6.

Rank 7 – Aligned Aura+ (Magical)

The effect of your aligned aura reaches its full power, as described below. In addition, the area increases to a Huge (90 ft.) radius emanation from you.

Chaos: Whenever a target explodes with an attack roll, it gains a +2 accuracy bonus with the attack.

Evil: The penalty increases to –2.

Good: The vital roll bonus increases to +10.

Law: The effect triggers on rolling either a 1 or a 2.

Divine Magic

This archetype grants you the ability to cast divine spells. All abilities from this archetype are magical.

Rank 1 – Divine Spells

Your devotion to your alignment grants you the ability to use divine magic. You gain access to one divine mystic sphere, plus the universal mystic sphere (see Divine Mystic Spheres, page 244). You may spend insight points to gain access to one additional divine mystic sphere per two insight points. You can only learn divine spells from divine mystic spheres that you have access to.

You automatically learn all cantrips from each mystic sphere you have access to. In addition, you learn two rank 1 divine spells. You can also spend insight points to learn one additional rank 1 spell per insight point.

Divine spells require verbal components to cast (see Casting Components, page 50). Unless otherwise noted in a spell's description, casting any spell requires a standard action. For details about mystic spheres and casting spells, see Spell and Ritual Mechanics, page 50.

When you gain access to a new mystic sphere or spell rank, you can forget any number of spells you know to learn that many new spells in exchange, including spells of the higher rank.

Advancement: The maximum rank of divine spells that you can learn is equal to your rank in this archetype. Divine spells also increase in power in unique ways based on your rank in this archetype, as indicated in their descriptions.

Rank 2 – Divine Spells+

You learn an additional divine spell.

Rank 4 – Divine Spells+

You learn an additional divine spell.

Rank 7 – Divine Spells+

Rank 1 – Divine Spell Versatility

You learn a spell from one of the mystic spheres that are unique to divine spellcasters: bless or channel divinity. You do not have to have access to that mystic sphere. As normal, you can change which spell you learn with this ability as you gain access to new spell ranks.

Rank 2 – Divine Conduit (Magical)

Whenever you cast a targeted spell that does not have the Attune or Sustain tags, you may target an additional creature adjacent to you with the spell.

Rank 3 – Wellspring of Power (Magical)

You gain a +2 bonus to your power.

Rank 4 – Divine Spell Versatility+

You learn an additional spell with this ability.

Rank 5 – Attunement Point (Magical)

You gain an additional attunement point.

The power bonus increases to +6.

Rank 7 – Divine Conduit+ (Magical)

You can target any number of creatures adjacent to you with this ability instead of only one additional creature.

Stalwart Guardian

This archetype grants you healing abilities and improves your defensive prowess.

Rank 1 – Lay on Hands (Magical)

You can use the lay on hands ability as a standard action.

Lay on Hands	Magical, Swift
Choose yourself or an adjacent living ally . The target regains 1d8 + power hit points . In addition, it can remove one poison or disease affecting it, and it briefly becomes immune to poisons and diseases. Because this ability has the Swift tag, this protects the target against attacks made against it during the current phase.
Normally, this healing cannot increase the target's hit points above half its maximum hit points. If you increase your fatigue level by one, you can ignore this limitation.
Rank 2: The healing increases to 1d10.
Rank 3: The healing increases to 2d8.
Rank 4: The healing increases to 2d10.
Rank 5: The healing increases to 4d8.

You gain a bonus equal to three times your rank in this archetype to your damage resistance.

Rank 3 – Stalwart Defense

You gain a +1 bonus to your Fortitude defense and Mental defense.

Rank 4 – Lay on Hands+ (Magical)

Instead regaining hit points, you can cause the target to remove a condition or a vital wound. This cannot remove a condition applied during the current round. If a vital wound is removed in this way, you increase your fatigue level by three.

Rank 4 – Stalwart Force

You gain a +1d bonus to your damage with all weapons.

Rank 5 – Stalwart Resilience+

This bonus increases to five times your rank in this archetype.

Rank 6 – Stalwart Defense+

The bonus to Fortitude and Mental defense increases to +2.

Rank 7 – Lay on Hands+ (Magical)

When you use this ability on a creature other than yourself, it also targets you.

Rank 7 – Stalwart Force+

The damage bonus increases to +2d.

Zealous Warrior

This archetype improves your combat prowess, especially against foes who do not share your devoted alignment.

Rank 1 – Smite (Magical)

You can use the smite ability as a standard action.

Smite

Magical

Make a strike with a +2 damage bonus. Because this is a magical ability, you use your Willpower to determine your damage dice instead of your Strength (see Dice Bonuses From Attributes, page 41). If the target has the alignment opposed to your devoted alignment, you double all of your damage bonuses along with your damage dice when you get a critical hit.

Rank 3: The damage bonus increases to +4.
Rank 5: The damage bonus increases to +8.
Rank 7: The damage bonus increases to +16.

Rank 2 – Detect Anathema (Magical)

You can use the detect anathema ability as a standard action.

Detect Anathema

Detection, Magical

You know the number of creatures within a large area cone from you that have the alignment opposed to your devoted alignment. This does not give you any specific information about the location of those creatures. Since this is a Detection ability, it can penetrate some solid obstacles (see Detection, page 375).

Rank 4: You also learn the location of all creatures with that alignment.
Rank 6: You can use this ability as a minor action. When you do, you briefly cannot use this ability as a minor action again.

Rank 2 – Forceful Zeal

You gain a +1d bonus to your damage with all weapons.

Rank 3 – Fearless Zeal

You are immune to being shaken (–1 Mental, –1 accuracy vs. source), frightened (–2 Mental, –2 accuracy vs. source), and panicked (–4 Mental, cannot attack source).

Rank 4 – Zealous Fixation (Magical)

Whenever you hit a creature with a strike, you ignore all miss chances against that creature with your attacks until you take a short rest or until you hit a different creature with a strike. If you hit multiple creatures with the same strike, you may freely choose which creature to fixate on with this ability.

Rank 5 – Forceful Zeal+

The damage bonus increases to +2d.

Rank 5 – Pass Judgment (Magical)

You can use the pass judgment ability as a minor action.

Pass Judgment

Magical

Usage time: One minor action

Choose one creature within Distant (180 ft.) range. You always gain the benefit of your zealous fixation ability against that creature. In addition, the target is treated as if it had the alignment opposed to your devoted alignment for the purpose of all abilities. This only affects its alignment along the alignment axis your devoted alignment is on. For example, if your devoted alignment was evil, a chaotic neutral target would be treated as chaotic good. This effect lasts until you treat that creature as an ally, or until you dismiss this ability as a free action.

You can use this ability to do battle against foes who share your alignment, but you should exercise caution in doing so. Persecution of those who share your ideals can lead you to fall and become an ex-paladin.

Rank 6 – Zealous Offense

You gain a +1 bonus to your accuracy.

Rank 7 – Zealous Pursuit (Magical)

You can use the zealous pursuit ability as a minor action.

Zealous Pursuit

Magical

Usage time: One minor action

You teleport up to Distant (180 ft.) range into an unoccupied space on solid ground adjacent to one creature of your choice affected by your zealous fixation ability. You do not need line of sight or line of effect to the creature. If multiple valid destination spaces exist, you teleport into the one closest to your original location. If no valid destination spaces exist, this ability fails with no effect.

After you use this ability, you briefly cannot use it again.

Ex-Paladins

If you cease to follow your devoted alignment, you lose all magical paladin class abilities. If you atone for your misdeeds and resume the service of your devoted alignment, you can regain your abilities.

Ranger

Rangers are skilled hunters who bridge the divide between nature and civilization. They are typically most at home on the frontiers, keeping monsters and civilized groups from interfering with each other. Different rangers may have more personal affinity for civilization or for monsters.

Like druids and monks, rangers are seldom self-taught. Just as rangers occupy a middle space between society and the wilds beyond it, their abilities are a complex combination of training, experience, and gifts freely granted by Nature herself. The vast majority of people who might attempt to learn how to be a ranger on their own would focus too much on only one aspect of a ranger's abilities. These people might find the path to becoming a fighter, druid, or rogue instead.

Rangers draw their core power from their training, which includes extensive experience with weapons and armaments like a fighter. However, they also study the natural world and the environment around them. This study is more focused on practical knowledge about survival and hunting than the more reverent study of druids. During this wilderness experience, some rangers forge a deep bond with a single animal who follows them everywhere. This bond is intensified by Nature's influence, and has a hint of her magic in it. Others shy away from that level of commitment or find no meaning in it, and prefer a more solitary hunt.

Traditionally, a ranger's training occurs under an experienced ranger leader. Some rangers train small packs of new recruits at once, while others prefer to oversee a single apprentice. There are many ways that a would-be ranger might find a mentor, but no single certain way. Rangers in the wild do not tend to maintain long-term societal bonds like druidic circles, so there are fewer obvious ways to easily find an experienced mentor. Without druidic magic for long-distance communication, rangers struggle to maintain cohesion across the vast territories that they patrol, so they typically make no attempt to do so.

Rangers are sometimes employed by a government to keep its borders safe from monsters. They may also be found as bounty hunters, using their skills to hunt prey within civilization instead of at its edges. Still others live among druidic circles. More than any other class, rangers struggle to find a place to fully call home, and may wander between widely varied walks of life for years at a time. They are caught between worlds, and only some rangers find peace in that division.

Beastmaster

This archetype improves your connection to animals, allowing you to control and command them in battle.

Rank 1 – Animal Companion (Magical)

You can use the animal companion ability. This ability requires 8 hours of training and attunement which the target must actively participate in. You can compel a wild animal to undergo this training by sustaining the command ability from the Creature Handling skill (see Command, page 146).

Animal Companion

Attune, Emotion, Magical

Choose an adjacent non-elite Medium or smaller animal ally. Its level must not exceed your level. The target serves as a loyal companion to you. It follows your directions to the best of its ability.

Your magical connection to the animal improves its resilience and strength in combat. If any of its statistics are higher than the normal values below, the animal uses its own statistics instead. All other aspects of the animal, such as its speed and natural weapons, are unchanged.

- Its fatigue tolerance is 2.
- Its hit points and damage resistance are equal to the standard value for your Constitution + your level (see Table 3.5: Hit Points and Damage Resistance, page 31).
- Each of its defenses is equal to 5 + half your level.
- Its accuracy is equal to half your level + half your Perception.
- Its power with its attacks is 0.
- It has no attunement points.
- The damage dealt by its natural weapons increases by +1d for each rank in this archetype beyond 1.
- It does not make vital rolls, but it automatically drops unconscious if it gains a vital wound. If it gains three vital wounds, it dies.
- It automatically shares the benefits of all of your magic bonuses to hit points, damage resistance, and power.

Animals are unable to understand complex concepts, so their ability to obey convoluted instructions is limited.

Rank 2 – Pack Tactics

Any enemy that is adjacent to both you and your animal companion takes a -1 penalty to accuracy against creatures other than you.

Rank 3 – Beast Affinity

You gain a +3 bonus to the Creature Handling skill.

Rank 3 – Power of Beasts

You and your animal companion gain a +1d damage bonus with all weapons.

Attune, Swift, Subtle

Choose a creature within Long (120 ft.) range. The target becomes your quarry. You and your allies within the same range are called your hunting party. Your hunting party gains a +1 bonus to accuracy against your quarry. Because this ability has the Swift tag, this affects attacks against the target during the current phase.

Rank 2 – Hunting Styles

You learn specific hunting styles to defeat particular quarries. Choose two hunting styles from the list below. You can also spend insight points to learn one additional hunting style per insight point. When you use your quarry ability, you may also use one of your hunting styles. Each hunting style ability lasts as long as the quarry ability you used it with.

Anchoring

Magical

As long as your quarry is adjacent to any member of your hunting party, it cannot travel extradimensionally. This prevents all Manifestation and teleportation effects.

Rank 4: This effect instead applies if your quarry is within Medium (60 ft.) range of any member of your hunting party.

Rank 6: This effect instead applies if your quarry is within Distant (180 ft.) range of any member of your hunting party.

Rank 6: This effect instead applies if your quarry is within Distant (180 ft.) range of any member of your hunting party.

Rank 3 – Tracker

You gain a +3 bonus to the Survival skill. In addition, you gain a +10 bonus to follow tracks left by your quarry.

Rank 5 – Flexible Hunting Style

As a minor action, you can change which hunting style you have active.

Rank 6 – Hunter’s Prowess+

If you already have the blindsense ability, you increase its range by 120 feet. In addition, you gain blindsight with a 30 foot range, allowing you to see without light (see Blindsight, page 378). If you already have the blindsight ability, you increase its range by 30 feet.

Rank 4 – Skirmisher

You gain a +10 foot bonus to your land speed.

Rank 5 – Perceive Weakness+

The accuracy bonus increases to +2.

Rank 6 – Keen Vision+

The longshot penalty reduction increases to 2. In addition, the range of your darkvision increases by 120 feet. Your darkvision is also not disabled in bright illumination or when you become dazzled (20% miss chance, no special vision).

You can only learn wild maneuvers from wild combat styles that you have access to.

You learn two rank 1 wild maneuvers. You may spend insight points to learn one additional maneuver per insight point. Unless otherwise noted in an ability's description, using a maneuver requires a standard action.

Rank 3 – Wild Maneuvers+

You learn an additional wild maneuver. In addition, you gain access to rank 3 wild maneuvers.

Whenever you increase your rank in this archetype, you can change your enhancements. However, you must still apply them to rank 1 wild maneuvers.

Distant Maneuver: The range of your chosen maneuver doubles. You can only apply this enhancement to maneuvers that have a listed range limit.

Mobile Maneuver: You can move up to 5 feet before or after using your chosen maneuver. You cannot apply this enhancement to maneuvers that already allow you to move using one of your movement modes.

Rank 7 – Wild Maneuvers+

You learn an additional wild maneuver. In addition, you gain access to rank 7 wild maneuvers.

Rogue

Rogues are exceptionally skillful characters known for their ability to strike at their foe's weak points in combat. It is dangerous to make any assumptions about rogues. They can be acrobatic fighters, charismatic tricksters, inspiring musicians, stealthy assassins, or all of the above. All rogues share a fundamental flexibility, preferring to use the right tools for the situation rather than solving all of their problems in the same way.

A rogue's power fundamentally comes from experience, but it is seldom the rigorous, structured training that a fighter or monk might undertake. More often, rogues develop their talents by following their instincts and seeing what works and what doesn't. They may have a natural gift for persuasion that they develop into a fine edge through years of charismatic conversations. The back alleys of cities are a natural training ground, where education comes in the form of evading or receiving punishments for misdeeds.

While most of a rogue's skills are intuitively understandable and mundane, bardic music is an odd exception. There is an underlying structure to the universe that some scholars call the Universal Harmony. Exceptionally talented performances can hit tones that resonate with the Universal Harmony, which amplifies the effects of the performance beyond mundane limits. This is always a simple amplification, taking effects that would be a natural result of the music and multiplying their effects. A humorous musical piece can become outrageously funny, and an ominous piece can become utterly terrifying, but the full complexity of true spellcasting cannot be replicated in this way.

Some rogues discover the effects of the Universal Harmony for themselves. There also exist bardic colleges that are dedicated to the study and replication of effects amplified in this way, and rogues may attend these colleges to deepen their skills. Officially, bardic colleges train their attendees in musical theory and practical performance. Unofficially, many bardic colleges have recognized that many of their students have a variety of less reputable talents. These colleges may have night classes that train rogues in other skills, including effective deception and even assassination. They maintain a level of plausible deniability, but would-be rogues can often discover the truth and complete their training there.

Alignment: Any.

Archetypes: Rogues have the Assassin, Bardic Music, Combat Trickster, Jack of All Trades, and Suave Scoundrel archetypes.

- Four attunement points, which you can use to attune to items and abilities that affect you (see Attunement Points, page 30).

Assassin

This archetype improves your agility, stealth, and combat prowess against unaware targets.

Rank 1 – Sneak Attack

You can use the sneak attack ability as a standard action.

Sneak Attack

Make a strike with a light weapon or any weapon with the Stealthy weapon tag against a creature within Short (30 ft.) range.
If the target is unaware (–6 Armor and Ref) or partially unaware (50% miss chance, –2 Armor and Ref) of your attack, or if the target is adjacent to one of your allies, you gain two benefits. First, you gain a +2 damage bonus with the strike. Second, if you get a critical hit, you double all of your damage bonuses along with your damage dice. You do not gain these benefits against creatures that you are unable to score a critical hit against, such as excessively large creatures or oozes.

Rank 3: The damage bonus increases to +4.
Rank 5: The damage bonus increases to +8.
Rank 7: The damage bonus increases to +16.

Rank 2 – Evasion

You take half damage from abilities that affect an area and attack your Armor or Reflex defense. This does not protect you from any non-damaging effects of those abilities, or from abilities that affect multiple specific targets without affecting an area.

Rank 3 – Assassin's Finesse

You gain a +1d bonus to your damage with light weapons and any weapon with the Stealthy weapon tag.

Rank 3 – Darkstalker

You can use the darkstalker ability as a standard action.

DarkstalkerAttune

You become completely undetectable by your choice of one of the following sense groups:

- Blindsense and blindsight
- Darkvision
- Detection abilities
- Lifesense and lifesight
- Scent
- Scrying abilities
- Tremorsense and tremorsight

If you have access to any other more unusual senses, such as the blood sense ability from the Executioner feat, you may also choose one of those senses as a separate sense group.

Rank 4 – Hide in Plain Sight

You can use the hide ability without moving in a way that causes observers to lose sight of you. This does not remove the bonus that observers receive if you have no cover or concealment at all. After you hide in this way, you briefly cannot do so again.

Rank 5 – Assassination

You can use the assassination ability as a minor action.

AssassinationSwift

You study a creature within Medium (60 ft.) range, finding weak points you can take advantage of. As a brief effect, whenever you make a melee strikes against the target that it is unaware (–6 Armor and Ref), the strike deals maximum damage and automatically explodes regardless of what you roll.

Rank 5 – Darkstalker+

You can attune to this ability multiple times. Each time, you can choose a different sense group.

Rank 6 – Assassin's Finesse+

The damage bonus increases to +2d.

Rank 6 – Evasion+

This ability also protects you from area attacks against your Fortitude and Mental defenses.

Rank 7 – Darkstalker+

When you use this ability, you become undetectable by any number of the possible sense groups rather than only one.

Bardic Music

This archetype grants you the ability to inspire your allies and impair your foes with musical performances.

Rank 1 – Bardic Lore

You gain all Knowledge skills as class skills. In addition, you gain a bonus equal to your rank in this archetype to Knowledge skills that you are untrained with.

Rank 1 – Bardic Performances (Magical)

You learn two bardic performances from the list below. You can also spend insight points to learn one additional bardic performance per insight point. You can use any bardic performance you know as a standard action unless it specifies that it requires a different type of action to activate.

All bardic performances have the Auditory tag. When you use a bardic performance ability, you begin a performance using one of your Perform skills. You must use either an instrumental performance or a vocal performance, and not a visual performance. If you use a vocal performance, the bardic performance gains the Speech tag, preventing it from affecting creatures that do not speak the language you perform in. If you are trained with a Perform skill capable of making an auditory performance, you gain a +1 bonus to accuracy with any bardic performance ability using that perform skill.

The names of bardic performances do not have to precisely match your actual performance. For example, you can use the palliative poem ability with a gentle song using Perform (wind instruments) or a distracting joke using Perform (comedy) instead of a poem.

Many bardic performances require you to sustain the performance as a minor action. If the targets stop being able to see or hear you, depending on the nature of your performance, the effect ends for them as if you had stopped sustaining the performance. However, targets do not stop being affected by your performance simply by travelling beyond the initial range of the bardic performance ability. Using a bardic performance ability with an immediate effect does not interfere with your ability to sustain other bardic performance abilities.

Sorcerer

Sorcerers are arcane spellcasters who draw power from their inherently magical nature. They require no training or external sources to access their magical abilities. Many sorcerers intuitively used their magic to influence their surroundings long before they understood exactly what they were doing, or that they were tapping into powers others could not.

Of all classes, sorcerers are the most likely to be completely self-trained. Each sorcerer has a unique connection to their magical nature, and they often have idiosyncratic requirements or limitations. For example, a sorcerer may feel ravenously hungry after tapping into their powers, or they may need to spend time upside down each day to “recharge” their magic.

The gestures and incantations spoken by sorcerers are similarly diverse - if they require any spellcasting components at all. Some sorcerers channel their magic through martial arts and battle cries, and may be easily confused with barbarians or monks. Others believe their magic comes from external forces, such as nature spirits or strange entities that they imagine for themselves. Still others study magic extensively and imagine themselves to be wizards, but their conclusions are nonsensical and no one else can replicate their findings. The only certainty is that each sorcerer is unique.

The true cause of a sorcerer’s magic has more consistency than its expression. Sorcerers do not draw power from their life energy or any internal storage, like monks do. Instead, they steal power from the primal forces of the universe, as wizards do. Sorcerers are intrinsic conduits for that raw power, and they can deepen their connection with experience. A sorcerer’s nature is fundamentally their birthright, and it cannot be learned.

Of course, that doesn’t entirely explain why sorcerers are intrinsic conduits. No one knows exactly how to predict or explain sorcerous potential. However, sorcerers are much more common in bloodlines that have immortal ancestors. Most commonly, this means draconic ancestry, and some sorcerers specifically tap into their draconic potential. However, celestial or infernal heritage is also not unheard of, and even stranger ancestry is possible. In addition, sorcerers seem to be more common in areas that have been affected by powerful magic.

Alignment: Any.

Archetypes: Sorcerers have the Arcane Magic, Arcane Spell Mastery, Draconic Magic, Innate Arcanist, and Wild Magic archetypes.

Basic Class Abilities

If you are a sorcerer, you gain the following abilities.

Defenses

You gain the following bonuses to your defenses: +3 Fortitude, +5 Reflex, +7 Mental.

Resources

You have the following resources:

- Five attunement points, which you can use to attune to items and abilities that affect you (see Attunement Points, page 30).

- A fatigue tolerance equal to 4 + your Constitution + half your Willpower. Your fatigue tolerance makes it easier for you to use powerful abilities that fatigue you (see Fatigue, page 30).
- A number of insight points equal to 2 + your Intelligence. You can spend insight points to gain additional abilities (see Insight Points, page 23).
- Three trained skills from among your class skills, plus additional trained skills equal to your Intelligence (see Skills, page 142).

Weapon Proficiencies

You are proficient with simple weapons.

Armor Proficiencies

You are not proficient with any type of armor. Encumbrance from armor interferes with the gestures you make to cast spells, which can cause your spells with somatic components to fail (see Somatic Component Failure, page 50).

Class Skills

You have the following class skills:

- Intelligence: Craft, Deduction, Knowledge (arcana, planes), Linguistics.
- Perception: Awareness, Deception, Persuasion.
- Other: Intimidate.

Arcane Magic

This archetype grants you the ability to cast arcane spells. All abilities from this archetype are magical.

Rank 1 – Arcane Spells

Your soulkeeper grants you the ability to use pact magic. You gain access to one arcane mystic sphere, plus the universal mystic sphere (see Arcane Mystic Spheres, page 244). You may spend insight points to gain access to one additional arcane mystic sphere per two insight points. You can only learn arcane spells from arcane mystic spheres that you have access to.

You automatically learn all cantrips from each mystic sphere you have access to. In addition, you learn two rank 1 arcane spells. You can also spend insight points to learn one additional rank 1 spell per insight point.

Arcane spells require both verbal components and somatic components to cast (see Casting Components, page 50). Unless otherwise noted in a spell's description, casting any spell requires a standard action. For details about mystic spheres and casting spells, see Spell and Ritual Mechanics, page 50.

When you gain access to a new mystic sphere or spell rank, you can forget any number of spells you know to learn that many new spells in exchange, including spells of the higher rank.

Advancement: The maximum rank of arcane spells that you can learn is equal to your rank in this archetype. Arcane spells also increase in power in unique ways based on your rank in this archetype, as indicated in their descriptions.

Rank 1 – Mage Armor

You can use the mage armor ability as a standard action.

Mage Armor

You create a translucent suit of magical armor on your body and over your hands. This functions like body armor that provides a +2 bonus to your Armor defense and has no encumbrance. It also provides a bonus to damage resistance equal to twice your rank in this archetype.

You can also use a free hand to wield the barrier as a shield. This functions like a buckler, granting you a +1 bonus to your Armor defense, except that you do not need to be proficient with light armor. Since this bonus comes from a shield, it does not stack with the benefits of using any other shield.

This ability lasts until you use it again or until you dismiss it as a free action. In addition, it is automatically dismissed if you wear other body armor of any kind.

Rank 2 – Arcane Spells+

You learn an additional arcane spell.

Rank 3 – Mage Armor+

The damage resistance bonus increases to three times your rank in this archetype.

Rank 4 – Arcane Spells+

You learn an additional arcane spell.

Rank 6 – Mage Armor+

The damage resistance bonus increases to four times your rank in this archetype. In addition, the defense bonus from the body armor increases to +3.

Rank 7 – Arcane Spells+

You learn an additional arcane spell.

Arcane Spell Mastery

This archetype improves the arcane spells you cast. You must have the Arcane Magic archetype from the sorcerer class to gain the abilities from this archetype. All abilities from this archetype are magical.

Rank 1 – Mystic Insight

You learn how to further refine your spellcasting abilities. Choose two mystic insights from the list below. You can also spend insight points to learn one additional mystic insight per insight point. You cannot choose the same spell with more than two mystic insight abilities.

Distant Spell: Choose an arcane spell you know with a standard range: Short, Medium, Long, Distant, or Extreme. You increase that spell's range to the next standard range category, to a maximum of Extreme range. You can choose this ability multiple times, choosing a different spell each time. Whenever you learn a new spell, you may change which of your spells this ability affects.

Precise Spell: Choose an arcane spell you know. You gain a +1 bonus to accuracy with that spell. You can choose this ability multiple times, choosing a different spell each time. Whenever you learn a new spell, you may change which of your spells this ability affects.

Powerful Spell: Choose an arcane spell you know. You gain a +2 bonus to your power with that spell. This bonus increases to +4 at rank 3, +8 at rank 5, and +16 at rank 7. You can choose this ability multiple times, choosing a different spell each time. Whenever you learn a new spell, you may change which of your spells this ability affects.

Widened Spell: Choose an arcane spell you know with a standard area: Small, Medium, Large, Huge, or Gargantuan. You increase that spell's area to the next standard area category, to a maximum of a Gargantuan area. You can choose this ability multiple times, choosing a different spell each time. Whenever you learn a new spell, you may change which of your spells this ability affects.

Rank 2 – Desperate Improvization

Whenever you use the desperate exertion ability to affect an attack roll from a spell you cast during the current phase, you can change which spell you cast before rerolling. The new spell must still make an attack. You can make different choices for how you resolve the new spell, such as choosing different targets. However, the new spell must still have all of the same choices about how it was cast, including the use of the wildspell ability. This does not cause you to reroll the wild magic roll.

When you use this ability to change your spell, you must take the result of the second roll, even if it is worse. The new spell takes its full effect as if you had cast it originally, and the original spell has no effect of any kind. This is a Swift ability.

Rank 3 – Wellspring of Power

You gain a +2 bonus to your power.

Rank 4 – Mystic Insight+

You gain an additional mystic insight.

Rank 5 – Attunement Point

You gain an additional attunement point.

Rank 6 – Wellspring of Power+

The power bonus increases to +6.

Rank 7 – Mystic Insight+

You gain two additional mystic insights.

Draconic Magic

Not all sorcerers know the reason for their innate connection to magic. Some discover that they have draconic blood in their veins, and some of those sorcerers learn how to tap into their heritage. This archetype deepens your magical connection to your draconic ancestor and enhances your spellcasting. You must have the Arcane Magic archetype from the sorcerer class to gain the abilities from this archetype.

Rank 1 – Draconic Bloodline (Magical)

Choose a type of dragon from among the dragons on Table 6.11: Draconic Bloodline Types. You have the blood of that type of dragon in your veins. You are impervious to damage of the type dealt by that dragon's breath weapon.

Table 6.11: Draconic Bloodline Types

Dragon	Damage Type	Mystic Sphere
Black	Acid	Vivimancy
Blue	Electricity	Electromancy
Brass	Fire	Enchantment
Bronze	Electricity	Revelation
Copper	Acid	Terramancy
Gold	Fire	Photomancy
Green	Acid	Compulsion
Red	Fire	Pyromancy
Silver	Cold	Telekinesis
White	Cold	Cryomancy

Rank 1 – Draconic Spells (Magical)

If you already have access to your dragon's mystic sphere, you learn two spells from that sphere. Otherwise, you gain access to that mystic sphere, including all cantrips from that sphere.

Rank 2 – Draconic Hide (Magical)

You gain a bonus equal to three times your rank in this archetype to your damage resistance.

Rank 3 – Draconic Scales (Magical)

You gain a +1 bonus to your Armor defense.

Rank 4 – Draconic Precision (Magical)

You gain a +1 bonus to accuracy with any spell that either deals damage of your dragon's damage type or is from your dragon's mystic sphere.

Rank 5 – Energy Immunity (Magical)

You become immune to your dragon's damage type.

Rank 6 – Draconic Hide+ (Magical)

The damage resistance bonus increases to five times your rank in this archetype.

Rank 7 – Draconic Precision+ (Magical)

The accuracy bonus increases to +2.

Innate Arcanist

This archetype deepens your innate connection to arcane magic and improves your ability to defeat other spellcasters. You must have the Arcane Magic archetype from the sorcerer class to gain the abilities from this archetype. All abilities from this archetype are magical.

Rank 1 – Arcane Infusion

You gain a magic bonus equal to twice your rank in this archetype to your hit points and damage resistance. Because this is a magic bonus, it does not stack with other magic bonuses (see Stacking Rules, page 54).

Rank 1 – Innate Magic

None of your arcane spells have somatic components or verbal components.

Rank 2 – Spell Absorption

Whenever another creature uses a spell to attack you, if that spell does not have the Attune tag, you can choose to absorb its energy. This does not reduce the spell's effect on you, but it grants you the ability to cast the spell. When you cast the spell, you use your own accuracy, power, and abilities to determine the effects of the spell.

Whenever you are attacked by a new spell, if you already have the ability to cast a spell with this ability, you choose whether to absorb the new spell or retain your currently absorbed spell. When you take a long rest, you lose the ability to cast any spells you have stored with this ability.

Rank 3 – Implement Freedom

You can gain the benefits of one magical implement, such as a staff or wand, without having to hold it in your hands. You must still have it on your person, such as in a pocket or strapped to your back, and you must still be attuned to it to gain its benefits. This ability only affects one implement at a time.

Rank 4 – Arcane Infusion+

The magic bonuses increase to three times your rank in this archetype.

Rank 5 – Spell Absorption+

You can retain up to two spells with this ability. In addition, whenever you absorb a spell, you gain a +2 accuracy bonus with that spell during the next round.

Rank 6 – Implement Freedom+

You can gain the benefits of an additional magical implement with this ability. In addition, you gain an additional attunement point. You can only use this attunement point to attune to magic implements.

Rank 7 – Spell Absorption+

You can absorb and retain any magical attack with this ability, not just spells. In addition, the accuracy bonus increases to +4.

Wild Magic

This archetype makes the magic you cast more chaotic, generally increasing its power at the cost of your control over your magic. You must have the Arcane Magic archetype from the sorcerer class to gain the abilities from this archetype. All abilities from this archetype are magical.

Rank 1 – Wildspell

Whenever you cast a spell that does not have the Attune or Sustain tags, you may use this ability after making all other decisions for the spell (such as targets, intended area, and so on). When you do, you gain a +2 bonus to power with the spell. In addition, roll 1d10 and apply the corresponding wild magic effect from Table 6.12: Wild Magic Effects. Some wild magic effects cannot be meaningfully applied to all spells. For example, changing the damage dealt by a spell does not affect spells that do not deal damage. Any wildspell effects that do not make sense for a particular spell have no effect. The rolled wild magic effect always applies to the round that you cast the spell, even if the spell doesn't have its normal effect immediately.

Table 6.12: Wild Magic Effects

Roll	Effect
1	The spell fails with no effect

Rank 2 – Chaotic Insight

You learn a spell that does not have the Attune or Sustain tags from any mystic sphere, even if you do not have access to that mystic sphere. Rank 3 – Chaotic Exertion

You gain a +2 bonus to the roll when you use the desperate exertion ability. This bonus stacks with the normal +2 bonus provided by that ability.

The power bonus increases to +5. In addition, if you use the desperate exertion ability on a spell affected by this ability, you can reroll the wild magic roll for that spell in addition to the normal effects of the desperate exertion ability. You do not gain any bonus to the wild magic reroll.

Warlock

Warlocks are pact spellcasters who draw their power from a sinister deal made with infernal creatures. Their soulkeeper grants them access to great magical power. However, they must content with the whispers of demonic influence throughout their life, and they risk losing their immortal soul.

Most people view warlocks with suspicion, if not outright hostility. Few warlocks are noble individuals who undertook their pact out of some self-sacrificing necessity. Instead, warlocks are often power-hungry individuals who willingly fall under demonic influence to serve their own ends. Even warlocks who start out with good intentions can be led astray over the years. It takes great wisdom and mental fortitude to resist the constant pressure of a soulkeeper's twisted advice.

Warlocks are typically self-taught, or more accurately, educated by their soulkeeper in the use of their powers. It is not uncommon for warlocks to search for warlock mentors so they can master their powers without completely trusting their soulkeeper. These relationships are typically based on contracts and expectations of future services from the apprentice once their training is complete, just like a soul pact. A certain level of mistrust is common, and apprentices sometimes successfully betray their mentors, just like they hope to escape their soulkeeper's clutches. To minimize the danger of these relationships, warlock mentors almost never take more than a single apprentice at a time.

Clerics and warlocks have a complicated relationship. From a certain perspective, they both gain power in exchange for their service to a powerful extraplanar entity. Warlocks often enjoy emphasizing the similarity, which can be a useful rhetorical tool to mitigate anti-warlock prejudice. For their part, clerics tend to strongly disagree with this analogy.

Rogues tend to get along better with warlocks than most classes do. Many rogues have a “do whatever works” attitude that helps them understand why warlocks would make a soul pact, even if they might not make the same pact themselves. In addition, rogues are generally flexible about their companions, and wouldn't begrudge having a warlock in a group as long as the warlock doesn't cause problems.

Special Class Abilities

Soul Pact

To become a warlock, you must make a pact with a creature capable of sharing its power with you. Such a creature must be 21st level, and must be a planeformed from a plane other than your own. You must make a sacrifice, the details of which are subject to negotiation, and offer a part of your immortal soul. In exchange, you gain the powers of a warlock. The creature you make the pact with is called your soulkeeper. Almost all warlocks make pacts with demons, though other soulkeepers are possible.

Offering your soul to an entity in this way grants it the ability to communicate with you in limited ways. This communication typically manifests as unnatural emotional urges or whispered voices audible only to you. Many soulkeepers use this influence to tempt their warlocks into greater evils, though the skill and subtlety of this influence can vary drastically between different soulkeepers.

Your pact specifies how much of your soul is granted to your soulkeeper, and the circumstances of the transfer. The most common arrangement is for a soulkeeper to gain possession of your soul immediately after you die. It will keep the soul for one decade per year of your life that you spend as a warlock. During that time, it will not prevent you from being resurrected. At the end of that time, if your soul remains intact, your soul will pass on to its intended afterlife. However, other arrangements are possible, and each warlock's pact can be unique.

The longer you spend in an afterlife that is not your own, the more likely you are to lose your sense of self and become subsumed by the plane you are on. Only a soul of extraordinary strength can maintain its integrity after decades or centuries in any plane. Of course, soulkeepers generally try to accelerate this process as much as possible with various forms of torture. Many warlocks seek power zealously while mortal to gain the mental fortitude necessary to keep their soul intact after death.

Whispers of the Lost (Magical)

You hear the voices of souls that inhabit your soulkeeper's plane, linked to you through your soulkeeper. Choose one of the following types of whispers that you hear.

Mentoring Whispers: You hear the voice of a dead warlock whose soul is bound to the same soulkeeper as yours.

Spiteful Whispers: You hear the voices of cruel souls who berate you for your flaws and mistakes.

Sycophantic Whispers: You hear the voices of adoring souls who praise your talents and everything you do.

Warning Whispers: You hear the voices of paranoid and fearful souls warning you of danger, both real and imagined.

Whispers of the Mighty: Your soulkeeper forges the connection to your soul into a boon granted to any soul in the Abyss strong enough to claim it in battle. You hear the voice of whatever soul currently possesses the boon, which may change suddenly and unexpectedly.

Blessings of the Abyss

You can only choose this archetype if your soulkeeper is a demon. This archetype enhances your connection to the Abyss and allows you to channel its sinister power more directly. All abilities from this archetype are magical.

Rank 1 – Abyssal Rebuke

Rank 2 – Resist the Dark Call

If you do not have access to pact magic, you gain a +2 bonus to your Mental defense and a +1 bonus to your fatigue tolerance.

Rank 3 – Banish to the Abyss

You can use the banish to the abyss ability as a standard action.

Banish to the Abyss

Make an attack vs. Mental against one creature within Medium (60 ft.) range.

Hit: The target takes 1d10 + half power fire damage. If it loses hit points from this damage, it is briefly teleported into the Abyss. At the end of the next round, it teleports back to its original location, or into the closest open space if that location is occupied. After it returns, it becomes immune to being teleported in this way until it takes a short rest.

The damage increases by +1d for each rank beyond 3.

Rank 5: You gain a +1 bonus to accuracy with the attack.

Rank 7: The accuracy bonus increases to +2.

Rank 4 – Hellfire

Rank 1 – Eldritch Secret

You learn one secret of your choice from the following list. Each secret grants great power at a cost.

Secret of Bloodforging: While you are not wearing other body armor, your blood flows to the surface of your skin, manifesting a carapace of armor around you. This functions like body armor that provides a +4 bonus to your Armor defense and has no encumbrance. It also provides a bonus equal to three times your rank in this archetype to your damage resistance. However, the recover ability no longer causes you to recover hit points (see Recover, page 61).

Secret of Bloodsharing: Once per round, when you deal damage to a creature that causes it to lose hit points, you regain hit points equal to 1d3 + half your power. You cannot regain more hit points in this way than the target lost from your attack. This healing increases by +1d for each rank beyond 1. However, whenever you take damage, half of that damage is applied to your hit points directly, ignoring your resistances.

Secret of Soul cursing: Whenever you would inflict a condition on a creature that is not already under the effects of a Curse, that effect becomes a Curse on it instead of a condition. It is removed when the creature takes a short rest. However, whenever you would gain a condition that you are not immune to, that effect becomes a Curse on you instead of a condition. If you were already affected by a Curse from this ability, the old Curse becomes a condition instead. Whenever you take a short rest, you remove any Curse affecting you as a result of this ability.

Rank 1 – Reader of Hidden Tomes

You treat all Knowledge skills as class skills for you.

Rank 2 – Unnatural Insight

You gain up to two additional insight points. For each insight point you gain in this way, you take a -1 penalty to all skills other than Knowledge skills. For each insight point you choose not to gain in this way, you gain a +1 bonus to all Knowledge skills.

Rank 3 – Lore of Corrupting Power

You gain a +3 bonus to power. However, you take a -2 penalty to Mental defense.

Rank 4 – Eldritch Secret+

You take a -2 penalty to Fortitude and Mental defenses. You are unable to take standard actions that do not cause you to make magical attacks. Wizard

Wizards are arcane spellcasters who study magic to unlock its powerful secrets. They have spent years studying the primal forces that define the universe. Their extensive research has revealed complicated ways in which those forces can be accessed and manipulated by mere mortals.

Wizards are almost never completely self-taught. The primal forces of the universe do not give up their power easily, and the methods used to access that power are unintuitive. Most wizards learn at arcane colleges or through direct mentorship by older, wiser wizards. Even wizard prodigies who learn alone have some access to the research performed by wizards over the centuries, generally in the form of massive books.

There are two fundamental principles of arcane magic that are shared by all wizards. The first principle is the creation of links between planes. A wizard can expend a small amount of energy to open an extremely small, extremely short-lived interdimensional gate that leads to a source of power. The destination for this gate depends on the mystic sphere the wizard are manipulating. As a simple example, pyromancy spells generally require gates to the Plane of Fire. Other spheres can be more complex. For example, revelation spells generally require gates that lead to prescient entities or extraplanar sites with powerful ambient magic.

The second principle is the manipulation of raw power accessed through these gates. Wizards learn how to create complex magical bindings that can store power and release it in highly specific ways. This allows them to create long-lasting effects that were fueled by extremely brief flashes of power.

Sorcerers are an endless fascination and source of frustration to wizards. While wizards must spend years or decades perfecting their art, sorcerers are able to easily and intuitively replicate the same techniques for accessing and binding magical energy. This often makes younger wizards jealous. Wizards have spent centuries trying to understand how to mimic the shortcuts that sorcerers use, with little success. However, sorcerers lack the ability to perform complex arcane rituals that do not allow any simple shortcuts. Many older wizards regard this as a crippling weakness.

Alignment: Any.

Archetypes: Wizards have the Arcane Magic, Arcane Spell Mastery, Alchemist, Arcane Scholar, and School Specialist archetypes.

Basic Class Abilities

If you are a wizard, you gain the following abilities.

Defenses

You gain the following bonuses to your defenses: +3 Fortitude, +5 Reflex, +7 Mental.

You have the following resources:

- Five attunement points, which you can use to attune to items and abilities that affect you (see Attunement Points, page 30).

- A number of insight points equal to 3 + your Intelligence. You can spend insight points to gain additional abilities (see Insight Points, page 23).
- Five trained skills from among your class skills, plus additional trained skills equal to your Intelligence (see Skills, page 142).

Weapon Proficiencies

You are proficient with simple weapons.

Arcane Magic

This archetype grants you the ability to cast arcane spells. All abilities from this archetype are magical.

Rank 1 – Arcane Spells

Your soulkeeper grants you the ability to use pact magic. You gain access to one arcane mystic sphere, plus the universal mystic sphere (see Arcane Mystic Spheres, page 244). You may spend insight points to gain access to one additional arcane mystic sphere per two insight points. You can only learn arcane spells from arcane mystic spheres that you have access to.

You automatically learn all cantrips from each mystic sphere you have access to. In addition, you learn two rank 1 arcane spells. You can also spend insight points to learn one additional rank 1 spell per insight point.

Arcane spells require both verbal components and somatic components to cast (see Casting Components, page 50). Unless otherwise noted in a spell's description, casting any spell requires a standard action. For details about mystic spheres and casting spells, see Spell and Ritual Mechanics, page 50.

When you gain access to a new mystic sphere or spell rank, you can forget any number of spells you know to learn that many new spells in exchange, including spells of the higher rank.

Advancement: The maximum rank of arcane spells that you can learn is equal to your rank in this archetype. Arcane spells also increase in power in unique ways based on your rank in this archetype, as indicated in their descriptions.

Rank 1 – Mage Armor

You can use the mage armor ability as a standard action.

Mage Armor

You create a translucent suit of magical armor on your body and over your hands. This functions like body armor that provides a +2 bonus to your Armor defense and has no encumbrance. It also provides a bonus to damage resistance equal to twice your rank in this archetype.

You can also use a free hand to wield the barrier as a shield. This functions like a buckler, granting you a +1 bonus to your Armor defense, except that you do not need to be proficient with light armor. Since this bonus comes from a shield, it does not stack with the benefits of using any other shield.

This ability lasts until you use it again or until you dismiss it as a free action. In addition, it is automatically dismissed if you wear other body armor of any kind.

Rank 2 – Arcane Spells+

You learn an additional arcane spell.

Rank 3 – Mage Armor+

The damage resistance bonus increases to three times your rank in this archetype.

Rank 4 – Arcane Spells+

You learn an additional arcane spell.

Rank 6 – Mage Armor+

The damage resistance bonus increases to four times your rank in this archetype. In addition, the defense bonus from the body armor increases to +3.

This archetype improves the arcane spells you cast. You must have the Arcane Magic archetype from the wizard class to gain the abilities from this archetype. All abilities from this archetype are magical.

Rank 1 – Mystic Insight

You learn how to further refine your spellcasting abilities. Choose two mystic insights from the list below. You can also spend insight points to learn one additional mystic insight per insight point. You cannot choose the same spell with more than two mystic insight abilities.

Distant Spell: Choose an arcane spell you know with a standard range: Short, Medium, Long, Distant, or Extreme. You increase that spell's range to the next standard range category, to a maximum of Extreme range. You can choose this ability multiple times, choosing a different spell each time. Whenever you learn a new spell, you may change which of your spells this ability affects.

Mystic Sphere: You gain access to an additional arcane mystic sphere, including all cantrips from that sphere. You cannot choose this ability multiple times.

Precise Spell: Choose an arcane spell you know. You gain a +1 bonus to accuracy with that spell. You can choose this ability multiple times, choosing a different spell each time. Whenever you learn a new spell, you may change which of your spells this ability affects.

Rituals: You gain the ability to perform arcane rituals to create unique magical effects (see Rituals, page 51). The maximum rank of arcane ritual you can learn or perform is equal to the maximum rank of arcane spell that you can cast. In addition, you automatically learn one free arcane ritual of each rank you have access to, including new ranks as you gain access to them. You cannot choose this ability multiple times.

Widened Spell: Choose an arcane spell you know with a standard area: Small, Medium, Large, Huge, or Gargantuan. You increase that spell's area to the next standard area category, to a maximum of a Gargantuan area. You can choose this ability multiple times, choosing a different spell each time. Whenever you learn a new spell, you may change which of your spells this ability affects.

Rank 2 – Intricate Spell

Whenever you cast a spell during the action phase, you may use this ability to extend the casting time. If you do, the spell does not take effect until the delayed action phase. In exchange, you gain a +1 bonus to accuracy with the spell if you did not lose hit points during the action phase.

Rank 3 – Wellspring of Power

You gain a +2 bonus to your power.

Rank 4 – Mystic Insight+

You gain an additional mystic insight.

Rank 5 – Attunement Point

You gain an additional attunement point.

Rank 6 – Wellspring of Power+

The power bonus increases to +6.

Rank 7 – Mystic Insight+

You gain two additional mystic insights.

Alchemist

This archetype improves your ability to use alchemy to create unusual concoctions to aid your allies and harm your foes.

Rank 1 – Alchemical Power (Magical)

You can add half your power to the damage or healing caused by any alchemical items you use.

Rank 1 – Portable Workshop (Magical)

You carry materials necessary to refine low-grade alchemical items wherever you are. Where you lack material components, you fill in with some of your own magic, allowing you to create items more easily. The items are just as effective when used as items created normally. However, they are less durable, since they are partially sustained by your magic. Items created with this ability deteriorate and become useless after 24 hours or after you finish a long rest, whichever comes first.

You can use this ability to create alchemical items with a rank up to your rank in this archetype (see Item Ranks, page 159). Creating an item in this way functions in the same way as crafting alchemical items normally, with the following changes. First, you do not require any raw materials. Second, you can create up to three items with this ability with 5 minutes of work. Third, you can only maintain the existence of three items with this ability at once. If you try to create a fourth item, you must stop maintaining the existence of another item created. You can do this as a free action regardless of distance. This removes any lingering effects from the removed item, such as the protective qualities of an antitoxin elixir.

Rank 2 – Alchemical Discovery (Magical)

You learn how to create alchemical items more effectively. You gain your choice of one of the following benefits. Each benefit can only be chosen once.

Aerodynamic Construction: You double the range of thrown alchemical items you create. This does not affect alchemical items that are not designed to be thrown.

Complex Construction: You can use your portable workshop ability to create items with a rank up to one higher than your rank in this archetype.

Efficient Crafting: When you craft an alchemical item without using your portable workshop ability, you treat it as if it was one rank lower than its actual rank for the purpose of determining its material requirements.

Explosive Construction: The area affected by any alchemical item you create is doubled.

Potent Construction: Whenever you create an alchemical item that deals damage or regains hit points, you double the item's flat modifier to damage or healing. For example, a firebomb would deal 1d10+2 damage instead of 1d10+1 damage. This modifier applies before you calculate any other damage modifiers, such as the power bonus from your alchemical infusion ability.

Repetitive Construction: Whenever you use your portable workshop ability, you can create two copies of the same alchemical item. This only counts as one item for the purpose of determining the number of items you can maintain with that ability.

Rank 3 – Alchemical Infusion (Magical)

Whenever you use an alchemical item, you gain a +1d bonus to any damage or healing caused by the item for each rank by which your rank in this archetype exceeds the item's rank.

Rank 3 – Alchemical Tolerance (Magical)

You gain a +1 bonus to your Fortitude defense. In addition, you are immune to poisons.

Rank 4 – Alchemical Discovery+ (Magical)

You gain an additional alchemical discovery ability.

Rank 5 – Experienced Quaffing

You can drink up to two doses of potions, elixirs, and other drinkable alchemical items as part of the same standard action.

Rank 5 – Portable Workshop+ (Magical)

The number of items you can simultaneously create and maintain with this ability increases to be equal to your rank in this archetype.

Rank 6 – Alchemical Discovery+ (Magical)

You gain an additional alchemical discovery ability.

Rank 7 – Alchemical Tolerance+ (Magical)

The defense bonus increases to +2. In addition, you are immune to acid damage.

Rank 7 – Experienced Quaffing+

You can drink a single dose of a potion, elixir, or other drinkable alchemical item as a minor action.

Arcane Scholar

This archetype deepens your study of arcane magic. You have the Arcane Magic archetype from the wizard class to gain the abilities from this archetype. All abilities from this archetype are magical.

Rank 1 – Ritualist

You gain the ability to perform arcane rituals to create unique magical effects (see Rituals, page 51). The maximum rank of arcane ritual you can learn or perform is equal to the maximum rank of arcane spell that you can cast. In addition, you automatically learn one free arcane ritual of each rank you have access to, including new ranks as you gain access to them.

Rank 1 – Spell Knowledge

You learn an additional spell from any arcane mystic sphere that you have access to.

Rank 2 – Scholastic Insight

You gain one of the following insights. Some insights can be chosen multiple times, as indicated in their descriptions.

Esoteric Spell Knowledge: You learn a single spell from any arcane mystic sphere. You do not need to have access to that mystic sphere. This does not grant you access to that mystic sphere for any other purposes. Whenever you gain access to a new mystic sphere or spell rank, you may choose a different spell with this ability.

You can choose this insight multiple times, learning an additional spell each time.

Expanded Sphere Access: You gain access to a new mystic sphere.

You cannot choose this insight multiple times.

Memorized Sphere: Choose a mystic sphere you have access to. You can perform rituals from that mystic sphere without having them written in your ritual book.

You can choose this insight multiple times, choosing a different mystic sphere each time.

Sphere Specialization: Choose a mystic sphere you have access to. You gain a power bonus equal to your rank in this archetype and a +1 accuracy bonus with abilities from that mystic sphere. In exchange, you must lose access to another mystic sphere you have. You must exchange all spells you know from that mystic sphere with spells from other mystic spheres you have access to.

You cannot choose this insight multiple times.

Rank 3 – Contingency

You gain the ability to prepare a spell so it takes effect automatically if specific circumstances arise. Preparing a spell with this ability takes 5 minutes. When the preparation is complete, the spell has no immediate effect. Instead, it automatically takes effect when some specific circumstances arise. During the time required to cast the spell, you specify what circumstances cause the spell to take effect.

The spell can be set to trigger in response to any circumstances that a typical human observing you and your situation could detect. For example, you could specify “when I fall at least 50 feet” or

“when I take a vital wound”, but not “when there is an invisible creature within 50 feet of me” or “when I have only one hit point remaining.” The more specific the required circumstances, the better – vague requirements, such as “when I am in danger”, may cause the spell to trigger unexpectedly or fail to trigger at all. If you attempt to specify multiple separate triggering conditions, such as “when I take damage or when an enemy is adjacent to me”, the spell will randomly ignore all but one of the conditions.

If the spell needs to be targeted, the trigger condition can specify a simple rule for identifying how to target the spell, such as “the closest enemy”. If the rule is poorly worded or imprecise, the spell may target incorrectly or fail to activate at all. Any spells which require decisions, such as the dimension door spell, must have those decisions made at the time it is cast. You cannot alter those decisions when the contingency takes effect.

You can have only one spell with this ability active at a time. If you use this ability again with a different spell, the old contingency is removed.

Rank 4 – Scholastic Insight+

You gain an additional scholastic insight.

Rank 5 – Ritual Leader

Whenever you lead a ritual, it requires half the normal number of fatigue levels and half the normal time to complete, to a minimum of zero fatigue levels.

Rank 6 – Scholastic Insight+

You gain an additional scholastic insight.

Rank 7 – Contingency+

You may have two separate contingencies active at the same time. Each contingency may have separate triggering conditions. Only one contingency can trigger each round. If multiple contingencies would activate simultaneously, choose one to activate randomly.

School Specialist

This archetype improves your ability to cast spells from a particular school of magic while sacrificing some versatility. You have the Arcane Magic archetype from the wizard class to gain the abilities from this archetype. All abilities from this archetype are magical.

Rank 1 – School Specialization

The arcane mystic spheres can be divided into six traditional schools of magic. Choose one of the following schools of magic. You are a specialist in your chosen school. You cannot gain access to any arcane mystic spheres outside of your specialized school, and you cannot learn spells or rituals from those spheres by any means. In exchange, you gain an additional insight point, and you gain a benefit based on your specialized school.

Abjuration: The telekinesis and thaumaturgy mystic spheres. If you specialize in this school, you gain a bonus equal to three times your rank in this archetype to your damage resistance. In addition, you gain a +1 bonus to your Armor defense.

Conjuration: The astromancy, fabrication, and summoning mystic spheres. If you specialize in this school, you gain a +30 foot bonus to the range of arcane spells you cast.

Evocation: The cryomancy, electromancy, and pyromancy mystic spheres. If you specialize in this school, you gain a +2 bonus to your power.

Illusion: The enchantment, photomancy, and umbramancy mystic spheres. If you specialize in this school, you gain a +1 bonus to your accuracy.

Evocation: You are impervious to cold damage, electricity damage, and fire damage.

Illusion: You are immune to being dazzled (20% miss chance, no special vision) and blinded (50% miss chance, -2 Armor and Ref).

Transmutation: You are immune to being slowed (half speed, -1 Ref) and immobilized (-4 Ref, cannot use movement speeds).

Necromancy: You are impervious to attacks from creatures with less than half of their maximum hit points remaining and undead creatures.

Rank 7 – School Specialization+

Your understanding of your chosen school reaches its full potential.

Abjuration: The bonus to damage resistance increases to five times your rank in this archetype. In addition, the Armor bonus increases to +2.

Conjuration: The range improvement increases to +120 feet.

Evocation: The power bonus increases to +12.

Illusion: The accuracy bonus increases to +2.

Transmutation: The defense bonus increases to +4. In addition, you can change which defense the bonus applies to as a free action.

Necromancy: The hit point bonus increases to five times your rank in this archetype. In addition, the Fortitude bonus increases to +3.

Chapter 7

Skills

Skills represent the myriad of talents that people can have, such as cooking or swimming. This chapter describes each skill, including common uses for those skills.

As a reminder, the GM should feel especially free to improvise or expand on the rules governing skills. Unlike maneuvers or spells, skills have a broad and ambiguous purview. If it feels relevant to the skill, it's generally fine to allow a check to make a player's action succeed, especially for fun-sounding improvisations.

Skill Overview

This section describes how you use skills. For details about how you become trained with particular skills, see Trained Skills, page 142.

Trained Skills

You are trained in certain skills. Your class gives you a certain number of trained skills from among the class skills for that class. The class skills for each class are summarized in Table 7.1: Class Skills, page 143.

There are other ways to become trained in skills that are not part of your class. If your Intelligence is positive, you gain additional trained skills equal to your Intelligence. Some abilities can grant additional trained skills.

Skill Modifiers

If you are untrained in a skill, your bonus with that skill is equal to its associated attribute (if any). If you are trained in a skill, your bonus with that skill is equal to 3 + half your level + its associated attribute (if any). Many abilities can increase or decrease your bonus with particular skills.

Tasks

Each skill contains a brief description of how the skill is usually used. This description is followed by a series of tasks, which are particular ways to use skills. These tasks are simply examples, and do not list everything the skill can be used for. You should be creative with your skills, rather than only using the tasks explicitly listed.

