Chapter 1

Introduction

Rise is a tabletop role-playing game. This chapter explains what that means, and how Rise is different from other existing games.

What Is A Tabletop Role-Playing Game?

In tabletop role-playing games like Rise, you play a specific character of your own design. Your character can try to do anything you can imagine in a world that the game master, or GM, creates. Of course, you won't always succeed. The details of your character's capabilities are defined in the pages ahead; when you're done creating a character, it will have a personality of its own, along with strengths, weaknesses, and special abilities. Usually, your character will go on adventures with other characters, each of which is played by other players. Together, you will create and experience a story with the Game Master, or GM, who defines the universe that the player characters inhabit.

Describing Actions

Most of the time, when you're playing a game of Rise, you simply describe what you want your character to do. For example, you can say that your character steps out of their room in the inn and walks over to knock on a friend's door. Although Rise has rules that could govern some aspects of that scenario, such as an Awareness check to see if your friend notices you knocking, you wouldn't usually reference those rules explicitly. Even in the unlikely scenario that your friend doesn't notice you knock the first time, you can just knock again, so there's no point in worrying about the details. If something seems reasonable, it probably is, and you don't need to worry about the fiddly bits.

Sometimes, when you describe what your character tries to do, the action has a narratively relevant chance of failure. Instead of knocking on the door to say hi, you might only have time to bang on it once to warn your sleeping friend about an attack from assassins. In that case, there's some chance that your friend is sleeping too deeply to notice the noise the first time you knock. You could try knocking again, just like in the first scenario, but in this scenario that failure would cost you valuable time to survive the attack. In that scenario, you would roll a die to determine whether you succeed in your action - or in this case, whether your friend would succeed in their attempt to notice you.

Your character doesn't have to take a specific "knock on door" action that the rules define. However, Rise has broadly written mechanics to describe many aspects of the universe, including how likely your friend is to notice things while asleep. Intuitively, you should be more likely to succeed if your friend is very aware of their surroundings, or has an unusual sleeping practice, such as if they are an elf. The rules of Rise attempt to make the results of gameplay match your intuition.

Using Specific Abilities

Instead of describing broadly what you want to have happen, you might choose one of a list of clearly defined abilities that your character can use. Every character has specific abilities unique to them, such as a wizard's spells known. There are also a number of simple abilities that anyone can use, such as the dirty trick or trip abilities. These universal abilities attempt to adequately describe a wide variety of reasonable improvised actions that you might try to use in combat.

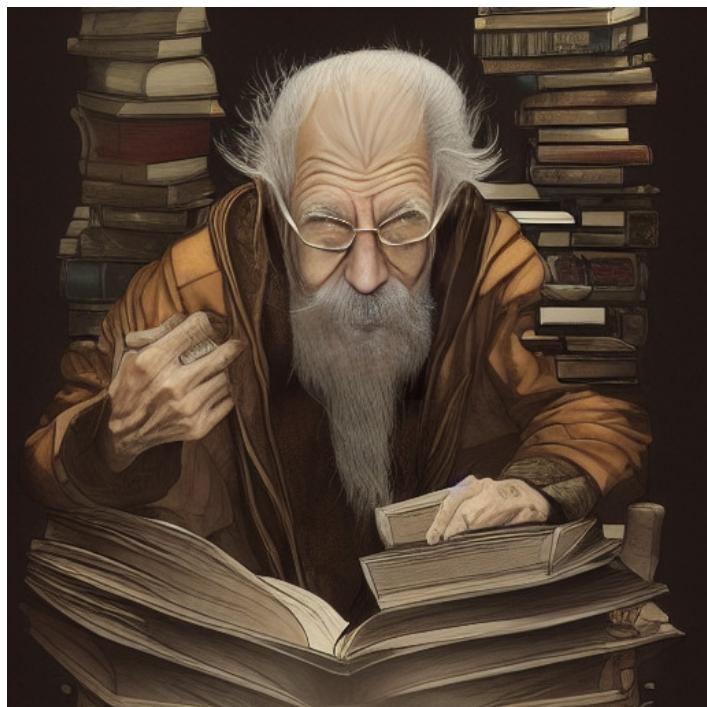

Explicitly defined abilities have rules for determining what happens when you use them. Some abilities, such as attacks in combat, require rolling dice to determine how effective they are. Of course, you can use your character's abilities at any time, not just in combat. Abilities such as the create water or distant hand spells can be used to solve other kinds of problems entirely.

Rolling Dice

Eventually, you'll have to determine whether something succeeds or fails. This can happen as part of using a specific ability that tells you exactly what to roll, or because you tried to narrate your character taking an action that has a dramatically relevant chance of failure. In either case, you'll roll a single ten-sided die, also known as 1d10. You'll add some modifier that represents how skilled your character is at the particular thing that they are trying to do. At the GM's discretion, they may also give the roll an extra bonus or penalty based on the circumstances that your character is in. If your die roll is high enough, your character succeeds at whatever they were trying to do. Otherwise, your character fails, which may sometimes have additional consequences.

In Rise, it's entirely possible for characters to be so skilled that they succeed at what they are trying to do even if you roll a 1. Likewise, there are tasks that are so obviously impossible for your character that they cannot possibly succeed. In those cases, there's no reason to roll! Of course, the GM is the final arbiter of whether rolling is necessary. They may have information that the players do not.

Why Use So Many Rules?

Tabletop role-playing games attempt to create rules to define how their universe works. Some games are intentionally vague or minimalist about their rules, which can be fun! Simple games are easy to start playing, and they try to avoid getting in the way of good role-playing. However, Rise takes a different approach. It spends a lot of effort - and words - attempting to define an internally consistent universe, and creating a large number of specific abilities that can be used in that universe. There are a few important advantages to taking this approach: establishing expectations, supporting multiple play styles, and assisting the GM.

Establishing Expectations

Different people can have very different ideas about what is realistic - or narratively appropriate - in a made-up fantasy universe. To some people, kicking in the tavern door and starting a brawl is just some good clean fun, and you'll take a few good punches and then laugh about it later that evening over drinks. But to other people, that might sound like a good way to find yourself imprisoned for the foreseeable future with all of your possessions confiscated by the town guard. Another interpretation of that scenario might see the brawler seriously injured with a broken bottle in the eye, leaving them partially blinded for weeks - or indefinitely.

All of those ideas are valid, and they each match the narrative of a particular type of story. However, it's important that everyone setting at a table and playing a game agrees about what to expect. Players can get confused or frustrated when their actions have consequences that feel arbitrary or unfair. Generally, games are more fun if everyone in the game shares a common set of expectations and conventions. Otherwise, games can devolve into disagreements about what is or isn't reasonable.

One way to establish these expectations is to use a rules system like Rise that defines some expectations explicitly. If the scenario above happened in Rise, the last outcome of an incapacitating blow to the eye shouldn't normally be possible, since the rules explicitly define how injury works. Knowing what is and isn't possible can help give players and GMs a useful set of guardrails for what they try to do in the universe. It's relatively easy to get everyone to agree about simple things that regular human people have experience with, like how difficult it is to climb a tree. However, Rise is full of superhuman people and monsters, and eventually you'll need to figure out how far a barbarian as strong as Hercules can throw a bear. Having a single authoritative resource to consult can cut off long disagreements about details that are difficult or impossible to determine objectively.

Of course, different games played with a flexible rules system like Rise can have very different tones and themes. Either of the first two scenarios in the tavern are still plausible in different games, and a GM can use house rules to make vital wounds have more long-term consequences if they want. Using a rules system like Rise can help, but it is not the full answer by itself. The GM and players always share responsibility for establishing expectations about what genre a game will be, and conforming to those expectations to the extent that it makes the game more fun.

Supporting Multiple Play Styles

Some people deeply enjoy the process of role-playing itself. They enjoy the process of getting into a character and speaking in their voice, exploring their needs and desires, and building a narrative for them over time. These people often do not need the confines of a robust rules system, and can play equally well in games with minimal rules or none at all.

Other people do not enjoy role-playing as an end in itself, or even at all. However, they may still enjoy the game aspect of a role-playing game. Instead of playing a character for their personality and backstory, they may play a character for their unique mechanics and tactical advantages.

Still other people may be interested in role-playing as a concept, but find it daunting. The blank page in front of you when you start painting a picture or writing an essay can be daunting, and that first step is often the hardest to take. Giving people a clearly defined set of abilities and specific tools for interacting with the world can enhance creativity by providing a safe space for interaction and experimentation. Even if you don't enjoy or feel confident in speaking in your character's voice, you can still engage with the narrative aspects of the adventure by cast a relevant spell or making a relevant skill check. People in this middle ground can sometimes enjoy deeper role-playing games while being lost in role-playing games with minimal or nonexistent rules.

One of the joys - and challenges - of Rise is drawing together people with very different desires and play styles to share a single experience. Rules-free role-playing games and tactical wargames can both have a narrower appeal than rules-heavy role-playing games like Rise, which try to provide something for everyone. You can run games with deep role-players alongside tactical gamers, and it can be a lot of fun. It does place a greater burden on the GM to provide the right ratio of content to keep everyone happy, and it does require the players to be patient when their preferred playstyle is put in the background to support the needs of other players. A well-blended game can also draw people out of their comfort zones slowly and safely over time as they observe and start to enjoy the playstyles of the other players in the game.

Assisting the GM

The Game Master carries an extra weight of responsibility to shape the flow of the game. Creating narratively consistent universes, appropriate challenges, and engaging storylines out of thin air is deeply challenging. If this job is too difficult, no one will want to do it, and then no one will play the game! Making the GM's job easier is a critical component of any role-playing game.

There are several ways that Rise can make the GM's job easier. It provides information about the mechanics and tropes of the universe that the game takes place in, which helps establish expectations and resolve disputes that might come up during the game. It will provide a clear narrative foundation for the world and the characters in that world, which minimizes the up-front work required to run a game, once that section of the book is more complete. It will provide a wealth of pre-packaged challenges appropriate for players of any power level or play style, and advice for how to use those challenges appropriately, once that section of the book is more complete. The GM-focused sections are currently the most unfinished part of Rise, and this will be a more useful guide before Rise is done.

What Makes Rise Different?

If you haven't played other tabletop role-playing games, feel free to skip this section. If you have, you may wonder what makes Rise unique in a crowded sea of games. Rise has five fundamental principles that differentiate it from other TTRPGs: minimal resource management, simultaneous combat, optional complexity, unbounded scaling, and a bounded action economy.

Minimal Resource Management

Many games make use of resources like mana, spell slots, or timed cooldowns to limit how often characters can use their abilities. These systems have fundamental problems that undercut the fun and flow of a TTRPG, and Rise essentially does not use resources to limit character ability usage. In Rise, characters can cast spells or use special attacks any number of times in a row without consuming resources.

Some systems have resources that are designed to ebb and flow in the course of a typical combat. You might expend mana to use a powerful spell, and then regain mana over time by using weaker spells or fulfilling certain conditions. Alternately, you might use a spell and then wait some number of in-game turns before you can use that same spell again. This can be fiddly to track and hard to recover from if you forget what happened to your resource pool, which is why this approach is more common in video games than in TTRPGs. More importantly, this system has no clear way to handle ability usage outside of combat. It effectively gives unlimited ability usage when time is no obstacle, but only in an awkward and convoluted way. This category of system is unsuitable for Rise because it is too fiddly in combat and doesn't make sense out of combat.

Some systems have finite-use resources that are tied to the expenditure of in-game time, such as taking long rests, or session breaks. You might spend a spell slot to use a powerful spell, and then be unable to cast that spell again until your character rests for some period of time. This can be manageable from a complexity perspective if the number of unique resources is small. However, it can get dangerously convoluted if characters have a large number of separate or partially interchangeable resource pools, such as using separate pools for individual spell levels.

The real problem is that this limitation requires you to make your decisions based on not just the current situation, but also on your prediction of all future situations you will encounter before you have the opportunity to rest. This contributes significantly to the tactical complexity of deciding each individual action in combat, which slows down the pace of the game. It is also punishing to newer players who have less experience with the metagaming required to deduce how many resources an individual fight is worth. This strategic complexity is compounded if hit points are treated as an additional resource, since you now have to trade off the potential impact of one limited resource against another limited resource.

Optimization of resource usage can be unintuitive and out of character, but failure to correctly manage your resources can leave you with no useful abilities remaining. This concern can be exacerbated if some characters are extremely resource-intensive while others have no meaningful resources to track. No one likes being forced to hide from a difficult fight or take only insignificant actions while your more resource-savvy or resource-independent allies continue using dramatic and powerful abilities. It can also add stress to the party dynamics when one character frequently asks for long rests after fights because they expended resources and no one else needs to rest. This category of system is unsuitable for Rise because it creates complexity in ways that detract from the fun and narrative of a game instead of adding to it.

Rise does not use resources to limit normal actions in combat. The vast majority of spells, special martial attacks, and other abilities that affect enemies or your environment can be used any number of times. There are a small number of abilities with one-round cooldowns, and a universal ability that can only be used once per short rest. However, there is no time tracking in the system longer than "next round". Small cooldowns are a fine-grained balancing tool that allow characters to have powerful abilities which would have detrimental effects for the game if they could be used every turn.

Rise does use a single universal resource, called "fatigue", that recovers based on long rests. This allows some opportunity to invest extra effort into difficult fights, and to eventually tire over the course of a long day, but it is simple to use and track. Damage taken during a fight is easily recovered after a ten minute rest, with the exception of rarer vital wounds. This gives a GM time to force a party to undergo multiple sequential fights if it is appropriate. If multiple fights in a row are possible, that is often obvious from the narrative context, so metagaming about future fights is almost always pointless.

Overall, Rise uses resource limitations very sparingly. This allows it to gain some of their benefits while avoiding the detrimental effects that come from making resource limitations a fundamental part of the system.

Simultaneous Combat

In most TTRPGs, combat takes place in a series of turns. When your turn comes up, you take all of your actions, and then you wait through everyone else's turn until your turn comes again. This system has one foundational disadvantage: it is very, very slow. Rise uses a simultaneous combat system that dramatically increases the pace of combat.

Imagine a typical 4-5 player game with 1-2 enemy groups using a traditional turn-based initiative system. In this scenario, you have to wait through about 5 turns before it comes back to your turn. This number can increase significantly in large-scale fights. Each of those 5 or so turns can meaningfully change the battlefield situation on its own by moving, weakening, or defeating various enemies and allies. The state of the battlefield at the end of your turn is often drastically different than the state of that battlefield at the start of your next turn, so there's no point in immediately planning for your next turn. Player coordination can be challenging, since they must coordinate in the specific order assigned by the initiative system, and enemy turns can intervene to ruin coordinated plans.

In theory, every player would accurately track the unfolding battlefield state through each of the intervening turns, so they already know what they will do when their turn comes up. In practice, many players find that difficult or impossible, so the first question when someone's turn comes up is: what is the current situation? Not everyone asks this explicitly, but it must always be analyzed anew. Once this information has been processed, players can choose their actions from among a typically large pool of potential actions.

Everyone else must wait and do nothing while the active player decides their actions - and there are often multiple actions involved, since this includes both movement and any number of sequential attacks. Once the active player has decided their actions, those actions must be fully rolled and resolved before combat can proceed, so there is little point in trying to make plans until the results are revealed. All of this combines to make even short combats take an hour or more, and six-person adventuring groups can feel dangerously bloated.

Rise works differently. Combat in Rise is broken up into two phases: the movement phase and the action phase. During the movement phase, all creatures move simultaneously, and no attacks are possible. Characters can declare certain simple reactive movements like “stay adjacent to this enemy” to ensure that they end up in a reasonable position regardless of enemy actions. If the movements of characters conflict in impossible ways, initiative checks can temporarily force a linear order of resolution. Each player declares their own actions in an arbitrary order as soon as they decide them, so people are not forced to wait and do nothing while slower players contemplate their choices. Player coordination is easy, since all actions are happening together.

During the action phase, players resolve their actions sequentially, but in an arbitrary order of the players’ choice. This allows slower players to make their decisions when they are ready, while allowing faster players to resolve their actions first. Since movement during the action phase is rare, and enemies cannot unexpectedly move, players are typically able to decide their actions much more quickly and easily even when they have a large number of unique abilities to choose from. Once all players have resolved their actions, they learn what their enemies did. Those actions all resolve simultaneously, so enemy actions cannot interrupt player actions and vice versa. Attackers are always responsible for rolling instead of using “saving throws” or similar mechanics that force defenders to roll dice. All of this means that players can choose and resolve their actions simultaneously and efficiently, minimizing total time spent in combat while still allowing significant tactical complexity.

The start of each phase still requires a general assessment from all acting players about the current state of the battlefield, which takes just as much time as the assessment in a classic initiative system. However, the time required for this tactical analysis only increases marginally as the number of players and enemies in the game increases. This makes Rise scale much better to large player counts or large enemy hordes. Combat in Rise flows by quickly, making it much easier to balance time between combat and non-combat encounters within the same game session - or to run through multiple separate, individually challenging combats without sacrificing the pace and energy of the game.

Optional Complexity

Many games operate at a consistent level of complexity. Many rules-light games are always simple, and many rules-dense games are always complex. This is a perfectly reasonable design philosophy. Among other benefits, it makes it easy to know what to expect from the game, which helps give the game a well-defined niche.

Rise is designed to allow players to choose their own level of complexity. This broadens its potential audience by allowing people with very different play styles or tolerances for complexity to enjoy the same game together. This goal is manifested in several key ways in Rise’s design. First, simplicity is the default. Second, complexity is centralized around the character creation and leveling process, rather than gameplay. Third, complexity is only loosely connected to narrative and storytelling roles. Fourth, gameplay complexity is unconnected to character power.

In order for complexity to be truly optional, simplicity must be the default. The fundamental infrastructure of the game must be easy to pick up and understand. Complexity must be isolated to specific areas where people can choose to interact with it if they enjoy that process.

As a necessary consequence of making simplicity the default, the gameplay in a session for a typical character must not be overly complex. You should be able to pick up a typical character and figure out how to play as them without extensive study. If gameplay is simple by default, and complexity must live somewhere, then the complexity must be located in the process of character creation. Building a perfectly optimized Rise character is designed to be an difficult and rewarding challenge for people who enjoy it. The core systems - attributes, classes, attunements, and feats - interact with each other in nuanced ways. However, building a Rise character driven solely by narrative concerns is only moderately difficult, since you can make each decision independently.

Even for simple characters, the process of character creation is still one of the most complicated aspects of Rise. That is why Rise provides (or will provide, once that section is done) an extensive selection of premade characters for a wide variety of narrative archetypes. Each premade character includes advice for how to play that character and level them up. The premade characters make the system more accessible to people who don’t want to interact with the complexity of character creation, or who want a starting point that they can customize to match their own character’s narrative more closely.

Not all complexity is contained within the character creation process. Characters are allowed to have significant gameplay complexity. What’s important is that players intentionally opt in to playing a more complex character, and don’t feel forced to.

If players must never feel compelled to take on more complexity than they enjoy, then complexity should be mostly separate from narrative concerns. For example, it would be a bad idea to define a system where martial characters are simple and spellcasters are complicated. Both of those are rich and evocative narrative constructs. Many people who don’t enjoy complexity will want to play spellcasters, and many people who enjoy complexity will want to play martial characters. Gameplay complexity must be more finely tuned and localized than those sweeping strokes.

In Rise, gameplay complexity is generally generated by acquiring a large number of increasingly situational abilities. Every class has some archetypes that grant additional abilities known and some archetypes that grant additional passive abilities. If you like having a lot of unique abilities, you can be a human with a high Intelligence to maximize your insight points, and focus on learning spells and maneuvers that attack your enemies or have situational effects. If you like minimizing complexity, you can instead choose archetypes or learn spells that simply grant you passive benefits, and focus on one or two standard attacks that you specialize in. Some feats give you new abilities and new circumstances to pay attention to that make you more effective, while others simply increase your passive statistics and defenses.

Of course, all of this customization of complexity would be mostly pointless if complexity was strongly correlated with character power. If exceptionally complicated or hyper-specialized characters were obviously and consistently more effective than other characters, it would push everyone to use those characters. Rise makes the tradeoffs between gaining raw power and gaining additional options balanced enough that neither is always superior. There will always be specific contexts where one character's mechanics are superior to another's. For example, a specialized defensive melee character may excel in a campaign that consists of entirely of series of duels in confined spaces, while being exceptionally weak in a campaign that consists entirely of large-scale battles against cavalry archers on open fields. However, each character's strengths and weaknesses are well defined, and their raw power is close to each other, so a GM should not have great difficulty designing a campaign where everyone feels relevant and useful.

Unbounded Scaling

Some systems use bounded bonuses for accuracy or other game statistics. This means that every character of the same power level - or in some systems, of any power level - has a similar chance of success with any given skill check or attack roll. This can frequently cause narratively inappropriate and even comical events, and Rise explicitly rejects this philosophy.

Imagine a typical party of four players, with one character being exceptionally skilled at a particular task. Perhaps the rogue is exceptionally skilled at lying, or a barbarian is exceptionally skilled at climbing. If "exceptionally skilled" only means that they have a +5 bonus on a d20 compared to +0 from the rest of the party, the exceptionally skilled character will only get the best result in the party half the time. The other half of the time, some other character with no relevant skills will meet or exceed the skilled character's result - sometimes by a dramatic margin. When failure compared to rank amateurs happens this often, it becomes hard to take seriously the idea that any character can be exceptionally skilled at anything.

Rise characters can have dramatic statistical differences between each other, even at low levels. It uses a d10 as the fundamental die, which makes every bonus more significant. In addition, a 1st-level character can easily reach a +6 bonus with a skill check that is particularly relevant to their character. This means that a skilled character can beat a party of rank amateurs 80% of the time, and at higher levels their success becomes completely guaranteed. Likewise, the Mental defense of a powerful sorcerer and a cowardly rogue can allow mind-affecting attacks to almost always hit a rogue while almost never hitting the sorcerer. These statistical differences do not always grow with level, but they remain significant at every level.

One advantage of systems with bounded scaling is that it is easier to guarantee that every character is relevant in any situation. Even if your character has no useful abilities of any kind, you might sometimes succeed on important actions through sheer luck. However, this design philosophy often breaks the symmetry between magical and non-magical characters. Magical characters can often use extremely specific and powerful abilities that are impossible for nonmagical characters to duplicate. If magical characters also have similar odds of success with all generic mechanics of the game, they will almost certainly have far more influence over the narrative of the game than any nonmagical character can hope to match.

The philosophy of Rise is that it's okay for some characters to be irrelevant in specific contexts. It's good to give people time in the spotlight where their character's abilities help solve the specific problem that the group is facing when no other character could. Rise encourages that, and makes it impossible for one character to be relevant in all contexts. Each character has their own strengths and weaknesses, and if you try to be good at everything, you'll fall behind people who specialize in a particular area. This will naturally rotate the spotlight between different characters, allowing each player to feel relevant and important in turn.

This dramatic scaling is also used to govern the power of characters over time, in addition to the power of characters relative to each other. Rise attempts to model a massive power range for player characters. They are expected to start their journeys at level 1 as little more than commoners, and by level 21 they are effectively demigods who can alter the fate of entire worlds. This is a critical part of the narrative fabric of Rise, and it is reflected in the statistics and abilities of characters. If a level 1 kobold posed even a tiny threat to a level 21 character, the mechanics of the game would sabotage the purported narrative of power and growth. In Rise, overall character power doubles approximately every two to three levels. The system takes some care to avoid bloating numbers to unwieldy levels on this journey, and the use of the d10 as the standard die helps immensely.

Bounded Action Economy

It is dangerous to give characters too many actions each turn. Each additional action a character can take increases how difficult it is for a player to decide what to do on their turn. In addition, each additional action increases the complexity of the change between the start of the turn and the end of the turn. This is especially risky with Rise's simultaneous initiative system, which combines the actions taken by all characters into a single resolution process.

Rise places significant limitations on how many relevant actions each character can take on their turn. Generally, characters can only move during the movement phase and then take one significant action each turn. Some characters can use a minor action to accomplish something useful. However, that essentially marks the end of action economy scaling, even up to the maximum level.

Detrimental effects that could deny actions are also heavily limited. Total action denial effects are only usable by high level characters, and even then they only work against weak enemies or enemies that have already been significantly damaged. Taking actions is fun, and sitting quietly while everyone else does things can be very frustrating. Similarly, completely removing an enemy's ability to act can easily remove the tension from a fight before it's actually over.

Chapter 2

The Universe

Rise does not attempt to define a single geography with specific countries and locations that is shared between all games. It is common for GMs to define their own setting when running a game, and that freedom is important. However, the universe of Rise does differ in a number of important ways from the real world. The fundamental assumptions that Rise makes about the world are listed below. These fundamental elements are ambiguous about some details, and GMs are encouraged to fill in those details as they see fit. Of course, a GM has absolute power, and can create a world that changes any number of these assumptions. However, doing so can significantly change the tone of the game and create logical inconsistencies, so it should be done carefully.

Magic is Common

The world of Rise is a magical place. Many people are capable of using magic to perform feats that would be impossible in the real world. Not everyone is capable of magic, of course. As an overly broad generalization, it's reasonable to assume that about a quarter of the civilized people in the world have some ability to use magic. In some societies, such as a feudal human-dominated society with a large number of commoners and serfs, the percentage of people with magic can be much lower. However, this is balanced by the existence of other societies that tend to be much more magical, such as societies ruled by gnomes and elves. Even in low-magic societies, everyone knows that magic exists, and almost everyone has observed or been personally affected by magic at some point in their lives.

People can have magical abilities for a wide variety of reasons. There are three main categories to explain why people can access magic: intrinsic magic, learned magic, and gifted magic. Each class with magical abilities belongs to one of these groups. Characters with magical feats are free to choose any of those three explanations for their feats. The explanation does not have to be the same as for any other magical abilities they possess. For example, a cleric may be gifted their magical cleric abilities because they worship a particular deity, but they may also be naturally telepathic.

Some people are simply intrinsically magical. They may require training and experience to improve their natural magical talents, but they had magical capabilities before doing any training. This intrinsic magic can come from magical ancestry, unusual birth circumstances, magical experimentation, exposure to powerful magic, simple random chance, or any number of other sources. This is the standard explanation for sorcerers. In addition, this is the most common explanation for the magical abilities of monsters.

Some people gain access to magic through personal training or research. These people find ways to tap into some pre-existing magical property of the universe and manipulate it at their command. This is the standard explanation for monks, rangers with the Beastmaster archetype, rogues with the Bardic Music archetype, and wizards.

Some people are gifted magic by their association with powerful magical entities or forces. They offer worship, allegiance, or their souls, and are granted magical power in exchange. This is the standard explanation for clerics, druids, paladins, and warlocks.

Personal Power Comes From Great Deeds

The average person in the world of Rise is not particularly more or less capable than the average person in the real world. Training can help people improve their skills, but as in the real world, anyone who tries to improve themselves through training and practice eventually reaches an upper limit to their potential. However, unlike in the real world, people in Rise can reach beyond their ordinary limitations. By defeating powerful foes and performing great deeds that influence the world around them, people can gain levels, which allows them to reach new heights of power. At high levels, people can perform clearly superhuman feats that would be impossible for ordinary humans, even without the influence of magic.

People in Rise wouldn't usually talk about "levels" as a discrete concept ranging from 1 to 21. They would perceive the world as a spectrum, and the specific divisions would be more subtle. However, they would be aware that some people are fundamentally stronger and more skilled than others. Individual scholars or scholastic groups may create their own concepts in-universe to categorize and explain the phenomenon of levels, since the growth of personal power over time is observable and studiable. However, those in-universe concepts would never exactly replicate the metagame concept of a level.

It is common for people in positions of political power to also wield unusually large amounts of personal power. High level individuals can be savvier, wiser, and more persuasive than any ordinary human. They are more likely than low-level individuals to be able to gain political power through whatever means they see fit, and more likely to maintain their hold on that power. In addition, political power can grant further opportunities for performing great deeds, which helps those in power to gain levels and stay ahead of any competition.

The fastest path to acquiring personal power does not come from pursuing political power. It comes from adventuring. Adventurers can defeat powerful monsters, help towns in need, and otherwise have a significant personal influence on the world. In the process of these adventures, they can amass personal power much more rapidly than ordinary people. Of course, adventuring also has an unusually high risk of death. Even worse, people who die while adventuring often leave their corpse in the middle of nowhere - in a monster's stomach - which prevents them from being resurrected without incredibly rare magic. Adventurers must constantly seek out new challenges to test their limits, or else they will stagnate and stop acquiring personal power, so it is never a sustainable long-term activity. There are many people in the world who were adventurers at some point in their past, and everyone is familiar with the concept, but active adventurers are still unusual.

Deities and Afterlives

When a humanoid creature dies in Rise, they know beyond a shadow of a doubt that they will go to an afterlife. Most likely, they know exactly which afterlife they will go to, either as a result of their alignment or their worship of a particular deity. In that afterlife, they will live again for as long as they want, though they cannot leave without being magically resurrected. People are confident that this is true because deities have told them so, and deities are provably real. Also, rare and powerful magic can be used to communicate with people in their afterlife, or even to physically travel to an afterlife plane.

It is an undisputed fact that Rise is filled with a wide variety of deities of varying power and influence. They divinely empower their clerics to act on their behalf. Many people know, though some chain of connections, someone who chose to become a cleric and was quickly rewarded with divine magic far beyond anything they could previously do on their own. Everyone has heard legends of deities intervening more directly in the world even without a cleric, though these stories are rare and few have experienced them firsthand.

There are nine distinct afterlife planes, with one plane for each alignment combination. Each of those planes is divided into layers. Some of those layers are reserved for deities, with major deities claiming layers that are entirely their own and multiple minor deities sharing territory within a single layer. The remaining layers have no specific associated deity. People can travel between the layers, though the specific mechanisms for traversing layers are different for each afterlife plane. Most people do not know this level of detail about afterlife planes, and a commoner would simply be confident that they will go where they belong.

It is well known that the afterlife planes for evildoers are much harsher than the other afterlife planes. The three evil afterlife planes are collectively referred to as the Abyss. Demons stalk those planes, tormenting evildoers for their own sadistic reasons. One of the reasons that some people worship evil deities is to gain a promise of safety, since evil deities protect their worshippers from demonic torment in the afterlife. It is also said that demons only torment the weak-willed, and that those who escape demonic torments are free to live in hedonistic luxury. There is truth in this, though there are far more people who are confident that they would rule proudly in the Abyss than people who succeed.

A list of specific well-known deities is given in Table 2.1: Deities. Of course, the GM may introduce new major deities, and the many minor deities worshipped by monsters are not listed here.

Secrets of the Universe

There are many mysteries in the universe of Rise. This section gives a glimpse into some of the underlying truths, though few characters in the universe would understand such details.

Power Ultimately Derives From Souls

At a surface level, Rise seems to have a deep and fundamental divide between magical and mundane effects. The physical abilities of a mighty barbarian and the divine magic wielded by a cleric are generally believed to come from completely different sources. In truth, these are all just reflections of the ultimate source of power for everything in Rise: the soul.

When living creatures are born, they enter existence with a new soul. This is the fundamental miracle of life, and no one knows where these souls come from. Souls in Rise have an intrinsic power, but not all souls are equal in power. Even the combined power of the souls inhabiting a vast colony of ants is dwarfed by the soul of a dog or cat, and that too pales in comparison to the soul of a humanoid creature like a human or elf. Humanoid creatures have unusually potent souls, though some rare monsters, such as dragons, have souls of similar intrinsic strength.

Transferring Souls

The intrinsic power of souls can be transferred. The simplest method of transfer is through death. When a predator kills its prey, the prey's soul is shattered and vulnerable in the moments after death. If the killer's soul is strong enough, it can ingest a fraction of the dead creature's and make its energy a part of its own soul. Weak-souled creatures are unable to feed on soul energy in this way. No matter how many rabbits a typical wolf kills, it will never gain a level. It is simply a wolf, and lacks the capacity to be more than that.

Strong-souled monsters can gain a great deal of power by feeding on the souls of dead creatures. By repeatedly killing creatures with souls and feeding on the soul splinters emitted during death, they grow their own power. Likewise, an adventurer that kills a monster claims a piece of that monster's soul - including the combined power of all soul splinters the monster absorbed in its life. With appropriate magical rituals, it is possible to allow deities or distant creatures to feed on the soul of a dying creature. Demons and minor deities sometimes use this principle to feed on souls offered to them in ritual sacrifices by their cultists.

Transferring a soul's power through death is deeply inefficient. Under normal circumstances, only a fraction of a soul's power can be absorbed in this way. Some of the soul's power splashes into the surrounding world at the location of a creature's death, where it creates or fuels natural magical phenomena in the area. Creatures with strong souls, like humanoid creatures, retain their sense of self and are reborn in an appropriate afterlife with the vast majority of their soul intact (see Deities and Afterlives, page 13).

A soul's power can be transferred without the inefficiency of death. Commonly, it is simply freely given through love and emotional connection in the form of soul motes. Creatures who love each other naturally share small portions of their souls with each other. Over time, deeply connected creatures, such as old married couples, can mix their souls so fully that they become virtually indistinguishable.

Voluntary soul sharing does not have to be perfectly symmetric, of course. Tyrants can earn soul motes through the enforced fear and subservience that they create in their underlings. Worship is another method of transferring soul motes, and many deities fundamentally derive power from the combined soul motes willingly given by their legions of worshippers. In exchange, deities can use their power to protect their worshippers, either through divinely empowered clerics or more rarely through direct intervention. More mundanely, adventurers who save a town from a dire threat may earn soul shards freely granted from the gratitude of its inhabitants.

Soul Motes and Splinters

Souls can be subdivided into lesser pieces. There are two forms of lesser soul pieces: motes and splinters.

Soul motes are emitted from souls unconsciously, like light is emitted from a torch. It is possible for a soul that emits a large number of soul motes to diminish if it does not receive any in exchange. For example, a minor underling who pledges their life to an uncaring leader might give away far more soul motes than they receive in exchange. Most people have enough interpersonal relationships to avoid this danger, but completely isolated people who are neither loved nor hated, but simply ignored, may diminish in this fashion. Even with this risk, the process of emitting soul motes is not harmful or individually significant in any way. In addition, individual soul motes are far too small to be manipulated or used by magical effects.

Soul splinters are created in a much more dramatic fashion. When a soul undergoes significant trauma that shakes its will and sense of self, it may splinter, losing a chunk of its soul. Of course, death is one of the greatest traumas of all, and almost all souls splinter to some degree when they die.

Soul splinters can be consumed or manipulated in a variety of ways. For example, demons are formed from soul splinters that drift into the Abyss. Undead creatures are animated by splintering a soul that originally inhabited a corpse and using that splinter to animate the corpse.

Souls and Intrinsic Power

As creatures gain soul splinters and motes, they may increase their personal power, which is represented in Rise as increasing their level. This does not mean that a creature's level or overall combat power is directly correlated to the strength of its soul. A well-trained soldier will easily defeat a commoner in battle, but this does not mean that the soldier's soul is stronger. Bears are physically much stronger than humans, and a typical bear is higher level than a commoner, but they have much weaker souls.

Essentially, a creature's intrinsic strength, including its special abilities, determine the baseline power for a standard adult of that species. For monsters, this baseline power can be far beyond an ordinary human. Training and experience alone can increase that power slightly, but up to a clear limit, which is generally up to three levels beyond the baseline. To develop beyond that point, a creature must draw power from other souls into itself.

The strength of a creature's soul determines how much power it can incorporate from other souls. Creatures with a weak soul cannot master the raw energy contained within soul splinters they are exposed to, and cannot gain levels in this way by any means. A strong soul allows a creature to fully incorporate the energy of other souls into itself, and the strength of the soul determines the upper limit. For example, a dire wolf has an unusually strong soul for an animal, but it still eventually reaches a maximum level that it cannot surpass. Typically, only about 10% of the humanoid population has a strong enough soul to exceed 10th level, though of course few even reach that point. All player characters are assumed to have exceptionally strong souls even relative to normal humanoid creatures, and are able to reach 21st level. Legendary monsters of epic proportions may have still stronger souls, and be able to surpass that limit.

Mysteries of the Soul

The mysteries of differing soul strength have no clear and consistent explanation. In broad terms, the strength of a creature's soul usually correlates to its emotional and intellectual potential, as well as its force of will. Humanoid creatures and dragons are unusually mentally capable - not just in raw intelligence, but also in empathy, determination, and capacity for belief - and correspondingly have unusually strong souls. There are individual exceptions that suggest that this is not the entire dimension of what causes strong and weak souls. It is not uncommon for animals to have unusually strong souls for no known reason, causing them to develop over time into their "dire" variants. Dire animals, who have gained levels by feeding on soul splinters, do not seem obviously more emotionally or intellectually capable than ordinary animals. Perhaps there is simply an element of randomness in the creation of each new soul.