Awareness (Per)

The Awareness skill represents your ability to observe things which you might otherwise fail to notice. It can be used to observe hidden creatures and traps, as well as to identify fleeting or subtle sensations.

The Awareness skill governs the result regardless of the specific sense or senses used. It is most commonly used with sight and hearing, though other senses can be used, such as smell or touch. Whenever you make an Awareness check, you roll only once, and most creatures have the same Awareness modifier with all of their senses. However, the difficulty value of the check, and the information granted by success, can be very different between senses. For example, it is impossible to see through walls or without light, but that does not make hearing impossible.

Common Awareness Tasks

Identify Disguise: If you succeed at an opposed Awareness vs. Disguise check, you can determine whether a creature or object is disguised.

Identify Forgery: If you succeed at an opposed Awareness vs. Craft check, you can determine whether an object is a forgery.

Notice Hidden Creature: If you succeed at an opposed Awareness vs. Stealth check, you can notice a hidden creature (see Hide, page ??). Success with a sight-based Awareness check means you can see the creature perfectly. Success with any other sense just means you know its exact location, and are still partially unaware (50% miss chance, -2 Armor and Ref) of it.

Notice Hidden Object: If you succeed at an opposed Awareness vs. Craft or Devices check, you can notice hidden objects such as traps and secret doors.

Notice Magic Trap: If you succeed at an Awareness check, you can notice hidden magical effects such as traps. The difficulty value to is equal to 15 + twice the rank of the ability.

Notice Sleight of Hand: If you succeed at an opposed Awareness vs. Sleight of Hand check, you can notice a creature's attempt to use the Sleight of Hand skill.

Notice Subtle Effect: If you succeed at an Awareness check, you can notice the general effects of a Subtle ability affecting you. The difficulty value to notice the effect when it is first applied to you is 15 + twice the rank of the ability. In addition, you can make

C: class skill.

1. Any attribute could apply depending on how the skill is used.

another check when the ability ends to notice that you feel normal again.

Common Awareness Modifiers

While sleeping, you take a –10 penalty to the Awareness skill. You gain a +20 bonus to notice the presence of creatures and events that directly touch or damage you, such as a creature shoving you or making a strike against you.

There are three common circumstances that can make Awareness checks more difficult: obstructions, distance, and similar background sensations. Minor obstructions, short distances, and slightly similar backgrounds increase the difficulty value by 2. Significant obstructions, long distances, and very similar backgrounds increase the DV by 5 or more. If a sensation is difficult to detect for multiple reasons, the difficulty modifiers stack.

The difficulty value of non-opposed checks changes depending on the size of the sensation. The difficulty value increases by 5 for each size category larger than Medium, and decreases by 5 for each size category smaller than Medium. Multiple sensations of the same type can also be treated as a single larger sensation, which makes them easier to detect. Non-visual sensations may not have a literal size category to rely on, so the GM can decide how this modifier applies.

Balance (Dex)

The Balance skill represents your ability to maintain your balance and poise on unsteady surfaces. The base difficulty value to balance on a normal surface is 0. Generally, creatures only have to roll Balance checks if the surface is unsteady for some reason.

Common Balance Tasks

Agile Charge: You can make a difficulty value 15 Balance check while using the charge ability to change directions while charging (see Charge, page 60). Success means you can make a single turn of up to 90 degrees during the movement.

Maintain Balance: Whenever you take damage while on an unsteady surface, you must make a Balance check based on the surface. Failure means that you fall prone.

Rapid Stand: You make a difficulty value 15 Balance check as a minor action to stand up from a prone position. Success means you stand up.

Walk While Balancing: When you move using your land speed on an unsteady surface, you must make an Balance check based on the surface. If you choose to move at half speed, you gain a +5 bonus to the check. Success means you move along the surface.

Common Balance Modifiers

There are four common circumstances that make Balance checks more difficult: slippery, mobile, narrow, and uneven surfaces. Slightly impaired surfaces increase the difficulty value by 2. Significantly impaired surfaces increase the DV by 5 or more. If a surface is impaired for multiple reasons, the difficulty modifiers stack.

Climb (Str)

The Climb skill represents your ability to climb obstacles. A creature that is climbing without a climb speed takes a -4 penalty to its accuracy and Armor and Reflex defenses.

Common Climb Tasks

Creature Climb: As a standard action, you can make a Climb vs. Reflex attack against a creature adjacent to you. This requires one free hand, and the target must be two or more size categories larger than you. On a hit, you latch onto the target and can climb on it as if it was a surface with a difficulty value equal to its Reflex defense. This can allow you to use Size-Based abilities against the creature as if you were one size category larger than normal. The creature takes a -4 penalty to accuracy with strikes against you.

Grab Surface: You can make a Climb check as part of movement to grab a surface that you are passing by. The difficulty value is 10 higher than normal for the surface if you were moving for reasons out of your control (such as if you are falling). Success means you grab onto the wall and interrupt your movement. This does not prevent you from taking falling damage appropriate for the distance you fell.

Maintain Hold: Whenever you take damage while climbing on a surface, suddenly acquire significantly more weight (such as by catching a falling character), or otherwise are significantly distracted, you must make a Climb check based on the surface. Failure means you fall off of the surface, and are prone (half speed, -2 Armor and Ref) when you land.

Move: You can make a Climb check as a move action while you are touching a solid surface. This requires two free hands, or one free hand if you take a -5 penalty. The difficulty value is based on the surface. Success means that you move along the surface, up to a maximum distance equal to the vertical size of your space (see Size Categories, page 45). Critical success means the maximum distance you can move is doubled.

Wallrun: You can make a Climb check as part of your movement while you are touching a solid surface. The difficulty value is 10 higher than normal for the surface. Success means you can move using your land speed along the wall during the current phase. You move at half speed while going up. Failure means you fall. For every phase in which you use this ability on the same wall without reaching a stable stopping point, the DV increases by 5.

Climb Speed

Some creatures have a listed climb speed. A creature with a passive climb speed must still make a Climb check to climb on surfaces. However, the distance it can move if it succeeds on the Climb check is equal to its listed climb speed, regardless of its size or whether it gets a critical success.

Craft (Int)

The Craft skills represent your ability to construct objects from raw materials. Like Knowledge, Perform, and Profession, Craft is actually a number of separate skills. You could have several Craft skills, each with a separate degree of training. Common Craft skills are listed below, with additional description for some skills.

- Alchemy (Alchemist's fire, tanglefoot bags, potions)
- Bone
- Ceramics (Glass, pottery)
- Jewelry (gemcutting, amulets, rings)
- Leather
- Manuscripts (Books, official documents, scrolls)
- Metal
- Poison
- Stone
- Textiles (Cloth, fabric)
- Traps
- Wood

A Craft skill is specifically focused on physical objects. If nothing can be created by an endeavor, it probably falls under the heading of a Profession skill. Complex structures, such as buildings or siege engines, may require Knowledge (engineering) in addition to an appropriate Craft skill.

Common Craft Tasks

Create Item: You can make a Craft check to create an item. For details, see Crafting Items, page ??.

Create Forgery: You can make a Craft check to create a false or defective version of an item. This functions like creating the item normally, except that you treat the item's rank as being one lower than it actually is (to a minimum of 0). Forgeries which have a function, such as a weapon, are always defective in some way which makes them unsuitable for sustained usage. However, a forgery may function once or twice to pass cursory inspection.

Identify Forgery: If you succeed at an opposed Craft vs. Craft check, you can determine whether an object is a forgery.

Identify Item: You can make a Craft check to identify any unusual properties or functions of a magic item or esoteric mundane item. The difficulty value is equal to 5 + twice the item's rank. Items that are particularly common in a particular setting may be easier to identify, which can reduce the difficulty value by 2 or more. Success means that you know the item's general purpose, and how to activate its functions, including any magical effects. You also know the item's rank, which lets you estimate its value.

Repair Item: You can make a Craft check to repair a broken item. This functions like creating the item normally, except that you treat the item's rank as being two lower than it actually is (to a minimum of 0).

Crafting Items

You can use the Craft skill to create an item by expending time and material components. Creating an item often requires multiple consecutive Craft checks. Success on a check means you make progress on completing the item. Failure means you failed to make progress, but can try again without penalty.

Each item takes a certain amount of working time to craft, as shown on Table 7.2: Craft Requirements, page 145. In addition, each item requires the expenditure of raw materials with a value equal to an item one rank lower than the item you are trying to craft (minimum rank 0). Note that raw materials for some items, particularly alchemical items, may be hard to come by in less civilized areas.

You can attempt to craft items from inferior or ad-hoc materials. The materials do not have to be well-suited to the item's construction, but they must be physically capable of performing any necessary actions. For example, you could construct a simple arrow-throwing trap from bent sticks or creatively strung rope, but not from sand. Generally, using ill-suited materials increases the difficulty value of the Craft check by at least 5, and it may negatively impact the item's function or longevity.

In order to craft an item, you must make a Craft check against the item's Craft difficulty value, as shown on Table 7.2: Craft Requirements. If you succeed, you make progress on the item based on how long you spend crafting. For every 5 points by which you beat the Craft check, you accomplish twice as much work in the same amount of time. Once your total effective working time exceeds the time required to craft the item, you have finished the item.

All item creation requires artisan's tools to give the best chance of success. If improvised tools are used, the check may be made with a penalty of -5 or greater, or it may be impossible, depending on the tools available and the item to be crafted. For example, crafting a bow with improvised woodworking tools would impose a -5 penalty, but cutting a diamond without specialized tools is impossible.

The time and difficulty involved in crafting an item depends on the item's rank, as defined in Table 7.2: Craft Requirements.

Table 7.2: Craft Requirements

Item	Subskill	DV	Crafting Time ¹
Alchemical item	Alchemy	5 + twice rank	Eight hours
Body armor	Varies	10 + twice rank	One month per rank ²
Exotic weapon	Varies	10 + twice rank	24 hours per rank
Shield or non-exotic weapon	Varies	5 + twice rank	24 hours per rank
Poison	Poison	5 + twice rank	Eight hours
Other item	Varies	5 + twice rank	24 hours per rank

1. For the purpose of crafting times, treat rank 0 items as having a rank of 1/2. 2. Assuming eight-hour working days for each day of the month.

Creature Handling (Per)

The Creature Handling skill represents your ability to influence non-sapient creatures. With it, you can convince them to do what you want or train them to follow commands. This skill has no effect on creatures with an Intelligence of -5 or higher.

Common Creature Handling Tasks

Command Auditory, Compulsion, Sustain (standard)
Make a Creature Handling vs. Mental attack against a creature within Medium (60 ft.) range. In addition, choose and state an action that the creature could take.

Hit: The target is unable to take any actions except to use the total defense ability (see Universal Abilities, page 59).

Critical hit: The target performs the chosen action if it is physically capable of performing it. This can include convincing creatures to perform forced marches and similar activities (see Overland Exertion, page ??).

You take a -10 accuracy penalty against an actively hostile target. You take a -5 penalty to accuracy with this attack if the target is not an animal, as normal for Creature Handling attacks and checks. If the target is damaged or feels that it is in danger, this effect is automatically ended.

Perform Trained Action: You can make a difficulty value 5 Creature Handling check to convince an ally to perform an action it is already trained to perform.

Teach Trick: You can make a Creature Handling check to teach an ally a trick. A trick is a specific behavior that generally requires a single-word command, like “fetch” or “stay”. A creature can learn a maximum of two tricks per point of Intelligence it has above -10. Teaching a trick generally takes at least a week of intermittent training. Simple tricks have a difficulty value of 5, while complex tricks have a difficulty value of 10 or more.

Common Creature Handling Modifiers

Animals are easier to handle than other kinds of creatures. You take a -5 penalty to your Creature Handling skill when using it to affect non-animals.

Deception (Per)

The Deception skill represents your ability to lie or otherwise mislead people without being caught. Using a Deception check is part of conversation or other actions, so it requires no special action to perform.

Common Deception Tasks

Blend In: If you succeed at an opposed Deception vs. Awareness check, you can avoid notice among a crowd of similar creatures. If you act or look significantly different from the creatures around you, observers gain a bonus to their Awareness check to notice you.

Convey Hidden Message: If you succeed at an opposed Deception vs. Social Insight check, you can convey a hidden message in the guise of an ordinary conversation. Failure means that an observer recognizes that a hidden message is being conveyed, and may even recognize what that message is. In general, you must already have a pre-established code or understanding with the intended recipients of your hidden message so they can grasp its true meaning more easily than outside observers.

Distract: If you succeed at an opposed Deception vs. Social Insight check, you can distract a creature you are talking with. This generally makes the distracted creature briefly partially unaware (50% miss chance, -2 Armor and Ref) of you, which can allow you to hide or backstab them. Normally, the creature realizes that you tricked them once the distraction ends, which prevents them from being distracted again and may influence their behavior.

Fascinate: If you succeed at an opposed Deception vs. Social Insight check, you can keep attention focused on you during a conversation. This generally gives distracted creatures a -5 penalty to the Awareness and Social Insight skills to notice anything other than you. You repeat this check once per minute, with a cumulative -5 penalty for each minute that the distraction has lasted.

Impersonate: If you succeed at an opposed Deception vs. Social Insight check, you can impersonate another creature’s mannerisms and speech patterns. If you are unable to replicate important aspects of the impersonation, such as the beautiful singing voice of a famous bard, you may suffer a penalty to the Deception check. This does not allow you to mimic a creature’s appearance, which requires the Disguise skill.

Lie: If you succeed at an opposed Deception vs. Social Insight check, you can lie without giving any indication that you are lying. Failure means that the observer recognizes that you are intentionally lying. Even if you succeed at this check, you still need the Persuasion skill to believe or take actions based on your lies. This check only prevents a creature from recognizing the lie based on your body language and behavior.

When your overall intention is to mislead or conceal information in a conversation, you may need to make this check even if everything you are saying is technically true. Generally, using half-truths and similar trickery instead of bald-faced lies gives you a bonus to your Deception check, but a skilled observer can still see through your ruse.

Deduction (Int)

The Deduction skill represents your ability to make logical deductions based on evidence. It includes both determining which facts and observations are relevant to use as evidence, and reaching conclusions based on that evidence. However, this skill cannot protect you from coming to inaccurate conclusions if you rely on inaccurate or incomplete facts and observations.

Common Deduction Tasks

Identify Surroundings: You can make a Deduction check as a standard action to understand what aspects of your environment are important and why. This may require a successful Awareness check to locate hidden objects or subtle clues.

Reach Conclusion: You can combine information that you know to reach a specific conclusion. This may require other checks, such as Knowledge or Awareness checks, to ensure that you have enough information to work with. The time required to reach a conclusion can vary dramatically depending on how much evidence you have to work with and how easy the conclusion is to reach. You can reach simple conclusions immediately after learning all of the relevant information, but complicated scenarios might require days of study and analysis to eliminate all possibilities. In general, sifting through a mixture of helpful and misleading evidence increases the difficulty of the Deduction check and the time required to complete it.

Devices (Int)

The Devices skill represents your ability to manipulate mechanical devices such as locks, traps, and other contraptions. With enough skill, you can even manipulate magical devices. Each device has a base difficulty value based on its complexity. Some tasks are much easier than others, and modify the difficulty value accordingly.

Many Devices checks require the use of thieves' tools, which contains items like lockpicks and precision cutting implements. If you do not have a proper set of tools, you may be able to improvise from your surroundings. Generally, this imposes a penalty of at least -5 to the Devices check.

Common Devices Tasks

Activate Device: You can make a Devices check using thieves' tools to make a device perform a function it was designed to do, even if you lack the normal requirements. For example, you could tie or untie a knot, lock or unlock a lock without its key, or activate a trap without using its normal triggering mechanism (hopefully without being in its line of fire).

Analyze Device: You can make a Devices check to study a device and understand how it functions. The difficulty value to analyze a device is 5 lower than the device's base difficulty value.

Break Device: You can make a Devices check using thieves' tools to break a device. The device ceases to function in its intended way, and the sabotage is obvious to an observer. For example, you could jam a lock so it becomes unlocked and can never be locked again. Breaking a trap generally triggers the trap in an unpredictable way, which may be dangerous. The difficulty value to break a device is 2 lower than the device's base difficulty value.

Create Bindings: You can make a Devices check with a +5 bonus to create bindings from rope or similar materials. Binding a helpless foe in this way generally requires a minute of work, though typing up very large creatures may take longer. The Flexibility difficulty value to escape the binding is equal to your check result.

Improvise: You can make a Devices check to construct ad-hoc devices. This functions like creating the item with a Craft check (see Crafting Items, page ??), with two exceptions. First, the item is flimsy, and it breaks after being used once or twice. Second, the time requirement is dramatically reduced. It takes five minutes to make a device of up to Tiny size. You can make a Small device in the time required to make four Tiny devices, a Medium device in the time required to make four Small devices, and so on.

Remove Device: You can make a Devices check using thieves' tools to fully disable a device and remove it if possible. This can allow you to bypass traps without ever triggering them, and even take them with you if they are small and portable. Magical traps and large-scale physical traps, such as pit traps, are generally not portable. The difficulty value to remove a device is 5 higher than the device's base difficulty value.

Disguise (Int)

The Disguise skill represents your ability to create disguises to conceal the appearance of creatures or objects. This skill does not help you act appropriately while disguised, which generally the Deception skill and may also require Social Insight.

Many Disguise checks require the use of a disguise kit, which contains items like makeup and false beards. If you do not have a proper kit, you may be able to improvise from your surroundings. Generally, this imposes a penalty of at least -5 to the Disguise check.

Common Disguise Tasks

Camouflage: You can make an opposed Disguise vs. Awareness check to blend into your surroundings and avoid being noticed. This generally takes at least a minute of work to prepare your disguise to match your exact surroundings. It only protects you from visual observation, so you would generally need the Stealth skill to avoid being heard while moving (see Stealth, page 156).

Change Appearance: You can make an opposed Disguise vs. Awareness check using a disguise kit to change a creature's appearance. Generally, applying a disguise takes at least a minute, though complex makeup applications or clothing changes can take much longer. You take a penalty to the Disguise check based on how radical your changes are, especially to the creature's basic proportions.

Emulate Appearance: You can make a creature look like a different specific creature. This functions like the change appearance task, except that the result of your Disguise check can't exceed the result of an Awareness check you or someone helping you made to observe the creature you are trying to emulate.

Endurance (Con)

The Endurance skill represents your ability to persevere through physical trials.

Common Endurance Tasks

Delay Vital Wound: Whenever you gain a vital wound, you can make difficulty value 15 Endurance check to briefly ignore the special effect of the vital wound on you. The vital wound still penalizes your future vital rolls. At the end of the next round, you must make this check again. The difficulty value increases by 10 for each consecutive round that you ignore the same vital wound.

You can only delay one of your vital wounds in this way. If you gain a new vital wound, you can choose to either delay the new vital wound or continue delaying the old vital wound. You can make this choice after learning the vital roll for the new vital wound. The difficulty value to delay a new vital wound starts at 15, regardless of whether you were previously delaying a different vital wound.

Hold Breath: You can make an Endurance check to hold your breath. While holding your breath, you must make an Endurance check at the end of every 5 rounds that you spend without taking any actions, or at the end of any round in which you take an action. The difficulty value starts at 0, and increases by 1 for each subsequent check until you breathe in air. Failure means that you try to breathe in air, and you gain a vital wound if there is no air available to breathe.

Essentially, you can fight while holding your breath for a number of rounds equal to your Endurance modifier with no risk of failure. If you stay still, you can hold your breath for a number of minutes equal to half your Endurance modifier with no risk of failure.

Stay Awake: You can make an Endurance check to stay awake beyond healthy limits. A typical creature needs a minimum of 6 hours of sleep for every 18 hours spent awake, and a minimum of 50 hours of sleep every week. The difficulty value starts at 5, and increases by 5 for each subsequent check until you catch up on your missed sleep. Failure means you gain a vital wound from subdual damage. You must make another check every 8 hours as long as you are still beyond your normal sleep limits.

Flexibility (Dex)

The Flexibility skill represents your ability to escape bindings and move through small areas by contorting your body.

Common Flexibility Tasks

Escape Bindings: As a standard action, you can make an Flexibility check to escape physical bindings. For simple restraints like nets and manacles, the difficulty value generally depends on the quality of the restraint. For complex restraints like carefully tied rope bindings, make an opposed Flexibility vs. Devices check against the creature that created the restraint.

Escape Grapple: As a standard action, you can make a Flexibility check to escape a grapple. For details, see Grapple Actions, page 62.

Tight Squeeze: You can make a Flexibility check to squeeze into spaces too small to normally fit you (see Squeezing, page 58). A difficulty value 15 check allows you to move in a space that can fit your head and shoulders, but which is too tight to allow normal crawling. For a typical human, this means squeezing through a space about a foot and a half in diameter. A difficulty value 25 check allows you to move in a space that can fit your head, but not your shoulders.

Intimidate (Varies)

The Intimidate skill represents your ability to intimidate and coerce people into doing what you want.

Choosing an Attribute: No attribute is a key attribute for Intimidate. However, depending on how you are trying to intimidate creatures, you can add any attribute's base value to your Intimidate check. For example, if you intimidate a creature by smashing a table and threatening to smash its head in, you can add your Strength to the Intimidate check. On the other hand, if you intimidate a creature by staring it down in a cold fury, you can add your Willpower to the Intimidate check.

Common Intimidate Tasks

Coerce: You can make an Intimidate check to convince a creature to do what you want. This functions like a Persuasion check to form an agreement with a group, except that you do not apply a relationship modifier (see Persuasion, page 153). Generally, people dislike being coerced.

Demoralize: You can use the demoralize ability as a standard action.

Demoralize

Make an Intimidate vs. Mental attack against a creature within Medium (60 ft.) range.

Hit: The target is briefly shaken (-1 Mental, -1 accuracy vs. source) by you.

Jump (Str)

The Jump skill represents your ability to jump. All Jump checks are made as part of movement, so they take no special action to perform.

Jumping and Movement

Distance moved with Jump checks is considered to be part of your land speed. The maximum distance that you can cover with a Jump check is equal to your remaining land speed during the current phase. This distance is measured only for the farthest extent that you travel from your starting location, not for a round trip or for the entire distance travelled along the arc of your jump. For example, if your land speed is thirty feet and you get a ten-foot running start, you can jump no more than twenty feet forward, or fifteen feet and five feet vertically, and so on. If your Jump skill is extremely high and your land speed is low, you may need to use the sprint ability to make use of your full jumping potential (see Sprint, page 61).

Common Jump Tasks

Leap: As part of movement, you can make a Jump check to leap into the air. Your maximum height is equal to half of your Jump check result, and your maximum forward distance is equal to your Jump check result. If you have a running start of at least ten feet before jumping, you can add a quarter of your land speed to your maximum horizontal jump distance.

Mitigate Fall: As you hit the ground after a fall, you can make an Jump check to reduce falling damage. A difficulty value 5 check allows you to treat a fall as if it were 10 feet shorter. For every 5 points by which you beat that difficulty value, you can reduce the falling damage by 10 additional feet.

Share Impact: As a standard action, you can make a precise leap to land on an enemy, forcing them to share your falling damage. This functions like the leap task, except that you also make a Jump vs. Reflex attack against one creature in a space at the end of your motion, including both your initial jump and your fall afterwards (if any). On a hit, the target takes half of the falling damage that you would normally take based on the height of the jump, ignoring any of your abilities that reduce that damage. This does not reduce the falling damage you take, and you cannot combine this ability with the mitigate fall ability to reduce your falling damage.

Common Jump Modifiers

If you jump off of an unstable surface that you cannot stand on normally, such as a wall, you take a -5 penalty to your Jump check.

Knowledge (Int)

The Knowledge skills represent your understanding of particular aspects of the world. Like the Craft, Profession, and Perform skills, Knowledge actually encompasses a number of separate skills. Knowledge represents a study of some body of lore, such as an academic or even scientific discipline. Typical fields of study are listed below, but the GM may create additional fields or decide that some fields are irrelevant in a particular setting.

- Arcana (arcane spells, dragons, magical beasts)
- Dungeoneering (aberrations, caverns, oozes, spelunking, subterranean monsters)
- Engineering (architecture, buildings, bridges, fortifications, siege weapons)
- Items (magic items, artifacts, constructs)
- Local (myths and legends, laws and customs, history, nobility and royalty, nearby monsters)
- Nature (nature spells, animals, fae, monstrous humanoids, plants, terrain and climate)
- Planes (pact spells, the Primal Planes, the Aligned Planes, the Astral Plane, planeforged, magic related to the planes, extraplanar monsters)
- Religion (divine spells, undead, deities, mythic history, religious traditions, holy symbols)

Common Knowledge Tasks

Identify Monster: You can make a Knowledge check to identify a monster and recall its special powers or vulnerabilities. Each monster notes in its description the specific information that you learn from a successful Knowledge check. In general, the difficulty value for basic information is equal to 5 + the monster's level. Legendary monsters such as dragons can be much easier to recognize.

Identify Item: You can make a Knowledge check to identify any unusual properties or functions of a magic item or esoteric mundane item. The difficulty value is equal to 5 + twice the item's rank. Items that are particularly common in a particular setting may be easier to identify, which can reduce the difficulty value by 2 or more. Success means that you know the item's general purpose, and how to activate its functions, including any magical effects. You also know the item's rank, which lets you estimate its value.

Recall Information: You can make a Knowledge check to remember information related to your field of study. The difficulty value varies depending on the difficulty of the question (see Standard Difficulty Values, page 43).

Identify Magical Effect: You can make a Knowledge check to identify the general nature of a magical effect that you observe. The difficulty value is generally equal to 10 + twice the effect's rank. Unusually obscure or obvious magical effects can have higher or lower difficulty values.

You must use a Knowledge skill relevant to the magical effect. Arcane effects require Knowledge (arcana), divine effects require Knowledge (nature), nature effects require Knowledge (nature), and pact effects require Knowledge (planes). In some circumstances, other Knowledge skills could be used if they are directly relevant to the magical effect. For example, Knowledge (dungeoneering) could be used to identify many spells from the terramancy mystic sphere.

Linguistics (Int)

The Linguistics skill represents your mastery of spoken and written languages (see Languages, page 46). Normally, you don't make Linguistics checks to speak or understand languages. You either know a language or you don't. However, training in Linguistics causes you to learn additional languages, and you can use Linguistics to attempt to decipher unfamiliar languages.

Automatic Languages: If you are trained in Linguistics, you learn either two common languages or one rare language (see Communication and Languages, page 46).

Common Linguistics Tasks

Identify Language: You make a difficulty value 10 Linguistics check to identify the language used in speech or writing, even if you can't understand the language.

Translate: You can make a difficulty value 20 Linguistics check to understand a spoken or written message in a common language that you don't know. Simple messages can be easier to translate, while unusually complex or formal messages can be more difficult. Translating a message in this way generally takes twice as long as understanding it normally. This does not allow you to speak or write in the language, and it does not allow you to understand messages from rare languages.

Medicine (Int)

The Medicine skill represents your practical understanding of how to tend to the wounds of living creatures. In order to use this skill to aid a creature, you must be able to see and touch it.

Many Medicine checks require the use of a medical kit, which contains items like bandages and salves. If you do not have a proper kit, you may be able to improvise from your surroundings. Generally, this imposes a penalty of at least -5 to the Medicine check.

Common Medicine Tasks

Accelerate Recovery: You can make a difficulty value 15 Medicine check using a medical kit to accelerate the recovery of up to four creatures from among yourself and your allies during a long rest. Success means that each creature removes an additional vital wound (see Removing Vital Wounds, page 43). For every 10 points by which you succeed, each creature removes an additional vital wound.

First Aid: As a standard action, you can make a Medicine check using a medical kit to prevent a creature from dying from a vital wound with a negative vital roll. The difficulty value is equal to 0 + 10 for each point by which the vital roll is below 1. Success means that the target treats the vital roll as a 1 instead of its original value. This changes the effect of the vital wound, generally preventing the target from dying. For details, see Vital Wounds, page 43.

Identify Affliction: You can make a Medicine check to identify a poison, disease, or similar affliction currently affecting a creature. The difficulty value is equal to 5 + twice the rank of the poison or disease.

Treat Condition: As a standard action, you can make a Medicine check to treat some specific conditions. Success usually means the condition is removed, as indicated by the effect's description. A condition cannot be removed by this ability unless says this ability can remove it.

Treat Disease: With five minutes of work, you can make a Medicine check to treat a creature that is currently diseased. The next time it is attacked by its current disease, it can use your Medicine check or its Fortitude defense, whichever is higher.

Treat Poison: As a standard action, you can make a Medicine check to treat a creature that is currently poisoned. The next time it is attacked by its current poison, it can use your Medicine check or its Fortitude defense, whichever is higher.

Perform (Dex)

The Perform skills represent your ability to create particular forms of entertainment. Like Craft, Knowledge, and Profession, Perform is actually a number of separate skills. You could have several Perform skills, each with a separate degree of training. Each of the nine categories of the Perform skill includes a variety of methods, instruments, or techniques, a small list of which is provided for each category below.

- Acting (drama, impersonation, mime)
- Comedy (buffoonery, limericks, joke-telling)
- Dance (ballet, waltz, jig)
- Keyboard instruments (harpsichord, piano, pipe organ)
- Oratory (epic, ode, storytelling)
- Percussion instruments (bells, chimes, drums, gong)
- Singing (ballad, chant, melody)
- String instruments (fiddle, harp, lute, mandolin)
- Wind instruments (flute, pan pipes, recorder, shawm, trumpet)

Performance Types

In general, there are three types of performances: instrumental performances, visual performances, and vocal performances.

Instrumental Performances: These performances require an instrument of some sort to create sound, which always requires at least one hand to manipulate the instrument. They affect all creatures who can hear the performance.

Visual Performances: These performances require some sort of motion, such as juggling. They affect all creatures who can see the performance.

Vocal Performances: These performances use your voice to create sound. These are simpler to create than instrumental performances, since they don't require an instrument. However, vocal performances are always in a particular language. They affect all creatures who can hear the performance and understand the language the performance is in.

Limitations while Performing

It takes a minor action to initiate and sustain a performance. While you are performing, you cannot cast spells. In addition, you take a -5 penalty to the Perform skill for any other performances. This penalty stacks, and applies separately for each simultaneous performance. For example, if you were playing a lyre, singing, and juggling balls with your feet, you would take a -20 penalty to all three performances. These limitations are in addition to any restrictions imposed by your method of performing, such as your hands being occupied playing an instrument.

You can otherwise act normally while performing, including attacking in combat, if doing so is physically possible.

Performance Time: In general, you can maintain a performance for up to an hour. After that time, you must take a short rest before performing again.

Common Perform Tasks

Distract: If you succeed at an opposed Perform vs. Social Insight check, you can distract a creature observing your performance. This generally makes the distracted creature briefly partially unaware (50% miss chance, -2 Armor and Ref) of you, which can allow you to hide or backstab them. Normally, the creature realizes that you tricked them once the distraction ends, which prevents them from being distracted again and may influence their behavior.

Entertain: You can make a Perform check to provide entertainment or to show off your skills.

Earn Income: You can make a Perform check to practice your trade and make a decent living. You earn about half your Perform check result in silver pieces per week of dedicated performance.

Fascinate: If you succeed at an opposed Perform vs. Social Insight check, you can keep attention focused on you while you perform. This generally gives distracted creatures a -5 penalty to the Awareness and Social Insight skills to notice anything other than you. You repeat this check once per minute, with a cumulative -5 penalty for each minute that the distraction has lasted.

Persuasion (Per)

The Persuasion skill represents your ability to convince people to think what you want them to. Depending on how it is used, it represents a combination of verbal acuity, tact, argumentative ability, grace, etiquette, and personal magnetism. Using a Persuasion check usually takes at least a minute of sustained conversation.

Not all social interactions require Persuasion checks. Much of the time, being extraordinarily persuasive is unnecessary, and creatures can be convinced with normal, inartful conversation and good reasoning. Persuasion checks should only be used when your personal persuasiveness matters.

Common Persuasion Tasks

Compel Belief: As part of conversation, you can make a Persuasion check to cause creatures to believe something you say to be true. If you are lying, you must also make a Deception check to avoid revealing the lie. The base difficulty value is equal to each creature's Mental defense. It is generally easier to convince creatures of things that are highly plausible or beneficial to them. Similarly, it is generally harder to convince creatures of things that are highly unlikely or detrimental to them.

Form Agreement: As part of conversation, you can make a Persuasion check to cause creatures to accept a deal or arrangement you propose. The base difficulty value is equal to each creature's Mental defense. It is generally easier to convince creatures if the deal is good for them, and harder if it is bad for them.

Gather Information: You can make a Persuasion check to gather information from people around you. The difficulty value is 5 for basic information, 10 for information that most people wouldn't know, and even higher for secrets or intentionally concealed information. This generally requires spending a few hours to meet a variety of people and learn what they know.

Common Persuasion Modifiers

The difficulty value for all Persuasion checks is modified based on the relationship between characters in a conversation, as listed in Table 7.3: Persuasion Relationship Modifiers, page 154. Regardless of what you are saying, you are more likely to succeed when talking to a close friend than a sworn enemy.

Table 7.3: Persuasion Relationship Modifiers

Relationship	Difficulty Modifier
Intimate: Someone who with whom you have an implicit trust. Example: A lover or spouse.	-15
Friend: Someone with whom you have a regularly positive personal relationship. Example: A long-time buddy or a sibling.	-10
Ally: Someone on the same team, but with whom you have no personal relationship. Example: A cleric of the same religion or a knight serving the same king.	-5
Acquaintance (Positive): Someone you have met several times with no particularly negative experiences. Example: The blacksmith that buys your looted equipment regularly.	-2
Just Met: No relationship whatsoever. Example: A guard at a castle or a traveler on a road.	+0
Acquaintance (Negative): Someone you have met several times with no particularly positive experiences. Example: A town guard that has arrested you for drunkenness once or twice.	+2
Opposition: Someone who is part of a group that consistently works against your interests, with whom you have no personal relationship. Example: An outlaw (to a law-abiding person), a paladin of law (to an outlaw), or a soldier who fights for a country at war with your country.	+5
Enemy: Someone with whom you have a specifically antagonistic relationship. Example: An evil warlord whom you are attempting to thwart, a bounty hunter who is tracking you down for your crimes, or a bandit currently robbing you.	+10
Nemesis: Someone who has sworn to do you, personally, harm, or vice versa. Example: The brother of a man you murdered in cold blood, or the person who murdered your brother in cold blood.	+15 angle for sails in the current wind, you can add your Perception to the Profession check.

Common Profession Tasks

Earn Income: You can make a Profession check to practice your trade and make a decent living. You earn about half your Profession check result in silver pieces per week of dedicated performance.

Identify Item: You can make a Profession check to identify any unusual properties or functions of a magic item or esoteric mundane item. The difficulty value is equal to 5 + twice the item's rank. Items that are particularly common in a particular setting may be easier to identify, which can reduce the difficulty value by 2 or more. Success means that you know the item's general purpose, and how to activate its functions, including any magical effects. You also know the item's rank, which lets you estimate its value.

Perform Task: You can make a Profession check to perform some tasks related to your profession. This allows you to use Profession in place of other skills when it is appropriate. For example, a sailor could use Profession to tie common knots in place of Devices or Survival, or a farmer could use Profession to identify common animals and plants in place of Knowledge (nature). The difficulty value when using Profession may be higher than it would be to use the normal skill for the task, depending on the relevance of the Profession skill.

Profession (Varies)

The Profession skills represent your practical understanding of a particular profession. Like Craft, Knowledge, and Perform, Profession is actually a number of separate skills. You could have several Profession skills, each with a separate degree of training. While a Craft skill represents ability in creating or making an item, a Profession skill represents an aptitude in a vocation requiring a broader range of less specific knowledge. Most commoners have some training in a Profession skill.

Choosing an Attribute: No attribute is a key attribute for Profession. However, depending on how you are using your Profession, you can add any attribute's base value to your Profession check. For example, if you use your experience as a farmer to harrow a field, you can add your Strength to the Profession check. On the other hand, if you use your experience as a sailor to determine the right

Ride (Dex)

The Ride skill represents your ability to ride and control horses and other mounts. Typical riding actions don't require checks. You can saddle, mount, ride, and dismount from a mount without a problem. However, some special actions require Ride checks. Some modifiers apply to all Ride checks, as described at Ride Modifiers, page ??.

Unless an ability says otherwise, you can only use this skill to ride allies that are exactly one size category larger than you.

Common Ride Modifiers

If a creature is not trained as a mount, the DV to ride it increases by 5. If it lacks a saddle and other riding gear, the DV to ride it increases by 5. If it takes a standard action other than movement, such as attacking, the DV to ride it that round increases by 5. If it uses a movement mode other than a land speed, the DV to ride it that round increases by 10.

Common Ride Tasks

Guide Mount: When riding on a non-sentient creature, you must make a Ride check at the start of each round to guide your mount's movement. If it is trained for battle, the difficulty value of this check is 0. Otherwise, the DV is 10. Failure means it acts of its own volition.

Maintain Ride: Whenever you take damage or your mount makes a sudden motion, you must make a DV 5 Ride check to continue riding the creature. Sudden motions include jumping, attacking, and moving at more than half speed. Failure means you fall off of your mount.

Take Cover: You can make a DV 15 Ride check as a move action to drop low and take cover behind your mount. This requires the use of a free hand. Failure means you can't get low enough and gain no benefit from the action.

Sleight of Hand (Dex)

The Sleight of Hand skill represents your ability to pick pockets, palm objects, and perform other feats of legerdemain.

Common Sleight of Hand Modifiers

All Sleight of Hand checks apply a special modifier based on the size of the action taken or object affected, as shown on Table 7.4: Sleight of Hand Difficulty Modifiers.

Table 7.4: Sleight of Hand Difficulty Modifiers

Size	Difficulty Modifier
Fine	-10
Diminutive	-5
Tiny	+0
Small	+5
Medium	+10
Large	+15
Huge	+20
Gargantuan	+25
Colossal	+30

Common Sleight of Hand Tasks

Conceal Object: You can make an opposed Sleight of Hand vs. Awareness check to conceal an ally or unattended object on your person. The target must be at least one size category smaller than you are.

Conceal Action: You can make an opposed Sleight of Hand vs. Awareness check to conceal an action that you take. The space required to perform the action is the size of the action, and applies a size-based bonus or penalty appropriately. The action must be at least one size category smaller than you are. For example, throwing a dagger is a Small-sized movement, so you take a -5 penalty to conceal the action. If you successfully conceal an attack, the defender is at least partially unaware (50% miss chance, -2 Armor and Ref) of it (see Awareness and Surprise, page 64).

Pickpocket: You can make an Sleight of Hand check to steal an object from another creature. The object must be loose and accessible, such as in a pocket. All observers, including the creature you are stealing from, can make an Awareness check against your Sleight of Hand check result to observe your attempt. If your check result beats the target's Reflex defense, you steal the object.

Social Insight (Per)

The Social Insight skill represents your ability to read body language and emotion.

Common Social Insight Tasks

Discern Enchantment: You can make a Social Insight check to notice whether a creature is affected by any behavior-altering effects. Noticing a Compulsion effect is difficulty value 5, and noticing an Emotion or Subtle effect is difficulty value 20. You can use this task to notice effects on yourself in addition to other creatures.

Discern Hidden Message: You can make an opposed Social Insight vs. Deception check to recognize when a hidden message is being conveyed in a conversation.

Discern Lies: You can make an opposed Social Insight vs. Deception check to recognize when a creature is intentionally lying or concealing the truth.

Social Assessment: You can make a Social Insight check to get a general assessment of a social situation after a minute of observation. The base difficulty value is equal to 10. Simple and familiar social situations are easier to understand, while complex and unfamiliar social situations can be much harder to understand. Success means you learn relevant information about the situation, such as a general understanding of expected behaviors or a rough understanding of the social hierarchy.

Stealth (Dex)

The Stealth skill represents your ability to escape detection while moving or taking large-scale actions. All Stealth checks are made as part of movement or other actions, so they require no special action to perform. If you have been noticed by a creature, you automatically fail all Stealth checks against that creature until you can escape its notice, such as by disappearing out of sight.

Common Stealth Tasks

Avoid Notice: You can make an opposed Stealth vs. Awareness check to prevent creatures from noticing you. Success means that the observer's awareness of you, such as unaware or partially unaware, does not change. Failure means that the observer can observe you using any senses they detected you with. Generally, success with sight-based senses causes creatures to become fully aware of you, while success with other senses causes creatures to be partially unaware (50% miss chance, -2 Armor and Ref) of you. You must repeat this check whenever you take an action that you want to conceal, such as moving, or your circumstances otherwise meaningfully change in a way that would make you easier to observe.

Hide: You can make an opposed Stealth vs. Awareness check to make creatures that are aware of you lose track of your position. In order to use this ability, you must move in a way that makes observers lose sight of you for at least ten feet of your motion. In addition, you must have cover or concealment for the entire duration of your movement. This can be achieved by moving through total darkness, moving out of line of sight, teleporting at least ten feet, or similar activities. Success against an observer means that they become partially unaware (50% miss chance, -2 Armor and Ref) of you instead of fully aware of you.

Common Stealth Modifiers

A creature smaller than Medium size gains a +5 bonus to the Stealth skill for each size category by which it is smaller than Medium. Similarly, a creature larger than Medium size takes a -5 bonus to the Stealth skill for each size category by which it is smaller than Medium. These effects are summarized below.

- Fine: +20
- Diminutive: +15
- Tiny: +10
- Small: +5
- Medium: +0
- Large: -5
- Huge: -10
- Gargantuan: -15
- Colossal: -20

Stealth checks generally require cover or concealment (see Cover, page 63 and Concealment, page 63). For this purpose, do not consider any cover that would be hidden as a result of a successful check, such as an object you hold in front of you. You take a -20 penalty to Stealth checks against creatures who can observe you without any interfering cover or concealment. This includes creatures who can ignore concealment with abilities like blindsight.

You take a –10 penalty to Stealth checks against creatures who can know your location with a special ability like blindsense. This does not stack with the penalty for not having cover or concealment.

Moving stealthily is more difficult than hiding in place. If you use a movement speed to move, you take a penalty to your Stealth check to conceal that movement. This is a –5 penalty if you move at no more than half your speed. If you use the sprint ability or move faster than half your speed, this penalty increases to –10.

Making a strike, using somatic components, and taking other similar large-scale actions imposes a –10 penalty to the Stealth check. If you make a strike with a medium or heavy weapon, this penalty increases to –20. This is separate from and stacks with the +20 bonus that a creature gets to notice you if you hit it with a strike (see Common Awareness Modifiers, page 143).

Survival (Per)

The Survival skill represents your ability to take care of yourself and others in the wilderness, including the ability to follow tracks.

Common Survival Tasks

Find Sustenance: You can make a Survival check to hunt or forage for food and water. This generally takes a few hours of work to find enough food for you and a small group of allies. The difficulty value and details of what you find depend on the terrain.

Follow Tracks: You can make a Survival check to follow tracks at up to half your normal movement speed. You can move at full speed if you accept a –5 penalty to the check. The difficulty value depends on how easy the tracks are to notice. You must repeat this check whenever the trail changes significantly, such as when it crosses other tracks or passes through a different environment.

Navigate Wilderness: You can make a Survival check while moving overland to avoid natural terrain hazards and getting lost. The difficulty value and consequences of failure depend on the terrain.

Predict Weather: You can make a difficulty value 10 Survival check to predict the local weather for the next day.

Swim (Str)

The Swim skill represents your ability to swim. A creature that is swimming without a swim speed takes a -4 penalty to its accuracy and Armor and Reflex defenses. In addition, ranged weapons have difficulty working underwater. All ranged weapons have range limits of 5/15 when used by a creature that is underwater, or when used against a target that is underwater, regardless of the attack's normal range limits or any other modifiers.

Common Swim Tasks

Move: You can make a Swim check as a move action while you are in water or a similar liquid. This requires two free hands, or one free hand if you take a -5 penalty. The difficulty value is based on the turbulence of the liquid. Success means that you move through the water, up to a maximum distance equal to a quarter of the base speed for your size (see Size Categories, page 45). Critical success means the maximum distance you can move increases to half of your base speed.

Swim Speed

Some creatures have a listed swim speed. A creature with a passive swim speed must still make a Swim check to move in liquid. However, the distance it can move if it succeeds on the Swim check is equal to its listed swim speed, regardless of its size or whether it gets a critical success.

Chapter 8

Items and Equipment

This chapter defines the items and equipment that exist in the universe of Rise, including both magical and nonmagical items. Items are divided into five broad categories, described below.

- Weapons are typically used to make strikes. Weapons come in many forms, and can have very different uses in combat.
- Armor is worn or wielded to protect yourself. There are two types of armor: body armor and shields.
- Apparel items are worn on the body, but unlike armor they have no intrinsic defensive properties. Rings, cloaks, and all manner of other worn items are considered apparel. The only mechanically significant apparel items are magical.
- Implements are typically held while casting spells or using other magical abilities. The only mechanically significant implements are magical.
- Tools are used to achieve an effect instead of worn on the body. Potions, traps, and magic bags are all tools.

Wealth And Item Ranks

The worth of an item can be measured with money, or with the more abstract concept of an item’s rank. Both measurements are closely connected. In general, gold pieces are a more useful concept at low levels, and item rank are more useful at high levels. However, both concepts function at any level, so you can use whichever makes more sense in a particular game.

Coins

The most common coin is the gold piece (gp). A gold piece is worth 10 silver pieces. Each silver piece is worth 10 copper pieces (cp). In addition to copper, silver, and gold coins, there are also platinum pieces (pp), which are each worth 10 gp.

The standard coin weighs about a third of an ounce (fifty to the pound).

Table 8.1: Coin Exchange Values

		CP	SP	GP	PP
Copper piece (cp)	=	1	1/10	1/100	1/1,000
Silver piece (sp)	=	10	1	1/10	1/100
Gold piece (gp)	=	100	10	1	1/10
Platinum piece (pp)	=	1,000	100	10	1

Item Ranks

Each item has a rank associated with it. An item’s rank is generally correlated with the item’s effectiveness, rarity, and value. A magic item’s power is equal to the class bonus to power that a barbarian of that rank would have. These effects are summarized in Table 8.2: Item Ranks.

In general, five items of a given rank are worth the same as a single item that is one rank higher. Likewise, one item of a given rank is worth four items that are each one rank lower.

Gear and Consumables: Long-term items that are expected to be worn or otherwise used repeatedly are more expensive than items that are destroyed immediately after being used. Although consumable items are cheaper, they still use their full rank for all other purposes, such as their power and how difficult they are to buy. In general, five consumable items of a given rank are worth as much as a single non-consumable item of that rank.

Table 8.2: Item Ranks

Rank	Power	Typical Gear Price	Typical Consumable Price
0	2	10 gp or less	2 gp or less
1	3	40 gp	8 gp
2	4	200 gp	40 gp
3	5	1,000 gp	200 gp
4	7	5,000 gp	1,000 gp
5	10	25,000 gp	5,000 gp
6	14	125,000 gp	25,000 gp
7	20	625,000 gp	125,000 gp

Items with a rank of 0 or 1 may be found among common folk, though few commoners would have more than one magic item of any value. Items with a rank of 2 or higher are usually only owned or used by nobility, wealthy merchants, and adventurers.

Buying and Selling Items

Items of any rank can be exchanged for other items based on their rank. In general, items with an rank of 3 or less can be bought or sold in exchange for gold pieces. Items with an rank of 4 or higher are exceptionally rare. The monetary value of such items is so exorbitant that they are almost never purchased or sold with gold pieces. Instead, they are typically exchanged for similarly rare magic items or gems.

Wandering adventurers typically have a limited time frame to sell their items, and it can be hard to find a buyer for highly valuable items on short notice, so they must accept lower prices than merchants can charge. When selling for gold pieces, you can expect to receive a fifth of the item’s typical value according to its rank. When selling for another item, you can expect to receive an item or trade good of one rank lower in exchange. These ratios can be negotiated, and favorably disposed merchants or nobles may give better deals.

Trade Goods

Some items are considered trade goods. Trade goods have a widely agreed upon value, but no intrinsic use. Gold pieces and gems are examples of trade goods. Trade goods differ from other items in that even adventurers can typically receive their full value when selling them to established merchants. Some common trade goods are detailed in Table 8.3: Trade Goods, page 160.

Table 8.3: Trade Goods

Cost	Item
1 cp	One pound of wheat
2 cp	One pound of flour
1 sp	One pound of iron, or one chicken
5 sp	One pound of tobacco or copper
1 gp	One pound of cinnamon, or one goat
2 gp	One pound of ginger or pepper, or one sheep
3 gp	One pig
4 gp	One square yard of linen
5 gp	One pound of salt or silver
10 gp	One square yard of silk, or one cow
15 gp	One pound of saffron or cloves, or one ox
50 gp	One pound of gold
500 gp	One pound of platinum

Typical Wealth Acquisition

A typical character finds one non-consumable item appropriate for them per level. That item would have a rank equal to that character’s highest rank at the time. For example, a typical 5th level character would have five items: two rank 2 items, and 3 rank 1 items. In addition, characters typically find several consumable items per level that are appropriate to their rank.

Over time, lower rank items stop being useful, so most characters use no more than five or six different items at a time, plus various consumables. A typical 20th level character does not carry around 20 different items. However, the lower level items are essentially irrelevant from the perspective of calculating wealth, so the “one item per level” guideline is still useful.

This is a drastic simplification of the sometimes messy process of accumulating wealth and magic items over the course of a typical campaign. Characters will often find additional items that they have no immediate use for. Players may go several sessions without acquiring any particular items until they complete their current quest, which may reward them with a large number of items at once. This is all fine, and the GM should not feel compelled to keep item acquisition perfectly on rails. Rise is only loosely balanced around this general pace of item acquisition, and it is not hard - or always necessary - to adjust encounters to deal with unusually wealthy or poor characters.

Using Magic Items

Item Activation

Some magic items have to be explicitly activated to have unusual effects. For example, the seven league boots can be activated to teleport you across great distances. Other magic items constantly have magical effects. For example, a ring of protection passively grants you a defense bonus.

The description of a magic item effect will specify what mechanical actions must be taken, if any, to activate the effects of the item. For example, a belt of healing requires taking a standard action. However, the item description will not specify the exact nature of the action. Different items, even if they have the same effect, can have different physical actions that are required to activate the item. These activation actions can come in one of the following forms:

- Command word: You must speak a specific word that the item will hear and react to. For example, you may need to say the word “healing” in Elven to activate an item that heals you.
- Mental command: You must mentally direct the item to activate, such as by visualizing the item or thinking a particular word. For example, you may need to imagine a warm blanket around you to activate an item that protects you from cold damage or environmental effects.
- Physical motion: You must perform a specific physical motion, usually involving the item in some way. For example, you may need to rapidly stomp one foot on the ground to activate an item that allows you to move faster.

Item Limitations

There are three restrictions on your ability to use magic items. First, you cannot equip two apparel items that take up the same physical location on your body. For example, you cannot equip two different gauntlet sets and gain the effects of both, but you could equip several amulets or up to ten rings.

Second, all magic items require you to attune to them to gain their effect unless they indicate otherwise in their description. You can attune to a magic item with the item attunement ability, below.

Third, you cannot attune to two items with the same name, or if one is simply a Greater or Lesser version of the other.

Item Attunement

As a standard action, you can use the item attunement ability to attune to items. This is a magical ability.

Item AttunementAttune

Choose a magic item you are touching. Any abilities the target has that require attunement become active, allowing you to use its full potential.

Shared Item Attunement: Multiple creatures can attune to the same item simultaneously. Since most items only function while worn or wielded, this does not usually allow multiple creatures to gain the benefits of the item. However, the creatures can swap the item between them without having to reattune to it each time.

Item Power

The power of an item is equal to twice its rank. An item's power also affects its defenses. Its Fortitude and Mental defenses are equal to 5 + its power. Its Armor defense and Reflex defense are not affected by its power, and are solely determined by its size and shape.

Removing Magic Items

Unless otherwise noted, magic items that have effects on the creature using the item must continue to be worn or held as long as the effect lasts. If a magic item has an ability with a duration, removing the item also ends the ability. Items which are consumed when used or which do not affect their user are unaffected by this rule.

Weapons

Each weapon has a weapon group, a usage class, and any number of weapon tags. In addition, each weapon has a particular accuracy modifier and defines a base dice pool for attacks using that weapon. This section explains each of those concepts and defines the statistics for weapons in Ries.

Weapon Groups

Weapons are organized into thematically related categories called weapon groups. They are described in Table 8.4: Weapon Groups. For example, all axes belong to the “axes” weapon group. Some weapons can be found in multiple weapon groups. For example, a dagger is a simple weapon, a blade, and a thrown weapon.

Exotic Weapons: Some weapons are rare and have unusual fighting styles. These weapons are called exotic weapons. Proficiency with a weapon group does not grant you with exotic weapons from that group. Some class abilities grant proficiency with exotic weapons.

Weapon Proficiency

Each character is proficient with different weapon groups. These indicate the weapons that you can use effectively. You take a –2 accuracy penalty with weapons you are not proficient with.

Improvised Weapons

Sometimes objects not crafted to be weapons nonetheless see use in combat. You can choose to be proficient with the improvised weapons weapon group, which has no specific weapons associated with it but which allows you to pick up and use non-manufactured weapons without taking a nonproficiency penalty (see Weapon Proficiency, page 161).

To determine the appropriate statistics for an improvised weapon, compare its shape and composition to the weapon list to find a reasonable match. An improvised weapon will generally have a –1 accuracy penalty, a –1d damage penalty, or be missing at least one weapon tag relative to a similarly structured manufactured weapon.

Natural Weapons

Natural weapons are weapons that are part of a creature's body instead of being manufactured and wielded. Many monsters have natural weapons, like claws or a bite attack. Natural weapons do not normally require a free hand to use. All bipedal creatures also have a punch/kick natural weapon.

Weapon Usage Classes

A weapon's usage class is a measure of how much effort it takes to wield a weapon in combat. It indicates whether a weapon, when wielded by a creature the weapon is sized for, is considered a light weapon, a medium weapon, or a heavy weapon.

Light Weapons: Light weapons are easier to use while making attacking with two weapons at once (see Offhand Strike, page 61) or while grappling. They cannot be held in two hands. Light weapons

Table 8.4: Weapon Groups

Group	Weapons	Exotic Weapons
Armor weapons	Armor spikes, standard shield, spiked shield	Armblade, spiked knee
Axes	Battleaxe, broadaxe, greataxe, handaxe, poleaxe, shepherd's axe, throwing axe	Dwarven throwing axe, dwarven waraxe, orcish greataxe
Blades	Broadsword, dagger, estoc, greatsword, rapier, scimitar, smallsword	Boot dagger, falchion, katana, kukri
Bows	Longbow, shortbow	Flatbow, heartseeker arrows, takedown bow
Club-like weapons	Club, flanged mace, greatmace, mace, morning star, sap	Culacula, gnomish trick mace, knobkerrie, totokia
Crossbows	Hand crossbow, heavy crossbow	Arbalest, repeating crossbow
Flexible Weapons	Flail, heavy flail, nunchaku, slapjack, whip	Chain whip, meteor hammer, three-section staff
Headed weapons	Light hammer, longhammer, pick, sickle, sledgehammer, warhammer	Dwarven longhammer, dwarven shorthammer, heavy pick, obuch
Improvised weapons	—	—
Monk weapons	Jitte, kama, kunai, nunchaku, quarterstaff, sai, shuriken	Three-section staff
Polearms	Bardiche, glaive, halberd, longhammer, poleaxe, quarterstaff, scythe, swordstaff	Fauchard, war scythe
Simple weapons	Club, dagger, handaxe, mace, quarterstaff	—
Spears	Greatspear, javelin, lance, ranseur, partisan, spear	Gnomish smallspear, pike
Thrown weapons	Dagger, dart, handaxe, javelin, light hammer, shuriken, sling, throwing axe	Bolas, dwarven throwing axe, dwarven waraxe, net tend to have higher accuracy than heavier weapons, but do less damage.

Medium Weapon: A medium weapon can normally be used in one hand. Most medium weapons can also be held in two hands if that is physically plausible. This provides no special benefit unless the weapon has the Versatile Grip tag (see Weapon Tags, page 162). Changing grips to hold it in one hand or two hands can be done as a free action that requires both hands.

Heavy Weapon: Two hands are normally required to wield a heavy weapon. Heavy weapons tend to have higher damage than lighter weapons. If you have a Strength of 3 or higher, you can wield a heavy weapon in one hand, but you take a –1 penalty to accuracy and a –1d damage penalty with the weapon while doing so. You can change your grip on a heavy weapon as a free action. Since this ability does not have the Swift tag, changing to a one-handed grip does not give you a free hand in the current phase.

Physical Size: Like all objects and creatures, weapons have a size category that represents how physically large they are. In general, light and medium weapons are one size category smaller than the wielder, while heavy weapons are the same size category as the wielder. All weapons are lightweight unless otherwise noted.

Inappropriately Sized Weapons: A weapon's usage class is altered by one step for each size category of difference between the wielder's size and the size of the creature for which the weapon was designed. For example, a light weapon sized for a Large creature can be used by a Medium creature as if it had a medium usage class. The weapon's damage die gains a +1d bonus per size category if the weapon is unusually large, or takes a –1d penalty per size category if the weapon is unusually small. In addition, the wielder takes a –2 accuracy penalty with the weapon per size category of difference. If a weapon's usage class would be changed to something other than light, medium, or heavy by this alteration, the creature can't wield the weapon at all.

Weapon Range Limits

Ranged weapon attacks become less accurate if the target is far away. Ranged weapons have two range limits listed, with a slash between them, such as 120/360. The first number indicates the maximum range for a weapon's close range. The second number indicates the maximum range for a weapon's long range. You cannot attack a target that is beyond a weapon's long range limit.

Attacks at close range have no penalty. Attacks at long range have a –4 accuracy penalty. This is called a longshot penalty, and some abilities can reduce this penalty.

Drawing and Sheathing Weapons

Drawing and sheathing weapons always requires the hand or hands used to hold the weapon. The time it takes to draw and sheathe a weapon depends on how encumbering the weapon is. As a free action, you can draw or sheathe up to two light weapons or a single medium weapon with the Thrown weapon tag. As a standard action, you can draw or sheathe any of the following equipment combinations: up to two medium weapons, a medium weapon and a shield, one heavy weapon, or one weapon that is concealed or otherwise difficult to access.

A character can only store a limited number of weapons in locations that are easy to access in combat. Generally, a humanoid creature is limited to four light weapons, two shields or non-heavy weapons, and one weapon of any usage class. For each weapon or shield stored in easily accessible locations in excess of this limit, the character increases their encumbrance by 1.

Weapon Tags

Some weapons found on Table 8.5: Weapons have tags that indicate that they have special abilities. The list of abilities that weapons can have is given below.

Ammunition: This weapon is designed to be fired by a projectile weapon or thrown in large quantities. It is cheaper to buy and craft, but it is usually broken after being fired or thrown.

Compact: This weapon is unusually small. It is one size category smaller than normal for a light weapon (that is, two size categories smaller than the creature it is intended for), though it is not lightweight for that size. This makes it easier to conceal (see Sleight of Hand, page 155). In addition, you can draw or sheathe this weapon so quickly that you can also take another action in the same phase with that hand. For example, you can draw this weapon and attack with it in the same phase.

Disarming: When you use the disarm ability with this weapon, you can knock loose objects that are held in a single hand, but not objects that are held in two hands or well secured (see Disarm, page 60).

Forceful: Whenever you deal damage to a target no more than one size category larger than you with a strike using this weapon, you can knockback the target up to 10 feet. On a critical hit, this knockback distance is doubled.

Grappling: You gain a +2 bonus to accuracy on melee attacks with this weapon against creatures who are grappled by you.

Impact: When you get a critical hit with this weapon, you roll triple damage dice instead of double damage dice.

Keen: You gain a +2 bonus to accuracy with strikes using this weapon for the purpose of determining whether you get a critical hit.

Long: This weapon can be used to make melee strikes against targets up to 10 feet away from you. If you use an ability with more specific targets than simply making a melee strike, such as affecting “all enemies adjacent to you”, this weapon tag does not increase your range with that ability. In addition, you can inflict critical hits with melee strikes using a Long weapon against creatures up to two size categories larger than you (see Very Large Creatures, page 45).

Mounted: If you are mounted, and your mount moves in the same phase that you make a strike with a Mounted weapon, you gain a +2 accuracy bonus with the strike.

Parrying: If a creature attacks you with a melee strike while you wield this weapon, you briefly gain a +2 bonus to accuracy with strikes using this weapon against that creature.

Projectile: This weapon fires ammunition at range to deal damage. The ammunition generally breaks when used. Projectile weapons have two range limits listed in their description (see Weapon Range Limits, page 162). They must be reloaded after being fired. The time required to reload a projectile weapon is given in the weapon description. You take a –4 accuracy penalty with Projectile weapons against creatures adjacent to you.

Stealthy: A stealthy weapon is smaller, quieter, or otherwise less noticeable than most weapons. You only take a –5 penalty to Stealth when trying to conceal strikes with a stealthy weapon instead of the normal –10 or –20 penalty for concealing a strike (see Stealth, page 156).

Sweeping: When you make a melee strike with this weapon, you may also target one or more secondary creatures or objects adjacent to you. If the weapon also has the Long weapon tag, each secondary target may instead be within 10 feet of you. Each secondary target must be within 10 feet of a primary target, and must not already be a target of the strike. The strike affects each secondary target in the same way as the primary targets. Sweeping weapons have a number that indicates the number of secondary targets you can affect.

Subdual: This weapon deals subdual damage (see Subdual Damage, page 42).

Thrown: This weapon is designed to be thrown to deal damage at range. Thrown weapons have two range limits listed in their description (see Weapon Range Limits, page 162). Unless otherwise noted in a weapon’s description, a throwing weapon can be used to attack in melee without penalty.

Medium thrown weapons can be drawn more quickly than other medium weapons (see Drawing and Sheathing Weapons, page 162). Heavy thrown weapons require a standard action to throw, rather than being thrown as part of any strike like normal. They are not always physically thrown with two hands, but they require the use of your entire body to propel the weapon, so you are not considered to have any free hands while throwing a heavy thrown weapon.

Tripping: When you use the trip ability, you can attack with this weapon instead of with a free hand (see Trip, page 62). This allows you to deal damage with the weapon if you successfully trip the target.

Versatile Grip: This weapon is designed to be held in either one hand or two hands. While holding this weapon in two hands, you gain a +1d damage bonus with the weapon.

Weapon Table

Here is the format for weapon entries in the Weapons table, below.

Usage Class: Describes whether the weapon’s usage class is light, medium, or heavy (see Weapon Usage Classes, page 161).

Accuracy: This number modifies your accuracy with strikes using the weapon.

Damage: This dice pool indicates the damage dealt by the weapon on a hit.

Damage Type: This indicates the type of the damage dealt by the weapon. Some monsters may be impervious or immune to attacks from certain damage types.

Some weapons deal damage of multiple types. If a weapon is of two types, the damage it deals is not half one type and half another; all of it is both types. Therefore, a creature would have to be immune to both types of damage to ignore any of the damage from such a weapon. For details, see Multiple Damage Types, page 41.

In other cases, a weapon can deal either of two types of damage. The wielder chooses which type of damage to deal when they make each strike with the weapon.

Item Rank (Cost): The first value indicates the item rank of the item (see Item Ranks, page 159). The second value in parentheses indicates the average cost to buy the item. Items crafted for unusually large or small creatures are more expensive. For each size category larger or smaller than Medium, the item's rank increases by one, which increases its price.

Weapon Tags: Some weapons have special properties. See Weapon Tags, page 162 for details.

Individual Weapon Descriptions

Some weapons in Table 8.5: Weapons have additional abilities which are described below.

Arbalest: You draw an arbalest back by turning a small winch. Loading an arbalest requires two standard actions. Each standard action requires one free hand while holding the arbalest in another hand.

Arblade: This weapon is not held in a hand. Instead, it is affixed to the arm of body armor with a medium or heavy usage class. When you attack with an arblade, you cannot use the arm it is attached to for any other combat purpose in the same phase. You can still hold items in that hand, but they have no combat effect. If you are not proficient with this weapon, you increase your encumbrance by 2 when wearing armor with an arblade. Arblades cannot be imbued with magic weapon properties.

Armor Spikes: Any body armor can be spiked. You cannot normally attack with armor spikes. However, if your armor is spiked and you are proficient with it, you deal damage with it when you make a successful grapple or shove attack. Your power is halved for the purpose of this damage, and this damage is not doubled if you get a critical hit with the grapple or shove attack. If you would already deal damage with that ability from another source, such as with the wall slam ability from the Savage feat, you instead gain a +1d bonus to that damage, and that damage becomes piercing damage in addition to its other types. Armor spikes cannot be imbued with magic weapon properties.

Bladed Whip: A bladed whip can be used to attack targets within 15 feet instead of the normal 10 feet for a Long weapon.

Boot Dagger: A boot dagger is a modified boot or boot sole which contains a hidden dagger. The dagger is normally concealed, and requires an Awareness check with a difficulty value of 15 to find. Attacking with a boot dagger does not require a free hand, but you must make a Balance check with a difficulty value of 10 during each phase that you attack with it. If you fail this check, you fall prone (half speed, -2 Armor and Ref) after the attack.

After you attack with a boot dagger, the dagger remains plainly visible. Concealing the dagger again requires a standard action. A boot dagger cannot be imbued with magic weapon properties.

Claw: This weapon has the Versatile Grip tag, which may seem odd for an obviously one-handed weapon. The damage bonus from that tag represents attacking with claws on both hands at once, rather than grabbing one claw with both hands. If a creature only has a claw on a single hand, which is unusual, it cannot gain the benefit of the Versatile Grip tag.

Crossbow, Hand: You can draw a hand crossbow back by hand. Loading a hand crossbow is a free action that requires one free hand while holding the crossbow in another hand.

Crossbow, Heavy: You draw a heavy crossbow back by turning a small winch. Loading a heavy crossbow is a standard action that requires one free hand while holding the crossbow in another hand.

Crossbow, Repeating: The repeating crossbow holds 5 crossbow bolts. As long as it holds bolts, you can reload it as a free action by pulling the reloading lever with one free hand. Loading a new case of 5 bolts is a standard action that requires one free hand while holding the crossbow in another hand.

Flatbow: You need both hands to fire a bow, regardless of its size. One hand is free when not firing the bow. Loading a bow is a free action that requires one free hand while holding the flatbow in another hand. A flatbow is too unwieldy to use while you are mounted. Unlike a longbow, a flatbow is flat when not under tension and has approximately rectangular limbs. This spreads stress more evenly over the bow's structure, allowing more precise shots, though the firing technique is different and less commonly known.

Fire Arrows: These arrows are treated with alchemist's fire so they can be ignited before being shot. The process requires thickening the arrow shaft, reducing the precision of the arrow. It takes a move action to ignite a fire arrow assuming you have access to an active flame the size of a torch or larger.

Longbow: You need both hands to fire a bow, regardless of its size. One hand is free when not firing the bow. Loading a bow is a free action that requires one free hand while holding the bow in the other hand. A longbow is too unwieldy to use while you are mounted.

Net: A net is used to entangle enemies. When you throw a net, you make an attack vs. Reflex against your target. If you hit, the target is slowed (half speed, -1 Ref). If you control the trailing rope by succeeding on an opposed Strength check while holding it, the netted creature can move only within the limits that the rope allows.

A netted creature can escape with a difficulty value 10 Flexibility check (normally a standard action). The net has (2/10) and can be burst with a difficulty value 10 Strength check as a standard action.

A net is useful only against creatures within one size category of you.

A net must be folded to be thrown effectively. The first time you throw your net in a fight, you make a normal ranged touch attack roll. After the net is unfolded, you take a -4 accuracy penalty with it. It takes 2 standard actions for a proficient user to fold a net and twice that many for a nonproficient one to do so.

Pike: A pike can be used to attack targets within 15 feet instead of the normal 10 feet for a Long weapon. However, you cannot use it to attack targets adjacent to you.

Punch/Kick: All bipedal creatures have access to the punch/kick natural weapon. Normally, this represents a punch, which requires a free hand. If you are trained in the Balance skill or have a Dexterity of at least 2, you can make it a kick, which does not require a free hand. However, you cannot use the offhand strike ability to attack with a kick (see Offhand Strike, page 61).

Shield, Standard: You cannot use the offhand strike ability to attack with a shield.

Shortbow: You need both hands to fire a bow, regardless of its size. One hand is free when not firing the bow. Loading a bow is a free action that requires one free hand while holding the shortbow in another hand.

Stinger	Medium	+1	1d6	Piercing	—
Talon ¹	Light	+2	1d4	Piercing	Versatile Grip

² This weapon has special rules.

Sling: You can fire, but not load, a sling with one hand. Loading a sling is a free action that requires both hands.

You can hurl ordinary stones with a sling, but stones are not as dense or as round as bullets. You take a –1d damage penalty with ordinary stones.

Spear: You cannot throw a spear while holding it in two hands.

Spiked Knee: This weapon is not held in a hand. Instead, it is affixed to the leg of body armor with a medium or heavy usage class (see Armor Usage Classes, page 178). If you are not proficient with this weapon, you increase your encumbrance by 2 when wearing armor with a spiked knee. A spiked knee cannot be imbued with magic weapon properties.

Spiked Shield, Standard: You cannot use the offhand strike ability to attack with a shield.

Takedown Bow: A takedown bow is a bow assembled from multiple independent components that can be reconfigured into two different combinations. In its longbow configuration, it functions like a longbow, and in its shortbow configuration, it functions like a shortbow. In addition, when it is fully disassembled, it takes up space equivalent to a light usage class weapon, making it easier to transport and conceal.

Talon: This weapon has the Versatile Grip tag, which may seem odd for an obviously one-handed weapon. The damage bonus from that tag represents attacking with talons on both feet at once, rather than grabbing one talon with both feet. If a creature only has a talon on a single foot, which is unusual, it cannot gain the benefit of the Versatile Grip tag.

Whip: A whip can be used to attack targets within 15 feet instead of the normal 10 feet for a Long weapon.

Special Materials

Nonmagical weapons can be made from special materials that can alter the properties of the item. These special materials are described in Table 8.7: Weapon Special Materials. Depending on the construction of the weapon, it may be entirely composed of the special material, or it may only have its striking surface altered. For example, a dragonfang spear may have a wooden haft and still gain the full benefits of being a dragonfang weapon. An adamantite greatclub would only have a thin layer of adamantite around the outside, rather than being entirely forged from adamantite, because the weight and cost would otherwise be absurd.

A weapon that is made from a special material cannot have any magic item properties, and cannot be chosen as a legacy item. Projectile weapons cannot be made from special materials. However, the ammunition fired by projectile weapons can be made from special materials.

Any individual weapon can only ever gain the combat benefits of a single special material, even if it contains multiple special materials in its construction. That special material is chosen at the time the weapon is crafted and cannot be altered without recrafting it.

Adamantine: An adamantite weapon deals double damage to objects. Golems and other object-like animate creatures are often vulnerable to adamantite weapons.

Adamantine, Pure: A pure adamantite weapons deals triple damage to objects. Golems and other object-like animate creatures are often vulnerable to adamantite weapons.

Cold Iron: Many fey creatures and some demons are vulnerable to cold iron weapons.

Diamondsteel: A diamondsteel weapon grants you a +1 bonus to accuracy with strikes using it for the purpose of determining whether you get a critical hit.

Diamondsteel, Pure: A pure diamondsteel weapon grants you a +2 bonus to accuracy with strikes using it for the purpose of determining whether you get a critical hit.

Dragonfang: Damage dealt by a dragonfang weapon is damage of the type dealt by that dragon's breath weapon in addition to its normal damage types (see Table C.2: Dragon Types, page 390).

Dragonfang, Pure: Damage dealt by a pure dragonfang weapon is damage of the type dealt by that dragon's breath weapon in addition to its normal damage types (see Table C.2: Dragon Types, page 390). In addition, as a standard action, you can make a strike using the weapon that takes the form of a breath weapon emitted from the weapon. If the dragon's breath weapon is normally a line, the strike targets everything in a Large (60 ft.), 10 ft. wide line from you. Otherwise, the strike targets everything in a Medium (30 ft.) cone from you. After you use this ability, you briefly cannot use it again.

Mithral, Pure: A pure mithral weapon grants you a +2 accuracy bonus and a -2d damage penalty with strikes using the weapon.

Silvered: Lycanthropes and some undead are vulnerable to silvered weapons.

Magic Weapons

Magic weapons improve a character's combat abilities. They must be wielded to gain their effects.

Ranged Weapons and Ammunition: Any magical properties of a projectile weapon also apply to all ammunition fired from that weapon.

Craft Skills: The craft skills used to create and repair items are listed in parentheses before the item's description. All magic weapons simply use the same materials as the original, nonmagical weapon.

Vorpal	7 (625,000 gp)	Inflicts lethal critical hits	177

Arcing

(as base weapon)

Attune

Rank 2 (200 gp)

This weapon continuously crackles with electricity. All damage dealt with it is electricity damage in addition to its normal damage types (see Multiple Damage Types, page 41).

As a standard action, you can make a strike using this weapon that is imbued with electrical energy. The strike also affects one secondary target within 15 feet of the strike's primary target. This effect triggers even if the primary target was an inanimate object, like the ground. The secondary target does not have to be adjacent to you.

Rank 5 (25,000 gp): You do not have to make a special attack to hit extra creatures with the weapon. Whenever you make a strike, the strike can also affect one secondary target within 15 feet of the strike's primary target. This effect triggers even if the primary target was an inanimate object, like the ground. The secondary target does not have to be adjacent to you.

Banechannel

(as base weapon)

Attune

Rank 4 (5,000 gp)

As a standard action, you can activate this weapon. When you do, you remove one condition affecting you. This cannot remove an effect applied during the current round. The condition is infused into this weapon. You cannot use this ability while there is a condition infused in the weapon. However, you can release the infusion as a separate standard action.

While this weapon is infused, if you make a creature lose hit points with it, the struck creature becomes briefly affected by the infused effect. This removes the infusion from this weapon, allowing you to activate it again.

Rank 6 (125,000 gp): You can infuse up to two conditions into the weapon. When you make a creature lose hit points with the weapon, it gains the oldest condition infused in the weapon. You cannot inflict a condition with this weapon more than once per round.

Rank 6 (125,000 gp): The power bonus increases to +16. However, the hit point loss increases to 8.

Bloodspray

(as base weapon)

Attune

Rank 2 (200 gp)

On a hit, each target is briefly dazzled (20% miss chance, no special vision). You gain a +2 accuracy bonus with this secondary attack if the defeated creature was at least one size category larger than you.

Rank 4 (5,000 gp): The area of the attack increases to a Medium (30 ft.) radius from the defeated creature.

Rank 7 (625,000 gp): The area of the attack increases to a Medium (30 ft.) radius from the defeated creature. In addition, the dazzling effect becomes a condition.

Boomerang

(as base weapon)

Attune

Rank 3 (1,000 gp)

You can throw this weapon as if it was designed to be thrown. In addition, as a standard action, you can throw this weapon in a spinning arc. When you do, make a thrown strike against up to two targets within close range. After attacking the last target, the weapon flies back to your hand.

Concussive

(as base weapon)

Attune

Rank 2 (200 gp)

This weapon continuously emits a low-pitched rumbling noise and vibrates in the hand. All damage dealt with it is sonic damage in addition to its normal damage types (see Multiple Damage Types, page 41).

Dimensional Trace

(as base weapon)

Attune

Rank 2 (200 gp)

As a standard action, you can make a strike with using this weapon. You can briefly apply a dimensional trace on one creature that was dealt damage by that strike. At the start of each action phase, if any creature within Distant (180 ft.) range of you has a dimensional trace active from this weapon, you can choose to automatically teleport into the closest unoccupied square adjacent to that creature.

Rank 6 (125,000 gp): The dimensional trace is applied even if the strike missed the target's defenses. However, if the strike failed due to a miss chance or a failure chance, the dimensional trace is not applied.

Fated

(as base weapon)

Attune (deep)

Rank 7 (625,000 gp)

When you miss with a strike with this weapon, you can reroll the attack and take the higher result. After you reroll an attack in this way, you briefly cannot do so again.

Fixating

(as base weapon)

Attune (deep)

Once per phase, when you make a strike with this weapon, you gain a +1 accuracy bonus against one target of the strike with future strikes using this weapon. If the strike had multiple targets, you choose which target you gain the bonus against. This effect lasts until you make a strike with this weapon that does not include that creature as a target. It stacks with itself, up to a maximum of a +4 bonus.

Rank 6 (125,000 gp): The bonus increases by +2 with each strike.

Flaming

(as base weapon)

Attune

Rank 3 (1,000 gp)

This weapon is on fire. It sheds light as a torch, and all damage dealt with it is fire damage in addition to its normal damage types (see Multiple Damage Types, page 41).

As a standard action, you can make a strike using this weapon that is imbued with fiery energy. Each creature that loses hit points from the strike takes additional fire damage at the end of the next round equal to your damage dice with that strike.

Rank 6 (125,000 gp): You do not have to make a special attack to ignite creatures with the weapon. Whenever you cause a creature to lose hit points with a strike using this weapon, that creature takes additional fire damage at the end of the next round equal to your damage dice with that strike.

Freezing

(as base weapon)

Attune

Rank 2 (200 gp)

This weapon is bitterly cold to the touch. All damage dealt with it is cold damage in addition to its normal damage types (see Multiple Damage Types, page 41).

As a standard action, you can make a strike using this weapon that is imbued with frigid energy. Each creature that loses hit points from the strike is briefly slowed (half speed, -1 Ref).

Rank 5 (25,000 gp): You do not have to make a special attack to slow creatures with the weapon. Whenever you cause a creature to lose hit points with a strike using this weapon, that creature becomes briefly slowed (half speed, -1 Ref).

Hefty

(as base weapon)

Attune

Rank 3 (1,000 gp)

This weapon feels heavy in the hand. It gains the Forceful weapon tag (see Weapon Tags, page 162). If it already has that weapon tag, the distance that you can knockback the target increases by 10 feet.

Rank 5 (25,000 gp): The maximum size category that you can affect with this weapon's Forceful tag also increases by one.

Honed

(as base weapon)

Attune

Rank 4 (5,000 gp)

This weapon has the Keen weapon tag. You gain a +2 bonus to accuracy with strikes using this weapon for the purpose of determining whether you get a critical hit (see Weapon Tags, page 162). If the weapon already has the Keen weapon tag, this has no effect.

Impactful

(as base weapon)

Attune

Rank 4 (5,000 gp)

This weapon has the Impact weapon tag. When you get a critical hit with this weapon, you roll triple damage dice instead of double damage dice. If the weapon already has the Impact weapon tag, this has no effect.

Iridescent

(as base weapon)

Attune

Rank 2 (200 gp)

This weapon shimmers with a chaotic pattern of colors. As a standard action, you can make a flashy strike using this weapon that accentuates its bewildering effect. Your power with the strike is halved. Each creature damaged by the strike is briefly dazzled (20% miss chance, no special vision).

Rank 4 (5,000 gp): The dazzling effect becomes a condition.

Rank 6 (125,000 gp): The dazzling effect becomes a condition, and each creature that loses hit points from the strike is briefly blinded (50% miss chance, -2 Armor and Ref).

Longshot

Morphing

(as base weapon)

Attune

Rank 1 (40 gp)

As a standard action, you can activate this weapon. If you do, it changes shape into a new weapon of your choice from the same weapon group. If you stop attuning to this weapon, it returns to its original form.

Rank 3 (1,000 gp): The weapon can shape into any weapon of your choice that you are proficient with, not just weapons from the same weapon group. This can only change into existing manufactured weapons, not improvised weapons (see Weapons, page 161).

Onslaught

Phasing

(as base weapon)

Attune

Rank 3 (1,000 gp)

All strikes with this weapon, including projectiles fired by this weapon, can pass through a single solid obstacle of up to one foot thick on the way to their target. This can allow you to ignore cover, or even attack through solid walls. It does not allow you to ignore armor, shields, or or similar items used by the target of your attacks. Rank 5 (25,000 gp): The strike can penetrate through any number of solid objects with a combined thickness of ten feet or less.

Potency

(as base weapon)

Attune

Rank 5 (25,000 gp): The damage bonus increases to +8.

Rank 7 (625,000 gp): The damage bonus increases to +16.

Returning

(as base weapon)

Attune

Rank 1 (40 gp)

After being thrown, this weapon teleports back into your hand at the end of the current phase. Catching a returning weapon when it comes back is a free action. If you can't catch it, the weapon drops to the ground in the square from which it was thrown.

Ricocheting

(as base weapon)

Attune

Rank 3 (1,000 gp)

When you make a ranged strike with this weapon, you may also target one additional secondary creature or object. Each secondary target must be within 10 feet of a primary target, and must not already be a target of the strike. The strike affects each secondary target in the same way as the primary target.

Rank 5 (25,000 gp): You can choose two secondary targets instead of only one.

Rank 7 (625,000 gp): You can choose three secondary targets instead of only one. In addition, each secondary target may be up to 15 feet away from a primary target.

Routing

(as base weapon)

Attune

Rank 2 (200 gp)

You gain a +1 bonus to accuracy with strikes using this weapon against creatures that are suffering penalties for being shaken (-1 Mental, -1 accuracy vs. source), frightened (-2 Mental, -2 accuracy vs. source), or panicked (-4 Mental, cannot attack source).

Rank 6 (125,000 gp): The accuracy bonus increases to +2.

Screaming

(as base weapon)

Attune (deep), Emotion

Rank 1 (40 gp)

Whenever you make a creature lose hit points with a strike using this weapon, this weapons emits a blood-curdling scream. This causes you and that creature to briefly become shaken (-1 Mental, -1 accuracy vs. source) by each other. After a creature stops being shaken in this way, it becomes immune to this effect until it takes a short rest.

Rank 5 (25,000 gp): You and the struck creature are frightened (-2 Mental, -2 accuracy vs. source) by each other instead of shaken.

Seeking

(as base weapon)

Attune

Rank 4 (5,000 gp)

This weapon automatically veers towards its intended target. Any miss chance the strike would normally have is reduced. A 50% miss chance is reduced to a 20% miss chance, and a 20% miss chance is removed entirely.

Rank 6 (125,000 gp): Any miss chance the strike would normally have is removed completely instead of only being reduced.

Soulreaving

(as base weapon)

Attune

Rank 6 (125,000 gp)

This weapon is translucent and has no physical presence for anyone except you. It has no effect on objects or constructs, and creatures do not feel any pain or even notice attacks from it. Attacks with this weapon deal no damage immediately. Instead, the damage is delayed. Damage that would be dealt by the weapon can be delayed indefinitely. While the damage is delayed, it cannot be removed by any means short of the destruction of this weapon or the creature's death.

As a minor action, you can cut yourself with this weapon to activate it. This deals a single point of physical damage to you. When you do, each creature hit with the weapon takes untyped damage equal to the total delayed damage built up by the weapon for that target. Creatures farther than one mile away from the weapon are unaffected by this damage. This ability expends all delayed damage built up by the weapon for all targets, including targets farther than one mile from the weapon.

Studied

(as base weapon)

Attune

Rank 3 (1,000 gp)

You gain a magic bonus to your power equal to your Intelligence.

Rank 5 (25,000 gp): The bonus increases to twice your Intelligence.

Rank 7 (625,000 gp): The bonus increases to four times your Intelligence.

Surestrike

(as base weapon)

Attune

Rank 3 (1,000 gp)

As a standard action, you can make a strike with a +2 accuracy bonus using this weapon.

Rank 5 (25,000 gp): The accuracy bonus increases to +3.

Rank 7 (625,000 gp): The accuracy bonus increases to +4.

Thieving

(as base weapon)

Attune

Rank 2 (200 gp)

As a standard action, you can activate this weapon. If you do, make a melee strike or use the disarm ability using this weapon. If you successfully knock an object loose with the disarm attempt, or if your strike hit an unattended object, this weapon can absorb the struck object. The object's size category must be no larger than the weapon's size category.

An absorbed object leaves no trace that it ever existed. This weapon can hold no more than three objects at once. If you attempt to absorb an object while the weapon is full, the attempt fails. As a standard action, you can retrieve the last item absorbed by the weapon. The item appears in your hand, or falls to the ground if your hand is occupied.

Rank 4 (5,000 gp): The maximum size category of object this weapon can absorb is one size category larger than the weapon. In addition, you gain a +1 bonus to accuracy with the disarm ability using the weapon.

Rank 6 (125,000 gp): The maximum size category of object this weapon can absorb is two size categories larger than the weapon. In addition, you gain a +2 bonus to accuracy with the disarm ability using the weapon.

Tireless

Attune

(as base weapon)

Rank 1 (40 gp)

You reduce your fatigue penalty by 1 when determining your accuracy with strikes using this weapon.

Rank 3 (1,000 gp): The penalty reduction increases to 2.

Rank 5 (25,000 gp): The penalty reduction increases to 3.

Unbalanced

Attune

(as base weapon)

Rank 3 (1,000 gp)

You take a -1 accuracy penalty to strikes using this weapon. However, your attack rolls with strikes using this weapon explode on a 9. This does not affect bonus dice rolled for exploding attacks (see Exploding Attacks, page 40).

Rank 7 (625,000 gp): The accuracy penalty increases to -2. However, you also explode on an 8.

Vampiric

Attune

(as base weapon)

Rank 4 (5,000 gp)

As a standard action, you can make a strike with a +4 damage bonus using this weapon. If a living creature loses hit points from this strike, you can increase your fatigue level by one. If you do, you regain 2d10+7 hit points.

If you take damage in the same phase that you use this ability, the healing and damage offset, which can prevent you from gaining vital wounds from dropping below 0 hit points (see Resolving Simultaneous Damage, page 42).

Rank 6 (125,000 gp): The damage bonus increases to +8, and the healing increases to 4d10+14.

Vorpal

Attune

(as base weapon)

Rank 7 (625,000 gp)

You gain a +2 bonus to accuracy with strikes using this weapon for the purpose of determining whether you get a critical hit (see Weapon Tags, page 162). In addition, critical hits with strikes using this weapon deal maximum damage.

Wolfpack

Attune

(as base weapon)

Rank 5 (25,000 gp)

Each creature that is adjacent to both you and one of your allies takes a -1 penalty to Armor and Reflex defenses.

Armor

Most characters use armor to protect themselves. There are two kinds of armor: body armor, such as full plate armor, and shields. Body armor is worn on your body. You can only benefit from one body armor at a time. If you somehow wear multiple layers of body armor, the penalties stack and the benefits do not stack. A shield requires a free hand instead of being worn on the body.

Armor Mechanics

Armor Usage Classes

An armor's usage class is a measure of how the armor is used, and how much effort is required to use it. It indicates whether armor, when used by a creature the armor is sized for, is considered light armor, medium armor, or heavy armor.

Armor Proficiency

Proficiency with armor is defined by the armor's usage class. If you wear or use armor you are not proficient with, it provides half its normal defense bonus. In addition, you apply that armor's encumbrance as a penalty to your accuracy. Since standard shields have no encumbrance, you can use them without penalizing your attacks.

Getting Into And Out Of Armor

The time required to don armor depends on its type; see Table 8.9: Donning Armor. Donning and removing body armor and shields takes both hands.

Don: This column tells how long it takes a character to put the armor on. (One minute is 10 rounds.) Readyng (strapping on) a shield is a free action.

Remove: This column tells how long it takes to get the armor off.

Table 8.9: Donning Armor

Armor Type	Don	Remove
Light shield	1 free action	1 free action
Medium shield	1 standard action	1 standard action
Tower shield	1 standard action	1 standard action
Light body armor	1 minute	1 minute ¹
Medium body armor	4 minutes ¹	1 minute ¹
Heavy body armor	4 minutes ²	1d4+1 minutes ¹

¹ If the character has some help, cut this time in half. A single character doing nothing else can help one or two adjacent characters. Two characters can't help each other don armor at the same time.

² The wearer must have help to don this armor.

Weight and Size

The size category of body armor is the same as the size category of the creature it is sized for. Bucklers and standard shields are one size category smaller than the creature they are sized for, while tower shields are the same size category as the creature they are sized for. All armor and shields except for heavy body armor are lightweight objects. In general, heavy body armor weighs so much that only creatures with a Strength of at least 1 can wear it (see Weight Limits, page 45).

Armor Table

Here is the format for armor entries (given as column headings on Table 8.10: Armor and Shields, below).

Defense: This value indicates how much the armor increases your Armor defense.

Damage Resistance: This value indicates how much the armor increases your damage resistance (see Damage Resistance, page 29).

Encumbrance: This value indicates how much the armor increases your encumbrance. You apply your encumbrance as a penalty to all Strength and Dexterity-based checks and skills. For details, see Encumbrance, page 30.

Speed: This penalty applies to speed with all of your movement modes while wearing the armor.

Dex Bonus: This multiplier affects the contribution of your Dexterity to your Armor defense. It does not change any other effects that Dexterity has.

Item Rank (Cost): The first value indicates the item rank of the item (see Item Ranks, page 159). The second value in parentheses indicates the average cost to buy the item. Items crafted for unusually large or small creatures are more expensive. For each size category larger or smaller than Medium, the item's rank increases by one, which increases its price.

Individual Armor Descriptions

Any special benefits or accessories to the types of armor found on Table 8.10: Armor and Shields are described below.

Armor Spikes: You can add armor spikes to any body armor. Armor spikes are a weapon that you can deal damage with (see Table 8.5: Weapons, page 165).

Breastplate: It comes with a helmet and greaves.

Buckler: This small metal shield is worn strapped to your forearm. You can treat the hand using a buckler as a free hand. However, if you wield weapons or otherwise take actions using the arm bearing the buckler, you do not gain the buckler's defensive bonus during that phase.

You can't bash someone with a buckler.

Chain Shirt: A chain shirt comes with a steel cap.

Full Plate: The suit includes gauntlets, heavy leather boots, a visored helmet, and a thick layer of padding that is worn underneath the armor. Each suit of full plate must be individually fitted to its owner by a master armorsmith, although a captured suit can be resized to fit a new owner with a day of work and a difficulty value 10 Craft (metalworking) check. The new owner must still be of the same size category as the size category that the suit was designed for.

Gauntlet, Locked: This armored gauntlet has small chains and braces that allow the wearer to attach a weapon to the gauntlet so that it cannot be dropped easily. As a standard action, you can lock or unlock the gauntlet with a different free hand. While the gauntlet is locked, any item held in that hand is extraordinarily well secured. This can prevent you from dropping the item if you are affected by the disarm ability or similar effects (see Disarm, page 60). However, you are unable to use that hand for any purpose other than holding the item until you unlock the gauntlet.

The price given is for a single locked gauntlet. If you are wearing armor that normally has gauntlets, you can replace one or both of those gauntlets with a locked gauntlet with no significant weight increase. Unless otherwise specified, all medium and heavy body armor comes with gauntlets.

Shield, Standard, Wooden or Steel: You strap a shield to your forearm and grip it with your hand. A standard shield is so cumbersome that you can't use your shield hand for anything else.

Shield Bash Attacks: You can bash an opponent with a standard shield, using it as a medium bludgeoning weapon. See Table 8.5: Weapons for the damage dealt by a shield bash. Magical abilities on a shield do not affect shield bash attacks made with it, and magic weapon properties cannot be applied to a shield. In addition, you cannot use the offhand strike ability to attack with a shield.

Shield, Tower: This massive shield is nearly as tall as an average human. When you take the total defense action while wielding a tower shield, you gain a +2 bonus to Armor defense in addition to the normal bonuses from taking that action (see Total Defense, page 62). You cannot attack with a tower shield, and you cannot use your shield hand for anything else.

While wielding a tower shield, you take a –1 penalty to accuracy because of the shield's unwieldy nature.

Shield Spikes: When added to your shield, these spikes turn it into a piercing weapon that increases the damage dealt by a shield bash by +1d. You can't put spikes on a buckler or a tower shield. Otherwise, attacking with a spiked shield is like making a shield bash attack (see above).

Studded Leather: The studs on studded leather are made of metal, but this amount of metal is not generally enough to make the item count as being made of metal. Studded leather armor made with studs from special materials does not grant the wearer the properties of the special material.

Special Materials

Nonmagical body armor can be made from special materials that can alter the properties of the item. These special materials are described in Table 8.11: Armor Special Materials. The benefits here only apply to body armor that is fully made from the given special material. If you combine multiple special materials in any way, such as by wearing deepforged gauntlets with a mithral breastplate, you do not gain any benefits for having special materials.

Body armor that is made from a special material cannot have any magic item properties, and cannot be chosen as a legacy item.

Adamantine: Adamantine armor increases the encumbrance of the armor by 2, but it multiplies the damage resistance provided by the armor by 4. The armor's item rank is increased by 3, which increases the typical cost to buy the item (see Item Ranks, page 159).

Adamantine, Pure: Pure adamantine armor increases the encumbrance of the armor by 2, but it multiplies the damage resistance provided by the armor by 8. The armor's item rank is increased by 5, which increases the typical cost to buy the item (see Item Ranks, page 159).

Magic Armor

Magic body armor must be worn to gain its effects, while magic shields must be wielded.

Magic Armor and Damage Resistance

While you are attuned to magical body armor, that armor gains a multiplier to the damage resistance it provides. This multiplier does not apply to any special properties the armor might have, such as a magic bonus to your damage resistance. It only applies to the normal damage resistance normally provided by body armor of that type. The magnitude of the multiplier is based on the magic item's rank, as listed below.

- Rank 0–3: $\times 1$
- Rank 4: $\times 2$
- Rank 5: $\times 3$
- Rank 6: $\times 4$
- Rank 7: $\times 6$

Magic Apparel

Magic apparel items must be worn to gain their effects.

Body Slots

The main limiting factor on how many items you can have equipped is your attunement points, not the physical location of your items on your body. As a standard action, you can activate these boots. When you do, you increase your fatigue level by one and teleport horizontally exactly 25 miles in a direction you specify. If this would place you within a solid object or otherwise impossible space, the boots will shunt you up to 1,000 feet in any direction to the closest available space. If there is no available space within 1,000 feet of your intended destination, the effect fails and you take 4d6 energy damage.

As a standard action, you can activate this belt. When you do, your size decreases by one size category, to a minimum of Tiny. This effect lasts until you activate the belt again, which returns you to your original size.

Reducing your size gives you a -1 penalty to Strength for the purpose of determining your weight limits, a +1 bonus to your Reflex defense, and a +5 bonus to Stealth. It also reduces your base speed (see Size Categories, page 45).

Shrinking Belt, Greater

Attune

Belt (leather, textiles) Rank 5 (25,000 gp)

This belt functions like a shrinking belt, except that you also gain a +1 bonus to Strength for the purpose of determining your weight limits, offsetting the penalty from reducing your size.

These gloves shed light as a torch. As a standard action, you may snap your fingers to suppress or resume the light from either or both gloves.

Utility Belt

Attune

Belt (leather, textiles) Rank 2 (200 gp)

This belt contains five pockets, each of which is larger on the inside than the outside. The inside of each pocket is a six inch cube. You can put anything you want in each pocket, but you still carry the weight of anything in the pockets. If you put reactive objects in a pocket, such as acid or burning alchemist's fire, it may destroy the pocket until the belt is repaired.

As long as each pocket is no more than half full, or is full of completely interchangeable items, you can reach into any pocket just as easily as you can reach into a nonmagical pocket. Overstuffed pockets may take more time to sift through to find the specific item you want, just like rummaging through a backpack.

If you take off this belt or stop attuning to it, the items in the belt become inaccessible. If this belt is destroyed, the items within it become lost in the Astral Plane.

Utility Belt, Greater

Attune

Belt (leather, textiles) Rank 5 (25,000 gp)

This belt functions like a utility belt, except that the belt has ten pockets, each of which is a one foot cube on the inside.

Vanishing Cloak, Greater

This cloak functions like a vanishing cloak, except that you also briefly become invisible (see Invisible, page 378). This invisibility ends after you take any action.

If your intended destination is invalid, or if your teleportation otherwise fails, you still become invisible.

Rank 5 (25,000 gp)

You gain a fly speed equal to the base speed for your size with a maximum height of 15 feet (see Flying, page 56). If you are above that height, you gain a glide speed equal to the base speed for your size instead.

Winged Boots, Greater

Boots (bone, leather, metal)

Attune
Rank 7 (625,000 gp)

These boots function like winged boots, except that the height limit increases to 30 feet.

Magic Implements

Implements can take many forms: staves, wands, holy symbols, and more. Like magic weapons, magic implements must be wielded to gain their effects. However, while weapons are used to deal damage to enemies, implements are used to cast spells.

Somatic Components: While wielding an implement, you may gesture with it and channel magic through it. These qualify as somatic components for the purpose of casting spells. This does not remove the possibility of somatic component failure.

Implement Types

Holy Symbols

Physical Description: A typical holy symbol is no larger than 4 inches in each dimension and can be easily held in the palm of a hand. Most holy symbols are metal, but they can be made from wood, bone, or even more exotic materials, depending on the deity they symbolize.

Special Rules: All holy symbols are implements for divine spells. Most holy symbols are designed to be worn as an amulet in addition to being held in the hand. A magical holy symbol grants its magical abilities if it is either worn as an amulet or held in the hand.

Staves

Physical Description: A typical staff is 3 feet to 7 feet long and 2 inches to 3 inches thick, weighing about 5 pounds. Most staves are wood, but a rare few are bone, metal, or even glass. Staves often have a gem or some device at their tip or are shod in metal at one or both ends.

Staves are often decorated with carvings or runes. Long staves are quarterstaves. They must be held in two hands, and can be used to attack like any other quarterstaff. Short staves resemble thin clubs. They can be held in one hand, but are not suitable for combat and are treated as improvised weapons if used to attack. A typical staff has 20 hit points and a sunder difficulty value of 10.

Wands

Physical Description: A typical wand is 6 inches to 12 inches long and about 1/4 inch thick, and usually weighs no more than 1 ounce. Most wands are wood, but some are bone. A rare few are metal, glass, or even ceramic, but these are quite exotic. Occasionally, a wand has a gem or some device at its tip, and most are decorated with carvings or runes. A typical wand has 5 hit points and a sunder difficulty value of 5.

As a free action, you can activate this staff. When you do, you increase your fatigue level by one and briefly gain the ability to cast spells without using verbal components. Staff of Stored AttunementAttune

Staff (bone, wood) Rank 2 (200 gp)

When you cast a targeted spell that has the Attune tag, but is not a deep attunement, you can invest the magic of the spell in this staff. If you do, the spell does not have its normal effect. Up to two spells can be stored this way. If there are already spells invested in the staff, you can choose which spell to replace to make room for the new spell.

As a minor action, you can activate this staff. When you do, you choose one of the spells that you personally stored in the staff and gain its effects, with yourself as the only target. As long as you are attuned to this staff, you do not have to invest an additional attunement point to gain the benefit of a spell in this way, and this does not remove the spell from the staff's storage. This effect lasts until you activate the staff again, which can allow you to easily change which benefit you gain.

Staff of Stored Attunement, GreaterAttune

Staff (bone, wood) Rank 4 (5,000 gp)

Widening Staff, GreaterAttune

Staff (bone, wood) Rank 6 (125,000 gp)

This implement functions like a widening staff, except that activating it does not increase your fatigue level.

A subset of particularly expensive items is included in Table 8.15: Consumable Tools, page 215 and Table 8.16: Permanent Tools, Goods, and Mounts, page 217.

Rank 6 (25,000 gp): You become immune to poison instead of gaining a defense bonus.

Bag of Holding

(textiles) Rank 4 (5,000 gp)

This bag appears to be a bulky Medium cloth sack. However, it reduces the size of any unattended, nonmagical objects placed inside of it by one size category, allowing it to hold items of up to Large size. This reduction also affects the weight of those objects.

If this bag is destroyed, the items within it return to their original size.

The first time a creature walks through that space, the trap makes a +3 attack vs. Armor against it. After the trap triggers, it must be manually deployed again. On a hit, the creature takes 1d8 damage. If it loses hit points from this damage, it is briefly immobilized (-4 Ref, cannot use movement speeds).

Whenever a creature moves into the area, unless the creature moves at one quarter speed to avoid the danger, the caltrops make an attack vs. the creature's Armor defense. Unlike most attacks, this attack can happen during the movement phase. The accuracy of the caltrops is +0. On a hit, the caltrops deal 1d6 piercing damage.

Caltrops may not be effective against creatures with an unusual anatomy. Multiple applications of caltrops in the same area have no additional effect.

Rank 3

Make a thrown strike using a slashing or bludgeoning weapon against up to three creatures or objects within Short (30 ft.) range of you. Each target must be within your maximum range limit with your weapon, and you take the normal long-shot penalty for attacking a creature at long range (see Weapon Range Limits, page 162). If you choose yourself as one of the targets, you can catch the weapon instead of taking damage from it.

Strip the Armor

Rank 3

Make a strike using a slashing weapon. Each creature that resists all damage from the strike briefly takes a -2 penalty to Armor defense.

Strip the Flesh

Rank 3

Make a strike using a slashing weapon. You do not add your power to damage with the strike. Each creature that loses hit points from the strike becomes briefly vulnerable to all damage.

Sweeping Strike

Rank 3

Make a melee strike using a slashing weapon. The strike gains the Sweeping (1) tag, or you gain a +1 bonus to the Sweeping value if it already had that tag (see Weapon Tags, page 162).

Sweeping Throw

Rank 3

Make a thrown strike using a slashing weapon. The strike also targets an additional creature or object within 10 feet of the strike's primary target.

Agonizing Flay+

Rank 5

Make a strike using a slashing weapon. Your power with the strike is halved. Each creature damaged by the strike is briefly stunned (-2 defenses).

Bloodletting Strike

Rank 5

Make a strike using a slashing weapon. Each creature damaged by the strike briefly bleeds from the wound. It takes physical damage equal to half your power with that strike at the end of each round. This damage does not stack if you use this strike on the same creature again before it stops bleeding.

Bloody Brow Gash

Rank 5

Make a strike using a slashing weapon. Your power with the strike is halved. Each creature that loses hit points from the strike is dazzled (20% miss chance, no special vision) as a condition. In addition, it briefly takes damage equal to your power at the end of each round.

Spinning Slash+

Rank 5

Make a melee strike using a slashing weapon. The strike targets any number of enemies adjacent to you.

Sweeping Throw+

Rank 5

Make a thrown strike using a slashing weapon. The strike also targets up to two additional creatures or object within 10 feet of the strike's primary target.

Twinslash

Rank 5

Make two melee strikes using a slashing weapon. You do not add your power to damage with either strike.

Two-Weapon Rend+

Rank 5

Make a melee strike using a slashing weapon. At the end of this phase, each creature that you hit during this phase with both this strike and the offhand strike ability takes slashing damage equal to your power.

Blinding Brow Gash

Rank 7

Make a strike using a slashing weapon. You do not add your power to damage with the strike. Each creature that loses hit points from the strike is blinded (50% miss chance, -2 Armor and Ref) as a condition.

Bloodletting Sweep

Rank 7

This maneuver functions like the bloodletting strike maneuver, except that the strike gains the Sweeping (1) tag, or you gain a +1 bonus to the Sweeping value if it already had that tag (see Weapon Tags, page 162).

Hamstring+

Rank 7

Make a strike using a slashing weapon. Each creature damaged by the strike is slowed (half speed, -1 Ref) as a condition.

Strip the Flesh+

Rank 7

Make a strike using a slashing weapon. You do not add your power to damage with the strike. Each creature that loses hit points from the strike becomes vulnerable to all damage as a condition.

Unbreakable Defense

Guard yourself and your allies with careful attacks and recovery abilities.

Maneuvers

Dazing Shield Slam

Rank 1

Make a strike using a shield. Each creature that loses hit points from the strike is dazed (-1 defenses) as a condition.

Defensive Strike

Rank 1

Swift (see text)

Make a melee strike. You do not add your power to damage with the strike. In exchange, you gain a +2 bonus to Armor and Reflex defenses until the end of the round. The defense bonus is a Swift effect, so it protects you from attacks in the current phase.

Parry

Rank 1

Swift

This maneuver functions like the total defense ability, except that you gain an additional +2 bonus to Armor defense if you are not using a shield. In addition, choose a creature you can see. Whenever that creature misses or glances you with a melee strike this round, it briefly takes a -2 penalty to Armor defense. As normal, this bonus does not stack with itself, even if the same creature misses you with multiple melee attacks. The defense bonus from this ability is Swift, so it protects you from attacks in the current phase. However, the penalty imposed on attackers is not Swift.

Prepared Defense

Rank 1

Make a strike. Your power with the strike is halved. In addition, choose any one defense: Armor, Fortitude, Reflex, or Mental. You briefly gain a +2 bonus to that defense. This ability does not have the Swift tag, so it does not affect attacks made against you during the current phase.

Shield Bash

Rank 1

Swift (see text)

Make a strike using a shield. You gain a +1 bonus to Armor defense until the end of the round. The defense bonus is a Swift effect, so it protects you from attacks in the current phase.

Brace for Impact

Rank 3

Swift

You are impervious to all damage this round. Because this is a Swift ability, it affects attacks against you during the current phase.

Cleansing Strike

Rank 3

When you use this ability, you increase your fatigue level by one.

Make a strike. In addition, you may remove a condition affecting you. This cannot remove an effect applied during the current round. The penalties from the effect still affect you when you make the strike.

Flamboyant Parry

Rank 3

Swift

This maneuver functions like the total defense ability, except that you gain an additional +2 bonus to Armor defense if you are not using a shield. In addition, choose a creature you can see. Whenever that creature misses or glances you with a melee strike this round, it becomes dazzled (20% miss chance, no special vision) as a condition. This ability is Swift, so it protects you from attacks in the current phase. However, the penalty imposed on attackers is not Swift.

Guard the Pass

Rank 3

Make a melee strike. Your enemies briefly treat all squares within a Small (15 ft.) radius zone from your location as difficult terrain.

Revitalizing Strike

Rank 3

When you use this ability, you increase your fatigue level by one.

Make a strike. Your power with the strike is halved. In addition, you regain 1d10 + power hit points.

If you take damage in the same phase that you use this ability, the healing and damage offset, which can prevent you from gaining vital wounds from dropping below 0 hit points (see Resolving Simultaneous Damage, page 42).

The healing increases by +1d for each rank beyond 3.

Second Wind

Rank 3

Swift

When you use this ability, you increase your fatigue level by two.

You regain hit points equal to half your maximum hit points. After you use this ability, you cannot use it again until you take a short rest.

Steadfast Strike

Rank 3

Swift (see text)

Make a melee strike. In addition, you gain a +2 bonus to vital rolls until the end of the round. This bonus is a Swift effect, so it affects any vital wounds you gain during the current phase.

Bracing Strike

Rank 5

Make a melee strike. You do not add your power to damage with the strike.

You are impervious to all damage this round. Becoming impervious in this way is a Swift ability, so it affects damage you take during the current phase.

Cleanse

Rank 5

You remove a condition affecting you. This cannot remove an effect applied during the current round.

Covering Strike

Rank 5

Make a strike. You do not add your power to damage with the strike. Each creature damaged by the strike is briefly goaded (-2 accuracy vs. non-goaded creatures) by you.

Prepared Defense+

Rank 5

Make a strike. Your power with the strike is halved. After you make the strike, you briefly gain a +2 bonus to all defenses. This ability does not have the Swift tag, so it does not affect attacks made against you during the current phase.

Redirecting Parry

Rank 5

Swift

This maneuver functions like the total defense ability, except that you gain an additional +2 bonus to Armor defense if you are not using a shield. In addition, choose a creature you can see. Whenever that creature misses or glances you with a melee strike this round, it treats itself as a target of that strike in addition to any other targets. It cannot choose to reduce its accuracy or damage against itself. This ability is Swift, so it protects you from attacks in the current phase.

Stunning Shield Slam

Rank 5

Make a strike using a shield. Each creature that loses hit points from the strike is stunned (-2 defenses) as a condition.

Reflective Parry

Rank 7

Swift

This maneuver functions like the total defense ability, except that you gain an additional +2 bonus to Armor defense if you are not using a shield. In addition, choose a creature you can see. Whenever that creature misses or glances you with a targeted attack this round, it treats itself as a target of that attack in addition to any other targets. This ability is Swift, so it protects you from attacks in the current phase.

Revitalizing Strike+

Rank 7

When you use this ability, you increase your fatigue level by one.

Make a strike. Your power with the strike is halved. In addition, you regain $4d8 + \text{power}$ hit points.

 Rank 6: The bonus increases to +6.

The air rises beneath you and pushes you up, propelling you farther when you leap.

If you decrease the wind's speed to 0, you can increase it again with the remainder of your speed change and choose any direction for it to travel. Control Weather

Rank 4

Attune (deep)

When you cast this spell, you choose a new weather pattern. You can only choose weather which would be reasonably probable in the climate and season of the area you are in. For example, you can normally create a thunderstorm, but not if you are in a desert.

When you complete the spell, the weather begins to take effect in a two mile radius cylinder-shaped zone from your location. After five minutes, your chosen weather pattern fully takes effect. You cannot change the intensity of the weather beyond what would be possible without magic during this time frame. For example, you can change a clear sky into a light thunderstorm, but you cannot create a hurricane or tornado from untroubled air.

You can control the general tendencies of the weather, such as the direction and intensity of the wind. You cannot control specific applications of the weather, such as the location of lightning strikes. Contradictory weather conditions are not possible simultaneously.

After the spell's effect ends, the weather continues on its natural course, which may cause your chosen weather pattern to end. If another ability would magically manipulate the weather in the same area, the most recently used ability takes precedence.

You learn the approximate distance and direction to any air within Long (120 ft.) range of you. Since this is a Detection ability, its range can penetrate some solid objects (see Detection, page 375). This ritual can detect air pockets with a minimum size of Fine.
This ritual requires one fatigue level from its participants.

Cantrips

Create Water

Creation

You create up to two gallons of wholesome, drinkable water divided among any number of locations within Short (30 ft.) range, allowing you to fill multiple small water containers. You must create a minimum of one ounce of water in each location.
Rank 2: The volume created increases to five gallons.
Rank 4: The volume created increases to ten gallons.
Rank 6: The volume created increases to twenty gallons.
The desert air ripples with heat, scorching the group of adventurers. When they finally stop to rest, you conjure water from thin air, giving them all the strength to press on.

Manipulate Water

Sustain (minor)

You change the speed of water within a Medium (30 ft.) radius emanation from you by up to 5 miles per hour. If you decrease the water’s speed to 0, you can increase it again with the remainder of your speed change and choose any direction for it to travel. You choose the speed change and direction when you cast this spell, and that choice persists for the duration of this effect.
In addition to allowing you to change the direction of currents within large bodies of water, you can also use this to propel water across surfaces. Generally, moving water uphill costs at least 5 miles per hour of speed for every foot of elevation that you are trying to climb, which can limit your ability to move water up large distances.
Rank 2: The area increases to a Large (60 ft.) radius, and the maximum speed change increases to 10 miles per hour.
Rank 4: The area increases to a Huge (90 ft.) radius, and the maximum speed change increases to 20 miles per hour.
Rank 6: The area increases to a Gargantuan (120 ft.) radius, and the maximum speed change increases to 40 miles per hour.

Purify Water

You can separate out dirt, sand, salt, and similar minor pollutants from up to five gallons of water within Short (30 ft.) range. The waste material moves to the edge of the water so it falls out or can be easily removed. This does not remove poisons, magical effects, or contaminants heavier than half a pound. Using this on a very large body of water is difficult, since the waste material can easily mix with the water unaffected by a single casting of this spell.

Rank 2: The volume affected increases to ten gallons.

Rank 4: The volume affected increases to twenty gallons.

Rank 6: The volume affected increases to fifty gallons.

Slippery EscapeManifestation

You briefly gain a +3 magic bonus to the Flexibility skill.

SpellsAquajet PropulsionRank 1
Manifestation

The damage increases by +1d for each rank beyond 1.

Crushing WaveRank 1

Fog Wall

Rank 1

Barrier, Manifestation, Sustain (attuneable, minor)

The wall has hit points equal to twice your power. It is immune to all damage except for fire damage. After using this ability, you briefly cannot use it or any other Barrier ability.

Critical hit: Double damage, and you can knockback the target 60 feet instead of 30 feet.

The attack's accuracy increases by +1 for each rank beyond 1.