The fundamental mysteries of souls and their sharing is not widely known in the universe of Rise. Individual elements of this truth are widely known, such as the observation that people can become stronger by slaying monsters, but monsters do not seem to grow dramatically in power by killing people. Strange phenomena can occur where death occurred, and old battlegrounds are often haunted by naturally occurring undead. Learned scholars may understand that the civilized species like humans seem to have unusually strong souls, and that this is related to their capacity for drastic personal growth. They may identify the general phenomena surrounding soul splinters, but not soul motes.

Some powerful and unusual entities, such as deities and greater demons, know particular elements of how soul energy can be transferred. Greater demons are generally aware that they can feed on soul splinters from souls in evil afterlife planes as they lose their cohesion over time. They attempt to torment weaker souls to accelerate this breakdown, and avoid souls that are too strong to break. However, they are unaware of the subtler aspects of soul sharing, such as willing soul mote transfer between loved ones. Powerful deities know more about souls than any other entities as a result of being worshipped and maintaining the existence of their personal afterlife planes. In exceptionally rare occasions they may see fit to share that knowledge if it serves their purposes.

Soul-Fuelled Phenomena

The peculiar nature of soul energy causes a wide variety of strange and unique effect in the Rise universe.

Deities

Deities are among the most obvious phenomena that are fundamentally created by the energy of souls. When hordes of living creatures pay homage to the same entity, that entity can feed on that outpouring of worship and become incredibly powerful if it has a strong enough soul. The background of Rise is full of minor deities and demigods who either lack a sufficient base of worshippers to become a true deity or who lack a strong enough soul to effectively use the worship they receive.

Not every powerful entity with a large amount of soul energy is a deity. Deities are sentient creatures that fundamentally owe their power to voluntary worship. Soul energy gained through voluntary transfer, including worship, is subtly different from soul energy gained through other means. The most notable difference is that this soul energy is easier to efficiently re-transfer to other entities. This makes deities more likely to share their power with select worshippers who serve their ends. In most societies, these empowered worshippers are called clerics.

A deity that gains a sufficient base of worshippers can claim territory within the afterlife plane associated with its alignment. Deities have extraordinary power within their claimed territory, and can reshape it as they see fit. However, they must expend a significant amount of soul energy to maintain their territory. As a result, deities are always hungry to gain additional followers, and only successful deities expend the effort to claim any territory at all.

Any souls that worship a deity will be reborn within that deity's territory in the appropriate afterlife plane, even if that plane does not match their personal alignment. This is both a reward for worshippers and a way for deities to accumulate soul energy. When a soul in an afterlife eventually loses the will to maintain its individual existence, its soul energy is absorbed by the afterlife plane it is on. Deities can harvest a portion of that power for themselves, though most of it still transfers to the plane as a whole. In addition, this allows deities to eventually reclaim the soul energy they invested in their clerics.

Nature

Nature itself has an immensely vast soul, but although people can worship Nature, it is not a deity because does not depend on mortal worship for its power. Nature claims the greatest tithe of every unclaimed death - every predator hunting a prey, every swatted fly. These souls are individually tiny. However, the combined soul energy released by billions of deaths over millenia dwarfs the power of any other individual entity in the Rise universe.

Nature lacks a coherent anthropomorphic representation, and its will is almost never brought to bear in any organized way. Druids are granted power by Nature, but they need not agree to any particular ideology, and their usage of that power is virtually never policed or revoked by Nature itself in the way that a misbehaving cleric might be punished by their deity. Nature welcomes a diversity of viewpoints, for it is itself almost infinitely diverse. It has a wealth of power, and it does not expend soul energy maintaining territory in an afterlife plane, so it does not need to jealously hoard its gifts like deities must. The only druids who have had their powers revoked were a rare few who turned their powers to the explicit and intentional destruction of Nature itself.

People who worship nature do not have any special territory in an afterlife reserved for them, since Nature claims no part of any afterlife. The afterlife planes are where Nature's power is weakest, and it can claim no tithe of any deaths there, since the planes themselves absorb the soul energy. Instead, devoted worshippers of Nature may have their souls reincarnated instead of going to a normal afterlife. This gift is not granted to all worshippers, and indeed many would prefer to go to a normal afterlife.

Every plane that is not the Astral Plane an afterlife plane is a manifestation of Nature's power in some sense, and it claims deaths that occur on any of those planes. The four Elemental Planes - Air, Fire, Earth, and Water - are the grandest manifestations of Nature's power.

Pact Magic

Entities of great power can make pacts with mortals. In these pacts, the mortals offer their soul to the entity for a period of time after death, and the entity who becomes their soulkeeper. In exchange, the soulkeeper grants the mortal soul energy from its own supply. The soulkeeper's goal is to have the mortal gain a great wealth of its own soul energy in its life, and then to break the will of the soul while it is in the soulkeeper's clutches. If the soulkeeper succeeds, it gains the rare and powerful ability to feed on the mortal's entire soul. This is a vast wealth of soul energy compared to the normal shards extracted from death and worship, and it annihilates the mortal's soul, preventing it from travelling it to its normal afterlife.

Successful soulkeepers can therefore amass great power. However, it is a risky business, much like adventuring is for mortals. If the mortal resists the soulkeeper's torments during its time in the afterlife, it may take its entire soul intact to its normal afterlife. When this happens, the soulkeeper loses the bounty of the soul, all of the soul energy it originally invested in the mortal, and time it wasted trying to break the mortal's spirit. This is particularly likely if the mortal dies soon after making the pact, so soulkeepers must choose their mortal partners wisely.

Failing to break a mortal's spirit is not the worst thing that can happen to an overly successful soulkeeper. It may attract attention from more powerful entities within its own plane. When a soulkeeper is killed, ownership of the soul is transferred to whatever killed it. This means that soulkeepers with active contracts - especially active contracts with mortals who are nearing death after a long life - are extremely attractive targets for anyone who wants to steal the reward of the soul.

Demons are the most common soulkeepers. They are more likely than any other type of creature to meet the four main prerequisites for offering soul pacts. First, they have sufficient raw soul energy to make soul pacts. Second, they have enough understanding of magic and soul energy to transfer power through the pact. Third, they have the patience to wait until the mortal dies to claim their reward. Fourth, they have the ambition and risk tolerance to take the gamble of being a soulkeeper and risk not being able to reclaim the energy they invest.

There is nothing that prevents a deity from becoming a soulkeeper. On very rare occasions, deities may make a pact and become a soulkeeper for a non-worshipper. Mortals that gain power in this way are called favored souls. However, being a soulkeeper is risky. Few deities would risk the possibility of losing their soul energy entirely when they could instead use that soul energy to more safely empower a cleric. In addition, being known for making soul pacts can discourage people from voluntarily worshipping the deity.

Ambient Magic and Magical Creatures

The world of Rise is full of strange creatures that have superhuman strength or magical abilities, like minotaurs and manticores. It is common knowledge that such creatures are typically found only in distant wilderness or in deep dungeons. In general, the farther you get from civilization, the more powerful the monsters in the area become, and the more likely you are to encounter strange magical phenomena. Small towns seem to cause a subtle warding effect, and powerful monsters in the area will typically avoid them. Even monsters that lack the intellectual capacity to understand complex causation chains like “if I attack the town, they may send powerful warriors to hunt me down” will typically avoid interacting with civilization unless necessary.

All of this can be explained by the behavior of souls. The constant cycle of life and death in nature produces a great wealth of soul energy. Most of it is claimed by Nature itself, but some spills out at the location of each death. This soul energy lingers and can build up over time in the form of ambient magic. Many monsters can instinctively feed on this ambient magic. This naturally allows them to build their power to near the limit of their soul’s potential by the time they are adults.

Civilization disrupts the natural cycles of life and death, reducing the soul energy present in an area. Although humanoid creatures have powerful souls, they die less frequently, and the vast majority of the soul energy of their death moves with them to their afterlife. From the perspective of creatures that feed on ambient magic, civilized areas stand out as a dead zone.

Since educated people in the universe of Rise can observe that monsters tend to avoid civilization if they study the phenomenon, they may have their own theories about why this is true. Reasonable theories that might have truth to them in some contexts could include “monsters have evolved to instinctively avoid civilization to avoid death from monster hunters”, “druids magically discourage monsters from entering civilization so they don’t get killed”, or “monsters have to kill other strong monsters to get stronger, so they try to avoid areas that don’t have any powerful prey”.

Planes

The universe of Rise is divided into planes. A plane is a distinct realm of existence. Except for the connections between planes through planar rifts, each plane is effectively an isolated universe, and different planes can obey different fundamental laws. For example, the Material Plane has gravity that exerts a consistent acceleration in a single absolute direction. However, the Astral Plane has subjective gravity, where each creature on the plane chooses the direction that gravity pulls it in, if any.

General Cosmology

The planes of Rise are divided up into groups.

Primal Planes: The primal planes are manifestations of the basic building blocks of the universe. Each plane in this group is predominantly composed of a single element or type of energy. There are four primal planes: Air, Earth, Fire, and Water.

Aligned Planes: The four aligned planes are manifestations of the four alignments. The Celestial Heavens is good-aligned, the Abyss is evil-aligned, Ordus is law-aligned, and Discord is chaos-aligned.

When mortal creatures die, their souls travel to an appropriate location on an aligned plane, where they gain new planeforged bodies and live again. If they pledged their soul to a deity in life, that deity can take ownership over their soul in death, and the soul is reborn within that deity’s territory and under their protection. Otherwise, they appear on the aligned plane that most closely reflects their primary alignment in life.

For details about aligned planes, see Aligned Planes, page 20.

Nexus Planes: The nexus planes are composite planes with a number of distinct environments and filled with creatures of myriad alignments. Nexus planes comprise the majority of civilization across all planes. They do not have their own unique planar essence, and no planar creatures are native to nexus planes. There are two nexus planes: the Material Plane and the Astral Plane.

Demiplanes: These planes are small, fragmentary realms that are greatly limited in their scope. There is no specific list of demiplanes, and they share few common properties. Most demiplanes were created for particular purposes by beings of great power, though some simply came into existence through unknown means.

Planar Rifts

Normally, there are boundaries between different planes that prevent direct passage between them. However, planar rifts are places where these boundaries have weakened, making interplanar travel easier. A planar rift joins a specific location on one plane to a specific location on a different plane. Most planar rifts lead to and from the Astral Plane, which is the space between the other planes (see The Astral Plane, page 21).

Most planar rifts still require the use of magic, such as the plane shift ritual, to actually cross between planes. Some especially large rifts enable physical travel between planes without the use of any magic.

Planar Traits

Gravity Direction

The direction of gravity on a plane can take one of the following forms:

- Fixed Gravity: Gravity points in a fixed direction and with a fixed strength at all locations on the plane. Almost all planes with a fixed gravity have a perfectly flat surface.
- Absolute Directional Gravity: Gravity points in a consistent direction according to a rule that applies equally to everything on the plane, but which is not in a fixed direction. For example, a plane filled with floating spheres where gravity always points towards the closest sphere has absolute directional gravity.
- Subjective Gravity: Each creature on the plane chooses the direction of gravity for that creature. The plane has no gravity for unattended objects and nonsentient creatures. A creature on the plane can make use of the control gravity ability as a minor action.

Control Gravity

Make a Willpower check with a difficulty value of 10. Success means that you choose the direction of gravity that applies to you on the current plane. Alternately, you can choose for gravity to not apply to you.

Failure means you gain a +2 bonus to the next control gravity ability you use on this plane. This bonus stacks with itself and lasts until you succeed at a control gravity ability on this plane.

Gravity Strength

The strength of gravity on a plane can take one of the following forms:

- Normal Gravity: Gravity is about the strength of Earth.
- No Gravity: There is no gravity on the plane. The range limits of ranged weapons are quadrupled.
- Light Gravity: Gravity is about half the strength of Earth. The weight of all items is halved. The range limits of ranged weapons are doubled.
- Heavy Gravity: Gravity is about twice the strength of Earth. Creatures take a -2 penalty to Strength and Dexterity-based checks. The weight of all items is doubled. The range limits of ranged weapons are halved, to a minimum of 5 feet.
- Extreme Gravity: Gravity is about four times the strength of Earth. Creatures take a -4 penalty to Strength and Dexterity-based checks. The weight of all items is quadrupled. The range limits of ranged weapons are reduced to one quarter of the normal value, to a minimum of 5 feet.

Light

Various planes are illuminated in different ways.

- Fixed Source: There is a single constant source of light on the plane.
- Mobile Source: There is a single source of light on the plane that moves around it, illuminating different parts of the plane at different times.

- None: There is no natural source of light on the plane. Other sources of light, such as torches, function normal.

Limits

The behavior of a plane at its limits can vary widely. Some planes have different behaviors at different limits depending on their shape.

- Astral Gate: If you reach the limits of the plane, you find a planar gate to the Astral Plane.
- Barrier: If you reach the limits of the plane, you find an impassable barrier. The barrier takes the form of a substance relevant to the plane's nature. It may be possible to dig tunnels into the barrier to some depth, but there is nothing behind the barrier. As you progress past the limit, the barrier becomes increasingly difficult to break through, and eventually it becomes completely impenetrable.
- Looped: If you go beyond the limits of the plane, you wrap around to the opposite side of the plane. There is no obvious transition point or perception of transportation when this occurs - the shape of the plane simply connects to itself. On very small planes, this can allow you to see your own back, though looped planes of that size are rare.
- Infinite: The plane has no limits. This is extremely rare.

Planar Connectivity

Different planes have different degrees of connection to other planes.

- Isolated: The plane is difficult to reach or leave. It has no permanent planar rifts, and temporary rifts are rare or nonexistent.
- Stable Connected: The plane has multiple permanent planar rifts. However, temporary rifts are rare.
- Unstable Connected: The plane has no permanent planar rifts, but temporary rifts are common.
- Conduit: The plane has a large number of permanent planar rifts, and temporary rifts are common.

Shape

The shape of a plane defines the shape of its core surface, and what happens if you travel beyond that surface.

- Flat Surface: The plane consists of a flat surface generally made of earth or similar material. Most activity and civilization on the plane happens on this surface. It is usually possible to construct tunnels into a flat surface plane to some depth, depending on the size of the plane.
- Hollow Sphere: The plane consists of a hollow sphere with an outer boundary generally made of earth or similar material. Most activity and civilization on the plane happens on the inner surface of the sphere or in the vast open space between. Some hollow sphere planes have an outer surface that can also be accessed, but in most planes it is impossible to leave the interior of the sphere.
- Solid Sphere: The plane consists of a solid sphere generally made of earth or similar material. Most activity and civilization on the plane happens on the surface of the sphere. It is possible to construct tunnels into a solid sphere plane, but it may become increasingly difficult to traverse the plane as you approach the center of the sphere. In general, the limit of a solid sphere plane is located at ten times the radius of the plane's primary sphere.

- Uniform: The plane has no well-defined surface or ground layer. Some uniform planes have no ground or solid obstacles, while others are composed almost entirely of ground and firmament. Uniform planes almost always still have limits of some kind.

Planeforged Creatures

A planeforged is a type of creature that is fundamentally composed of the essence of one or more planes. The vast majority of planeforged creatures are composed of only a single plane. When a planeforged dies, its essence returns to its native plane or planes. Weak planeforged lose their independent identity and become part of the core composition of the plane once more. Strong planeforged can retain their identity and reform from that raw material given time, making them difficult or impossible to kill completely. In either case, planeforged cannot be resurrected by soul-based magic such as the resurrection spell.

Plane Descriptions

Primal Planes

The Plane of Air

The Plane of Air is a soaring landscape unencumbered by gravity or ground. The vast expanses of empty air are littered with clouds and unpredictable winds. Any inhabitants of the plane must adapt to a highly mobile lifestyle. A number of towns and structures have been built in the plane using raw materials brought from other planes. They sail through the air at the whims of the wind, and are occasionally battered by intersections with other wind streams.

The Plane of Air has the following planar traits:

- Gravity strength: No gravity
- Light: Fixed source, from a sun outside the limits of the plane
- Limits: Barrier, formed from wind currents which push back with such force that nothing can travel far.
- Planar connectivity: Unstable connected
- Shape: Hollow sphere with a radius of about 2,000 miles.

The Plane of Earth

The Plane of Earth is a titanically large body of earth and stone. A labyrinthine series of mostly airless tunnels weave their way through the plane, connecting the few cities. The plane is a major source of valuable gems, diamonds, and rare metals like mithral, but the dense rock and airless environment make successful mining difficult. In addition, earthquakes periodically reshape the environment by collapsing old tunnel systems and constructing new ones. Some cities have been carved out in vast underground rooms reinforced to survive the earthquakes.

The Plane of Earth has the following planar traits:

- Gravity direction: Fixed
- Gravity strength: Normal
- Light: None, though cities tend to be well-lit
- Limits: Barrier, formed from increasingly dense rock that eventually becomes so hard that no known material or magic can damage it.
- Planar connectivity: Stable connected
- Shape: Hollow sphere with a radius of about 500 miles.

The Plane of Fire

The Plane of Fire is an endless searing inferno. The plane's essence is highly combustible, allowing fires to burn indefinitely without any obvious fuel. However, the intensity of flames on the plane are highly uneven, as the plane generates fuel in various locations that shift over time. Some pockets on the surface are devoid of natural fuel, allowing the construction of trading hubs where the few inhabitants of the plane who are not naturally immune to fire can survive.

The Plane of Fire has the following planar traits:

- Gravity direction: Fixed
- Gravity strength: Normal
- Light: None, though the constant fires provide sufficient illumination in most locations on the plane
- Limits: Barrier, formed from fires which burn so fiercely that further travel becomes physically impossible, even for creatures immune to fire.
- Planar connectivity: Unstable connected
- Shape: Flat surface, in a disc with a radius of about 2,000 miles.

The Plane of Water

The Plane of Water is an impossibly vast ocean. Powerful currents sweep through the ocean, but much of it is calm, and many forms of aquatic life abound in the water. The Plane of Water is the most densely populated Primal Plane, both by sentient creatures and monsters. Magnificent underwater cities are carved from huge rocks that float peacefully suspended in the water. Though there is no sun, simple creatures akin to plankton form the base of the food chain by feeding directly on the plane's essence.

The Plane of Water has the following planar traits:

- Gravity strength: No gravity
- Light: None, though bioluminescent creatures like plankton are extremely common, making many parts of the plane well-lit
- Limits: Barrier, formed from water currents which push back with such force that nothing can travel far.
- Planar connectivity: Stable connected
- Shape: Hollow sphere with a radius of about 1,000 miles.

Aligned Planes

The Celestial Heavens

The Celestial Heavens are beautiful and majestic. Mountains rise dramatically out of misty clouds, trees are massive and laden with delicious fruit, and buildings surpass the wildest dreams of mortal architects. A serene blue sky gives way to a night so lit by stars that it is almost as bright as the day.

The Abyss

The Abyss is a hellscape of fire, brimstone, and distant screaming. With the exception of the great palaces of demon princes, the buildings that exist are designed for defense rather than aesthetics. The terrain is typically rocky and dull, and most of the color belongs to carcasses left behind after violent battles.

All manner of nightmarish creatures stalk the Abyss. The best known of these creatures are demons and devils. Demons are formed when mortal souls are splintered by trauma. The soul splinters drift into the Astral Plane, and from there are guided to the Abyss by ancient astral currents. When they arrive in the Abyss, its planar essence envelops them in new planeforged body, much like dead souls gain new bodies in their proper afterlife.

Newly formed demons, known as demonspawn, are barely functional creatures. They are driven entirely by the primal emotion that separated the soul splinter from its original soul, such as rage, grief, or pain. This makes them functionally insane, and they are almost always driven to lash out at everything around them. Rage-born demons violently attack anything they see, pain-born demons try to lessen their pain by sharing it, and so on. When they succeed in their attacks, they can feed on the trauma they inflict, strengthening their soul. Unfortunately, this does not generally make them more sane, since they only feed on the same urges that created them.

Demonspawn instinctively avoid attacking other demonspawn, since they can find no gratification for their urges in attacking such small, broken souls. Instead, they hunt creatures with complete souls, which generally means attacking the afterlife bodies of evil-aligned creatures who went to the Abyss for their afterlife. The greatest feast, however, comes from attacking mortal souls, which are much easier to splinter. Demonic incursions into other planes are devastating but fortunately rare.

Unlike demons, devils are native to the Abyss itself. They are far more intelligent and organized than demons, but also far less numerous. Devils rule vast territories within the Abyss, using demons as their foot soldiers to protect and enlarge their territorial claims.

The only competition with devils for rulership of the Abyss comes from the evil deities and greater demons. Evil deities are fairly simple to deal with. They have absolute dominion over their own territory, so invading their lands is pointless. In addition, since their territorial limits come from their divine power rather than force of arms, they have little ability to expand or even exert significant influence outside of their own lands. As a result, devils and greater demons alike mostly ignore the deities.

Greater demons are much more troublesome. On rare occasions, demonspawn are so successful in their attacks that they claim soul splinters outside the scope of their original urges. This typically happens when demons find and break mortal souls. When this happens, the demonspawn gains a more complete soul, and becomes a little more sane. Often, this simply entices other demonspawn to attack and destroy the wayward demon. However, if the demon survives the attacks from its allies and repeats this process, it can grow in power.

Demons who have expanded their soul beyond a single soul splinter are called greater demons. Eventually, the demon can gain something resembling a complete soul from all of the splinters it has collected, making it a demon prince. Though more sane and functional than demonspawn, these more developed demons are no less evil. Both greater demons and demon princes have enough skill with splintering and manipulating souls to make pacts with warlocks. In addition, demon princes have the power to command armies of demonspawn and greater demons, allowing them to claim territory like devils do.

Ordus

Ordus is a masterpiece of logical organization. It is the most consistently civilized of the aligned planes, and the cities are exquisitely planned. However, laws are enforced with extreme severity. Outside of the cities, even the natural territories are cleanly and simply divided. A forest of evenly spaced trees might border a field in a sharp, clean transition along a perfectly straight line.

Discord

Discord is a wild maelstrom. Much of the plane can be freely reshaped with only minimal force of will. By working together, its inhabitants can create vast cities from thin air, though they can be destroyed with similar ease. Beyond the shaped spaces, the terrain is constantly changing. A field might grow trees that are consumed by a forest fire and then fall into chasms newly formed by an earthquake in a matter of minutes.

Nexus Planes

The Material Plane: The Material Plane is the plane that most Rise adventures begin on. The surface of the plane is a massive sphere with a radius of about 4,000 miles. It is the most familiar to most humanoid creatures.

The Material Plane has the following planar traits:

- Gravity direction: Absolute Directional, pointing to the center of the sphere
- Gravity strength: Normal
- Light: Mobile Source, from a sun and moon outside of the plane's limits
- Limits: Looped
- Planar connectivity: Isolated
- Shape: Solid Sphere, with a radius of about 4,000 miles.

The Astral Plane: The Astral Plane is the space between the other planes. It is a necessary intermediate destination for virtually all planar journeys, as all planar rifts lead to and from the Astral Plane. Most activity on the Astral Plane occurs in a space called the Inner Astral Plane, a massive but finite region where all planar rifts on the Astral Plane appear. However, unlike all other planes, the Astral Plane has no known limits to its extent, and may in fact be infinite. The area outside the Inner Astral Plane is known as the Deep Astral Plane, and few venture into those sparsely populated realms. The Deep Astral Plane has magical turbulence that interferes with long-range communication and transportation magic, making exploration difficult.

The Astral Plane has the following planar traits:

- Directional gravity: Subjective
- Gravity strength: Normal
- Light: Fixed Source, from the infinite reaches of the Deep Astral Plane
- Limits: Infinite
- Planar connectivity: Conduit
- Shape: Uniform

always considered to be attended by themselves, so they are never affected by abilities that only affect unattended objects, even while unconscious.

Creatures and Objects

In the world of Rise, creatures and objects are meaningfully different. Many abilities only affect creatures or objects. The difference between a creature and an object is defined as being agency. Creatures have agency, and objects do not. This is not the same as sentience or life, which either creatures or objects may have.

For example, skeletons are nonsapient, nonliving creatures. Conversely, trees are nonsapient, living objects. Some rare magic items can be made intelligent by magic, making them sapient, nonliving objects. Some unintelligent animals and magical beasts like ants and giant spiders are nonsapient, living creatures.

There are two types of creatures that break these rules: constructs and indwelt.

Constructs

Constructs are creatures that are made of nonsapient matter. Their inanimate bodies are given a semblance of life and sentience by some form of magic. Like other creatures, they can move and follow instructions. However, they lack agency and cannot make the independent decisions. They are mindless, making them immune to Compulsion and Emotion effects. Constructs lack a soul and cannot be resurrected by any means if they are destroyed.

Constructs are considered to be both creatures and objects, and are affected by abilities which affect either. They are not alive, and they do not need to eat, drink, or sleep. They are always considered to be attended by themselves, so they are never affected by abilities that only affect unattended objects, even while unconscious.

Indwelt

Indwelt are creatures that are made of nonsapient matter. Their inanimate bodies are awakened to life by connection to an external soul. They have agency and true intelligence like normal creatures.

The soul of an indwelt has no connection to the matter that composes its body. This contrasts with undead, which always maintain a connection between a body and its original soul. As a result, an indwelt's connection to its physical body is weak. If an indwelt is killed, it can be resurrected, but its previous body is not considered its corpse in the same way that a human's dead body is. This means it cannot be resurrected by magic that uses the corpse of the deceased creature.

Indwelt are considered to be both creatures and objects, and are affected by abilities which affect either. They are alive if their base matter is alive, but not if their base matter is dead or inorganic. If they are alive, they need to eat, drink, and sleep. They are

Characters

There are five major customization systems in Rise that all characters share. In rough order of how much they affect your character's play style, they are your class archetypes, attributes, skills, insight points, and species. At the GM's discretion, you may also have one or more feats, which can have a strong impact on your character's identity (see Feats, page 388).

This chapter explains those five fundamental elements. If you plan on playing a premade character, the information in this chapter will still be useful so you can understand how your character works, but you can skip the Character Creation section at the end. Some of the information in this chapter won't fully make sense until you've read future chapters. You can either skim past terms you don't yet understand or look them up as you go along.

Classes Overview

Each character has one of ten classes. Your class determines what your character's fundamental source of power is, and has a large impact on the play style of your character. Of course, any two members of the same class can be very different in both narrative style and mechanics based on the other choices they have made. Classes are intended as an aid to help give your character a cohesive identity, not a limitation on the possible character concepts you can fulfill.

The ten classes are briefly summarized below. Each class has five archetypes, and any individual character chooses three of the five archetypes from their class. For full details about how each class works, see Classes, page 66.

- Barbarians are primal warriors who draw power from their physical prowess and unfettered emotions.
- Clerics are divine spellcasters who draw power from their veneration of a single deity.
- Druids are nature spellcasters who draw power from their veneration of the natural world.
- Fighters are highly disciplined warriors who excel in physical combat of any kind.
- Monks are agile masters of "ki" who hone their personal abilities to strike down foes and perform supernatural feats.
- Paladins are divinely empowered warriors who exemplify a particular alignment.
- Rangers are skilled hunters who bridge the divide between nature and civilization.

- Rogues are exceptionally skillful characters known for their ability to strike at their foe's weak points in combat.
- Sorcerers are arcane spellcasters who draw power from their inherently magical nature.
- Warlocks are pact spellcasters who draw their power from a sinister deal made with infernal creatures.
- Wizards are arcane spellcasters who study magic to unlock its powerful secrets.

Attributes

Each character has six attributes: Strength (Str), Dexterity (Dex), Constitution (Con), Intelligence (Int), Perception (Per), and Willpower (Wil). Each attribute represents a character's raw talent in that area.

A 0 in an attribute represents average human capacity. That doesn't mean that every commoner has a 0 in every attribute; not everyone is average, after all.

Strength (Str)

Strength measures your muscle and physical power. Characters with a high Strength tend to have strong offensive capabilities with nonmagical abilities, and prefer wearing heavier armor. It has the following effects:

- Strength determines how much you can carry (see Table 4.2: Weight Limits by Strength, page 39). You generally need a Strength of at least 1 to wear heavy body armor.
- You add your Strength to your mundane power (see Power, page 33).
- You add your Strength to your level to determine your accuracy with Brawling attacks (see Brawling Accuracy, page 33).
- A very high Strength can allow you to use Heavy weapons in one hand (see Weapon Tags, page 165).
- If your Strength is positive, you reduce your encumbrance from armor by an amount equal to your Strength (see Encumbrance, page 33).
- You add your Strength to Strength-based skills: Climb, Jump, and Swim (see Skills, page 144).

Dexterity (Dex)

Dexterity measures your hand-eye coordination, agility, and reflexes. Characters with a high Dexterity tend to have strong defensive capabilities, and prefer wearing lighter armor. It has the following effects:

- You add your Dexterity to your Armor defense. This bonus can be reduced if you use medium or heavy armor (see Table 8.10: Armor and Shields, page 183).
- You add your Dexterity to your Reflex defense.
- You add your Dexterity to Dexterity-based skills: Balance, Flexibility, Ride, Sleight of Hand, and Stealth (see Skills, page 144).

Constitution (Con)

Constitution represents your health and stamina. Characters with a high Constitution tend to have strong defensive capabilities. It has the following effects:

- Your Constitution increases your hit points, as defined by your class (see Classes, page 66).
- You add your Constitution to your fatigue tolerance (see Fatigue, page 34).
- You add your Constitution to your Fortitude defense.
- You add your Constitution to the Constitution-based skill: Endurance (see Skills, page 144).

Intelligence (Int)

Intelligence represents how well you learn and reason. Characters with a high Intelligence tend to have more options and special abilities. It has the following effects:

- If your Intelligence is positive, you gain a number of trained skills equal to your Intelligence (see Trained Skills, page 144).
- You add your Intelligence to the number of insight points you gain (see Insight Points, page 25).
- You add your Intelligence to Intelligence-based skills: Craft, Deduction, Disguise, Knowledge, and Medicine (see Skills, page 144).

Non-sentient creatures like animals have an Intelligence of -6 or lower. Sentient creatures have an Intelligence of at least -5.

Perception (Per)

Perception describes your ability to observe and be aware of your surroundings. Characters with a high Perception tend to have strong offensive capabilities. It has the following effects:

- You add your Perception to your level to determine your accuracy with almost all attacks (see Accuracy, page 33).
- You add your Perception to Perception-based skills: Awareness, Creature Handling, Social Insight, and Survival (see Skills, page 144).

Willpower (Wil)

Willpower represents your ability to endure mental hardships. Characters with a high Willpower tend to be better at attacking with and defending against magical abilities. It has the following effects:

- You add your Willpower to your magical power (see Power, page 33).
- You add your Willpower to your Mental defense.

Determining Attributes

There are two common ways for you to determine your attribute scores: using a predefined set of scores, or using a point buy system. Once you have chosen your attributes and applied your species modifier to attributes (if any), you should record in your character sheets the various effects that your attributes have on your statistics.

Predefined Attribute Scores

This is the simplest method. Simply take the following set of attribute scores and distribute them as you choose among your attributes:

3, 2, 2, 2, 1, 0

This set of attribute scores is called the “elite array”. For more extreme characters, you may use the “savant array”:

4, 2, 2, 1, 0, 0

Finally, for more well-rounded characters, you may use the “balanced array”:

2, 2, 2, 2, 2, 0

Point Buy

With this method, you can fully control your attribute scores to precisely match what you want to be able to do. All your attribute scores start at 0. You get 15 points to distribute among your attributes. Attributes can be bought according to the costs on Table 3.1: Attribute Point Costs. The listed cost is the total cost required to gain the listed attribute.

Table 3.1: Attribute Point Costs

| Attribute | Cumulative Point Cost |
|-----------|-----------------------|
| 0 | 0 |
| 1 | 1 |
| 2 | 3 |
| 3 | 5 |
| 4 | 8 |

Attribute Penalties

You can voluntarily take penalties to your attributes. If you reduce an attribute by a total of -1, you gain an additional trained skill (see Trained Skills, page 144). If you reduce an attribute by a total of -2, you instead gain an additional insight point (see Insight Points, page 25). You cannot gain these benefits from reducing more than two attributes below 0 in this way. In addition, you can never reduce an attribute below -2 in this way, including any attribute modifiers from your species.

Skills Overview

Skills represent the myriad of talents that people can have, such as cooking or swimming. Each character is trained in a certain number of skills. If you are trained in a skill, you have a higher likelihood of succeeding when you try to use it. The number of skills you are trained in is mostly determined by your class and Intelligence.

The twenty-six skills are summarized below. For full details about how each skill works, see Skills, page 144.

- The Awareness skill represents your ability to observe things which you might otherwise fail to notice.
- The Balance skill represents your ability to maintain your balance and poise in difficult circumstances.
- The Climb skill represents your ability to climb obstacles.
- The Craft skills represent your ability to construct objects from raw materials.
- The Creature Handling skill represents your ability to influence non-sapient creatures.
- The Deception skill represents your ability to lie or otherwise mislead people without being caught.
- The Deduction skill represents your ability to make logical deductions based on evidence.
- The Devices skill represents your ability to manipulate mechanical devices such as locks, traps, and other contraptions.
- The Disguise skill represents your ability to create disguises to conceal the appearance of creatures or objects.
- The Endurance skill represents your ability to persevere through physical trials.
- The Flexibility skill represents your ability to escape bindings and move through small areas by contorting your body.
- The Intimidate skill represents your ability to intimidate and coerce people into doing what you want.
- The Jump skill represents your ability to jump.
- The Knowledge skills represent your understanding of particular aspects of the world.
- The Medicine skill represents your practical understanding of how to tend to the wounds of living creatures.
- The Perform skills represent your ability to create particular forms of entertainment.
- The Persuasion skill represents your ability to convince people to think what you want them to.
- The Profession skills represent your practical understanding of a particular profession.
- The Ride skill represents your ability to ride and control horses and other mounts.
- The Sleight of Hand skill represents your ability to pick pockets, palm objects, and perform other feats of legerdemain.
- The Social Insight skill represents your ability to read body language and emotion.
- The Stealth skill represents your ability to escape detection while moving or taking large-scale actions.
- The Survival skill represents your ability to take care of yourself and others in the wilderness, including the ability to follow tracks.

- The Swim skill represents your ability to swim.

Insight Points

You can spend insight points to gain new special abilities. Your class gives you a certain number of insight points, and you gain a bonus (or penalty) to that number of insight points equal to your Intelligence. Some abilities can also grant insight points.

You can spend two insight points to become a multiclass character (see Multiclass Characters, page 66). In addition, every class has at least one way to spend insight points to learn additional abilities. These options are listed below.

- Barbarian: Combat styles, exotic weapons, and maneuvers
- Cleric: Mystic spheres and spells
- Druid: Mystic spheres, spells, and wild aspects
- Fighter: Battle tactics, combat styles, and maneuvers
- Fighter: Combat styles, ki manifestations, and maneuvers
- Paladin: Mystic spheres and spells
- Ranger: Combat styles, hunting styles, and maneuvers
- Rogue: Bardic performances, combat styles, maneuvers, and trained skills
- Sorcerer: Mystic spheres and spells
- Warlock: Mystic spheres and spells
- Wizard: Metamagic, mystic spheres, and spells

Species

Each character has a species. There are seven common species described below. At the GM's discretion, you may be able to play a character with a more unusual species (see Uncommon Species, page 420).

Humans

Humans are the most common and least rigidly defined of all Rise species. They are not the smartest, the strongest, or the most durable of the civilized races. They have no supernatural senses or impossible talents; anything a human can do, a member of another species could do at least as well. Despite their limitations, humans are practically universal, and their civilizations are the most powerful and numerous of all.

The success of humanity comes from one core strength: their adaptability, both individually and as a whole. Individual humans can learn new skills with surprising ease compared to other species, and they often have a breadth of talent that few can rival. The relatively short human lifespan prevents their society from stagnating under the guidance of elders whose wisdom is now hundreds of years out of date. When radical changes sweep the world, humans can adapt where other species would founder.

Size: Medium.

Attributes: See the Versatile ability.

Special Abilities:

- Skilled: Humans gain an additional trained skill (see Skills, page 144).
- Versatile: Humans gain a +1 bonus to any attribute. This cannot increase that attribute above 4 when attributes are initially determined (see Attributes, page 23). That attribute can later be increased above 4, such as by the attribute bonus at level 3 (see Character Advancement and Gaining Levels, page 34).

Automatic Language: Common, any two common languages or one rare language (see Communication and Languages, page 40).

Dwarves

Dwarves are short, stout, and sturdy. It has been said that the first dwarf was carved from stone, and the similarities have been noted by many. All dwarves naturally have beards, and the vast majority keep them long and elegantly maintained.

Most dwarves live underground in mining communities. These communities can grow to massive size, and dwarven kings can rule vast underground cities. The dwarven fascination with strong drink is legendary, though somewhat misleading. Their natural resilience means they need stronger drinks to even notice the effects, so other species tend to gain an exaggerated impression of dwarven drunkenness when they try to drink dwarven ale.

Size: Medium.