RainstormRank 1
Manifestation, Sustain (minor)

Aqueous Tentacle

Rank 2

Attune, Manifestation

You gain a slam natural weapon (see Table 8.6: Natural Weapons, page 170). The natural weapon deals 1d10 damage, as normal for a slam natural weapon. In addition, it has the Sweeping (1) weapon tag (see Weapon Tags, page 162). Strikes using it are considered magical abilities, which means you use your Willpower to determine your damage dice instead of your Strength (see Dice Bonuses From Attributes, page 41).

You grow a massive watery tentacle that extends from your body.

Fountain

Rank 2

Manifestation

Make an attack vs. Armor against all enemies within a Small (15 ft.) radius from you.

Hit: Each target takes 1d8 + half power bludgeoning damage.

The damage increases by +1d for each rank beyond 2.

Obscuring Mist

Rank 2

Sustain (minor)

Fog fills the air within a Small (15 ft.) radius zone from your location. The fog partially obstructs sight, granting concealment to anything seen through the fog (see Concealment, page 63).

Rank 4: The area increases to a Medium (30 ft.) radius zone.

Rank 6: The area increases to a Large (60 ft.) radius zone.

Hit: Each target takes 1d8 + half power bludgeoning damage. In addition, each target damaged by the attack is pushed 15 feet in the direction the line points away from you. Once a target leaves the area, it stops being moved and blocks any other targets from being pushed.

The damage increases by +1d for each rank beyond 2.

Sphere of Constraint

Rank 2

Manifestation

Make an attack vs. Reflex against all creatures completely within a Small (15 ft.) radius within Medium (60 ft.) range. This attack automatically fails against creatures whose space is not entirely within the area.

Hit: Each target with no remaining damage resistance is briefly surrounded by a layer of water. This does not impede its ability to breathe, but it is treated as swimming (–2 accuracy, defenses), which causes it to suffer penalties if it does not have a swim speed.

Critical hit: The effect becomes a condition.

The attack's accuracy increases by +1 for each rank beyond 2.

A sphere of water appears in midair that adheres to your foes.

Wall of Water

Rank 2

Manifestation, Sustain (attuneable, minor)

You create a Medium (30 ft. long) wall of water within Medium (60 ft.) range. The wall is four inches thick. Sight through the wall is possible, though distorted. The wall provides both cover and concealment to targets on the opposite side of the wall (see Obstacles and Cover, page 63). Creatures can pass through the wall unharmed, though it costs five extra feet of movement to move through the wall.

The wall has hit points equal to three times your power. After using this ability, you briefly cannot use it or any other Barrier ability.

Rank 4: The area increases to a Large (60 ft. long) wall.

Rank 6: The area increases to a Huge (90 ft. long) wall.

Aqueous Form

Rank 3

Attune (deep)

You transform your body and equipment into water, allowing you to compress your body or contort yourself into odd shapes. This has the following effects:

- You gain a swim speed 10 feet slower than the base speed for your size. If you already have a swim speed, you gain a +10 foot magic bonus to your swim speed.
- You gain a +8 magic bonus to the Flexibility skill. In addition, the minimum size you can squeeze down to is reduced to one inch, which can dramatically improve your ability to squeeze through tight spaces.
- You gain a +4 bonus to your defenses when determining whether a strike gets a critical hit against you instead of a normal hit.
- You ignore difficult terrain from all sources except for creature abilities.

Desiccating Curse

Rank 3

Curse

Make an attack vs. Mental against one creature within Medium (60 ft.) range.

Hit: The target is dazed (-1 defenses). If it immerses itself in or drinks a body of water of minimum size equal to two size categories smaller than itself, the target stops being dazed for 10 minutes. This effect lasts until the target takes a short rest.

Critical hit: The effect lasts until this curse is removed.

The attack's accuracy increases by +1 for each rank beyond 3.

Fog Cloud

Rank 3

Manifestation, Sustain (minor)

A cloud of fog appears in a Medium (30 ft.) radius within Long (120 ft.) range. All sight through the area is partially obscured, granting concealment to anything in the area and anything viewed through the area (see Concealment, page 63).

Make an attack vs. Reflex against everything in a Medium (30 ft. long), 5 ft. wide vertical line within Long (120 ft.) range. If this spell has its area increased, only the length of the line increases.

Hit: Each target takes 2d6 + half power bludgeoning damage.

The damage increases by +1d for each rank beyond 3.

Greater Aquajet Propulsion

Rank 3

Manifestation

This spell functions like the aquajet propulsion spell, except that the damage increases to 1d10 + power, and the push distance increases to 30 feet.

The damage increases by +1d for each rank beyond 3.

Greater Crushing Wave

Rank 3

Manifestation

Make an attack vs. Reflex against everything in a Large (60 ft. long), 10 ft. wide line from you.

Hit: Each target takes 1d10 + half power bludgeoning damage.

The damage increases by +1d for each rank beyond 3.

Personal Aquarium

Rank 3

Attune

You surround yourself in a bubble of water. This has the following effects:

- Your land speed is halved.
- If you have a swim speed, you can use it to move around on land.
- You are always considered to be swimming (-2 accuracy, defenses), so you take penalties if you do not have a swim speed.
- The water blocks you from breathing air, but you can poke your head out of the bubble to take a breath as a move action.
- You gain a +4 magic bonus to your damage resistance.
- You gain a +2 bonus to your defenses against ranged strikes.

The damage increases by +1d for each rank beyond 4.

Mass Aquatic Freedom

Rank 4

Attune (target)

This spell functions like the aquatic freedom spell, except that it affects up to five creatures of your choice from among yourself and your allies within Medium (60 ft.) range.

Misty Shroud

Rank 4

Attune

At the end of each round, fog briefly fills a Medium (30 ft.) radius zone from you. This fog does not fully block sight, but it provides concealment. There is no time gap between the disappearance of the old fog and the appearance of the new fog, so you can keep continuous fog cover by staying in the same place or moving slowly.

Rank 6: The area increases to a Large (60 ft.) radius.

Octopus Tentacles

Rank 4

Attune

This spell functions like the aqueous tentacle spell, except that you create eight tentacles that extend from your body. Whenever you make a strike with the tentacles, you can attack with all of the tentacles at once, with each tentacle attacking a different target. This functions as if your attacks had the Sweeping (7) tag, with no limit on how far each secondary target must be from the primary target (see Sweeping, page 163).

Fluid Motion

Rank 5

Attune

When you move using one of your movement speeds, you can transform yourself into a rushing flow of water with a volume roughly equal to your normal volume until your movement is complete. You can only transform into water in this way once during your movement, and you regain your normal form at the end of the movement. In this form, you may move wherever water could go, you cannot take other actions, such as jumping, attacking, or casting spells. You may move through squares occupied by enemies without penalty. Being grappled or otherwise physically constrained does not prevent you from transforming into water in this way.

Your speed is halved when moving uphill and doubled when moving downhill. Unusually steep inclines may cause greater movement differences while in this form.

If the water is split, you may reform from anywhere the water has reached, to as little as a single ounce of water. If not even an ounce of water exists contiguously, your body reforms from all of the largest available sections of water, cut into pieces of appropriate size. This usually causes you to die.

Greater Fountain

Rank 5

Manifestation

Make an attack vs. Armor against all enemies within a Large (60 ft.) radius from you.

Hit: Each target takes 2d8 + half power bludgeoning damage.

Make an attack vs. Fortitude against everything in a Large (60 ft. long), 10 ft. wide line from you.

Hit: Each target takes 2d8 + half power bludgeoning damage. In addition, each target damaged by the attack is pushed 30 feet in the direction the line points away from you. Once a target leaves the area, it stops being moved and blocks any other targets from being pushed.

The damage increases by +1d for each rank beyond 5.

Supreme Aquajet Propulsion

Rank 5

Manifestation

This spell functions like the aquajet propulsion spell, except that the damage increases to 2d8 + power, and the push distance increases to 60 feet.

The damage increases by +1d for each rank beyond 5.

Constraining Bubble

Rank 6

Manifestation

Make an attack vs. Reflex against a Huge or smaller creature within Medium (60 ft.) range.

Hit: As a condition, the majority of the target's body is surrounded by a layer of water. This does not impede its ability to breathe, but it is treated as swimming (-2 accuracy, defenses), which causes it to suffer penalties if it does not have a swim speed.

Critical hit: The water also covers the target's face. This does not meaningfully impede its sight, but it cannot breathe anything other than the water.

The attack's accuracy increases by +1 for each rank beyond 6.

Greater Geyser

Rank 6

Manifestation

Make an attack vs. Reflex against everything in a Large (60 ft. long), 5 ft. wide vertical line within Distant (180 ft.) range. If this spell has its area increased, only the length of the line increases.

Hit: Each target takes 4d8 + half power bludgeoning damage.

The damage increases by +1d for each rank beyond 6.

Misty Halo

Rank 6

Sustain (minor)

Fog fills the air within a Medium (30 ft.) radius zone from your location. The fog partially obstructs sight, granting concealment to anything seen through the fog (see Concealment, page 63). You can exclude an inner radius of any size from the area, allowing you to create fog that surrounds your location without blocking sight to things near to you.

Greater Desiccating Curse

Rank 7

Curse

This spell functions like the desiccating curse spell, except that the target is stunned (-2 defenses) instead of dazed.

Supreme Forceful Aquajet

Rank 7

This spell functions like the forceful aquajet spell, except that the damage increases to 2d10. In addition, the knockback distance increases to 120 feet, or 240 feet on a critical hit.

RitualsDetect Water

Rank 1

Casting time: One minute

Detection

You learn the approximate distance and direction to any bodies of water within Long (120 ft.) range of you. Since this is a Detection ability, its range can penetrate some solid objects (see Detection, page 375). This spell can detect bodies of water with a minimum size of Fine.

This ritual requires one fatigue level from its participants.

Dampen

Up to five ritual participants each become impervious to fire damage.

This ritual requires one fatigue level from its participants.

Supreme Detect Water

Rank 5

Casting time: One minute

This ritual functions like the detect air ritual, except that the range increases to 2,000 foot range.

This ritual requires one fatigue level from its participants.

Astromancy

Transport creatures and objects instantly through space.

Cantrips

Dimension Hop

You teleport horizontally into an unoccupied location within 5 foot range on a stable surface that can support your weight. If the destination is invalid, this spell fails with no effect.

Rank 2: The range increases to 15 feet.
Rank 4: The range increases to Short (30 ft.).
Rank 6: The range increases to Medium (60 ft.).

You disappear with an audible pop, appearing only a few feet away - but now on the other side of the cell bars.

Translocate Object

Choose one Small or smaller unattended object within Short (30 ft.) range. It teleports into your hand or into an unoccupied location within Short (30 ft.) range. If the destination is invalid, this spell fails with no effect.

Rank 2: The range increases to Medium (60 ft.).
Rank 4: The maximum size increases to Medium.
Rank 6: The range increases to Long (120 ft.).

A tankard of ale disappears from the counter, appearing directly in your hand. The barkeep frowns, about to say something, before a gold coin suddenly appears in the tankard's place.

Spells

Blink

Rank 1
Swift

All attacks against you this round have a 25% failure chance. In addition, you gain a +2 bonus to all defenses. This ability has the Swift tag, so it protects you from attacks against you during the current phase.

Rank 3: The failure chance increases to 30%.
Rank 5: The failure chance increases to 40%.
Rank 7: The failure chance increases to 50%.

You quickly blink into the Astral Plane, leaving a dangerous battlefield behind.

Dimensional Grasp

Rank 1

You must have a free hand to cast this spell.
Make a melee attack vs. Reflex against anything adjacent to you.
Hit: The target takes 1d8 + power energy damage.

The damage increases by +1d for each rank beyond 1.

Your touch sends part of your foe's body to the Astral Plane. Although most of its body remains where it was, something important - and painful - was lost.

Phasestep

Rank 1
Attune

When you move using one of your movement speeds, you can move through a single creature freely. After you finish moving through one creature in this way, other enemies block your movement as normal. This does not allow you to move through inanimate objects. If you move into a creature's space with this ability, but you do not move out of it, you and the creature are usually considered squeezing (-2 Armor and Ref) as long as you continue sharing space (see Squeezing, page 58). If you are not able to move normally, such as if you are grappled, this spell does not help you.

You augment your body with the ability to travel short distances through the Astral Plane to reach your destination.

Translocation

Rank 1

Choose either yourself or one unattended object or ally within Short (30 ft.) range. If you choose something other than yourself, it must be Medium size or smaller. The target teleports into an unoccupied location within range on a stable surface that can support its weight. If the destination is invalid, this spell fails with no effect.

Rank 3: The range increases to Medium (60 ft.).
Rank 5: The range increases to Long (120 ft.).
Rank 7: The range increases to Distant (180 ft.).

One by one, you teleport your allies across the chasm. The orcs tracking you will never be able to follow your trail now.

Transposition

Rank 1

Choose two allies within Medium (60 ft.) range. Each target teleports into the other's location. If either target is not standing on solid ground with sufficient space to support the other target, this spell fails.

Rank 3: The range increases to Long (120 ft.) range.

Rank 5: The range increases to Distant (180 ft.) range.

Rank 7: The range increases to Extreme (240 ft.) range.

As your enemies drew close to you, they expected you to panic and run. When you were unexpectedly replaced by a raging barbarian, they briefly discovered how wrong they were.

Astral Refuge

Rank 2

Casting time: One minor action

Choose yourself or one Medium or smaller ally or unattended object within Medium (60 ft.) range. You send that creature into a random safe location in the Astral Plane, causing it to temporarily disappear. When you cast this spell, you choose how many rounds the target spends in the Astral Plane, up to a maximum of five rounds. At the end of the last round, it reappears in the same location where it disappeared, or in the closest unoccupied space if that location is occupied.

Rank 4: The maximum size of the target increases to Large.

Rank 6: The maximum size of the target increases to Huge.

Dimensional Jaunt – Plane of Air

Rank 2

Make an attack vs. Fortitude against anything within Long (120 ft.) range.

Hit: The target takes 1d6 bludgeoning damage. If it loses hit points from this damage, you knockback it up to 30 feet in any direction (see Knockback Effects, page 59). Moving the target upwards costs twice the normal movement cost.

The attack's accuracy increases by +1 for each rank beyond 2.

Your foe disappears for a second into the Plane of Air, where it is knocked flying by powerful winds.

Distant Spells

Rank 2

Attune

You gain a +15 foot bonus to the range of all of your ranged spells. This does not affect spells that do not have a range listed in feet.

Rank 4: The distance increases to 30 feet.

Rank 6: The distance increases to 60 feet.

By channeling your spells through the Astral Plane, you can reach foes that are farther away than would normally be possible.

Flicker

Rank 2

Attune

You randomly flicker between your current plane and the Astral Plane. All strikes against you have a 20% failure chance as you happen to be in the Astral Plane when the attack would hit. However, all of your abilities that affect creatures or objects other than yourself also have the same failure chance. This does not affect abilities you use that only affect yourself.

Rank 4: When you cast this spell, you can choose to increase the failure chance to 30%.

Rank 6: When you cast this spell, you can choose to increase the failure chance to 40%.

It's sometimes annoying to be caught in the Astral Plane while you're trying to banish your foes there. However, watching swords pass through your body as you blink out of existence is worth the risk.

Hostile Transposition

Rank 2

Make an attack vs. Mental against two Large or smaller creatures within Medium (60 ft.) range. If either target is not standing on solid ground with sufficient space to support the other target, this spell fails.

Hit: If you hit both subjects, they each teleport into each other's locations.

The attack's accuracy increases by +1 for each rank beyond 2.

The cultists were confident that they were safe behind their defensive wall of zombies. When one of their number was unexpectedly replaced by a raging barbarian, they briefly discovered how wrong they were.

Astral Instability

Rank 3

Attune

At the start of each phase, you may teleport into a random unoccupied location in the Astral Plane. At the end of the round, you reappear in the location where you disappeared. If that space is occupied, you reappear in the closest available space. After you teleport in this way, you briefly cannot teleport with this ability again.

Armor and shields can offer some protection, but true defensive mastery comes from not being hit at all. Few people send themselves to another plane just to avoid danger, but it's a virtually unbeatable defense.

Banishment

Rank 3

Make an attack vs. Mental against one creature within Medium (60 ft.) range.

Hit: The target takes 1d10 + half power energy damage. If it loses hit points from this damage, it immediately teleports into a random unoccupied location in the Astral Plane. At the end of the next round, it teleports back to its original location, or into the closest open space if that location is occupied. After it returns, it becomes immune to being teleported in this way until it takes a short rest.

The damage increases by +1d for each rank beyond 3.

The dire wolf about to eat your allies disappears with an audible pop. If they run quickly, they can escape before it returns.

Mass Phasestep

Rank 3

Attune (target)

This spell functions like the phasestep spell, except that it affects up to five creatures of your choice from among yourself and your allies within Medium (60 ft.) range.

You augment the bodies of your allies with the ability to travel short distances through the Astral Plane to reach their destinations.

Mass Translocation

Rank 3

Choose up to five creatures from among yourself and your allies within Short (30 ft.) range. Each target other than yourself must be Medium size or smaller. Each target teleports into an unoccupied location within range on a stable surface that can support its weight. You choose each target's destination independently. If a target's destination is invalid, this spell has no effect on it, but any other subjects still teleport normally.

Rank 5: The range increases to Medium (60 ft.).

Rank 7: The range increases to Long (120 ft.).

You teleport your allies across the chasm all at once. The orcs chasing you can only stand on the other side and shout angrily.

Phasing Blade

Rank 3

Attune

Whenever you make a strike, your weapon or projectile can pass through a single physical obstacle up to one foot thick on its way to the strike's target. This can allow your attacks to ignore cover, or even attack through solid walls. It does not allow you to ignore armor, shields, or or similar items carried or worn by the targets of your attacks.

Rank 5: Your strikes can pass through any number of physical obstacles with a combined thickness of two feet or less.

Rank 7: Your strikes can pass through any number of physical obstacles with a combined thickness of five feet or less.

You augment your weapons with the ability to travel short distances through the Astral Plane to reach their targets.

Silent Translocation

Rank 3

This spell functions like the translocation spell, except that this spell does not have verbal components. In addition, the target's departure and arrival with this spell are silent.

Rank 5: The range increases to Medium (60 ft.).

Rank 7: The range increases to Long (120 ft.).

One by one, you teleport your allies into hidden vantage points overlooking your enemies. It took some effort to convince the dwarven paladin to try a surprise attack, but the results will be worth it.

Twinned Portals

Rank 3

Sustain (minor)

Choose two unoccupied squares on stable ground within Medium (60 ft.) range. A shimmering portal appears in each of the two squares. Each portal appears as an opaque colored disc five feet in diameter.

Once per phase, when a creature moves into one of the squares, it can choose to pass through the portal in that square. If it does, it teleports to the portal in the other chosen square, regardless of line of sight or line of effect between the two portal. Objects can pass through the portals freely and maintain their speed, but moving objects have an unpredictable trajectory, so firing projectiles through a portal is ineffective.

If multiple creatures attempt to pass through the portals simultaneously, they roll initiative to determine the first person into the portal. A creature that attempts to pass through the portal in a phase where the portal was already activated stops its movement in the square with the portal.

Rank 5: The range increases to Long (120 ft.) range.

Rank 7: The range increases to Distant (180 ft.) range.

You create a pair of portals that allow instant passage from one to the other.

Banishing Grasp

Rank 4

You must have a free hand to cast this spell.

Make a melee attack vs. Reflex against anything adjacent to you.

Hit: The target takes 2d8 + power energy damage. If it loses hit points from this damage, it immediately disappears. At the end of the next round, it teleports back to its original location, or into the closest open space if that location is occupied. After this effect ends, it becomes immune to this effect until it takes a short rest.

The damage increases by +1d for each rank beyond 4.

Your touch banishes the dire wolf that was about to eat you. It should be gone long enough for you to escape to a more comfortable vantage point.

Controlled Flicker

Rank 4

Attune

This spell functions like the flicker spell, except that you can choose at the start of each round to stop flickering for that round. If you do, your abilities do not have a failure chance, and attacks against you also do not have a failure chance.

Rank 6: When you cast this spell, you can choose to increase the failure chance to 30%.

Some astromancers have researched the mystic arts for decades to avoid accidentally travelling to other planes in combat. Of course, most people take that ability for granted.

Dimension Door

Rank 4

You teleport to an unoccupied destination on a stable surface within Extreme (240 ft.) range of you. You must clearly visualize the destination's appearance and have an approximate knowledge of its direction and distance from you. However, you do not need line of sight or line of effect to your destination.

Rank 6: The range increases to 480 feet.

You were invited into this throne room once, while the old king still lived. Now, you can return whenever you want, no matter how many guards and locks the usurper tries to deploy against you.

Dimension Walk

Rank 4

Attune

Once per round, you can teleport horizontally instead of moving normally. Teleporting a given distance costs movement equal to that distance. If your line of effect to your destination is blocked, or if this teleportation would somehow place you inside a solid object, your teleportation is cancelled and you remain where you are that phase. You must be able to use your movement speeds to teleport in this way, so effects like being immobilized (-4 Ref, cannot use movement speeds) or grappled prevent this movement.

Why would you walk when you can teleport?

Dimensional Jaunt – Plane of Earth

Rank 4

Make an attack vs. Mental against anything within Short (30 ft.) range.

Hit: The target takes 1d10 bludgeoning damage. If it loses hit points from this damage, it is immobilized (–4 Ref, cannot use movement speeds) as a condition.

The attack's accuracy increases by +1 for each rank beyond 4.

Your foe disappears for a second into the Plane of Earth, where it is crushed by the weight of stone.

Phasing Spells

Rank 4

Attune

When determining whether you have line of effect to a particular location with spells, you can ignore a single physical obstacle up to one foot thick. This can allow you to cast spells through solid walls, though it does not grant you the ability to see through the wall.

Rank 6: Your spells can pass through any number of physical obstacles with a combined thickness of two feet or less.

You augment your spells with the ability to travel short distances through the Astral Plane to reach their targets.

Dimensional Jaunt – Myriad

Rank 5

Make an attack vs. Mental against anything within Short (30 ft.) range.

Hit: The target takes 4d8 + power damage of all types.

The damage increases by +1d for each rank beyond 5.

Your foe briefly teleports through a number of planes in a rapid sequence. No matter what its weaknesses are, one of those planes probably held the key.

Dimensional Jitter

Rank 5

Attune

At the end of each phase, you may choose to teleport 10 feet horizontally in a random direction. If your line of effect to your destination is blocked, or if this teleportation would somehow place you inside a solid object, your teleportation is cancelled and you remain where you are.

The squad of furious orcs rush up to you again, ready to strike, but you teleport away from them just before their greataxes reach you. Will they ever learn?

Greater Phasestep

Rank 5

Attune

When you move using one of your movement speeds, you can move through creatures freely. You can also move through inanimate objects that are no more than six inches thick. If you move into a creature's space with this ability, but you do not move out of it, you and the creature are usually considered squeezing (–2 Armor and Ref) as long as you continue sharing space (see Squeezing, page 58). If you are not able to move normally, such as if you are grappled, this spell does not help you.

You augment your body with the ability to travel through the Astral Plane to reach your destination.

Mass Phasing Blade

Rank 5

Attune (target)

This spell functions like the phasing blade spell, except that it affects up to five creatures of your choice from among yourself and your allies within Medium (60 ft.) range.

Rank 7: Each target's strikes can penetrate through any number of physical obstacles with a combined thickness of two feet or less.

You augment the weapons of your allies with the ability to travel short distances through the Astral Plane to reach their targets.

Massive Hostile Transposition

Rank 5

This spell functions like the transposition spell, except that it can affect creatures with a maximum size of Gargantuan.

The attack's accuracy increases by +1 for each rank beyond 5.

The storm giant shamans were confident that they were safe behind their defensive wall of giant warriors. When one of their number was unexpectedly replaced by a fire-breathing dragon, they briefly discovered how wrong they were.

Certain Banishment

Rank 6

This spell functions like the banishment spell, except that you gain a +3 accuracy bonus with the attack, and the damage increases to 2d10 + half power.

The damage increases by +1d for each rank beyond 6.

The balor about to drag your allies into the Abyss disappears with an audible pop. If they act quickly, they can prepare a trap before it returns.

Dimensional Jaunt – Plane of Fire

Rank 6

Make an attack vs. Mental against anything within Long (120 ft.) range.

Hit: The target takes 4d6 + half power fire damage. If it loses hit points from this damage, it briefly catches on fire. At the end of each round, it takes 4d6 + half power damage.

Critical hit: Double damage, and the burning effect becomes a condition.

The damage of both the initial hit and the subsequent condition increases by +1d for each rank beyond 6.

Your foe disappears for a second into the Plane of fire, where it is - unsurprisingly - set on fire.

Jittering CurseRank 6
Curse

Make an attack vs. Mental against one creature within Medium (60 ft.) range.

Hit: The target jitters randomly until it takes a short rest. At the end of each movement phase, if it has no remaining damage resistance, it teleports horizontally 10 feet in a random direction. This teleportation only works if it moves the target into an unoccupied location on a stable surface that can support its weight. If the destination is invalid, the teleportation fails with no effect.

Critical hit: The effect lasts until the curse is removed.

The furious troll rushes up to you again, ready to strike, only to be teleported away from you just before its claws reach you. Will it ever learn?

Dimensional Anchor

Rank 7

Make an attack vs. Mental against one creature within Short (30 ft.) range.

Hit: The target is stuck in place as a condition. At the end of each round, the target teleports back to the location it was in when this spell was cast.

Critical hit: The condition must be removed twice before the effect ends.

There is no escape. Nothing prevents your foe from moving, yet it is trapped more perfectly than any net could achieve.

Dimensional Jaunt – Far Realm

Rank 7

Make an attack vs. Mental against anything within Medium (60 ft.) range.

Hit: The target takes 2d10 energy damage. If it lost hit points from this damage, it is confused (–2 defenses, randomly attack or defend) as a condition. Otherwise, it is stunned (–2 defenses) instead of confused.

Your foe briefly teleports into the Deep Astral Plane. The distance of the journey, combined with the bizarre destination, is deeply unsettling.

RitualsRetrieve Legacy

Rank 2

Casting time: 24 hours

Choose one ritual participant. If its legacy item is on the same plane and unattended, it is teleported into the creature's hand.

This ritual requires 8 fatigue levels from its participants.

Astral Chest

Rank 3

Casting time: One hour

When you cast this spell, you choose whether to send an object to the Astral Plane or retrieve the object you stored there. If you send an object to the Astral Plane, choose a a Medium or smaller unattended object within Medium (60 ft.) range of you. That object teleports to a random location in the Astral Plane.

If you retrieve an object, choose an unoccupied space on stable ground within Medium (60 ft.) range of you. The object you previously stored in the Astral Plane with this ritual appears at that location. The object normally returns exactly as it was sent away, since the Astral Plane is vast and mostly uninhabited. There is a 1% chance per year that the object spends in the Astral Plane that it has been lost irretrievably.

This ritual requires one fatigue level from its participants.

Homeward Shift

Rank 4

Casting time: 24 hours

This ritual can only be performed on the Astral Plane.

Choose up to five Large or smaller ritual participants. Each creature teleports to the last spaces they occupied on their home planes.

This ritual requires 32 fatigue levels from its participants.

Plane Shift

Rank 4

Casting time: 1 hour

Choose a planar rift within Medium (60 ft.) range and up to five Large or smaller ritual participants. Each creature teleports to the unoccupied spaces closest to the other side of the planar rift. For details about planar rifts, see Planar Rifts, page 16.

The Astral Plane connects to every plane, but transit from other planes is usually more limited. From the Material Plane, you can only reach the Astral Plane.

This ritual requires one fatigue level from its participants.

Astral Projection

Rank 5

Casting time: 24 hours

Choose up to five Large or smaller ritual participants. Each creature teleports to a single random location within the Inner Astral Plane (see The Astral Plane, page 19).

In addition, a localized planar rift appears at the destination area on the Astral Plane which leads back to the location where this ritual was performed. The rift can only be passed through by the targets of this effect. It lasts for one week before disappearing permanently, potentially stranding the targets in the Astral Plane if they have not yet returned.

This ritual requires 50 fatigue levels from its participants.

Overland Teleportation

Rank 5

Casting time: 24 hours

Choose a destination up to 100 miles away from you on your current plane. Up to five Medium or smaller ritual participants are teleported to the chosen destination.

You must specify the destination with a precise mental image of its appearance. The image does not have to be perfect, but it must unambiguously identify the destination. If you specify its appearance incorrectly, or if the area has changed its appearance, the destination may be a different area than you intended. The new destination will be one that more closely resembles your mental image. If no such area exists, the ritual simply fails.

This ritual requires 50 fatigue levels from its participants.

Distant Overland Teleportation

Rank 7

Casting time: 24 hours

This ritual functions like the overland teleportation ritual, except that there is no distance limitation. The destination must simply be on the same plane as you.

This ritual requires 98 fatigue levels from its participants.

Interplanar Gate

Rank 7

Casting time: One week

Sustain (standard)

Choose a plane that connects to your current plane, and a location within that plane. This ritual creates an interdimensional connection between your current plane and the location you choose, allowing travel between those two planes in either direction. The gate takes the form of a 15-foot radius circular disk, oriented in a direction you choose (typically vertical). It is a two-dimensional window looking into the plane you specified when casting the spell, and anyone or anything that moves through it is shunted instantly to the other location. The gate cannot be sustained for more than 5 rounds, and is automatically dismissed at the end of that time.

You must specify the gate's destination with a precise mental image of its appearance. The image does not have to be perfect, but it must unambiguously identify the location. Incomplete or incorrect mental images may result in the ritual leading to an unintended destination within the same plane, or simply failing entirely.

The Astral Plane connects to every plane, but transit from other planes is usually more limited. From the Material Plane, you can only reach the Astral Plane.

This ritual requires 98 fatigue levels from its participants.

Casting time: 24 hours

This ritual requires 18 fatigue levels from its participants.

Commune

Rank 5

Casting time: 24 hours

You ask your source of divine power a single yes or no question. You receive a correct answer to that question to the limit of that source's knowledge, which is usually quite extensive. The answer is typically given as "yes" or "no", but it may answer "unclear" if the source does not know the answer. In cases where a one-word answer would be misleading or contrary to the source's interests, a short phrase may be given as an answer instead.

This ritual only yields accurate results once for any given situation. If you perform the ritual again in a situation that has not meaningfully changed, you receive no answer regardless of your question. For example, if you are presented with seven doorways, with one doorway leading to a magnificent treasure and all other doorways leading to certain death, you cannot simply perform this ritual six times to determine the correct doorway.

This ritual requires 50 fatigue levels from its participants.

This teleportation does not require line of sight or line of effect. After you restore the target's state in this way, it increases its fatigue level by one, and the spell ends.

Rank 4: The target's fatigue level does not increase.

Rank 6: You can target an additional ally within range.Time Lock – Mind

Casting time: One minor action*Attune

Choose yourself or one Medium or smaller ally within Medium (60 ft.) range. The target is placed into stasis, rendering it unconscious. While in stasis, it cannot take any actions and cannot be targeted, moved, damaged, or otherwise affected by outside forces in any way.

This effect normally lasts as long as you attune to it, and until the end of the round when you release the attunement. If you use this ability on yourself, it instead lasts for a number of rounds you choose when you cast the spell, up to a maximum of five rounds.

Rank 6: The maximum size of the target increases to Large.

Time Lock – Health

Rank 4

Sustain (minor)

This spell functions like the time lock – mind spell, except that you lock and restore the target's hit points instead of its conditions.

Rank 6: The target's fatigue level only increases by one instead of two.

Accelerated Triplestrike

Rank 5

This spell has no somatic components.

Make a strike. You may reroll the accuracy roll twice and take the highest result. However, you do not add your power to damage with the strike.

Rank 7: You gain a +1 accuracy bonus with the strike.

Curse of Temporal Dislocation

Rank 5

Curse

Make an attack vs. Mental against one creature within Medium (60 ft.) range.

Hit: At the end of each round, if the target lost hit points that round, it has a 50% chance to be sent forward in time by one round. During the next round, it ceases to exist. At the end of the next round, it returns to its original location, or the closest open space if that location is occupied. This effect lasts until the target takes a short rest.

Critical hit: The effect lasts until the curse is removed.

The attack's accuracy increases by +1 for each rank beyond 5.

Greater Rewind Damage

Rank 5

This spell functions like the rewind damage spell, except that The recovery increases to 4d6 + power.

The recovery increases by +1d for each rank beyond 5.

Greater Slow

Rank 5

Make an attack vs. Mental against one creature within Medium (60 ft.) range.

Hit: The target is slowed (half speed, -1 Ref) as a condition. The condition must be removed twice before the effect ends.

Critical hit: The target is immobilized (-4 Ref, cannot use movement speeds) instead of slowed.

Temporal Duplicate

Rank 5

Casting time: One minor action

Choose yourself or one ally within Medium (60 ft.) range. You reach into a possible future and create a duplicate of the target. The duplicate is identical in all ways to the target when the spell resolves.

The target and its duplicate can act during the next round. At the end of that round, the target and its duplicate cease to exist. During that round, time does not pass for the target. At the end of the following round, the target reappears in the place where it ceased to exist. If that space is occupied, it appears in the closest unoccupied space. When the target reappears, its condition is unchanged from when it left. Its hit points, conditions, and all other statistics are unaffected, regardless of any damage or other negative effects suffered by the duplicate.

The duplicate is fragile, and its actions are limited. It cannot use actions that would cause it to increase its fatigue level, lose hit points, or otherwise suffer negative consequences as a cost of the action. If it loses any hit points, it ceases to exist.

Certain Timeseal

Rank 6

This spell functions like the timeseal spell, except that you gain a +3 accuracy bonus with the attack, and the damage increases to 2d10 + half power.

Rank 6

Attune (deep)

You can take two minor actions each round instead of one.

You cannot take the same minor action twice in the same round.

Stutterstop

Rank 7

Make an attack vs. Mental against one creature within Medium (60 ft.) range.

Hit: As a condition, the target is slowed (half speed, -1 Ref) and randomly immobilized. At the start of each round, it has a 50% chance to be immobilized (-4 Ref, cannot use movement speeds) during that round.

Critical hit: The target is immobilized every round.

Time Lock – Vitality

Rank 7

Sustain (minor)

This spell functions like the time lock – mind spell, except that you lock and restore the target's vital wounds instead of its conditions. In addition, the target's fatigue level increases by four when it is restored instead of only increasing by two.

Time Stop

Rank 7

You can take two full rounds of actions immediately. During this time, all other creatures and objects are fixed in time, and cannot be targeted, moved, damaged, or otherwise affected by outside forces in any way. You can still affect yourself and create areas or new effects. When this effect ends, you are stunned (-2 defenses) as a condition.

You are still vulnerable to danger, such as from heat or dangerous gases. However, you cannot be detected by any means while you travel.

After you cast this spell, you cannot cast it again until you take a short rest.

Rituals

Gentle Repose
Casting time: One minute

Rank 3
Attune

Choose one unattended, nonmagical object within Short (30 ft.) range. Time does not pass for the target, preventing it from decaying or spoiling. This can extend the time a poison or similar item lasts before becoming inert. If used on a corpse, this effectively extends the time limit for effects that require a fresh or intact body. Additionally, this can make transporting a fallen comrade more pleasant.

This ritual requires one fatigue level from its participants.

Cryomancy

Drain heat to injure and freeze foes.

Cantrips

Chill

Make an attack vs. Fortitude against anything within Short (30 ft.) range.

Hit: The target takes 2 cold damage.

Rank 6: The damage increases to 20.

Chill Air

The temperature of the air within a Medium (30 ft.) radius emanation from you is reduced by an amount of your choice, to a maximum reduction of 20 degrees Fahrenheit. You cannot reduce the temperature below 0 degrees in this way. This typically imposes no direct penalties on other creatures, but it may make them more or less comfortable depending on their preferred temperature.

This ability lasts until you use it again or until you dismiss it as a free action.

Rank 2: The area increases to a Large (60 ft.) radius emanation, and the maximum temperature reduction increases to 30 degrees.
Rank 4: The area increases to a Huge (90 ft.) radius emanation, and the maximum temperature reduction increases to 40 degrees.
Rank 6: The area increases to a Gargantuan (120 ft.) radius emanation, and the maximum temperature reduction increases to 50 degrees.

The attack's accuracy increases by +1 for each rank beyond 1.

Icecraft

Rank 1

Attune

Choose one pool of unattended, nonmagical water within Short (30 ft.) range. This spell creates one or two weapons, suits of body armor, or shields from the target pool of water. You can create any weapon, shield, or body armor that you are proficient with, and which would normally be made of metal. It is sized appropriately for you, up to a maximum of a Medium size item. The pool of water targeted must be at least as large as the largest item you create.

If you create body armor or a weapon, it can be created from any metallic special material other than cold iron. The item's rank cannot exceed your spellcasting rank with this spell, including any modifiers from special materials.

An item created with this spell functions like a normal item of its type, with three exceptions. First, any strikes that you make with a weapon created with this ability are magical abilities, so you use your Willpower to determine your damage instead of your Strength (see Dice Bonuses From Attributes, page 41). Second, while wearing body armor from this spell, you are impervious to fire damage. Third, whenever you lose hit points from fire damage, all items you made with this ability disappear. They reappear at the end of the next round.

Icy Shell

Rank 1

Manifestation, Attune (deep)

You cover your body with two layers of ice that crumble when they take damage. The ice does not cover your joints, allowing you to move freely. Whenever you would take physical damage or fire damage, you reduce that damage by 5, and one layer of ice is destroyed. When the last layer of ice is destroyed, this ability provides no further benefit.

If you take simultaneous damage from more sources than you have remaining layers, the remaining layers apply to the largest damage sources, and you take full damage from any lower damage values.

Rank 3: The damage reduction increases to 10.

While you are leaving a trail of ice behind you, you can move into thin air by walking on your own ice trail, just as if it was solid ground. If you are still standing on your own ice trail when it disappears at the end of the round, you fall.

Creatures following closely behind you while you move may also be able to use your ice trail. However, most Large or larger creatures will break the ice trail if they step onto it, which may cause both of you to fall.

Compulsion

Harming the target is not limited to dealing it damage, but also includes causing it significant subjective discomfort.

Critical hit: The target does not become immune to this effect.

The attack's accuracy increases by +1 for each rank beyond 4.

It becomes aware of its surroundings as if waking up from a daydream. The target is not directly aware of any magical influence on its mind, though unusually paranoid or perceptive creatures may deduce that their minds were affected.

The attack's accuracy increases by +1 for each rank beyond 6.

Greater Restore BravadoRank 6
Swift

This spell functions like the restore bravado spell, except that the recovery increases to 4d8 + power.

The recovery increases by +1d for each rank beyond 6.

SleepRank 6
Compulsion

Make an attack vs. Mental against one creature within Medium (60 ft.) range.

Hit: The target is slowed (half speed, -1 Ref) as a condition. During that condition, if it is not in combat or otherwise exerting itself, it falls asleep. It cannot be awakened while this effect lasts unless it loses hit points, which causes it to wake up and ends the effect. After the effect ends by other means, the target can wake up normally, though it continues to sleep until it awakens for any reason.

Critical hit: If the target has no remaining damage resistance, it immediately falls asleep even if it is in combat or otherwise exerting itself.

The attack's accuracy increases by +1 for each rank beyond 6.

Make an attack vs. Mental against one creature within Short (30 ft.) range. You take a -10 penalty to accuracy with this attack against creatures who have made an attack or been attacked since the start of the last round, including during the current phase.

Hit: As a condition, the target believes that it is the only real creature, and the rest of the world is an illusion. It may wander aimlessly, but generally takes no action to defend itself and does not perceive itself to be in danger from other creatures. It still avoids obvious environmental hazards, such as cliff edges or fires. If it takes any damage or is otherwise harmed, including significant subjective discomfort, this effect is automatically broken.

After this effect ends, the target becomes immune to it until it takes a short rest.

Critical hit: The target does not become immune to this effect.

RitualsAnimal Messenger

Casting time: One minute

Rank 2
Attune

Make an attack vs. Mental against one Small or Tiny animal within Medium (60 ft.) range. You take a -10 penalty to accuracy with this attack against creatures who have made an attack or been attacked since the start of the last round, including during the current phase.

This ritual requires one fatigue level from its participants.

Hit: The target is compelled to deliver a message for you. You can give the animal a small piece of parchment or similarly sized item containing up to 25 words. In addition, choose a destination that you can clearly visualize. You must have a general idea of the direction and distance to that location from your current location. You must also visualize what a valid recipient for the message looks like. You can leave this description vague, such as "any humanoid creature", or be more specific, like "a hawk-nosed human wearing a red cloak".

The animal will attempt to travel to that destination to the best of its ability, following the directions you have given it. It will not willingly part with its message until it reaches its destination. Once it reaches its destination, it will wait until it observes a valid recipient, leaving the destination only briefly as necessary to sustain itself. When the animal has delivered its message, this effect ends, allowing you to know that the message has been delivered.

Make an attack vs. Mental with a +4 accuracy bonus against up to five creatures within Medium (60 ft.) range.

This ritual requires one fatigue level from its participants.

Antipathy

Rank 4

Casting time: 24 hours

Attune, Emotion

Choose a creature type: aberration, animal, animate, dragon, humanoid, magical beast, monstrous humanoid, planeformed, or undead. In addition, choose one Large or smaller object within Medium (60 ft.) range. If the target is moved, this effect ends.

Whenever a creature of the chosen type enters a Large (60 ft.) radius emanation from the chosen object, make an attack vs. Mental against it. Your accuracy with this attack is equal to half your level + half your Perception. This accuracy is calculated at the time that you perform this ritual and does not change afterwards. After you make this attack against a particular creature, you do not make this attack against it again until it takes a short rest.

This ritual requires 32 fatigue levels from its participants.

Hit: The creature is frightened (-2 Mental, -2 accuracy vs. source) by the chosen object until it takes a short rest.

Critical hit: The creature is panicked (-4 Mental, cannot attack source) instead of frightened.

Sympathy

Rank 4

Casting time: 24 hours

Attune, Emotion

Choose a creature type: aberration, animal, animate, dragon, humanoid, magical beast, monstrous humanoid, planeformed, or undead. In addition, choose one Large or smaller object within Medium (60 ft.) range. If the target is moved, this effect ends.

Whenever a creature of the chosen type enters a Large (60 ft.) radius emanation from the target, make an attack vs. Mental against it. Your accuracy with this attack is equal to half your level + half your Perception. This accuracy is calculated at the time that you perform this ritual and does not change afterwards. After you make this attack against a particular creature, you do not make this attack against it again until it takes a short rest.

This ritual requires 32 fatigue levels from its participants.

Hit: The creature is fascinated by the chosen object until it takes a short rest. It can take no actions other than staring at the object. It is unaware (-6 Armor and Ref) of any attacks against it, and anything else going on its environment. Any act by you or by creatures that appear to be your allies that threatens or harms the creature breaks the effect. Harming the creature is not limited to dealing it damage, but also includes causing it significant subjective discomfort.

Critical hit: The creature is also compelled to get as close as possible to the chosen object to admire it in greater detail.

Cantrips

Fabricate Trinket

Manifestation

You make a Craft check to create an object of Tiny size or smaller. The object appears in your hand or at your feet. This spell lasts until you use it again or until you dismiss it as a free action.

Rank 2: The maximum size of the object increases to Small.

Rank 4: The maximum size of the object increases to Medium.

Rank 6: The maximum size of the object increases to Large.

Spells

Caltrops

Rank 1

Manifestation, Sustain (attuneable, minor)

You create exceptionally sharp caltrops in up to three unoccupied squares on solid ground within Medium (60 ft.) range. Whenever a creature moves into any of the squares, unless the creature moves at one quarter speed to avoid the danger, you make an attack vs. Armor against them. You cannot make this attack against the same creature more than once per phase. Unlike most attacks, this attack can happen during the movement phase. Caltrops may not be effective against creatures with an unusual anatomy.

Hit: The target takes 1d6 + half power piercing damage.

The damage increases by +1d for each rank beyond 1.

Forge

Rank 1

Attune, Manifestation

This spell creates one or two weapons, suits of body armor, or shields. You can create any weapon, shield, or body armor that you are proficient with. It is sized appropriately for you, up to a maximum of a Medium size item. The items appear in your hand or on the ground at your feet.

If you create body armor or a weapon, it can be created from any special material other than cold iron. The item’s rank cannot exceed your spellcasting rank with this spell, including any modifiers from special materials.

Instant Arrow

Rank 1

Casting time: One minor action Manifestation, Swift

This spell has no somatic components or verbal components.

You create an arrow in a bow that you are holding. You can create special ammunition of any type that you are proficient with. However, the item’s rank cannot exceed half your spellcasting rank with this spell.

The object persists until the end of the round, at which point it disappears. Because this spell has the Swift tag, you can fire the created projectile from the weapon in the same phase that you cast this spell. Any attack with this ammunition is considered a magical attack, so you use your Willpower to determine your damage instead of your Strength (see Dice Bonuses From Attributes, page 41).

Instant Weapon

Rank 1

Manifestation

You create a nonmagical weapon that you are proficient with your hand. You can immediately make a strike with that weapon. This strike is considered a magical attack, so you use your Willpower to determine your damage instead of your Strength (see Dice Bonuses From Attributes, page 41). If you create a non-crossbow projectile weapon, you also create ammunition necessary for you to attack with. After you make the strike, the weapon disappears.

Rank 3: You gain a +1 bonus to accuracy with the strike.

Rank 5: The accuracy bonus increases to +2.

Rank 7: The accuracy bonus increases to +3.

Mystic Barrier

Rank 1

Barrier, Manifestation, Sustain (attuneable, minor)

You create a Small (15 ft. long) wall of magical energy within Medium (60 ft.) range. The wall is visible as a shimmering magical membrane that does not block sight. Nothing can pass through the wall until it is destroyed.

The wall has hit points equal to three times your power. After using this ability, you briefly cannot use it or any other Barrier ability.

Rank 3: The area increases to a Medium (30 ft. long) wall.

Rank 5: The area increases to a Large (60 ft. long) wall.

Rank 7: The area increases to a Huge (90 ft. long) wall.

Personal Weapon

Rank 1

Manifestation

Choose a type of weapon that you are proficient with. You create a normal item of that type in your hand. If the item stops touching you, it disappears, and this effect ends.

If you create a non-crossbow projectile weapon, you can fire it without ammunition by creating projectiles as you fire. The projectiles disappear after the attack is complete. Any strikes that you make with a weapon created with this ability are magical abilities, so you use your Willpower to determine your damage instead of your Strength (see Dice Bonuses From Attributes, page 41).

This spell lasts until you use it again or until you dismiss it as a free action.

Rank 3: You gain a +2 magic bonus to power while you wield the weapon.

Rank 5: The power bonus increases to +4.

Rank 7: The power bonus increases to +8.

Blade Barrier

Rank 2

Barrier, Manifestation, Sustain (attuneable, minor)

You create a Medium (30 ft. long) wall of whirling blades within Medium (60 ft.) range. The wall provides cover against attacks made through it. Whenever anything passes through the wall, make an attack vs. Armor against it. You can only make this attack against a given target once per phase.

The wall has hit points equal to three times your power. After using this ability, you briefly cannot use it or any other Barrier ability.

Hit: The target takes 1d8 + half power slashing damage.

The damage increases by +1d for each rank beyond 2.

Mystic Arrow

Rank 2

Manifestation

Rank 3: The area increases to a Medium (30 ft. long) wall.

Rank 5: The area increases to a Large (60 ft. long) wall.

Sonic Barrier

Rank 2

Barrier, Manifestation, Sustain (attuneable, minor)

This spell functions like the mystic barrier spell, except that you can choose how much the barrier blocks sound. There are three possibilities: fully sound-permeable, fully sound-blocking like a normal mystic barrier, and sound-dampening. You can change how much the barrier blocks sound as part of the action you use to sustain this spell, or as a minor action if you attune to this spell.

A sound-dampening barrier increases the difficulty value of sound-based Awareness checks by 20. Sound-permeable and sound-dampening barriers do not block line of effect for effects that deal sonic damage, but a sound-dampening barrier makes everything impervious to sonic damage that originates from the other side of the barrier.

Rank 4: The area increases to a Medium (30 ft. long) wall.

Rank 6: The area increases to a Large (60 ft. long) wall.

Visual Barrier

Rank 2

Barrier, Manifestation, Sustain (attuneable, minor)

This spell functions like the mystic barrier spell, except that you can choose the visibility of the barrier. There are three possibilities: fully invisible, barely visible like a normal mystic barrier, and visible as a deep black that completely blocks sight. You can change the opacity of the barrier as part of the action you use to sustain this spell, or as a minor action if you attune to this spell.

Rank 4: The area increases to a Medium (30 ft. long) wall.

Rank 6: The area increases to a Large (60 ft. long) wall.

Blade Perimeter

Rank 3

Barrier, Manifestation, Sustain (attuneable, minor)

You create a Small (15 ft.) radius wall of blades within Medium (60 ft.) range. The wall provides cover against attacks made through it. Whenever anything passes through the wall, make an attack vs. Armor against it. You can only make this attack against a given target once per phase.

The wall has hit points equal to three times your power. After using this ability, you briefly cannot use it or any other Barrier ability.

Hit: The target takes 1d10 + half power slashing damage.

The damage increases by +1d for each rank beyond 3.

Hit: Each target takes 1d10 + half power slashing damage.

The damage increases by +1d for each rank beyond 3.

Forceful Barrier

Rank 3

Barrier, Manifestation, Sustain (attuneable, minor)

This spell functions like the mystic barrier spell, except that it breaks objects in its area that obstruct its path. Each object in the path of the wall takes energy damage equal to 1d10 plus your power. Any object destroyed in this way does not block the barrier's area of effect. This does no damage to creatures, who block the path of the barrier like normal.

The damage increases by +1d for each rank beyond 3.

Grease

Rank 3

Manifestation

Make an attack vs. Reflex against all Large or smaller creatures in a Small (15 ft.) radius within Medium (60 ft.) range.

Hit: Each target takes 1d10 + half power piercing damage.

The damage increases by +1d for each rank beyond 3.

Protective Cage

Rank 3

Barrier, Manifestation, Sustain (minor)

Choose yourself or one Large or smaller ally within Medium (60 ft.) range. You create a metal cage around the target in its space. The cage has a 2 inch gap between its bars, allowing the target to see and be seen by creatures outside of the cage. This does not block line of sight or line of effect, but it provides cover. Only piercing weapons can make strikes through the bars of the cage. If another creature is in the target's space when this spell is cast, this spell fails without effect.

The field has hit points equal to three times your power. After using this ability, you briefly cannot use it or any other Barrier ability.

Rank 5: The field's hit points increase to four times your power.

Rank 7: The field's hit points increase to five times your power.

RitualsDetect Flame

Rank 1

Casting time: One minute

Detection

You learn the approximate distance and direction to any active fires within Long (120 ft.) range range of you. Since this is a Detection ability, its range can penetrate some solid objects (see Detection, page 375). This spell can sense fires as small as a candle flame, but no smaller.

This ritual requires one fatigue level from its participants.

Heat Tolerance

Rank 1

Casting time: One minute

Attune

Choose either yourself or an ally or unattended object within Medium (60 ft.) range. The target suffers no harm from being in a hot environment. It can exist comfortably in conditions as high as 140 degrees Fahrenheit. Its equipment, if any, is also protected. This does not protect the target from fire damage.

This ritual requires one fatigue level from its participants.

Attune, Trap

Choose one Medium or smaller unattended object with writing on it within Short (30 ft.) range. The writing on the object is altered by the runes in subtle ways, making it more difficult to read. It becomes a trap. To read the writing, a creature must concentrate on reading it, which requires a standard action. If a creature reads the object, the object explodes. You make an attack vs. Reflex against everything within a Small (15 ft.) radius from the object. Your accuracy with this attack is equal to half your level + half your Perception. This accuracy is calculated at the time that you perform this ritual and does not change afterwards. Each struck target takes 2d6 + half power fire damage.

After the object explodes in this way, the ritual is dismissed. If the object is destroyed or rendered illegible, the ritual is dismissed without exploding.

Mystic Eye

Rank 2

Scrying, Sustain (minor)

A scrying sensor appears floating in the air in any unoccupied square within Medium (60 ft.) range. At the start of each round, you choose whether you see and hear from this sensor or from your body.

While viewing through the sensor, your observation ability is the same as your normal body, except that it does not share the benefits of any magical effects that improve your vision. You otherwise act normally, though you may have difficulty moving or taking actions if the sensor cannot see your body or your intended targets, effectively making you blinded (50% miss chance, -2 Armor and Ref).

If undisturbed, the sensor floats in the air in its position. As a move action, you can move the sensor up to 30 feet in any direction, even vertically. At the end of each round, if the sensor is not within Distant (180 ft.) range from you, it is destroyed.

Rank 4: The sensor is not destroyed if you do not have line of effect to it. If it gets farther than 240 feet from you, ignoring all obstacles, it is still destroyed.

While viewing through the sensor, your observation ability is the same as your normal body, except that it does not share the benefits of any magical effects that improve your vision. The attack's accuracy increases by +1 for each rank beyond 4.

Clairvoyance

Rank 5

Attune, Scrying

A scrying sensor appears floating in the air in any unoccupied square within Medium (60 ft.) range. You do not need line of sight or line of effect to target a location. You must specify a distance and direction to target a location you cannot see. This can allow you to cast the spell beyond walls and similar obstacles.

At the start of each round, you choose whether you see and hear from this sensor or from your body. While viewing through the sensor, your observation ability is the same as your normal body, except that it does not share the benefits of any magical effects that improve your vision. RitualsAlarm

Casting time: One minute

Attune, Scrying

A scrying sensor appears floating in the air in the target location. The sensor passively observes its surroundings. As with other Scrying effects, its visual acuity is the same as yours. You can choose the minimum size category that the alarm will notify you for when you cast this spell. If it sees a creature or object of that size or larger moving within 50 feet of it, it will trigger an alarm. When you perform this ritual, you choose whether the alarm causes the sound of a ringing bell or a mental "ping" that only you can notice. You must be within 1 mile of the sensor to receive this mental alarm. This mental sensation is strong enough to wake you from normal sleep, but does not otherwise disturb concentration.

This ritual requires one fatigue level from its participants.

Read Magic

Rank 1

Casting time: One minute

Attune

You gain the ability to decipher magical inscriptions that would otherwise be unintelligible. This can allow you to read ritual books and similar objects created by other creatures. After you have read an inscription in this way, you are able to read that particular writing without the use of this ritual.

This ritual requires one fatigue level from its participants.

Augury

Rank 2

Casting time: One hour

You receive a limited glimpse into your immediate future. When you perform this ritual, you specify a course of action that you could hypothetically take during the next hour. You can be as broad or as detailed as you want in your description of your plan, though more specific and plausible plans generally yield more accurate results. The GM specifies one of four possible outcomes for the augury based on what is most likely to occur if you follow your plan. This is not a guarantee of success or failure, especially for plans that have some intrinsic randomness or chance of failure (such as planning to defeat a monster in combat).

- Weal: The plan is likely to yield good outcomes for you.
- Woe: The plan is likely to yield bad outcomes for you.
- Weal and Woe: The plan is likely to yield a mixture of good and bad outcomes for you.
- None: Either plan is unlikely to have any significant outcomes, or the outcomes of the plan are too vague to accurately predict.

This ritual only yields accurate results once for any given situation. If you perform the ritual again in a situation that has not meaningfully changed, the augury always has no outcome regardless of the plan you specify. For example, if you are presented with seven doorways, with one doorway leading to a magnificent treasure and all other doorways leading to certain death, you cannot simply perform this ritual six times to determine the correct doorway.

This ritual requires one fatigue level from its participants.

Discern Location

Rank 2

Casting time: 24 hours

When you perform this ritual, choose a creature or object. You must have seen the chosen creature or object in person and either be able to clearly visualize its appearance or know its proper name to find it with this ritual. A creature or object without a proper name cannot be identified by name in this way. If you specify the chosen creature or object's appearance incorrectly, or if it has significantly changed its appearance, you may accidentally affect a different creature, or the ritual may simply fail.

If the chosen creature or object is within 100 miles of you, you learn the location (place, name, business name, or the like), community, country, and continent where the target was at when you started performing this ritual. If there is no corresponding information about an aspect of the target's location, such as if the target is in a location which is not part of a recognized country, you learn only that that aspect of the information is missing.

This ritual requires 8 fatigue levels from its participants.

Seek Legacy

Rank 2

Casting time: One hour

One ritual participant learns the precise distance and direction to their legacy item, if it is on the same plane.

This ritual requires one fatigue level from its participants.

Locate Creature

Rank 3

Casting time: One hour

When you perform this ritual, choose a creature. You must have seen the chosen creature in person and either be able to clearly visualize its appearance or know its proper name to find it with this ritual. A creature without a proper name cannot be identified by name in this way. If you specify the chosen creature's appearance incorrectly, or if it has significantly changed its appearance, you may accidentally affect a different creature, or the ritual may simply fail.

If the creature is within 100 miles of your location, you unerringly learn the relative direction from your location to the location it was in when you started performing this ritual.

This ritual requires one fatigue level from its participants.

Locate Object

Rank 3

Casting time: One minute

This ritual functions like the locate creature ritual, except that it locates objects instead of creatures. Objects currently being worn or carried by creatures cannot be found by this ritual.

This ritual requires one fatigue level from its participants.

Reveal True Form

Rank 3

Casting time: One hour

Attune

Choose one creature within Long (120 ft.) range. You can see the target's true form, regardless of any shapechanging or illusion effects.

This ritual requires one fatigue level from its participants.

Scryward

Rank 3

Casting time: 24 hours

This ritual creates a ward against scrying in a Medium (30 ft.) radius zone centered on your location. All Scrying effects fail to function in the area. This effect is permanent.

This ritual requires 18 fatigue levels from its participants.

Sending

Rank 3

Casting time: One hour

Sustain (standard)

You do not need line of sight or line of effect to the target. However, must specify your target with a precise mental image of its appearance. The image does not have to be perfect, but it must unambiguously identify the target. If you specify its appearance incorrectly, or if the target has changed its appearance, you may accidentally target a different creature, or the ritual may simply fail.

You send the target a short verbal message. The message must be twenty-five words or less, and speaking the message must not take longer than five rounds.

After the the target receives the message, it may reply with a message of the same length as long as the ritual's effect continues. Once it speaks twenty-five words, or you stop sustaining the effect, the ritual is dismissed.

This ritual requires one fatigue level from its participants.

Telepathic Bond

Rank 3

Casting time: One minute

Attune

Each target can communicate mentally through telepathy with each other target. This communication is instantaneous, though it cannot reach more than 100 miles or across planes.

Each target must attune to this ritual independently. If a target breaks its attunement, it stops being able to send and receive mental messages with other targets. However, the effect continues as long as at least one target attunes to it. If you dismiss the ritual, the effect ends for all targets.

This ritual requires one fatigue level from its participants.

Distant Discern Location

Rank 4

Casting time: 24 hours

This ritual functions like the discern location ritual, except that there is no distance limitation. The creature or object must simply be on the same plane as you.

This ritual requires 32 fatigue levels from its participants.

Greater Augury

Rank 4

Casting time: One hour

This ritual functions like the augury ritual, except that the augury considers events up to 4 hours into your future when evaluating the outcomes of your plan.

This ritual requires one fatigue level from its participants.

Prophetic Dream

Rank 4

Casting time: One hour

Scrying

The next time you fall asleep, you have a dream that foreshadows some important event or decision in your future. The dream may be vague or even self-contradictory, since the future is never certain, but its contents always provide some hint about what may lie ahead of you. Generally, a prophetic dream concerns events no more than a month before they occur, though staggeringly important events can be prophesied years in advance.

Once you have performed this ritual, performing it again always yields the same dream until the prophesied event has happened or is no longer a relevant or likely future. This can happen as if your actions prevent the event from coming to pass.

This ritual requires one fatigue level from its participants.

Scry Creature

Rank 4

Casting time: One hour

Scrying

Make an attack vs. Mental against one creature on the same plane as you. You do not need line of sight or line of effect to the target. However, must specify your target with a precise mental image of its appearance. The image does not have to be perfect, but it must unambiguously identify the target. If you specify its appearance incorrectly, or if the target has changed its appearance, you may accidentally target a different creature, or the spell may simply fail without effect. This attack roll cannot explode.

This ritual requires one fatigue level from its participants.

Rank 1

Manifestation

Make an attack vs. Armor against anything on solid ground within Medium (60 ft.) range.

Summon Monster

Rank 1

Manifestation, Attune (deep)

You summon a creature in an unoccupied square on stable ground within Medium (60 ft.) range. It visually appears to be a common Small or Medium animal of your choice, though in reality it is a manifestation of magical energy. If a summoned creature gains a vital wound or has no hit points remaining at the end of a phase, it disappears. Regardless of the appearance and size chosen, the creature's statistics use the values below.

- Its fatigue tolerance is 0, and it cannot choose to take actions that would give it fatigue levels.
- Its hit points and damage resistance are equal to the standard value for your level (see Table 3.5: Hit Points and Damage Resistance, page 31).
- Each of its defenses is equal to 5 + half your level.
- Its accuracy is equal to half your level + half your Perception.
- Its land speed is 30 feet.
- It has no attunement points.

Each round, you can choose the creature's actions by mentally commanding it as a free action. There are only two actions it can take. As a move action, it can move as you direct. As a standard action, it can make a melee strike against a creature adjacent to it. If it hits, it deals 1d4 physical damage. This damage is improved by your Willpower as normal for magical attacks. The subtypes of damage dealt by this attack depend on the creature's appearance, but are limited to bludgeoning, piercing, and slashing damage.

If you do not command the creature's actions, it will continue to obey its last instructions if possible or do nothing otherwise. Summoned creatures have no mind or independent agency, and will not act on their own even if attacked.

The damage increases by +1d for each rank beyond 1.

Rank 1

Manifestation

Make an attack vs. Reflex against everything on solid ground in a Medium (30 ft. long), 5 ft. wide line from you. You summon a Medium creature that tramples through the area before disappearing. The length of this spell's area is affected by difficult terrain and similar movement impediments.

Summon Mount

Rank 2

Manifestation, Attune (target)

This spell functions like the summon monster spell, except that you must also choose yourself or an ally within Medium (60 ft.) range to ride the summoned creature. The summoned creature appears to be either a Large horse or a Medium pony. It comes with a bit and bridle and a riding saddle, and will only accept the target as a rider. The creature follows its rider's directions to the extent that a well-trained horse would and it cannot attack.

Rank 4: The creature gains a +1 bonus to its defenses.

Rank 6: The defense bonus increases to +2.

Summon Offensive Monster

Rank 2

Manifestation, Attune (deep)

Hit: Each target takes 1d10 + half power bludgeoning damage.

This spell functions like the summon monster spell, except that the creature appears to be a Medium bear. Its attacks deal 1d8 bludgeoning and slashing damage. In addition, it suffers no penalty for attacking in a grapple. As a standard action, it can make a grapple attack against a creature adjacent to it. While grappling, the manifested creature can either make a strike or attempt to escape the grapple.

The damage increases by +1d for each rank beyond 3.

Summon Fire Elemental

Rank 3

Manifestation, Attune (deep)

This spell functions like the summon monster spell, except that the summoned creature appears to be a fire elemental. Its attacks deal 1d6 fire damage. In addition, it is immune to fire damage.

The damage increases by +1d for each rank beyond 3.

Summon Weapon

Rank 3

Manifestation, Sustain (minor)

You summon a weapon in an unoccupied square on stable ground within Medium (60 ft.) range. It takes the form of a weapon of your choice that you are proficient with, though in reality it is a manifestation of magical energy. It is sized appropriately to be wielded by a creature of your size. If a summoned weapon gains a vital wound or has no hit points remaining at the end of a phase, it disappears. The summoned weapon's statistics use the values below.

- Its fatigue tolerance is 0, and it cannot choose to take actions that would give it fatigue levels.
- Its hit points are equal to half the standard value for your level (see Table 3.5: Hit Points and Damage Resistance, page 31).
- It has no damage resistance.
- Each of its defenses is equal to 4 + half your level.
- Its accuracy is equal to half your level + half your Perception - 2, plus any accuracy modifier for the chosen weapon.
- It has a 30 foot fly speed instead of a land speed, with good maneuverability and a maximum height of 5 feet.
- It has no attunement points.

You cannot control the summoned weapon's actions. Each round, the weapon automatically moves towards the creature closest to it during the movement phase, following that creature to the best of its abilities. During the action phase, it makes a melee strike against a creature adjacent to it. The weapon prefers to avoid accuracy and damage penalties that would be imposed by cover or special weapon grips. It chooses randomly if all possible targets are equally easy to attack. If it hits, it deals damage appropriate for your chosen weapon. This damage is improved by your Willpower as normal for magical attacks.

The damage increases by +1d for each rank beyond 3.

Greater Summon Defensive Monster

Rank 4

Manifestation, Attune (deep)

This spell functions like the summon monster spell, except that the summoned creature is much more defensively inclined. It gains a +2 bonus to all defenses, and it gains a +1d damage bonus with its attacks.

Manifestation, Attune (deep)

This spell functions like the summon monster spell, except that the summoned creature appears to be a snake. Its attacks deal 1d10 bludgeoning and piercing damage. Whenever its strike causes a living creature to lose hit points, the damaged creature becomes poisoned with asp venom (see Table ??: Typical Poisons, page ??). It is immediately dazed (-1 defenses) while it is poisoned. The poison's third stage causes the target to become stunned (-2 defenses) as long as it is poisoned.

The damage increases by +1d for each rank beyond 4.

Summon Ballista Rank 4

Manifestation, Sustain (minor)

This spell functions like the summon weapon spell, except that it creates a fully functional Large ballista instead of a weapon. The ballista functions like any other weapon, with the following exceptions.

The ballista deals 1d10 damage with its attacks. It cannot move, and makes projectile strikes instead of melee strikes. Its attacks deal piercing damage and have range limits of 90/360. The ballista chooses to attack the creature farthest from it instead of the creature closest to it, though it avoids taking longshot penalties unless there are no valid targets within close range.

The damage increases by +1d for each rank beyond 4.

Their attacks deal 2d10 bludgeoning and piercing damage. Each creature has a -2 penalty to accuracy and defenses compared to a normal summoned creature. In addition, each creature has half the hit points of a normal summoned creature. You must command the creatures as a group, rather than as individuals. Each creature obeys your command to the extent it can.

RitualsRitual Mount

Rank 2

Casting time: One minute

Attune, Manifestation

Choose yourself or one ally within Medium (60 ft.) range. This ritual summons your choice of a Large light horse or a Medium pony to serve as a mount. The creature appears in an unoccupied location on stable ground within Medium (60 ft.) range. It comes with a bit and bridle and a riding saddle, and will only accept the chosen creature as a rider. It has the same statistics as a creature from the summon monster spell, except that it follows its rider's directions to the extent that a well-trained horse would and it cannot attack.

This ritual requires one fatigue level from its participants.

Telekinesis

Manipulate kinetic energy at a distance.

Cantrips

Distant Hand

Sustain (minor)

Choose one Medium or smaller unattended object within Short (30 ft.) range. You can telekinetically control the target object as if you were holding it in an extra hand. Any attacks you make with the object or checks you make to manipulate the object have a maximum bonus equal to your power. At the end of each round, if the target is outside of this ability’s range, this ability ends.

During the movement phase, you can move the target up to five feet in any direction. You use your Willpower instead of your Strength to determine your weight limits when moving objects in this way (see Weight Limits, page 45).

Rank 2: You can move the target up to ten feet in any direction.
Rank 4: The range increases to Medium (60 ft.) range.
Rank 6: You can move the target up to thirty feet in any direction.

You can exert minor force on objects and creatures around you. As part of the action you take to sustain this spell, you may choose any object or creature within Short (30 ft.) range of you. That object or creature feels a push in a direction of your choice. The force is sufficient to lift an object with a Diminutive weight category, or to push an object with a Tiny weight category across the ground. Generally, the force exerted by this ability is insufficient to physically move or even meaningfully impede any creature, but it can be perceived.

Rank 2: The force increases to lift a Tiny weight object, or to push a Small weight object.
Rank 4: The range increases to Long (120 ft.) range
Rank 6: The force increases to lift a Small weight object, or to push a Medium weight object.

The attack’s accuracy increases by +1 for each rank beyond 1.

Kinetic Shell

Rank 1

Manifestation, Attune (deep)

You surround yourself with two layers of shielding that reduce the power of physical attacks against you. Whenever you would take physical damage, you reduce that damage by 5, and one layer of shielding is destroyed. When the last layer is destroyed, this ability provides no further benefit.

If you take simultaneous damage from more sources than you have remaining layers, the remaining layers apply to the largest damage sources, and you take full damage from any lower damage values.

Rank 3: The damage reduction increases to 10.
Rank 5: The damage reduction increases to 20.
Rank 7: The damage reduction increases to 40.

Kinetic ShieldRank 1
Attune

The attack's accuracy increases by +1 for each rank beyond 1.

Telekinetic LiftRank 1
Attune

Choose yourself or one Medium or smaller unattended object within Medium (60 ft.) range. The target is reduced to half of its normal weight. This gives it a +4 magic bonus to the Jump skill, if applicable, and makes it easier to lift and move.

Rank 3: The bonus increases to +6.

Rank 5: The target is reduced to a quarter of its normal weight. In addition, the bonus increases to +8.

Rank 7: The bonus increases to +10.

Toss Foe

Rank 1

Make an attack vs. Fortitude against anything Large or smaller within Medium (60 ft.) range.

Hit: The target takes 1d4 bludgeoning damage. If it loses hit points from this damage, you knockback it up to 30 feet in any direction (see Knockback Effects, page 59). Moving the target upwards costs twice the normal movement cost.

The attack's accuracy increases by +1 for each rank beyond 1.

Wall of ForceRank 1
Barrier, Manifestation, Sustain (attuneable, minor)

You create a Small (15 ft. long) wall of magical energy within Medium (60 ft.) range. The wall is visible as a shimmering magical field that does not block sight. Nothing can pass through the wall until it is destroyed.

The wall has hit points equal to three times your power. After using this ability, you briefly cannot use it or any other Barrier ability.

Rank 3: The area increases to a Medium (30 ft. long) line.

Rank 5: The area increases to a Large (60 ft. long) line.

Rank 7: The area increases to a Huge (90 ft. long) line.

Interposing Force

Rank 2

Make an attack vs. Fortitude against one creature within Medium (60 ft.) range.

Hit: As a condition, the target is unable to move closer to you without effort. This does not impede its movement unless its movement would decrease the distance between it and you. As part of movement, it can make a Strength check with a difficulty value of 5. If it succeeds, it can move towards you at half speed.

Critical hit: The difficulty value of the Strength check increases by 10.

The attack's accuracy increases by +1 for each rank beyond 2.

Mind Arrow

Rank 2

Choose one Tiny or smaller unattended projectile within Long (120 ft.) range. You make a strike using the projectile against anything within Long (120 ft.) range. This strike is considered a magical ability, so you use your Willpower to determine your damage instead of your Strength (see Dice Bonuses From Attributes, page 41). The projectile flies directly toward the target instead of originating from your position, which may allow you to avoid cover and similar obstacles.

Rank 4: The range increases to Distant (180 ft.) range.

Rank 6: The range increases to Extreme (240 ft.) range.

Reactive DeflectionRank 2
Attune

You gain a +2 bonus to your defenses against ranged strikes.

Rank 4: The bonus increases to +3.

Rank 6: The bonus increases to +4.

Steal Item

Rank 2

Make an attack vs. Reflex against one Small or smaller object within Medium (60 ft.) range. If the object is attended by a creature, the attack must also beat the attending creature's Reflex defense. If it is held in two hands or well secured, this attack automatically fails.

After you successfully steal an item from a creature with this spell, it gains a +5 bonus to its defenses against this spell until it takes a short rest.

Hit: You knockback the object up to 60 feet towards you. You can use a free hand to catch the object if it reaches you.

The attack's accuracy increases by +1 for each rank beyond 2.

Blastwave

Rank 3

Make an attack vs. Fortitude against everything in a Small (15 ft.) radius from you.

Hit: You knockback each target up to 15 feet in a straight line away from you. Moving a target upwards costs twice the normal movement cost. If the target impacts a solid object before the maximum distance, it stops moving and both it and the object take bludgeoning damage equal to 1d10 + half power instead of the normal knockback damage. Any individual object or creature can only take damage once in this way, even if it is hit by multiple targets that are knocked flying.

The damage increases by +1d for each rank beyond 3.

Distant Shove

Rank 3

Make an attack vs. Fortitude against anything Large or smaller within Short (30 ft.) range of you.

Hit: You push the target up to 30 feet in a straight line. If the target impacts a solid object before it moves the maximum distance, it stops moving and both it and the object take bludgeoning damage equal to 2d6 + power.

Your melee strikes gain the Long weapon tag, allowing you to attack targets up to 10 feet away from you (see Weapon Tags, page 162).

Mass Kinetic Shield

Rank 3

Attune (target)

This spell functions like the kinetic shield spell, except that it affects up to five creatures of your choice from among yourself and your allies within Medium (60 ft.) range.

Rank 5: The bonus increases to +8.

Rank 7: The bonus increases to +16.

Redirect Attacks

Rank 3

Swift

You immediately take the total defense action. In addition, whenever a creature within Long (120 ft.) range of you misses or glances you with a strike this round, that creature treats itself as a target of that strike in addition to any other targets. It cannot choose to reduce its accuracy or damage against itself.

Rank 5: You gain an additional +1 bonus to all defenses.

Rank 7: The defense bonus increases to +2.

Animated Weapon

Rank 4

Attune (deep)

As a minor action, you can make a strike with a -3 penalty to accuracy. This strike is considered a magical ability. You do not add your power to damage with the strike.

Rank 6: The accuracy penalty is reduced to -2.

Floating Shield

Rank 4

Attune (deep)

You can hold a buckler or standard shield without using a free hand. You still suffer the normal penalties if you are not proficient with it.

The attack's accuracy increases by +1 for each rank beyond 4.

Levitate

Rank 4

Attune

As long as you remain within 30 feet above a surface that could support your weight, you float in midair, unaffected by gravity. During the movement phase, you can move yourself up to ten feet in any direction as a move action.

Rank 6: The maximum height above the surface increases to 60 feet.

Repulsion Field

Rank 4

Sustain (minor)

When you cast this spell, you create a repulsive field in a Small (15 ft.) radius zone from your location. Whenever an enemy makes physical contact with the spell's area, you make an attack vs. Mental against it. Creatures in the area at the time that the spell is cast are unaffected by the spell.

Hit: Each target is unable to enter the spell's area with any part of its body for the duration of the spell. The rest of its movement in the current phase is cancelled.

Critical hit: You also knockback each target 20 feet in the direction that it tried to enter the area from.

The attack's accuracy increases by +1 for each rank beyond 4.

Greater Steal Item

Rank 5

This spell functions like the steal item spell, except that the attack does not automatically fail if the item is held in two hands, and the maximum size increases to Medium.

The attack's accuracy increases by +1 for each rank beyond 5.

Mass Force Extension

Rank 5

Attune (target)

This spell functions like the force extension spell, except that it affects up to five creatures of your choice from among yourself and your allies within Medium (60 ft.) range.

Retributive Kinetic Shield

Rank 5

Attune (deep)

You gain a +16 magic bonus to damage resistance. In addition, whenever you resist damage, the attacker takes energy damage equal to half the damage resisted this way. If the attacker is beyond Short (30 ft.) range of you, this reflection fails. Any effect which increases this spell's range increases the range of this effect by the same amount.

Rank 7: The bonus increases to +32.

Distant Grasp

Rank 6

Sustain (minor)

Make an attack vs. Fortitude and Reflex against one Large or smaller creature within Short (30 ft.) range of you.

Hit: The target is grappled by telekinetic force. You must use the maintain grapple ability each round to maintain the grapple, as normal for grappling. You may not use your Strength to maintain the grapple.

Your accuracy with the attack and with maintaining the grapple increases by +1 for each rank beyond 6.

Greater Blastwave

Rank 6

Barrier, Sustain (minor)

You slowly create a 10 ft. cube of telekinetic force within Medium (60 ft.) range. The cage appears at the end of the next round after you cast this spell. Before that time, there is no visible indication of where the cage will appear. Any physical obstacles in the way of the cage at the time that it forms prevent it from appearing. You can create the cube around a sufficiently small creature to trap it inside. Each wall is transparent, but it blocks physical passage and line of effect.

The wall has hit points equal to three times your power. After using this ability, you briefly cannot use it or any other Barrier ability.

Greater Interposing Force

Rank 7

This spell functions like the interposing force spell, except that the difficulty value of the Strength check increases to 15.

Supreme Force Lance

Rank 7

Make an attack vs. Armor against everything in a Large (60 ft. long), 10 ft. wide line from you.

Hit: Each target takes 4d10 + half power piercing damage.

Supreme Toss Foe

Rank 7

This spell functions like the toss foe spell, except that the damage increases to 2d10. In addition, the knockback distance increases to 120 feet, or 240 feet on a critical hit.

Rituals

Terramancy

Manipulate earth to crush foes.

Cantrips

Shape Earth

Choose one unattended, nonmagical body of earth or unworked stone you touch. You make a Craft check to alter the target (see Craft, page 145), except that you do not need any special tools to make the check, such as a shovel or hammer and chisel. The maximum damage resistance of a material you can affect with this ability is equal to your power.

Each time you cast this spell, you can accomplish work that would take up to five rounds with a normal Craft check.

Rank 2: The amount of work you accomplish with the spell increases to one minute.

Rank 4: The amount of work you accomplish with the spell increases to two minutes.

Rank 6: The amount of work you accomplish with the spell increases to five minutes.

Spells

Crushing Gravity

Rank 1

Make an attack vs. Fortitude against anything within Medium (60 ft.) range. This attack gains a +2 accuracy bonus if the target is on a Medium or larger body of stone.

Hit: The target takes 1d10 + half power bludgeoning damage. In addition, it is briefly slowed (half speed, -1 Ref).

The damage increases by +1d for each rank beyond 1.

Earthbind

Rank 1

Make an attack vs. Fortitude against one creature within Short (30 ft.) range that is no more than 120 feet above a stable surface that could support its weight. This attack gains a +2 accuracy bonus if that surface is a Medium or larger body of stone.

Hit: As a condition, the target is pulled towards the ground with great force, approximately doubling the gravity it experiences. It is slowed (half speed, -1 Ref) and unable to use any fly speed or glide speed.

Critical hit: The condition must be removed twice before the effect ends.

The attack's accuracy increases by +1 for each rank beyond 1.

Earthcraft

Rank 1

Attune

This spell creates one or two weapons, suits of body armor, or shields from a body of earth or stone within 5 feet of you. The body targeted must be at least as large as the largest item you create. You can create any weapon, shield, or body armor that you are proficient with, and which would normally be made of metal. It is sized appropriately for you, up to a maximum of a Medium size item. The items appear in your hand or on the ground at your feet.

If you create body armor or a weapon, it can be created from any special material other than cold iron. The item's rank cannot exceed your spellcasting rank with this spell, including any modifiers from special materials.

An item created with this spell functions like a normal item of its type, except that any strikes that you make with a weapon created with this ability are magical abilities, so you use your Willpower to determine your damage instead of your Strength (see Dice Bonuses From Attributes, page 41).

Earthen Anchor

Rank 1

Attune

You are immune to knockback, push, and teleport effects from attacks, unless the effects come from an attack that scores a critical hit. This does not affect movement effects used by your allies.

Earthspike

Rank 1

Manifestation

Make an attack vs. Armor against anything within Short (30 ft.) range that is on a stable surface. This attack gains a +2 accuracy bonus if the target is on a Medium or larger body of stone.

Hit: The target takes 1d4 piercing damage. If it loses hit points from this damage, it is slowed (half speed, -1 Ref) as a condition. This condition must be removed twice before the effect ends.

The attack's accuracy increases by +1 for each rank beyond 1.

Rocky Shell

Rank 1

Manifestation, Attune (deep)

You cover your body with two layers of rock that crumple when they take damage. The rock does not cover your joints, allowing you to move, though the shell increases your encumbrance by 2. Whenever you would take damage, you reduce that damage by 5, and one layer of rock is destroyed. When the last layer is destroyed, this ability provides no further benefit.

If you take simultaneous damage from more sources than you have remaining layers, the remaining layers apply to the largest damage sources, and you take full damage from any lower damage values.

Rank 3: The damage reduction increases to 10.

Rank 5: The damage reduction increases to 20.

Rank 7: The damage reduction increases to 40.

Personal Gravitation

Rank 2

Attune

Once per phase, while you are within 5 feet of an unattended object at least one size category larger than you, you can take a free action to adjust your personal gravity. When you do, gravity pulls you towards that surface instead of in the normal direction. This allows you to walk normally on walls or even ceilings.

Whenever you change the direction that gravity pulls you, you must make a difficulty value 10 Balance check to keep your feet. Failure means you fall prone (half speed, -2 Armor and Ref) and your movement for that phase ends.

Rank 4: The maximum distance increases to 15 feet. This can allow you to pull yourself towards distant objects, though you may take falling damage if you fall too far.

Rank 6: The maximum distance increases to 30 feet.

Rock Throw

Rank 2

Manifestation

Make an attack vs. Armor against anything within Short (30 ft.) range. This attack gains a +2 accuracy bonus if you are on a Medium or larger body of stone.

Hit: The target takes 2d6 + power bludgeoning damage.

The damage increases by +1d for each rank beyond 2.

Stonefist

Rank 2

Attune, Manifestation

You gain a slam natural weapon (see Table 8.6: Natural Weapons, page 170). The natural weapon deals 1d10 damage, as normal for a slam natural weapon. In addition, it has the Forceful weapon tag (see Weapon Tags, page 162). Strikes using it are considered magical abilities, which means you use your Willpower to determine your damage dice instead of your Strength (see Dice Bonuses From Attributes, page 41).

You encase one of your arms in a mighty stone bulkward, empowering it to crush your foes with sheer brute force.

Volcano

Rank 2

Manifestation

Make an attack vs. Reflex against everything in a Small (15 ft.) radius from a point on a stable surface within Short (30 ft.) range. This attack gains a +2 accuracy bonus if that point is on a Medium or larger body of stone.

Hit: Each target takes 1d10 + half power bludgeoning and fire damage.

The damage increases by +1d for each rank beyond 2.

You create a small volcano that bursts forth, showering nearby creatures in burning shrapnel.

Wall of Stone

Rank 2

Barrier, Manifestation, Sustain (attuneable, minor)

You create a Small (15 ft. long) wall of stone within Medium (60 ft.) range. Every square of the wall must be supported by solid ground. Nothing can pass through the wall until it is destroyed.

The wall has hit points equal to three times your power. If the entire wall is directly supported by stone, its hit points are doubled. After using this ability, you briefly cannot use it or any other Barrier ability.

Rank 3: The area increases to a Medium (30 ft. long) wall.

Rank 5: The area increases to a Large (60 ft. long) wall.

Rank 7: The area increases to a Huge (90 ft. long) wall.

Distant Earthbind

Rank 3

This spell functions like the earthbind spell, except that the range increases to Long (120 ft.) range.

The attack's accuracy increases by +1 for each rank beyond 3.

Mass Earthen Anchor

Rank 3

Attune (target)

This spell functions like the earthen anchor spell, except that it affects up to five creatures of your choice from among yourself and your allies within Medium (60 ft.) range.

Meld into Stone

Rank 3

Attune

You and up to 100 pounds of nonliving equipment meld into one stone object you touch that is at least as large as your body. If you try to bring excess equipment into the stone, the spell fails without effect.

As long as the spell lasts, you can move within the stone as if it was thick water. However, at least part of you must remain within one foot of the place you originally melded with the stone. You gain no special ability to breathe or see while embedded the stone, and you cannot speak if your mouth is within the stone. The stone muffles sound, but very loud noises may reach your ears within it. If you fully exit the stone, this spell ends.

If this spell ends before you exit the stone, or if the stone stops being a valid target for the spell (such as if it is broken into pieces), you are forcibly expelled from the stone. When you are forcibly expelled from the stone, you take 4d8 bludgeoning damage and become stunned (–2 defenses) as a condition.

Shrapnel Blast

Rank 3

Manifestation

Make an attack vs. Reflex against everything in a Small (15 ft.) cone from you. This attack gains a +2 accuracy bonus if you are on a Medium or larger body of stone.

Hit: Each target takes 2d6 + half power bludgeoning and piercing damage.

The damage increases by +1d for each rank beyond 3.

Tremor

Rank 3

Make an attack vs. Reflex against all Large or smaller creatures in a Small (15 ft.) within Medium (60 ft.) range that are on a stable surface. This attack gains a +2 accuracy bonus against each target that is on a Medium or larger body of stone.

Hit: Each target is knocked prone (half speed, -2 Armor and Ref).

Critical hit: Each target is also unable to stand up as a condition.

The attack's accuracy increases by +1 for each rank beyond 3.

You create an highly localized tremor that rips through the ground.

Earthen Fortification

Rank 4

Attune, Manifestation

You construct a fortification made of packed earth within Medium (60 ft.) range. This takes the form of up to ten contiguous 5-foot squares, each of which is four inches thick. The squares can be placed at any angle and used to form any structure as long as that structure is stable. Since the fortifications are made of packed earth, their maximum weight is limited, and structures taller than ten feet high are usually impossible.

The fortifications form slowly, rather than instantly. The structure becomes complete at the end of the action phase in the next round after this spell is cast. This makes it difficult to trap creatures within structures formed.

Rank 6: You can also construct fortifications from stone. This makes them more resistant to attack and allows the construction of more complex structures.

Fissure

Rank 4

Make an attack vs. Reflex against everything in a Small (15 ft.) within Medium (60 ft.) range that is on a stable surface. This attack gains a +2 accuracy bonus against each target that is on a Medium or larger body of stone.

Hit: Each target takes 2d6 + half power bludgeoning damage. Each Large or smaller target that loses hit points from this damage is also knocked prone (half speed, -2 Armor and Ref).

The damage increases by +1d for each rank beyond 4.

You create an intense but highly localized tremor that rips through the ground.

Greater Volcano

Rank 4

Manifestation

Make an attack vs. Reflex against everything in a Medium (30 ft.) radius from a point on a stable surface within Medium (60 ft.) range. This attack gains a +2 accuracy bonus if that point is on a Medium or larger body of stone.

Hit: Each target takes 2d8 + half power bludgeoning and fire damage.

The damage increases by +1d for each rank beyond 4.

You create a large volcano that bursts forth, showering nearby creatures in burning shrapnel.

Quagmire

Rank 4

Sustain (minor)

Choose one Small (15 ft.) radius zone within Long (120 ft.) range. All earth and stone in the area is softened into a thick sludge, creating a quagmire that is difficult to move through. The movement cost required to move out of each affected square within the area is quadrupled. This does not affect objects under structural stress, such as walls and support columns.

Rank 6: The area increases to a Medium (30 ft.) radius.

Earthglide

Rank 5

Attune

You can move through earth and unworked stone at a rate of 5 feet per round. This does not allow you to breathe while inside the earth or stone, so your ability to traverse long distances may be limited.

Rank 7: Your speed increases to be equal to 10 feet less than the base speed for your size.

Greater Crushing Gravity

Rank 5

Make an attack vs. Fortitude against anything within Medium (60 ft.) range. This attack gains a +2 accuracy bonus if the target is on a Medium or larger body of stone.

Hit: The target takes 4d6 + half power bludgeoning damage. In addition, it is slowed (half speed, -1 Ref) as a condition.

The damage increases by +1d for each rank beyond 5.

Greater Earthspike

Rank 5

Manifestation

Make an attack vs. Armor against anything within Short (30 ft.) range that is on a stable surface. This attack gains a +2 accuracy bonus if the target is on a Medium or larger body of stone.

Hit: The target takes 2d6 piercing damage. If it loses hit points from this damage, it is immobilized (-4 Ref, cannot use movement speeds) as a condition.

The attack's accuracy increases by +1 for each rank beyond 5.

Greater Rock Throw

Rank 5

Manifestation

Make an attack vs. Armor against anything within Medium (60 ft.) range. This attack gains a +2 accuracy bonus if you are on a Medium or larger body of stone.

Hit: The target takes 4d8 + power bludgeoning damage.

The damage increases by +1d for each rank beyond 5.

Greater Earthbind

Rank 6

Make an attack vs. Fortitude against one creature within Medium (60 ft.) range that is no more than 120 feet above a stable surface that could support its weight. This attack gains a +2 accuracy bonus if that surface is a Medium or larger body of stone.

Hit: As a condition, the target is pulled towards the ground with great force, approximately doubling the gravity it experiences. It is slowed (half speed, -1 Ref) and unable to use any fly speed or glide speed. This condition must be removed twice before the effect ends.

Critical hit: The target is immobilized (-4 Ref, cannot use movement speeds) instead of slowed.

The attack's accuracy increases by +1 for each rank beyond 6.

Greater Earthquake

Rank 6

Make an attack vs. Reflex against everything in a Medium (30 ft.) radius within Long (120 ft.) range that is on a stable surface. This attack gains a +2 accuracy bonus against each target that is on a Medium or larger body of stone.

You create an intense tremor that rips through the ground.

Greater Shrapnel Blast

Rank 6

Manifestation

Make an attack vs. Reflex against everything in a Medium (30 ft.) cone from you. This attack gains a +2 accuracy bonus if you are on a Medium or larger body of stone.

Hit: Each target takes 4d6 + power bludgeoning and piercing damage.

The damage increases by +1d for each rank beyond 6.

Supreme Volcano

Rank 7

Manifestation

Make an attack vs. Reflex against everything in a Large (60 ft.) radius from a point on a stable surface within Long (120 ft.) range. This attack gains a +2 accuracy bonus if that point is on a Large or larger body of stone.

Hit: Each target takes 4d8 + half power bludgeoning and fire damage.

You create an immense volcano that bursts forth, showering nearby creatures in burning shrapnel.

Swallowed by Earth

Rank 7

Make an attack vs. Reflex against one creature within Medium (60 ft.) range that is on a stable surface. This attack gains a +2 accuracy bonus if the target is on a Medium or larger body of stone.

Hit: The target takes 2d10 bludgeoning damage. If it is Large or smaller and it loses hit points from this damage, it is swallowed by the earth as a condition. While it is swallowed by the earth, it is paralyzed (cannot move) and does not have line of sight or line of effect to any creature other than itself. At the end of each subsequent round, it takes 4d6 bludgeoning damage as the earth grinds it into paste. If the earth or stone it is swallowed by is destroyed or otherwise rendered unable to contain the creature, this effect ends. Special movement abilities such as teleportation can also remove the target from the fissure.

You open up a rift in the ground that swallows and traps a foe.

Rituals

Thaumaturgy

Suppress and manipulate magical effects.

Cantrips

Detect Magic

Detection

Choose a Large (60 ft.) cone from you. You know whether any magical abilities were activated in that area since the start of the last round. This does not provide any information about passive magical effects, such as attuned spells. It also does not provide any information about the number or location of those magical effects.

Rank 2: You also learn if any passive magical effects existed in the area. This is separate from your knowledge of active magical effects.

Rank 4: The area increases to a Huge (90 ft.) cone.

Rank 6: You also learn the number of magical effects in the area.

Sense Magical Potential

You discern whether one creature within Short (30 ft.) range has any magical abilities. This does not give you any information about the nature of those magical abilities.

Rank 2: You can also discern whether the target has the ability to cast spells of any kind.

Rank 4: You can also discern which magic sources the target has access to, if they have access to any.

Rank 6: You can also discern which mystic spheres the target has access to, if they have access to any.

Spells

Enhance Magic

Rank 1
Attune

You gain a +2 magic bonus to your power.

Rank 3: The bonus increases to +4.

Rank 5: The bonus increases to +8.

Rank 7: The bonus increases to +16.

Magic Missile

Rank 1

Make an attack vs. Armor against anything within Short (30 ft.) range.

Hit: The target takes 1d4 + power energy damage.

Miss: The target suffers a glancing blow from this attack, even if you missed by more than 2.

The damage increases by +1d for each rank beyond 1.

An unerring projectile made of pure magical energy streaks towards your foe, inflicting damage unavoidably.

Suppress Item

Rank 1
Sustain (minor)

Make an attack vs. Mental with a +2 accuracy bonus against one Large or smaller magical object within Long (120 ft.) range. If the object is attended by a creature, the attack must also beat the attending creature’s Mental defense.

Hit: All magical properties the target has are suppressed.

Critical hit: You can sustain this spell as a free action.

The attack’s accuracy increases by +1 for each rank beyond 1.

Dismissal

Rank 2

Make an attack against anything within Medium (60 ft.) range. If the target is an effect of an ongoing magical ability, such as a summoned monster or created object, its defense against this attack is equal to the power of the ability. Otherwise, this spell has no effect.

Hit: The target is treated as if the ability that created it was dismissed. This usually causes the target to disappear.

The attack’s accuracy increases by +1 for each rank beyond 2.

Spellseal

Rank 2

Make an attack vs. Fortitude with a +2 bonus to accuracy against one creature within Medium (60 ft.) range.

Hit: As a condition, the next time the target tries to cast a spell, the spell automatically fails with no effect instead. When the target fails to cast a spell in this way, this effect ends, and the target becomes immune to this spell until it takes a short rest.

Critical hit: The effect ends after the target fails to cast three spells instead of only one.

The attack’s accuracy increases by +1 for each rank beyond 2.

Suppress Magic

Rank 2

Sustain (minor)

Choose a single 5-ft. square within Medium (60 ft.) range. Make an attack against a random magical effect active in that square, if any exist. This can only target magical effects that are sustained or which have a specific duration. This includes brief effects, conditions, and Sustain abilities, but it does not include attuned effects or permanent magical abilities on creatures. It also does not include Curse effects, which are more difficult to remove. The attack cannot explode by any means.

The target's defense against this attack is equal to 5 + its rank. For effects that have no specific rank, such as some monster abilities, treat their rank as being equal to one third of their level.

This spell cannot be used to interrupt or negate immediate effects, such as spells being cast. Identifying non-visual magical effects can be difficult, so you may have to guess which area to target.

Hit: The effect is suppressed as long as you sustain this ability.

The attack's accuracy increases by +1 for each rank beyond 2.

Cryptic Spells

Rank 3

Attune

Whenever you cast a spell, you may choose to mimic the identifying characteristics of a different spell you know. If you do, the verbal components, somatic components, visual effects, and magical aura of the spell you are casting change to match the mimic spell. This affects inspection of the spell itself by any means. However, it does not alter the mechanical effects of the spell in any way. This change cannot fully remove verbal, somatic, or visual components. If the mimic spell does not have an identifying characteristic, the original characteristic of the spell you are casting is unchanged.

An observer who gets a critical success to identify the spell's effects can identify the true spell that you are casting (see Identify Magical Effect, page 150).

Dimensional Anchor

Rank 3

Sustain (minor)

Make an attack vs. Mental with a +2 bonus to accuracy against anything within Long (120 ft.) range.

Hit: The target is unable to travel extradimensionally. This prevents all Manifestation effects and effects that teleport the target or move it between planes.

The attack's accuracy increases by +1 for each rank beyond 3.

Magic Missile Storm

Rank 3

Make an attack vs. Armor against all enemies in a Small (15 ft.) radius within Short (30 ft.) range.

Hit: Each target takes 1d8 + half power energy damage.

Miss: Each target suffers a glancing blow from this attack, even if you missed by more than 2.

The damage increases by +1d for each rank beyond 3.

A barrage of unerring projectiles made of pure magical energy streak towards an area, inflicting damage unavoidably.

Mass Enhance Magic

Rank 3

Attune (target)

This spell functions like the enhance magic spell, except that it affects up to five creatures of your choice from among yourself and your allies within Medium (60 ft.) range.

Rank 5: The bonus increases to +4.

Rank 7: The bonus increases to +8.

Reflect Magic

Rank 3

Swift

You immediately take the total defense action. In addition, whenever a creature within Medium (60 ft.) range of you misses or glances you with a magical attack this round, that creature treats itself as a target of that strike in addition to any other targets. It cannot choose to reduce its accuracy or damage against itself.

This is a Swift ability, so it affects any abilities targeting you in the phase you cast this spell.

Rank 5: You gain an additional +1 bonus to all defenses.

Rank 7: The defense bonus increases to +2.

Teleportation Ward

Rank 3

Attune

Teleportation into and out of a Medium (30 ft.) radius emanation from you is impossible. Any abilities which would cause creatures to teleport within the area have no effect.

Rank 5: The area increases to a Large (60 ft.) radius emanation.

Rank 7: The area increases to a Huge (90 ft.) radius emanation.

Delay TeleportationRank 4
Attune

Whenever a creature or object would teleport into a Large (60 ft.) radius emanation from you from outside of that area, that teleportation is delayed by a round. The teleporting creature or object remains stuck in the Astral Plane and can take no actions during that time. Creatures delayed in this way do not experience a delay, though they may be able to deduce that they were delayed based on observable evidence.

Whenever something is delayed in this way, you learn its approximate size and location within the area, allowing you to know which space or spaces it will occupy when it arrives. Creatures and objects delayed by this effect remain delayed even if you move such that their destination is no longer within the area of this effect. This does not affect teleportation away from the area unless that teleportation's destination lies within the area.

Dispel Magic

Rank 4

This spell functions like the suppress magic spell, except that on a hit, the effect ends completely instead of being suppressed. However, the target's defense increases to 5 + twice its rank.

The attack's accuracy increases by +1 for each rank beyond 4.

Greater Magic Missile

Rank 4

Make an attack vs. Armor against anything within Medium (60 ft.) range.

Hit: The target takes 2d6 + power energy damage.

Miss: The target suffers a glancing blow from this attack, even if you missed by more than 2.

The damage increases by +1d for each rank beyond 4.

An unerring projectile made of pure magical energy streaks towards your foe, inflicting severe damage unavoidably.

Malign Transference

Rank 4

Choose yourself or one ally within Medium (60 ft.) range that is currently affected by a magical condition. In addition, make an attack vs. Mental against one other creature within Medium (60 ft.) range.

Hit: One magical condition of your choice is removed from yourself or your chosen ally. In addition, the struck creature briefly suffers the effect of the removed condition.

Critical hit: The effect becomes a condition on the struck creature.

The attack's accuracy increases by +1 for each rank beyond 4.

Second MindRank 4
Attune

Choose a magical ability you are currently sustaining that requires either a free action or a minor action to sustain. That ability is automatically sustained as long as this effect lasts. This can allow you to sustain that ability for longer than 5 minutes. This does not allow you to make any choices as part of sustaining the chosen ability, such as telling summoned creatures how to act. Instead, you always make the same choice you made the last time you manually sustained the effect.

Wall of Magic Impedance

Rank 4

Barrier, Manifestation, Sustain (attuneable, minor)

You create a Small (15 ft. long) wall of magical energy within Medium (60 ft.) range. The wall is visible as a shimmering magical membrane that does not block sight. Objects, creatures, and mundane abilities can pass through the wall freely, but any magical ability treats the wall as an impassable barrier.

The wall has hit points equal to three times your power. After using this ability, you briefly cannot use it or any other Barrier ability.

Rank 6: The area increases to a Medium (30 ft. long) wall.

Dimensional LockRank 5
Attune

This spell creates a dimensional lock in a Large (60 ft.) radius zone from your location. Extraplanar travel into or out of the area is impossible. This prevents all Manifestation effects and effects teleport targets or move them between planes.

Rank 7: The area increases to a Huge (90 ft.) radius zone.

Greater Suppress MagicRank 5
Sustain (minor)

This spell functions like the suppress magic spell, except that it can also affect Curse effects, and the range increases to Distant (180 ft.) range.

The attack's accuracy increases by +1 for each rank beyond 5.

Reflect Targeted Magic

Rank 5

Swift

You immediately take the total defense action. In addition, any targeted magical abilities that would target you until the end of the round are redirected to target the creature using that ability instead of you. It cannot choose to reduce its accuracy or damage against itself. Any other targets of the ability are affected normally.

This is a Swift ability, so it affects any abilities targeting you in the phase you cast this spell.

Rank 7: You gain an additional +1 bonus to all defenses.

Spellward

Rank 5

Sustain (minor)

Choose a zone within Long (120 ft.) range. You can choose this spell's radius, up to a maximum of a Large (60 ft.) radius. Whenever a creature casts a spell in the area, that spell has a 50% chance to fail with no effect.

Rank 7: The maximum area increases to a Huge (90 ft.) radius.

You break an area's connection to magic.

Absorb Magic

Rank 6

Attune (deep)

You gain a +2 bonus to your defenses against magical effects. In addition, the next time a magical attack beats your defenses, it has no effect on you. After you negate two attacks in this way, this spell's effect ends.

Greater Magic Missile Storm

Rank 6

Make an attack vs. Armor against all enemies in a Medium (30 ft.) radius within Long (120 ft.) range.

Hit: The target takes 2d8 + half power energy damage.

Miss: The target suffers a glancing blow from this attack, even if you missed by more than 2.

The damage increases by +1d for each rank beyond 6.

A massive barrage of unerring projectiles made of pure magical energy streak towards your foes, inflicting damage unavoidably.

Antimagic Field

Rank 7

Sustain (standard)

You radiate an antimagic field within a Small (15 ft.) radius emanation from you. All magical effects within the area that are dismissable or have a duration are suppressed. This includes attuned spells and magic items, magical conditions, and sustained magical effects. However, it does not include passive magical abilities on creatures, such as the ability to cast spells. It also does not include Curse effects, which are more difficult to remove.

Unlike most emanation spells, you cannot exclude yourself from this emanation. However, this spell does not suppress itself.

Greater Dispel Magic

Rank 7

This spell functions like the suppress magic spell, except that on a hit, the effect ends completely instead of being suppressed. In addition, this can also affect Curse effects, and the range increases to Distant (180 ft.) range. However, the target's defense increases to 5 + twice its rank.

Malign Confluence

Rank 7

Choose up to five creatures from among yourself and your allies within Medium (60 ft.) range. Each chosen creature must be currently affected by a magical condition. In addition, make an attack vs. Mental against one other creature within Medium (60 ft.) range.

Hit: One magical condition of your choice is removed from each of the five chosen creatures. In addition, the struck creature briefly suffers the effects of each removed condition.

Critical hit: Each transferred effect becomes a separate condition on the struck creature.

Spellvoid

Rank 7

Attune

Whenever you are targeted by a spell cast by another creature, before determining if it hits you, you absorb the spell. It has no effect on you. Steal Vitality

Rank 5

Make an attack vs. Fortitude against one living creature within Short (30 ft.) range.

Hit: The target takes 4d8 + power energy damage. If it loses hit points from this damage, you can remove one of your vital wounds. When you do, you increase your fatigue level by three.

The damage increases by +1d for each rank beyond 5.

Greater Circle of Death

Rank 6

Hit: Each target takes 4d6 + half power energy damage.

The damage increases by +1d for each rank beyond 6.

Rank 6

This spell functions like the corpse explosion spell, except that the damage increases to 4d6 + power.

The damage increases by +1d for each rank beyond 6.

You violently discharge the latent magical potential within a corpse, causing it to explode in a shower of guts and gore.

Greater Inflict Wound

Rank 6

Make an attack vs. Fortitude against one living creature within Short (30 ft.) range.

Hit: The target takes 4d10 + half power energy damage. If the target would lose hit points from this damage, it loses twice that many hit points instead.

Critical hit: Double damage. In addition, if the target did not already gain a vital wound from that loss of hit points, it gains a vital wound.

The damage increases by +1d for each rank beyond 6.

Greater Lifesteal Grasp

Rank 6

This spell functions like the lifesteal grasp spell, except that the damage and healing both increase to 5d8 + power.

The damage and healing increases by +1d for each rank beyond 6.

Greater Stabilize Life

Rank 6

Swift

Choose yourself or a living ally within Medium (60 ft.) range. The target regains 4d10 + power hit points. This cannot increase the target's hit points above half its maximum hit points.

The healing increases by +1d for each rank beyond 6.

Avasculate

Rank 7

Make an attack vs. Fortitude against one living creature within Medium (60 ft.) range.

Hit: The target takes 2d10 energy damage. If it loses hit points from this damage, it also loses additional hit points equal to half its maximum hit points.

Greater Cone of Stabilization

Rank 7

Swift

Each ally in a Large (60 ft.) cone regains 4d8 + half power hit points. This cannot increase a target's hit points above half its maximum hit points.

Supreme Restoration

Rank 7

Swift

Choose yourself or a living ally within Long (120 ft.) range. The target regains 5d10 + power hit points and increases its fatigue level by one.

Supreme Retributive Lifebond

Rank 7

Attune (deep)

At the end of each phase, make an attack vs. Fortitude against each enemy within a Huge (90 ft.) radius emanation from you that caused you to lose hit points during that phase.

Hit: Each target takes 4d10 + half power energy damage.

RitualsRemove Disease

Rank 2

Casting time: One hour

All diseases affecting yourself or one ally within Medium (60 ft.) range are removed.

This ritual requires one fatigue level from its participants.

Animate Dead

Rank 3

Casting time: One hour

Attune (deep)

Choose up to four corpses within Short (30 ft.) range. The combined levels of all targets cannot exceed your level. Each target becomes an undead creature that obeys your mental commands.

You choose whether to create a skeleton or a zombie from each corpse. Creating a zombie require a mostly intact corpse, including most of the flesh. Creating a skeleton only requires a mostly intact skeleton. If a skeleton is made from an intact corpse, the flesh quickly falls off the animated bones.

As a minor action, you can mentally command your undead. The command must be no more than 10 words, and overly complex commands may cause strange and unintended behavior. It affects any undead you created with this ability that are within Distant (180 ft.) range of you. Undead will obey their most recent command indefinitely.

This ritual requires one fatigue level from its participants and the consumption of diamond dust with the equivalent value of a rank 3 item (1,000 gp).

Purge Curse

Rank 3

Casting time: 24 hours

All curses affecting yourself or one ally within Medium (60 ft.) range are removed. This ritual cannot remove a curse that is part of the effect of an item the target has equipped. However, it can allow the target to remove any cursed items it has equipped.

This ritual requires 18 fatigue levels from its participants.

Restore Senses

Rank 3

Casting time: One hour

Choose yourself or one ally within Medium (60 ft.) range. One of the target’s physical senses, such as sight or hearing, is restored to full capacity. This can heal both magical and mundane effects, but it cannot completely replace missing body parts required for a sense to function (such as missing eyes).

This ritual requires one fatigue level from its participants.

True Regeneration

Rank 3

Casting time: 24 hours

Choose yourself or one ally within Medium (60 ft.) range. All of the target’s vital wounds are healed. In addition, any of the target’s severed body parts or missing organs grow back by the end of the next round.

This ritual requires 18 fatigue levels from its participants.

Reincarnation

Rank 4

Casting time: 24 hours

Creation

Choose one Diminutive or larger piece of a humanoid corpse. It must have been part of the original creature’s body at the time of death. The creature the corpse belongs to returns to life in a new body. It must not have died due to old age.

This ritual creates an entirely new body for the creature’s soul to inhabit from the natural elements at hand. During the ritual, the body ages to match the age of the original creature at the time it died. The creature has 0 hit points when it returns to life.

A reincarnated creature is identical to the original creature in all respects, except for its species. The creature’s species is replaced with a random species from Table 10.1: Humanoid Reincarnations, page 362. Its appearance changes as necessary to match its new species, though it retains the general shape and distinguishing features of its original appearance. The creature loses all attribute modifiers and abilities from its old species, and gains those of its new species. However, its languages are unchanged.

Coming back from the dead is an ordeal. All of the creature’s attunement points and daily abilities are expended when it returns to life. In addition, its maximum attunement points are reduced by 1. This penalty lasts for thirty days, or until the creature gains a level. If this would reduce a creature’s maximum attunement points below 0, the creature cannot be resurrected.

This ritual can only be learned through the nature magic source.

This ritual requires 32 fatigue levels from its participants and the consumption of diamond dust with the equivalent value of a rank 4 item (5,000 gp).

Table 10.1: Humanoid Reincarnations

d%	Incarnation
01–13	Dwarf
14–26	Elf
27–40	Gnome
41–52	Half-elf
53–62	Half-orc
63–74	Halfling
75–100	Human

Resurrection

Rank 4

Casting time: 24 hours

Choose one intact corpse within Short (30 ft.) range. The corpse returns to life. It must not have died due to old age.

The creature has no hit points or damage resistance when it returns to life. It is cured of all vital wounds and other negative effects, but the body's shape is unchanged. Any missing or irreparably damaged limbs or organs remain missing or damaged. The creature may therefore die shortly after being resurrected if its body is excessively damaged.

Coming back from the dead is an ordeal. All of the creature's attunement points and daily abilities are expended when it returns to life. In addition, its maximum fatigue tolerance is reduced by 1. This penalty lasts for thirty days, or until the creature gains a level. If this would reduce a creature's maximum fatigue tolerance below 0, the creature cannot be resurrected.

This ritual can only be learned through the divine magic source.

This ritual requires 32 fatigue levels from its participants and the consumption of diamond dust with the equivalent value of a rank 4 item (5,000 gp).

Complete Resurrection

Rank 6

Casting time: 24 hours

Creation

This ritual functions like the resurrection ritual, except that it does not have to target a fully intact corpse. The target must have been part of the original creature's body at the time of death. The resurrected creature's body is fully restored to its healthy state before dying, including regenerating all missing or damaged body parts.

This ritual requires 72 fatigue levels from its participants and the consumption of diamond dust with the equivalent value of a rank 6 item (125,000 gp).

Fated Reincarnation

Rank 6

Casting time: 24 hours

Creation

This ritual functions like the reincarnation ritual, except that the target is reincarnated as its original species instead of as a random species.

This ritual requires 72 fatigue levels from its participants.

Soul Bind

Rank 6

Casting time: One hour

Choose a nonmagical gem you hold that is worth at least 1,000 gp. In addition, choose one intact corpse within Short (30 ft.) range. A fragment of the soul of the creature that the target corpse belongs to is magically imprisoned in the chosen gem. This does not remove the creature from its intended afterlife. However, it prevents the creature from being resurrected, and prevents the corpse from being used to create undead creatures, as long as the gem is intact. A creature holding the gem may still resurrect or reanimate the creature. If the gem is shattered, the fragment of the creature's soul returns to its body.

This ritual requires one fatigue level from its participants.

True Resurrection

Rank 7

Casting time: 24 hours

Creation

This ritual functions like the resurrection ritual, except that it does not require any piece of the corpse. Instead, you must explicitly and unambiguously specify the identity of the creature being resurrected. The resurrected creature's body is fully restored to its healthy state before dying, including regenerating all missing or damaged body parts.

This ritual requires 98 fatigue levels from its participants and the consumption of diamond dust with the equivalent value of a rank 7 item (625,000 gp).

Universal

Spells and rituals that can be accessed by any spellcaster.

Special Rules: The universal mystic sphere does not work in the same way as other mystic spheres. Every spellcaster has access to this mystic sphere without needing to spend insight points. It contains a variety of simple magical effects that all spellcasters can manage to replicate, though the details can change based on their individual fields of specialization.

Whenever you learn a spell or ritual from the universal mystic sphere, you must choose a different mystic sphere that you have access to. Treat that spell or ritual as if it belonged to your chosen mystic sphere instead of this one. This allows you to gain the benefits of any sphere-specific effects when you use the spell or ritual, such as a wizard’s specialization ability (see Sphere Specialization, page 140). In addition, the chosen mystic sphere determines the spell’s damage type and which targets are valid, as listed in Table 10.2: Universal Mystic Spheres, page 365. If the spell is mystic bolt, your chosen mystic sphere also determines the spell’s defense. You can learn the same spell from this mystic sphere any number of times, choosing different base mystic spheres for that spell each time.

The names of the abilities from this mystic sphere have fairly generic names to reflect their universal nature. As with all other spells, you should feel free to rename them for your own character to make them more interesting and relevant for you. For example, a pyromancer might rename their mystic bolt spell to something more fire-themed, like firebolt or flamelance.

Second, you can’t get back those attunement points until you take a short rest, even if you release the attunement. For details, see Deep Attunement, page 47.

defeat: You defeat a creature if you personally cause it to become defeated. Abilities that trigger when you defeat a creature generally activate if you deal damage to it in a phase when it dies or is knocked unconscious. This often means multiple creatures are considered to have defeated the same enemy. For narrative purposes, you can choose to give credit to the creature who dealt the most damage in the last phase, but you shouldn’t use that method for determining whether creatures gain the benefit of effects like an onslaught weapon.

defeated: A creature is defeated if it dies, surrenders or is incapacitated for an extended period of time (such as by being knocked unconscious). Some abilities, such as a ranger’s quarry ability (see Quarry, page 113), last until their target is defeated. If there is ambiguity about whether a surrendering or seemingly incapacitated enemy still poses a threat, you choose whether you consider the enemy to be defeated.

defense: A defense is a static number which represents how difficult you are to affect with attacks. There are four defenses: Armor, Fortitude, Reflex, and Mental. For details, see Defenses, page 29.

delayed action phase: The delayed action phase is a phase that occurs after the action phase. It is not always necessary, because most actions are not delayed. For details, see The Delayed Action destroyed: A destroyed object has been damaged to the point where it is completely beyond repair. For details, see Destroyed Objects, page 52.