Attributes: +1 Constitution, +1 Willpower, -1 Dexterity.

Special Abilities:

- Darkvision: Dwarves have darkvision with a 60 foot range, allowing them to see in complete darkness (see Darkvision, page 385).
- Depth Sense: Dwarves can intuitively sense their approximate depth underground as naturally as a human can sense which way is up.
- Earthen Crafting: Dwarves gain a +2 bonus to the Craft (metal) and Craft (stone) skills.
- Slow and Steady: Dwarves have a -10 foot penalty to their speed with all movement modes. However, wearing heavy body armor does not reduce a dwarf's speed (see Armor Usage Classes, page 181). In addition, a dwarf's land speed cannot be more than 10 feet slower than their base speed, even while slowed (half speed, -2 Armor and Ref) or under similar effects.

Automatic Languages: Common, Dwarven, any one common language (see Table 4.4: Common Languages, page 40).

Elves

Elves are tall, lithe, and graceful. They tend to have an air of confidence at all times, and even their mistakes seem intentional. Elves have the longest lifespan of any civilized species, and even comparatively young elves carry a weight of experience that can be daunting for non-elves.

For millenia, elves were the most powerful civilization above ground, while dwarves claimed the underground. More recently, humans have usurped elves as the most powerful civilization above ground, while dwarves have kept their claim. This history, combined with their natural differences, has created an ancient rivalry between elves and dwarves that sometimes manifests as outright hatred.

Size: Medium.

Attributes: -1 Constitution, either +1 Dexterity or +1 Perception.

Special Abilities:

- Elven Serenity: Elves gain a +1 bonus to Mental defense.
- Keen Senses: Elves gain a +2 bonus to the Awareness skill (see Awareness, page 145).
- Low-light Vision: Elves have low-light vision, allowing them to see clearly in shadowy illumination (see Low-light Vision, page 386).
- Sure-Footed: Elves gain a +2 bonus to the Balance and Stealth skills (see Balance, page 146, and Stealth, page 159).
- Trance: Elves do not sleep, and are immune to magical ✨ effects that would cause them to sleep. Instead of sleeping, elves can trance for 4 hours. An elf in trance may make Perception-based checks at a -5 penalty. Elves must still avoid strenuous activity for 8 hours to heal and gain other benefits of taking a long rest.

Automatic Languages: Common, Elven, any one common language (see Table 4.4: Common Languages, page 40).

Gnomes

Gnomes are the smallest, most magical, and most short-lived of the civilized species. Their large eyes and heads give even adult gnomes almost child-like proportions. Fae blood runs in the blood of all gnomes, and gnome societies have many traditions and rituals that seem superstitious to outsiders. However, these rituals have a purpose, and gnomes understand that failing to appease the hidden powers in the world can have dangerous consequences.

Most gnomes live in forests, but they can be found in remote areas all over the world. Gnomish settlements are almost always overseen by minor fae, such as dryads, who protect the settlement. In many cases, the settlements were originally built around a site of mystic power, though some settlements have outlived their original protectors.

Size: Medium.

Attributes: -1 Strength, either +1 Constitution or +1 Intelligence.

Special Abilities:

- Fae Light [✨]: A gnome can use the fae light ability as a standard action.

Fae Light

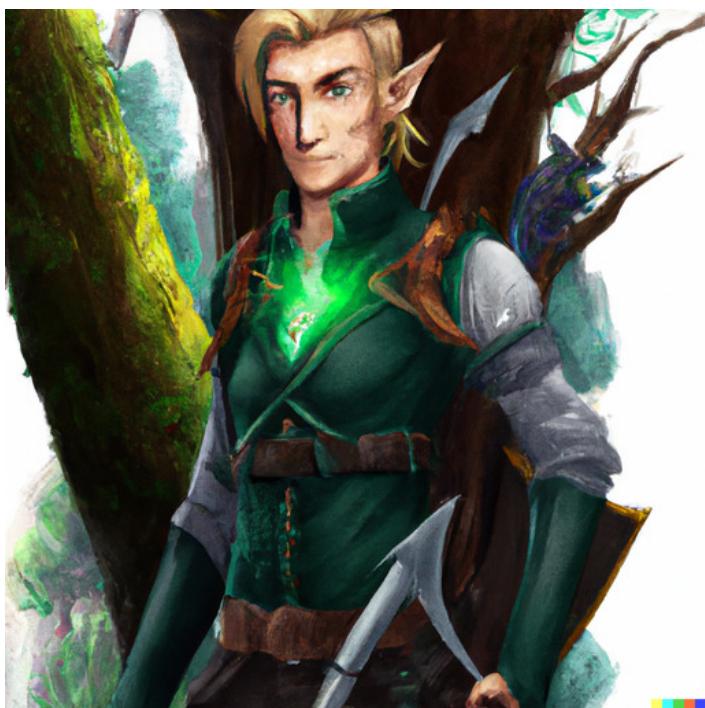

A Tiny glowing orb appears at a location within Medium (60 ft.) range. It sheds pale, bright illumination in a Small (15 ft.) radius, and shadowy illumination in a Medium (30 ft.) radius. The orb is intangible, and cannot be moved once placed.

This ability lasts until you use it again or until you dismiss it as a free action.

- Magic Affinity: Gnomes gain an additional insight point. They can only spend this insight point to learn magical ✨ abilities, such as spells.
- Short Stature: Gnomes gain a +3 bonus to the Stealth skill.
- Tinkerer: Gnomes gain a +2 bonus to one Craft skill of their choice (see Craft, page 148).

Automatic Languages: Common, Gnome, either Sylvan or any one common language (see Table 4.4: Common Languages, page 40).

Half-Elves

Half-elves carry both human and elven heritage. They are caught between two worlds, with neither the unconscious grace of elves nor the limitless adaptability of humans. However, they have their own unique forms of versatility based on their understanding of both worlds.

Size: Medium.

Attributes: No change.

Special Abilities:

- Diplomatic: Half-elves gain a +2 bonus to the Persuasion skill.
- Keen Senses: Half-elves gain a +2 bonus to the Awareness skill (see Awareness, page 145).

- Low-light Vision: Half-elves have low-light vision, allowing them to see clearly in shadowy illumination (see Low-light Vision, page 386).
- Versatile: Half-elves only need to spend one insight point to gain access to an additional class (see Multiclass Characters, page 66).

Automatic Language: Common, Elven, any two common languages or one rare language (see Communication and Languages, page 40).

Half-Orcs

Half-orcs carry both human and orcish heritage. They have much of the brute strength of orcs, but tempered by human adaptability.

Size: Medium.

Attributes: +1 Strength, -1 Intelligence.

Special Abilities:

- Darkvision: Half-orcs have darkvision with a 60 foot range, allowing them to see in complete darkness (see Darkvision, page 385).
- Intimidating: Half-orcs gain a +2 bonus to the Intimidate skill (see Intimidate, page 152).
- Physical Instincts: Half-orcs gain an additional insight point. They can only spend this insight point to learn mundane abilities, such as combat styles and maneuvers.

Automatic Languages: Common, Orcish.

Halflings

Halflings stand at about half the height of a human, but have generally human-like proportions. They tend to be plucky, adventurous, and outgoing. Of all species, halflings have the fewest halfling-only communities. Instead, halfling groups tend to live in the gaps between the “big people”, especially in large cities.

Size: Medium.

Attributes: -1 Strength, either +1 Dexterity or +1 Willpower.

Special Abilities:

- Nimble Combatant: Halflings gain a +1 bonus to Reflex defense.
- Short Stature: Halflings gain a +3 bonus to the Stealth skill.
- Stout-Hearted: Halflings gain a +1 bonus to Mental defense.
- Sure-Footed: Halflings gain a +2 bonus to the Balance skill (see Balance, page 146).

Automatic Languages: Common, Halfling, any one common language (see Table 4.4: Common Languages, page 40).

Alignment

A creature’s general moral and personal attitudes can be represented by its alignment: lawful good, neutral good, chaotic good, lawful neutral, neutral, chaotic neutral, lawful evil, neutral evil, or chaotic evil.

Alignment is a tool for developing your character’s perspective. It is not a straitjacket to restrict your actions. Each alignment represents a broad range of personality types or personal philosophies, so two characters of the same alignment can still be quite different from each other. In addition, few people are completely consistent.

Aligned Characters

Alignment is a spectrum, not a binary. Some characters are defined as being “good” or “evil”, but this is a broad definition with a great deal of variation. Only angels and demons are “pure” good or evil.

Approximately half of the general population of the world is neutral between good and evil, with a quarter being good and another quarter being evil. This does not mean that a quarter of people are all saintly do-gooders and another quarter are all psychotic murderers. It would be more accurate to say “good” people are simply the most altruistic quarter of the population. There are a rare few saints, but all good characters have some amount of selfishness in particular contexts. Likewise, evil characters may act altruistically in some situations still having a fundamentally selfish nature.

A similar ratio exists for law and chaos. This means that the overall population follows the ratios given in Table 3.2: Aligned Population Ratios. Of course, these populations are not distributed equally in the world. In general, humanoid civilization tends to have more good and lawful characters, and monsters tend to be more chaotic and evil. The GM can give more context about how alignment is used in their specific world. Of course, the GM can also redefine good and evil itself, so talk with them if alignment is important to you or your character.

Monsters have their typical alignments listed in their description. Even monsters who are listed as “always good” or “always evil” are not maximally good or evil – just good or evil enough to fall into that quartile. Many evil monsters can be perfectly reasonable if they are capable of speech, and will uphold bargains that serve their interests. Likewise, good monsters have their own objectives, and will not simply do whatever an adventuring party asks of them.

Table 3.2: Aligned Population Ratios

| Alignment | Good | Neutral | Evil |
|----------------|-------|---------|-------|
| Lawful | 6.25% | 12.5% | 6.25% |
| Neutral | 12.5% | 25% | 12.5% |
| Chaotic | 6.25% | 12.5% | 6.25% |

Good vs. Evil

Distinguishing good from evil is a deeply complex task. In a universe where angels, demons, and deities exist and interact with the affairs of mortals, being able to clearly define good and evil is important. For the purposes of Rise, good and evil are strictly defined according to the intentions of one’s actions, not their eventual outcomes. Good intentions are altruistic, and evil intentions are selfish.

This model for good and evil has limited value as a moral system for the real world, and it neglects several dimensions of morality that people might consider important. It is intentionally vague about what constitutes “other beings”, and reasonable characters might disagree about how to consider the needs of non-sentient living things like plants and animals. However, is a useful way to define alignment as a character trait and roleplaying tool. Good characters have recognizably different behaviors from evil characters, but they are not so intrinsically opposed that they can't coexist in the same group of adventurers. Evil characters may cause you problems if you get in their way, but no civilized area would allow simply killing evil on sight.

Good: Good intentions are altruistic. They are based on respect and empathetic consideration for other beings.

A good character will try to learn what other beings want or need so they can help most effectively. They might try to keep everyone's spirits up with cameraderie and good humor, donate money whenever possible to help those in need, or dedicate their life to punishing criminals and protecting the innocent. Good characters may have significant disagreements about what actions are best, and not all care about some lofty "greater good". Some believe that self-sacrifice is noble, while many would say that it does more harm than good to neglect your own needs. There are many interpretations of altruism.

Even an action with good intentions may have disastrous consequences. Unintentionally causing harm does not make a character evil, but good characters pay attention to the effects their actions have in practice. If a good character caused harm, intentionally or otherwise, they would try to rectify their mistake.

Evil: Evil intentions are selfish. They come from prioritizing one's own desires when that conflicts with the knowable needs and desires of other beings.

An evil character will generally not care what other beings want or need unless they personally benefit from that knowledge. They might betray allies, break laws or abuse legal loopholes to gain an advantage, or bully other creatures into doing their bidding. Evil characters may take actions that help others and can even work effectively as a team, but their ultimate motivation is to help themselves or make themselves feel better, not to help others.

Neutral: Characters that are neutral between good and evil are neither consistently altruistic nor consistently selfish. Most neutral characters behave altruistically in some ways and selfishly in other ways – either at different times, or about different aspects of life. They often have strong bonds to particular individuals who they care about selflessly, but are not altruistic in a general sense.

Intentions that do not involve other beings are neither good nor evil. Similarly, actions taken to meet one's own mandatory needs are neither good nor evil. Wild animals may act primarily out of self-interest, but since they generally lack the capacity to recognize the needs and desires of other beings, they are considered neutral rather than good or evil.

Law vs. Chaos

Law: Lawful characters value consistency. They obey rules that guide their actions. Some lawful characters draw their rules from external forces, such as serving a particular master or following the legal laws of the land. Other lawful characters follow rules they make for themselves.

Chaos: Chaotic characters value flexibility and freedom. They make decisions based on what they think or feel at the time, even if it is inconsistent with their previous statements or actions.

Neutral: Characters that are neutral between law and chaos are neither exceptionally consistent nor exceptionally inconsistent. They tend to be generally consistent but may change their minds under the right circumstances. Non-sapient beings such as animals are neutral rather than lawful or chaotic.

Personal Appearance

Age

The typical age for each species is listed in Table 3.3: Typical Ages. If you are old, you take a -2 penalty to checks based on Strength, Dexterity, Constitution, and Perception. However, you gain a +2 bonus to checks based on Intelligence and Willpower. If you are venerable, these modifiers change to -4 and +4 respectively. In general, player characters should not start as old or venerable age, but the GM can always allow it for specific campaigns if they want.

When you reach venerable age, the GM secretly rolls your maximum age, which is the number from the Venerable column on Table 3.3: Typical Ages plus the result of the dice roll indicated on the Maximum Age column on that table. They record the result. If you reach your maximum age, you die of old age at some time during the following year.

The maximum ages are for player characters. Most people in the world at large die from pestilence, accidents, infections, or violence before getting to venerable age.

Height and Weight

The typical height and weight for each species is listed in Table 3.4: Typical Height and Weight, page 31. The average man from each species is slightly taller and heavier than the average woman, but this is not a restriction for player characters.

Character Creation

Creating a character involves a mixture of thematic and mechanical decisions that will work together to create a fun character that is rewarding to play. As mentioned earlier in this chapter, there are four core systems for customizing your character's mechanics: class, attributes, skills, and species. In addition, there are five core thematic considerations when creating a character: concept, personality, motivation, background, and appearance.

These decisions are described below in an order that makes sense for many characters, and full details for each decision are given after this initial list. It is essentially a sandwich, with narrative decisions wrapped around a central core of your character's mechanical components. However, you can make several of these decisions in any order, and you may find it easier to create a character in a different way. The only real limitation is that your skills must be the last mechanical choice you make, since they are strongly affected by all of your other choices.

1. Character concept: Describe your character with a short, simple phrase that captures their essence.
2. Motivation and goal: Describe what your character wants.

Table 3.3: Typical Ages

| Species | Adulthood | Middle Age | Old | Venerable | Maximum Age |
|----------|-----------|------------|-----------|-----------|-------------|
| Human | 15 years | 35 years | 55 years | 70 years | +4d10 years |
| Dwarf | 40 years | 125 years | 190 years | 250 years | +2d% years |
| Elf | 110 years | 175 years | 250 years | 350 years | +4d% years |
| Gnome | 10 years | 25 years | 40 years | 55 years | +1d10 years |
| Half-elf | 20 years | 60 years | 90 years | 125 years | +6d10 years |
| Half-orc | 14 years | 30 years | 45 years | 60 years | +2d10 years |
| Halfling | 20 years | 50 years | 75 years | 100 years | +1d% years |

Table 3.4: Typical Height and Weight

| Species | Average Height | Average Weight |
|----------|----------------|----------------|
| Human | 5' 5" | 150 lb. |
| Dwarf | 4' 2" | 160 lb. |
| Elf | 5' 8" | 140 lb. |
| Gnome | 3' 4" | 50 lb. |
| Half-elf | 5' 6" | 140 lb. |
| Half-orc | 5' 10" | 200 lb. |

3. Alignment: Describe your character's moral compass.
4. Species: Define your character's species.
5. Attributes: Define your character's fundamental physical and mental potential.
6. Class archetypes: Define your character's source of power.
7. Insight points: Learn new abilities.
8. Skills: Define your character's areas of non-combat expertise.
9. Personality: Describe how your character acts and reacts to the world.
10. Background: Describe what made your character become who they are now.
11. Appearance: Describe what your character looks like.
12. Name: Choose a name.

Step 1: Character Concept

Fundamentally, who is your character? You should think of a short phrase that describes the core concept behind the character you will create. It's best to think in broad strokes when creating a character concept. Your concept should be more than just a factual description of your species or what you do. It should be something that makes you memorable. Some sample character concepts are given below for inspiration.

- Pragmatic wanderer
- Artistic pixie
- Mushroom-obsessed hermit
- Bumbling do-gooder
- Dim-witted bodyguard
- Cowardly storyteller
- Bear-barian
- Parsimonious law enforcer
- Peaceful naturalist
- Trigger-happy pyromaniac
- Heroic, simple-minded warrior

- Friendly necromancer
- Chaotic speed demon
- Pompous ex-noble
- Sarcastic mercenary
- Battle-scarred priest
- Ambitious arcane prodigy
- Charismatic musician
- Aloof scholar
- Blunt-spoken warrior
- Crazed prophet
- Polite warrior
- World-weary pirate
- Devout cultist
- Con artist with a heart of gold

Step 2: Motivation and Goal

Why does your character put in all of the effort that adventuring requires? They probably have a goal that they are trying to achieve, or an ideal that they are trying to embody. Writing down a specific goal or ideal can be helpful as an anchor point when defining the character.

Step 3: Species

It's often convenient to make your species your first mechanically relevant choice. Your species can have a strong effect on your personality and narrative, but it has a relatively small effect on your character's play style. It's also easier to know your species before you choose your attributes, since your species can slightly modify your attributes.

Choose one of the seven common species options, or talk with your GM about choosing an uncommon species (see Uncommon Species, page 420). Record any specific abilities the species gives you on your character sheet, but if this is your first mechanical choice, you won't be able to finalize any of your statistics yet. You should also choose the languages that you can speak, since that is influenced by your species (see Communication and Languages, page 40).

Step 4: Attributes

Your attributes are a good option for your second mechanically relevant choice. They have a large impact on your character's strengths and weaknesses, so it's useful to know them as soon as possible. They're also much easier to understand and finalize than your class archetypes. For details, see Determining Attributes, page 24.

Step 5: Class and Class Archetypes

This is the most complicated choice you have to make for your character. It requires the most reading in the Classes chapter to understand what your options are and which classes and class archetypes are interesting to you. Class details can be found in Classes, page 66.

You should choose one of the ten classes, and then any one of the five archetypes within that class. You gain the rank 1 ability from that archetype. You should also choose the weapon groups that you have access to, since that is influenced by your class (see Weapon Groups, page 163).

When you reach levels 2 and 3, you'll choose new archetypes from the same class, becoming rank 1 in each of those archetypes as well. After that, you won't gain any more new archetypes when you gain levels. Instead, you'll just increase your rank in the three archetypes you already have.

If you are particularly adventurous, this is also when you should choose if you want to be a multiclass character. Multiclass characters can gain access to archetypes from multiple classes. This does not increase the number of archetypes you know, so it does not directly increase your power. However, multiclass characters can be more specialized or more versatile than single-class characters, and can represent unusual character concepts. For details, see Multiclass Characters, page 66.

Step 6: Insight Points

Once you have chosen your class archetypes, attributes, and species, you know how many insight points you have, and can choose how to spend them. Don't forget to record on your character sheet how you spent each insight point. Otherwise, you might get confused later about why you have more spells known than you normally would.

In some circumstances, you might want to delay spending your insight points until you are higher level. For example, a fighter/sorcerer multiclass character who wants to have both spells and maneuvers can't have access to both spells and maneuvers at level 1, so they wouldn't be able to spend insight points on both spells and maneuvers. You aren't forced to spend all of your insight points, so you can save them up for later. You can also talk to your GM about spending them at level 1 and then retraining those insight points once you are higher level.

Step 7: Skills

You should choose which skills you have as trained skills (see Skills, page 144). Your class gives you a certain number of trained skills from among the class skills for that class. The class skills for each class are summarized in Table 7.1: Class Skills, page 145.

There are other ways to become trained in skills that are not part of your class. If your Intelligence is positive, you gain additional trained skills equal to your Intelligence. You can also spend insight points to gain one trained skill per insight point (see Insight Points, page 25). Some abilities can grant additional trained skills.

If you are untrained in a skill, your bonus with that skill is equal to half of its associated attribute (if any). If you are trained in a skill, your bonus with that skill is equal to $3 + \text{the higher of its associated attribute (if any)}$ and half your level. Many abilities can increase or decrease your bonus with particular skills.

The number of skills you can have trained, and which skills those are, depend on every preceding step, so it's a good place to finish.

Sometimes, you might have more trained skills than you know what to do with, especially if you are still figuring out the details of your character concept. You aren't forced to decide all of your trained skills at level 1, so you can save them up and choose more trained skills when you level up. You can also talk to your GM about letting you decide your trained skills on the fly during the first game session or two based on what actions you take during the session. This can be a fun way to figure out what your character's personality is through the process of playing them.

Step 8: Starting Equipment

When you create a character, they can start with some basic items. Items have item ranks that indicate the approximate rank that characters can reasonably get access to them. Typically, you can start with a single rank 1 item, up to three rank 0 items, and a standard adventuring kit. Individual campaigns or character backstories may significantly change what starting equipment is available, so check with your GM.

Step 9: Personality

How does your character behave? You should decide, in broad terms, what your character's personality is. This will change over time, especially as you start playing the character in the game, so you don't need to define everything perfectly. However, having a general sense of how your character behaves is helpful.

For most games, it's important to have a personality that can tolerate working with others in a group. A character that is excessively aloof, moody, or obnoxious can make the game more difficult to enjoy for everyone. Likewise, a character who tries to speak for everyone or who repeatedly steals the spotlight from others can be frustrating to work with. You should figure out the right balance with your fellow players and your GM.

Step 10: Background

What happened in their character's past to make them the way that they are? What were their parents like, and where are they now? You don't have to have all of the answers when you first create a character, but it's good to have some idea. The richer your backstory, the more the GM can weave that into the narrative of the current story. Sometimes, it's fun to take a break from saving the world to go visit someone's grandma.

Step 11: Appearance

What does your character look like? What would someone's first impression of them be? This can be helpful for understanding how other characters in the game world - or even monsters - would react to you.

Step 12: Alignment

Your character's alignment reflects their moral character: are they more inclined to good or evil, and to chaos or order? Alignments are described in more detail at Alignment, page 29.

Step 13: Name

What is your character's name? This seemingly minor choice can reveal a lot about the tone your character will set in the universe. If your name is Sir Patty Cakes or Shanky, the game is likely to be lighter and sillier in tone. Fancy fantasy-appropriate names like Ayala or Theodolus tend to push the game in a slightly more serious direction, especially if you make the daring choice to include a canonical last name. As always, stay in tune with what the GM and the other players are expecting.

Character Statistics

Accuracy

Your accuracy with an attack is the number that you add to the attack roll. Your accuracy is equal to half the sum of your level and Perception. Many abilities can also modify your accuracy.

Brawling Accuracy

Some abilities have the Brawling tag. Your accuracy with those abilities is equal to half the sum of your level and Strength. Most Brawling abilities are listed at Special Combat Abilities, page 59.

Damage Resistance

Your damage resistance measures how much damage you can shrug off without any effects. For details about how damage resistance is used, see Taking Damage, page 51.

You do not intrinsically have any damage resistance. Wearing armor can significantly increase your damage resistance (see Armor, page 181). In addition, some class abilities and magic items can also increase it.

Defenses

Usually, when you are attacked, the attacker has to make an attack roll against one of your four defenses (see Attack Rolls, page 49). If the attack roll is at least as high as that defense, the attack hits. The four defenses are described below.

- Armor defense (AD): Your Armor defense protects you from normal physical attacks, such as attempts to hit you with a sword. It is the most commonly used defense.

- Reflex defense: Your Reflex protects you from physical attacks that armor does not help against, such as pit traps or bolts of lightning.
- Fortitude defense: Your Fortitude defense protects you from attacks you have to physically endure or resist, such as poisons and life-draining spells.
- Mental defense: Your Mental defense protects you from attacks you have to mentally endure or resist, such as terrifying creatures and magical mind manipulation.

Your defenses are calculated in the following way:

- Armor: Half level + Dexterity (modified depending on equipped armor) + class defense bonus + defense bonuses from equipped body armor and shield
- Fortitude: Half level + Constitution + class defense bonus
- Reflex: Half level + Dexterity + class defense bonus
- Mental: Half level + Willpower + class defense bonus

Each defense may also have various bonuses or penalties applied by special abilities.

Encumbrance

Your encumbrance is a value that represents how much you are burdened by your armor (see Armor, page 181). You apply your encumbrance as a penalty to all Strength and Dexterity-based checks you make. If your Strength is positive, you reduce your encumbrance by an amount equal to your Strength. This cannot reduce your encumbrance below 0.

Hit Points

Your hit points measure how hard you are to seriously injure or kill. For details about how hit points are used, see Taking Damage, page 51.

The way you calculate your hit points is defined by your class (see Classes, page 66). Increasing your level and Constitution will increase your hit points.

What Hit Points Represent: Hit points represent a combination of durability, luck, divine providence, and sheer determination, depending on the nature of the creature being damaged. When lose hit points from an orc with a greataxe, the axe did not literally carve into your skin without affecting your ability to fight. Instead, you avoided the worst of the blow, but it bruised you through your armor, the effort to dodge the blow fatigued you, or it barely nicked you through sheer luck – and everyone's luck runs out eventually.

Power

Your power is a general representation of how strong your abilities are. You have two types of power: your magical power, which affects your magical ✨ abilities, and your mundane power, which affects your mundane abilities. If you gain a bonus to your power, and it does not specify which type of power it affects, it affects both your magical power and your mundane power.

Your mundane power is equal to your Strength + half your level. Similarly, your magical power is equal to your Willpower + half your level. If this total is negative, you subtract that value from the damage you deal, ignoring the stated power scaling on the ability. For example, a strike with a broadsword would normally deal 1d6 damage +1 per 2 power. A level 1 character with a -2 Strength would deal 1d6 - 2 damage, to a minimum of 0.

Many abilities have stronger effects depending on your power, especially damaging abilities. For example, you gain a +1 bonus to your weapon damage for every 2 power you have (see Strikes, page 58).

Resources

Attunement Points

Many special abilities and magic items only function as long as a creature attunes to them. The number of effects that you can attune to is based on the number of attunement points that you have. Most effects require only a single attunement point, but some require two. For details, see Attunement, page 40.

Your class gives you a certain number of attunement points. A small number of abilities can also grant additional attunement points.

Fatigue

Throughout the day, you can become fatigued by your exertions both in and out of combat. While hit points are easy to restore, reducing your fatigue level generally requires a long rest. Fatigue is still easier to recover from than vital wounds.

Fatigue Level

Your fatigue level measures how fatigued you are. A number of abilities and attacks can cause you to increase your fatigue level. The most common abilities that increase your fatigue level are the desperate exertion, recover, and sprint abilities. All of those abilities are described in Universal Abilities, page 58.

Fatigue Tolerance

Becoming slightly fatigued is not immediately detrimental. Your fatigue level can be as high as your Constitution without suffering any consequences (minimum 0). This value is called your fatigue tolerance. Your class gives you a bonus to your fatigue tolerance, and some abilities can also modify it.

Fatigue Penalty

You take a penalty to accuracy and checks equal your fatigue level - your fatigue tolerance (minimum 0). This penalty is called your fatigue penalty.

Exhaustion

When your fatigue penalty reaches -5, you fall unconscious until your fatigue penalty is reduced below -5. Generally, this means that you are unconscious for 8 hours.

Recovering From Fatigue

When you finish a long rest, your fatigue level is restored to 0 (see Resting, page 38). There are no other ways to reduce your fatigue level.

Character Advancement and Gaining Levels

As you accomplish challenges and defeat foes, you gain experience. If you have enough experience, you gain a level. You gain some abilities at specific levels, as described in Table 3.5: Character Advancement and Gaining Levels.

When you gain a level, the following things happen:

- Your hit points increase (see Hit Points, page 33).
- You gain an additional archetype rank (see Archetypes, page 66).
- Your accuracy may increase (see Accuracy, page 33).
- At even levels, magical power and mundane power each increase by 1 (see Power, page 33).
- At even levels, your bonus with trained skills increases (see Trained Skills, page 144).
- At even levels, all of your defenses increase by 1 (see Defenses, page 33).

In addition, some irregular advancements happen at specific levels:

- At 3rd level, and every 6 levels thereafter, you increase any two of your attributes by 1 (see Attributes, page 23).
- At 4th level, and every 3 levels thereafter, your maximum archetype rank increases (see Archetype Ranks, page 66).
- At 4th level and 7th level, you gain an additional insight point (see Insight Points, page 25).

- At 5th level and 8th level, you gain an additional attunement point (see Attunement Points, page 34).
- At 6th level, and every 6 levels thereafter, you gain a legacy item upgrade (see Legacy Items, page 35).

These effects are summarized in Table 3.5: Character Advancement and Gaining Levels, which also defines the experience required to gain each level.

Table 3.5: Character Advancement and Gaining Levels

|-------|-----------------------|--------------------|----------------------------|--------|
| 1st | 1 | — | — | 0 |
| 2nd | — | +1 | — | 10 |
| 3rd | — | +1 | +1 to two attributes | 25 |

| 21st | — | +10 | +1 to two attributes | 30,000 |

1. See Archetype Ranks, page 66.

2. This bonus applies to your magical ✨ power, mundane power, trained skills, and defenses.

At your GM’s discretion, you may also change some of the choices you have made about your character when you level up. For example, you could change one of your trained skills for a different skill, change which weapon groups you are proficient with, or change the mystic spheres you have access to (and corresponding spells). The GM may ask for a specific narrative justification for the change, require spending in-game time to retrain, or disallow changing some fundamental aspects of your character.

Legacy Items

Over time, items associated with places and people of great power gain magical properties. This process takes place for you as you gain levels in addition to in the world as a whole.

At 6th level, you choose a nonmagical weapon, body armor, shield, apparel item, or implement you own. That item becomes a legacy item. You choose a single magic item property of rank 3 or lower, and your legacy item gains that property. You do not have to attune to your legacy item to gain its benefits. However, for each deep attunement property that your legacy item has, you reduce your maximum attunement points by one.

The property must be appropriate for the category of item you chose: weapon, armor, apparel, or implement. You do not have to precisely match the location of an apparel item, just the category. For example, you can choose an amulet as your legacy item and give it the effect of the boots of translocation, or apply the effects of a hardblock shield to your body armor.

Legacy Item Scaling: Your legacy item increases in power as you gain levels. At 12th level, you can add an additional item property to your weapon. The item property must be rank 5 or lower. At 18th level, you can change the properties on your legacy item, and the maximum rank of both properties increases by 2, to a maximum of rank 7. This is summarized below.

- 6th level character: One property with max rank 3
- 12th level character: One property with max rank 5, one property with max rank 3
- 18th level character: One property with max rank 7, one property with max rank 5

Losing Your Legacy Item: If you lose your legacy item, you must retrieve it to regain its power. There are rituals to facilitate this retrieval such as seek legacy and retrieve legacy. If your legacy item is destroyed, you can designate a new item of the same type to be your legacy item, causing it to gain all of your legacy item abilities. Designating a new item in this way requires taking a long rest while holding or wearing the replacement item.

Unique Legacy Items: Legacy items are fundamentally a reflection of the character who wields them. Their effects can be more unusual and complex than abilities on normal magic items, and they can have a larger effect on the way that character interacts with the world. As a player, you can work with your GM to create custom magical effects of an appropriate power that are a better reflection of your character’s personality and powers than the magic item abilities that exist.

Chapter 4

Core Mechanics

This chapter describes the core mechanics of Rise.

Defining the Undefined

This book does not attempt to include specific rules for every aspect of a realistic world. Unless defined otherwise - or if it's not worth the effort to look up Rise's exact rules in the flow of a game - you should assume that the universe works more or less like the real world does, and as long as everyone agrees that something is reasonable, it's not worth worrying about in more detail.

For example, Rise does not have specific rules for how long it takes to eat a meal, the arc that a thrown ball takes through the air, or how much extra weight a well-made chandelier can hold without breaking. It's possible to imagine situations where each of those might be important to a game, however, so you'll have to guess what would be reasonable as obscure situations arise. The Game Master has the final word when defining ambiguities like this.

Resolving Ambiguity

When the rules are ambiguous about how they apply to you and no other creature, you decide how to resolve that ambiguity. For example, if an ability causes you to remove one of your vital wounds, and you have more than one vital wound, you choose which vital wound is removed. When the rules are ambiguous in any other situation, the GM decides how to resolve that ambiguity. This includes situations where multiple creatures are relevant and situations where no particular creature is relevant.

Making Checks

Checks are required to perform actions that have a chance of failure where the difficulty is not measured by the defense of another creature or object. For example, climbing a wall or remembering an obscure piece of trivia may require a check.

To make a check, roll 1d10 and add your modifier with the check. You compare that result to a difficulty value that represents the difficulty of the task. The more difficult the task, the higher the difficulty value will be. If your result is equal to or higher than the difficulty value, the check succeeds. This usually means you accomplish a task successfully. Otherwise, the check fails. This usually means that nothing happens, though sometimes there are specific consequences for failure.

Critical Success

If your check result is at least 10 higher than the difficulty value, your check is a critical success. Some checks have a special effect on a critical success. For example, a critical success while climbing means you move twice as quickly (see Climb, page 147).

Standard Difficulty Values

Most checks are made against a fixed difficulty value that represents how hard the task is. Detailed rules for determining difficulty values in specific circumstances can be found in the Expanded Skills chapter from the Tome of Guidance. However, most of the time, it's not worth the effort to consult charts and tables to figure out how hard a task is. Instead, you can estimate it based on the guidelines below.

- DV 0 - Easy: Only an exceptionally incompetent or impaired person could possibly fail a DV 0 check. For example, this includes walking on rough ground without tripping (Balance) or noticing that a yelling, red-faced person is angry (Social Insight).
- DV 5 - Average: A typical human with no relevant skills should still succeed at a DV 5 check without much issue. However, it would be possible to fail in a stressful situation where time is limited if the person had no relevant training. For example, this includes climbing a ladder (Climb) or hearing the topic of a nearby conversation in a crowded bar (Awareness).
- DV 10 - Hard: A typical human with no relevant skills might succeed at a DV 10 check, but only if they were very lucky or had a lot of time on their hands. An experienced practitioner might fail infrequently in stressful circumstances, but a world-class expert would never fail. For example, this includes swimming in fast-moving water (Swim) or providing first aid to mitigate a barely lethal wound (Medicine).
- DV 15 - Very Hard: Only an experienced practitioner could succeed at a DV 15 check, and they would still need to get lucky if they were in a rush. Even a world-class expert at the peak of real-world human potential could fail, but only rarely. For example, this includes picking a well-made lock (Devices) or holding your breath for eight minutes while staying still (Endurance).
- DV 20 - Almost Impossible: A world-class expert like an Olympic medalist could succeed at a DV 20 check if they were lucky or patient. Succeeding consistently at tasks of this difficulty requires superhuman capabilities. For example, this includes climbing a weathered natural rock wall without equipment (Climb) or squeezing through a space with a diameter of only half a foot (Flexibility).

- DV 25+ Impossible: No real-world human can succeed at a DV 25 check. This sort of feat is only possible for high-level Rise characters who have explicitly surpassed ordinary limitations. For example, this includes running at full speed along a slack rope (Balance) or climbing a sheer glass pane (Climb).

Trying Again

You can think of checks as being broadly divided into two categories: checks that give you information, and checks that cause a change in the world around you. In general, you can retry checks that change your environment indefinitely until you succeed. The only major limiting factor to those checks is that failure sometimes also changes your environment in ways that may punish your failure or make it impossible to retry the check. For example, if you are trying to climb a cliff, you can keep trying until you succeed, but you may take falling damage from falling off while halfway up the cliff.

You generally cannot retry checks that give you information unless the situation changes in a way that is relevant to your check. This often takes the form of giving you new information. For example, if you've already examined a creature to determine whether they are disguised, you can't keep just keep staring that creature to make sure. However, if you splash the creature with water which washes away some makeup, you can try again now that you have more information.

In addition, checks that require a free action to make can never be made more than once for the same purpose within a round.

Opposed Checks

An opposed check involves multiple creatures competing to get the highest result. In case of a tie, all tied creatures roll again to break the tie. Usually, the creature with the highest result succeeds, while all other creatures either fail completely or simply succeed less effectively depending on the situation.

Some opposed checks involve multiple creatures using the same skill to see who does the best job. For example, a climbing race up a wall might involve each participant rolling a Climb check, or you might make a Strength check to hold a door closed while another creature tries to shove it open. Alternately, it can involve creatures rolling opposite skills. For example, if you are trying to hide, you roll a Stealth check opposed by the Awareness check of any creatures who could notice you.