Dexterity: Dexterity is an attribute that measures your hand-eye coordination, agility, and reflexes. For details, see Dexterity, page 21.

dice increment: A die increment is a single increase or decrease in the value of a dice pool. For example, a 1d8 that is increased by one die increment becomes a 1d10 die. Similarly, a 2d6 dice pool that is decreased by one die increment also becomes a 1d10 die. For details, see Dice Pools, page 41.

dice pool: A dice pool is a collection of dice that are all rolled together and summed to find a result. For details, see Dice Pools, page 41.

dirty trick: You can use the dirty trick ability to impair a foe by using your environment. For details, see Dirty Trick, page 60.

disarm: You can use the disarm ability to strike items held or worn by a creature. For details, see Disarm, page 60.

energy damage: There are five types of energy damage: acid, cold, electricity, fire, and sonic. For details, see Damage Types, page 41.

environmental damage: Environmental damage is a type of damage. Environmental damage does not reduce the damage resistance of creatures or objects, making small amounts of environmental damage irrelevant to healthy creatures. For details, see Environmental Damage, page 42.

exotic weapon: A rare few weapons are considered exotic weapons. They are unusually difficult to wield, and even being proficient with the associated weapon group does not grant you the ability to use an exotic weapon. Some class abilities grant proficiency with exotic weapons.

explode: When you roll a 10 on an attack roll, the die can explode. If it does, you roll it again and add the two results together to determine the total. For details, see Exploding Attacks, page 40.

failure chance: If you have a failure chance with an attack, you have a random chance to miss with the attack regardless of the result of your attack roll. If you have multiple failure chances, only the highest one applies. Failure chances are rolled independently from miss chances, and they are not affected by abilities that mitigate miss chances. They are less common than a miss chance, and reflect circumstances that no amount of skill can mitigate.

falling damage: If you fall at least 5 feet, you and the object you land on take bludgeoning environmental damage. This damage is called falling damage, and it is equal to 1d10 per 10 feet you fell, up to a maximum of 20d10 damage. If you control your fall with the mitigate fall ability, you can reduce the falling damage you take (see Jump, page 150).

fatigue level: Your fatigue level measures how fatigued you are. You take a fatigue penalty if your fatigue level exceeds your fatigue tolerance. For details, see Fatigue, page 30.

fatigue penalty: You take a penalty to accuracy and checks equal to your fatigue level – your fatigue tolerance. Appendix B

Reference

Ability Tags

Attune: Attune abilities require an attunement point to maintain. For details, see Attuned Abilities, page ??.

Auditory: Auditory abilities use sound to cause their effects. Creatures and objects that cannot hear the effect are immune to it.

Barrier: Barrier abilities create obstacles that block or punish passage through them. They create a powerful magical resonance around themselves that inhibits other barriers from being formed. Any part of a Barrier ability that would extend within 5 feet of an already active Barrier ability is not created, unless the new barrier simply extends an already existing wall along its length.

Compulsion: Compulsion abilities forcibly alter a creature's actions, but do not necessarily affect its opinions or personality. They have no effect on objects or creatures without minds.

Creation: Creation abilities create permanent physical objects. Objects created with Creation abilities are identical to objects created through more mundane means.

Curse: Curse abilities lay supernatural curses on their targets. They cannot be dismissed, but can be removed with the dispel curse spell.

Detection: Detection abilities reveal magical auras or information within an area. They can penetrate up to 1 foot of stone, 1 inch of common metal, a thin sheet of lead, or 3 feet of wood or dirt. For its ability to penetrate other materials, use the most similar substance from the list above.

Emotion: Emotion abilities alter a creature's opinions or personality, but do not necessarily affect their actions. They have no effect on objects or creatures without minds.

Magical: This tag indicates that an ability is magical, which means that its origin derives from magic. For details, see Magical Abilities, page 47.

Manifestation: Manifestation abilities create temporary constructs formed from raw magical energy. Objects and creatures created with manifestation abilities seem real on the surface, but they have no internal structure. When an object or creature created by a Manifestation ability is destroyed or killed, or when the duration of the ability that created it ends, it disappears without a trace.

Ritual: Ritual abilities have a number of shared properties. For details, see Spell and Ritual Mechanics, page 50.

Scrying: Scrying abilities create one or more invisible magical sensors that send you information. Unless otherwise noted, the sensor created has the same powers of sensory acuity that you possess. This includes the effect of any abilities which target you personally, such as spells to increase your visual acuity, but not abilities which affect an area around you. However, the sensor is treated as a separate, independent sensory organ, and it functions normally even if you have been blinded, deafened, or otherwise suffered sensory impairment.

The sensor can be dismissed as if it were an active spell. You cannot create a sensor in a location with lead sheeting between you and the location, and you sense that the effect is blocked in this way.

Size-Based: Size-Based abilities are limited based on your own size. They have no effect on creatures or objects that are more than one size category larger than you. You can mitigate this limitation with the creature climb ability (see Creature Climb, page ??), or simply by flying close (see Flying Mechanics, page 57).

Speech: Speech abilities use words to achieve their ends. You must specify a language when using a Speech effect, and the language must be one you know (or have memorized the correct words to say). They have no effect on objects or creatures that do not understand the chosen language.

Spell: Spell abilities have a number of shared properties. For details, see Spell and Ritual Mechanics, page 50.

Subtle: Subtle abilities have no visual or otherwise perceivable manifestation. Creatures successfully affected by Subtle abilities do not generally know that they are being influenced. However, a creature that successfully resists a Subtle ability can generally notice that it resisted a special effect of some kind, just like a non-Subtle ability. You can notice the effects of a Subtle ability on yourself with the Awareness skill (see Notice Subtle Effects, page ??).

Sustain: Sustain abilities require an action to maintain. The tag includes an action type, such as (minor), which indicates the type of action required to sustain the ability. If it also includes "attuneable", you can choose to attune to the effect instead of sustaining it every round. For details, see Sustained Abilities, page 49.

Swift: Swift abilities take effect before non-Swift abilities used during the same phase. For details, see Swift Abilities, page 56.

Trap: Trap abilities create triggered effects that punish trespassing. They create a powerful magical resonance around themselves that inhibits other barriers from being formed. Any part of a Trap ability that would extend within 15 feet of an already active Trap ability is not created.

Visual: Visual abilities use visible objects or forces to cause their effects. Creatures and objects that cannot see the effect are immune to it. Special vision abilities that replace normal vision entirely, such as blindsight and tremorsense, are unable to perceive Visual effects. A creature that exclusively perceives its surroundings without normal sight, such as by closing its eyes and relying on its blindsight, is unaffected.

Circumstances and Debuffs

blinded: A blinded creature cannot see. It is at least partially unaware (50% miss chance, -2 Armor and Ref) of everything, it may be fully unaware (-6 Armor and Ref) as normal depending on its non-visual understanding of its surroundings. In addition, it automatically fails at actions which depend on vision, including simply seeing the locations of other objects and creatures.

charmed: A charmed creature is mentally influenced to like another creature. It always sees the words and actions of the creature that charmed it in the most favorable way, as a close friend or trusted ally. A charmed creature cannot be controlled like an automaton, but can be persuaded to take particular actions with the Persuasion skill (see Persuasion, page 153). It treats the creature that charmed it as a friend (a +10 relationship modifier) for the purpose of Persuasion checks.

Any act by the charming creature or by creatures that appear to be its allies that threatens or harms the charmed person breaks the effect. Harming a charmed creature is not limited to dealing it damage, but also includes causing it significant subjective discomfort. An observant creature may interpret overt threats to its allies as a threat to itself.

climbing: A creature that is climbing without a climb speed takes a -2 penalty to its accuracy and Armor and Reflex defenses.

confused: A confused creature takes a -2 penalty to all defenses and is unable to independently control its actions. This penalty does not stack with the dazed (-1 defenses) or stunned (-2 defenses) effects. When a creature becomes confused, and at the beginning of each round, it randomly decides to have one of two behaviors that round: attack its enemies, or protect itself and its allies without attacking. Within those constraints, it can freely choose its actions. If it can't carry out the indicated action, it does nothing but babble incoherently.

A confused creature automatically stops being confused after ten minutes, even if it was unable to rest due to its confusion.

dazed: A dazed creature takes a -1 penalty to all defenses. This does not stack with the stunned (-2 defenses) or confused (-2 defenses, randomly attack or defend) effects.

dazzled: A dazzled creature has difficulty seeing. It loses the benefits of the darkvision and low-light vision abilities if it has them. In addition, it treats everything as if it had concealment. Among other effects, this gives its targeted attacks a 20% miss chance.

deafened: A deafened creature cannot hear. It automatically fails at actions which depend on hearing. In addition, it has a 20% failure chance when casting any spell with verbal components.

dominated: A dominated creature is mentally compelled to obey another creature. It obeys the commands of the creature of the dominated it unquestioningly, as an automaton. If it does not understand the language of the creature that dominated it, it still attempts to obey as much as possible, and simple commands (such as "attack" or "follow") can usually be communicated successfully.

flying: A creature that is flying takes a -2 penalty to its Armor and Reflex defenses. If it has a poor maneuverability, this penalty frightened: A frightened creature takes a -2 penalty to its Mental defense. In addition, it takes a -2 penalty to accuracy against the source of its fear. This does not stack with the shaken (-1 Mental, -1 accuracy vs. source) or panicked (-4 Mental, cannot attack source) effects. If the source of a frightened creature's fear is defeated, this effect is broken.

goaded: A goaded creature takes a -2 penalty to accuracy against creatures other than the creature that goaded it as long as it is within Medium (60 ft.) range of that creature. If the goading creature is defeated, this effect is broken. If a creature is goaded by multiple different creatures simultaneously, it suffers the accuracy penalty on all of its attacks.

grappled: A grappled creature is wrestling or in some other form of hand-to-hand struggle with at least one other creature. While grappled, you suffer certain penalties and restrictions, as described below.

- You are unable to use one of your hands for any purposes other than grappling. This prevents humanoid creatures from taking any actions which would require having two free hands, such as attacking with heavy weapons. This does not affect creatures without hands.
- You take a -2 penalty to Armor and Reflex defenses.
- You cannot move unless you push all creatures grappling you, such as with the shove ability (see Shove, page 61).

Other than the restrictions listed above, you can act normally. You can also try to move the grapple, escape the grapple, or pin your opponent. For details, see Grapple Actions, page 62.

helpless: A helpless creature is completely at an opponent's mercy. It is considered to be unaware (-6 Armor and Ref) of all attacks against it, even if it knows they are coming. Paralyzed, bound, and unconscious creatures are helpless.

immobilized: An immobilized creature takes a -4 penalty to Reflex defense and can't use any of its movement speeds. Immobilized flying creatures that have the ability to hover can maintain their initial altitude. All other flying creatures subjected to this condition descend at a rate of 20 feet per round until they reach the ground, taking no falling damage. This does not stack with the slowed (half speed, -1 Ref) effect.

panicked: A panicked creature takes a -4 penalty to its Mental defense. In addition, it is unable to make any attacks that include the source of its fear as a target. The penalty from this effect does not stack with the frightened (-2 Mental, -2 accuracy vs. source) or panicked (-4 Mental, cannot attack source) effects. If the source of a panicked creature's fear is defeated, this effect is broken.

paralyzed: A paralyzed creature is unable to take physical actions. It is helpless (-6 Armor and Ref), but can take purely mental actions. This can cause flying creatures to crash, swimming creatures to drown, and so on. Any creature can move through a space occupied by a paralyzed creature without slowing down, and creatures can stand in a square with a paralyzed creature without squeezing (-2 Armor and Ref).

partially unaware: A creature that is partially unaware knows that something is nearby, but is missing information about the exact location or nature of the creature, object, or attack it is partially unaware of. Creatures take a -2 penalty to Armor and Reflex defenses against attacks that they are partially unaware of. They have a 50% miss chance with targeted attacks against creatures and objects that they are partially unaware of, and they can only attempt to target creatures and objects that they know the location of.

These penalties do not stack with the penalties for being unaware (-6 Armor and Ref). For details, see Awareness and Surprise, page 64.

prone: A prone creature is lying on the ground, rather than standing normally. It takes a -2 penalty to Armor and Reflex defenses, though it gains a +4 bonus to all defenses against ranged strikes. It moves at half of its normal speed, and is considered one size category smaller than normal when determining whether it is subject to Size-Based effects, including critical hits.

A creature can stand up from being prone as a move action. This generally requires one free hand. If a creature becomes prone while in a precarious situation, such as on a narrow ledge, it may fall.

shaken: A shaken creature takes a -1 penalty to its Mental defense. In addition, it takes a -1 penalty to accuracy against the source of its fear. This does not stack with the frightened (-2 Mental, -2 accuracy vs. source) or panicked (-4 Mental, cannot attack source) effects. If the source of a shaken creature's fear is defeated, this effect is broken.

slowed: A slowed creature moves at half speed and takes a -1 penalty to its Reflex defense. This does not stack with the immobilized (-4 Ref, cannot use movement speeds) effect.

squeezing: A squeezing creature is trying to move through an area too small for it to fight in normally. While squeezing, a creature moves at half speed and takes a -2 penalty to its Armor and Reflex defenses. For details, see Squeezing, page 58.

stunned: A stunned creature takes a -2 penalty to all defenses. This does not stack with the dazed (-1 defenses) or confused (-2 defenses, randomly attack or defend) effects.

swimming: A creature that is swimming without a swim speed takes a -4 penalty to its accuracy and Armor and Reflex defenses.

unaware: A creature that is unaware makes no attempt to defend itself. Creatures take a -6 penalty to Armor and Reflex defenses against attacks that they are unaware of. They are completely unable to use targeted abilities against creatures and objects that they are unaware of.

These penalties do not stack with the penalties for being partially unaware (50% miss chance, -2 Armor and Ref). For details, see Awareness and Surprise, page 64.

unconscious: While you are unconscious, you are helpless (-6 Armor and Ref) and completely unable to take any actions. Some sensory abilities, such as the Awareness skill, can be used while you are asleep, but not while you are forcibly knocked unconscious.

underwater: Ranged weapons have difficulty working underwater. All ranged weapons have range limits of 5/15 when used by a creature that is underwater, or when used against a target that is underwater, regardless of the attack's normal range limits or any other modifiers.

Traits

Blindsense: A creature with blindsense can sense the location of everything in its surroundings. It does not need to use its eyes to gain this benefit. This ability works regardless of concealment, invisibility, or light levels. Blindsense always has a specific range limit, and provides no benefit beyond that range. However, it only grants knowledge of location, not actual sight, so does not mitigate any miss chances that would apply. It also does not mitigate cover or otherwise allow sensing through objects that block line of effect.

Blindsight: A creature with blindsight can perceive its surroundings perfectly regardless of concealment, invisibility, or light levels. It does not need to use its eyes to gain this benefit. This allows the creature to ignore all miss chances caused by those effects. Blindsight always has a specific range limit, and provides no benefit beyond that range. It also does not mitigate cover or otherwise allow sensing through objects that block line of effect.

Darkvision: A creature with darkvision can see perfectly in both complete darkness and shadowy illumination just like a human does in bright illumination. Darkvision always has a specific range limit, and provides no benefit beyond that range. As long as a creature with darkvision is in bright illumination or brilliant illumination, their darkvision stops working. The darkvision briefly stays disabled even after they leave the lit area. Darkvision is disabled while you are dazzled (20% miss chance, no special vision).

Impervious: A creature can be impervious to a particular damage type. It gains a +4 bonus to all defenses against attacks that would cause it to take damage of that type. If an attack deals damage of multiple types, a creature is impervious to that attack only if it is impervious to all of the attack's damage types. For attacks with random effects, such as the chromatic orb spell, determine the random effect before determining if the creature is impervious. An impervious creature gains no defensive benefit against attacks that do not deal damage.

Immune: A creature that is immune to an attack is completely unaffected by it. Creatures and objects can be immune to specific damage types or debuffs. It is also possible to be immune to more esoteric concepts, like being grappled or gaining conditions.

Being immune to part of an attack does not grant immunity to other aspects of that attack. If an attack deals damage of multiple types, a creature is immune to that attack only if it is impervious to all of the attack's damage types. This also applies to more specific immunities that are not related to damage types. For example, if you are immune to being dazed (–1 defenses), you still take full damage from an attack that deals damage and dazes you.

Incorporeal: An incorporeal creature does not have a tangible body. It is immune to physical damage and is never considered to be squeezing (–2 Armor and Ref). It moves silently and ignores the effects of abilities that only work if it has a corporeal body, such as difficult terrain and the grapple or shove abilities. This includes being grappled, detected by tremorsense, setting off pressure plates, and so on.

Many incorporeal creatures have no Strength attribute. If an incorporeal creature has a Strength attribute, it has some ability to manipulate the physical world despite being incorporeal. Unless otherwise noted, an incorporeal creature with a Strength attribute may selectively choose whether it wants to interact with physical objects.

An incorporeal creature can enter or pass through solid objects, but it must remain adjacent to the object's exterior at all times. If it is completely inside an object, it cannot see out or attack. It can fight while partially inside an object, which grants it cover and allows it to attack and see normally.

Invisible: An invisible creature or object cannot be seen with light. Creatures unable to see an invisible creature are at least partially unaware (50% miss chance, –2 Armor and Ref) of its attacks, and they can be fully unaware (–6 Armor and Ref) as normal depending on their level of awareness. Attackers suffer a 50% miss chance with targeted attacks even if they know the location of the invisible creature. See Awareness, page 142, and Stealth, page 156, for how to identify invisible creatures.

Lifesense: Lifesense functions like blindsense, except that it only grants knowledge of the location of living creatures.

Lifesight: Lifesight functions like blindsight, except that it can only see living creatures.

Low-light Vision: A creature with low-light vision can see perfectly in shadowy illumination, just like a human does in bright illumination. This provides no benefit in areas of complete darkness. Low-light vision is disabled while you are dazzled (20% miss chance, no special vision).

Mindless: A mindless creature lacks a normally functioning mind. Mindless creatures do not have an Intelligence attribute. They are immune to Compulsion and Emotion abilities.

It is possible for mindless creatures to still act as if they were intelligent through various magical means. For example, animated objects can obey simple commands by virtue of the magic that controls them, but they are still mindless.

Scent: A creature with the scent ability has an unusually good sense of smell. It reduces the difficulty value of scent-based Awareness checks by 10 (see Awareness, page 142).

Shapeshift: A creature that can shapeshift can completely transform its physical body into a different shape. When a shapeshifted creature dies, it returns to its original form. It generally retains all of its original statistics and abilities, with the following exceptions.

- If the new shape is not normally capable of speech, the creature cannot speak. This may prevent it from casting spells with verbal components and using similar abilities.
- The creature is limited by the number of free hands present in the new form. In addition, it cannot gain more free hands by shapeshifting than it originally had in its base form. Even if you shapeshift to a form with many hands, you do not have the mental coordination necessary to use them all effectively.

When a creature shapeshifts, all of its worn and carried items that are physically incompatible with the creature's new shape meld into its body. This does not break attunement, and the creature still gains the benefit of any magical properties of melded items. However, it does not gain the benefit of nonmagical properties from melded items. For example, a creature that shapeshifts into an amorphous gas would still benefit from all attuned effects from its equipped items, such as boots of speed. However, it would gain no benefit to its Armor defense or damage resistance from any melded body armor, and it would not be able to attack with any of its melded weapons. Items exceeding a creature's carrying capacity are not melded, and simply fall to the ground in place.

Telepathy: A creature with telepathy has the ability to mentally communicate with other nearby creatures. All telepathy abilities have a defined range. Unless otherwise specified, a telepathic creature can only communicate with one creature at a time.

As a free action, a telepathic creature can open a telepathic communication channel with one creature it sees within the range of its telepathy ability. The target does not have to be willing to receive telepathic communication in this way. While this channel is open, the telepathic creature can cause the target to “hear” the telepathic creature’s voice inside the target’s head. If the target attempts to mentally reply while the channel is open, the telepathic creature can similarly “hear” the reply in its head as if the target was speaking. This does not generally grant the ability to detect any other thoughts, though exceptionally stupid targets may accidentally broadcast their private thoughts.

Telepathic communication uses words, so it still requires a shared language to be intelligible, even though the words are only imagined. A telepathic creature may attempt to telepathically communicate with creatures without a language, though this is generally unproductive. A skilled telepath can customize the mental “voice” it projects in the same way that a creature can attempt to disguise or alter its voice when speaking.

Tremorsense: Tremorsense functions like blindsense, except that it requires an uninterrupted path through solid objects instead of line of effect. This makes it incapable of sensing flying creatures, but it ignores cover and can even sense through solid obstacles that are no more than half a foot thick.

Tremorsight: Tremorsense functions like blindsight, except that it requires an uninterrupted path through solid objects instead of line of effect. This makes it incapable of seeing flying creatures, but it ignores cover and can even see through solid obstacles that are no more than half a foot thick.

Vulnerable: A creature can be vulnerable to a particular damage type or debuff. It takes a -4 penalty to all defenses against attacks that would cause it to take damage of that type, or that would cause it suffer that debuff. This penalty applies against the whole attack even if the attack would only inflict the debuff or damage under specific circumstances, such as if the attack gets a critical hit or if the attack causes the creature to lose hit points. For attacks with random effects, such as the chromatic orb spell, determine the random effect before determining if the creature is vulnerable.

Undead: Undead creatures are affected in unusual ways by effects that directly manipulate life energy. They are always considered living allies for the purpose of effects that would cause living creatures to regain hit points. Whenever they would regain hit points from an ability that normally only affects living creatures, they instead take energy damage equal to the hit points that they would have regained, ignoring any hit point maximum the ability would normally have. This damage is never resolved as a Swift effect, even if the healing ability has that tag.

Any other effects beyond simple hit point recovery are ignored. For example, if a cleric uses their divine aid ability to heal an undead creature, the undead would take damage, but it would not gain any bonus to its defenses.

Similarly, undead are always considered living creatures for the purpose of effects that would normally deal energy damage to living creatures. Whenever they would take energy damage from an ability that normally only affects living creatures, they instead regain hit points equal to the energy damage that they would have taken. Any other effects beyond simple energy damage are ignored.

Appendix C

Feats

This chapter describes a set of optional rules that the GM can choose to use in a campaign. If you use these rules, characters gain feats which allow them to further specialize in specific areas, making characters more mechanically distinct from each other. Feats also make the system more mechanically complex, so they are not necessarily enjoyable for all groups.

Gaining Feats

There are two main ways you can use feats in your game. You cannot gain the same feat twice.

Species Feat Only: One simple option is that characters gain a single feat at 1st level based on their species, and no other feats. This makes your choice of species more significant without dramatically increasing character complexity.

Feat Progression: If you want characters to be more complex and to have more powerful abilities, you can also use a feat progression system. For example, you could gain a feat from your species at 1st level, and an additional feat at 3rd, 6th, and 9th level. Alternately, you could gain feats based on the completion of major story events. In general, it is inadvisable to gain more than four feats total, or to gain feats after about 10th level.

Species Bonus Feats

If you use this rule, each species grants a bonus feat at 1st level. Most species can only choose from a small group of feats. The specific feats for each species are listed below. A character must meet any prerequisites for these bonus feats, as normal.

Human: Any feat.

Dwarf: Any from the following list: Battle Armory, Blindfighter, Craft Specialization and Endurance Specialization, Iron Will, Martial Training, or Toughness.

Elf: Any Casting feat (see Casting Feats, page 382), or any from the following list: Awareness Specialization and Balance Specialization, Sniper, or Rapid Reaction.

Gnome: Any Casting feat (see Casting Feats, page 382), or any from the following list: Blindfighter, Craft Specialization and Stealth Specialization, Telepath, or Toughness.

Half-Elf: Any Skill feat (see Skill Feats, page 382).

Half-Orc: Any Combat feat (see Combat Feats, page 383), or any from the following list: Endurance Specialization and Intimi-

date Specialization, or Toughness.

Halfling: Any from the following list: Balance Specialization and Stealth Specialization, Climb Specialization and Jump Specialization, Iron Will, or Rapid Reaction.

Uncommon Species

If you are using uncommon species, the feat lists for each uncommon species are given below. Note that uncommon species are normally ineligible for any Bloodline feats.

Animal Hybrid: Any feat strongly associated with the chosen animal. For example, a hybrid shark might choose from Awareness Specialization, Survival Specialization, Swiftrunner, or Swim Specialization. A hybrid wolf might choose from Awareness Specialization, Rapid Reaction, Stealth Specialization, Survival Specialization, or Swiftrunner.

Awakened Animal: Any feat strongly associated with the chosen animal. For example, an awakened cat might choose from Awareness Specialization, Climb Specialization, Flexibility Specialization, Rapid Reaction, Stealth Specialization, or Swiftrunner.

Changeling: Chameleon, or any Skill feat.

Dragon: Iron Will, Toughness, or any Casting feat (see Casting Feats, page 382).

Drakkenfel: Draconic Heritage. The type of dragon chosen for the drakkenfel's draconic ancestry must match its draconic essence.

Dryaidi: Herbalist, Mental Magic, Regenerator, Sphere Focus: Toxicology, Sphere Focus: Verdamancy, or Toughness.

Eladrin: Boongiver, Chameleon, Combat Style Versatility, Deception Specialization and Persuasion Specialization, or Spellwarped.

Kit: Balance Specialization and Stealth Specialization, Deception Specialization and Social Insight Specialization, or Swiftrunner.

Naiadi: Boongiver, Leadership, Mental Magic, Persuasion Specialization and Swim Specialization, or Sphere Focus: Aquamancy.

Orc: Any Combat feat (see Combat Feats, page 383), or any from the following list: Endurance Specialization and Intimidate Specialization, or Toughness.

Oozeborn: Blindfighter, Chameleon, Climb Specialization and Flexibility Specialization, Juggernaut, Regenerator, Sphere Focus: Toxicology, or Toughness.

Tiefling: Deception Specialization and Intimidate Specialization, Executioner, Spellwarped, or Sphere Focus: Pyromancy.

Changing Species

In extraordinary cases, a creature may change its species. For example, the reincarnation ritual returns a creature to life as a different species. Regardless of its new species, the creature keeps its original species bonus feat.

Feat Mechanics

Prerequisites

Some feats have prerequisites. Unless you meet all of the prerequisites, you cannot take the feat. Prerequisites can include a minimum base attribute score, another feat or feats, a minimum level of training in a skill, or some other property of a character. A character can gain a feat at the same level at which they gain the prerequisite.

A character who no longer meets all prerequisites for a feat loses all abilities from that feat.

Skill Feats

Skill feats are weaker and more narrow in their focus than other feats. Whenever a character would choose a single feat, they may instead choose two skill feats.

Feat Tags

All feats are organized into different groups by tags.

General: General feats can have a wide variety of effects. They often grant new abilities or improve your defenses.

Combat: Combat feats improve your combat capabilities. They can increase the damage you deal, grant you new combat abilities, or improve your defenses.

Casting: Casting feats improve your spellcasting abilities. Casting feats are useless to characters who cannot cast spells.

Skill: Skill feats improve your skills. They can make you more likely to succeed with skill checks and grant you new abilities based on your skills.

Bloodline Feats: Some characters have traces of monstrous blood running in their veins. Most of those will never understand the full potential of their unusual heritage. Bloodline feats allow characters to explore those possibilities by gaining abilities related to their ancestry. You can only have one Bloodline feat.

Magical Feats: All abilities granted by feats with the Magical type are magical in nature. Many feats are not entirely magical, but have specific effects that are magical.

Feat Descriptions

Each feat has a set of benefits it provides to a character with the feat. Some feats also have specific requirements that a character must meet before taking the feat. These are listed under a Prerequisites heading. If a character loses the prerequisites for a feat, they lose all benefits of the feat until they meet the prerequisites again.

Awareness Specialization [Skill]

Prerequisite: Awareness as a trained skill.

1st – Specialization: You gain a +3 bonus to the Awareness skill.

3rd – Extraordinary Senses: You gain one of the following senses: blindsense (30 ft.), darkvision (60 ft.), low-light vision, scent, or tremorsense (30 ft.). As normal, if you already have the chosen sense from another source, you sum the ranges from both abilities to determine your total range with that sense.

6th – Quick Scan: You can observe anything within 15 feet of you as if you were inspecting it closely. This means that you suffer no penalties for distance, even when observing small objects.

9th – Greater Specialization: The bonus from your specialization ability increases to +5.

12th – Greater Extraordinary Senses: You gain one of the following senses: blindsense (120 ft.), blindsight (30 ft.), darkvision (240 ft.), tremorsense (120 ft.), or tremorsight (30 ft.). You cannot choose the same sense that you chose with your extraordinary senses ability. However, you can also change the sense you chose with that ability.

15th – Supreme Specialization: The bonus from your specialization ability increases to +7.

18th – Greater Quick Scan: At 18th level, the range of your quick scan ability increases to 60 feet.

21st – Supreme Extraordinary Senses: You can choose an additional sense from the list given in your greater extraordinary senses ability, except that the range is doubled. You cannot choose the same sense that you chose with your extraordinary senses or greater extraordinary senses abilities. However, you can also change the sense you chose with those abilities.

Balance Specialization [Skill]

Prerequisite: Balance as a trained skill.

1st – Specialization: You gain a +3 bonus to the Balance skill.

3rd – Combat Tumble: During each phase, you may move through one creature's space during movement. You treat its space as difficult terrain. After moving through that creature's space, other creatures block you as normal for the remainder of your movement. Certain unusual creatures that occupy their entire space, such as gelatinous cubes, may be immune to this ability.

6th – Agile Movement: Whenever you use an ability that causes you to move using one of your movement speeds in a straight line, you can make a single turn of up to 90 degrees during the movement. This only affects voluntary movement, such as the charge ability or the reaping charge maneuver, and not forced movement imposed on you. This ability replaces the agile charge ability, and cannot be combined with it (see Agile Charge, page 143).

6th – Instant Stand: You can use the rapid stand ability as a free action instead of a minor action (see Rapid Stand, page 143).

9th – Greater Specialization: The bonus from your specialization ability increases to +5.

12th – Balance On Air (Magical): You can attempt to move on surfaces that cannot support your weight. Surfaces that can support at least a quarter of your weight, such as thin tree branches and dense liquids, are difficulty value 20. Surfaces that can support at least a tenth of your weight, such as water, are difficulty value 25. Surfaces that can support at least a hundredth of your weight, such as tree leaves, are difficulty value 30. 21st – Greater Balance On Air: You can move at full speed while using your air dancer ability. In addition, for each round that you spend using your air dancer ability, the difficulty value increases by 2 instead of by 5.

Prerequisite: Strength 1, Dexterity 1.

1st – Overburdened Quickdraw: You can draw or sheathe medium weapons as a free action.

1st – Swift Draw: Sheathing and drawing weapons becomes a Swift ability for you, so you can draw a weapon and attack with it in the same phase.

3rd – Legacy Armory (Magical): You do not choose an individual item as a legacy item (see Legacy Items, page 29). Instead, if you choose weapons as your legacy item category, you choose magic weapon abilities that apply to all nonmagical weapons you wield. If you wield a magical weapon, it keeps its own magical effects instead of your chosen legacy item properties.

6th – Versatile Force: You gain a +2 bonus to your power.

If you do, the creature is partially unaware (50% miss chance, -2 Armor and Ref) of the attack. After you use this ability, the attacked creature and all creatures that observed the attack are immune to this ability until they take a short rest.

18th – Supreme Versatile Force: The bonus from your versatile force ability increases to +8.

21st – Greater Surprising Quickdraw: Your surprising quickdraw ability makes the creature unaware (–6 Armor and Ref) instead of partially unaware (50% miss chance, –2 Armor and Ref).

Blindfighter [Combat]

Prerequisite: Perception 2.

1st – Blind Awareness: When you make an attack with a miss chance, you can roll the miss chance twice and take the better result. In addition, you are not partially unaware (50% miss chance, –2 Armor and Ref) against foes if you know their location.

3rd – Blindsense: You gain blindsense with a 60 foot range, allowing you to sense your surroundings without light (see Blindsense, page 378). If you already have blindsense, the range of your blindsense increases by 60 feet.

6th – Unseeing Precision: You gain a +1 bonus to accuracy.

9th – Controlled Sight: You are immune to all abilities that depend on sight to affect you.

12th – Blindsight: The range of your blindsense increases by 60 feet. In addition, you gain blindsight with a 30 foot range, allowing you to see without light (see Blindsight, page 378). If you already have blindsight, the range of your blindsight increases by 30 feet.

15th – Greater Unseeing Precision: The bonus from your unseeing precision ability increases to +2.

21st – Greater Blindsight: The range of your blindsight increases by 90 feet. In addition, the range of your blindsense increases by 360 feet.

Blood Magic [Casting, Magical]

Prerequisite: Access to a mystic sphere, Constitution 2.

1st – Bloodspell: Whenever you cast a spell, you may use this ability. When you do, you lose hit points equal to the spell's rank (minimum 1). In exchange, you gain a +2 bonus to power with the spell, and the spell does not require casting components.

3rd – Spare Blood: You gain a +4 bonus to your maximum hit points.

6th – Bloodbind (Magical): Whenever you make a living creature lose hit points using a spell, you can choose to bind the target's blood to yours. While the target is bound, you can see it through all forms of concealment and even if it is invisible (but not through cover). In addition, you constantly know the exact direction and distance to the target bound by your bloodbind ability. This binding lasts until you bind another creature with this ability.

3rd – Share Boon: When you cast a spell with the Attune tag, you can use the share boon ability.

Share Boon

The spell's Attune tag changes to Attune (target). Choose one ally within Medium (60 ft.) range. That ally is the target of the spell, and the spell affects that creature as if it were you instead of affecting you.

You can only use this ability to affect one spell at a time. If you use it again, the original ally's attunement to the old spell is released, as the release attunement ability (see Attuned Abilities, page ??).

6th – Sustain Attunement: Whenever you cast an Attune (target) spell that is not a deep attunement, you can choose to replace its Attune tag with the Sustain (minor) tag. When you do, you increase your fatigue level by one.

9th – Versatile Boon Lore: You learn additional spell. The spell must have the Attune tag, but you do not need to have access to the mystic sphere it is from. The mystic sphere it is from must still be part of your magic source. As normal, you can exchange this spell for other spells as you gain access to new spell ranks, but the spell must always have the Attune tag.

12th – Greater Share Boon: You can use your share boon ability on up to two different spells at once. If you use the ability while it already affects another spell, you choose which spells are affected by the ability.

15th – Personal Boon: You gain an additional attunement point. You can only use this attunement point to attune to spells and rituals that you use on yourself.

1st – Rebuke Evil: You can use the rebuke evil ability as a standard action.

Rebuke Evil

Make an attack vs. Mental against one creature or object within Medium (60 ft.) range. You gain a +2 accuracy bonus to this attack against any creature that damaged any of your allies during the previous round. If the target has the alignment opposed to your devoted alignment, you double all of your damage bonuses along with your damage dice when you get a critical hit.

Hit: The target takes 1d6 + power energy damage.

Rank 2: The damage increases to 1d8.

Rank 3: The damage increases to 2d6.

Rank 4: The damage increases to 2d8.

Rank 5: The damage increases to 4d6.

Rank 6: The damage increases to 4d8.

3rd – Healing Light (Magical): When you use the recover ability, you briefly emit brilliant illumination in a Medium (30 ft.) radius from you, and shadowy illumination in twice that radius. Each ally in the radius of brilliant illumination regains hit points equal to your power. This is a Swift ability.

6th – Angel Wings: You gain feathery wings that sprout from your back. These wings grant you a glide speed equal to the base speed for your size (see Gliding, page 57). The wings themselves are mundane, but the ability to fly and glide with them is magical.

9th – Celestial Soul: You gain a +6 bonus to your damage resistance.

12th – Angelic Flight (Magical): You gain a fly speed equal to the base speed for your size with a maximum height of 30 feet (see Flying, page 56). At the start of each phase, you can increase your fatigue level by one to ignore this height limit until the end of the round.

15th – Greater Healing Light: Each ally affected by your healing light ability also regains hit points equal to your power at the end of the next round after you used the recover ability.

18th – Greater Celestial Soul: The bonus from your celestial soul ability increases to +18.

21st – Greater Angelic Flight: Your maneuverability with the fly speed from your angelic flight ability increases to perfect (see Flying Maneuverability, page 57).

Chameleon [General]

Prerequisite: Disguise as a trained skill, Intelligence 1.

1st – Adaptive Archetype: Choose one archetype that you currently have, and two archetypes you do not have from among any of your classes. You cannot choose an archetype that you have which is a prerequisite for another archetype that you have. Whenever you finish a long rest, you can choose which one of those three archetypes you actually have access to. You gain all benefits of your chosen archetype, and temporarily lose all benefits from the archetypes you did not choose in this way.

You must track which choices you made for archetypes that you lose access to in this way, such as which spells and maneuvers you learned. When you regain access to that archetype, you must make the same choices.

3rd – Adaptive Specialty: Whenever you finish a short rest, you may choose an effect from the list below. Each effect lasts until you take a short rest.

- Martial: You gain a +1 bonus to your Armor defense.
- Mystic: You gain a +2 bonus to your Mental defense.
- Primal: You gain a +2 bonus to your Fortitude defense.
- Skilled: You gain a +1 bonus to all skills.

6th – Versatile Disguise: Whenever you use the disguise creature and emulate creature abilities on yourself, you may simultaneously create two different disguises. This takes twice as long as creating a single disguise, and you take a –2 penalty to the Disguise check. You can change your appearance between the two chosen disguises as a minor action.

9th – Greater Adaptive Specialty: The effects of your adaptive specialty ability improve, as described below.

- Martial: You become proficient with an additional weapon group or armor usage class of your choice. You must be proficient with light armor to become proficient with 18th – Greater Versatile Disguise: When you use your versatile disguise ability, the time required to create the disguise is not increased, and the penalty to the Disguise check is removed.

21st – Supreme Adaptive Archetype: Instead of choosing a single archetype to activate with your adaptive archetype, you may choose a blend of two archetypes simultaneously. First, choose two archetypes to combine. For each rank you have access to, you choose one archetype and gain all abilities of that rank from that archetype and no abilities of that rank from the other archetype. You cannot choose abilities from an archetype that reference abilities from that same archetype which you do not have. For example, you cannot choose the supreme wildspell ability unless you also have the wildspell ability.

Prerequisite: Climb as a trained skill.

1st – Specialization: You gain a +3 bonus to the Climb skill.

3rd – Climb Speed: You gain a climb speed 10 feet slower than the base speed for your size. If you already have a climb speed, you gain a +10 foot bonus to your climb speed. A successful Climb check to move allows you to travel a distance equal to your climb speed.

6th – Creature Climber: You can use the creature climb ability against creatures one or more size categories larger than you instead of two (see Creature Climb, page ??). This does not cause you or the creature to suffer penalties for squeezing (–2 Armor and Ref).

12th – Freehand Climb: You only need one free hand to move while climbing.

Prerequisite: Any Craft skill as a trained skill.

1st – Specialization: You gain a +3 bonus to all Craft skills.

3rd – Craft Magic Item (Magical): You can imbue items with magic using your crafting skill. There are two ways to craft magic items: by sacrificing valuable raw materials or by salvaging other magic items. If you sacrifice valuable raw materials, you must destroy trade goods or gold pieces as if you were buying an item one rank lower than the item you are crafting (see Item Ranks, page 159). If you salvage another magic item, you must either destroy a non-consumable magic item that is at least one rank higher than the item you are crafting, or destroy a non-consumable magic item with the exact same effect as the item you are crafting. As normal, you can treat five items of one rank as being equivalent to a single item of one rank higher for either of these crafting methods.

Crafting a magic item in this way normally requires 24 hours of continuous work which may be split between any number of crafting sessions. You can make weaker items more quickly. The time required to craft magic items is halved for every rank by which your highest rank exceeds the item's rank, to a minimum of 15 minutes.

You can also mend a broken magic item if it is one that you could make, or transfer a magical property from one item to a nonmagical item. If you transfer an item property in this way, the magic item ability must be valid for the new item. If you do so, you treat the item as if it were two ranks lower than its actual rank for the purpose of determining the cost and crafting time, to a minimum rank of 0. You cannot mend a destroyed magic item.

6th – Crafting Savant: You become trained in an additional Craft skill.

9th – Greater Specialization: The bonus from your specialization ability increases to +5.

The difficulty value to train the trick is 15. A creature with the trick gains the following benefits:

- It gains a bonus equal to your level to its damage resistance.

- It gains a +1 accuracy bonus with all attacks.
- It gains a +1d damage bonus with strikes.

Level 9: You can speak entirely different words with your two voices.

Level 15: You can also speak with a third voice, using separate words and vocal patterns.

15th – Supreme Specialization: The bonus from your specialization ability increases to +7.

18th – Greater Undetectable Lies: Your undetectable lies ability loses the Attune tag. Instead, it lasts indefinitely, and can toggle its effect on or off as a free action.

1st – Specialization: You gain a +3 bonus to the Disguise skill.

3rd – Quick Change: You reduce the penalties for reducing the creation time of disguises with the disguise creature and emulate creature abilities by 5.

6th – Disguise Aura (Magical): When you use the disguise creature or emulate creature abilities, you can decide how the target and any items on the target appear when examined by Divination spells. For example, you could cause all of their equipment to appear nonmagical, or you could cause them to have a strong aura of good alignment. The maximum power you can emulate is equal to your Disguise check result –10.

Anyone using divination magic on the creature must make a check with a bonus equal to the creature's power with the ability to perceive the truth. Duelist Strike

Make a melee strike with a light or medium weapon. This strikes only targets a single creature, even if your weapon would normally have the Sweeping tag. If you are the creature's only enemy adjacent to it, you gain a +1 accuracy bonus with the strike. If that creature is not adjacent to any of its allies, you gain an additional +1 accuracy bonus.

Level 6: You gain a +1 accuracy bonus with the strike.

Level 12: The automatic accuracy bonus increases to +2.

Level 18: The automatic accuracy bonus increases to +3.

3rd – Defensive Stance: You gain a +1 bonus to your Armor defense as long as you wield a non-projectile weapon.

6th – Duel Focus: At the start of each round, you may choose a creature you can see. During that round, you gain a +1 bonus to Armor and Reflex defenses against that creature.

9th – Riposte: Whenever a creature misses or glances you with an attack, you briefly gain a +1 accuracy bonus against that creature.

12th – Greater Defensive Stance: The bonus from your defensive stance ability increases to +2.

15th – Greater Duel Focus: The bonuses from your duel focus ability increase to +2.

18th – Greater Riposte: The bonus from your riposte ability increases to +2.

21st – Duel Serenity: Your duelist strike ability always has its full possible accuracy bonus, regardless of how many allies or enemies are near the target. In addition, the bonus from your defensive stance ability also applies to your Mental defense.

Endurance Specialization [Skill]

Prerequisite: Endurance as a trained skill.

1st – Specialization: You gain a +3 bonus to the Endurance skill.

3rd – Delay Condition: Whenever you gain a condition, you can make an Endurance check. The difficulty value starts at 10 and increases by 5 in each subsequent round. Success means that you do not suffer the effects of the condition. You must repeat this check at the end of each subsequent round to continue to delay the effects of the condition. Failure means that the condition has its normal effect on you.

You can only delay one of your conditions in this way. If you gain a new condition, you can choose to either delay the new condition or continue delaying the old condition.

6th – Sleepless Endurance: You need half the normal amount of rest and sleep each day to function normally. For example, a human would only need four hours of sleep per night. This does not reduce the time required for you to take a long rest.

9th – Greater Specialization: The bonus from your specialization ability increases to +5.

12th – Greater Delay Vital Wound: When you use the delay vital wound ability, the difficulty value only increases by 5 in each subsequent round instead of increasing by 10 (see Delay Vital Wound, page 148).

15th – Supreme Specialization: The bonus from your specialization ability increases to +7.

18th – Greater Delay Condition: You can delay up to two conditions with your delay condition ability.

21st – Supreme Delay Vital Wound: When you use the delay vital wound ability, the difficulty value does not increase for each subsequent round, allowing you to delay the wound indefinitely.

Entropist [General, Magical]

Prerequisite: Willpower 1.

1st – Entropic Defense: Whenever you are hit by a critical hit from a strike, you may use this ability. When you do, you increase your fatigue level by two, and the attacker rerolls the attack against you, which may prevent the attack from getting a critical hit against you. This does not protect any other targets of the attack. You can choose to use this item after you learn the effects that the critical hit would have, but you must do so during the phase that the attack was made.

3rd – Sudden Entropy: You can use the sudden entropy ability as a standard action.

Sudden Entropy

Make an attack vs. Mental against one creature or object within Medium (60 ft.) range.

Hit: The target takes 1d8 + power damage. The damage is of a random damage type from among the following options: physical damage, energy damage, or all damage types simultaneously.

Level 6: The damage increases to 1d10.

Level 9: The damage increases to 2d8.

Level 12: The damage increases to 2d10.

Level 15: The damage increases to 4d8.

Level 18: The damage increases to 4d10.

Level 21: The damage increases to 6d10.

6th – Improbable Vulnerability: Whenever you make an attack against an enemy that is immune or impervious to some aspect of the attack, you have a 10% chance to affect them as if they were not immune or impervious to the attack. This has no effect on objects.

6th – Things Fall Apart: All of your attacks deal double damage to objects.

9th – Greater Entropic Defense: You can use your entropic defense ability whenever you suffer a critical hit from any attack, not just a strike.

12th – Friend of Chaos: Whenever you roll for a random effect, such as a miss chance or a sorcerer's wild magic ability, you may roll twice and keep whichever result you prefer.

15th – Greater Improbable Vulnerability: The chance from your improbable vulnerability ability increases to 20%.

18th – Supreme Entropic Defense: When you use your entropic defense ability, you only increase your fatigue level by one.

21st – Master of Chaos: Whenever you roll for a random effect, such as a miss chance or a sorcerer's wild magic ability, you may use this ability. When you do, you increase your fatigue level by two, and you may freely choose the random result.

Executioner [Combat]

Prerequisites: Perception 1.

1st – Marked for Execution: You consider living creatures that either have a vital wound, have less than their maximum hit points, or have no remaining damage resistance to be marked for execution. Several abilities from this feat affect creatures marked for execution.

1st – Execution: You can use the execution ability as a standard action.

Execution

Make a melee strike. If the target is marked for execution, you gain a +4 damage bonus.

Level 6: The damage bonus increases to +8.

Level 12: The damage bonus increases to +16.

Level 18: The damage bonus increases to +24.

3rd – Blood Sense (Magical): You automatically know the location of all creatures that are marked for execution within 120 feet of you, regardless of concealment or invisibility. You must have line of effect to a creature to sense it in this way, but you do not need line of sight. You can automatically identify which creatures within this range are marked for execution, even if you can already see them normally.

6th – Purge the Weak: You gain a +1 bonus to accuracy against creatures that are marked for execution. In addition, your attack rolls against creatures that are marked for execution explode on a 9 in addition to the normal explosion on a 10. This does not affect additional rolls with exploding dice.

9th – Bloody Resilience: You gain a +1 bonus to Fortitude defense. In addition, you gain a +6 bonus to your maximum hit points.

12th – Greater Blood Sense (Magical): You gain lifesense with a 60 foot range, allowing you to sense the location of living creatures without light (see Lifesense, page 378). In addition, you can see creatures that are marked for execution perfectly instead of only knowing their location.

15th – Greater Bloody Resilience: The Fortitude defense bonus from your bloody resilience ability increases to +2. In addition, the hit point bonus increases to +12.

18th – Greater Purge the Weak: The bonus from your purge the weak ability increases to +2. In addition, the first die you roll for each attack roll against a creature that is marked for execution explodes on an 8 or 9 in addition to the normal explosion on a 10.

21st – Supreme Blood Sense (Magical): The range of your lifesense and blood sense abilities increases by 180 feet. In addition, you gain lifesight with a 60 foot range, allowing you to see living creatures without light (see Lifesight, page 378).

Flexibility Specialization [Skill]

Prerequisite: Flexibility as a trained skill.

1st – Specialization: You gain a +3 bonus to the Flexibility skill.

3rd – Rapid Escape: You can squeeze and escape bindings and grapples as a move action, rather than as a standard action.

6th – Constraint Tolerance: You reduce your penalties for squeezing (–2 Armor and Ref) by 2 (see Squeezing, page 58).

9th – Greater Specialization: The bonus from your specialization ability increases to +5.

12th – Escape Magic (Magical): You can use the escape magic ability as a standard action.

Escape Magic

You make an Flexibility attack against all magical effects on you. You may exclude any number of effects you are aware of from this attack, allowing you to maintain beneficial magical effects. The difficulty value for each effect is equal to 10 + twice the effect's rank.

Hit: Each effect is dismissed, if it is an effect that can be dismissed. Unless otherwise noted, all magical abilities with a duration can be dismissed, including conditions (see Dismissal, page 50).

You can only dismiss effects with this ability which target you directly, not area effects which include you as a target. If an ability targets multiple creatures, you can only remove its effects on you.

15th – Supreme Specialization: The bonus from your specialization ability increases to +7.

18th – Greater Constraint Tolerance: Your movement speed is not reduced while squeezing (–2 Armor and Ref).

21st – Greater Escape Magic: You can use your escape magic ability as a minor action. If you do, you briefly cannot use it as a minor action again.

Ghostblade [Combat, Magical]

Prerequisite: Dexterity 1, Willpower 1.

1st – Ghost Step: When you use the sprint ability, you can become invisible for the duration of the movement (see Invisible, page 378, and Sprint, page 61). This usually makes it impossible for creatures to react to your movement, such as by using the follow or withdraw abilities (see Movement Abilities, page 57). This ability has the Swift tag, so it affects attacks against you during the current phase.

3rd – Spectral Armament: The equipment you choose as your legacy item becomes ghostly and translucent (see Legacy Items, page 29). If you chose a weapon, all damage dealt with it is cold damage in addition to its other types. If you chose body armor or a shield, you are impervious to cold damage.

6th – Spectral Strike: You can use the spectral strike ability as a standard action.

Spectral StrikeMagical

Make a strike. The attack is made against each target's Reflex defense instead of its Armor defense. You may use the higher of your Strength and your Willpower to determine your damage with this ability (see Dice Bonuses From Attributes, page 41). Each creature that loses hit points from this strike is briefly slowed (half speed, –1 Ref). After it stops being slowed, it becomes immune to being slowed in this way until it takes a short rest.

Level 12: Each target is no longer immune to being slowed after the first successful slow effect.

Level 18: The slowing effect becomes a condition instead of a brief effect.

9th – Greater Ghost Step: When you use your ghost step ability, you can also become incorporeal for the duration of the movement. This grants you the defensive benefits of being incorporeal during the current phase.

12th – Greater Spectral Armament: The effect of your legacy item improves. If you chose a weapon, whenever you make a strike against a creature's Armor defense that misses, if the strike hit that creature's Reflex defense, it is considered a glancing blow (see Glancing Blows, page 40). If you chose body armor or a shield, whenever an attack hits your Reflex defense, if the attack missed your Armor defense, you take half damage from that attack. This does not protect you from any non-damaging attack effects.

15th – Spectral Reap: You can use the spectral reap ability as a standard action.

Spectral Reap	Magical
Move up to your movement speed in a straight line. For the duration of the movement, you can move through creatures and objects as if you were incorporeal , but you do not gain the defensive benefits of being incorporeal during this phase. In addition, you can make a melee strike . Your power with the strike is halved. You may use the higher of your Strength and your Willpower to determine your damage with this ability (see Dice Bonuses From Attributes, page 41). The strike targets any number of creatures and objects adjacent to you at any point during your movement.
Level 21: You gain a +1d bonus to damage with the strike.

18th – Supreme Ghost Step: You can use your ghost step ability to affect any movement you make during the movement phase, even if you do not use the sprint ability.

21st – Supreme Spectral Armament: The effect of your legacy item improves. If you chose a weapon, whenever you make a strike, you can make the strike against each target's Reflex defense in place of its Armor defense. This has no effect on strikes that are not made against Armor defense. If you chose body armor or a shield, you may use your Armor defense in place of your Reflex defense against all attacks.

Greatweapon Warrior [Combat]

Prerequisite: Strength 2.

1st – Cleave: Whenever you make a melee strike with a weapon you hold in two hands, it gains the Sweeping (1) tag (see Sweeping, page 163). If the weapon already has the Sweeping tag, you increase the number of secondary targets by 1. In addition, you can choose secondary targets within 15 feet of the primary target instead of the normal 10 feet. Each secondary target must still be adjacent to you unless you are using a Long weapon (see Weapon Tags, page 162).

3rd – Power Attack: Whenever you make a non-projectile strike with a weapon you wield in two hands, you may take a -1 penalty to accuracy. If you do, you gain a +1d damage bonus.

6th – Destructive Force: You gain a +2 bonus to accuracy with the disarm ability with weapons you wield in two hands (see Disarm, page 60). In addition, whenever you make a non-projectile strike with a weapon you wield in two hands, it deals double damage to objects.

9th – Greater Cleave: The tag granted by your cleave ability changes to be Sweeping (2). If the weapon already has the Sweeping tag, you instead increase the number of secondary targets by 2.

12th – Greater Power Attack: The damage bonus from your power attack ability increases to +2d.

15th – Greater Destructive Force: The accuracy bonus from your destructive force ability increases to +4. In addition, the damage multiplier from your destructive force ability increases to triple damage.

18th – Supreme Cleave: The tag granted by your cleave ability changes to be Sweeping (3). If the weapon already has the Sweeping tag, you instead increase the number of secondary targets by 3.

21st – Greater Power Attack: The damage bonus from your power attack ability increases to +3d.

Herbalist [General]

Prerequisite: Knowledge (nature) as a trained skill.

1st – Esoteric Concoction: You can use your Knowledge (nature) skill in place of Craft (alchemy) or Craft (poison) to create poisons and potions. This does not help you create other alchemical items, such as alchemist's fire. When you do, you must use esoteric natural ingredients in place of the normal ingredients. However, all poisons you create with this ability deteriorate and lose their effectiveness after 8 hours.

The replacement ingredients must be difficult to acquire in large quantities and impossible to acquire in a normal city. For example, you can use the tail of a blind mouse or the dew from a four-leafed clover, but you could not use dirt or ordinary tree bark. Once you have determined a purpose for a particular replacement ingredient, you cannot use that ingredient as a replacement in any other poison or potion.

In general, it requires an hour of work and a Knowledge (nature) check equal to 5 + twice the rank of the item to find ingredients for an item in this way. Each time you find ingredients for an item this way, the time required to find ingredients again increases by an hour and the difficulty value increases by 5. Whenever you finish a long rest or enter a different environment with different ingredients, these penalties reset.

3rd – Potent Poisons: You gain a +1 bonus to accuracy with any poisons you create, including poisonous spells you cast.

6th – Tempting Concoction: You can use the tempting concoction ability as a standard action.

Tempting Concoction Attune, Emotion, Magical, Subtle

Choose one liquid poison or potion you created, or an object containing one of those liquids, within Short (30 ft.) range. Whenever an enemy notices the chosen object, make an attack vs. Mental against it. You are not aware of this attack, so you cannot use abilities like desperate exertion to affect it. If the poison or potion is not concealed inside a less suspicious object, such as a tankard of ale or an apple, you take a -4 penalty to accuracy. You cannot make this attack more than once against any individual target during this ability's duration.

Hit: The target is filled with the desire to investigate and try to consume the liquid or the object containing the liquid. It will not generally interrupt combat or wander into obvious danger to fulfill its desire, but individual creatures may react more or less strongly. This effect lasts until the target consumes the object or until it takes a short rest.

You gain a +1 accuracy bonus with the attack for every 3 levels beyond 6.

6th – Poison Tolerance: You gain a +1 bonus to your Fortitude defense. In addition, you are impervious to poisons.

9th – Efficient Concoction: The time required to find ingredients with your esoteric concoction ability is halved. In addition, the difficulty value of the Knowledge check is reduced by 5.

12th – Greater Potent Poisons: The bonus from your potent concoction ability increases to +2.

15th – Greater Poison Tolerance: The bonus from your poison tolerance ability increases to +3. In addition, you are immune to poisons.

18th – Greater Efficient Concoction: The time required to find ingredients with your esoteric concoction ability is reduced to five minutes, and the duration does not increase when you find ingredients for an item.

21st – Blended Poison: You can create poisons that combine two poison effects into a single dose. This requires twice the normal time to create a poison, and requires all ingredients required to make both poisons. A creature affected by the blended poison suffers the full effects of both poisons.

Intimidate Specialization [Skill]

Prerequisite: Intimidate as a trained skill.

1st – Specialization: You gain a +3 bonus to the Intimidate skill.

3rd – Greater Demoralize: When you use the demoralize ability, the target is shaken (-1 Mental, -1 accuracy vs. source) by you as a condition instead of being briefly shaken. For details, see Demoralize, page ??.

6th – Threatening Presence: Creatures that are shaken, frightened, or panicked by you suffer a penalty to their Armor defense equal to the penalty they suffer to their Mental defense.

9th – Greater Specialization: The bonus from your specialization ability increases to +5.

12th – Supreme Demoralize: When you use the demoralize ability, the target is frightened (-2 Mental, -2 accuracy vs. source) by you instead of being shaken.

15th – Supreme Specialization: The bonus from your specialization ability increases to +7.

18th – Greater Threatening Presence: The defense penalty from your threatening presence ability also applies to Fortitude and Reflex defenses.

21st – Mass Demoralize: When you use the demoralize ability, it affects all enemies within a Large (60 ft.) radius.

Iron Will [General]

Prerequisite: Willpower 1.

1st – Mental Discipline: You gain a +2 bonus to Mental defense. In addition, you gain a +1 bonus to your fatigue tolerance.

15th – Greater Unclouded Mind: You are immune to being stunned (-2 defenses).

18th – Supreme Mental Discipline: The defense bonus from your mental discipline ability increases to +4. In addition, the fatigue tolerance bonus increases to +2.

21st – Supreme Unclouded Mind: You are immune to all Compulsion and Emotion attacks.

Juggernaut [Combat]

Prerequisite: Strength 2.

1st – Brute Force: You gain a +1 bonus to accuracy with the shove and overrun abilities (see Shove, page 61, and Overrun, page 61). In addition, you gain a +1 bonus to your power.

3rd – Wall Slam: Whenever you push a creature with a mundane ability and the creature's movement is interrupted by a solid object, the object and creature both take bludgeoning damage equal to 1d8 plus half your power. This damage is not doubled when you get a critical hit with the ability that caused the push. Any individual creature or object cannot take damage in this way more than once per round. This damage increases by +1d at 6th level and every 3 levels thereafter.

6th – Trample: You can use the trample ability as a standard action. This ability functions like the overrun ability, except that it does not cause you to increase your fatigue level and creatures may not choose to avoid you. In addition, if you move through a creature's space, it takes bludgeoning damage equal to 1d8 plus half your power. This damage is doubled when you get a critical hit on the trample attack. This damage increases by +1d at 9th level and every 3 levels thereafter.

9th – Greater Brute Force: The accuracy bonus from your brute force ability increases to +2. In addition, the power bonus increases to +4.

12th – Limitless Juggernaut: You can use the overrun ability without increasing your fatigue level. After doing so, you briefly cannot use the overrun ability without increasing your fatigue level again.

15th – Greater Trample: Any creature that you deal damage to with your trample ability falls prone (half speed, -2 Armor and Ref).

18th – Supreme Brute Force: The accuracy bonus from your brute force ability increases to +3. In addition, the power bonus increases to +8.

21st – Greater Wall Slam: Your wall slam ability also deals damage when you knockback a creature with a mundane ability.

21st – Knockback Force: When you use the shove ability, you can knockback the target up to 20 feet instead of pushing it.

Jump Specialization [Skill]

Prerequisite: Jump as a trained skill.

1st – Specialization: You gain a +3 bonus to the Jump skill.

3rd – Instant Leap: You are always considered to have a running start when making a long jump (see Long Jump, page ??).

6th – Featherlight Leap: When you leap, your maximum height is equal to your Jump check result, rather than half your Jump check result. This does not affect the forward distance you can reach with your jumps.

9th – Greater Specialization: The bonus from your specialization ability increases to +5.

12th – Impact Tolerance: You take half damage from falling damage.

15th – Supreme Specialization: The bonus from your specialization ability increases to +7.

18th – Greater Featherlight Leap: Your maximum height when jumping is equal to twice your Jump check result. This does not affect the forward distance you can reach with your jumps.

21st – Greater Impact Tolerance: You are immune to falling damage.

- You gain proficiency with an additional weapon group of your choice.
- You gain proficiency with exotic weapons from a weapon group of your choice that you are already proficient with.
- You reduce the encumbrance of body armor you wear by 1. If you choose this ability multiple times, its effects stack.

6th – Martial Power: You gain a +2 bonus to your power.

9th – Equipment Training: You gain an additional equipment training ability of your choice.

12th – Greater Martial Power: The bonus from your martial power ability increases to +4.

15th – Equipment Training: You gain an additional equipment training ability of your choice.

18th – Greater Martial Power: The bonus from your martial power ability increases to +8.

21st – Martial Precision: You gain a +1 bonus to accuracy.

Medicine Specialization [Skill]

Prerequisite: Medicine as a trained skill.

1st – Specialization: You gain a +3 bonus to the Medicine skill.

3rd – Healing Touch: You can use the healing touch ability as a standard action.

Healing Touch

Choose yourself or an adjacent living ally. The target regains 1d10 + power hit points and increases its fatigue level by one. In addition, make a Medicine check. For each poison and disease on the target, if your check result beats a difficulty value equal to 10 + twice its rank, the effect is removed.

Level 6: The healing increases to 2d6.

Level 9: The healing increases to 2d10.

Level 12: The healing increases to 4d6.

Level 15: The healing increases to 4d10.

Level 18: The healing increases to 5d10.

Level 21: The healing increases to 7d10.

6th – Lifesaver: You can use the first aid ability as a minor action (see First Aid, page 152). If you do, you briefly cannot use it as a minor action again.

9th – Greater Specialization: The bonus from your specialization ability increases to +5.

12th – Vital Touch: When you use your healing touch ability, the target can also remove one vital wound. If it does, its increases its fatigue level by two.

15th – Supreme Specialization: The bonus from your specialization ability increases to +7.

18th – Preventative Medicine: You are immune to poisons and diseases.

21st – Greater Lifesaver: Using the first aid ability as a minor action does not prevent you from using it as a minor action again. In addition, using the first aid ability to affect multiple creatures simultaneously does not cause you to suffer a penalty to the Medicine check.

Mental Magic [Casting, Magical]

Prerequisite: Spellcasting ability, Willpower 1.

1st – Mental Casting: You connect to the magical essence of the universe differently from other spellcasters, allowing you to cast spells with purely mental effort. None of your spells have somatic components or verbal components.

3rd – Hardened Mind: You gain a +2 bonus to Mental defense.

6th – Potent Mind: You gain a +2 bonus to power.

9th – Fractured Mind: Once per round, you can sustain an ability with the Sustain (minor) tag as a free action.

12th – Greater Potent Mind: The bonus from your potent mind ability increases to +4.

15th – Greater Hardened Mind: The bonus from your hardened mind ability increases to +4.

18th – Supreme Potent Mind: The bonus from your potent mind ability increases to +8.

21st – Greater Fractured Mind: You can use your fractured mind ability on abilities with the Sustain (standard) tag in addition to the Sustain (minor) tag.

Metacaster [Casting, Magical]Swift

Prerequisite: Access to a mystic sphere, Intelligence 1.

1st – Sphere Access: You gain access to an additional mystic sphere. Each mystic sphere has a set of spells associated with it. You automatically learn all cantrips from any mystic sphere you have access to. If you have multiple magic sources, you can cast spells from that sphere with any magic source that the mystic sphere belongs to.

3rd – Alter Damage: Whenever you cast a spell that deals damage, you can change the type of damage it deals based on the mystic spheres you have access to. You can use this ability to affect both spells that deal damage directly and spells that cause effects or summon creatures that later deal damage. If you change a spell's damage type in this way, you change all damage done by the spell, even if the spell would originally deal damage of multiple types. The damage types for each mystic sphere are given in Table 10.2: Universal Mystic Spheres, page 365.

6th – Spell Fusion: You can use the spell fusion ability as a standard action.

Spell Fusion

Choose two spells that you know which do not have the Sustain or Attune tags. You cast both spells simultaneously. Both spells that you fuse in this way must have the same area shape, such as a cone or sphere, and targeting restrictions, such as affecting only enemies or living creatures. If one spell affects a strictly larger area or a strictly larger number of targets than the other, you must use the smaller of the two areas or target counts. You must choose the same targets and area for both spells, if applicable. Roll the attack roll and damage for each spell separately.

After you use this ability, you are unable to take any actions during the following round.

9th – Alter Conditions: When you cast a spell that inflicts a debuff with a standard effect as a condition, you can change that effect to another effect of the same rank. Debuff effect ranks are described in Table C.3: Debuff Effect Ranks. To change the spell to inflict a particular effect, you must know another spell that inflicts that effect.

Table C.3: Debuff Effect Ranks

Rank	Condition effects
1	Dazed, dazzled, slowed
2	Goaded (by you), stunned
3	Blinded, confused, immobilized, vulnerable (–4 defenses) to all damage
4	Asleep ¹ , paralyzed

1. The target wakes up if it gains a vital wound, but cannot otherwise wake up during the condition.

12th – Greater Spell Fusion: Using your spell fusion ability does not prevent you from acting during the movement phase of the following round.

15th – Greater Alter Conditions: You can now exchange debuffs for other debuffs of the same rank with all spells and abilities, not just spells and abilities that inflict conditions. In addition, you can exchange a debuff for any debuff of a lower rank.

18th – Sphere Access: You gain access to an additional mystic sphere. You automatically learn all cantrips from that mystic sphere. In addition, you may forget spells from your existing mystic spheres in exchange for spells from that mystic sphere.

21st – Supreme Spell Fusion: Using your spell fusion ability does not prevent you from taking minor actions during the following round.

Mystic Archer [Casting]

Prerequisite: Access to a mystic sphere.

1st – Imbued Shot: You can use the imbued shot ability as a standard action.

Imbued Shot

Magical

Make a ranged strike with a +1 bonus to accuracy using a projectile weapon you wield. Because this is a magical ability, you use your Willpower to determine your damage dice instead of your Strength (see Dice Bonuses From Attributes, page 41).

Level 6: The accuracy bonus increases to +2.

Level 12: The accuracy bonus increases to +3.

Level 18: The accuracy bonus increases to +4.

1st – Magical Strikes (Magical): Whenever you make a ranged strike, you can choose to treat that as a magical ability. When you do, you use your Willpower to determine your damage dice instead of your Strength (see Dice Bonuses From Attributes, page 41).

3rd – Guided Projectiles (Magical): Your attacks with projectiles ignore cover.

6th – Imbue Projectile (Magical): When you cast a spell that does not have the Attune or Sustain tags, you can use the imbue projectile ability.

Imbue Projectile

Attune

The spell does not have its effect immediately. Instead, its power is imbued in a projectile you hold. An individual projectile can only be imbued with this ability once, even if multiple creatures use this ability on the same projectile.

When you use your imbued shot ability to attack with that projectile, the spell takes effect on the target of your imbued shot ability. You must make any attack rolls required for the spell separately from your attack roll with the strike. After the spell takes effect this way, your attunement to this ability ends.

9th – Phasing Projectiles (Magical): When attacking with projectiles, you can ignore all physical obstacles in single one-foot span. This can allow you to fire projectiles through creatures or solid walls, though it does not grant you the ability to see through a wall.

12th – Greater Guided Projectiles: Your attacks with projectiles ignore concealment, and you can roll twice for miss chances with projectile attacks (such as when attacking creatures you cannot see).

15th – Greater Phasing Projectiles (Magical): Your phasing projectiles ability improves, allowing you to ignore obstacles in up to five one-foot spans. The spans can be contiguous or independent, which can allow you to ignore a single obstacle up to five feet deep.

18th – Supreme Guided Projectiles: You gain a +1 bonus to accuracy with projectile attacks. In addition, you ignore all miss chances with projectile attacks.

21st – Supreme Phasing Projectiles: The distance you can ignore with your phasing projectiles ability increases to fifteen feet.

Null [General]

Prerequisite: Willpower 2.

1st – Nullify Magic: You gain a +4 bonus to your defenses against magical abilities. In exchange, you lose the benefits of all magical abilities you possess. You are unable to attune to any magical abilities, such as magic items or spells cast by other creatures. You cannot use potions or other similar magic items or abilities that affect you personally, even if they do not require attunement. In addition, you are never considered an ally for a magical ability, even while unconscious.

1st – Sever Magic: You can use the sever magic ability as a standard action.

Sever Magic

Make a strike. You take a –1d damage penalty with the strike. If the target takes damage from the strike, it stops being attuned to one effect of its choice that it is currently attuned to. If it has any magical abilities, but has no remaining attuned effects, it becomes dazed (–1 defenses) as a condition instead. On a critical hit, the target takes double damage and it stops being attuned to two abilities of its choice that it is currently attuned to. In addition, as a condition, it stops being able to attune to abilities.

Level 6: You gain a +1 bonus to accuracy with the strike.

Level 12: A struck target stops being attuned to an additional effect of its choice.

Level 18: The accuracy bonus increases to +2.

3rd – Mundane Resilience: You gain a +4 bonus to your damage resistance and hit points.

3rd – Personal Legacy: You do not gain any legacy item upgrades (see Legacy Items, page 29). Instead, each time you would gain a legacy item upgrade, you instead gain a +1 bonus to accuracy, all defenses, and fatigue tolerance.

6th – Disruptive Presence: Whenever an enemy within an Medium (30 ft.) radius from you casts a spell, the spell has a 50% chance to fail with no effect.

6th – Greater Nullify Magic: The bonus to your defenses from your nullify magic ability increases to +6.

9th – Greater Mundane Resilience: The bonuses from your mundane resilience ability increase to +8.

9th – Itembane: Whenever you touch a magical item or hit it with a melee strike, such as with the disarm ability, it briefly loses all magical abilities (see Disarm, page 60). This does not prevent you from suffering the normal effects of the item's initial hit, if the item was used to strike you. Under normal circumstances, this removes the abilities of items that hit you with melee strikes, but does not affect magical projectile weapons. Items that are at least 2 ranks higher than your highest rank are immune to this effect. The level of the item's wielder, if any, does not affect whether the item can be affected in this way.

12th – Supreme Nullify Magic: The bonus to your defenses from your nullify magic ability increases to +8.

15th – Supreme Mundane Resilience: The bonuses from your mundane resilience ability increase to +16.

15th – Greater Disruptive Presence: Your disruptive presence ability affects all enemies in a Huge (90 ft.) radius emanation from you.

18th – True Null: You are unaffected by all magical abilities.

21st – Legendary Mundane Resilience: The bonuses from your mundane resilience ability increase to +32.

21st – Supreme Disruptive Presence: The miscast chance from your disruptive presence ability increases to 90%.

Perform Specialization [Skill]

Prerequisite: Any Perform skill as a trained skill.

1st – Specialization: You gain a +3 bonus to all Perform skills.

3rd – Synergistic Performance: You can use any Perform skill you are trained with in place of other related skills. Each Perform skill has an associated skill that it can be used to replace, as listed below. When you replace a skill in this way, you add half your modifier with the Perform skill instead of your full modifier since the two skills do not exactly match.

- Acting: Deception
- Comedy: Deception
- Dance: Balance
- Keyboard instruments: Devices
- Oratory: Persuasion
- Percussion instruments: Creature Handling
- Singing: Persuasion
- String instruments: Devices
- Wind instruments: Creature Handling

6th – Inspiring Performance (Magical): Whenever you perform with the Perform skill, each ally that can observe the performance gains a +1 bonus to Mental defense. This effect has the Swift tag, so it protects allies in the same phase that you begin performing. This includes both normal performances and any special abilities that require performances. This bonus lasts as long as the performance lasts.

9th – Greater Specialization: The bonus from your specialization ability increases to +5.

12th – Greater Synergistic Performance: The modifier when replacing a skill with your synergistic performance ability increases to be equal to your modifier with the relevant Perform skill – 4.

15th – Supreme Specialization: The bonus from your specialization ability increases to +7.

18th – Greater Inspiring Performance: The bonus from your inspiring performance ability increases to +2.

21st – Endless Performance: You can sustain performances for any length of time. This affects both normal performances and any special abilities that require performances to sustain them, allowing you to sustain those abilities beyond the normal 5 minute limit.

Persuasion Specialization [Skill]

Prerequisite: Persuasion as a trained skill.

1st – Specialization: You gain a +3 bonus to the Persuasion skill.

3rd – Compel Attention (Magical): You can use the compel attention ability as a standard action.

Compel Auditory, Compulsion, Sustain (minor), Subtle Attention

Make an attack vs. Mental against a creature within Medium (60 ft.) range. Your accuracy is equal to your Persuasion skill. You take a –10 penalty to accuracy with this attack against creatures who have made an attack or been attacked since the start of the last round, including during the current phase. You must talk loud enough for the target to hear to draw its attention.

Hit: The target only pays attention to you as long as you sustain this ability, which requires maintaining your conversation with it. It takes a –20 penalty to Awareness checks to observe anything unrelated to your conversation. Any act by you or by creatures that appear to be your ally that damages a target or that causes it to feel that it is in danger breaks the effect for that creature.

Level 9: You may target up to five creatures within range.

Level 15: You may target any number of creatures within range.

Level 21: The range increases to Distant (180 ft.) range.

6th – First Impressions: When you first meet creatures, you have an Ally relationship instead of a Just Met relationship (see Table ??: Relationship Modifiers, page ??). This does not affect your relationship with creatures who would not normally have a Just Met relationship with you.

9th – Greater Specialization: The bonus from your specialization ability increases to +5.

12th – Suggestion (Magical): You can use the suggestion ability as a standard action.

Suggestion Emotion, Subtle, Sustain (minor)

Make an attack vs. Mental against a target within Medium (60 ft.) range. Your accuracy is equal to your Persuasion skill. You must also make a verbal suggestion of a particular course of action to the target. If your suggestion does not seem reasonable, you take a -5 accuracy penalty on this attack. Exceptionally unreasonable suggestions can impose even greater penalties, and exceptionally reasonable suggestions can give accuracy bonuses.

Hit: As a condition, the target thinks your suggestion is a good idea and will try to follow it to the best of its abilities. Any act by you or by creatures that appear to be your ally that damages the target or makes it feel that it is in danger breaks the effect. An observant target may interpret overt threats to its allies as a threat to itself.

Level 18: You may target up to five creatures within range.

15th – Supreme Specialization: The bonus from your specialization ability increases to +7.

18th – Greater First Impressions: When you first meet creatures, you have a Friend relationship instead of a Just Met relationship. This does not improve your relationship with creatures who already have an impression of you, whether positive or negative.

21st – Rapid Persuasion: You can make a Persuasion check within the first round of a conversation at no penalty instead of the normal requirement to talk for a minute or longer.

Precognition [General]

Prerequisite: Intelligence 2.

1st – Precognitive Offense: You can use your Intelligence in place of your Strength or Willpower to determine your dice pools (see Dice Bonuses From Attributes, page 41). In addition, you gain a bonus to initiative checks equal to your Intelligence.

3rd – Combat Prediction: You can use the combat prediction ability as a standard action.

Combat Prediction Subtle, Sustain (free)

Make an attack vs. Mental with a +3 accuracy bonus against a creature within Medium (60 ft.) range of you.

Hit: That creature's intentions become obvious to you as long as you sustain this ability. This gives you a +2 bonus to accuracy and defenses against that creature. At the start of each phase, you can see and hear what actions that creature intends to take. You do not gain any knowledge of actions that have no obvious signs, such as purely mental actions, or actions which you are not observant enough to notice. In addition, you do not know the results of actions with a chance of failure, such as attacks.

The creature may change its actions based on your interference if you communicate your insight in a way it understands.

You gain a +2 bonus to accuracy with the attack at 6th level and every 3 levels thereafter.

6th – Foresight: During the movement phase, you choose your action after all other creatures have chosen their actions. When you choose your action, you have insight into the actions chosen by any creatures within Short (30 ft.) range of you that you can see. This insight gives you the same information as the insight from your combat prediction ability, except that it only provides information about their actions during the movement phase. You choose your actions simultaneously with any other creatures who have a similar ability.

Knowing another creature's action does not automatically allow you to interrupt that action. If you want to interrupt an action, such as by blocking a creature's intended movement, you must make an initiative check as normal.

9th – Precognitive Precision: You gain a +1 bonus to accuracy.

12th – Precognitive Reaction: You gain a +4 bonus to initiative checks.

15th – Greater Foresight: The range of your foresight ability increases to Long (120 ft.) range.

18th – Greater Precognitive Precision: The bonus from your precognitive precision ability increases to +2.

21st – Greater Precognitive Reaction: The bonus from your precognitive reaction ability increases to +10.

Prepared Spellcasting [Magical, Spell]

Prerequisite: Access to a mystic sphere, Intelligence 2.

1st – Spellbook: Choose up to three spells you do not know from among mystic spheres you have access to. The spells in your spellbook can come from any combination of magic sources you can cast spells with. The spells must be of a rank that you know how to cast. Whenever you gain access to a new spell rank, you may change the spells in your spellbook for any other spells you can cast. You inscribe the knowledge of those spells into a book you carry with you. This book is your spellbook.

Whenever you finish a long rest, you may choose one of the spells in your spellbook. You learn how to cast that spell until you choose a different spell with this ability.

3rd – Studious Learning: You gain a +2 bonus to all Knowledge skills.

6th – Study of Magic: You gain a +2 bonus to your power.

9th – Expanded Spellbook: You can choose up to five spells to be in your spellbook instead of only three.

12th – Greater Study of Magic: The bonus from your study of magic ability increases to +4.

15th – Greater Spellbook: Whenever you finish a long rest, you may choose two spells in your spellbook with your spellbook ability instead of one. You learn how to cast both spells until you choose a different pair of spells in this way.

18th – Supreme Study of Magic: The bonus from your study of magic ability increases to +8.

21st – Greater Expanded Spellbook: You can choose up to seven spells to be in your spellbook instead of only five.

Rapid Reaction [General]

Prerequisite: Dexterity 1.

1st – Lightning Reflexes: You gain a +2 bonus to Reflex defense and initiative checks.

3rd – Sidestep: If you have at least five feet of movement remaining after the movement phase, you may move up to five feet during the action phase or the delayed action phase as a free action.

6th – Evasive Reaction: You take half damage from abilities that affect an area and attack your Armor or Reflex defense. This does not protect you from any non-damaging effects of those abilities, or from abilities that affect multiple specific targets without affecting an area. If you have the evasion monk or rogue ability with the same effect as this ability, you reduce the total damage you take to one quarter of the normal value instead.

9th – Greater Lightning Reflexes: The bonuses from your lightning reflexes ability increase to +3.

12th – Greater Sidestep: The movement you can carry over with your sidestep ability increases to half your land speed.

15th – Greater Evasive Reaction: Your evasive reaction ability also protects you from area attacks against your Fortitude and Mental defenses.

18th – Supreme Lightning Reflexes: The bonuses from your lightning reflexes ability increase to +4.

21st – Supreme Sidestep: The movement you can carry over with your sidestep ability increases to your full land speed.

Regenerator [General]

Prerequisite: Constitution 2.

1st – Diehard: You gain a +2 bonus to vital rolls.

3rd – Regenerative Recovery: You can use the regenerative recovery ability as a standard action.

Regenerative Recovery

Swift

When you use this ability, you increase your fatigue level by one.

You regain 1d10 + power hit points. Unlike normal, your Strength does not modify this dice pool (see Dice Bonuses From Attributes, page 41). Instead, you gain a +1d bonus to the healing for every 2 Constitution you have. If you gained any vital wounds during the previous round, your healing with this ability is doubled.

Level 6: The healing increases to 2d6.

Level 9: The healing increases to 2d10.

Level 12: The healing increases to 4d6.

Level 15: The healing increases to 4d10.

Level 18: The healing increases to 5d10.

Level 21: The healing increases to 7d10.

6th – Regenerative Rest: When you take a short rest, you can remove any number of vital wounds affecting you. If you do, you increase your fatigue level by four per vital wound removed this way. Once you increase your fatigue level to the point of unconsciousness, you cannot remove additional vital wounds with this ability.

9th – Greater Diehard: The bonus from your diehard ability increases to +3.

12th – Greater Regenerative Rest: Your regenerative rest ability only causes you to increase your fatigue level by three per vital wound.

12th – Battlefield Regeneration: When you use the recover action, you can also remove a single vital wound. If you do, you increase your fatigue level by one. You cannot use this ability to remove a vital wound that you gained during the current round.

15th – Deep Rest: You can use your regenerative rest ability to remove vital wounds even once your fatigue level would already make you unconscious. This allows you to recover any number of vital wounds regardless of your maximum fatigue level if you go unconscious to do so.

18th – Supreme Diehard: The bonus from your diehard ability increases to +4.

21st – Supreme Regenerative Rest: Your regenerative rest ability only causes you to increase your fatigue level by one per vital wound.

Ride Specialization [Skill]

Prerequisite: Ride as a trained skill.

1st – Specialization: You gain a +3 bonus to the Ride skill.

3rd – Mounted Defense: Your mount gains a +3 bonus to all defenses, up to a maximum of your own corresponding defense.

6th – Mounted Warrior: The penalty you take for making ranged strikes while mounted is decreased by 2. In addition, while you are mounted, you gain a +1 bonus to accuracy with Mounted weapons (see Mounted Weapon, page 163).

9th – Greater Specialization: The bonus from your specialization ability increases to +5.

12th – Greater Mounted Defense: The defense bonus from your mounted defense ability increases to +6.

15th – Supreme Specialization: The bonus from your specialization ability increases to +7.

18th – Greater Mounted Warrior: The penalty reduction from your mounted warrior ability increases to 4. In addition, the accuracy bonus increases to +2.

21st – Greater Mounted Defense: The defense bonus from your mounted defense ability increases to +12.

Shieldbearer [Combat]

Prerequisite: Strength 2.

1st – Forceful Block: Whenever a creature misses or glances you with a melee strike, if you are wielding a shield, that creature briefly takes a –1 penalty to Armor defense. As normal, this bonus does not stack with itself, even if the same creature misses you with multiple melee attacks.

3rd – Shield Expertise: You gain a +1 bonus to Armor defense while you wield a shield.

6th – Arrow Deflection: While you wield a shield, you and each ally adjacent to you gain a +2 bonus to Armor defense against ranged strikes from weapons or projectiles that are at least one size category smaller than you.

9th – Greater Forceful Block: The penalty from your forceful block ability increases to –2.

12th – Greater Shield Expertise: The bonus from your shield expertise ability increases to +2.

15th – Greater Arrow Deflection: The bonus from your arrow deflection ability increases to +4.

18th – Supreme Forceful Block: The penalty from your forceful block ability increases to –4.

21st – Greater Shield Expertise: The bonus from your shield expertise ability increases to +3.

Sleight of Hand Specialization [Skill]

Prerequisite: Sleight of Hand as a trained skill.

1st – Specialization: You gain a +3 bonus to the Sleight of Hand skill.

3rd – Deep Pickpocket: You can use the pickpocket ability to retrieve objects that are loose within larger containers, such as backpacks or sacks, even if they are not immediately accessible. You must be able to reach at least one of your fingers into the bag, such as through a narrow gap at the opening. This does not allow you to retrieve objects from locked containers with no openings. The container's size cannot exceed your own size.

6th – Extradimensional Concealment (Magical): When you use the conceal object ability, you can use the extradimensional pocket ability.

Extradimensional Pocket

Attune

You conceal the object in a pocket dimension that cannot be accessed by nonmagical means. When your attunement to this ability ends, the object appears in a free hand. If you have no free hands, it drops to the ground.

9th – Greater Specialization: The bonus from your specialization ability increases to +5.

12th – Greater Conceal Object: The maximum size of object you can hide with your conceal object ability increases to be equal to your size category. You take a –10 penalty if the object is the same size category as you instead of one size category smaller.

15th – Supreme Specialization: The bonus from your specialization ability increases to +7.

18th – Greater Deep Pickpocket: The maximum size of the container you can reach into with your deep pickpocket ability increases to two size categories larger than your own size.

21st – Supreme Conceal Object: The –10 penalty for concealing an object of the same size category as you with your conceal object ability is removed.

Sniper [Combat]

Prerequisite: Perception 2.

1st – Aim: You can use the aim ability as a standard action.

Aim

Subtle, Sustain (minor)

Choose a creature or object within line of sight. You gain a +2 accuracy bonus against the target.

If you lose sight of the target for a full round, this effect ends.

Level 6: You also gain a +4 bonus to power against the target if it is unaware (–6 Armor and Ref) of you.

Level 12: The accuracy bonus increases to +3.

Level 18: The power bonus increases to +8.

3rd – Distance Tolerance: You reduce your longshot penalty by 1.

6th – Precise Shot: You ignore cover with ranged attacks.

9th – Sniper's Precision: You gain a +1 bonus to accuracy.

12th – Greater Precise Shot: You ignore concealment with ranged attacks.

15th – Greater Distance Tolerance: The penalty reduction from your distance tolerance ability increases to 2.

18th – Greater Sniper's Precision: The accuracy bonus from your sniper's precision ability increases to +2.

21st – Supreme Distance Tolerance: The penalty reduction from your distance tolerance ability increases to 4.

Social Insight Specialization [Skill]

Prerequisite: Social Insight as a trained skill.

1st – Specialization: You gain a +3 bonus to the Social Insight skill.

3rd – Social Intuition: You reduce the penalty for making a social assessment after only a single round of observation, and the penalty for making a social assessment without understanding the language, by 5 each (see Social Assessment, page 156).

6th – Read Emotions (Magical): You can use the read emotions ability as a standard action.

Read Emotions Emotion, Sustain (minor), Subtle

Make an attack vs. Mental against a creature within Short (30 ft.) range. Your accuracy is equal to your Social Insight skill.

Hit: You know the target's current emotions. In addition to the obvious effects, this grants you a +3 bonus to Deception, Persuasion, Intimidate, and Social Insight attacks and checks against the target. This bonus does not stack with other effects that allow you access to the target's mind, such as read mind.

Level 12: The range increases to Long (120 ft.) range.

Level 18: You can use this ability as a minor action.

9th – Greater Specialization: The bonus from your specialization ability increases to +5.

12th – Truthsense: Whenever a creature within a Large (60 ft.) radius emanation from you that you can hear and see speaks truth to the best of its knowledge with no attempt at evasion, concealment, or creative wording, you automatically recognize that. Spellword [Magical, Spell]

Prerequisite: Access to a mystic sphere.

1st – Imbued Blow: You can use the imbued blow ability as a standard action.

Imbued Blow

Magical

Make a melee strike with a +1 bonus to accuracy. Because this is a magical ability, you use your Willpower to determine your damage dice instead of your Strength (see Dice Bonuses From Attributes, page 41).

Level 6: The accuracy bonus increases to +2.

Level 12: The accuracy bonus increases to +3.

Level 18: The accuracy bonus increases to +4.

1st – Magical Strikes (Magical): Whenever you make a melee strike, you can choose to treat it as a magical ability. When you do, you use your Willpower to determine your damage dice instead of your Strength (see Dice Bonuses From Attributes, page 41).

3rd – Spellword Conduit: You can cast spells using a non-projectile weapon as if it were an implement (see Implements, page 207). In addition, if your legacy item is a weapon, you may choose both weapon and implement magic item effects for it.

6th – Personal Enhancement: You gain a magic bonus equal to your level to your hit points and damage resistance. Because this is a magic bonus, it does not stack with other magic bonuses (see Stacking Rules, page 54).

9th – Imbue Weapon (Magical): When you cast a spell that does not have the Attune or Sustain tags, you can use the imbue weapon ability.

Imbue Weapon

Attune

The spell does not have its effect immediately. Instead, its power is imbued in a non-projectile weapon you hold. An individual weapon can only be imbued with this ability once.

When you use your imbued blow ability to make a strike with that weapon, you may choose to activate the spell. If you do, the spell takes effect on the target of your imbued blow ability as if you had just cast it. You must make any attack rolls required for the spell separately from your attack roll with the strike. After the spell takes effect this way, your attunement to this ability ends.

12th – Greater Spellword Conduit: Whenever you cast a spell using a non-projectile weapon as an implement, you gain a +1 bonus to accuracy with the spell.

15th – Greater Personal Enhancement: The bonuses from your personal enhancement ability increase by 10.

18th – Supreme Spellword Conduit: The accuracy bonus from your greater spellword conduit ability increases to +2.

3rd – Telekinetic Strike: You can use the telekinetic strike ability as a standard action.

Make a strike with a weapon you are controlling using the distant hand cantrip. Because this is a magical ability, you use your Willpower to determine your damage dice instead of your Strength (see Dice Bonuses From Attributes, page 41).
Level 9: You gain a +1 accuracy bonus with the strike.
Level 15: The accuracy bonus increases to +2.

6th – Partial Levitation: You gain a +4 bonus to the Jump skill. In addition, as a free action, you can slow your fall while falling. If you do, you fall at a rate of 50 feet per round, preventing you from taking falling damage when you hit the ground.

12th – Levitation: You gain a fly speed equal to the base speed for your size with a maximum height of 30 feet (see Flying, page 56). At the start of each phase, you can increase your fatigue level by one to ignore this height limit until the end of the round.

3rd – Counterspell: You can use the counterspell ability as a standard action.

Counterspell	Swift
Choose a creature within Medium (60 ft.) range of you. If the target is casting a spell or begins casting a spell this round, you can attempt to counter the spell. If your maximum spell level is higher than the target's maximum spell rank, their spell has no effect when it resolves. Otherwise, you and the target each make an opposed check . Your modifier is equal to your maximum spell rank, and the target's modifier is equal to its maximum spell rank. If you match or beat the target's result, its spell has no effect.
If a creature is capable of casting multiple spells during a single phase, only the first spell it casts can be countered. This is common for elite monsters.
Level 12: You gain a +2 bonus to the check.
Level 18: The bonus increases to +4.

6th – Mystic Power: You gain a +2 bonus to your power.

Cleanse Toxins

Target: Yourself or one adjacent ally

You remove all poisons and diseases affecting the target. This cannot remove a poison or disease applied during the current round.

Level 9: The range increases to Medium (60 ft.).

Level 15: You can use this ability as a minor action.

6th – Innate Poison: When you become poisoned, such as by drinking poison or from an enemy's attack, your body naturally repurposes the poison. The poison has no effect on you, but your body gains a dose of natural poison. Whenever a creature makes you lose hit points with a melee strike using a non-Long weapon, you make an attack vs. Fortitude against the attacking creature. On a hit, it becomes poisoned by your choice of one of the poisons you store with this ability. This expends the dose of that poison.

Poison that you carry in your body with this ability automatically decays after 24 hours, regardless of the normal duration of the poison. You can store up to 3 doses in your body with this ability at a time.

9th – Personal Toxicology: You gain an additional attunement point. You can only use this attunement point to attune to spells and rituals from the Toxicology mystic sphere.

Once per round, when you make a creature lose hit points with a natural weapon or a spell from the toxicology mystic sphere, you can cause the creature to become poisoned with your choice of one of the poisons you store. This expends the dose of that poison.

15th – Spell: You learn a spell from the Toxicology mystic sphere. When you gain access to a new spell level, you can change which spell you know from that mystic sphere.

18th – Greater Innate Poison: You can store up to 10 poison doses with your innate poison ability.

21st – Greater Innate Venom: When you transfer a poison dose with your innate venom ability, the target immediately suffers the penalties for the initial poison stage.

Sphere Focus: Umbramancy [Casting, Magical]

Prerequisite: Access to the Umbramancy mystic sphere.

1st – Spell: You learn a spell from the Umbramancy mystic sphere. When you gain access to new spell ranks, you can change which spell you know from that mystic sphere.

21st – Supreme Suppress Light: When you cast your suppress light cantrip, you can choose to completely block all light in the area instead of dimming it to be shadowy illumination. If you do, the maximum area is reduced to a Medium (30 ft.) radius, and you briefly cannot cast it in this way again.

Sphere Focus: Verdamancy [Casting, Magical]

Prerequisite: Access to the Verdamancy mystic sphere.

1st – Spell: You learn a spell from the Verdamancy mystic sphere. When you gain access to a new spell level, you can change which spell you know from that mystic sphere.

3rd – Verdant Allies: Your speed is not reduced when moving in heavy undergrowth. In addition, you can ignore cover and concealment from plants whenever doing so would be beneficial to you, as the plants move out of the way to help you. This prevents you from a miss chance on your attacks, and also prevents creatures from using cover or concealment from plants to hide from you.

6th – Residual Undergrowth: Whenever you cast a spell from the verdamancy sphere, you may create light undergrowth in the area of the spell that persists briefly. The undergrowth appears on the ground within the area for area spells, or on the ground in all spaces occupied by each target of the spell for targeted spells.

9th – Personal Verdamancy: You gain an additional attunement point. You can only use this attunement point to attune to spells and rituals from the Verdamancy mystic sphere.

12th – Greater Verdant Armor: You learn the verdant armor spell from the Verdamancy mystic sphere. In addition, the armor you create with that spell can be made of any non-metal special material other than dragonhide as long as the total rank of the armor does not exceed your highest rank.

18th – Supreme Residual Undergrowth: You can choose to create either heavy undergrowth or light undergrowth with your residual undergrowth ability. In addition, any heavy undergrowth you create with that ability does not impede the movement of your allies.

21st – Greater Verdant Allies: You treat all living creatures as if they were plants for the purpose of abilities from this feat and abilities from the Verdamancy mystic sphere.

Sphere Focus: Vivimancy [Casting, Magical]

Prerequisite: Access to the Vivimancy mystic sphere.

1st – Spell: You learn a spell from the Vivimancy mystic sphere. When you gain access to new spell ranks, you can change which spell you know from that mystic sphere.

6th – Hidden Life: You can treat nonliving creatures other than undead as if they were living creatures for the purpose of your spells from the Vivimancy mystic sphere.

18th – Life Suppression: You are no longer considered a living creature for the purpose of attacks against you. This means that attacks which only affect living creatures have no effect against you.

21st – Supreme Personal Vitality: The bonus to Fortitude defense from your personal vitality ability increases to +3. In addition, you are immune to any effects which would cause you to die or gain vital wounds while you still have hit points remaining.

3rd – Movement Tolerance: Your penalties for moving while hiding are reduced by 3.

miss chance, –2 Armor and Ref) creatures.

9th – Greater Specialization: The bonus from your specialization ability increases to +5.

12th – Greater Movement Tolerance: The penalty reduction from your movement tolerance ability increases to 6. This allows you to move at half speed without penalty.

15th – Supreme Specialization: The bonus from your specialization ability increases to +7.

18th – Greater Ambush the Unwary: The bonus from your ambush the unwary ability increases to +6.

21st – Supreme Movement Tolerance: The penalty reduction from your movement tolerance ability increases to 10. This allows you to move at full speed without penalty.

Survival Specialization [Skill]

Prerequisite: Survival as a trained skill.

1st – Specialization: You gain a +3 bonus to the Survival skill.

3rd – Terrain Tolerance: You ignore difficult terrain and harmful natural terrain of any kind. If a skill check, such as Climb or Swim, would normally be required to move through the terrain, this ability does not help.

6th – Rapid Tracker: While following trails with the track ability, you can move at your normal speed while following tracks without taking the normal –5 penalty.

9th – Greater Specialization: The bonus from your specialization ability increases to +5.

12th – Planar Tolerance (Magical): You are immune to damage and conditions imposed by being on other planes. In addition, you gain a +5 bonus to checks and defenses related to planar effects, such as checks required to manipulate subjective gravity.

15th – Supreme Specialization: The bonus from your specialization ability increases to +7.

18th – Find the Path (Magical): You can use the find the path ability as a standard action.

Find the Path

Attune

When you use this ability, you must unambiguously specify a location on the same plane as you. You know exactly what direction you must travel to reach your chosen destination by the most direct physical route. You are not always led in the exact direction of the destination – if there is an impassable obstacle between the target and the destination, this ability will direct you around the obstacle, rather than through it.

The guidance provided by this ability adjusts to match whatever your current physical capabilities are, including flight and other unusual movement modes. It does not consider teleportation spells or any other activated abilities you may have which could allow you to bypass physical obstacles. It does not see into the future, and changing circumstances may cause the most direct path to change over time. It also does not consider hostile creatures, traps, and other passable dangers which may endanger or slow progress.

21st – Greater Planar Tolerance: The bonus from your planar tolerance ability increases to +20. In addition, your allies who can see or hear you gain a +10 bonus to checks and defenses related to planar effects.

Swiftrunner [General]

Prerequisite: Dexterity 1.

1st – Sprinter: When you use the sprint ability, you can move up to triple your movement speed. In addition, you gain a +1 bonus to your fatigue tolerance.

3rd – Wall Runner: You gain a +5 bonus to checks with the wallrun ability (see Wallrun, page ??). This bonus increases to +10 while you are affected by the sprint ability.

6th – Water Runner: During your movement with the sprint ability, you can move on water and similar liquids as if they were solid ground.

9th – Rapid Movement: You gain a +10 foot bonus to your land speed.

12th – Greater Sprinter: The bonus to your fatigue tolerance from your sprinter ability increases to +2.

15th – Greater Wall Runner: You can move at full speed while wallrunning vertically, instead of at only half speed.

18th – Cloud Runner: During your movement with the sprint ability, you can move on dense fog and similar gaseous substances as if they were solid ground.

21st – Greater Rapid Movement: The speed bonus from your rapid movement ability increases to +20 feet.

Swim Specialization [Skill]

Prerequisite: Swim as a trained skill.

1st – Specialization: You gain a +3 bonus to the Swim skill.

3rd – Swim Speed: You gain a swim speed 10 feet slower than the base speed for your size. If you already have a swim speed, you gain a +10 foot bonus to your swim speed. A successful Swim check to move allows you to move a distance equal to your swim speed.

6th – Swimming Blitz: You can use the sprint ability during the movement phase without increasing your fatigue level if you swim for the entire duration of the movement. After you use this ability, you briefly cannot use it again.

6th – Underwater Tolerance: You can hold your breath for twice as long as normal (see Hold Breath, page 148).

9th – Greater Specialization: The bonus from your specialization ability increases to +5.

12th – Earth Swimmer: You can swim through loose earth and dirt as if it were water. Your swim speed in earth is only 5 feet, regardless of any bonuses or penalties that would normally apply to your swim speed. In addition, you take a –4 penalty to accuracy and your Armor and Reflex defenses while swimming in this way. The earth and dirt around you blocks line of sight and line of effect, so you usually cannot use ranged attacks of any kind.

15th – Supreme Specialization: The bonus from your specialization ability increases to +7.

18th – Rapid Swimmer: You gain a +10 foot bonus to your swim speed.

21st – Greater Earth Swimmer: Your swim speed in earth increases to be 10 feet slower than the base speed for your size. In addition, you reduce your penalties for swimming in earth by 2.

Telepath [General, Magical]

Prerequisite: Intelligence 1, Willpower 1.

1st – Telepathy: You gain telepathy with a 60 foot range (see Telepathy, page 379).

3rd – Mental Assault: You can use the mental assault ability as a standard action.

Mental Assault

Emotion

Make an attack vs. Mental against one creature within half the maximum range of your telepathy.

Hit: As a condition, the target is dazed (–1 defenses) while it has any damage resistance remaining, and stunned (–2 defenses) while it does not.

Critical hit: The condition must be removed twice before the effect ends.

You gain a +2 bonus to accuracy with the attack at 6th level and every 3 levels thereafter.

6th – Read Mind (Magical): You can use the read mind ability as a standard action.

Read Mind

Emotion, Subtle, Sustain (standard)

Make an attack vs. Mental against a creature within half the maximum range of your telepathy. Whether you hit or miss, you cannot attack the target with this ability again until it takes a short rest.

Hit: You know the target's current thoughts and emotions. In addition to the obvious effects, this grants you a +5 bonus to Deception, Persuasion, Intimidate, and Social Insight attacks and checks against the target. This bonus does not stack with other effects that allow you access to the target's mind, such as read emotions. You cannot directly search the target's mind for arbitrary thoughts or information. However, creatures often think about questions they are asked, and their thoughts may reveal much more than their words.

You gain a +2 bonus to accuracy with the attack at 9th level and every 3 levels thereafter.

9th – Greater Telepathy: The range of your telepathy ability increases to 120 feet. In addition, you automatically know the location of any creature with an Intelligence of 0 or higher within half the maximum range of your telepathy. Unlike abilities like blindsight, the Stealth skill does not prevent you from learning the location of creatures in this way.

12th – Fragmented Mind: You gain a +2 bonus to Mental defense. In addition, you can maintain mental channels with up to 5 creatures at once with your telepathy. You can send separate thoughts to each creature.

15th – Greater Read Mind: On a critical hit with your read mind ability, you can delve through the target's mind to answer a specific question. You can pose a question to it mentally and search its mind to know the exact answer to that question. This takes five rounds of continuous concentration, and you can only get answers to one such question each time you use this ability. The process of searching a creature's mind in this way is no easier to notice than normal for a Subtle ability.

18th – Supreme Telepathy: The range of your telepathy ability increases to 240 feet. In addition, you can see perfectly any creature with an Intelligence of 0 or higher within half the maximum range of your telepathy. Unlike abilities like blindsight, the Stealth skill does not prevent you from seeing creatures in this way.

21st – Mental Domination: Whenever a creature stunned (–2 defenses) by your mental assault ability reaches 0 hit points, you can attune to this ability. When you do, that creature becomes dominated (must obey commands) by you as long as you maintain that attunement. As normal, you can only maintain one instance of this attunement at a time.

Toughness [General]

Prerequisite: Constitution 1.

1st – Fortified Body: You gain a +2 bonus to Fortitude defense. In addition, you can sleep while you have encumbrance without penalty (see Encumbrance, page 30).

3rd – Durability: You gain a +4 bonus to your maximum hit points.

6th – Sleepless: You need half the normal amount of rest and sleep each day to function normally. For example, a human would only need four hours of sleep per night. This does not reduce the time required for you to take a long rest.

6th – Unwavering: You are immune to being dazed (–1 defenses).

9th – Greater Fortified Body: The defense bonus from your fortified body ability increases to +3.

12th – Greater Durability: The bonus from your durability ability increases to be equal to your level.

15th – Greater Sleepless: The amount of rest and sleep you need each day is reduced to a quarter of the normal value. For example, a human would only need two hours of sleep per night.

15th – Greater Unwavering: You are immune to being stunned (–2 defenses).

18th – Greater Fortified Body: The defense bonus from your fortified body ability increases to +4.

21st – Supreme Durability: The bonus from your durability ability increases to twice your level.

Twinhand Spellcaster [Casting, Magical]

Prerequisite: Dexterity 1.

1st – Twinhand Precision: You can always choose to use somatic components to cast your spells (see Casting Components, page 50). As long as you have two free hands, you gain a +1 accuracy bonus with spells that you cast using somatic components.

3rd – Freehand Implement: You can gain the benefits of one magical implement, such as a staff or wand, without having to hold it in your hands. You must still have it on your person, such as in a pocket or strapped to your back, and you must still be attuned to it to gain its benefits. This ability only affects one implement at a time. In addition, if your legacy item is an apparel item, you may choose both apparel and implement magic item effects for it.

6th – Double Spell: You can use the double spell ability as a standard action.

Double Spell

You can only use this ability if you have two free hands.

Choose two spells that you know which do not have the Sustain or Attune tags. You cast both spells simultaneously, one with each hand. This gives the spells somatic components, regardless of any other effects which would normally prevent you from requiring somatic components. Both spells must affect completely different targets, with no overlap between their targets or areas (if any).

After you use this ability, you are unable to take any actions during the following round.

9th – Greater Twinhand Precision: The bonus from your twinhand precision ability increases to +2.

12th – Greater Double Spell: Using your double spell ability does not prevent you from acting during the movement phase of the following round.

15th – Greater Freehand Implement: You can use your freehand implement ability to affect an additional implement. In addition, you gain an additional attunement point. You can only use this attunement point to attune to magic implements.

18th – Supreme Twinhand Precision: The bonus from your twinhand precision ability increases to +3.

21st – Supreme Double Spell: Using your double spell ability does not prevent you from taking minor actions during the following round.

Two-Weapon Fighting [Combat]

Prerequisite: Dexterity 2.

1st – Offhand Freedom: You can use the offhand strike ability as a free action instead of as a minor action. However, you cannot use the offhand strike ability more than once per round. In addition, you can use the offhand strike ability during any phase that you take a standard action, regardless of whether that standard action causes you to make a strike.

3rd – Offhand Force: You gain a +1d damage bonus with the offhand strike ability.

6th – Dual Precision: You gain a +1 bonus to accuracy with strikes while you wield two weapons.

9th – Greater Offhand Force: The bonus from your offhand force ability increases to +2d.

12th – Greater Offhand Freedom: When you use your offhand strike ability, you treat all other weapons you attack with during that phase as being light for the purpose of determining your accuracy penalties. In addition, you may add half your power to damage with the strike from your offhand strike ability if it is the only strike you make during that phase.

15th – Supreme Offhand Force: The bonus from your offhand force ability increases to +3d.

18th – Greater Dual Precision: The bonus from your dual precision ability increases to +2.

21st – Offhand Flurry: You can use the offhand strike ability twice per round.

Wardweaver [Casting, Magical]

Prerequisite: Knowledge of a spell with the Barrier tag.

1st – Hardened Barriers: Objects you create using abilities with the Barrier ability tag gain a bonus equal to your power to their damage resistance. In addition, they treat all damage as being environmental damage, so their damage resistance is never reduced (see Environmental Damage, page 42). For objects with multiple separate hit point values, such as walls, this bonus applies independently to each section.

3rd – Personal Ward: You gain a +1 bonus to your Armor defense.

6th – Barrier Spell: You learn a spell with the Barrier ability tag from any mystic sphere that your magic source gives access to, even if you do not have access to that mystic sphere. When you gain access to new spell ranks, you can change which Barrier spell you know.

9th – Defensive Barriers: Objects you create with Barrier abilities have minimum defenses equal to 5 + half your level. If the object already has specific defenses listed, it gains a +2 bonus to those defenses.

9th – Offensive Barriers: You gain a +1 bonus to accuracy with Barrier spells.

12th – Greater Hardened Barriers: The damage resistance bonus from your hardened barriers ability increases to twice your power.

15th – Greater Personal Ward: The bonus from your personal ward ability increases to +2.

18th – Greater Defensive Barriers: You gain an additional +2 bonus to the defenses of objects you create with Barrier abilities.

18th – Greater Offensive Barriers: The accuracy bonus from your offensive barriers ability increases to +2.

21st – Limitless Barriers: Using an ability with the Barrier ability tag does not briefly prevent you from using another ability with the Barrier ability tag.

Weapon Focus [Combat]

1st – Focused Weapon: Choose one type of weapon, such as a broadsword. This is your focused weapon, and many abilities from this feat give you benefits with your focused weapon.

1st – Perfect Strike: You can use the perfect strike ability as a standard action.

Perfect Strike

Make a strike using your focused weapon. You gain your choice of either a +1 accuracy bonus or a +2 damage bonus with the strike.

Level 6: The accuracy bonus increases to +2, and the damage bonus increases to +4.

Level 12: The accuracy bonus increases to +3, and the damage bonus increases to +8.

Level 18: The accuracy bonus increases to +4, and the damage bonus increases to +16.

3rd – Firm Grip: Your focused weapon is considered to be well-secured whenever you want it to be, making it difficult or impossible for you to be disarmed.

6th – Focused Power: You gain a +2 bonus to power with attacks using your focused weapon.

9th – Focused Precision: You gain a +1 bonus to accuracy with attacks using your focused weapon.

12th – Greater Focused Power: The bonus from your focused power ability increases to +4.

18th – Supreme Focused Power: The bonus from your focused power ability increases to +8.

21st – Supreme Focused Precision: The bonus from your focused precision ability increases to +3.

Whirlwind Warrior [Combat]

Prerequisite: Dexterity 1.

1st – Cyclone: You can use the cyclone ability as a standard action.

Cyclone

Sustain (standard)

When you use this ability, make a melee strike with a slashing weapon. Your power with the strike is halved. The strike targets any number of creatures adjacent to you. Whenever you sustain this ability, you can move up to half your speed and make a melee strike with a slashing weapon. The strike targets any number of creatures adjacent to you at any point during your movement.

Level 6: You gain a +1 accuracy bonus with the strike.

Level 12: The accuracy bonus increases to +2.

Level 18: The accuracy bonus increases to +3.

3rd – Unfettered Movement: During each phase, you may move through one creature's space during movement. After moving through that creature's space, other creatures block you as normal for the remainder of your movement. Certain unusual creatures that occupy their entire space, such as gelatinous cubes, may be immune to this ability. If you end your movement in a creature's space with this ability, you and that creature are squeezing (-2 Armor and Ref) if you are no more than one size category larger or smaller than it.

6th – Storm Dancer: You reduce your penalties for squeezing (-2 Armor and Ref) with other creatures by 1, and your movement speed is not reduced while squeezing with other creatures. This does not reduce your penalties for squeezing in tight spaces.

9th – Eye of the Storm: You gain a +1 bonus to your Armor defense while you are adjacent to at least two other creatures.

12th – Greater Storm Dancer: You take no penalties for squeezing with other creatures.

15th – Greater Unfettered Movement: You can move through spaces occupied by enemies as if they were unoccupied.

18th – Greater Eye of the Storm: The Armor defense bonus from your eye of the storm ability increases to +2.

21st – Greater Cyclone: Your power is not halved with the strike from your cyclone ability.

Optional Rules

Attributes

Other Methods of Attribute Generation

Point buy offers the fairest and most customizable system for determining attribute scores, ensuring that players can be almost any character they want to be. However, some groups may wish to determine attribute scores differently. Other options are provided below.

Simple Random Point Buy

With this method, you have only a small degree of control over your attribute scores, but all characters generated in this way are equally powerful. As with the point buy method, all your attribute scores start at 0, and you get 15 points to distribute among your attribute scores. However, you do not have full control over how to distribute those points.

For each attribute, starting with the attributes you care about most, roll 1d8. You spend that many points on that attribute, ignoring any extra points that can't be spent. For example, if you roll a 4, you spend 3 points on the attribute, causing you to start with a 2. If you do not have enough points remaining to spend the amount indicated by the die roll, spend as many as you can and move on to the next attribute.

If you have points remaining after rolling all of your attribute scores, you may distribute the points freely among your abilities, using the normal point buy rules. You cannot increase the starting value of any individual attribute by more than 1 during this stage. If any of your attributes start as a 0, you may choose to lower them to gain the normal benefits from having low attributes (see Attribute Penalties, page 27).

To further limit your character creation options, you may choose to randomize the order in which you roll your attributes instead of rolling them in an order of your choice.

Smoothed Random Point Buy

This method functions like the Simple Random Point Buy method, except that the resulting attribute values have a smoother distribution, and you can randomly end up with attribute penalties.

For each attribute, starting with the attributes you care about most, roll 4d6. Then, remove any one of the rolls after seeing the results. Sum the results of the remaining three dice and spend the appropriate number of attribute points as indicated in Table D.1: Smoothed Random Point Buy Results. If you do not have enough points remaining to spend the amount indicated by the die roll, spend as many as you can and move on to the next ability.

If you have points remaining after rolling all of your attribute scores, you may distribute the points freely among your abilities, using the normal point buy rules. You cannot increase the starting value of any individual attribute by more than 1 during this stage.

To further limit your character creation options, you may choose to randomize the order in which you roll your attributes instead of rolling them in an order of your choice.

Table D.1: Smoothed Random Point Buy Results

Roll	Base Attribute	Point Cost
3-4	-2	0 ¹
5-6	-1	0 ²
7-8	0	0
9-10	1	1
11-12	2	3
13-15	3	5
16-18	4	8

1 You gain one insight point.

2 You gain an additional trained skill.

Classic Hardcore

This method is completely random and can generate very overpowered or underpowered characters. It represents the unfairness of the world, where some people are just better or worse than others. For each attribute, roll 2d6, take the average (rounded down), and subtract 2. If you roll a 1 on both dice, treat the average as a 0. The result is your base value for that attribute.