Not all opposed checks require all participants to roll at the same time. For example, a creature who creates a disguise rolls the Disguise check at the time that the disguise is created. A creature who tries to notice the disguise would roll their Awareness check at the time they see the disguised creature.

Hidden Checks

The GM can always make checks on your character's behalf without telling you. Generally, this is used for observation-based skills. For example, it's very suspicious if the GM tells you to make an Awareness check and then tells you that you don't see anything interesting. One of the ways a GM can avoid that is by simply rolling a check on behalf of your character and only telling you the result if you succeed.

Group Checks

When multiple characters are trying to make the same check simultaneously, they may be able to work together. There are two kinds of group checks.

Collaborative Checks: When making a collaborative check, each member of the group gets their own result. Collaborative checks might include a group of scouts sneaking up on an enemy camp, a group of adventurers climbing a cliff, or a group of spies lying about their true allegiances.

When making a collaborative check, the group must choose a leader before making the check. Each member of the group can make the check using the higher of their check modifier and half the leader's check modifier. Other modifiers apply normally.

The group leader must remain in a position to help the other members of the group for the group members to gain this benefit. For example, if a group is making a collaborative check to leap across a chasm, the leader must jump last. If the group is making a collaborative Stealth check, the leader must remain adjacent to the other members of the group to prevent their mistakes quietly. The exact circumstances depend on the situation.

Collective Checks: The group works together to get a single result. Collective checks might include a group of diplomats persuading a noble to go to war, a group of medics tending to a dying warrior, or a group of scouts keeping watch for enemy attacks.

When making a collective check, the group uses the highest result from any character making the check. In addition, that character gains a +1 bonus for each other character who also attempted the check, as long as their check result was no more than 5 points lower than the check's difficulty value.

Making Group Checks: A group check is not always possible. If the whole group is leaping over a chasm at once to escape a dragon, there is not enough time to designate a leader and have them aid the others to make a collaborative check. In general, a group check is only possible if the group has at least five rounds to work together, though this time may vary widely depending on the situation and the check being made.

Resting

When you have a moment to relax, you can rest to regain some of your expended resources. There are two main types of rests: a short rest and a long rest. Resting is not actually an ability in the same sense as most other abilities. You do not declare that you are using the “short rest” ability, and you do not have to differentiate between whether you intend to take a short rest or a long rest. The benefits of taking a short rest or long rest happen automatically after you spend enough time avoiding strenuous activity. Resting at night is often combined with sleeping, but you can rest at any time without sleeping.

Short Rest

Resting for ten minutes is considered a short rest. When you finish a short rest, you gain the following benefits.

- Your hit points become equal to your maximum hit points.
- Your current damage resistance becomes equal to your maximum damage resistance.
- You regain any attunement points you released from deep attunement effects (see Deep Attunement, page 40).
- You remove all conditions affecting you (unless they cannot be removed normally).
- Some other abilities have specific effects that last until you finish a short rest.

Long Rest

Resting for eight hours is considered a long rest. When you finish a long rest, you gain the following benefits.

- You remove one of your vital wounds (see Removing Vital Wounds, page 52). The Medicine skill can increase this healing (see Accelerate Recovery, page 154).

- Your fatigue level becomes 0.
- Some other abilities have specific effects that last until you finish a long rest.

You can take multiple long rests consecutively to recover from extensive vital wounds.

Sleep and Fatigue

A typical creature needs a minimum of 6 hours of sleep for every 18 hours spent awake, and a minimum of 50 hours of sleep every week. You can stay awake beyond those limits with the Endurance skill (see Stay Awake, page 151).

Size Categories

Your size affects your space in combat, your speed with any movement modes that depend on your size category’s base speed, your attributes, and how noticeable you are (see Stealth, page 159). These effects are shown on Table 4.1: Size Categories.

Space

A creature’s space is the area its body occupies while fighting. All humanoid species take up a 5-ft. by 5-ft. space in combat, which is a single square. Normally, other creatures can’t be in the space you occupy. Most creatures have a space significantly larger than the physical space their body occupies because they need room to maneuver in combat.

Exceptionally large creatures can often attack at some distance from their core body thanks to long arms or other appendages. This is represented by making their space larger than their body alone would require. Even Colossal creatures can still only make melee attacks against adjacent foes - or more often, against smaller creatures sharing space with them.

Base Speed

Each size category has a base speed that indicates how far creatures of that size category can generally move. Most movement modes use a speed equal to the base speed for a creature’s size category. For details about other speeds, see Movement Modes, page 55.

Other Effects

A creature’s size affects some additional skills and abilities. For example, larger creatures have a penalty to the Stealth skill (see Common Stealth Modifiers, page 159). The effects of unusual size are described in those skills and abilities. Unusually large or small creatures also have other special rules apply to them, as described below.

Very Small Creatures

Space: If a creature takes up less than a single square of space, you can fit multiple creatures in that square. Ignoring flight, you can fit four Small creatures in a square, twenty-five Tiny creatures, 100 Diminutive creatures, or 400 Fine creatures. If the creatures can fly, the number of creatures that can fit into a space increases drastically.

Movement: Creatures two size categories smaller than you are not considered obstacles and do not hinder your movement.

Very Large Creatures

Space: Very large creatures take up multiple squares. Anything which affects a single square the creature occupies affects the creature.

Movement: Creatures two size categories larger than you are not considered obstacles and do not hinder your movement.

Massive Weapons: Creatures that are Huge or larger have Massive weapons, as shown in Table 4.1: Size Categories.

Weight Limits

Your Strength determines how much you can carry or push, as shown in Table 4.2: Weight Limits by Strength. Your weight limits are measured in terms of how many objects or creatures of a given weight category that you can carry or push at once (see Weight Categories, page 39). The limit of how much you can hold in your hands or on your body is called your carrying capacity. If you need to move more weight than that, you can push or drag objects or creatures up your pushing and dragging limit as a standard action. When you do, you move the weight 5 feet.

In general, it is not meaningful to consider the weight of any objects with a weight category lighter than your maximum weight category. If it matters, you can treat eight objects of one weight category as having an equivalent weight to a single object that is one weight category heavier.

Large Creatures: Unusually large or small creatures gain a bonus to their Strength for the purpose of determining their weight limits. For details, see Table 4.1: Size Categories, page 39.

Multi-Legged Creatures: The figures on Table 4.2: Weight Limits by Strength are for bipedal creatures. A creature with four or more legs can carry, push, or drag twice as many objects as a bipedal creature of the same Strength.

1 To calculate the weight limits for a creature with epic Strength, double the number of objects it can carry and drag for every point of Strength beyond 13.

Weight is generally measured in weight categories rather than pounds or kilograms. Weight categories use the same terms as size categories, as shown in Table 4.3: Weight Categories, page 40. In general, a creature's weight category is the same as its size category.

Objects and creatures can also be either lightweight or heavyweight. Lightweight objects and creatures have a weight category that is one category lighter than their size category. Heavyweight objects and creatures have a weight category that is one category heavier than their size category.

Objects that occupy only a small percentage of the space appropriate for their size category, such as swords, are usually lightweight. Objects that fully occupy the space appropriate for their size category, like boulders, are usually heavyweight.

Communication and Languages

Literacy: All characters with an Intelligence of -2 or higher are presumed to be literate, allowing them to read and write any language they speak. Each language has an alphabet, though sometimes several spoken languages share a single alphabet.

Language Rarity: Some languages are widely spoken in the world, while others are only encountered in unusual circumstances. Common languages are summarized on Table 4.4: Common Languages, below. Rare languages are summarized on Table 4.5: Rare Languages, below. Rare languages are more difficult to learn, and are usually only spoken by unusual creatures.

Learning Languages: Learning a language is a time-consuming process, and most characters only know a few languages based on their species. You can learn two common languages or one rare language in place of training a skill (see Skills, page 144). In addition, you can talk to your GM about knowing an additional language based on your character's personal background.

Attunement

Many special abilities and magic items only function as long as a creature attunes to them. Attuned abilities have the Attune tag. Attuning to an ability typically require investing a single attunement point (see Attunement Points, page 34). Some abilities, called deep attunement abilities, require two attunement points instead of one (see Deep Attunement, page 40). You can never attune to the same ability more than once.

As long as you remain attuned to an ability, you cannot recover the attunement points you used to attune to that ability by any means. As a free action, you can dismiss any number of effects that you are attuned to, which makes you stop being attuned to them. After you stop being attuned to an ability, you recover that attunement point at the end of the current phase.

Normally, the creature using the attuned ability must attune to it. If that creature stops attuning to the ability, the ability ends. In the special case of rituals, any number of ritual participants can attune to the ability, and the ability lasts as long as any participant is still attuned to it.

There are two special subtypes of attunement abilities: deep attunements and targeted attunements. They are described below.

Deep Attunement

Some attuned abilities are more powerful and complicated than others, and require additional investment to take effect. These are called deep attunement abilities. They are identified as Attune \(deep\).

Deep attunement abilities have two main differences from ordinary attunement abilities. First, they require expending two attunement points instead of only one. Second, the attuning creature can't get back those attunement points by any means until they finish a short rest, even if they release the attunement.

Targeted Attunement

Some attuned abilities affect specific creatures instead of the caster. These are called targeted attunement abilities. They are identified as Attune \(target\).

The creature using a targeted attunement ability does not need to attune to the ability unless it targets itself. Instead, each target must attune to its own version of the effect. The effect lasts on that target as long as it stays attuned to it, regardless of whether any other targets stay attuned to the effect.

Ability Mechanics

Magical and Mundane Abilities

There are two types of abilities: magical abilities and mundane abilities.

Magical Abilities: A magical ✨ ability is an ability fundamentally composed of or fuelled by magic. Magical abilities often have effects that would be impossible without magical intervention. Examples include spells, a dragon's ability to fly, and a paladin's ability to smite foes. Abilities that are magical in nature are indicated with a ✨ in their name. Abilities that are not magical are mundane.

Mundane Abilities: A mundane ability has some form of natural explanation and does not fundamentally originate from a magical source. Examples include weapon attacks, a dragon's frightful presence, and a barbarian's rage. Unless otherwise indicated, all abilities are mundane in nature. Abilities that are not mundane are magical ✨.

Targets

Almost all abilities affect targets. A target of an ability is a creature directly affected by the ability in some way. Many abilities affect targets within a specific range.

Targeted Abilities

Some abilities allow you to choose specific targets. There can be restrictions on the targets of the ability, such as “a creature or object” or “an ally”. These abilities are called targeted abilities.

Area Abilities

Some abilities affect all valid targets within a given area. There can be restrictions on the targets of the ability, such as “all creatures” or “all enemies”. However, you cannot individually choose to include or exclude specific targets. These abilities are not targeted abilities.

Invalid Targets

You can always attempt to use an ability on an invalid target. If the target is still invalid when the ability resolves, the ability automatically fails and has no effect on the target.

Primary and Secondary Targets

Some abilities that affect multiple targets distinguish between their primary and secondary targets. For example, the chain lightning spell affects secondary targets within a small radius around a primary target. If an ability does not mention secondary targets, all of its targets are primary targets. Unless otherwise specified, abilities have the same effect on their primary and secondary targets. However, some targeting rules are different between the two.

First, line of effect for secondary targets is always measured from the primary target, rather than from the ability's source. However, line of sight is still measured from the ability's source. This can allow you to hit secondary targets behind walls if you can still see them or otherwise target them, and if there is no wall separating from the primary target.

Second, secondary targets use the same longshot penalty as the primary target, even if they are farther away.

Range

Many abilities can only affect targets or areas within a given range of you. For abilities that affect specific targets, all targets must be within the range. For abilities that affect an area within a range, the area's point of origin must be within the range (see Point of Origin, page 62). There are five common ranges: Short (30 ft.) range, Medium (60 ft.) range, Long (90 ft.) range, Distant (120 ft.) range, and Extreme (180 ft.) range. Unless otherwise noted, all abilities with a range require both line of sight and line of effect to the point of origin or to all targets.

Touch

Some abilities specify that you must touch a target. You can only touch creatures that are adjacent to you. Touching a creature that is not an ally requires an attack against the target's Reflex defense, which is usually mentioned as part of the ability's description. Some creatures cannot be touched, such as incorporeal creatures.

Area

Some abilities affect targets within an area. All areas have a point of origin, an area shape, a measurement of their size in feet, and an area type (see Point of Origin, page 62).

Area Shapes

Cone: A cone extends from the point of origin in a quarter-hemisphere, up to the given length. A square is affected by a cone if it is within the cone's 90 degree arc and all of the square's points of intersection are no more than the cone's length away from the cone's point of origin.

Cylinder: A cylinder extends out from the point of origin in a circle, up to the given radius. Cylinders also have a specific height. Unless otherwise specified, a cylinder's height is the same as its radius. Cylinders ignore obstacles that partially block line of effect, as long as there is a path around the obstacle that lies entirely within the ability's area.

Line: A line extends from the point of origin in a straight line, up to the given length. Lines also have a specific width and height. Unless otherwise specified, a line-shaped ability affects an area 5 feet wide and 5 feet high. The affected squares are chosen such that they stay close to the chosen line as possible. All squares affected by a line must be contiguous, so every square is adjacent to another affected square, disregarding diagonals.

If a line-shaped effect has its area increased, only the length of the line increases unless otherwise noted.

Sphere: A sphere extends from the point of origin in all directions. Any ability which only specifies a radius for its area is sphere-shaped.

Wall: A wall is like a line, except that its width is not defined in squares. Narratively, all walls have a nonzero width. Mechanically, walls are considered to have no width and simply occupy the boundary between squares. Like lines, some walls are shapeable.

All walls share the following common properties unless their description says otherwise. A wall's height is equal to half its length for straight walls, or half its radius for circular walls, to a minimum of 10 feet high. The entire wall is considered to be a single object, and is attacked and destroyed as a single unit. All of a wall's defenses are 0, but like other objects, they are immune to critical hits. Most abilities that create walls indicate how many hit points the wall has. If an ability does not specify a wall's hit points, it does not have hit points and cannot be destroyed with damage.

If you create a wall within a space too small to hold it, it fills as much of the space as possible, starting from the middle of the chosen space. This can allow you to completely block off small tunnels.

Walls can normally be created within or adjacent to occupied squares, but not within solid objects. If a wall has hit points, it cannot be created inside the space of a single creature, but it can be created between two adjacent creatures.

Area Size

The area affected by many abilities falls into one of six sizes. Each size defines the extent to which the ability extends out from its origin, whether as a radius or as a length. Many abilities have specific sizes, as given in the ability description.

Tiny: Tiny areas extend 5 feet from their point of origin.

Small: Small areas extend 15 feet from their point of origin.

Medium: Medium areas extend 30 feet from their point of origin.

Large: Large areas extend 60 feet from their point of origin.

Huge: Huge areas extend 120 feet from their point of origin.

Gargantuan: Gargantuan areas extend 240 feet from their point of origin.

Area Types

Burst: A burst ability has an immediate effect on all valid targets within an area. If an ability does not explicitly specify its area type, it is normally a burst effect. However, abilities that create wall-shaped areas are always zones.

Emanation: An emanation ability has effects within an area for the duration of the ability. It emanates from a specific creature or object, rather than a location. If that creature or object moves, the emanation moves with it.

Zone: A zone ability has effects within an area for the duration of the ability. Unless otherwise noted, it does not move after being created.

When casting an area ability, you select the point where the ability originates. The point of origin of a ability is always a grid intersection. When determining whether a given creature is within the area of a ability, count out the distance from the point of origin in squares just as you do when moving a character or when determining the range for a ranged attack. The only difference is that instead of counting from the center of one square to the center of the next, you count from intersection to intersection.

You can freely decrease a ability's area, provided that you decrease it uniformly across all of the ability's dimensions. For example, you can cast a fireball spell that affects a 5 foot radius if you choose to do so, but you can't cast a fireball with any shape other than a sphere.

You can count diagonally across a square, but remember that every second diagonal counts as 2 squares of distance. If the far edge of a square is within the ability's area, anything within that square is within the ability's area. If the ability's area only touches the near edge of a square, however, anything within that square is unaffected by the ability.

Ability Durations

An ability's duration determines how long its effect lasts. Abilities can have one of several different kinds of durations.

If an ability targets creatures or objects directly, the effects travel with the subjects for the ability's duration, even if the subjects go outside the ability's initial range. If an ability creates or summons objects or creatures, they last for the duration of the ability, and are capable of moving outside the ability's initial range. Such effects can sometimes be destroyed prior to when their duration ends.

Attuned Abilities

Many abilities last as long as a creature attunes to them. For details, see Attunement, page 40.

Conditions

Many abilities impose conditions on their targets. A condition lasts until it is removed. You can remove conditions by taking a short rest or using the recover ability (see Recover, page 60). There are several other abilities that can also remove conditions.

Sustained Abilities

Sustained abilities have the Sustain tag. They last as long as you take an action to sustain them each round. The type of action required is always specified in the ability's tag, such as "Sustain (standard)" for a standard action, or in the ability's description.

At the start of each action phase, the ability is dismissed unless you take the appropriate action to sustain the ability. This happens before your normal turn, so you and your allies can't gain the benefits of a sustained ability without you sustaining it.

Some sustained abilities include "attuneable" in the tag before the action type. When you use or sustain that ability, you can choose to attune to it. If you do, it gains the Attune tag and loses the Sustain tag, so it stays active as long as you stay attuned to it.

Taking an action to sustain an ability only allows you to sustain a single use of that ability. However, you can sustain multiple separate abilities at once if you have available actions.

You can normally only sustain an ability for up to 5 minutes. After that time, the ability's effect is dismissed.

Permanent Abilities

Some abilities last permanently. Such abilities never expire on their own, but can be dismissed or removed by other abilities appropriately.

Combining Effects

Abilities do not generally affect the way another abilities function. However, sometimes multiple effects can be in conflict on a creature. If one effect makes another effect irrelevant or impossible, the latter effect is ignored. If two effects both conflict with each other, the most recent effect takes precedence, and the other is ignored. Unless otherwise noted, two different uses of the same ability are always considered to be conflicting with each other.

All abilities will still have as much of their effect as possible. It is possible for an ability to be partially effective in this way.

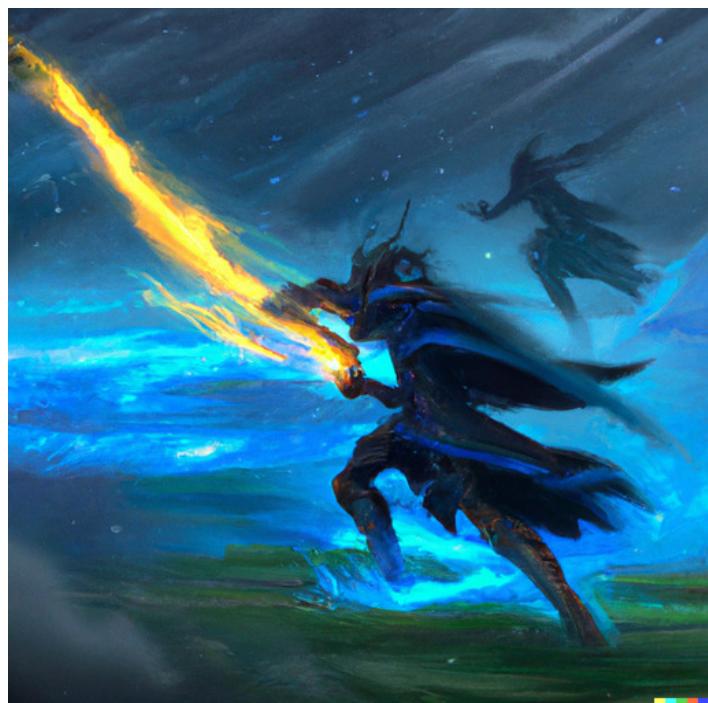

Suppressing Abilities

Abilities can be suppressed by effects such as the suppress magic spell. While an ability is suppressed, it has no effect. However, if it stops being suppressed, its effects continue as if they had not been interrupted.

Ability Tags

Many abilities have tags that describe the nature of the ability. Many of these tags have no game effect by themselves, but they govern how the ability interacts with spells, other abilities, unusual creatures, and so on. For a list of ability tags, see Ability Tags, page 382.

Spell and Ritual Mechanics

Spells and rituals share many common properties, defined here.

Categories of Magic

Magic Sources

There are four magic sources that characters can use to cast spells and perform rituals: arcane (cast by sorcerers and wizards), divine (cast by clerics and paladins), nature (cast by druids), and pact (cast by warlocks). Each magic source has a set of associated mystic spheres (see Mystic Spheres, below).

Characters with Multiple Magic Sources: A character can have access to multiple sources of magic through the use of abilities like the Hybrid Training ability (see Half-Elves, page 28). The mystic spheres, spells, and rituals that character knows are tracked separately for each source of magic that character has access to. If you have access to the same spell or ritual from multiple sources, the two versions of the ability are generally considered to be the same ability. When you cast the spell or perform the ritual, you choose which source you are using for the ability.

Mystic Spheres

A mystic sphere is a collection of thematically related magical effects that includes both spells and rituals. Each mystic sphere can be associated with any number of magic sources. The mystic spheres are listed at Mystic Spheres, page 244.

Ability Tags

All spells and rituals are magical ✨. In addition, all spells have the Spell ability tag, and all rituals have the Ritual ability tag. Since spells and rituals are already clearly indicated in the Mystic Spheres chapter, the tags are omitted here to avoid unnecessary repetition. In some other places, such as monster descriptions, those tags may be used to indicate that specific abilities are considered spells or rituals despite not appearing in this chapter.

Casting Components

Unless otherwise noted, all spells and rituals require verbal components to cast or perform. In addition, spells and rituals from arcane and pact mystic sources require somatic components. You cannot start casting a spell or performing a ritual without all required components. If you lose those components before the ability resolves, the spell fails with no effect.

To provide the verbal component for a spell or ritual, you must speak in a strong voice with a volume at least as loud as ordinary conversation. To provide the somatic component for a spell or ritual, you must make a precise series of movements with at least one free hand. These movements involve your whole arm in addition to gestures with your fingers.

Somatic Component Failure

Encumbrance from armor interferes with the somatic components required to perform arcane spells, pact spells, and all rituals. When you cast a spell or perform a ritual that requires somatic components while you have an encumbrance, you must roll 1d10. If your result is less than or equal to your encumbrance, the spell fails with no effect. When you perform a ritual, this roll must be repeated at the end of each round during the ritual.

Dismissal

Many abilities can intentionally be ended early if you dismiss it. When an ability is dismissed, all of its lingering effects immediately end. Unless otherwise noted, all magical ✨ abilities with a duration can be dismissed, but mundane abilities cannot be dismissed. This includes conditions, brief effects, and other abilities with more specific durations. You can dismiss abilities as a free action that requires only mental effort.

Resurrecting the Dead

Several rituals have the power to restore dead characters to life.

When a living creature dies, its soul departs its body, travels through the Astral Plane, and goes to abide on the plane where the creature's deity resides. If the creature did not worship a deity, its soul departs to the plane corresponding to its alignment. Bringing a creature back from the dead means retrieving their soul and returning it to their body.

Death and Old Age: While a creature is dead, it still tracks that time towards its maximum age. A creature's maximum age is largely determined by the strength of its soul, not the condition of its body. No magic can return a creature to life when it has passed its maximum age.

Preventing Resurrection: Enemies can take steps to make it more difficult for a character to be returned from the dead. Except for true resurrection, every ritual to raise the dead requires a body, so keeping or destroying the body is an effective deterrent. The soul bind ritual prevents any sort of revivification unless the soul is first released.

Involuntary Resurrection: A soul cannot be returned to life if it does not wish to be. A soul infallibly knows the name, alignment, and patron deity (if any) of the character attempting to revive it and may refuse to return on that basis.

Functioning Like Other Spells

Many spells and rituals say they “function like” some other spell or ritual, often with some noted changes. Except as otherwise noted, they retain all of the original effects and targets of the spell. However, they do not have the same rank upgrades as the original spell or ritual.

Impossible Spells and Rituals

When you try to use a spell or ritual in an impossible way, the ability fails with no effect. This most commonly happens if you attempt to declare an invalid target for a spell.

Spells

A spell is a discrete magical effect with a name, a rank, and an effect. Each mystic sphere has a number of spells associated with it. An ability that gives you access to mystic spheres will define how many spells you know. A spell's rank is the minimum archetype rank you must have in the relevant spellcasting archetype to be able to learn and cast the spell.

Cantrips

Some mystic spheres have minor spells called cantrips. Anyone who has access to a mystic sphere knows all cantrips from that sphere.

Rituals

Each mystic sphere has a number of rituals. Some spellcasting characters can learn and perform rituals. Rituals are ceremonies that create magical effects. Like spells, each ritual has a name, a rank, and an effect. Although rituals are similar to spells, abilities that affect spells do not affect rituals unless they say they do in their descriptions. A ritual's rank is the minimum archetype rank you must have in the relevant spellcasting archetype to be able to learn and perform the ritual.

You don't memorize a ritual as you would a normal spell. Rituals are too complex for all but the most knowledgeable sages to commit to memory. To perform a ritual, you need to read from a book or a scroll containing it. You must have access to the mystic sphere a ritual is from in order to perform the ritual.

Ritual Descriptions

Rituals are described in the body of the mystic sphere they are associated with, following the description of spells from that mystic sphere.

Scribing Rituals

A ritual book contains one or more rituals that you can use as frequently as you want, as long as you can spend the time and fatigue level to perform the ritual. Scribing a ritual costs precious magical ink with a value equal to an item of the ritual's rank (see Table 8.2: Item Ranks, page 161).

Performing Rituals

To perform a ritual, you must have a ritual book containing the ritual and the material components required for the ritual. Some rituals cause the creatures performing them to increase their fatigue level, as indicated in their descriptions. Other creatures can suffer this fatigue to help you perform rituals; see Ritual Participants, below.

Ritual Participants

Creatures can assist in the performance of rituals even if they are unable to perform rituals themselves. A creature that helps perform a ritual is called a ritual participant, and the creature performing the ritual is called the ritual leader. A ritual participant may increase their fatigue level in place of or in addition to the fatigue level gained by the creature performing the ritual. If multiple creatures are willing to increase their fatigue level or attune to effects, the ritual leader decides which creatures increase their fatigue level or attune to the ritual's effects.

The steps required to participate in rituals can be complex. Ritual participants must be given specific instructions for the actions they must perform during a ritual by a creature who knows how to perform the ritual. This instruction generally takes one tenth of the time required to perform the ritual. A creature cannot participate in rituals unless it has an Intelligence of at least 0, can speak at least one language, and has the fine motor control required to perform the somatic components of rituals.

Normally, a ritual participant can only contribute fatigue levels up to a maximum of their fatigue tolerance. If the participant has access to the same magic source as the ritual, they can contribute any number of fatigue levels (until they drop unconscious). Creatures willing to fatigue themselves generally tire at a rate no faster than one fatigue level per ten minutes spent performing the ritual.

Changing Ritual Participation: Rituals are deeply complex magic, and they cannot be abandoned or paused partway through. If the number of ritual participants in a ritual decreases below its initial value, the ritual fails at the end of the next round if the number of participants is not restored. However, ritual participants can transfer their participation to other creatures without disrupting the ritual.

In order to transfer ritual participation, the new creature must be able to participate in the ritual. Similarly, the ritual leader can transfer their leadership to another creature. In addition to the requirements for transferring ritual participation, the new leader must know the ritual and be able to perform it themselves.

Changing ritual participation and leadership is usually done when performing extraordinarily long or demanding rituals.

Attunement Rituals: Rituals with the Attune tag require a single ritual participant to attune to the ritual's effect. Any ritual participant can attune to the effect, but only one ritual participant can attune to the effect unless otherwise noted in the ritual's description. For details, see Attuned Abilities, page ??.

Magical Writings

To record a spell in written form, a character uses complex notation that describes the magical forces involved in the spell. The notation constitutes a universal language that spellcasters have discovered, not invented. Each writer uses this universal system regardless of their native language or culture. However, each character uses the system in their own way. Another person's magical writing remains incomprehensible to even the most powerful spellcaster until they take the time to study and decipher it.

Common Magical Effects

Delayed and Repeated Effects

Some abilities cause an effect to happen in a future round, or in all subsequent rounds. These abilities often say that they happen “during your action”. When you act during each action phase, you can decide when that effect happens, including before and after all of your other actions. For example, you could resolve the trigger first to see the results before deciding your actions, or you could act before the trigger to push another creature into a relevant area.

You must still complete all of your actions, including these triggers, as part of your single turn. You can't resolve a trigger, then let your allies take actions, then take your own action afterwards.

Resurrection

Some abilities can return dead creatures to life. This is called resurrection.

A creature has no hit points or damage resistance when it returns to life. It is cured of all vital wounds, conditions, and other negative effects, but the body's shape is unchanged. Any missing or irreparably damaged limbs or organs remain missing or damaged. The creature may therefore die shortly after being resurrected if its body is excessively damaged. Some resurrection abilities can restore more damaged corpses to life, as indicated in their descriptions.

Coming back from the dead is an ordeal. The creature's maximum fatigue tolerance is reduced by 1. This penalty lasts for thirty days, or until the creature gains a level. If this would reduce a creature's maximum fatigue tolerance below 0, the creature cannot be resurrected.

Resurrection is always voluntary. If a dead creature's soul refuses to return to life, no effect can compel it to be resurrected. Similarly, if a dead creature's soul has been subsumed into the planar essence of its afterlife plane, it has already been resurrected, or the soul is otherwise inaccessible, resurrection is impossible.

Although you can resurrect creatures who have died of old age, it is usually pointless. They will die again before long from some malady resulting from their advanced age.

Shapeshifting

When a creature shapeshifts, its physical body completely transforms into a different shape. It generally retains all of its original statistics and abilities, with the following exceptions. Some specific abilities that cause a creature to shapeshift have additional effects.

- The creature's size changes to match the new form. This can change the creature's base speed, Reflex defense, and other statistics as normal (see Size Categories, page 38).
- The creature's mundane movement modes and natural weapons are replaced with the movement modes and natural weapons of its new shape.
- If the new shape is not normally capable of speech, the creature cannot speak. This may prevent it from casting spells with verbal components and using similar abilities.
- The creature is limited by the number of free hands present in the new form. In addition, it cannot gain more free hands by shapeshifting than it originally had in its base form. Even if you shapeshift to a form with many hands, you do not have the mental coordination necessary to use them all effectively.
- Any special properties that a creature had that were originally a result of its pure physical composition may be lost. For example, a ghost would stop being incorporeal if it shapeshifted.

All of a shapeshifted creature's equipment that is physically incompatible with the creature's new shape meld into its body. This does not break attunement, and the creature still gains the benefit of any magical properties of melded items. However, it does not gain the benefit of nonmagical properties from melded items. For example, a creature that shapeshifts into an amorphous gas would still benefit from all attuned effects from its equipped items, such as boots of speed. However, it would gain no benefit to its Armor defense or damage resistance from any melded body armor, and it would not be able to attack with any of its melded weapons. Items exceeding a creature's carrying capacity are not melded, and simply fall to the ground in place.

When a shapeshifted creature dies, it returns to its original form.

Teleportation

Some abilities can teleport creatures or objects. When you are teleported, you move through the Astral Plane and arrive at a new location. You can be teleported between two different locations on the same plane, or between two different locations on different planes. If for some reason you cannot access the Astral Plane, you cannot be teleported.

Anything being teleported must have both line of sight and line of effect to its destination. In addition, the destination of the teleportation must be an unoccupied location on a stable surface that can support the weight of the teleporting creature or object. If either of these conditions is not met, the teleportation fails without effect. Some teleportation abilities are less restricted, as indicated in their description.

In general, you can teleport up slopes that are no more than 45 degrees. Steeper slopes prevent you from seeing stable ground to teleport to it. The GM can provide guidance for individual slopes, which may be easier or harder to navigate with teleportation.

Teleportation Noise

Creatures and objects that are teleported make a sound when they depart and arrive. This noise is caused by the displacement of air (or other substances) created by the teleportation. The base difficulty value of an Awareness check to hear this sound for a Medium creature or object is 10. This difficulty value changes based on the size of the teleported creature or object:

- Fine: 30
- Diminutive: 25
- Tiny: 20
- Small: 15
- Medium: 10
- Large: 5
- Huge: 0
- Gargantuan: -5
- Colossal: -10

Carrying Objects

When a creature is teleported, it can bring along equipment and held objects as long as two conditions are met. First, the combined weight of the objects cannot exceed the creature's maximum carrying capacity (see Weight Limits, page 39). If a creature is teleported while carrying more than its maximum carrying capacity, all excess objects are left behind, starting with the heaviest object and proceeding in order of weight.

Second, no object can extend more than two feet away from the creature's body. Any objects that extend beyond that distance are left behind. For example, a creature wearing handcuffs will arrive at its teleportation destination still wearing the handcuffs. However, a creature that is tied to a post by a long rope will arrive at its teleportation destination without the rope.

Astral Beacon

Some abilities allow long-distance teleportation, such as the overland teleportation ritual. This sort of teleportation is much easier if you are travelling to an astral beacon. The specific effects of an astral beacon are defined in the teleportation ability being used. An astral beacon covers an area, rather than a single point in space.

Each astral beacon has a unique name. The name represents the beacon's precise location in the Astral Plane, so no two beacons can have identical names. For example, astral beacons created by rituals have their name defined by the precise color of ritual inks, details of drawn patterns, timing and inflection of ritual incantations, and similar subtleties.

It is possible, though unlikely, to find astral beacons simply by wandering in the Astral Plane. They are similar in size and shape to scrying sensors, but their appearance is visually distinct (for creatures who can see invisible objects). Inspecting a beacon can reveal the location it points to, and destroying the beacon in the Astral Plane removes the astral beacon entirely. This is generally considered a hostile act, and may have consequences.

Horizontal Teleportation

Some planes have a curved primary surface. On those planes, “horizontal” teleportation isn’t objectively horizontal. Instead, it is horizontal relative to the surface of the plane.

Breaking Objects

There are two main ways of breaking objects. You can deal damage to objects with attacks, similarly to how you can deal damage to creatures. Alternately, you can attempt to sunder the object with sheer strength.

Damaging Objects

Objects have hit points and damage resistance like creatures. However, non-creature objects treat all damage they take as environmental damage (see Environmental Damage, page 51). That means that all damage they take is reduced by their damage resistance without subtracting from the remaining value of their damage resistance.

An object becomes broken if its hit points are reduced to 0 (see Broken and Destroyed Objects, page 47). Objects cannot gain vital wounds. Objects are also not normally subject to critical hits.

Sundering Objects

As a standard action, you can attempt to break an object with raw strength instead of damage. This requires two hands. When you sunder an object, make a Strength check. The difficulty value of the check is equal to the object’s damage resistance, +5 for each weight category above Diminutive.

Broken and Destroyed Objects

An object that is reduced to 0 hit points becomes broken. You can destroy an object by causing it to lose additional hit points equal to ten times its maximum hit points, or by succeeding at a check to sunder the object by 10.

Broken Objects: Broken objects cannot be used for their intended purpose, but still retain enough of their original form to be repaired without too much work. For example, a broken wall lies in pieces on the ground and no longer blocks passage, but can be repaired with far less effort than would be required to create a wall from scratch. Magic items that are broken retain their magical properties once fixed. Broken (but not destroyed) objects can be repaired with the Craft skill (see Craft, page 148).

Destroyed Objects: Destroyed objects have been damaged beyond hope of any sort of repair short of crafting the object again from raw materials. For example, a destroyed wall is reduced to dust or small, useless chunks of rubble. Magic items that are destroyed irrevocably lose their magical properties. The remains of a destroyed object generally occupy a space one size category smaller than the original object. Destroyed objects can be rebuilt with the Craft skill, but it requires significant time and investment.

Relative Damage Resistance

When an object would take damage from a strike, if the damage resistance of the attacking object or creature is lower than the damage resistance of the defender, the attacking object or creature takes the damage instead. For example, if you try to break a stone wall with a wooden club, the club will break instead of the wall.

Breaking Equipment

Normally, a character’s equipment cannot be damaged or otherwise affected by attacks. This includes worn items, anything held in your hands, and anything in a secure storage like a small backpack. Such items are considered attended. They are unaffected by damage caused by area effects, and cannot be targeted individually. Some abilities can specifically target attended objects, as indicated in their descriptions.

Loose Equipment

Some items are explicitly loose equipment. Loose equipment does not gain the protections listed above while worn as equipment. It can be individually targeted by attackers, and is affected by area effects just like any other object in the area.

General Calculations

Stacking Rules

Usually, modifiers stack with each other, meaning that you add or subtract all of the modifiers to get the final result. However, some modifiers do not stack with each other, as described below. When bonuses don’t stack with each other, you only apply the largest bonus. Likewise, when penalties don’t stack with each other, you only apply the largest penalty.

Special Exceptions:

- Effects from the same source do not stack. Any ability with the same name has the same source.
- Magic bonuses do not stack with each other.
- If a creature gains the same condition multiple times, the effects do not stack, but each instance of the condition is tracked separately. The creature must remove all instances of the condition before the effects are removed.
- Multiple magical ★ effects that change a creature’s size category do not stack. If multiple magical effects both increase and decrease size, size increases offset size decreases on a one-for-one basis to determine the creature’s final size.
- If you have two separate abilities which grant you a special sense with a particular range, such as darkvision or blindsight, you sum the range from both abilities to find your total range with that sense.

Minimum and Maximum Modifiers

Some bonuses specify that they cannot increase the value beyond a given point. These bonuses must always be applied last, and cannot be combined with other bonuses to exceed the maximum value. If multiple bonuses specify different maximum values, use the lower maximum value. If a bonus with a maximum value is applied to a value that already exceeds the maximum value the bonus can provide, simply ignore the bonus and its maximum value.

Similarly, some abilities have a minimum total modifier. The minimum is applied after all other modifiers.

Doubling and Halving

If you double any in-game value twice, it becomes three times as large. An additional doubling would make it four times as large, and so on. Likewise, if you halve any in-game value twice, it becomes one-third as large. For example, if you have two different abilities that double your power with an attack, you triple your power with that attack.

This also applies to calculations using real-world values, such as movement and distance, as long as you're calculating the effects of abilities. For example, if you have two different abilities that double your range with a spell, your total range with that spell is three times the spell's normal range.

Doubling Damage

If you double your damage with a dice pool, you roll the same number of dice and modify the result. This is different from a critical hit, which changes the number of dice you roll. As a result, if you get a critical hit with a double-damage attack, you roll twice as many dice and then double the result, which typically means you deal 4x your normal damage.

Changing Statistics

Your modifiers and defenses can change for many reasons. In general, all changes take effect immediately.

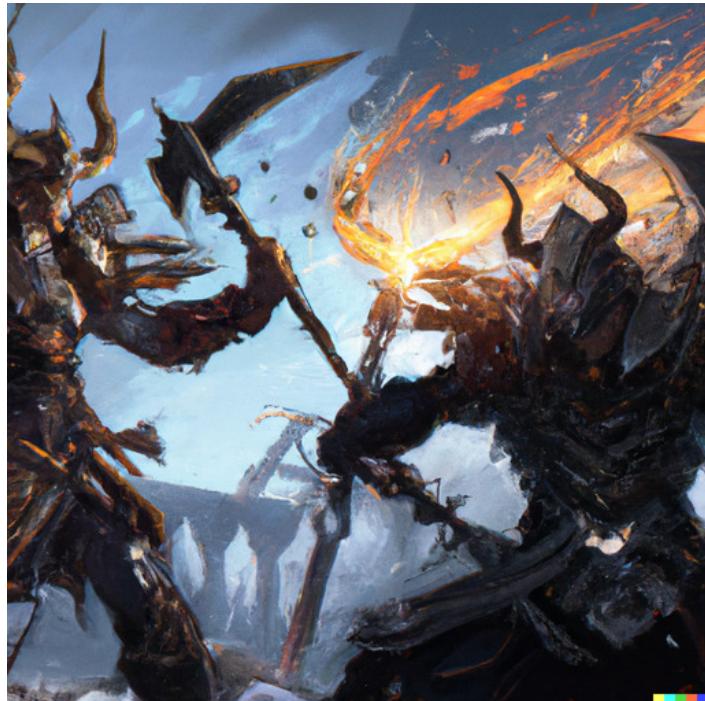

It is not normally possible for a character to lose access to resources that require them to make choices, such as insight points or trained skills. If a character does somehow lose the prerequisites for choices they have made, such as if their Intelligence is permanently reduced, they immediately lose relevant abilities until they are within their new limits.

Rounding

In general, if you encounter a fractional number, you round it down.

Chapter 5

Combat

The world of Rise can be a harsh one, and not all disagreements can be resolved peacefully. At some point, you will be forced to enter combat. This chapter explains how combat works in Rise.

Making Attacks

Attack Rolls

To make an attack, roll 1d10 and add your accuracy with the attack. Each attack specifies a relevant defense (see Defenses, page 33).

If the result of your attack roll meets or exceeds the defense of the creature or object you are attacking, the attack hits. If your result is 1 or 2 lower than the defender's defense, you get a glancing blow (see below). Otherwise, the attack misses.

Glancing Blows

When you would miss on a damaging attack by 2 or less, you instead get a glancing blow. Non-damaging attacks cannot cause glancing blows.

All damaging attacks have a standard glancing blow effect. When you get a glancing blow, you roll damage normally, but you halve the result to determine your total damage dealt.

A glancing blow is neither a hit nor a miss. However, some abilities trigger on both glancing blows and missed attacks, such as a hardblock shield.

Exploding Attacks

When you make an attack roll, if you roll a 10 on the d10, the die explodes. In addition, some effects can cause your roll to explode without rolling a 10.

When an attack roll explodes, you roll it again and add the second result to the original result before applying your accuracy. If you roll a 10 on the extra roll, you keep rolling until you stop rolling a 10 and add all of the rolls together.

Critical Hits

If your attack result is at least 10 higher than your target's defense, your attack is a critical hit. Some attacks have specific effects when you get a critical hit.

All damaging attacks roll double damage dice on a critical hit unless otherwise stated. This includes any damage dice from extra damage. Any flat modifiers to damage are also doubled. If this would cause you to roll an unreasonably large number of dice, you can just multiply the result from your normal damage dice instead at the GM's discretion. This is a separate damage multiplier from all others, so getting a critical hit with an attack that already deals double damage would deal four times normal damage.

For every additional increment of 10 by which you beat the target's defense, the effect of a critical hit is repeated, if applicable. For example, if you get a double critical with an attack that has a critical hit effect of "The condition must be removed an additional time.", the condition must be removed two additional times. As normal, two doublings become a tripling, so a double critical hit with a damaging attack would roll triple the damage dice.

Critical hits with melee attacks are a Size-Based effect. You normally can't get a critical hit with a melee attack against a creature that is two or more size categories larger than you (see Size Categories, page 38). In addition, objects are not normally subject to critical hits.

Dealing Damage

Many attacks deal damage to their targets. When a creature is dealt damage, it gets closer to death (see Taking Damage, page 51). Damaging attacks roll some number of dice and sum up the result to determine their damage. The details are given in each attack's description.

Dice Pools

All attacks deal damage based on a dice pool. Likewise, healing abilities usually heal hit points based on a dice pool. Dice pools are written with the number of dice, followed by "d", followed by the size of dice to roll. For example, 2d6 means you roll two six-sided dice. You always sum the roll of all dice rolled in a dice pool to determine the total result.

Some dice pools also have fixed numeric modifiers. For example, a normal weapon strike rolls dice based on the weapon used, and adds a fixed damage modifier based on your mundane power. You sum the die roll with the extra modifier to determine the total.

Weapon Damage

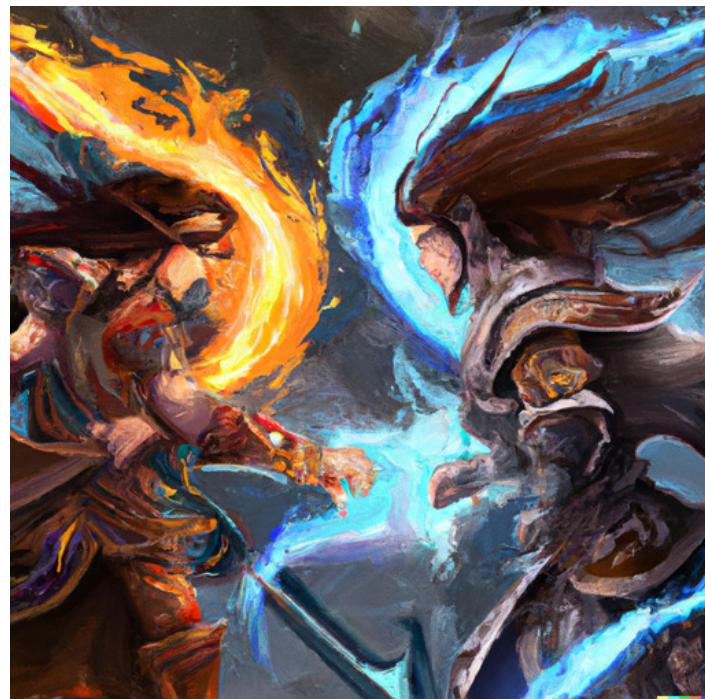

Some abilities deal damage based on the weapon you use the ability with. Typically, this will simply involve making a strike (see Strikes, page 58).

Weapon damage dice are defined in the Equipment chapter (see Weapons, page 163). You gain a bonus to your weapon damage equal to half your power see (see Power, page 33). Strikes are typically mundane, so you would use your mundane power. However, you might use your magical power instead for magical ⚡ strikes.

Weak Strikes

Some abilities make weak strikes, which deal less damage than normal strikes. When you make a weak strike, you ignore all flat damage modifiers, such as from your power. You only roll dice to determine your damage.

Damage Types

There are four main damage types: energy, physical, poison, and psychic. Energy and physical damage have additional subtypes, and are much more common than poison or psychic damage.

Damage Subtypes

Physical damage has four subtypes: acid damage, bludgeoning damage, piercing damage, and slashing damage. Energy damage has three subtypes: cold damage, electricity damage, and fire damage. Psychic damage has no subtypes.

Damage of a particular subtype is also considered damage of its primary type. For example, if you are impervious to physical damage, that applies against bludgeoning damage because bludgeoning damage is a subtype of physical damage.

Some damage types have special properties, as described below.

Cold: Abilities that deal cold damage can freeze liquids and have similar effects appropriate to a sudden drop in temperature.

Electricity: Abilities that deal electricity damage can ignite nonmagical fires if they damage combustible objects.

Fire: Abilities that deal fire damage provide light equivalent to a torch for their duration. Abilities without a duration create a brief burst of torchlight. While underwater, they deal half damage and have no nondamaging effects.

Multiple Damage Types

Some attacks deal damage that has multiple damage types. Defensive abilities such as defense bonuses or damage immunities apply against an attack only if they apply to all damage types dealt by the attack.

Special Damage Types

Subdual damage and environmental damage are separate from the standard damage types, like fire damage or energy damage. It is possible for damage to be both environmental damage and subdual damage.

Environmental Damage

Some abilities and environmental effects deal environmental damage. Environmental damage is never dealt as the result of a successful attack roll. Environmental damage works in the same way as normal damage, except that environmental damage is reduced by your damage resistance without subtracting from its remaining value. Any environmental damage in excess of a creature's damage resistance causes the creature to lose hit points just like normal damage.

Subdual Damage

Some attacks and environmental effects deal subdual damage. Subdual damage works in the same way as normal damage, except it cannot inflict vital wounds. If an attack that deals subdual damage would inflict a vital wound, the target increases its fatigue level by three instead. Whenever you make a strike, you can choose to deal subdual damage instead of normal damage. If you do, you deal half damage with the strike.

Extra Damage

Some abilities add extra damage to your damaging attacks. Extra damage applies when damaging attacks hit or get a glancing blow. Extra damage is halved on a glancing blow and doubled on a critical hit in the same way as the attack's base damage.

Extra damage is applied equally to all targets that are damaged simultaneously. A fireball spell would apply extra damage to all targets, not just one target in the area. Similarly, a chain lightning spell would apply the extra damage to the primary target and each secondary target.

Most sources of extra damage do not have a specific damage type. The extra damage normally has the same damage type as the attack's base damage. If extra damage has a specific damage type, it uses that damage type instead of any of the attack's normal damage types.

Some damaging abilities affect extra damage differently. For example, the enraged strike ability doubles the weapon damage of the attack, but does not double any extra damage applied to the attack.

Multiple Extra Damage Instances

Normally, extra damage only applies once to an individual ability. It is added the first time the ability deals damage. For example, the corrosive grasp spell deals damage immediately, and again during your next action. Any extra damage would only be added to the immediate damage, and would not be added to the damage next round. Maneuvers like double strike which make multiple strikes, and any dual wielding strike, would only apply extra damage once, regardless of how many attacks hit and deal damage.

Deep attunement abilities are an exception to this rule. A damaging deep attunement ability applies extra damage whenever it deals damage. For example, the retributive spikes spell applies extra damage individually to each reactive attack.

Taking Damage

Taking damage from attacks reduces your damage resistance, and then your hit points, before finally inflicting vital wounds. To calculate your damage resistance and hit points, see Character Statistics, page 33. This section explains those concepts in more detail.

When you are dealt damage, the damage first reduces your damage resistance (see Damage Resistance, page 33). Any damage in excess of your remaining damage resistance causes you to lose that many hit points (see Hit Points, page 33). Hit points and damage resistance function in the same way, but damage resistance can protect you from debilitating attacks that only work if they make you lose hit points. If you are dealt damage that reduces your hit points below 0, you gain one or more vital wounds (see Negative Hit Points, page 51).

Monsters typically do not gain vital wounds like player characters do. Instead, they simply die or fall unconscious when they reach 0 hit points.

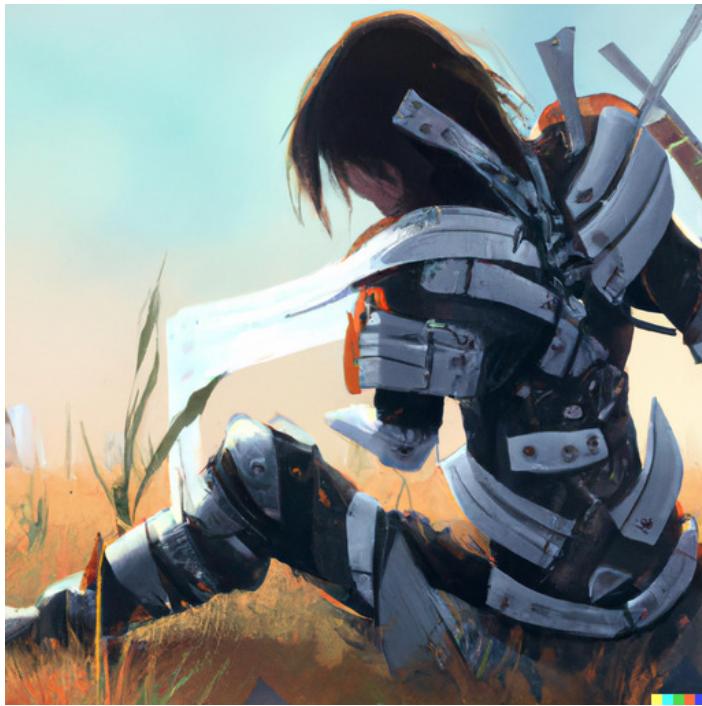

Negative Hit Points

You can have negative hit points, but only briefly. When your hit points drop below 0, you gain a vital wound (see Vital Wounds, page 52). You gain an additional vital wound for each increment of half your maximum hit points that you reach in negative hit points. Avoid rounding if possible - for example, if your negative hit points exactly equal your maximum hit points, you gain three vital wounds.

If you would regain hit points while you have negative hit points, you first reset your hit points to 0 before applying the healing. In addition, your hit points are reset to 0 at the end of the round if they are still negative. This is checked after applying all healing and damage that takes place at the end of the round. This also resets the vital wound thresholds that you have suffered, so you will immediately suffer a vital wound if your hit points go negative during the next round.

Vital Wounds

A vital wound represents serious damage to your body. Each vital wound has a specific detrimental effect on you. You gain vital wounds when your hit points go negative (see Negative Hit Points, page 51).

To determine the effect of a vital wound, make a vital roll and find the corresponding effect in Table 5.1: Vital Wound Effects. The effect of the vital wound lasts until you remove that vital wound. The effects of vital wounds stack with each other, even if you roll the same effect twice for different vital wounds.

Vital Rolls

To make a vital roll, roll 1d10. You take a penalty to this roll equal to twice the number of vital wounds you already have, not counting the vital wound you are rolling for. This includes vital wounds that have no specific vital wound effect. The result determines the effect of the vital wound, as listed in Table 5.1: Vital Wound Effects, page 52. Vital wound effects from vital rolls below 1 are lethal if untreated, but the Medicine skill can be used to prevent you from dying (see Medicine, page 154). This roll is not a check, so you can't affect it with abilities like desperate exertion.

Removing Vital Wounds

Vital wounds take time to heal. Whenever you finish a long rest, you remove one of your vital wounds. If you have multiple vital wounds, you may choose the order in which your vital wounds are removed.

Combat Time

This section explains how time passes in combat.

Rounds

Combat takes place in a series of rounds, which represent about six seconds of time. Each round of a combat is divided into two phases: the movement phase and the action phase (see Phases, page 53). After both phases are complete, the round ends and the next round begins.

Actions

You can take actions in combat to defeat your foes. There are three types of actions: standard actions, minor actions, and free actions. In addition, you can use movement during the movement phase (see Movement and Positioning, page 54).

Standard Actions

Most common activities require a standard action, such as attacking with a weapon, casting a spell, and using many special abilities. Using a standard action generally takes about three seconds of time within the game, and it requires most of your attention during that time.

You can take one standard action during the action phase of each round.

Minor Actions

Some special abilities require a minor action. Using a minor action does not take much time or attention, and it can be done at the same time as any other actions. You cannot use a minor action during the movement phase.

You can take one minor action during the action phase of each round. In addition, you can choose to replace your standard action during the action phase with an additional minor action. However, you cannot use the same minor action twice in a single round unless an ability specifies otherwise.

Free Actions

Some activities that take little time or attention require a free action. You can take any number of free actions per round. However, you cannot use the same free action twice in a single round unless an ability specifies otherwise. This restriction is intended to limit the power of specific special abilities that require a free action to use. At the GM's discretion, you may take the same simple free action multiple times, such as dropping multiple objects in a single turn.

Phases

There are two phases in each round: a movement phase and an action phase. Each phase specifies the types of actions that can be taken during that phase. As a special case, free actions may be taken during any phase.

The Movement Phase

During the movement phase, you can make one movement. The most common movement is the hustle ability, which allows you to move a distance equal to your speed. For details, see Movement and Positioning, page 54.

The Action Phase

During the action phase, you can take one minor action and one standard action. Alternately, you can make a movement or take an additional minor action in place of your standard action. Most of the time, you will simply take a single standard action.

Resolving Actions

Actions in combat are partially sequential, and partially simultaneous. You and your allies who can see or otherwise communicate with each other generally act as a single allied group. One at a time, each person in the allied group declares their actions, rolls all relevant dice, and applies the results appropriately. You can freely choose the order in which people act within the allied group, as long as everyone agrees with the order chosen. If one of your allies acts before you, you can learn the result of their action before deciding your own action. For example, if they knock an enemy prone (half speed, -2 Armor and Ref), that enemy would suffer the appropriate defense penalties against your attacks.

Although your actions resolve sequentially within your allied group, they resolve simultaneously with the actions of anyone outside your allied group. Essentially, you locally resolve the effects of your actions within your allied group, but those actions do not globally resolve until later. This means that you cannot interrupt enemy actions, even by killing them. Generally, you won't know what actions your enemies will take until after you have already resolved your action. However, their actions will resolve as if they had acted before you, not after you. This goes both ways, of course. You can freely decide your actions without knowing what your enemy is doing because their actions cannot interrupt yours.

Once all allied groups have locally resolved their actions, the results of all of those actions is announced. Then, each allied group updates their own status to reflect the actions that all of the other allied groups took during the same phase. When resolving these effects, assume that actions outside of your allied group resolve before actions inside of your allied group, as long as they don't alter the effects of your own actions. For example, you cannot avoid an enemy attack simply by moving away from them. However, an enemy's attack does not interrupt your movement - even if it knocks you unconscious. You simply fall unconscious at your new location after the movement.

Once all of the actions have been globally resolved, the phase ends. In a typical combat, this just means that the GM will tell you what the monsters did to you after you tell the GM what you did to them.

With this system, it's possible for two combatants to kill each other during the same phase, leaving both dead! This might seem strange if you're used to other games which always resolve one action at a time. However, this situation is not uncommon in fantasy fiction, and it's certainly possible in real life.

Delayed and Repeated Effects

Some abilities cause additional attacks or effects "during your next action" or "during each of your subsequent actions". Your action happens when you take your turn during the action phase. You can choose when those effects happen during that turn. Typically, you would resolve them first so you know their results, but you can do that after your other actions if you want. You can't split those automatic effects from your other actions in the turn order, just like you can't take your minor action separately from your standard action.

Swift Abilities

Abilities with the Swift tag resolve differently from most actions. Swift abilities resolve before all non-Swift abilities, so they can change the results of your enemy's actions. However, Swift abilities are always simple, and cannot interrupt actions or make attack rolls. Generally, they change defenses or recover hit points or damage resistance. You declare Swift abilities during your normal turn within your allied group, and you don't have to go first within your group or do anything special to use them.

For example, the total defense ability gives you a bonus to your defenses during the current phase. That ability has to resolve before your enemies attack you during that phase, or else it would be pointless. Some abilities have only part of their effect resolve early. For example, the reckless attack ability immediately reduces your defenses, which affects attacks made against you during the current phase, and makes a strike with the normal timing.

Action Resolution Summary

1. Round begins - "start of round" resolve globally

2. Movement phase begins - “start of phase” effects resolve globally
3. Movements resolve globally, using initiative checks when strictly necessary
4. Movement phase ends - “end of phase” effects resolve globally
5. Action phase begins - “start of phase” effects resolve globally
6. Swift abilities resolve globally
7. Actions of your allied group resolve locally
8. Actions of other allied groups resolve locally
9. Actions of each allied group are announced, and resolve globally
10. Action phase ends - “end of phase” effects resolve globally
11. Round ends - “end of round” effects resolve globally

Deciding Action Order

Try not to spend too much time the exact order of everyone’s actions within your allied group. Most of the time, the exact order doesn’t matter. It’s generally fine to just start rolling dice if you already know what you’re going to do, and just act in the order that people decide their actions. The GM can help resolve situations where this is ambiguous.

Multi-Group Battles

Sometimes, there might be more than two groups in a battle. This works in basically the same way as a two-sided battle. Each allied group resolves sequentially with itself, but simultaneously with all enemy groups. It’s possible for two different groups to attack and kill the same creature, which wastes some of their actions. That’s a natural consequence of not coordinating effectively.

Simultaneous Damage and Healing

Most healing abilities are used as a standard action and are Swift, so they resolve before you take any incoming damage. However, some healing abilities trigger based on actions you take, such as healing if you hit an enemy, or at specific times. If you regain hit points or damage resistance and take damage simultaneously, apply all damaging effects before applying any healing effects. This means you gain and apply the effects of any vital wounds before you are healed.

Conflicting Actions

Sometimes, actions that occur in the same phase can be mutually impossible. Almost all conflicting actions are the result of competing movements. When actions conflict, each creature involved rolls an initiative check (see Initiative, page 54). Starting from the highest check result and continuing to the lowest, each creature immediately resolves its chosen action. Creatures that resolve their action afterward accomplish as much of their intended action as possible before being blocked or otherwise prevented.

For example, if three different creatures attempt to move into the same space, only the creature with the highest initiative check would actually enter that space. The other two creatures would take their intended path, but they would interrupt their movement when they cannot proceed farther, generally because they run into the space occupied by the first creature.

In general, directly conflicting actions are rare. Most movements do not conflict - even reactive movements, such as when one creature attempts to follow a withdrawing creature. In that case, no initiative check is necessary. Both creatures simply move as far as they can, and the creatures’ relative movement speeds determine who is more successful.

This does make it possible for creatures to be “stranded” out of melee range of any attackers. Player characters are normally allowed to break this symmetry by reactively using the sprint ability, while monsters cannot sprint. This can help prevent melee characters from feeling stuck or useless. In addition, the charge universal ability can be helpful in such cases.

Initiative

When multiple creatures take mutually impossible actions simultaneously they must roll an opposed check with their initiative modifier. For details, see Conflicting Actions, page 54. Your initiative modifier is equal to your movement speed that you are using to take the action. In the unusual situation that no movement speed is relevant, just roll without applying a modifier.

For example, if a dwarf and a human are racing to be the first one to a door, they would both roll d10. The dwarf would add 20 to their roll, and the human would add 30, assuming neither has any extra movement speed modifiers. The winner would reach the door first, and the loser would stop in the last open space before they reach the door.

Movement and Positioning

This section describes how creatures move and position themselves on a battlefield.

Movements

Abilities that require a movement typically move you around the battlefield, and are usually used in the movement phase. Making a movement generally takes about three seconds of time within the game, and it requires most of your attention during that time.

You can make one movement during the movement phase of each round. In addition, you can choose to replace your standard action during the action phase with an additional movement.

Jumping

Creatures with legs can jump as part of movement. When you jump, choose a destination square where your jump ends. Landing at a precise location within a square may require a check with the Jump skill (see Jump, page 153).

A jump’s maximum horizontal distance is normally equal to 5 feet per 2 Strength. If you are trained with the Jump skill, the distance is instead equal to 5 feet per Strength, to a minimum of 5 feet. If you have a running start of at least 15 feet, you also add a quarter of your base speed to that distance. A jump’s maximum vertical height is equal to half your maximum horizontal distance.

Jumping off of terrain that is not solid ground, such as a wall, halves your jump distance and may require a Jump check (see Jump, page 153). If your jump distance would be less than 5 feet, you normally cannot jump meaningfully at all. The GM can decide whether that makes sense in a particular situation.

If your destination square is in midair, you begin falling at the end of the round. This allows you to jump during the movement phase and act in midair during the action phase. Narratively, this represents you timing your jump so you can take a useful action while jumping. You don't just hover in midair.

Jumping Speed Limits

The maximum distance that you can travel by jumping is equal to your remaining land speed during the current phase. This distance is measured only for the farthest extent that you travel from your starting location, not for a round trip or for the entire distance travelled along the arc of your jump. For example, if your land speed is thirty feet and you get a ten-foot running start, you can jump no more than twenty feet forward, or fifteen feet forward and five feet vertically, and so on. If your jump distance is extremely high and your land speed is low, you may need to use the sprint ability to make use of your full jumping potential (see Sprint, page 60).

Movement Modes

A movement mode is a method of moving from one location to another. The most common movement mode is a land speed, which allows creatures to move across the ground. In addition, some abilities grant creatures the ability to move in unusual ways. These forms of movement are described here.

Unless otherwise noted, all creatures have a land speed. Bipedal creatures have a land speed equal to the base speed for their size (see Size Categories, page 38). Creatures with four or more legs have a land speed 10 feet faster than the base speed for their size.

Some creatures have movement modes that are slower than their base speed for various reasons. A creature's speed with any given movement mode can never be slower than 5 feet. Some effects can still prevent a creature from using their movement modes at all, such as being immobilized (-4 Armor and Ref, cannot use movement speeds).

Burrowing: A creature with a burrow speed can move through the ground at the indicated speed in any direction, even vertically. Unless otherwise noted, the creature can only burrow through dirt and loose earth, not rock or harder substances. It does not leave behind a usable tunnel for other creatures.

Climbing: A creature with a climb speed can move a distance equal to its climb speed with a successful Climb check (see Climb, page 147). In addition, it gains a +10 bonus to any Climb checks it makes.

Flying: A creature with a fly speed can fly through the air at the indicated speed. Flying is more complicated than some other movement speeds. For details, see Flight, page 55.

Gliding: A creature with a glide speed can glide through the air at the indicated speed. It must not be carrying weight in excess of its maximum carrying capacity (see Weight Limits, page 39). Whenever a creature glides, it takes a -2 penalty to Armor and Reflex defenses until it reaches solid ground.

While in the air, a creature with a glide speed can control its fall as a movement. This allows it to move up to its speed horizontally in a direction of its choice while moving only five feet down. If it desires, it can move half as far horizontally and fall down twice as fast. It takes no falling damage if it touches the ground while gliding.

Land: A creature with a land speed can move across the ground at the indicated speed.

Flight

A creature with a fly speed cannot fly while it is carrying weight in excess of its maximum carrying capacity (see Weight Limits, page 39). In addition, it cannot fly while it has any encumbrance.

Height Limit: Some abilities that grant a fly speed also have a height limit for the maximum height you can reach with that fly speed. This height measures your maximum distance directly above an object at least two size categories larger than you that is free-standing and capable of supporting your weight. You can fly above surfaces like water as long as they are thick enough to support your weight.

While you are above your maximum height with a fly speed, you have a glide speed equal to your fly speed.

Falling: If a flying creature loses control, usually by failing to maintain its minimum forward speed, or loses the ability to fly, it falls just like any other creature would in midair. As long as it still has the ability to fly, it can regain control of its fall as a standard action, causing it to resume flying normally.

Flying Maneuverability

Each creature with a fly speed also has a maneuverability: good, average, or poor. Unless otherwise specified, a creature with a fly speed has average maneuverability.

Good Maneuverability:

- Minimum speed: The creature does not need to move horizontally to maintain its flight, allowing it to hover.
- Vertical movement: The creature can move up at the same speed as it moves horizontally, and it can fly down twice as fast.

Average Maneuverability:

- Defense penalties: Whenever the creature flies, it takes a -2 penalty to Armor and Reflex defenses until it reaches solid ground.
- Minimum speed: The creature must move horizontally by at least a quarter of its fly speed each round. If it does not, it falls.
- Vertical movement: The creature can fly up at half speed, but can fly down twice as fast.

Poor Maneuverability:

- Defense penalties: Whenever the creature flies, it takes a -4 penalty to Armor and Reflex defenses until it reaches solid ground.

- Minimum speed: The creature must move horizontally by at least half its fly speed each round. If it does not, it falls.
- Vertical movement: The creature can move up or down by only one square vertically per square traveled horizontally. The creature can fly up at half speed, but can fly down twice as fast.

Size-Based Abilities While Flying

You can reach a creature's weak spots more easily while flying than while trying to attack its feet from the ground. While flying, you are treated as one size category larger than normal for the purpose of determining the effects of your Size-Based abilities. This cannot be combined with other effects that increase your effective size for the purpose of Size-Based abilities, such as climbing on creatures (see Creature Climb, page ??).

Combining Movement Modes

You can move using multiple different movement modes in the same phase in any order. When you do, you must obey two restrictions. First, your movement using any individual mode must not exceed your speed with that mode. Second, your total distance moved across all modes must not exceed your maximum speed with any individual mode.

For example, assume you have a 10 foot climb speed, a 20 foot swim speed, and a 40 foot land speed. You could climb 10 feet, swim 20 feet, and move on land for 10 feet all in the same phase. However, if you climb 10 feet, but are unable to swim or move on land, such as if you are partway up a cliff, you cannot move any farther.

Measuring Movement

For simplicity, all movement in combat is measured in five-foot increments. While it is possible to be more precise than that, it's generally not worth the complexity.

Squares: Area is commonly measured in 5-ft. by 5-ft. spaces called squares. A single square represents the area occupied by a single humanoid creature in combat. Sometimes, movement and distance are represented by the number of squares travelled. A 30-ft. movement is the same thing as moving six squares.

Diagonals: When measuring distance, the first diagonal counts as five feet of movement, and the second counts as ten feet of movement. The third costs five feet, the fourth costs ten feet, and so on. You can move diagonally past corners and enemies.

Movement Abilities

Almost all creatures can use these abilities to move around a battlefield. Many movement abilities are reactive, allowing you to move automatically in response to the movement of other creatures. For example, you can try to follow a creature wherever it goes that round. In all cases, if you run out of movement speed before accomplishing your intended task, you simply stop where you ran out of movement.

The most common types of reactive movements are the block, follow, and withdraw abilities, which are described below. However, you can come up with other reactive movements. The main requirement is that a reactive movement must have a simple criteria for determining how you move based on easily observable events. Secondly, reactive movements should be simple to resolve. If you find yourself rolling a lot of initiative checks to get through the movement phase, you're probably trying to make overly complicated movements.

Hustle: As a movement, you can use the hustle ability to move. This is the most common movement ability.

Hustle

Choose a path that you want to travel. You travel that path, up to the limit of your relevant movement speed.

Block: As a movement, you can use the block ability to prevent a creature from entering a particular area.

Block

Swift

When you use this ability, choose a creature you can see. During the current phase, whenever that creature attempts to move from a space adjacent to you into another space adjacent to you, you can attempt to block its movement. This includes a creature whose path takes it through two consecutive spaces adjacent to you, even if neither the creature's location at the start of the phase nor its intended location at the end of the phase are adjacent to you. When you do, make an opposed initiative check against the target. If you beat it on the initiative check, it must spend additional movement equal to one of your relevant movement speeds to move from its space. If it cannot, it stops moving. This represents you automatically repositioning yourself to block its movement.

If a creature has the ability to move through your space, such as if it uses the overrun ability, it can ignore this additional movement cost. If multiple creatures are able to block the same creature from moving, it must pay both additional movement costs, which generally keeps it stuck in place.

Follow: As a movement, you can use the follow ability to follow a creature as it moves.

Follow

Choose a creature you can see, and the maximum distance you want to follow at. During the current phase, you automatically move such that your distance to the target is no greater than your desired follow distance, up to the limit of your relevant movement speed.

If the target uses an ability that makes it impossible for you to follow its movement, such as teleporting or disappearing from your sight, it is harder for you to follow its movement. If you can see its destination, such as if it teleported to a different location within your line of sight, you must beat the target on an opposed initiative check. Success means that you can follow its movement normally. If you fail at the initiative check, or if you cannot tell where the target went, you complete your movement as if the creature was still at the location where it disappeared.

React: As a free action, you can use the react ability to try to choose your movement after seeing what another creature is going to do.

React

Swift

Choose a creature that you can see. Make an opposed initiative check against that creature. If you beat it on the initiative check, you learn whether it is going to take a movement during the current phase, and if so, what that movement will be. This does not give you any information about actions other than movements, so using this ability during the action phase is often pointless. If you fail, you learn nothing about that creature's movement, and that creature automatically beats you on any other opposed initiative checks during the current phase. This represents you wasting time trying to watch the creature, giving it extra time to beat you in any sort of opposed contest or race.

Withdraw: As a movement, you can use the withdraw ability to keep away from creatures as they move.

Withdraw

This ability functions like the follow ability, except that you specify a minimum distance between you and the target instead of a maximum distance. In addition, you can specify multiple targets and try to keep away from all of them.

Movement Impediments

Difficult Terrain: Some terrain is hard to move through, like thick bushes or a swamp. If a square is difficult terrain, it increases the movement cost required to move out of the square by 5 feet.

If a square is considered difficult terrain for multiple reasons, the cost increases stack. For example, a square in a swamp that also has thick bushes blocking your passage would cost 10 extra feet of movement to leave.

Obstacles: An obstacle is anything that gets in your way. Enemies and large solid objects like walls completely block your movement. If you can get past an obstacle, like a low wall, that square is treated as difficult terrain. Some obstacles require a check to bypass, such as an Balance check (see Balance, page 146).

Squeezing: In some cases, you may have to squeeze into or through an area that isn't as wide as the space you take up. You can squeeze through or into a space that is at least half as wide as your normal space. While squeezing (-2 Armor and Ref), you move at half speed, and you take a -2 penalty to your Armor and Reflex defenses. You can squeeze into tighter spaces with the Flexibility skill.

Creatures that take up multiple squares take up half their normal number of squares while squeezing. For example, a Large creature who normally takes up four spaces takes up two spaces while squeezing.

Accidentally Squeezing: Sometimes a character ends its movement while moving through a space where it's not normally allowed to stop. When that happens, the character is squeezing in the space until it can move. If squeezing is impossible, the creature immediately moves to the closest available space. Try not to do this.

Undergrowth: Vines, roots, bushes, and similar plants that can obstruct sight are common in forested areas. These small plants can impede movement in large quantities. There are two kinds of undergrowth: light undergrowth and heavy undergrowth.

Light Undergrowth: Light undergrowth provides concealment.

Heavy Undergrowth: Heavy undergrowth provides concealment and is difficult terrain, which increases the movement cost required to move out of each square by 5 feet.

Forced Movement

Some abilities can physically move you against your will. Effects that limit movement speed, such as difficult terrain, similarly limit the distance you can be moved by forced movement effects. There are two kinds of forced movement: push effects and knockback effects. Unless otherwise noted, all forced movement effects move the target in a single straight horizontal line.

Push Effects

A creature affected by a push effect is being pushed by a constant force. If it encounters another creature or a solid obstacle during the movement, the forced movement effect ends without causing additional harm to the creature or the obstacle. Similarly, if a creature being pushed stops being supported and would fall, it falls instead of being pushed further. This can allow creatures pushed off the edge of a cliff to grab the edge of the cliff.

Knockback Effects

A creature affected by a knockback effect is thrown backwards by a single point of impact. If it encounters another creature or a solid obstacle during the movement, it and the obstacle each take 1d6 damage per 10 feet of movement remaining. A creature moving as a result of a knockback effect does not have to be supported during the movement by solid ground. This can allow you to knockback creatures off of cliffs without allowing them to save themselves.