Epic Fate

After 21st level, characters no longer gain levels normally. However, they can still increase their personal power as they make progress towards their ultimate fate.

When you reach 21st level, you may choose an epic fate that you qualify for, or you may delay choosing until you meet the prerequisites for your desired fate. You do not start with any ranks in your chosen epic fate. Each epic fate specifies ways that you can make progress towards that epic fate. Whenever you make dramatic progress towards your epic fate, your rank in that epic fate may increase, at the discretion of the Game Master.

None of the epic fate abilities have a tag to indicate that they are magical abilities. Many of them are not fundamentally mundane in nature, but they are beyond normal magic, and effects like an antimagic field cannot interact with or suppress them.

Artificial Immortality

You have sought out strange magical power in search of a way to artificially prolong your life. As your power grows, you become increasingly able to resist death and return from it. Eventually, you will transcend death entirely.

Prerequisites: You must perform a series of rituals to prepare yourself for immortality, at least one of which must be rank 7 or higher. There are many kinds of immortality that you can pursue with this epic fate, and the exact nature of the rituals will change depending on the type of immortality you pursue. For example, you can have a phylactery regenerate a new body for you like a lich, you can create clones of yourself that you inhabit if your first body dies, or you can modify your body to regenerate after death from mortal wounds. This immortality may change your base species, such as if you become a lich or move your body into a flesh golem. If it does, you retain all benefits and modifiers from your original species other than size and gain the effects of the new species in addition.

Progression: You must discover powerful new magic rituals that support your particular form of immortality. This generally requires exploring sites of ancient magic, gaining favor with powerful creatures who have relevant knowledge or abilities, and independent experimentation based on your findings.

Artificial Immortality Ranks

Rank 1 – Life After Death: If you die from any cause other than old age, you resurrect according to nature of your chosen immortality. Your specific form of immortality determines where you return, such as at the site of your death, at the current location of your corpse, or in an entirely separate location. The timing of your resurrection may also differ based on your immortality, but you cannot complete your resurrection sooner than one day after the time of your death. After you resurrect in this way, this ability does not function for one week, allowing you to be killed normally.

Rank 2 – Death Familiarity: You become so familiar with the trauma of injury and death that your body adapts to it. You gain a +2 bonus to vital rolls. In addition, you cannot gain more than two vital wounds from a single damage roll, regardless of the amount of damage you take.

Rank 3 – Artificial Life: Whenever you resurrect with your life after death ability, your new body gains a +1 bonus to Strength, Dexterity, and Constitution. This bonus does not stack if you resurrect multiple times. In addition, that resurrection functions even if the cause of your death was old age, and you can control the physical age of your new body.

Rank 4 – Deathcaller: You are deeply familiar with death, and know how to most effectively inflict it on others. Whenever you inflict a vital wound on a living creature, you may kill that creature outright.

Rank 5 – True Immortality: You become fully immortal. There is no time limit after the resurrection from your life after death ability where you become vulnerable to a true death. In addition, the resurrection can complete as quickly as the end of the next round after your death. If a physical component limits your immortality, such as a phylactery, it can no longer be damaged or destroyed without the direct intervention of a rank 5 Slayer.

Deity

People have begun to worship you, putting you on the path to become a deity. As your followers grow, you become capable of ever greater miraculous acts, and you can grant your followers some of your power. Eventually, you ascend into the pantheon of gods.

Prerequisites: You must have at least a hundred sentient worshippers to choose this epic fate. In addition, you must not have any cleric archetypes.

Progression: To progress towards this epic fate, you must gain a significant number of additional worshippers. In general, you must at least double your worshippers to progress towards each new rank of this fate, though this can vary widely. Having worshippers among many different places is more valuable than converting an isolated group to worship you, though both are helpful.

Deity Ranks

Rank 1 – Domain Influence: Choose a cleric domain. You gain all abilities from that domain except for its mastery ability. In addition, your worshippers become eligible to gain cleric archetypes, though they cannot exceed a maximum rank in those archetypes of twice your rank in this epic fate (to a maximum of 8). This does not grant additional archetypes to worshippers who have already chosen their three archetypes, and is usually only relevant to NPC worshippers.

Rank 2 – Prayers: You hear all prayers directed to you. Once per week, you can teleport yourself and up to ten allies any distance within the same plane as a standard action. Your destination must either be a worshipper actively praying to you or a holy place dedicated to you. In addition, choose a second cleric domain. You gain all abilities from that domain except for its mastery ability.

Rank 3 – Domain Mastery: Choose a third cleric domain. You gain all abilities from that domain. In addition, you gain the mastery ability from the domains you chose with your domain influence and prayers abilities.

Rank 4 – Demigod: You become a demigod. You no longer age normally, and you cannot die from old age. You become a planeforged native to an Aligned Plane matching your alignment. For details about the aligned planes, see the Tome of Guidance. While you are on that plane, you can teleport to any plane with your prayers ability from this epic fate. In addition, you can use that teleportation ability once per hour instead of once per week.

Rank 5 – Deification: You become a deity. You are transported to an Aligned Plane matching your alignment, and you gain divine dominion over an amount of territory in that plane. While you are in your territory, you can freely reshape your territory with a thought to match your desires, and you are immune to all damage and conditions.

Regardless of which plane you are on, you can teleport to anywhere within your home plane as a standard action. In addition, there is no limit on the number of times you can teleport with your prayers ability from this epic fate.

Hero of Legend

You are widely known as a hero, rescuing those in need. As your deeds of heroism spread, you gain abilities to help you protect others. Although you will eventually die, your legend will live on, inspiring others to save people as you did.

Prerequisites: You must be publicly known to be involved with saving at least one major country or similarly large group of people from some sort of disaster to choose this epic fate. In addition, you must have a Willpower of at least 1.

Progression: To progress towards this epic fate, you must publicly contribute to saving large numbers of people from death or other major disasters in a way that builds your reputation.

Hero of Legend Ranks

Rank 1 – Heroic Intervention: At the start of each phase, you may choose an ally adjacent to you. Whenever that creature would be the target of an attack that phase, you are targeted by that attack instead. If the attack would have targeted both you and that ally, the attack only targets you once, not twice.

Rank 2 – Unstoppable Hero: You gain a +4 bonus to all defenses, and you gain a +50 bonus to your maximum hit points. In addition, you gain a +20 foot bonus to your speed with all of your movement modes.

Rank 3 – Sheltering Aura: Your heroic intervention ability from this epic fate affects any number of allies within a Medium (30 ft.) radius emanation from you. Whenever an affected ally is attacked, you teleport into an empty space next to that creature, or into its space if no empty space is available. If multiple allies are attacked simultaneously, you can choose where you end up at the end of the series of teleportations.

Rank 4 – Inspiring Hero: The area of your heroic intervention ability increases to a Gargantuan (120 ft.) radius emanation. In addition, each creature with a mind affected by that ability is so inspired by your example that it gains a +1 bonus to its Willpower permanently. This bonus does not stack.

Rank 5 – Answer the Call: You gain an intuitive sense for when people need your aid. Whenever someone on the same plane as you is in danger, you are aware of the existence of that danger. You can sense the general category of danger (fire, combat, drowning, etc.) and a very approximate direction and distance. This generally allows you to sense if a large number of people are in danger from the same thing. As a standard action, you can teleport any distance within that plane to reach a person in danger.

Slayer

You are widely known as a killer of legendary skill. As your body count increases, you gain abilities to help you track down and kill increasingly powerful foes. Eventually, your powers threaten the gods themselves, allowing you a unique ability to transcend death.

Prerequisites: You must be publicly known to be involved with slaying at least one elite creature with a level of at least 21.

Progression: To progress towards this epic fate, you must publicly contribute to slaying increasingly dangerous and fearsome foes in a way that builds your reputation.

Slayer Ranks

Rank 1 – Lethality: Whenever you get a critical hit, you double all of your damage bonuses along with your damage dice. This bonus stacks with other abilities with the same effect, such as the sneak attack ability.

Rank 2 – Precision Killer: You gain a +4 bonus to accuracy. In addition, you can inflict critical hits on creatures that would otherwise be immune to critical hits from you due to their size or body structure.

Rank 3 – Mark of the Slayer: As a standard action, you can choose to mark any creature you can unambiguously identify. This includes any creature you can see, as well as any creature you know the name of and can differentiate from other similar creatures. You can only mark one creature at a time, and applying a new mark replaces any previous mark. You cannot use this ability to replace a mark that is less than a week old if the recipient of the previous mark still lives.

This mark is visible on the creature's body with a design that is recognizably yours. It appears on top of any clothing or other attempt to conceal it, even if the creature is invisible. Anyone can recognize the significance of the mark with a difficulty value 15 Knowledge (arcana or local) check, and creatures that understand the significance of the mark may refuse to give your target aid of any kind to avoid risking your wrath.

You know the exact distance and direction to any creature you have marked with this ability that is on the same plane as you. As a standard action, you can create a scrying sensor adjacent to them that you can see and hear through. The sensor lasts as long as you sustain it as a free action. It moves to stay adjacent to the target, regardless of its speed.

Rank 4 – Slayer's Journey: As a standard action, you can teleport yourself and up to ten allies any distance within the same plane to the location of a creature affected by your mark of the slayer ability from this epic fate. You cannot precisely choose the destination of this ability, and it does not leave you immediately adjacent to the marked creature. Generally, it leaves you just outside any sort of fortress or defenses the marked creature has constructed. After you use this ability, you cannot use it to travel to the same creature for a day. This does not limit your ability to travel to a different creature if you mark a different creature.

Rank 5 – Godslayer: Your attacks ignore most forms of general immunity. This does not help you ignore specific immunities, such as fire elemental's immunity to fire damage. However, you can destroy artifacts and even inflict damage and conditions on deities in their divine dominion. As a result, even deities fear to interfere with you directly. If you ever die, you can generally threaten or fight your way past any planar guardians to leave your afterlife whenever you want. After you do this once, you become a plane-forged native to your afterlife plane, since your new body is formed from the raw material of that plane.

Uncommon Species

Animal Hybrid

Animal hybrids are humanoid creatures that are a combination of humans and animals. The abilities of an animal hybrid depend on the type of animal it is based on.

Size: Medium.

Attributes: The attributes of an awakened animal depend on its size.

Special Abilities: As the original animal.

Automatic Languages: Common and any one common language (see Table 4.5: Common Languages, page 47).

Sample Animal Hybrids

Hybrid Bee:

Special Abilities:

Attribute: +1 Dexterity, -1 Constitution.

- Low-light Vision: A hybrid bee has low-light vision, allowing it to see clearly in shadowy illumination (see Low-light Vision, page 378).
- Stinger: A hybrid bee has a stinger natural weapon (see Natural Weapons, page 161). Whenever it causes a creature to lose hit points with that natural weapon, the struck creature is poisoned by giant wasp venom (see Poison, page 52). Its stage 1 effect makes the target slowed (half speed, -1 Ref) and dazed (-1 defenses) while the poison lasts. Its stage 3 effect makes the target stunned (-2 defenses) while the poison lasts instead of dazed.
- Winged Agility: A hybrid bee has wings that are not strong enough to help it fly. However, the wings still help it stabilize its movements. It gains a +3 bonus to the Balance and Jump skills.

Hybrid Shark:

Special Abilities:

- Bloodscent: A hybrid shark has the scent ability (see Scent, page 378). In addition, it gains a +10 bonus to Awareness checks to detect blood.
- Bite: A hybrid shark's mouth is elongated, which it can use as a bite attack (see Natural Weapons, page 161). A hybrid shark's bite deals 1d6 damage.
- Gills: You can breathe water as easily as a human breathes air, preventing you from drowning or suffocating underwater.
- Swim Speed: A hybrid shark has a swim speed equal to the base speed for its size.

Hybrid Wolf:

Special Abilities:

- Scent: A hybrid wolf has the scent ability (see Scent, page 378).
- Bite: A hybrid wolf's mouth is elongated, which it can use as a bite attack (see Natural Weapons, page 161). A hybrid wolf's bite deals 1d6 damage.
- Low-light Vision: A hybrid wolf has low-light vision, allowing it to see clearly in shadowy illumination (see Low-light Vision, page 378).

Awakened Animal

Awakened animals are animals that have been granted sentience by the awaken ritual. The abilities of an awakened animal depend on the type of animal it is.

Size: Small or Medium, as original animal.

Attributes: The attributes of an awakened animal depend on its size.

Medium: No change.

Small: -2 Strength, +1 Dexterity.

Special Abilities: As the original animal.

Automatic Languages: Common.

Sample Awakened Animals

Cat:

Size: Small. This gives a cat a 20 foot base speed and a +5 bonus to the Stealth skill, among other effects (see Size Categories, page 45).

Attributes: -2 Strength, +1 Dexterity

Special Abilities:

- Claws: A cat's paws end in claws, which it can use to attack (see Natural Weapons, page 161). A cat's claws do 1d4 damage.
- Low-light Vision: A cat has low-light vision, allowing it to see clearly in shadowy illumination (see Low-light Vision, page 378).
- Scent: A cat has the scent ability (see Scent, page 378).

Changeling

Size: Medium.

Attributes: No change.

Special Abilities:

- Alter Shape: A changeling can alter its physical form in minor ways. As a standard action, a changeling can make a Disguise check with a +10 bonus to alter its body. This ability does not alter the changeling's equipment, which may give away its identity unless disguised normally. This is a magical ability.

Bonus Languages: Any.

Automatic Languages: Common, any two common languages.

Dragon

Ancient dragons are magical creatures of immense power and wisdom, and are far more powerful than any ordinary character of the same level. However, young dragons can be played as characters, though their unique abilities do pose unique challenges.

Creature Type: Unlike most other playable species, dragons are considered magical beasts instead of humanoids.

Size: Small. This gives a dragon a 20 foot base speed and a +5 bonus to the Stealth skill, among other effects (see Size Categories, page 45).

Attributes: -2 Strength, +1 Dexterity.

Special Abilities:

- Dragon Archetype: Dragons only gain two class archetypes instead of three. Instead, they treat the Dragon archetype as one of their archetypes, and they gain ranks in it just like they gain ranks in class archetypes.
- Draconic Senses: Dragons have darkvision with a 60 foot range, allowing them to see in complete darkness (see Darkvision, page 378). In addition, dragons gain low-light vision, allowing them to see clearly in shadowy illumination (see Low-light Vision, page 378).
- Draconic Weapons: Dragons have a bite natural weapon and two claw natural weapons. For details, see Natural Weapons, page 161.
- Draconic Wings: Dragons have scaly wings that sprout from their backs. These wings grant them a glide speed equal to the base speed for their size (see Gliding, page 57). The wings themselves are mundane, but the ability to fly and glide with them is magical.
- Dragon Type: Each dragon has a single type from among the dragon types on Table C.2: Dragon Types. They are immune to the damage type dealt by their type's breath weapon.
- Limited Equipment: A dragon's claws are not able to effectively wield shields or manufactured weapons. They can wear armor, but it is treated as barding instead of normal armor, increasing its cost. In general, dragon-fitted barding is rare or nonexistent even in large cities, so a dragon's armor must usually be created specifically for them.

Automatic Languages: Common, Draconic, any one common language.

Dragon Archetype

Rank 1 – Draconic Breath

You can use the breath weapon ability as a standard action.

Breath Weapon

Make an attack vs. Reflex against everything in the area defined by your dragon type (see Table C.2: Dragon Types). After you use this ability, you briefly cannot use it again.

Hit: Each target takes damage equal to 1d8 plus half your power. The damage type is defined by your dragon type.

Rank 2: The damage increases to 1d10. In addition, the area affected by your breath weapon increases. A line breath weapon becomes a Large (60 ft.), 5 ft. wide line. A cone breath weapon becomes a Medium (30 ft.) cone.

Rank 3: The damage increases to 2d6.

Rank 4: The damage increases to 2d8. In addition, the area affected by your breath weapon increases. A line breath weapon becomes a Huge (90 ft.), 10 ft. wide line. A cone breath weapon becomes a Large (60 ft.) cone.

Rank 5: The damage increases to 2d10.

Rank 6: The damage increases to 4d6. In addition, the area affected by your breath weapon increases. A line breath weapon becomes a Gargantuan (120 ft.), 15 ft. wide line. A cone breath weapon becomes a Huge (90 ft.) cone.

Rank 7: The damage increases to 4d8.

Rank 2 – Draconic Body

You gain a +1 bonus to Armor defense. In addition, you gain a +1d damage bonus with all natural weapons.

Rank 3 – Draconic Flight (Magical)

Your wings grow larger, granting you a limited ability to fly. You gain a fly speed equal to the base speed for your size with a maximum height of 15 feet (see Flying, page 56). At the start of each phase, you can increase your fatigue level by one to ignore this height limit until the end of the round.

Rank 4 – Draconic Bulk

Your size category increases to Medium. This increases the base speed for your size. You reduce your Dexterity by 1 and increase your Strength by 2. In addition, you gain a +2 bonus to your power with all abilities.

Rank 5 – Greater Draconic Body

The defense bonus from your draconic body ability increases to +2. In addition, the damage bonus increases to +2d.

Rank 6 – Greater Draconic Flight

The maximum height from your draconic flight ability increases to 60 feet. In addition, you gain a +10 foot bonus to your fly speed with that ability.

Rank 7 – Greater Draconic Bulk

Your size category increases to Large. The speed bonus from your draconic bulk ability increases to +20 feet, the attribute modifiers to Dexterity and Strength increase to -2 and +3 respectively, and the power bonus increases to +6. You gain a slam natural weapon, except that it also has the Sweeping (1) weapon tag (see Natural Weapons, page 161). In addition, you gain a +30 foot bonus to your fly speed with your draconic flight ability, but your maneuverability drops to poor maneuverability (see Flying Maneuverability, page 57).

Basic Class Abilities

If you choose dragon as your base class, you gain the following abilities.

Power

Your automatic bonus to power based on your rank in this archetype is the same as a fighter (see Class-Based Power Bonuses, page 67).

Defenses

You gain the following bonuses to your defenses: +7 Fortitude, +3 Reflex, +5 Mental. In addition, you gain a +1 bonus to your vital rolls.

Resources

You have the following resources:

- Three attunement points, which you can use to attune to items and abilities that affect you (see Attunement Points, page 30).
- A fatigue tolerance equal to 5 + your Constitution + half your Willpower. Your fatigue tolerance makes it easier for you to use powerful abilities that fatigue you (see Fatigue, page 30).
- A number of insight points equal to 2 + your Intelligence. You can spend insight points to gain additional abilities (see Insight Points, page 23).
- Four trained skills from among your class skills, plus additional trained skills equal to your Intelligence (see Skills, page 142).

Weapon Proficiencies

You are not proficient with any weapon groups, even simple weapons. You are still proficient with your natural weapons.

Armor Proficiencies

You are proficient with light and medium armor. Armor shaped appropriately for dragons can be hard to find, and may need to be crafted individually for the dragon.

Skills

You have the following class skills:

- Strength: Climb, Jump, Swim.
- Dexterity: Balance, Stealth.
- Constitution: Endurance.
- Intelligence: Craft, Deduction, Knowledge (arcana), Medicine.
- Perception: Awareness, Creature Handling, Social Insight, Survival.
- Other: Deception, Intimidate, Persuasion.

Drakkenfel

A drakkenfel is created when a dragon's scales are removed while the dragon still lives. The scales retain much of the dragon's power, and without them, the dragon is cursed to continue its life as a diminished, mortal creature. Drakkenfel are extremely rare, as there are few who are powerful enough to subdue a dragon to extract its scales – and fewer still who would dare to do so, knowing that they would earn the eternal enmity of dragonkind.

Physically, a drakkenfel resembles a wyrmling dragon, except that it is completely scaleless. Its skin is leathery and rough, and some drakkenfel bear scars from the ritual that removed their scales. Most drakkenfel retain tatters of their wings, but they are always nonfunctional.

Size: Small. This gives a drakkenfel a 20 foot base speed and a +5 bonus to the Stealth skill, among other effects (see Size Categories, page 45).

Attributes: –2 Strength, either +1 Dexterity or +1 Constitution.

Special Abilities:

- Bite: A drakkenfel's mouth can be used to bite (see Natural Weapons, page 161). A drakkenfel's bite attack deals 1d6 damage.
- Draconic Essence: Each drakkenfel was once a type of dragon. When creating a drakkenfel, choose which type of dragon it used to be. This is inherent to the drakkenfel, and cannot be changed. A list of dragons and their associated energy type is given on Table C.2: Dragon Types, page 390.
- Damage Tolerance: A drakkenfel is impervious to damage of the type associated with its draconic essence.
- Low-light Vision: Drakkenfel have low-light vision, allowing them to see clearly in shadowy illumination (see Low-light Vision, page 378).
- Sleeping Dragon: If a drakkenfel recovers its stolen scales, it immediately becomes a dragon again. Its statistics become identical to its statistics before losing its scales, including level.

Automatic Languages: Common, Draconic, any one common language.

Drow

Drow are an offshoot group of elves that live deep underground. The deep caves are a far harsher environment than the surface world. Resources are scarce, and dangerous monsters are far more common. In order to survive, drow were forced to adopt a variety of practices condemned by surface civilizations. The most notorious are their frequent use of poison, their refusal to take prisoners, their willingness to eat any non-drow creatures they kill, even sentient creatures. In addition, drow society tends to reward selfishness and ambition more explicitly than surface civilizations, and the vast majority of drow are evil.

When drow find opportunities to reach the surface world, they seek to conquer territory for themselves, usually with great violence. They have always been defeated and banished back to their caves, but surface civilizations still remember the danger that drow pose. Even more so than tieflings or orcs, who are already viewed with suspicion, drow are anathema in almost any civilized society. Drow who escape the deep caves are more likely to find a peaceful existence on other planes that do not fear an underground invasion.

Size: Medium.

Attributes: -1 Constitution, +1 Dexterity

Special Abilities:

- Darkvision: Drow have darkvision with a 120 foot range, allowing them to see in complete darkness (see Darkvision, page 378).
- Deep Darkness [Magical]: A drow can use the deep darkness ability as a standard action.

Deep Darkness	Sustain (minor)
Target: One zone within Medium (60 ft.) range
You can choose this ability's radius, up to a maximum of a Medium (30 ft.) radius. Light within or passing through the area is dimmed to be no brighter than shadowy illumination . Any object or effect which blocks light also blocks this spell's effect.

- Drow Prejudice: Almost all surface-dwellers have negative associations with drow. Drow have an Opposition relationship with most people that they meet, which influences people's behavior and makes Persuasion checks harder (see Persuasion, page 153). People in some locations, such as deep underground, do not have this attitude.
- Keen Senses: Drow gain a +2 bonus to the Awareness skill (see Awareness, page 142).
- Poison Tolerance: Drow are impervious to poison.
- Sensitive Eyes: Drow take a -2 penalty to accuracy while they are in bright illumination. This penalty is doubled while they are in brilliant illumination.
- Trance: Drow do not sleep, and are immune to magical effects that would cause them to sleep. Instead of sleeping, drow can trance for 4 hours. An elf in trance may make Perception-based checks at a -5 penalty. Drow must still avoid strenuous activity for 8 hours to heal and gain other benefits of taking a long rest.

Automatic Languages: Common, Elven, Undercommon

Dryaidi

Dryaidi are humanoid creatures that resemble plants. They are descended from dryads.

Size: Medium.

Attributes: +1 Constitution, -1 Dexterity.

Special Abilities:

- Ingrain: A dryaidi use the ingrain ability as a standard action.

Ingrain

The dryaidi's land speed becomes 5 feet, regardless of any modifiers that normally apply. It gains a +4 bonus to Fortitude defense and a +1 bonus to Armor defense. When moving, it may ignore difficult terrain of any kind. If the dryaidi takes a long rest while this ability is active, it acquires nutrients sufficient to replace a day's worth of food and water.

This ability lasts until the dryaidi ends it as a standard action.

- Plant Nature: A dryaidi is considered both a creature and a plant.
- Unhurried and Unfaltering: Dryaidi have a -10 penalty to their land speed. However, wearing medium or heavy body armor does not reduce a dryaidi's movement speed (see Armor Usage Classes, page 178).

Automatic Languages: Common, Sylvan.

Eladrin

Size: Medium.

Attributes: -1 Constitution, either +1 Dexterity or +1 Willpower

Special Abilities:

- Fae Step: As a standard action, you can use the fae step ability.

Fae Step

You teleport into an unoccupied location within Short (30 ft.) range on a stable surface that can support your weight. If the destination is invalid, this ability fails with no effect.

This ability improves based on your rank in your highest-rank archetype.

Rank 3: The range increases to Medium (60 ft.) range.

Rank 5: The range increases to Long (120 ft.) range.

Rank 7: The range increases to Distant (180 ft.) range.

- Fae Season: Eladrin respond strongly to their emotions, and change their abilities based on the season they currently represent. An eladrin must choose one of the following seasons when it finishes a short rest. The chosen season lasts until it changes to a different season.

Spring: +1 bonus to Mental defense, -1 penalty to Fortitude defense. Eladrin expressing the spring season are filled with the joy of a new year. However, they are also visibly thinner and more frail, as if recovering from a long winter.

Summer: +1 bonus to Fortitude defense, -1 penalty to Reflex defense. Eladrin expressing the summer season are visibly hearty and a little more plump. However, they also move with all the alacrity of a long summer day.

Autumn: +1 bonus to all checks, -1 penalty to accuracy. Eladrin expressing the autumn season embody the spirit of the harvest. They are filled with goodwill towards all creatures, and prefer finding peaceful solutions to problems.

Their bodies tend to be firm and toned, reflecting the hard work required to prepare for the winter.

Winter: +1 bonus to vital rolls, -1 penalty to Mental defense. Eladrin expressing the winter season are prepared for the worst. They tend to be dour and pessimistic, but they press on despite the certainty of doom.

- Low-light Vision: Eladrin have low-light vision, allowing them to see clearly in shadowy illumination (see Low-light Vision, page 378).
- Trance: Eladrin do not sleep, and are immune to magical effects that would cause them to sleep. Instead of sleeping, eladrin can trance for 4 hours. An eladrin in trance may make Perception-based checks at a -5 penalty. Eladrin must still avoid strenuous activity for 8 hours to heal and gain other benefits of taking a long rest.

Species Feat Options:

Automatic Languages: Common, Sylvan, and any one common language (see Table 4.5: Common Languages, page 47).

Harpy

Harpies are winged creatures with the upper body of a humanoid and the lower body of a bird. The vast majority of harpies are female, but male harpies do exist.

Creature Type: Unlike most other playable species, harpies are considered monstrous humanoids instead of humanoids.

Size: Medium.

Attributes: -1 Intelligence, +1 Dexterity.

Special Abilities:

- Prehensile Talons: Harpies have a talon natural weapon on each foot (see Natural Weapons, page 161). In addition, they can use their feet as free hands. However, their talons are not able to effectively wield shields or manufactured weapons.
- Wings: Harpies have a feathered wings that sprout from their shoulders in place of arms. These wings grant them a glide speed equal to the base speed for their size (see Gliding, page 57).
- Armless: Harpies do not have arms or hands.
- Harpy Archetype: Harpies only gain two class archetypes instead of three. Instead, they treat the Harpy archetype as one of their archetypes, and they gain ranks in it just like they gain ranks in class archetypes.

Automatic Languages: Common.

Harpy Archetype

Rank 1 – Winged Agility

You gain a +4 bonus to the Balance and Jump skills as long as you can use your wings to help you.

Rank 1 – Winged Combat

At the start of each phase, you can make a short hop off of solid ground to hover in your space using your wings. This allows you to use both of your feet without standing on them during that phase, so you can attack with both talons at once. You must land at the end of the phase, and you can only use this ability once per round. This brief hovering does not cause you to suffer penalties for flying.

Rank 2 – Luring Song

You can use the luring song ability as a standard action.

Luring Song

Auditory, Compulsion

Make an attack vs. Mental against a creature within Long (120 ft.) range.

Hit: As a condition, the target must move towards you as best it can during each movement phase. In addition, it cannot move farther away from you at any time, except as necessary to get closer to you (such as to avoid an intervening obstacle). It can otherwise act freely, and is still able to attack you and your allies.

If you attack the target with any ability other than this one, this effect is automatically broken. When this effect ends, the target becomes immune to this effect until it takes a short rest.

Critical hit: The condition must be removed twice before the effect ends.

Rank 4: You can target an additional creature within range.

Rank 6: The maximum number of targets increases to 5.

Rank 2 – Raking Talons

You gain a +1d damage bonus with all natural weapons.

Rank 3 – Flight

You gain a fly speed equal to the base speed for your size with a maximum height of 15 feet (see Flying, page 56). At the start of each phase, you can increase your fatigue level by one to ignore this height limit until the end of the round.

Rank 4 – Greater Winged Agility

You can use your wings to help you maneuver on the ground more effectively, such as by briefly hovering or gliding over obstacles. The Balance and Jump bonuses from your winged agility ability increase to +8. In addition, you ignore movement penalties from difficult terrain.

Rank 4 – Greater Winged Combat

You can use your winged combat any number of times in the same round. You must still land between each phase.

Rank 5 – Greater Raking Talons

The damage bonus from your raking talons ability improves to +2d.

Rank 5 – Siren Song

You can use the siren song ability as a standard action.

Siren SongAuditory, Emotion, Sustain (minor)

Make an attack vs. Mental against any number of creatures within a Medium (30 ft.) radius from you.

Hit: Each target is both charmed (friendly with charmer) by you and dazed (-1 defenses) as long as it can still hear you sing. It remains dazed even if it stops being charmed, such as if you or your allies attack it. This ability does not have the Subtle tag, so an observant target may notice that it is being influenced.

Rank 7: The area increases to a Large (60 ft.) radius.

Rank 6 – Agile Flight

Your flight improves to have good maneuverability (see Flying Maneuverability, page 57). In addition, your maximum height increases to 30 feet.

Rank 7 – Mythic Siren

You gain a +5 accuracy bonus with your luring song and siren song abilities.

Basic Class Abilities

If you choose harpy as your base class, you gain the following abilities.

Power

Your automatic bonus to power based on your rank in this archetype is the same as a fighter (see Class-Based Power Bonuses, page 67).

Defenses

You gain the following bonuses to your defenses: +1 Armor, +3 Fortitude, +5 Reflex, +7 Mental. In addition, you gain a +1 bonus to your vital rolls.

Resources

You have the following resources:

- Three attunement points, which you can use to attune to items and abilities that affect you (see Attunement Points, page 30).
- A fatigue tolerance equal to 4 + your Constitution + half your Willpower. Your fatigue tolerance makes it easier for you to use powerful abilities that fatigue you (see Fatigue, page 30).
- A number of insight points equal to 2 + your Intelligence. You can spend insight points to gain additional abilities (see Insight Points, page 23).
- Six trained skills from among your class skills, plus additional trained skills equal to your Intelligence (see Skills, page 142).

Weapon Proficiencies

You are not proficient with any weapon groups, even simple weapons. You are still proficient with your natural weapons.

Armor Proficiencies

You are proficient with light armor.

Skills

You have the following class skills:

- Strength: Climb, Jump.
- Dexterity: Balance, Flexibility, Perform, Stealth.
- Perception: Awareness, Creature Handling, Deception, Persuasion, Survival.
- Other: Intimidate.

Kit

Kit are humanoid creatures that have noticeable foxlike characteristics. They are descended from natural fox spirits. All kit have at least one tail, and some have multiple tails. Their tails are distinctly fluffy and fox-like, and most kit put effort into concealing their tails to avoid revealing their true nature.

Size: Medium.

Attributes: No change.

Special Abilities:

- Foxlike Agility: Kit gain a +2 bonus to the Balance and Stealth skills.
- Illusory Guise: As a standard action, a kit can magically disguise its physical appearance in minor ways. This functions like the disguise creature ability with a +4 bonus, except that a kit cannot change the appearance of its equipment, creature type, or number of limbs, including any tails it may have (see Disguise Creature, page ??). This is a magical ability. It lasts until the kit dismisses it as a free action or uses this ability again.
- Instinctive Trickster: Kit gain a +2 bonus to the Deception and Social Insight skills.
- Low-light Vision: Kit have low-light vision, allowing them to see clearly in shadowy illumination (see Low-light Vision, page 378).

Automatic Languages: Common, any one common language.

Naiadi

Naiadi are humanoid creatures descended from naiads. Most naiadi are unusually physically appealing, but show no other outward signs of their heritage.

Size: Medium.

Attributes: No change.

Special Abilities:

- Create Water: A naiadi can cast the create water cantrip. When they do so, they do not require verbal or somatic casting components, and their spellcasting rank is considered to be equal to their rank in their highest rank archetype. If they would already know that cantrip through the Aquamancy sphere, the volume of water created with the cantrip doubles.
- Enchanting Appearance: A naiadi gains a +2 bonus to the Creature Handling, Perform, and Persuasion skills.

- Low-light Vision: Naiadi have low-light vision, allowing them to see clearly in shadowy illumination (see Low-light Vision, page 378).
- Naiadi Archetype: You may choose three class archetypes, as normal. However, you may choose the Naiadi archetype in place of one of your class archetypes. If you do, you gain ranks in it just like you gain ranks in class archetypes. You cannot choose naiadi as your base class.
- Water Affinity: A naiadi has a swim speed equal to the base speed for their size. In addition, they can breathe clean water like a human breathes air.

Automatic Languages: Common, Sylvan, any one common language.

Naiadi Archetype

Rank 1 – Water Bond (Magical)

You can form a bond with a fresh stream, lake, or other Gargantuan or larger body of fresh water (not salt water). Forming a bond or severing a bond takes one week of meditation and ritual, periodically interrupted by rest. Forming a bond also requires asking permission from the water. Any individual body of water can only be bonded to one naiad or naiadi in this way.

As long as your bonded water remains clean, pure, and large enough to be a valid subject of bonding, you gain a +1 bonus to Mental defense, a +1 bonus to your power, and a bonus equal to twice your rank in this archetype to your hit points. If your bonded water becomes contaminated or shrinks below the minimum size, these bonuses are inverted into penalties until you sever the bond. You can passively observe the general health and status of water you are bonded to, including knowing when significant pollutants enter the water and when the water grows or shrinks significantly.

Rank 2 – Fluidseeker

You gain a +1 bonus to accuracy against creatures significantly composed of water or watery fluids. This is true of almost all living creatures.

Rank 2 – Freshwater Fountain

The volume of water you can create with the create water cantrip increases by five times.

Rank 3 – Aqueous Form

You can cast the aqueous form spell. When you do, you do not require verbal or somatic casting components, and you use your rank in this archetype as your spellcasting rank. In addition, it does not reduce your damage resistance.

Rank 4 – Greater Water Bond

The bonuses from your water bond ability increase to +2 Mental defense, +2 power, and three times your rank in this archetype to your hit points.

Rank 5 – Greater Fluidseeker

The accuracy bonus from your fluidseeker ability increases to +2.

Rank 5 – Greater Freshwater Fountain

The multiplier from your freshwater fountain ability increases to twenty times the normal volume of water.

Rank 6 – Greater Aqueous Form

When you cast the aqueous form spell, it does not have the Attune tag. Instead, it lasts until you dismiss it as a free action.

Rank 7 – Supreme Water Bond

The bonuses from your water bond ability increase to +3 Mental defense, +4 power, and three times your rank in this archetype to your hit points.

Oozeborn

Oozeborn are sentient ooze creatures that have gained true sentience through a strange quirk of their birth. They are very rare to see in civilized lands, as most oozeborn lack the opportunity to discover more than the dark caves in which they were spawned. Since they often grow up without mentorship from any civilized creature, oozeborn tend to have odd mannerisms and a poor ability to mask their emotions, even after spending years in civilization. Old oozeborn may eventually adapt to societal norms and act perfectly natural, or they may abandon civilized company entirely.

The body of an oozeborn is amorphous, and they lack any identifiable internal organs. Their natural color depends on the nature of the ooze that spawned them, so green and gray are the most common colors. Adventuring oozeborn typically assume a bipedal shape for both practical and social convenience, but their natural shape is a loosely spherical blob. Unconscious oozeborn revert to their default state automatically, though some learn to maintain a semblance of cohesion while asleep.

Creature Type: Unlike most other playable species, oozeborn are considered animates instead of humanoids.

Size: Medium.

Attributes: –1 Intelligence, +1 Constitution.

Special Abilities:

- Acid Tolerance: Oozeborn are impervious to acid damage.
- Amorphous Form: An oozeborn's natural form is a loosely spherical blob. They have a –5 foot penalty to their land speed, but they gain a +5 bonus to the Flexibility skill (see Flexibility, page 149). They can use the mold body ability as a standard action to adopt a particular shape.

Mold Body

Sustain (free)

You make a Disguise check to alter your appearance (see Disguise Creature, page ??). This physically changes your body to match the results of your disguise. You gain a +4 bonus on the check, and you ignore penalties for changing your gender, species, subtype, age, and number of limbs (up to 4). However, this effect is unable to alter your equipment in any way.

You can sustain this ability for any length of time without mental strain, ignoring the normal 5 minute limit.

- Compressible Body: Oozeborn can compress their head and shoulders down to a minimum of a one inch radius, allowing them to squeeze through very small areas. Their clothing or armor is not compressed, so they may limit their ability to move through extremely narrow spaces.
- Darkvision: Oozeborn have darkvision with a 60 foot range, allowing them to see in complete darkness (see Darkvision, page 378).
- Oozeborn Archetype: Oozeborn only gain two class archetypes instead of three. Instead, they treat the Oozeborn archetype as one of their archetypes, and they gain ranks in it just like they gain ranks in class archetypes.

Automatic Languages: Common.

Oozeborn Archetype

Rank 1 – Acidic Body

You gain a slam natural weapon, which deals 1d10 damage and requires a free hand to use, except that it also has the Long weapon tag (see Natural Weapons, page 161). In addition, all damage you deal with natural weapons is acid damage in addition to its other types. This does not affect damage you deal with manufactured weapons.

Rank 1 – Poison Dissolution

You are impervious to poisons.

Rank 2 – Darkborn Senses

You gain blindsense with a 60 foot range, allowing you to sense your surroundings without light (see Blindsense, page 378). If you already have the blindsense ability, you increase its range by 60 feet. In addition, you gain blindsight with a 15 foot range, allowing you to see without light (see Blindsight, page 378). If you already have the blindsight ability, you increase its range by 15 feet.

Rank 2 – Ingest Object

You can use the ingest object ability as a standard action. This functions like the absorb object spell, except that you do not gain the ability to absorb objects that are larger than Medium size. Anything you absorb in this way takes a single point of environmental acid damage at the end of each round while it remains absorbed. This damage is insufficient to hurt most objects made from wood, stone, or metal, but it can destroy more fragile objects like paper or complex mechanical traps.

Rank 3 – Greater Amorphous Form

You gain a +4 bonus to your defenses when determining whether a strike gets a critical hit against you instead of a normal hit.

Rank 3 – Greater Compressible Body

You reduce your penalties for squeezing (-2 Armor and Ref) by 1.

Rank 4 – Greater Acidic Body

You gain a +1d damage bonus with natural weapons.

Rank 4 – Acidic Apotheosis

You are immune to acid damage and poisons.

Rank 5 – Greater Darkborn Senses

The range of your blindsense increases by 60 feet. In addition, the range of your blindsight increases by 15 feet.

Rank 5 – Greater Ingest Object

The maximum number of objects you can absorb with your ingest object ability increases to 2. In addition, you may absorb allies with that ability in addition to unattended objects.

Rank 6 – Supreme Amorphous Form

The bonus from your greater amorphous form ability increases to +8. In addition, your mold body ability loses the Sustain (free) tag. Instead, it lasts until you choose to dismiss it as a free action. This allows you to maintain your shape while unconscious.

Rank 6 – Supreme Compressible Body

You reduce your penalties for squeezing by 2, which means you take no penalties for squeezing unless you use the tight squeeze ability (see Flexibility, page 149).

Rank 7 – Supreme Acidic Body

The bonus from your greater acidic body ability increases to +2d.

Rank 7 – Third Arm

When you use your mold body ability, you can create three arms instead of two. You can use all three hands as free hands. For example, this can allow you to use a heavy weapon and a shield simultaneously.

Basic Class Abilities

If you choose oozeborn as your base class, you gain the following abilities.

Power

Your automatic bonus to power based on your rank in this archetype is the same as a fighter (see Class-Based Power Bonuses, page 67).

Defenses

You gain the following bonuses to your defenses: +7 Fortitude, +3 Reflex, +5 Mental. In addition, you gain a +2 bonus to your vital rolls.

Resources

You have the following resources:

- Three attunement points, which you can use to attune to items and abilities that affect you (see Attunement Points, page 30).
- A fatigue tolerance equal to 6 + your Constitution + half your Willpower. Your fatigue tolerance makes it easier for you to use powerful abilities that fatigue you (see Fatigue, page 30).

- A number of insight points equal to 1 + your Intelligence. You can spend insight points to gain additional abilities (see Insight Points, page 23).
- Three trained skills from among your class skills, plus additional trained skills equal to your Intelligence (see Skills, page 142).

Weapon Proficiencies

You are proficient with simple weapons.

Skills

You have the following class skills:

- Strength: Climb, Jump, Swim.
- Dexterity: Balance, Flexibility, Sleight of Hand, Stealth.
- Constitution: Endurance.
- Intelligence: Craft, Knowledge (dungeoneering).
- Perception: Awareness, Survival.
- Other: Intimidate.

Orc

Orcs are green-skinned humanoid creatures known for their strength and brutality.

Size: Medium.

Attributes: +1 starting Strength, –1 starting Intelligence.

Special Abilities:

- Darkvision: Orcs have darkvision with a 60 foot range, allowing them to see in complete darkness (see Darkvision, page 378).
- Intimidating: Orcs gain a +3 bonus to the Intimidate skill (see Intimidate, page 149).
- Mighty: You gain a +1 bonus to your Strength for the purpose of determining your weight limits (see Weight Limits, page 45).
- Orcish Prejudice: Most people have negative associations with orcs thanks to their violent and dangerous behavior. Orcs have an Acquaintance (negative) relationship with most people that they meet, which influences people's behavior and makes Persuasion checks harder (see Persuasion, page 153). People in some locations, such as orcish tribes, do not have this attitude.
- Powerful: You gain a bonus equal to a quarter of your level (minimum 1) to your power.

Automatic Languages: Common, Orc.

Tieflings

Tieflings are humanoid creatures descended from fiends. They inherit a tendency towards evil from their ancestors, and are therefore viewed with great suspicion by most civilized societies. Good-aligned tieflings exist, but they may have difficulty using their natural talents for subterfuge and deceit for noble ends, and they often struggle with hidden vices.

Size: Medium.

Attributes: No change.

Special Abilities:

- Darkvision: Tieflings have darkvision with a 60 foot range, allowing them to see in complete darkness (see Darkvision, page 378).
- Demonic Prejudice: Most people have negative associations with tieflings thanks to the malign influence that demons have on the world. Tieflings have an Opposition relationship with most people that they meet, which influences people's behavior and makes Persuasion checks harder (see Persuasion, page 153). People in some locations, such as the Abyss, do not have this attitude.
- Hellfire Tolerance: Tieflings are impervious to fire damage.
- Infernal Presence: Tieflings gain a +2 bonus to the Deception and Intimidate skills.
- Tiefling Archetype: You may choose three class archetypes, as normal. However, you may choose the Tiefling archetype in place of one of your class archetypes. If you do, you gain ranks in it just like you gain ranks in class archetypes. You cannot choose tiefling as your base class.

Automatic Languages: Abyssal, Common, any one common language.

Tiefling Archetype

Rank 1 – Abyssal Hop

You can use the abyssal hop ability as a standard action.

Abyssal Hop

Magical

You teleport horizontally into an unoccupied location within Short (30 ft.) range on a stable surface that can support your weight. If the destination is invalid, this spell fails with no effect. In addition, make an attack vs. Reflex against each enemy adjacent to your location after you arrive.

Hit: Each target takes 1d4 + half power fire damage.

Rank 2: The damage increases to 1d6.

Rank 3: The damage increases to 1d10.

Rank 4: The damage increases to 2d6.

Rank 5: The damage increases to 2d10.

Rank 6: The damage increases to 4d6.

Rank 7: The damage increases to 4d10.

Rank 1 – Infernal Resilience

You gain a bonus equal to twice your rank in this archetype to your damage resistance.

Rank 2 – Infernal Ancestry

You deepen your connection to a particular aspect of your demonic ancestry. Choose one of the following infernal ancestries: hellfire conduit, tempting allure, or unholy might. You gain a benefit based on your chosen ancestry.

- Hellfire Conduit: You can use the infernal rebuke ability as a standard action.

Infernal Rebuke

Magical

Make an attack vs. Fortitude against one creature within Short (30 ft.) range. You gain a +2 bonus to accuracy with this attack if the target attacked you during the previous round.

Hit: The target takes 1d10 + power fire damage.

Rank 3: The damage increases to 2d6.

Rank 4: The damage increases to 2d10.

Rank 5: The damage increases to 4d6.

Rank 6: The damage increases to 4d10.

Rank 7: The damage increases to 5d10.

- Tempting Allure: You gain a +2 bonus to the Deception, Disguise, and Persuasion skills. In addition, you can use the charming temptation ability as a standard action.

Charming Emotion, Magical, Subtle, Sustain (minor) Temptation

Make an attack vs. Mental against one creature within Medium (60 ft.) range. You take a -10 penalty to accuracy with this attack against creatures who have made an attack or been attacked since the start of the last round, including during the current phase.

Hit: The target is charmed (friendly with charmer) by you. Any act by you or by creatures that appear to be your allies that threatens or harms the charmed person breaks the effect. Harming the target is not limited to dealing it damage, but also includes causing it significant subjective discomfort. An observant target may interpret overt threats to its allies as a threat to itself.

Critical hit: Actions which threaten the charmed person without harming them do not break the effect.

The attack's accuracy increases by +1 for each rank beyond 2.

- Unholy Might: You gain two claw natural weapons and one bite natural weapon (see Natural Weapons, page 161). In addition, you gain a +1d bonus to your damage with all weapons.

Rank 4 – Greater Infernal Ancestry

The benefits of your infernal ancestry ability improve.

- Hellfire Conduit: You gain a +3 bonus to your power. In addition, the area affected by your abyssal hop ability increases to a Small (15 ft.) radius from your destination.

- Tempting Allure: The skill bonuses from your infernal ancestry ability increase to +3. In addition, you can use the dominating temptation ability as a standard action.

Dominating Temptation

Magical

Make an attack vs. Mental against one creature within Short (30 ft.) range.

Hit: The target is stunned (-2 defenses) as a condition.

Critical hit: The target is confused (-2 defenses, randomly attack or defend) instead of stunned. In addition, if the target is humanoid and was already confused from a previous casting of this spell, you may attune to this ability. If you do, it becomes dominated (must obey commands) by you for the duration of that attunement.

The attack's accuracy increases by +1 for each rank beyond 4.

- Unholy Might: You can use the unholy strength ability as a minor action.

- Tempting Allure: The skill bonuses from your infernal ancestry ability increase to +4. In addition, your tempting domination ability can dominate non-humanoid creatures.
- Unholy Might: The damage bonus from your infernal ancestry ability increases to +2d. In addition, your unholy surge ability loses the Attune tag. Instead, it lasts until you dismiss it as a free action.

Rank 7 – Greater Abyssal Hop

When you use your abyssal hop ability, you no longer require line of sight or line of effect to your destination. In addition, when you use it to teleport as a standard action, the range increases to Distant (180 ft.) range.

Classes

Bard

A bard is a rogue with the ability to perform magical feats through music. It is unclear whether bards actually draw power from music in the same way that druids draw power from nature, or whether they simply channel their innate magical talent through music. The bard class functions like the rogue class, with the following exceptions:

- A bard cannot choose the assassin archetype. However, the arcane magic sorcerer archetype is considered to be part of their class, and they may choose that archetype without spending insight points to multiclass.
- A bard casts spells without somatic components.
- A bard can only cast spells while sustaining a performance with the Perform skill. This performance can be either a mundane performance or a bardic performance ability.

Blighter

Blighter practice a strange inversion of druidic traditions. While druids venerate nature in all its forms, blighters dedicate their lives to the destruction of nature for its own sake. They rip power directly from the death of natural beings, using it to fuel their own warped version of nature magic. The blighter class functions like the druid class, with the following exceptions:

- Whenever a blighter rests, they automatically destroy nature and kill anything living around them. Plants wither and die, insects fall dead in the air, and so on. A ten minute rest destroys life in a radius equal to five feet times the blighter's highest rank in the blighter class (minimum 5 feet total). In general, Diminutive or larger creatures and Medium or larger plants suffer no ill effects, though creatures may feel subtle pains. An eight hour rest destroys life in ten times that radius, and kills life one size category larger. Resting beyond that point does not increase the radius or severity of the effect. This destruction spreads out gradually throughout the resting period, and even a partially completed rest destroys some natural life.
- A blighter cannot choose the wildspeaker archetype. However, the domain influence cleric archetype is considered to be part of their class, and they may choose that archetype without spending insight points to multiclass. A blighter can only choose the Death, Destruction, and Evil domains.
- A blighter cannot gain access to the verdamancy mystic sphere by any means.

Faebonder

A faebonder is a warlock who made their pact with a fae creature instead of a demon. The faebonder class functions like the warlock class, with the following exceptions:

- The magic source for the faebonder class is nature magic instead of pact magic. This changes the mystic spheres a faebonder has access to and all other effects based on their source of magic. However, they still require both verbal components and somatic components to cast spells from the faebonder class (see Casting Components, page 50).

- A faebonder cannot choose the blessings of the abyss archetype. However, the elementalist druid archetype is considered to be part of their class, and they may choose that archetype without spending insight points to multiclass.
- Faebonders add Knowledge (nature) to their class skill list and remove Knowledge (planes).

Favored Soul

A favored soul is a warlock who made their pact with a deity instead of a demon. This is an unusual arrangement, as deities would normally influence their clerics to achieve their aims. However, in special circumstances, a deity may want to empower a non-worshipper to influence mortal affairs. The favored soul class functions like the warlock class, with the following exceptions:

- The magic source for the favored soul class is divine magic instead of pact magic. This changes the mystic spheres a favored soul has access to and all other effects based on their source of magic. However, they still require both verbal components and somatic components to cast spells from the favored soul class (see Casting Components, page 50).
- A favored soul cannot choose the blessings of the abyss archetype. However, the domain influence cleric archetype is considered to be part of their class, and they may choose that archetype without spending insight points to multiclass.
- Favored souls add Knowledge (religion) to their class skill list and remove Knowledge (planes).

Shaman

A shaman, like a cleric, is a divine worshipper. However, while clerics worship powerful, well-established deities, shamans worship more primitive deities of lesser power. As a result, their divine powers are more limited and take different forms. Shamans are common among less civilized humanoid societies like bugbears. The shaman class functions like the cleric class, with the following exceptions:

- The magic source for the shaman class is nature magic instead of divine magic. This changes the mystic spheres a shaman has access to and all other effects based on their source of magic.
- A shaman cannot choose the divine spell mastery archetype. However, the elementalist druid archetype is considered to be part of their class, and they may choose that archetype without spending insight points to multiclass.
- A shaman cannot gain access to more than two mystic spheres from the magic source granted by the shaman class by any means.
- Shamans add Knowledge (nature) to their class skill list and remove Knowledge (planes).

Alternate Play Styles

Being Surrounded

Normally, exact positioning doesn't matter that much in combat. This makes it easier to play without a grid, or to just spend less time worrying about the details of everyone's positions on a grid. With this optional rule, you can make positioning more important in combat, increasing tactical depth for melee characters. This generally has the downside of making movement more complicated, however, as combatants try to surround others and avoid being surrounded themselves.

If you play with this alternate rule, when you are being attacked by multiple foes at once, you are less able to defend yourself. If every space adjacent to you either contains an enemy or is adjacent to an enemy, you are surrounded. A creature that is surrounded takes a -2 penalty to its Armor and Reflex defenses. When determining whether you are surrounded, ignore any enemies that are sharing space with you, and ignore any enemies that are at least two size categories smaller than you.

Any effect that makes a creature immune to being partially unaware (50% miss chance, -2 Armor and Ref), such as the foresight spell, also makes that creature immune to being surrounded.

Expanded Insight Points

Normally, insight points can only be used to learn new special abilities from your class, or from a small number of feats. This alternate rule you to spend insight points to gain a wide variety of other proficiencies and benefits. This makes character creation more complicated, but it also allows you to personalize your character much more precisely.

If you play with this alternate rule, increase the number of insight points that each class grants as part of its base class abilities by 1. In addition, you can spend insight points in any of the following ways.

- You can spend an insight point to gain an additional trained skill.
- You can spend an insight point to gain proficiency in an additional usage class of armor (light, medium, or heavy). You must be proficient with light armor to become proficient with medium armor, and you must be proficient with medium armor to become proficient with heavy armor.
- You can spend an insight point to gain proficiency in an additional weapon group.
- You can spend two insight points to gain proficiency with exotic weapons from a single weapon group you are already proficient with.
- You can spend an insight point to learn two common languages or one rare language (see Communication and Languages, page 46).

Obscure Magic Items

The base rules of Rise make it fairly easy to identify magic items. This keeps the pace of the game up when players find magic items frequently. However, you may choose to treat magic items as being more rare and mysterious. If you do, make the following changes:

- The identify item ability from the Craft and Knowledge skills provides no information about how to use a magic item's properties or what they might be. It can still be used to identify whether or not an item is magical.
- The Knowledge (items) Knowledge skill is removed entirely.
- Magic items are more rare, and therefore more valuable. Calculate the prices for all magic items as if they were one rank higher than they actually are. Rank 7 magic items cannot be bought for any price - they are simply too rare.
- All spells with the Attune tag require an additional attunement point to attune to. If magic items are hard to find and use, spellcasters gain a powerful benefit, since their personal attunement spells are still reliably available. This change ensures that spellcasters still gain a benefit from their personal access to magic, but they are not drastically more powerful than characters who depend on finding useful magic items.

You may also want to add complex or unintuitive activation conditions to magic items. For example, boots of speed may only function while hopping on one foot, or while you are not wearing socks. This can encourage players to experiment more with magic items to figure out how to use them.

Restricted Archetype Order

Normally, when a character in Rise levels up, they can freely choose which of their class archetypes they want to rank up (as long as they don't exceed their maximum rank). However, this means that most levels require making a choice that may be confusing for newer players. The process of leveling up can be simplified if each player chooses an order for their archetypes.

With this variant, each character has a primary archetype, a secondary archetype, and a tertiary archetype. This choice is made at character creation. Whenever they increase their maximum rank, they increase their rank in their primary archetype. In their next level up, they increase their rank in their secondary archetype, and then finally their tertiary archetype.

Sleeping While Encumbered

Normally, characters can sleep in their armor without any penalty. This is unrealistic, but it can be time-consuming to make everyone track how their sleeping statistics differ from their waking statistics. Being ambushed while sleeping is very rare in most games, so it's generally not worth the hassle. However, if you want a more realistic game with more punishing night ambushes, you can use this alternate rule.

If you play with this alternate rule, resting in armor is difficult. If you take a long rest while you have any encumbrance, you finish your rest with a fatigue level equal to the value of your encumbrance. In addition, only half the time you spend sleeping while you have encumbrance counts as sleep for the purpose of determining your fatigue (see Sleep and Fatigue, page 65).

Tap Out

With this optional rule, whenever you gain a vital wound, you can “tap out” to guarantee that you survive while taking your character out of the fight. If you tap out, you treat the result of the vital roll for that vital wound as a 10, regardless of any bonuses or penalties you would normally have to the vital roll. However, you fall unconscious immediately, and you cannot regain consciousness by any means until you take a short rest.

This optional rule significantly reduces the likelihood of character death, and makes fights less likely to impose long-term consequences on characters. However, it also makes vital wounds more likely to entirely knock characters out of a fight, which can increase the risk that the entire party is defeated.

Acknowledgements

A number of marvelous people have helped me make this revision possible, and many clever minds produced ideas I that have incorporated into the new system. I cannot hope to properly credit everyone who contributed, knowingly or otherwise, but I can at least make an attempt here. The following individuals have my gratitude:

Connor Haines, for being a great brainstorming partner and excellent roommate.