Universal Abilities

All creatures can use the following abilities.

Strikes

A strike is the most common type of attack. There are three kinds of strikes: melee, projectile, and thrown. Many abilities allow you to make one or more strikes. Whenever you make a strike, you can choose which kind of strike to make.

Your accuracy with a strike is the same as your accuracy with most other abilities (see Accuracy, page 33). Your damage with a strike is normally equal to your weapon damage with the weapon you hit with (see Weapon Damage, page 50). Most strikes are mundane abilities. If a magical ✨ ability causes you to make a strike, you use your magical ✨ power to determine your weapon damage.

Whenever you make a strike, you must choose one or two weapons to make the strike with. Attacking with two weapons at once has specific restrictions and additional effects (see Dual Wielding, page 58).

Basic Strike – Melee

Choose one or two weapons you are wielding and are able to attack with. For each chosen weapon, make an attack vs. Armor with that weapon against anything adjacent to you. You must have line of effect to the target. If you are using a Long weapon, you can instead attack anything within 10 feet of you.

You must have a Dexterity of at least 2 to attack with two weapons at once. When you do, you take a -1 accuracy penalty to both attacks for each non-Light weapon you attack with in this way.

Hit: You deal the target weapon damage from each weapon you hit with (see Weapon Damage, page 50). If you hit with two weapons, extra damage only applies once.

Critical hit: You roll twice as many damage dice with the attack, as normal for critical hits (see Critical Hits, page 50).

Basic Strike – Projectile

Choose one weapon with the Projectile weapon tag that you are wielding and are able to attack with (see Weapon Tags, page 165). Make an attack vs. Armor with that weapon against anything that you have line of effect to. You suffer a longshot penalty if the target is at long range from you with that weapon (see Weapon Range Limits, page 164).

Hit: You deal the target weapon damage from the weapon (see Weapon Damage, page 50).

Critical hit: You roll twice as many damage dice with the attack, as normal for critical hits (see Critical Hits, page 50).

Basic Strike – Thrown

Choose one or two non-Projectile weapons that you are wielding and are able to attack with. For each chosen weapon, make an attack vs. Armor with that weapon against anything that you have line of effect to. You suffer a longshot penalty if the target is at long range from you with that weapon (see Weapon Range Limits, page 164).

You must have a Dexterity of at least 2 to attack with two weapons at once. When you do, you take a -1 accuracy penalty to both attacks for each non-Light weapon you attack with in this way.

You can throw a weapon that does not have the Thrown weapon tag. When you do, your range limits are 10/30, and you take a -2 accuracy penalty since you are not proficient with that usage of the weapon (see Weapon Proficiency, page 163).

Hit: You deal the target weapon damage from each weapon you hit with (see Weapon Damage, page 50). If you hit with two weapons, extra damage only applies once.

Critical hit: You roll twice as many damage dice with the attack, as normal for critical hits (see Critical Hits, page 50).

Dual Wielding

If you are wielding two weapons, you can attack with both at the same time whenever you make a strike. This is called dual wielding. You need a Dexterity of at least 1 to dual wield. In addition, you cannot use a shield to dual wield, even if you are proficient with using it as a weapon.

When you make a strike with two weapons at once, you make a separate attack with each weapon. Each attack deals its full weapon damage if it hits.

Dual-wielding has four downsides.

- You cannot get a glancing blow with either weapon while attacking with two weapons at once (see Glancing Blows, page 49). If you would miss by 1 or 2, it is considered a full miss instead of a glancing blow.
- You take a -1 accuracy penalty with both attacks. If your Dexterity is 4 or higher, this penalty is removed.
- For each non-Light weapon you dual-wield with, you take an additional -1 accuracy penalty with both attacks. This penalty increases to -2 for each Heavy weapon.

- Any extra damage never applies more than once to a single strike. Extra damage applies if you hit with either weapon, but you don't double extra damage if you hit with both weapons. You can choose which weapon is used to deal extra damage after determining which weapons hit.

Some abilities check if you hit or miss with a strike. While dual-wielding, you can both hit and miss with the same strike if you hit with one weapon and miss with the other.

Secondary Strike Targets

Some abilities allow you to make strikes that affect secondary targets in addition to the primary target or targets. You make the same attack roll and damage roll against all targets of the strike. For example, weapons with the Sweeping weapon tag can make attacks against secondary targets that are close to the primary target. If a strike has multiple primary targets, you must choose a single creature to be treated as the primary target for the purpose of all abilities that reference secondary targets.

Multiple abilities that cause a strike to affect secondary targets stack normally unless noted otherwise.

| Sprint | Exertion | Move at double speed |
| Total Defense | Swift | Gain +2 to defenses |
| Throw | — | Throw a held object |
| Trip | Size-Based | Trip a foe |

Charge: You can use the charge ability as a standard action.

Charge

After you use this ability, you briefly take a -2 penalty to all defenses. This ability does not have the Swift tag, so it does not affect attacks made against you during the current phase.

Move up to your speed in a single straight line. At the end of your movement, you can make a melee strike from your new location.

Desperate Exertion: You can use the desperate exertion ability to succeed at a critical moment when you would otherwise fail. Using this ability is not an action, and can be done at any time. You can decide to use this ability after you learn whether the original roll succeeded or failed. You can even use it after you learn what the effects of a successful attack or check would be, if that is information you could normally learn if it succeeded. However, you must use it before using any other abilities or ending your turn.

| Desperate Exertion | Exertion |
|--|----------|
| After you use this ability, you increase your fatigue level by two (see Fatigue, page 34). | |
| You reroll any attack or check you just made and gain a +2 bonus. | |
| You cannot use this to affect rolls that are not attacks or checks, such as vital rolls . You cannot use this ability multiple times to affect the same roll. | |

Dirty Trick: As a standard action, you can use the dirty trick ability to creatively impair a foe's ability to fight.

| Dirty Trick | Size-Based |
|---|------------|
| When you use this ability, you must describe the kind of dirty trick you are performing. For example, you can pull a creature's pants down, throw sand, or otherwise use your environment to attack. The same creature can be affected by multiple dirty tricks, but each must apply a different penalty. | |
| Make a attack with a free hand against the Reflex defense of one creature you touch . | |

On a hit, the target briefly suffers a -2 penalty to one defense of your choice: Armor, Fortitude, Reflex, or Mental. You choose the defense, which must be appropriate for the action you described.

Escape Grapple: As a standard action, you can use the escape grapple ability to try to stop being grappled. This ability has no effect if you are not currently grappled.

| Escape Grapple | Brawling |
|---|----------|
| Make an attack against any number of creatures that you are grappled by. Since this is a Brawling ability, you use your Strength instead of your Perception to determine your accuracy . You can also entirely replace your normal accuracy with the Flexibility skill (see Flexibility, page 152). | |

The defense of each creature is equal to the result of the attack it made with its maintain grapple ability, or 0 if it did not use that ability. For each target, if you hit that target with this attack, it stops being grappled by you and you stop being grappled by it.

Grapple: As a standard action, you can use the grapple ability to physically grab and restrain a creature.

| | | | |
|--|----------------------|---|---|
| Grapple | Brawling, Size-Based | Recover | Exertion, Swift |
| Make an attack with a free hand against the Fortitude and Reflex defenses of one creature you touch. Since this is a Brawling ability, you use your Strength instead of your Perception to determine your accuracy. On a hit against both defenses, you and the target are grappled by each other. For details, see Grappling, page 61. | | | |
| Maintain Grapple: As a free action, you can use the maintain grapple ability to maintain a grapple that you are part of. If you do not use this ability while you are in a grapple, then creatures can easily escape the grapple with the escape grapple ability. | | | |
| Maintain Grapple | Brawling, Swift | Shove | Brawling, Size-Based |
| Make an attack using a free hand. Since this is a Brawling ability, you use your Strength instead of your Perception to determine your accuracy. This attack has no immediate effect. The result of this roll determines how difficult it is for a creature to escape the grapple during the current round using the escape grapple ability. | | | Shove: As a standard action, you can use the shove ability to physically move a creature. If you are grappling, you can use this ability as a movement. When you do, it only affects creatures you are grappling with (see Grappling, page 61). |
| Overrun: As a movement, you can use the overrun ability to move through creatures in your way. | | | Shove |
| Overrun | Brawling, Size-Based | Choose either one creature adjacent to you, or all creatures grappling or grappled by you (see Grappling, page 61). Make an attack with a free hand against the Fortitude defense of each target. Since this is a Brawling ability, you use your Strength instead of your Perception to determine your accuracy. You must be able to touch each target, but unlike normal for touch abilities, you don't have to beat their Reflex defense. If a target is not able to use any of its movement speeds, such as if it is being carried by a flying creature, its defense is treated as 0. On a hit, you can move up to half your movement speed. During this movement, you can push each target 5 feet for each 5 feet that you move. If you push a target so it stops being adjacent to you, you stop being able to push it further. On a critical hit, your movement speed is not halved. | |
| When you use this ability during the movement phase, you increase your fatigue level by one. Overrunning during the action phase does not increase your fatigue. Move up to your movement speed in a straight line. You can try to move directly through creatures in your way during this movement. Each creature in your way can choose to avoid you, allowing you to pass through its square unhindered. If a creature does not attempt to avoid you, you make an attack vs. Fortitude against it. Since this is a Brawling ability, you use your Strength instead of your Perception to determine your accuracy. If you move into a creature's space with this ability, but you do not move out of it, you and the creature are usually considered squeezing (-2 Armor and Ref) as long as you continue sharing space (see Squeezing, page 57). On a hit, you can move through each target's space. On a miss, you end your movement immediately. | | | Sprint: As a movement, you can use the sprint ability to move more quickly. |
| Recover: You can use the recover ability as a standard action. | | | Sprint |
| When you use this ability during the movement phase, you increase your fatigue level by one. Sprinting during the action phase does not increase your fatigue and does not have the Exertion tag. You can use this ability in the middle of a phase after noticing that your movement is insufficient to keep up with an enemy's reactive movement (see Movement Abilities, page 56). You can immediately take another movement. For the duration of that movement, you double your land speed. | | | If you sprint during both the movement phase and the action phase, you can move at up to four times your normal speed. Since monsters can't increase their fatigue level, they typically can only move at triple speed with a full round of movement. Throw: You can use the throw ability to throw an object or creature. You can use the ability as either a standard action or a minor action. When you use it as a minor action, your throwing distance is halved, your maximum weight category is one category | lighter than normal, and you cannot make an attack roll to hit with the thrown object. Many consumable items, such as firebombs, must specifically be thrown as a standard action to have their intended effects.

Throw

Brawling

You throw an object or creature you hold in at least one hand. Your normal throwing distance for an arbitrary object is equal to 15 feet plus 5 feet per 2 Strength. If the target's weight category is equal to the maximum weight category you can lift normally, your throwing distance is halved (see Weight Categories, page 39). You cannot throw objects too heavy for you to lift normally, even if you can push or drag them.

In order to throw an unwilling creature, it must already be grappled by you, and you must make an attack against its Fortitude defense. Since this is a Brawling ability, you use your Strength instead of your Perception to determine your accuracy.

Some objects are much easier or harder to throw than others. Weapons with the Thrown weapon tag can be thrown up to their range limits. If an object is easy to throw, such as a small dense sphere, you can throw it up to quadruple your normal throwing distance. Likewise, a feather or extremely fragile object may be difficult to throw more than a few feet. The GM can provide guidance about throwing unusual objects.

If you throw the target at a creature or object, you can make an attack roll to hit with it, as the thrown strike ability. That attack roll is rolled separately from the attack roll to throw an unwilling creature, if any.

Total Defense: As a standard action, you can use the total defense ability to focus entirely on defending yourself.

Total Defense

Swift

You gain a +2 bonus to your defenses this round. Because this ability has the Swift tag, this improves your defenses against attacks made against you during the current round.

Trip: As a standard action, you can use the trip ability to trip a creature.

Trip

Size-Based

Make a melee attack using a free hand or a weapon with the Tripping tag against an creature's Fortitude and Reflex defenses (see Weapon Tags, page 165). If you attack with a weapon, you add the weapon's accuracy bonus, if any, to the attack. However, this is not a strike, so abilities like the Sweeping weapon tag have no effect on this attack.

On a hit, the target becomes prone (half speed, -2 Armor and Ref). In addition, if you made the attack with a Tripping weapon and the attack also beat the target's Armor defense, you deal the target weapon damage based on your weapon. You cannot get a glancing blow with this attack, and this damage is not doubled if you get a critical hit. This is not a strike, so abilities that improve your strikes do not affect this ability.

Grappling

A grappled creature is physically struggling with at least one other creature. While grappled, you suffer certain penalties and restrictions, as described below.

Being In A Grapple

While grappling, you suffer certain penalties and restrictions, as described below. Other than these restrictions, you can act normally.

- One of your hands cannot be used for any purposes other than grappling. This prevents humanoid creatures from taking any actions which would require having two free hands, such as attacking with Heavy weapons. This does not affect creatures without hands.
- You take a -2 penalty to Armor and Reflex defenses.
- You cannot move unless you push all creatures grappling you, such as with the shove ability (see Shove, page 60). In addition, you cannot push a creature grappling with you so it stops being adjacent to you. However, you can use the shove ability to affect creatures you are grappling with as a movement instead of as a standard action.
- You can use the escape grapple and Maintain Grapple abilities to stop or continue grappling (see Special Combat Abilities, page 59).

Asymmetric Grappling

Normally, when you use the grapple ability, both you and the target become grappled by each other. Some abilities allow you to grapple other creatures without becoming grappled yourself. You can release a creature that you are not grappled by as a free action. If you do, the creature stops being grappled by you.

Vision and Light

Some creatures have darkvision or other extraordinary senses, but most creatures need light to see by. In an area of bright illumination, all characters can see clearly.

Creatures can see only dimly into areas that have shadowy illumination. Everything in the area has concealment. This allows creatures in the area to make Stealth checks to hide even if they don't have cover (see Stealth, page 159).

In an area with brilliant illumination, creatures can see clearly just like an area with bright illumination. In addition, no shadows exist within an area of brilliant illumination. This makes many effects from the umbramancy mystic sphere difficult or impossible to use.

In areas of total darkness, creatures without darkvision or some other form of supernatural vision are blinded (50% miss chance, -2 Armor and Ref).

Emitting Light

Some items and abilities emit light. Any effect which creates bright or brilliant illumination in an area also creates enough light for shadowy illumination in twice that area.

For example, a simple torch emits bright illumination in a Small (15 ft.) radius. That means it also creates shadowy illumination between 15 feet and 30 feet from the torch in a dark room.

Attacking Unseen Foes

You can make targeted attacks against creatures and objects you cannot see. To do so, you choose a 5-foot square and make the attack against that square. You have a 50% miss chance with the attack. Otherwise, you hit a random valid target in that square with your attack, if one exists.

Concealment

Concealment represents anything which makes it more difficult to see your target, such as shadowy illumination. All targeted attacks against a creature or object with concealment from you have a 20% miss chance. Generally, this means that you roll 1d10, and the attack misses on a 1 or 2. Determining concealment works similarly to determining cover. You must use the same points of origin and target square when determining concealment that you would use to determine cover.

Determining Concealment: There are two things that can cause a creature to be concealed: poor lighting, and intervening obstacles that block sight. Determining concealment from obstacles that block sight works the same way as determining cover (see Cover, page 62).

Determining concealment from lighting conditions is simpler, since it ignores lighting conditions between you and the target. If your target square is in lighting that provides concealment, the target has concealment. Otherwise, it does not.

Obstacles and Cover

In a battle, you may not be able to perfectly see all of your opponents. When obstacles get in the way, they may make some attacks impossible. Almost all abilities, including strikes, must have line of sight and line of effect. Smaller obstacles may simply provide cover instead of making attacks impossible. This section explains how to deal with obstacles and related limitations.

Point of Origin

When you make an attack, you have to determine the point of origin. For targeted attacks, which are the most common, the point of origin is a grid intersection of your choice that is touching your space. For area attacks, the point of origin depends on the shape of the area and whether it has a defined range.

If an area attack has a defined range, the point of origin is a single grid intersection of your choice within that range. Cones, lines, and walls without a range use a grid intersection of your choice that is touching your space, just like targeted attacks. Cylinders and spheres without a range are unusual, since they radiate from your whole body instead of a single point. When determining their total size, treat every grid intersection touching your space as a point of origin. When determining cover and similar effects, only use the grid intersection that is closest to the target.

Cover

Cover represents any obstacle that physically prevents you from striking your target, such as a tree or intervening creature. A creature or object behind cover gains a +2 bonus to Armor and Reflex defenses. If an attack misses the defense of a creature or object behind cover by no more than the defense bonus provided by the cover, the attack is applied to the obstacle instead of to the intended target. In the case of area attacks, this cannot cause an individual creature or object to be targeted or attacked twice by the same ability. This can protect creatures behind cover from glancing blows (see Glancing Blows, page 49). In addition, a creature behind cover can hide (see Stealth, page 159).

Cover is only relevant if the attacker has line of effect to its target (see Line of Effect, page 63). If you don't have line of effect, you generally can't attack the target at all, so the defense bonuses from cover don't matter.

Measuring Cover

To measure cover for a particular attack, draw a cone from the attack's point of origin to the two closest corners of the target's space. Note that these must be corners where the target's space ends, not just grid intersections touching the target's space. The defender can choose between equally distant corners. If there are any obstacles in that cone, the target has cover.

Obstacles only provide cover if the relevant part of the obstacle is no more than one size category smaller than the target. You should ignore any irrelevant parts of the obstacle that are outside of the cone. For example, although a tree might be Gargantuan or Colossal if you include all of its leaves and branches, most trees are only a Medium size obstacle at ground level, since only their trunk is relevant. The rules typically ignore the complexity of three-dimensional space, so you'll have to estimate what would provide reasonable cover in some cases.

Improved Cover

Cover of the same type generally doesn't stack; a creature behind two trees is not substantially more protected than a creature behind a single tree. However, exceptionally well covered creatures, such as a creature behind an arrow slit in a castle, may gain a greater than normal benefit to defenses from cover at the GM's discretion.

Line of Sight

Unless otherwise noted in an ability's description, you cannot target a creature, object, or location that you do not have line of sight to. Line of sight measures whether you can see things, not whether you can touch or reach them.

A line of sight is a straight, unblocked path between an attacker and a target. To measure line of sight for a particular attack, draw a line between any grid intersection touching your space and any grid intersection touching the target's space. If you're targeting a particular point, you would naturally draw the line to that point instead. If this line is not blocked by any obstacles that impede sight, you have line of sight to your target.

Line of Effect

Almost all abilities, including strikes, must have a line of effect to function. Line of effect measures whether physical passage is possible between two locations, regardless of any sight obstacles. For example, a pane of glass would block line of effect, but not line of sight.

Unless otherwise noted in an ability's description, you cannot target a creature, object, or location that you do not have line of effect to. In addition, abilities that affect an area do not affect targets that the ability does not have line of effect to.

A line of effect is a straight, unblocked path between an attacker and a target. To measure line of sight for a particular attack, draw a line between the attack's point of origin and any grid intersection touching the target's space. If you're targeting a particular point, you would naturally draw the line to that point instead. If this line is not blocked by any obstacles that make physical passage impossible, you have line of effect to your target.

Destroying Barriers

Some abilities deal damage to both creatures and objects. If a physical barrier is broken by an ability, that barrier does not affect the ability's line of effect. For example, a thin curtain of silk normally blocks line of effect. However, an ability that destroyed the curtain would have its full effect on everything behind the curtain.

Inside Creatures

Creatures block line of effect to the inside of their own bodies. As a result, you cannot use an ability that takes effect inside a creature unless you are also inside the creature. This restriction applies even if there is no physical barrier to the inside of the creature. For example, you cannot place the point of origin for an area inside a creature's mouth, even if the creature has its mouth open at the time.

Awareness and Surprise

In combat, creatures are sometimes not fully aware of danger, which makes them less able to defend against it. A creature can be described as either aware, unaware (-6 Armor and Ref), or partially unaware (50% miss chance, -2 Armor and Ref) of an attack against it. Normally, creatures are aware of all attacks against them in combat. This causes no special bonuses or penalties.

Sometimes, creatures are fully unaware (-6 Armor and Ref) that they are in danger from attack. This typically happens as a result of stealth, but it can also happen as a result of sudden treachery. A creature takes a -6 penalty to Armor and Reflex defenses against attacks that it is unaware of. After being attacked, an unaware creature typically stops being fully unaware of future attacks.

A creature that knows that it is in danger and is attempting to defend itself, but does not know the exact location or nature of its attackers, is partially unaware (50% miss chance, -2 Armor and Ref). For example, a creature that is already in combat that is attacked by a previously unseen foe is partially unaware of the attack. Similarly, a creature that just barely fails to beat an opponent's Stealth check may hear an ominous sound that makes it partially aware of danger without knowing the exact location of any attackers.

Surprise Attacks

Sometimes, creatures are not aware that combat is taking place when the combat starts. This most commonly happens with ambushes. Any creature that is not aware of the combat continues taking whatever actions it would normally be taking until it becomes aware of the combat. It is usually unaware (-6 Armor and Ref) of all until that point, though unusually vigilant or perceptive creatures may be partially unaware (50% miss chance, -2 Armor and Ref).

If a surprise attack begins a combat, the creatures who initiate the attack can choose which phase to start in. Generally, they should start in action phase, though sometimes the movement phase is more advantageous for the attackers.

Poison

Poisons are organic substances that are dangerous to living creatures. They can deal damage or inflict debilitating effects. Some effects which are not literally poisonous, such as animal venom or fungal spores, are considered poisons. Poisons are not conditions, and cannot be removed by abilities that remove conditions (see Conditions, page 42). Common poisons are listed in Table ??: Consumable Tools, page ??.

Poison Effects

When you come in contact with a poison, you become poisoned. As soon as you become poisoned, and at the end of each subsequent round, the poison makes an attack against your Fortitude defense. On a hit, the poison progresses to its next stage. On a critical hit, the poison progresses by two stages at once, to a maximum of the third stage. On a miss, you make progress towards removing the poison entirely. Once the poison misses you three times, you stop being poisoned.

If you become poisoned again by the same poison, it does not intensify the effects of the poison. However, it cancels any progress you had made towards removing the poison. A poison is considered the same if it has the same name. If you are affected by multiple different poisons with the same name, but different accuracy bonuses, use the highest accuracy bonus.

Poisons have no effect on non-living creatures.

Poison Stages

Poison effects are divided into stages. Becoming poisoned does not have any ill effects until the poison progresses to its first stage.

Many poisons have a Stage 1 effect. This effect happens as soon as the poison's attack first succeeds against you. Some poisons also have a Stage 3 effect.

Poison Accuracy

A poison's accuracy depends on the way it was applied. Item-based poisons have a specific accuracy listed in their description. This accuracy does not depend on the skill of the creature inflicting the poison.

Poisons inflicted by creature abilities use the creature's accuracy. They may also have additional modifiers listed in the ability's description. For monsters, the poison's accuracy will be listed in the monster description.

Poison Transmission

There are three ways that poisons can be contracted.

Contact: A contact poison affects any creature that touches it with bare skin.

Ingestion: An ingestion poison affects any creature that eats, drinks, or breathes it, depending on the type of poison. Ingestion poisons have no effect when touched or used to coat weapons.

Injury: An injury poison affects any creature that loses hit points from something bearing the poison. Almost all injury poisons take liquid form, and are typically used to coat weapons.

Poison Forms

There are four forms of poison.

Gas: Gaseous poisons are difficult to store, but easy to affect foes with. Unless otherwise noted, a gas poison can be thrown within Short (30 ft.) range, and affects a Tiny (5 ft.) radius.

Liquid: Liquid poisons are the most common type of poison. Liquid poisons can be used to coat weapons, slipped into food, or simply thrown at foes. A dose of a liquid poison is usually about one ounce of the poison.

Pellet: Some rare poisons come in small, solid pellets or cubes. Typically, these pellets contain a powerful liquid poison that becomes inert quickly after being exposed. Pellet poisons are typically applied by being slipped into food.

Powder: Poison in powder form cannot be used to coat weapons, but can be slipped into food or thrown at foes. Unless otherwise noted, a powder poison functions as a thrown weapon with range limits of 5/15.

Coating Weapons with Poison

As a standard action, you can coat a weapon with a single dose of a liquid contact-based or injury-based poison. The next time a creature takes damage from a strike using that weapon, the struck creature comes in contact with the poison. This removes one dose of the poison from the weapon. Coated poisons expire and lose their effectiveness after ten minutes.

An injury-based poison has no effect if the strike does not cause the struck creature to lose hit points, but the dose is still removed from the weapon. For this reason, injury-based poisons are typically applied to secondary weapons that can be used after the subject is already weakened.

A weapon can hold up to three poison doses of the same poison. Mixing different poison types on the same weapon is ineffective, as each poison dilutes the others. Only the highest rank poison on the weapon has any effect.

Creating Poisons

You can use the Craft (poison) skill to create poisons. To create a poison, you must make a Craft (poison) check against a difficulty value equal to $10 +$ the poison's base accuracy. For every 2 points by which you beat this difficulty value, the created poison's accuracy gains a +1 bonus, up to a maximum bonus of +10.

more than the poison's base accuracy.

Creating a poison requires special materials. The type of materials required, and how those materials can be acquired, depend on the type of poison.

- Plant: Plant-based poisons can typically be harvested by making a Survival check to search in appropriate terrain. The difficulty value of this check is usually equal to $10 + \text{twice the poison's rank}$.
- Venom: Venom requires an appropriate body part from a creature – often, poison it naturally produces.
- Alchemical: Alchemical poisons require alchemical materials. These normally can't be found in nature. In unusual circumstances, these components can be synthesized from natural chemicals or magical materials with a Craft (alchemy) check equal to $10 + \text{the base accuracy of the poison}$.

Special Combat Rules

Mounted Combat

Horses in Combat: Warhorses and warponies can serve readily as combat steeds. Light horses, ponies, and heavy horses, however, are frightened by combat. At the start of each round, you must make a difficulty value 10 Ride check to control such a horse. Success means you can act normally that round, directing the horse's movements as if it was trained for combat. Failure means that the horse acts of its own volition that round, usually fleeing in panic.

Space: A horse (not a pony) is a Large creature, and thus takes up a space 10 feet (2 squares) across. While mounted, you share your mount's space completely. Anyone who is close enough to hit your mount can attack either you or your mount.

In the case of abnormally large mounts (two or more size categories larger than you), you may not completely share space. Such situations should be handled on a case-by-case basis, depending on the nature of the mount.

Flying Mounts: Flying mounts are harder to ride and control than terrestrial mounts, especially mounts that can change directions rapidly. The difficulty value for all Ride checks on a mount using a fly speed is increased by 10 if the mount has poor or average maneuverability, or by 15 if it has perfect maneuverability.

Combat while Mounted: With a difficulty value 5 Ride check, you can guide your mount with your knees so as to use both hands to attack or defend yourself. This is a free action.

If your mount is moving in the current phase, you take a -2 accuracy penalty with ranged strikes. If your mount uses the sprint ability, this penalty increases to -4 (see Sprint, page 60).

If Your Mount Falls in Battle: If your mount falls, you fall to the ground with it.

If You Are Dropped: If you are knocked unconscious, you fall from your mount to the ground, which may cause you to take falling damage. If you have a military saddle, you stay on your mount instead. In either case, the mount acts according to its nature. Most mounts flee combat without a rider.

Allies and Enemies

Each creature you interact with in Rise is either an ally, an enemy, or a neutral party. Some beneficial abilities only affect allies, and some offensive abilities only affect enemies.

You can choose how you consider each creature at the start of each phase. You cannot consider yourself an ally or an enemy. While you are unconscious, you treat all creatures as allies.

Some abilities exclusively target allies or enemies, but it might seem appropriate for them to include objects as well in a particular situation. The GM can decide whether that makes sense. For example, a fighter can normally use the whirlwind maneuver to hit all adjacent enemies, and they might want to use that maneuver to destroy a number of objects surrounding them. A GM might decide that it's fine to use that maneuver to damage several large objects at once, but the fighter couldn't individually attack fifty specific gold pieces out of a large pile.

Allies: An ally is any creature you consider an ally who also considers you an ally. If you consider someone an ally, but they do not consider you an ally, you treat them as a neutral party for the purpose of your abilities. Allies can move through your space.

Enemies: An enemy is any creature who you consider to be an enemy. Enemies cannot move through your space.

Neutral Parties: A neutral party is any creature who is neither an ally nor an enemy. You treat all creatures you have not declared an opinion of as neutral parties. Neutral parties can move through your space.

Chapter 6

Classes

Your character's class represents the things your character has chosen to train in. This choice determines a great deal about your character's abilities.

How Classes Work

When you first create a character, you choose a class. Each class grants some basic class features to all members of that class. In addition, each class has a number of archetypes that grant more powerful and specific abilities.

Archetypes

Each class has five class archetypes. An archetype is a collection of thematically related abilities. For examples, barbarians have the Battlerager archetype, which grants abilities related to being angry and flying into a rage in combat.

Archetype Ranks

You have an archetype rank associated with each of your archetypes. Each ability from an archetype has a minimum rank required to gain the ability. When you gain a rank in an archetype, you gain all abilities associated with that rank. In addition, some of your existing abilities may increase their power based on your rank in that archetype.

At 1st level, you choose a single archetype from your class (or classes). You become rank 1 in that archetype, and you do not have any other archetypes. At 2nd and 3rd level, you choose an additional archetype from your class or classes. Each time, you become rank 1 in that archetype.

After 3rd level, you never gain additional archetypes. Instead, at each level, you increase your rank in one of your existing archetypes. Each archetype rank has a minimum level, as shown on Table 6.1: Archetype Ranks by Level. The minimum level is included in each class table as a reminder. In practice, this means that you have to increase all of your ranks evenly instead of specializing in a single archetype.

Duplicate Archetypes

Some archetypes can be gained by multiple classes. For example, both clerics and paladins have the Divine Magic archetype. You cannot gain two archetypes with the same name, even if you can choose archetypes from multiple classes.

Table 6.1: Archetype Ranks by Level

| Archetype Rank | Minimum Level |
|----------------|---------------|
| 1 | 1 |
| 2 | 4 |
| 3 | 7 |
| 4 | 10 |
| 5 | 13 |
| 6 | 16 |
| 7 | 19 |

Multiclass Characters

You can spend two insight points to become a multiclass character (see Insight Points, page 25). If you do, choose a class other than your original class. You gain the following benefits relating to that class.

- You gain the class skills of that class in addition to your existing class skills.
- If that class has any special class abilities which are not part of an archetype, such as a warlock's soul pact ability, you gain those abilities.
- Whenever you gain a new archetype, you may choose an archetype from either your original class or your new class. If have multiple archetypes when you become a multiclass character, you may exchange any number of archetypes from your original class for that many archetypes from your new class. However, you must always have at least one archetype from your original class.

You may gain access to multiple classes in this way, spending two insight points for each class. Unless your GM says otherwise, you can only become a multiclass character as part of initial character creation. Changing a higher level character into a multiclass character can be a major change that requires losing access to abilities that you have already had for some time. Generally, you should have an explicit narrative justification for a major character change like that. Of course, every game is different, so talk to your GM.

Class Description Format

Each class is described from the perspective of a member of that class, using “you” in the description.

Class Table: Each class’s table describes the special abilities a member of that class gains at each rank of each of that class’s archetypes.

Alignment: Some classes require specific alignments (see Alignment, page 29). Most classes allow characters of any alignment.

Skills: Each class has specific skills that members of that class are typically good at (see Skills, page 144). These skills are called class skills. For details, see Trained Skills, page 144.

Defenses: Each class grants bonuses to specific defenses.

Weapon Proficiencies: This indicates the types of weapons that members of this class are proficient with.

Armor Proficiencies: This indicates the types of armor that members of this class are proficient with.

Other Special Abilities: Some classes have abilities shared by all members of the class that are not part of an archetype, such as a druid’s druidic language ability.

Archetypes: The abilities associated with each of the three archetypes the class has.

Barbarian

Barbarians are primal warriors that draw power from their physical prowess and unfettered emotions. They fight with a raw, untamed aggression that draws inspiration from more primitive times.

Most barbarians originate from the outskirts of civilization, where the societal constraints of civilization are less present. Of course, becoming a barbarian is no secret rite. The only thing that is required is a willingness to fully experience one’s emotions and channel them into physical betterment. This path evokes an ancient memory of times before the complexity of organized warfare, where physical supremacy was sufficient for victory. Anyone can discover that path for themselves.

Barbarians are famous for their furious battle-rage. Anger is one of the easiest emotions to access and channel into the violence of battle, and it is a common starting point for new barbarians who are still learning how to tap into their emotions. However, any emotion can be used as a source of primal power, as long as it is sufficiently intense.

Barbarians and monks are, in some ways, two sides of the same coin. Both groups develop their physical body to its peak, and believe that the mind and body must work together to maximize their potential. However, a typical monk sees emotions as a tool at best and an obstacle at worst. They value serenity and control over their mind and body. From the perspective of a barbarian, monks completely surrender to civilization’s taming and placating influences, and abandon their primal heritage. Barbarian-monk multiclass characters are exceptionally rare, but not impossible. Typically, they control all of their emotions in the style of monks except for a single emotion, which they unleash in the style of barbarians.

Rangers and druids are natural allies of barbarians, since all three groups prefer to live at the edges of civilization. However, each has different reasons for their preference. Barbarians enjoy the emotional and societal freedom of the frontier, but are typically too social to prefer life as a hermit in the deep wilderness. Druids prefer nature to civilization ideologically, and rangers are best able to fulfill their responsibilities on the frontier.

You gain a bonus equal to three times your rank in this archetype to your hit points (see Hit Points, page 33).

Rank 3 – Resilient Strike

As a standard action, you can use the resilient strike ability.

Rank 6 – Battle-Scarred+

The hit point bonus increases to four times your rank in this archetype.

Rank 7 – Unbloodied Resilience

While you have at least half your maximum hit points remaining, you cannot gain conditions. Recovering hit points above this value does not automatically remove any conditions you already have.

Battlerager

This archetype grants you a devastating rage, improving your combat prowess.

Rank 1 – Rage

You can use the rage ability as a free action. For most barbarians, this represents entering a furious rage. Some barbarians instead enter a joyous battle trance or undergo a partial physical transformation into a more fearsome form.

Rage

Emotion, Exertion, Sustain (free)

For the duration of this ability, you gain the following benefits and drawbacks:

- You gain a +2 accuracy bonus with mundane abilities.
- If you roll a 9 on an attack roll with a mundane ability, it explodes (see Exploding Attacks, page 50). This does not affect bonus dice rolled for exploding attacks.
- You take a -2 penalty to your Armor and Reflex defenses.
- You are unable to take standard actions that do not cause you to make mundane attacks.

Rank 3 – Enraged Strike

As a standard action, you can use the enraged strike ability.

Enraged Strike

Make a melee strike. The strike deals double weapon damage against each creature that dealt damage to you during the previous round.

Rank 4: You gain a +1 accuracy bonus with the strike.

Rank 5: The accuracy bonus increases to +2.

You ignore all penalties to your accuracy and movement speed from vital wounds.

Rank 6 – Unwavering Rage

You are immune to Compulsion and Emotion attacks during your rage ability.

Rank 7 – Titanic Rage

When you use your rage ability, you can grow by one size category, to a maximum of Huge. Increasing your size gives you a +1 bonus to Strength for the purpose of determining your weight limits, a -1 penalty to your Reflex defense, and a -5 penalty to Stealth. It also increases your base speed (see Size Categories, page 38). Since this is a mundane ability, it stacks with other size-increasing effects.

Outland Savage

This archetype improves your mobility and combat prowess with direct, brutal abilities.

Rank 1 – Outlandish Weaponry

You can gain proficiency with exotic weapons from weapon groups that you are already proficient with at the cost of one insight point per weapon group (see Exotic Weapons, page 163).

Rank 1 – Savage Precision

You have exceptional skill with the dirty trick and trip abilities, as well as with all Brawling abilities (see Special Combat Abilities, page 59). Your accuracy with those abilities is equal to the higher of your Strength and Dexterity, plus half your level.

Rank 2 – Versatile Savagery

Choose one of the following weapon tags (see Weapon Tags, page 165): Forceful, Grappling, or Tripping. You may treat all weapons you use as if they had the chosen weapon tag. Whenever your rank in this archetype increases, you can change which weapon tag you chose with this ability.

Rank 3 – Savage Rush

As a standard action, you can use the savage rush ability.

Savage Rush

Move up to your movement speed. During this movement, you can move through spaces occupied by your enemies as if they were unoccupied. At the end of this movement, you may make a melee strike.

Rank 6 – Endless Rush

You gain a +10 foot bonus to your land speed.

Rank 7 – Primal Rush

You can use the sprint ability during the movement phase without increasing your fatigue level. After you use this ability, you briefly cannot use it again.

Primal Warrior

This archetype grants you abilities to use in combat and improves your physical skills.

Rank 1 – Primal Maneuvers

You can channel your primal energy into ferocious attacks. You gain access to one of the following combat styles: dirty fighting, herald of war, or unbreakable defense. In addition, you gain access to any combat style of your choice (see Combat Styles, page 227). You may spend insight points to gain access to one additional combat style per insight point. You can only learn primal maneuvers from primal combat styles that you have access to.

You learn two rank 1 primal maneuvers. You may spend insight points to learn one additional maneuver per insight point. Unless otherwise noted in an ability's description, using a maneuver requires a standard action.

When you gain access to a new rank in this archetype, you can exchange any number of maneuvers you know for other maneuvers, including maneuvers of a higher rank.

Advancement: Some primal maneuvers also increase in power in unique ways based on your rank in this archetype, as indicated in their descriptions.

Rank 2 – Enhanced Maneuvers

You gain the ability to customize your primal maneuvers. For each rank 1 primal maneuver you know, choose one enhancement from the list below and apply it to that maneuver. Enhancements scale in power with your enhancement level, which is equal to your rank in this archetype minus the rank of the maneuver.

Whenever you increase your rank in this archetype, you can change your enhancements. However, you must still apply them to rank 1 primal maneuvers.

Finishing Maneuver: You gain an accuracy bonus equal to twice your enhancement level against creatures who are at less than their maximum hit points. You can only apply this enhancement to maneuvers which cause you to make a melee strike.

Mighty Maneuver: You take an accuracy penalty equal to $4 - \text{your enhancement level}$, but the strike deals double weapon damage. If your enhancement level is at least 5, this becomes an accuracy bonus. You can only apply this enhancement to maneuvers which cause you to make a strike.

Precise Maneuver: You gain an accuracy bonus equal to your enhancement level.

Reckless Maneuver: You gain an accuracy bonus equal to twice your enhancement level. However, you briefly take a -4 penalty to your defenses after you use the maneuver. You can only apply this enhancement to maneuvers which cause you to make a melee strike.

Widened Maneuver: The area affected by your chosen maneuver doubles. If your enhancement level is at least 4, the area triples instead. You can only apply this enhancement to maneuvers that affect an area.

This archetype allows you to embody the spirits of apex predators to improve your combat ability.

Rank 1 – Totem Animal

You choose a totem animal that represents you. Each totem animal grants you abilities that are associated with that animal.

Bear: You gain a bonus equal to three times your rank in this archetype to your maximum hit points. In addition, you gain a +1 bonus to your Fortitude defense.

Crocodile: Once per round, when you damage a creature with a melee strike, you can use this ability to push it into any space adjacent to you. This is a Size-Based ability, so it has no effect on creatures that are two or more size categories larger than you.

Eagle: You gain low-light vision, allowing you to see in shadowy illumination (see Low-light Vision, page 386). In addition, you reduce your longshot penalty by 1 (see Weapon Range Limits, page 164).

Lion: You gain a +1 bonus to accuracy as long as you have an ally adjacent to you.

Shark: You gain a +2 bonus to accuracy against creatures within Short (30 ft.) range of you that are below their maximum hit points.

Rank 2 – Animal Instincts

You gain a +2 bonus to your Reflex defense.

Eagle: You gain a +3 bonus to the Awareness skill. In addition, you are immune to being dazzled (20% miss chance, no special vision) and blinded (50% miss chance, -2 Armor and Ref).

Lion: The accuracy bonus applies as long as an ally is within Short (30 ft.) range of you.

Shark: The accuracy bonus increases to +4.

Wolf: The accuracy bonus applies as long as the ally is within Short (30 ft.) range of you.

Rank 5 – Feral Explosion

Lion: The accuracy bonus increases to +2.

Shark: The accuracy bonus increases to +6.

Wolf: The accuracy bonus increases to +2.

Cleric

Clerics are divine spellcasters who draw power from their veneration of a single deity. The powers of any individual cleric can vary greatly depending on their deity, and the specific aspects of that deity they choose to emulate. Many clerics have exceptional healing or oratory talents, which are powerful tools in spreading the influence of their deity.

Deities are a constant background presence in the world of Rise. Commoners acknowledge the influence of many deities on their life, and offer gifts or prayers to each deity according to their purview. Clerics are the primary means by which deities answer these prayers. In exchange for their mighty divine power, clerics are charged with serving the deity's interests in the world.

Clerics are the most common spellcasting class in the world. The path to becoming a cleric is easier than for any other spellcasting class except for sorcerers, and unlike sorcerers, clerics require no special birthright. Many clerics have specific responsibilities to their deity that preclude adventuring. The most well-known example of this would be clerics who offer divine healing to anyone who enters their temple, but similar responsibilities exist for all deities.

Adventuring clerics can exist for a variety of reasons. They may be charged to help spread knowledge of their deity, and becoming well-known as an adventurer can serve that end. Alternately, they may simply be charged by their deity to grow their personal power. Deities need powerful clerics to maximize their influence on the mortal world.

Paladins and druids are closely related to clerics, since all three draw power from their veneration of external entities. However, the specific nature of each connection is quite different. From the perspective of clerics, the largest difference is that paladins and druids have no oversight and unclear responsibilities. Clerics can always be confident that they are serving their deity's best interest, while paladins and druids simply act as they see fit. This makes them unreliable allies at best and ideological foes at worst. In particular, clerics and druids have some intrinsic tension. Clerics want to expand the worship of their specific deity, which is easiest in civilized areas where many potential worshippers can be found. This runs opposite to the typical druidic preference against civilization.

Alignment: Any.

Archetypes: Clerics have the Divine Magic, Divine Spell Mastery, Domain Influence, Healer, and Preacher archetypes.

Special Class Abilities

Deity

You must worship a specific deity to be a cleric. For details, see Table 2.1: Deities, page 15.

Seek Guidance ✨

You can ask your deity for guidance about how best to serve your deity's interests. This requires a ritual or prayer lasting ten minutes, with the details depending on the deity. By the end, you will have received a vision, emotional instinct, or other guidance. You cannot ask specific questions of your deity, and this is not a general method for sharing information. Deities tend to disapprove of clerics who seek guidance to solve mortal problems that they should be able to deal with themselves. You are generally informed what your current responsibilities are, such as "tend to the wounded who enter my temple" or "do battle with those who serve evil".

Divine Magic ✨

This archetype grants you the ability to cast divine spells. All abilities from this archetype are magical ✨.

Rank 1 – Divine Spells ✨

Your deity grants you the ability to use divine magic. You gain access to one divine mystic sphere, plus the universal mystic sphere (see Divine Mystic Spheres, page 244). You may spend insight points to gain access to one additional divine mystic sphere per two insight points. You can only learn divine spells from divine mystic spheres that you have access to.

You automatically learn all cantrips from each mystic sphere you have access to. In addition, you learn two rank 1 divine spells. You can also spend insight points to learn one additional rank 1 spell per insight point.

Divine spells require verbal components to cast (see Casting Components, page 43). Unless otherwise noted in a spell's description, casting any spell requires a standard action. For details about mystic spheres and casting spells, see Spell and Ritual Mechanics, page 43.

When you gain access to a new mystic sphere or spell rank, you can forget any number of spells you know to learn that many new spells in exchange, including spells of the higher rank.

Advancement: The maximum rank of divine spells that you can learn is equal to your rank in this archetype. Divine spells also increase in power in unique ways based on your rank in this archetype, as indicated in their descriptions.

Rank 2 – Divine Spells+ ✨

You learn an additional divine spell.

Rank 4 – Divine Spells+ ✨

You learn an additional divine spell.

Rank 7 – Divine Spells+ ✨

You learn an additional divine spell.

Divine Spell Mastery

Rank 1 – Metamagic

Some metamagic abilities affect specific spells. You can only choose spells with a rank no higher than your rank in this archetype. In addition, you cannot choose the same spell with more than two metamagic abilities.

Distant Spell: Choose a divine spell you know with a standard range: Short (30 ft.), Medium (60 ft.), Long (90 ft.), Distant (120 ft.), or Extreme (180 ft.). You increase that spell's range to the next standard range category, to a maximum of Extreme range. You can choose this ability multiple times, choosing a different spell each time. Whenever you learn a new spell, you may change which of your spells this ability affects.

Mystic Sphere: You gain access to an additional divine mystic sphere, including all cantrips from that sphere. You cannot choose this ability multiple times.

The maximum rank of divine ritual you can learn or perform is equal to the maximum rank of divine spell that you can cast. In addition, you automatically learn one free divine ritual of each rank you have access to, including new ranks as you gain access to them. You cannot choose this ability multiple times.

Widened Spell: Choose a divine spell you know with a standard area: Small (15 ft.), Medium (30 ft.), Large (60 ft.), Huge (90 ft.), or Gargantuan (120 ft.). You increase that spell's area to the next standard area category, to a maximum of a Gargantuan area. You can choose this ability multiple times, choosing a different spell each time. Turn Undead

Make an attack vs. Mental against all undead creatures within a Large (60 ft.) radius from you.

Domain Influence ✨

This archetype grants you divine influence over two domains of your choice. All abilities from this archetype are magical ✨.

Rank 1 – Domain Gifts ✨

You choose two domains which represent your personal spiritual inclinations. You must choose your domains from among those your deity offers. The domains are listed below.

Each domain has a corresponding domain gift. A domain gift is a passive ability that reinforces your ability to embody your domain. You gain the domain gift for both of your domains (see Cleric Domain Abilities, page 79).

- Air
- Chaos
- Death
- Destruction
- Earth
- Evil
- Fire
- Good
- Knowledge
- Law
- Life
- Magic
- Protection
- Strength
- Travel
- Trickery
- War
- Water
- Wild

Rank 2 – Domain Aspect ✨

Each domain has a corresponding domain aspect. A domain aspect is an active ability that allows you to exert the influence of your domain in the world. You gain the domain aspect ability for one of your domains (see Cleric Domain Abilities, page 79).

Rank 3 – Domain Aspect+ ✨

At rank 3, you gain the domain aspect for another one of your domains.

Rank 4 – Domain Essences ✨

Each domain has a corresponding domain essence. You gain the domain essence for both of your domains (see Cleric Domain Abilities, page 79).

Rank 5 – Miracle ✨

You can request a miracle as a standard action.

Miracle ✨

Exertion)

You mentally specify a request to your deity, and your deity fulfills that request in the manner it sees fit. At your deity's discretion, this can emulate the effects of any divine spell or ritual, or have any other effect of a similar power level. After you use this ability, you increase your fatigue level by three, and you cannot request another miracle for a week.

Miracles are most effective when your request is directly related to your deity's domains and general purview. They do not have to be extremely specific, since deities prefer to have leeway to act as they see fit, but they should not be overly broad or vague. If the deity has a direct interest in your situation, the miracle may be of even greater power.

If you perform an extraordinary service for your deity, you may gain the ability to request an additional miracle, at your deity's discretion.

Rank 6 – Domain Masteries ✨

Each domain has a corresponding domain mastery. You gain the domain mastery for both of your domains (see Cleric Domain Abilities, page 79).

Rank 7 – Miracle+ ✨

Your miracle ability loses the Exertion tag and does not increase your fatigue level. In addition, you can perform two miracles per week instead of only one.

Emotion

Make an attack vs. Mental against all enemies within a Huge (90 ft.) radius from you. Your accuracy is equal to your Persuasion skill.

Cleric Domain Abilities

These domain abilities can be granted by the domain influence cleric archetype. All cleric domain abilities are magical ★ unless otherwise specified.

Air Domain

If you choose this domain, you add the aeromancy mystic sphere to your list of divine mystic spheres (see Mystic Spheres, page 244).

Gift: You gain a +10 foot bonus to your maximum horizontal jump distance (see Jump, page 153). This increases your maximum vertical jump distance normally. In addition, you take half damage from falling damage.

Rank 6: The area increases to a Gargantuan (120 ft.) radius.

Mastery: You gain a fly speed equal to the base speed for your size with a maximum height of 60 feet (see Flight, page 55). As a free action, you can increase your fatigue level by one to ignore this height limit until the end of the round.

Essence: You can use the twist of fate ability as a standard action.

Twist of Fate ★

An improbable event occurs within Distant (120 ft.) range. You can specify in general terms what you want to happen, such as “Make the bartender leave the bar”. You cannot control the exact nature of the event, though it always beneficial for you in some way. After using this ability, you cannot use it again until you finish a long rest.

Mastery: Whenever you explode with an attack roll, you gain a +4 accuracy bonus with the attack (see Exploding Attacks, page 50). As normal, this bonus does not stack with itself, even if you explode multiple times with the same attack roll.

Death Domain

Gift: You gain a +1 bonus to accuracy against creatures that are below their maximum hit points.

Aspect: The bonus from this domain’s gift increases to +2.

Essence: You can use the speak with dead ability as a standard action.

Speak with Dead ★

Attune

Choose a corpse within Short (30 ft.) range. The corpse must have died no more than 24 hours ago. It regains a semblance of life, allowing you to speak with it as if it were the creature the corpse belonged to. The creature is able to refuse to speak with you, though you can attempt to persuade it to speak normally, and some creatures may be more willing to talk if they know they are already dead. The corpse must have an intact mouth to be able to speak. This ability ends if 24 hours have passed since the creature died.

Mastery: The bonus from this domain’s gift increases to +3.

Destruction Domain

Gift: You gain a +1 bonus to your power with all abilities.

Aspect: You can use the destructive strike ability as a standard action.

Destructive Strike ★

Make a strike with 1d4 extra damage. You use the higher of your magical power and your mundane power to determine your damage with this ability (see Power, page 33). This strike deals double damage to objects.

Rank 4: The extra damage increases to 1d4 per 4 power (minimum 1d4).

Rank 5: The extra damage increases to 1d6 per 4 power.

Rank 6: The extra damage increases to 1d6 per 3 power.

Essence: You can use the lay waste ability as a standard action.

Lay Waste ★

Make an attack vs. Fortitude against all unattended objects in a Medium (30 ft.) radius. You may freely exclude any number of 5-ft. cubes from the area, as long as the resulting area is still contiguous.

Hit: For each target, if its damage resistance is lower than your power, it crumbles into a fine powder and is irreparably destroyed.

Rank 6: The area increases to a Large (60 ft.) radius.

Mastery: The bonus from this domain's gift increases to +2.

Earth Domain

If you choose this domain, you add the terramancy mystic sphere to your list of divine mystic spheres (see Mystic Spheres, page 244).

Essence: You can use the speak with earth ability as a standard action.

Speak with Earth ★

Attune

Mastery: The defense bonus increases to +3, and the damage resistance bonus increases to four times your rank in the Domain Mastery archetype.

Evil Domain

Gift: As a free action, you may choose an adjacent ally. Whenever you lose hit points this round, that ally loses half of those hit points in place of you. You are both considered to have lost hit points from the attack for the purpose of any special effects from the attack. This ability has the Swift tag.

Aspect: You can use this domain's domain gift to target any ally within Medium (60 ft.) range.

Essence: You can use the compel evil ability as a standard action.

Compel Evil ★

Compulsion

Make an attack vs. Mental against a creature within Medium (60 ft.) range. Creatures who have strict codes prohibiting them from taking evil actions, such as paladins devoted to good, are immune to this ability.

Hit: The target takes an evil action as soon as it can. Once it takes the evil action, this effect ends. You have no control over the act the creature takes, but circumstances can make the target more likely to take an action you desire. After this effect ends, the target becomes immune to this effect until it finishes a short rest.

You gain a +2 bonus to accuracy with the attack for each rank beyond 4.

Mastery: You can use your domain gift to redirect your hit point loss to an adjacent unwilling creature. You cannot target the same unwilling creature more than once with this ability between short rests.

Fire Domain

If you choose this domain, you add the pyromancy mystic sphere to your list of divine mystic spheres (see Mystic Spheres, page 244).

Gift: You are impervious to fire damage.

Aspect: Your abilities cannot deal fire damage to your allies.

Essence: You can use the speak with fire ability as a standard action.

Speak with Fire ★

Attune

You can speak with and command fire within a Huge (90 ft.) radius zone from your location. You can ask the fire simple questions and understand its responses. If you command the fire to perform a task, it will do so to the best of its ability until this effect ends. You cannot compel the fire to move farther than 30 feet in a single round. Fire that ends the round on non-combustable materials usually goes out, depending on the circumstances.

After you use this ability on a particular area of fire, you cannot use it again on that same area for 24 hours.

Rank 6: The area increases to a Gargantuan (120 ft.) radius.

Mastery: Whenever you deal fire damage, you also treat that damage as being pure energy damage. This can help you deal damage to enemies that are highly resistant to fire damage. Your allies are still immune to fire damage that you convert in this way. In addition, you become immune to fire damage.

Good Domain

Gift: Whenever an adjacent ally suffers a vital wound, you may gain a vital wound instead. You gain a +2 bonus to the vital roll of each vital wound you gain this way. The original target suffers any other effects of the attack normally.

Aspect: This domain's domain gift affects any ally within a Medium (30 ft.) radius emanation from you.

Essence: You can use the compel good ability as a standard action.

Compel Good ★

Compulsion

Make an attack vs. Mental against a creature within Medium (60 ft.) range. Creatures who have strict codes prohibiting them from taking good actions, such as paladins devoted to evil, are immune to this ability.

Hit: The target takes a good action as soon as it can. Once it takes the good action, this effect ends. You have no control over the act the creature takes, but circumstances can make the target more likely to take an action you desire. After this effect ends, the target becomes immune to this effect until it finishes a short rest.

You gain a +2 bonus to accuracy with the attack for each rank beyond 4.

Mastery: Once per round, when an ally within a Medium (30 ft.) radius emanation from you would lose hit points, you may lose those hit points instead. The target suffers any other effects of the attack normally, though it is not treated as if it lost hit points from the attack for the purpose of special attack effects.

Knowledge Domain

If you choose this domain, you add all Knowledge skills to your cleric class skill list.

Gift: You gain an additional trained skill (see Trained Skills, page 144).

Aspect: Your extensive knowledge of all methods of attack and defense grants you a +1 bonus to your Fortitude, Reflex, and Mental defenses.

Essence: You can use the share knowledge ability as a standard action.

Share Knowledge ★

Make a Knowledge check of any kind. Your allies within a Large (60 ft.) radius learn the results of your check. Creatures believe the information gained in this way to be true as if they had seen it with their own eyes.

You cannot alter the knowledge you share with this check in any way, such as by adding or withholding information.

Rank 6: You gain a +3 bonus to the Knowledge check.

Mastery: You gain a +1 bonus to accuracy with all attacks. In addition, you can use your share knowledge ability to affect all creatures, not just your allies.

Law Domain

Gift: When you roll a 1 on an attack roll, it is treated as if you had rolled a 6. This does not affect bonus dice rolled for exploding attacks (see Exploding Attacks, page 50).

Aspect: You gain a +2 bonus to your Mental defense.

Essence: You can use the compel law ability as a standard action.

Compel Law ★

Compulsion

Make an attack vs. Mental against all creatures within a Large (60 ft.) radius from you.

Hit: Each target is unable to break the laws that apply in the area, and any attempt to do so simply fails. The laws which are applied are those which are most appropriate for the area, regardless of whether you or any other creature know those laws.

When you use this ability, you also gain the condition. If this condition is removed from you, it is also removed from all other affected creatures. In areas under ambiguous or nonexistent government, this ability may have unexpected effects, or it may have no effect at all.

You gain a +1 bonus to accuracy with the attack for each rank beyond 4.

Mastery: When you roll a 1 or a 2 on an attack roll or check, it is treated as if you had rolled a 6.

Life Domain

Gift: You gain a +1 bonus to vital rolls.

Aspect: You gain a bonus equal to three times your rank in the Domain Mastery archetype to your hit points.

Essence: At the end of each round, if you became unconscious from a vital wound during that round, you can use one magical ★ ability that removes vital wounds on yourself without taking an action. You cannot affect any other creatures with this ability.

Mastery: The vital roll bonus increases to +2, and the hit point bonus increases to four times your rank in the Domain Mastery archetype.

Magic Domain

If you choose this domain, you add the thaumaturgy mystic sphere to your list of divine mystic spheres (see Mystic Spheres, page 244).

Gift: You gain a +3 bonus to the Knowledge (arcana) skill (see Knowledge, page 153).

Aspect: You learn an additional divine spell from a mystic sphere you have access to.

Essence: You gain a +1 bonus to your power with magical ★ abilities.

Mastery: The power bonus increases to +2.

Protection Domain

Gift: You gain a bonus equal to twice your rank in the Domain Mastery archetype to your damage resistance (see Damage Resistance, page 33).

Aspect: You can use the divine protection ability as a free action.

Divine Protection ★

Swift

Choose an ally adjacent to you. It gains a +1 bonus to all defenses this round.

A creature that sees an attack against an ally protected in this way can observe that you are the cause of the protection with a difficulty value 5 Awareness check. While this ability is active, you cannot gain a defense bonus from this ability, even if another creature with this ability uses it on you.

Essence: The damage resistance bonus increases to three times your rank in the Domain Mastery archetype.

Mastery: The bonus from your divine protection ability increases to +2. In addition, the damage resistance bonus from this domain's gift increases to four times your rank in the Domain Mastery archetype.

Strength Domain

If you choose this domain, you add the Climb and Swim skills to your cleric class skill list.

Gift: You gain a +2 bonus to the Climb and Swim skills.

Aspect: You can use the divine strength ability as a standard action.

Divine Strength ★

Attune

You gain a +1 magic bonus to your Strength.

Essence: You gain a +1 bonus to your Strength for the purpose of checks and determining your weight limits (see Weight Limits, page 39).

Mastery: Your divine strength ability loses the Attune tag. Instead, it lasts until you use it again.

Travel Domain

If you choose this domain, you add the astromancy mystic sphere to your list of divine mystic spheres (see Mystic Spheres, page 244). In addition, you add the Knowledge (nature), Survival, and Swim skills to your cleric class skill list.

Gift: You gain a +10 foot bonus to your land speed while you use the sprint ability (see Sprint, page 60). This speed bonus is doubled as normal from sprinting.

Aspect: You can ignore difficult terrain from inanimate natural sources, such as heavy undergrowth.

Essence: You can use the dimensional travel ability as a standard action.

Dimensional Travel ★

You teleport up to 1 mile in any direction. You do not need line of sight or line of effect to your destination, but you must be able to clearly visualize it.

Rank 6: The maximum distance increases to 5 miles.

Mastery: When you would move using one of your movement speeds, you can teleport the same distance instead. This does not change the total distance you can move, but you can teleport in any direction, including vertically. Being grappled or otherwise physically constrained does not prevent you from teleporting in this way.

You can even attempt to move to locations outside of line of sight and line of effect, up to the limit of your remaining movement speed. If your intended destination is invalid, the distance you tried to teleport is taken from your remaining movement, but you suffer no other ill effects.

Trickery Domain

If you choose this domain, you add the Deception, Disguise, and Stealth skills to your cleric class skill list.

Gift: You gain a +2 bonus to the Deception, Disguise, and Stealth skills.

Aspect: Any magical ★ abilities which detect lies are unable to detect lies you speak. In addition, magical ★ Compulsion effects cannot affect your speech in any way. This means you can still talk and lie normally even while dominated (must obey commands), though you cannot control the rest of your body.

Essence: You can use the compel belief ability as a standard action.

Compel Belief ★

Compulsion, Sustain (minor)

Make an attack vs. Mental against a creature within Medium (60 ft.) range. You must also choose a belief that the target has. The belief may be a lie that you told it, or even a simple misunderstanding (such as believing a hidden creature is not present in a room). If the creature does not already hold the chosen belief, this ability automatically fails.

Hit: The target continues to maintain the chosen belief, regardless of any evidence to the contrary. It will interpret any evidence that the falsehood is incorrect to be somehow wrong – an illusion, a conspiracy to deceive it, or any other reason it can think of to continue believing the falsehood. At the end of the effect, the creature can decide whether it believes the falsehood or not, as normal. After this effect ends, the target becomes immune to this effect until it finishes a short rest.

You gain a +1 bonus to accuracy with the attack for each rank beyond 4.

Mastery: You are undetectable to all magical ★ abilities. They cannot detect your presence, sounds you make, or any actions you take. For example, a scrying sensor created by a Scrying effect would be unable to detect your presence, and a creature with magical darkvision would not be able to see you without light.

War Domain

Gift: You gain proficiency with an additional weapon group of your choice. In addition, you gain proficiency with an additional usage class of armor. You must be proficient with light armor to become proficient with medium armor, and you must be proficient with medium armor to become proficient with heavy armor.

Aspect: You gain a +1 accuracy bonus with strikes.

Essence: You gain a +1 bonus to your Armor defense.

Mastery: The bonus from this domain's aspect increases to +2.

Water Domain

If you choose this domain, you add the aquamancy mystic sphere to your list of divine mystic spheres (see Mystic Spheres, page 244). In addition, you add the Flexibility and Swim skills to your cleric class skill list.

Gift: You gain a +2 bonus to the Flexibility and Swim skills.

Aspect: You can breathe water as easily as a human breathes air, preventing you from drowning or suffocating underwater.

Essence: You can use the speak with water ability as a standard action.

Speak with Water *

Attune

You can speak with and command water within a Huge (90 ft.) zone from your location. You can ask the water simple questions and understand its responses. If you command the water to perform a task, it will do so to the best of its ability until this effect ends. You cannot compel the water to move faster than 30 feet per round.

After you use this ability on a particular area of water, you cannot use it again on that same area for 24 hours.

Rank 6: The area increases to a Gargantuan (120 ft.) radius.

Mastery: Your body becomes partially aquatic, allowing you to manipulate it more easily. The bonuses from this domain's gift increase to +10. In addition, you gain a +1 bonus to Armor and Reflex defenses.

Wild Domain

If you choose this domain, you add the verdamancy mystic sphere to your list of divine mystic spheres (see Mystic Spheres, page 244). In addition, you add the Creature Handling, Knowledge (nature), and Survival skills to your cleric class skill list.

Gift: You gain an additional trained skill (see Trained Skills, page 144).

Aspect: You gain one wild aspect, as the druid ability from the Shifter archetype (see Shifter, page 88). You cannot spend insight points to learn additional wild aspects. The aspect's effect improves based on your rank in the Domain Mastery archetype. If you already have that ability, you simply learn an additional wild aspect, and the aspect's effect continues to scale with your Shifter archetype rank.

Essence: You learn an additional wild aspect.

Mastery: When you use your aspect ability from this domain, you can take on two wild aspects at once, gaining the full benefits of both. When you do, you increase your fatigue level by two. This hybrid wild aspect only lasts for ten minutes, at which point you choose which single wild aspect remains active.

Ex-Clerics

If you grossly violate the code of conduct required by your deity, you lose all spells and magical cleric class abilities. You cannot regain those abilities until you atone for your transgressions to your deity.

Druid

Druuids are nature spellcasters who draw power from their veneration of the natural world. They worship Nature herself, the over-deity who guides and nurtures all living things. Nature grants her followers influence over her domain in gratitude for their service.

All druids value the continuation of life - in the abstract, universal sense, not the specific sense. Predation is a critical part of the natural world, and most druids have no prohibitions against killing. Life as a whole, across all species and levels of sentience, must continue. The worst nightmare of all druids is a dead world, inhabited only by rocks and memories of the life that once existed.

Individual druids have a great variety of opinions and interpretations about which aspects of Nature's domain are most important. Some druids treat all forms of life as equal. Others draw distinctions between different forms of life, such as prioritizing the needs of highly sentient or highly complex life over others. Of course, many druids don't dwell on philosophical questions about the precise value of Nature's various aspects. They focus more on practical maintenance of nature in the world around them according to their own instincts. Nature's domain is immense, and her guidance is virtually nonexistent.

Many druids avoid or actively reject overly developed civilization. The details and causes of this aversion can be source of great disagreement between different druids. Civilization tends to displace or kill natural life, and replaces the vibrant diversity of a forest or jungle with a the smaller subset of life that can exist in cities and cultivated farms. In general, druids who value all forms of life equally and consider diversity to be intrinsically valuable tend to reject civilization most strongly. On the other hand, druids who value life according to its sentience or complexity are typically more tolerant of civilization.

Most druids belong to a specific druidic circle. Druidic circles are groups of druids that share a similar philosophy. Like druids, druidic circles have highly varied structures. Some druidic circles function as communes where all members live together, either nomadically or in a specific area of land claimed by the circle. Others simply have annual meetings to discuss critical matters, with many of the circle's members living in isolation at all other times.

Since druids tend to be more isolated than most, their attachment to druidic circles may seem odd to outsiders. There are many reasons for this tradition, but foremost among them is the importance of continuity of knowledge in the absence of advanced civilization. Druids are unlikely to simply go to a library in a city to gain important knowledge about the natural world. Instead, they must learn from someone who has the knowledge they lack. This means they need access to wise elders who are willing to pass on what they know. Their wisdom must be kept alive between generations through oral traditions. Druidic circles provide a place for this knowledge transfer to occur, and offer a path to welcoming new druids into the fold.

Alignment: Any.

Archetypes: Druids have the Elementalist, Nature Magic, Nature Spell Mastery, Shifter, and Wildspeaker archetypes.

Resources

You have the following resources:

- Three attunement points, which you can use to attune to items and abilities that affect you (see Attunement Points, page 34).
- A fatigue tolerance equal to 3 + your Constitution. Your fatigue tolerance makes it easier for you to use powerful abilities that fatigue you (see Fatigue, page 34).
- A number of insight points equal to 2 + your Intelligence. You can spend insight points to gain additional abilities (see Insight Points, page 25).

- Perception: Awareness, Creature Handling, Deception, Persuasion, Survival.

Elementalist ✶

This archetype grants you influence over four elements that define the natural world: air, earth, fire, and water. All abilities from this archetype are magical ✶.

Rank 1 – Elemental Spell ✶

If you have access to nature magic, you learn a spell from any of the mystic spheres associated with the four elements: aeromancy, aquamancy, pyromancy, or terramancy. You do not have to have access to that mystic sphere. As normal, you can change which spell you learn with this ability as you gain access to new spell ranks.

Rank 1 – Elemental Strike ✶

If you do not have access to nature magic, you gain the ability to make a strike imbued with elemental force. You can use the elemental strike ability as a standard action.

Elemental Strike ✶

Make a strike. Damage dealt by the strike is bludgeoning and fire damage in addition to its normal damage types. You use the higher of your magical power and your mundane power to determine your damage with this ability (see Power, page 33).

Rank 3: You gain 1d4 extra damage with the strike.

Rank 4: The extra damage increases to 1d4 per 4 power (minimum 1d4).

Rank 5: The extra damage increases to 1d6 per 4 power.

Rank 6: The extra damage increases to 1d6 per 3 power.

Rank 7: The extra damage increases to 1d10 per 3 power.

Rank 2 – Elemental Balance ✶

You gain a benefit from each of the four elements.

- Air: You gain a glide speed 10 feet slower than the base speed for your size.
- Earth: You gain a +1 bonus to your Fortitude defense.
- Fire: You are impervious to fire damage.

- Water: You gain a swim speed 10 feet slower than the base speed for your size.

Rank 3 – Elemental Influence

You can use the elemental influence ability as a standard action.

Elemental Influence

Sustain (standard)

You can speak with air, earth, fire, and water within a Huge (90 ft.) zone from your location. You can ask the elements simple questions and understand their responses. Each element has different limitations on its memory and awareness, as described below.

Air, earth, and water are only able to give information about what they touch. This includes the general shapes, sizes, and locations of creatures and objects they interacted with, but not any details about color or subjective appearance. Fire is also able to give information about anything illuminated by its light, allowing it to report more detailed information like color. It is still unable to make meaningful subjective judgments like a creature would.

- Air: Air can remember events up to an hour ago on a very calm day or only a few minutes ago on a windy day. Moving air is aware of events near where it blew through, not necessarily in your current location.
- Earth: Earth can remember events up to a year ago, but its awareness is extremely limited. It can only remember very large events, such as giant creatures tearing up the terrain, earthquakes, or major construction. Earth can tell you whether there exist underground tunnels within the area, but any sort of detailed mapping is beyond its ability to communicate.
- Fire: Fire can remember everything it touched and consumed since it started burning. Individual pieces of a very large fire, such as a particular burning tree in a forest fire, are not aware of the behavior of the entirety of the fire. However, the fire on burning tree could tell you how it got to the tree and everything it burned along the way, including the event that started the forest fire.
- Water: Water can remember events up to a day ago in a very calm pool or only a few minutes ago in a turbulent river. Moving water is aware of events near where it moved through, not necessarily in your current location.

to attack targets up to 10 feet away from you (see Weapon Tags, page 165).

Rank 5 – Elemental Control

When you use your elemental influence ability, you can also command the elements to move as you desire. Each element has different limitations on its ability to move, as described below.

- Air: You can change the wind speed of air by up to 50 miles per hour. If you reduce the air's speed to 0 and then increase it again, you can change the direction the air blows.
- Earth: You can reshape earth or unworked stone at a rate of up to one foot per round.
- Fire: You can make fire leap up to 30 feet between combustable materials, suppress fire so it smolders without being extinguished, or snuff out fire entirely.
- Water: You can change the speed of water by up to 30 feet per round. If you reduce the water's speed to 0 and then increase it again, you can change the direction the water flows.

Rank 6 – Elemental Power+

The power bonus increases to +2.

Rank 7 – Elemental Balance+

Your benefits from each element improve.

- Air: You gain a fly speed 10 feet slower than the base speed for your size with a maximum height of 15 feet (see Flight, page 55). As a free action, you can increase your fatigue level by one to ignore this height limit until the end of the round.
- Earth: The bonus to your Fortitude defense increases to +2.
- Fire: You are immune to fire damage.
- Water: You gain a +10 foot bonus to your swim speed.

Rank 3 – Elemental Power

You gain a +1 bonus to your power with all abilities.

Rank 4 – Elemental Spell+

You learn an additional spell with this ability.

Rank 4 – Elemental Strike+

If you do not have access to nature magic, your melee strikes with the elemental strike ability gain the Long weapon tag, allowing you

Nature Magic

This archetype grants you the ability to cast nature spells. All abilities from this archetype are magical .

Rank 1 – Nature Spells

Your connection to nature grants you the ability to use nature magic. You gain access to one nature mystic sphere, plus the universal mystic sphere (see Nature Mystic Spheres, page 244). You may spend insight points to gain access to one additional nature mystic sphere per two insight points. You can only learn nature spells from nature mystic spheres that you have access to.

You automatically learn all cantrips from each mystic sphere you have access to. In addition, you learn two rank 1 nature spells. You can also spend insight points to learn one additional rank 1 spell per insight point.

Nature spells require verbal components to cast (see Casting Components, page 43). Unless otherwise noted in a spell's description, casting any spell requires a standard action. For details about mystic spheres and casting spells, see Spell and Ritual Mechanics, page 43.

When you gain access to a new mystic sphere or spell rank, you can forget any number of spells you know to learn that many new spells in exchange, including spells of the higher rank.

Advancement: At ranks 2, 4, and 7, you learn an additional nature spell. The maximum rank of nature spells that you can learn is equal to your rank in this archetype. Nature spells also increase in power in unique ways based on your rank in this archetype, as indicated in their descriptions.

Nature Spell Mastery

This archetype improves the nature spells you cast. You must have the Nature Magic archetype from the cleric class to gain the abilities from this archetype. All abilities from this archetype are magical .

Rank 1 – Metamagic

You learn how to further refine your spellcasting abilities. Choose two metamagic abilities from the list below.

Some metamagic abilities affect specific spells. You can only choose spells with a rank no higher than your rank in this archetype. In addition, you cannot choose the same spell with more than two metamagic abilities.

Distant Spell: Choose a nature spell you know with a standard range: Short (30 ft.), Medium (60 ft.), Long (90 ft.), Distant (120 ft.), or Extreme (180 ft.). You increase that spell's range to the next standard range category, to a maximum of Extreme range. You can choose this ability multiple times, choosing a different spell each time. Whenever you learn a new spell, you may change which of your spells this ability affects.

Mystic Sphere: You gain access to an additional nature mystic sphere, including all cantrips from that sphere. You cannot choose this ability multiple times.

Precise Spell: Choose a nature spell you know. You gain a +1 bonus to accuracy with that spell. You can choose this ability multiple times, choosing a different spell each time. Whenever you learn a new spell, you may change which of your spells this ability affects.

Rituals: You gain the ability to perform nature rituals to create unique magical effects (see Rituals, page 44). The maximum rank of nature ritual you can learn or perform is equal to the maximum rank of nature spell that you can cast. In addition, you automatically learn one free nature ritual of each rank you have access to, including new ranks as you gain access to them. You cannot choose this ability multiple times.

Widened Spell: Choose a nature spell you know with a standard area: Small (15 ft.), Medium (30 ft.), Large (60 ft.), Huge (90 ft.), or Gargantuan (120 ft.). You increase that spell's area to the next standard area category, to a maximum of a Gargantuan area. You can choose this ability multiple times, choosing a different spell each time. Whenever you learn a new spell, you may change which of your spells this ability affects.

Rank 2 – Plant Channeling

Whenever you cast a spell, you may treat all effects of the spell as if you were located at any Tiny or larger living plant within Medium (60 ft.) range instead of in your current location. This allows you to measure the spell's range from the plant's location, cone-shaped areas originate from the plant's location instead of your own, and so on.

Rank 3 – Experienced Spellcaster

You gain a +1 bonus to accuracy with spells.

Rank 4 – Metamagic+ ✨

You gain an additional metamagic ability.

Rank 5 – Attunement Point ✨

You gain an additional attunement point.

Rank 6 – Experienced Spellcaster+ ✨

The accuracy bonus increases to +2.

Rank 7 – Metamagic+ ✨

You gain two additional metamagic abilities.

Shifter

This archetype grants you the ability to embody aspects of the natural world in your own form.

Rank 1 – Wild Aspects ✨

You gain the ability to embody an aspect of an animal or of nature itself. Choose two wild aspects from the list below. You can also spend insight points to learn one additional wild aspect per insight point.

As a standard action, you can gain the effects of one wild aspect that you know. You cannot change your wild aspect more than once per round. That effect lasts until you activate a different wild aspect you know or until you dismiss it as a free action.

The abilities in the list below describe the effects of the aspect. Your appearance also changes to match the aspect's effects, but the nature of this change is not described. Different druids change in different ways. For example, one druid might grow brown fur when using the Form of the Bear, while another might instead change their face to become broader and more bear-shaped when embodying the same aspect. You choose how your appearance changes when you gain a wild aspect. This change cannot be used to gain an additional substantive benefit beyond the effects given in the description of the aspect.

Form of the Bear ✨

You gain a +2 bonus to your Fortitude defense and a +1 bonus to your vital rolls. In addition, your mouth and hands transform, granting you a bite and two claw natural weapons (see Table 8.6: Natural Weapons, page 172).

Rank 3: The Fortitude defense bonus increases to +3.

Rank 5: The vital roll bonus increases to +2.

Rank 7: The Fortitude defense bonus increases to +4.

Form of the Bull ✨

Rank 3: You gain a +2 accuracy bonus with the shove ability.

Rank 5: The accuracy bonus increases to +4.

Rank 7: When you push a creature with the the shove ability, the pushed creature also takes weapon damage from your gore natural weapon. This damage cannot be combined with other effects that deal damage with a shove.

Form of the Constrictor ✨

You gain a +2 bonus to accuracy with the grapple ability and all grapple actions (see Grapple, page 59). In addition, you can contort your body, allowing it to act as a free hand for the purpose of using the grapple ability and grapple actions even if you do not have a free hand. Finally, you gain a bite natural weapon (see Table 8.6: Natural Weapons, page 172).

Rank 3: When you grapple a creature with the grapple ability, they also take weapon damage from your bite natural weapon.

Rank 5: The accuracy bonus increases to +4.

Rank 7: When you grapple a creature with the grapple ability, you are not considered to be grappled (see Asymmetric Grappling, page 61).

Form of the Hound ✨

You gain a bite natural weapon (see Table 8.6: Natural Weapons, page 172). In addition, you have the ability to move on all four limbs. When doing so, you become multipedal and have no free hands (see Multipedal, page 386). This gives you a +10 foot bonus to your land speed, and gives your bite the Heavy weapon tag.

When not using your hands to move, your ability to use your hands is unchanged. You can descend to four legs and rise up to stand on two legs again as part of movement.

Rank 3: You gain the scent ability.

Rank 5: You gain an additional +10 bonus to scent-based Awareness checks (see Awareness, page 145).

Rank 7: You can run on three limbs instead of four, allowing you to retain one free hand while multipedal.

Form of the Fish ✨

You gain a swim speed 10 feet slower than the base speed for your size. In addition, you gain a bite natural weapon (see Table 8.6: Natural Weapons, page 172).

Rank 3: You can breathe water as easily as a human breathes air, preventing you from drowning or suffocating underwater.

Rank 5: You gain a +10 foot bonus to your swim speed.

Rank 7: You are immune to magical ✨ effects that restrict your mobility. In addition, you are impervious to the grapple ability and grapple actions (see Grapple, page 59).

Form of the Monkey ✨

You gain a climb speed 10 feet slower than the base speed for your size. In addition, you gain a bite natural weapon (see Table 8.6: Natural Weapons, page 172).

Rank 3: You grow a tail that you can use as a free hand for the purpose of climbing.

Rank 5: You gain a +10 foot bonus to your climb speed.

Rank 7: You can use the creature climb ability against creatures only one size category larger than you instead of two size categories larger than you.

Form of the Hawk ✨

You gain low-light vision, allowing you to see in shadowy illumination (see Low-light Vision, page 386). In addition, you gain a +3 bonus to the Awareness skill.

Rank 3: You grow wings, granting you a glide speed equal to the base speed for your size (see Gliding, page 55).

Rank 5: The skill bonuses increase to +5.

Rank 7: You gain a fly speed equal to the base speed for your size with a maximum height of 60 feet (see Flight, page 55). As a free action, you can increase your fatigue level by one to ignore this height limit until the end of the round.

Form of the Mouse ✨

You gain a +3 bonus to the Flexibility and Stealth skills. In addition, you gain a bite natural weapon (see Table 8.6: Natural Weapons, page 172).

Rank 3: When you use this wild aspect, you can choose to shrink by one size category, to a minimum of Tiny. In addition, if you shapeshift into this form with the animal shape ability, you can shrink by two size categories instead of only one.

Rank 5: The skill bonuses increase to +5.

Rank 7: When you use this wild aspect, you can choose to shrink by up to two size categories instead of only one.

Form of the Viper ★

You do not need to use free hands to climb (see Climb, page 147). In addition, you gain a bite natural weapon (see Table 8.6: Natural Weapons, page 172). When a creature takes damage from your bite natural weapon, it is poisoned (see Poison, page 64). Its stage 1 effect makes the target briefly stunned (-2 defenses). Its stage 3 effect makes the target stunned while the poison lasts.

Rank 3: You gain a +1 accuracy bonus with all poisons.

Rank 5: The accuracy bonus increases to +2.

Rank 7: The accuracy bonus increases to +3.

Form of the Wolf ★

You gain a +1 bonus to accuracy against creatures that are adjacent to both you and one of your allies. In addition, you gain a bite natural weapon (see Table 8.6: Natural Weapons, page 172).

Rank 3: You gain the scent ability.

Rank 5: The accuracy bonus increases to +2.

Rank 7: The accuracy bonus applies even if you are not adjacent to a creature, as long as one of your allies is adjacent to the creature.

Myriad Form ★

If you have Disguise as a trained skill, you gain a +3 bonus to it. Otherwise, you are treated as being trained in that skill.

Rank 3: When you use this wild aspect, you can choose to grow or shrink by one size category (see Size Categories, page 38). If you increase your size, you are slightly clumsy in your new size, and you take a -10 foot penalty to your speed with all of your movement modes.

Rank 5: You can disguise yourself as a standard action (see Disguise, page 151).

Rank 7: When you use this wild aspect, you can choose to grow or shrink by up to two size categories instead of only one.

Photosynthesis ★

As long as you are in natural sunlight, you regain hit points equal to half your power at the end of each round. This cannot heal you above half your maximum hit points.

Rank 3: You do not gain hunger or thirst while in natural sunlight. When you leave natural sunlight, you continue gaining hunger or thirst at your normal rate, ignoring any time you spent in natural sunlight.

Rank 5: The healing from this wild aspect increases to be equal to your power.

Rank 7: When you finish a short rest while you are in natural sunlight, you can remove a vital wound. When you do, you increase your fatigue level by four.

Plantspeaker ★

Your speed is not reduced when moving in heavy undergrowth. In addition, you can ignore cover and concealment from plants whenever doing so would be beneficial to you, as the plants move out of the way to help you. This prevents you from suffering penalties on your attacks, and also prevents creatures from using cover or concealment from plants to hide from you.

Rank 3: You gain a +1 bonus to your Armor and Reflex defenses while standing in undergrowth.

Rank 5: All light undergrowth within a Medium (30 ft.) radius from you is treated as difficult terrain for your enemies.

Rank 7: The radius of difficult terrain increases to Large (60 ft.).

Rank 2 – Shift Body ★

You can use the shift body ability whenever you finish a long rest.

Shift Body ★

Attune

When you use this ability, choose a physical attribute: Strength, Dexterity, or Constitution (see Attributes, page 23). You gain a +1 bonus to that attribute.

Rank 3 – Shifting Strike

You can use the shifting strike ability as a standard action.

Shifting Strike ★

Choose Armor, Reflex, or Fortitude defense. Make a strike against that defense with a natural weapon.

Rank 4: You can choose to deal double weapon damage with the strike. If you do, you take a -4 accuracy penalty.

Rank 5: You gain a +1 accuracy bonus with the strike.

Rank 6: The accuracy bonus increases to +2.

Rank 7: The accuracy bonus increases to +3.

Rank 4 – Animal Shape ★

Whenever you activate a wild aspect that represents a specific animal, you can fully shapeshift to match that animal's shape. This cannot increase your size category, but you can shrink by one size category if it is appropriate for that animal. You may choose to reshape any body armor you wear as barding to fit the animal instead of melding it into your form. The armor regains its normal shape if you take it off. For details about shapeshifting, see Shapeshifting, page 46.

Rank 5 – Shift Body+ ★

This ability loses the Attune tag. Instead, it lasts until you use it again.

Rank 6 – Cleansing Shift ★

Whenever you activate a new wild aspect, you can also remove one condition.

Rank 7 – Animal Shape+ ★

You may either grow or shrink by one size category when you shapeshift with this ability, regardless of whether it would normally be appropriate for that animal.

Rank 7 – Hybrid Aspect ★

When you use your wild aspect ability, you can take on two aspects at once, gaining the full benefits of both. When you do, you increase your fatigue level by two. This hybrid aspect only lasts for ten minutes, at which point you choose which single aspect remains active.

Wildspeaker ★

This archetypes deepens your connection to animals and plants, and allows you to call animals to aid you in combat. All abilities from this archetype are magical ★.

Rank 1 – Natural Servant ★

You can use the natural servant ability. This ability requires spending 1 hour performing rituals in a natural area.

Natural Servant ★

Attune (deep)

An animal native to the local environment appears to help you. It follows your directions to the best of its ability as long as you remain in its natural environment. If you leave the animal's natural habitat, it remains behind and this effect ends.

Your magical connection to the animal improves its resilience and strength in combat. The animal's statistics use the values below, except that each animal also gains a special ability based on the environment you are in. Animals are unable to understand complex concepts, so their ability to obey convoluted instructions is limited.

- Its size category is Medium, and its base speed is 30 feet.
- It has no resources, and it cannot use Exertion abilities.
- Its hit points are equal to the standard value for your level and base class (see Base Class Abilities, above).
- Its damage resistance is equal to half its hit points, ignoring any magic bonuses to hit points.
- Each of its defenses is equal to $5 + \text{half your level}$.
- Its accuracy is equal to half the sum of your level and Perception.
- Its power is 0.
- It does not make vital rolls, but it automatically drops unconscious if it gains a vital wound. If it gains three vital wounds, it dies.
- It automatically shares the benefits of all of your magic bonuses to hit points and damage resistance.

Rank 3: The animal's power becomes equal to your magical power, which increases its weapon damage as normal (see Weapon Damage, page 50).

Rank 4: The animal gains a +1 accuracy bonus with strikes.

Rank 5: The accuracy bonus increases to +2.

Rank 6: The accuracy bonus increases to +4.

Rank 7: The animal's weapon damage is doubled. However, the accuracy bonus is reduced to +2.

The special ability of the animal that appears depends on your environment, as described below. You may choose a different animal native to that environment that is similar in size and type, but that does not change the animal's statistics. For example, your natural servant in an aquatic environment may be a fish or seal instead of a shark. Unusual environments may have different animals than the standard animals listed below.

- Aquatic: A shark appears that has a 30 foot swim speed and no land speed. It has a bite natural weapon.

- Arctic: An arctic fox appears that has no penalties for being in cold environments. It has a bite natural weapon.
- Desert: A hyena appears that has no penalties for being in hot environments. It has a bite natural weapon.
- Mountain: A goat appears that can move up or down steep slopes without slowing its movement. It has a ram natural weapon.
- Forest: A wolverine appears that has two additional hit points. It has a bite natural weapon.
- Plains: A wolf appears that has the scent ability. It has a bite natural weapon.
- Swamp: A crocodile appears that has a 20 foot land speed and a 30 foot swim speed. It has a bite natural weapon.
- Underground: A dire rat appears that has low-light vision. It has a bite natural weapon.

Rank 2 – Animal Speech

You can use the animal speech ability as a standard action.

| Animal Speech  | Sustain (minor) |
|--|------------------------|
| Choose an animal within Long (90 ft.) range. You can speak to and understand the speech of the target animal, and any other animals of the same species. This ability does not make the target any more friendly or cooperative than normal. Wary and cunning animals are likely to be terse and evasive, while stupid ones tend to make inane comments and are unlikely to say or understand anything of use. | |

Rank 3 – Nature's Ally

You and your allies within a Huge (90 ft.) radius emanation from you are under nature's protection. Animals will not willingly attack protected creatures, and will automatically attempt to help if the protected creatures are in mortal danger. For example, if you are attacked while in a forest, nearby birds might start harassing your foes, at the GM's discretion. If any protected target attacks a creature that this ability protects you from, this ability is suppressed until you finish a long rest.

Rank 4 – Natural Attunement

Your natural servant gains an attunement point. This attunement point is shared among any creatures you summon with your natural servant ability. In addition, you can cast Attune spells on your natural servant if it is within Short (30 ft.) range of you. When you do, the natural servant attunes to the spell instead of you, as if the spell was an Attune (target) spell.

Rank 5 – Animal Speech+

When you use this ability, you may target any living creature that knows at least one language. If you target a non-animal in this way, you do not gain the ability to speak with and understand the speech of other creatures of the target's species.

Rank 6 – Nature's Ally+

This ability also protects you and your allies from plant animates, elemental planeforged, and all summoned creatures.

Rank 7 – Natural Attunement+

Your natural servant gains an additional attunement point.

Rank 7 – Natural Servant+

You may choose to have a Large natural servant appear instead of a Medium natural servant.

Ex-Druids

A druid who ceases to revere nature or who changes to a prohibited alignment loses all magical  druid class abilities. They cannot thereafter gain levels as a druid until they atone for their transgressions.

Fighter

Fighters are highly disciplined warriors who excel in physical combat of any kind. They have a deep mastery of the implements and strategies of battle thanks to their extensive training. Other martial characters may be physically stronger or capable of strange and improbable tricks, but fighters are unmatched as battlefield champions.

Each fighter has a different area of specialization, but most fighters have some amount of battlefield control. They can guard their allies, impede the movement of their foes, or give battle commands to their allies to guide them. This makes fighters invaluable in large-scale battles, and they are the most common class found in organized military forces. The regimented nature of army life tends to drive away many people used to more freedom, but fighters are often compatible with the discipline found in armed forces.

More broadly, fighters are the most common class in many civilized settings. A fighter's training requires no secret wisdom, and it can be self-taught or guided by a mentor. Many people undergo some battle training regardless of their ultimate path in life, leading them to discover that they may enjoy it for its own sake.

Monks are closely related to fighters, since both classes use training and discipline to improve themselves. However, monks focus more on mental control and exploring the supernatural powers that come from tapping into the body's potential. In contrast, fighters have a more grounded approach, and focus more on practical knowledge that can be directly applied to physical combat. A typical monk would consider fighters to be overly limited in their focus on day-to-day combat, while a typical fighter would consider monks to be wasting their training with mysticism and esoteric nonsense.

Alignment: Any.

Archetypes: Fighters have the Combat Discipline, Equipment

Training, Martial Mastery, Sentinel, and Tactician archetypes.

If you are a fighter, you gain the following abilities.

Defenses

You gain the following bonuses to your defenses: +5 Fortitude, +3 Reflex, +4 Mental.

- Level 13: 40 hit points + six times your Constitution, plus 6 hit points per level beyond 13.
- Level 19: 80 hit points + twelve times your Constitution, plus 12 hit points per level beyond 19.

Resources

You have the following resources:

- Two attunement points, which you can use to attune to items and abilities that affect you (see Attunement Points, page 34).
- A fatigue tolerance equal to $4 + \text{your Constitution}$. Your fatigue tolerance makes it easier for you to use powerful abilities that fatigue you (see Fatigue, page 34).
- A number of insight points equal to $1 + \text{your Intelligence}$. You can spend insight points to gain additional abilities (see Insight Points, page 25).
- Three trained skills from among your class skills, plus additional trained skills equal to your Intelligence (see Skills, page 144).

Disciplined Strike

Make a strike with 1d4 extra damage. You cannot get a critical hit with this strike.

You can use your cleansing discipline ability as a minor action.

When you do, you increase your fatigue level by one.

Rank 7 – Vital Discipline

You briefly ignore the vital wound effect of each vital wound you gain. While a vital wound is delayed in this way, you do not suffer any effects from its specific vital wound effect, but you still consider it when calculating your penalties to vital rolls.

Equipment Training

This archetype improves your combat prowess with weapons and armor.

Rank 1 – Weapon Training

You can use the weapon training ability by spending an hour training with a weapon. You cannot use this ability with an exotic weapon that is from a weapon group you are not proficient with.

Rank 2 – Equipment Efficiency

You gain an additional attunement point. You can only use this attunement point to attune to magic weapons and magic armor.

Rank 3 – Armor Expertise

The effect of your weapon training ability is permanent.

Rank 5 – Equipment Efficiency+

You can use the item attunement ability to attune to weapons and armor as a minor action (see Item Attunement, page 163).

Rank 6 – Armor Expertise+

The encumbrance reduction increases to 2. You also always apply your full Dexterity to your Armor defense, regardless of the armor you use. In addition, armor no longer penalizes your movement speed.

Rank 7 – Equipment Mastery

While you are wielding a weapon, you gain a +1 bonus to your accuracy. While you are wearing body armor, you gain a +1 bonus to your Armor defense.

Martial Mastery

This archetype grants you special abilities to use in combat.

You can channel your martial prowess into dangerous attacks. You gain access to one of the following combat styles: blunt force, penetrating precision, or rip and tear. In addition, you gain access to any combat style of your choice (see Combat Styles, page 227). You may spend insight points to gain access to one additional combat style per insight point. You can only learn martial maneuvers from martial combat styles that you have access to.

You learn two rank 1 martial maneuvers. You may spend insight points to learn one additional maneuver per insight point. Unless otherwise noted in an ability's description, using a maneuver requires a standard action.

When you gain access to a new rank in this archetype, you can exchange any number of maneuvers you know for other maneuvers, including maneuvers of a higher rank.

Advancement: Some martial maneuvers also increase in power in unique ways based on your rank in this archetype, as indicated in their descriptions.

Rank 2 – Enhanced Maneuvers

Whenever you increase your rank in this archetype, you can change your enhancements. However, you must still apply them to rank 1 martial maneuvers.

Debilitating Maneuver: You gain an accuracy bonus equal to twice your enhancement level. However, you cannot get a critical hit. You can only apply this enhancement to maneuvers which deal damage and can inflict a condition.

Guarding Maneuver: You gain a bonus to your Armor defense equal to half your enhancement level (minimum 1) when you use the maneuver. This is an Swift effect, so it protects you from attacks against you during the current phase. You can only apply this enhancement to maneuvers which cause you to make a strike.

Mighty Maneuver: You take an accuracy penalty equal to 4 - your enhancement level, but the strike deals double weapon damage. If your enhancement level is at least 5, this becomes an accuracy bonus. You can only apply this enhancement to maneuvers which cause you to make a strike.

You can use the protect ability as a free action.

ProtectSwift

Choose an ally adjacent to you. It gains a +2 bonus to its Armor defense this round.

A creature that sees an attack against an ally protected in this way can observe that you are the cause of the protection with a difficulty value 5 Awareness check. While this ability is active, you cannot gain a defense bonus from this ability, even if another creature with this ability uses it on you.

Rank 2 – Threatening Influence

Your enemies move at half speed while within a Small (15 ft.) radius emanation from you. This it does not affect creatures who are moving in a straight line directly towards you. It also has no effect on enemies that are able to move through your space freely, such as incorporeal or very large creatures.

Rank 3 – Guarding Strike

You can use the guarding strike ability as a standard action.

Tactician

This archetype helps you lead your allies in combat with tactical abilities that allow you to adapt to different circumstances.

Rank 1 – Battle Tactics

You can lead your allies using tactics appropriate for the situation. Choose two battle tactics from the list below. You can also spend insight points to learn one additional battle tactic per insight point.

You can initiate a battle tactic as a minor action. When you initiate a battle tactic, you choose whether to use visual cues like gestures, auditory cues like shouts, or both to communicate your tactic with your allies. Your battle tactics affect yourself and your allies who can either see or hear your chosen communication style.

All battle tactics have the Sustain (minor) tag, so they last as long as you sustain them (see Sustained Abilities, page 42). You cannot sustain multiple battle tactics simultaneously, and any existing battle tactics end as soon as you activate another battle tactic.

Rank 3 – Coordinated Assault

As a standard action, you can use the coordinated assault ability.

Coordinated Assault

You can move up to half your land speed. You can push one adjacent ally along to match your movement. Then, you can make a strike. You gain a +1 accuracy bonus with the strike for each of your allies that is adjacent to the target, to a maximum of +3.

However, each creature can benefit from both battle tactics at once.

Monk

Monks are agile masters of “ki” who hone their personal abilities to strike down foes and perform supernatural feats. They undergo extensive training to control their mind and body in unison, using each to improve the other. The techniques required to become a monk are strange and unintuitive, and only a legendary few can discover them on their own. Instead, most monks are trained at monasteries, where they learn how to master themselves long before they turn their attention to besting others in combat.

Unlike every other class capable of magical feats, monks draw their power entirely from themselves. They have learned to tap into the life energy within their bodies, use it to cause dramatic effects in the world around them, and then reclaim that energy instead of letting it dissipate into the world. This process is deeply dangerous if misapplied, which is why the training required to become a monk is so rigorous. Expending one’s life energy without being able to reclaim it is a fast path to inadvertent death.

Monks are famous for their ability to fight completely unarmed, and for their tendency to use unusual weapons that few non-monks use. This is more a matter of tradition than any necessity. Some monks prefer more common weapons, and any fighter could learn how to use monk weapons given time to train with them. However, the monk weapons are well suited to the fighting styles that monks learn as part of their training.

The combat training for monks often consists of dueling other monks, and rarely involves fighting non-humanoid monsters. As a result, they often try to trip, grapple, or distract their foes in combat. These strategies are all most effective against humanoid opponents.

Rank 1 – Move Like Wind

You gain a +10 foot bonus to your land speed.

Rank 2 – Evasion

You take no damage from glancing blows or misses caused by abilities that affect an area and attack your Armor or Reflex defense. This does not protect you from any non-damaging effects of those abilities, or from abilities that affect multiple specific targets without affecting an area. If you have the evasion rogue ability with the same effect as this ability, you also gain a +2 bonus to your Armor and Reflex defenses against area attacks.

Rank 3 – Aerial Strike

As a standard action, you can use the aerial strike ability.

Aerial Strike

You jump and move as normal for the jump (see Jumping, page 54). In addition, you can make a strike with +1d4 extra damage at any point during that jump. This extra damage is doubled against each creature that you are directly above when you make the strike.

You can perform a wide variety of unusual attacks. You gain access to one of the following combat styles: dirty fighting, flurry of blows, or mobile assault. In addition, you gain access to any combat style of your choice (see Combat Styles, page 227). You may spend insight points to gain access to one additional combat style per insight point. You can only learn esoteric maneuvers from esoteric combat styles that you have access to.

You learn two rank 1 esoteric maneuvers. You may spend insight points to learn one additional maneuver per insight point. Unless otherwise noted in an ability's description, using a maneuver requires a standard action.

When you gain access to a new rank in this archetype, you can exchange any number of maneuvers you know for other maneuvers, including maneuvers of a higher rank.

Advancement: Some esoteric maneuvers also increase in power in unique ways based on your rank in this archetype, as indicated in their descriptions.

Rank 2 – Enhanced Maneuvers

You gain the ability to customize your esoteric maneuvers. For each rank 1 esoteric maneuver you know, choose one enhancement from the list below and apply it to that maneuver. Enhancements scale in power with your enhancement level, which is equal to your rank in this archetype minus the rank of the maneuver.

Whenever you increase your rank in this archetype, you can change your enhancements. However, you must still apply them to rank 1 esoteric maneuvers.

Ki ★

This archetype grants you unusual abilities based on tapping into your inner ki. If you have any encumbrance, you lose the benefit of all abilities from this archetype. All abilities from this archetype are magical ★.

Rank 1 – Ki Barrier ★

While you are not wearing other body armor, you gain a ki barrier around your body. This functions like body armor that provides a +3 bonus to your Armor defense and has no encumbrance. It also provides a bonus to your damage resistance equal to four times your rank in this archetype.

You can also use a free hand to wield the barrier as a shield. This functions like a buckler, granting you a +1 bonus to your Armor defense, except that you do not need to be proficient with light armor. Since this bonus comes from a shield, it does not stack with the benefits of using any other shield.

Rank 1 – Ki Energy ★

Whenever you make a strike, you can choose to treat it as a magical ★ ability. This allows you to use your magical power to determine your damage instead of your mundane power (see Power, page 33). In addition, that strike does not deal physical damage or any physical damage subtypes. If the strike would normally deal one or more subtype of energy damage, the damage is of those types. Otherwise, all damage dealt by the strike is energy damage. You can still use maneuvers that require specific damage types, as long as you meet the requirements before this damage type conversion.

Rank 2 – Ki Manifestations ★

You can channel your ki to temporarily enhance your abilities. Choose two ki manifestations from the list below. You can also spend insight points to learn one additional ki manifestation per insight point. Rank 6: You can attack enemies up to 20 feet away from you.

Flash Step ★

You can use this ability as part of movement with your land speed. You teleport horizontally instead of moving normally. If your line of effect to your destination is blocked, or if this teleportation would somehow place you inside a solid object, your teleportation is cancelled and you remain where you are.

Teleporting a given distance costs movement equal to twice that distance. For example, if you have a 30 foot movement speed, you can move 10 feet, teleport 5 feet, and move an additional 10 feet before your movement ends.

Rank 4: The movement cost to teleport is reduced to be equal to the distance you teleport.

Rank 6: You can use this ability to move even if you are immobilized (-4 Armor and Ref, cannot use movement speeds) or grappled.

Rank 6: The accuracy bonus increases to +2.

Rank 4: You also gain a +2 bonus to those checks while this effect lasts.

Rank 6: The penalty during the next round is removed.

Rank 4: The bonus increases to +3.

Rank 6: The bonus increases to +4.

Step Between the Mystic Worlds ★

Swift

Rank 6: The failure chance for attacks against you increases to 30%.

Paladin

Paladins are divinely empowered warriors who exemplify a particular alignment. They can shift easily between physical combat and spellcasting depending on the situation. Many paladins can heal themselves and their allies, and can share their divine connection with those nearby, making them a beacon on a battlefield.

The scope of each alignment is quite broad, so even paladins of the same alignment can be as diverse in personality and morality as any other class. Paladins of law tend to be the most homogeneous in their beliefs, but even they may have stark disagreements about the rightful code to follow, and in what circumstances a personal or universal code of ethics can supercede the law in a specific territory.

Paladins are both famous and infamous for their dedication, and for their tendency to exhort those around them to act according to the paladin's ideals. There is some truth to the stereotype of the stony-faced paladin who regards any form of compromise as unacceptable. However, few of those overly zealous paladins make their way into adventuring parties. Only paladins who understand the necessity of working as an effective team with others who do not share their ideals are likely to have any success adventuring. For some paladins, this is a compromise they grudgingly make in the pursuit of the greater good - or the greater evil. Others perceive no conflict at all, and eagerly work with those of opposed alignments with the goal of demonstrating the superiority of their moral compass by example.

Of all spellcasting classes, paladins are in some ways the most limited. They have access to a relatively small number of mystic spheres. However, they are also the only spellcasting class that can naturally use heavy armor, and they have some unique abilities that can make them powerful frontline casters.

Paladins and fighters share a similar ability to influence a battlefield at a large scale while being difficult to kill. Their methods and ideology may be different, but they can often work together easily and effectively. It is more difficult to characterize the relationship between paladins and other classes, since so much depends on the paladin's alignment and personal interpretation of that alignment. Paladins of law typically despise barbarians and rogues, while paladins of chaos distrust the rigid mentality common to monks and fighters. Warlocks are deeply suspicious of paladins of good, though paladins of good tend to be more forgiving than other paladins. Paladins of evil despise druids who have too much respect for the sanctity of life. All paladins may have strong feelings about clerics depending on the alignment of that cleric's deity.

Special Class Abilities

Devoted Alignment

You are devoted to a specific alignment. You must choose one of your alignment components: good, evil, lawful, or chaotic. The alignment you choose is your devoted alignment. Your paladin abilities are affected by this choice. Your alignment cannot be changed without extraordinary repercussions.

Devoted Paragon

This archetype deepens your connection to your alignment, granting you an aura and improving your combat abilities.

Rank 1 – Aligned Aura

Your devotion to your alignment affects the world around you, bringing it closer to your ideals. You constantly radiate an aura in a Medium (30 ft.) radius emanation from you. You can suppress or resume the aura as a free action. Whenever you resume the aura, you can choose which creatures within the area are affected by aura as any combination of yourself, your allies, your enemies, and other creatures. The effect of the aura depends on your devoted alignment, as described below.

Chaos: Whenever a target explodes on an attack roll, it gains a +2 accuracy bonus with the attack (see Exploding Attacks, page 50).

Evil: Each target suffers a -1 penalty to its Armor defense as long as it is affected by at least one condition.

Good: Whenever a targeted ally would gain a vital wound, you may gain a vital wound instead. You gain a +2 bonus to the vital roll of each vital wound you gain this way. The target suffers any other effects of the attack normally.

Law: Whenever a target rolls a 1 on an attack roll, the attack roll is treated as a 5. This does not affect bonus dice rolled for exploding attacks (see Exploding Attacks, page 50).

Rank 2 – Aligned Immunity

Your devotion to your alignment grants you immunities.

Chaos: You are immune to being slowed (half speed, -2 Armor and Ref) and immobilized (-4 Armor and Ref, cannot use movement speeds).

Evil: You are immune to being charmed (friendly with charmer) and goaded (-2 accuracy vs. non-goaded creatures).

Good: You are immune to Curse attacks and being dominated (must obey commands).

Law: You are immune to being stunned (-2 defenses) and confused (-2 defenses, randomly attack or defend).

Rank 3 – Paragon Power

You gain a +1 bonus to your power with all abilities.

Rank 4 – Aligned Aura+ ✨

The effect of your aligned aura becomes stronger, as described below. In addition, the area increases to a Large (60 ft.) radius emanation from you.

Chaos: The accuracy bonus increases to +4.

Evil: The penalty applies to all defenses.

Good: When a targeted ally would lose hit points, you may lose those hit points instead. This causes you to suffer any special effects of the attack that trigger on taking damage or losing hit points, while the target does not. The target suffers any other effects of the attack normally.

Law: The effect triggers on rolling either a 1 or a 2.

Rank 5 – Aligned Immunity+ ✨

This immunity is shared with your allies within the area of your aligned aura.

Rank 6 – Paragon Power+

The power bonus increases to +2.

Rank 7 – Aligned Aura++ ✨

The effect of your aligned aura reaches its full power, as described below. In addition, the area increases to a Huge (90 ft.) radius emanation from you.

Chaos: The accuracy bonus increases to +6.

Evil: The penalty increases to -2.

Good: The vital roll bonus increases to +10.

Law: The effect triggers on rolling anything less than a 5. In addition, it affects bonus dice rolled for exploding attacks.

Divine Magic ✨

This archetype grants you the ability to cast divine spells. All abilities from this archetype are magical ✨.

Rank 1 – Divine Spells ✨

Your devotion to your alignment grants you the ability to use divine magic. You gain access to one divine mystic sphere, plus the universal mystic sphere (see Divine Mystic Spheres, page 244). You may spend insight points to gain access to one additional divine mystic sphere per two insight points. You can only learn divine spells from divine mystic spheres that you have access to.

You automatically learn all cantrips from each mystic sphere you have access to. In addition, you learn two rank 1 divine spells. You can also spend insight points to learn one additional rank 1 spell per insight point.

Divine spells require verbal components to cast (see Casting Components, page 43). Unless otherwise noted in a spell's description, casting any spell requires a standard action. For details about mystic spheres and casting spells, see Spell and Ritual Mechanics, page 43.

When you gain access to a new mystic sphere or spell rank, you can forget any number of spells you know to learn that many new spells in exchange, including spells of the higher rank.

Advancement: The maximum rank of divine spells that you can learn is equal to your rank in this archetype. Divine spells also increase in power in unique ways based on your rank in this archetype, as indicated in their descriptions.

Rank 2 – Divine Spells+ ✨

You learn an additional divine spell.

Rank 4 – Divine Spells+ ✨

You learn an additional divine spell.

Rank 7 – Divine Spells+ ✨

You learn an additional divine spell.

Divine Spell Expertise

This archetype improves the divine spells you cast. You must have the Divine Magic archetype from the paladin class to gain the abilities from this archetype.

Rank 1 – Divine Spell Versatility

You learn a spell from one of the mystic spheres that are unique to divine spellcasters: channel divinity or prayer. You do not have to have access to that mystic sphere. As normal, you can change which spell you learn with this ability as you gain access to new spell ranks.

Rank 2 – Divine Conduit[★]

Whenever you cast a targeted spell that does not have the Attune or Sustain tags, you may target an additional creature adjacent to you with the spell.

Rank 3 – Experienced Spellcaster[★]

You gain a +1 bonus to accuracy with spells.

Rank 4 – Divine Spell Versatility+

You learn an additional spell with this ability.

Rank 5 – Attunement Point[★]

You gain an additional attunement point.

Rank 6 – Experienced Spellcaster+[★]

The accuracy bonus increases to +2.

Rank 7 – Divine Conduit+[★]

You can target any number of creatures adjacent to you with this ability instead of only one additional creature.

Stalwart Guardian

This archetype grants you healing abilities and improves your defensive prowess.

Rank 1 – Lay on Hands[★]

You can use the lay on hands ability as a standard action.

Lay on Hands[★]

Swift

Choose yourself or a living ally you touch. The target regains 1d6 hit points +1 per 2 power. In addition, it can remove one poison or disease affecting it, and it briefly becomes immune to poisons and diseases.

Normally, this healing cannot increase the target's hit points above half its maximum hit points. If you increase your fatigue level by one, you can ignore this limitation.

Rank 2: The base healing increases to 1d8.

Rank 3: The bonus healing increases to 1d6 per 4 power.

Rank 4: The base healing increases to 2d6.

Rank 5: The bonus healing increases to 1d10 per 4 power.

Rank 6: The base healing increases to 2d10.

Rank 7: The bonus healing increases to 1d10 per 3 power.

Rank 2 – Stalwart Resilience

You gain a bonus equal to three times your rank in this archetype to your damage resistance.

Rank 3 – Stalwart Defense

You gain a +1 bonus to your Armor, Fortitude, and Mental defenses.

Rank 4 – Lay on Hands+[★]

In addition to regaining hit points, you can cause the target to either remove a condition or a vital wound. If a vital wound is removed in this way, you increase your fatigue level by three.

Rank 5 – Stalwart Resilience+

This bonus increases to four times your rank in this archetype.

Rank 6 – Stalwart Defense+

The bonus to Fortitude and Mental defense increases to +2.

Rank 7 – Lay on Hands+[★]

When you use this ability on a creature other than yourself, it also targets you.

Zealous Warrior

This archetype improves your combat prowess, especially against foes who do not share your devoted alignment.

Rank 1 – Smite ✨

You can use the smite ability as a standard action.

Smite ✨

Make a strike. You add your Strength to your magical power to determine your total power with this strike (see Power, page 33). If the target has your devoted alignment, your power is instead treated as 0.

Rank 3: You no longer gain the normal weapon damage bonus of +1 per two power. Instead, you gain 1d6 extra damage per 4 power (minimum 1d6).

Rank 4: The extra damage increases to 1d6 per 3 power.

Rank 5: The extra damage increases to 1d8 per 3 power.

Rank 6: You gain a +2 accuracy bonus with the strike.

Rank 7: The extra damage increases to 1d10 per 3 power.

Rank 2 – Detect Anathema ✨

You can use the detect anathema ability as a standard action.

Detect Anathema ✨

Detection

You know the number of creatures within a Large (60 ft.) cone from you that have the alignment opposed to your devoted alignment. This does not give you any specific information about the location of those creatures. Since this is a Detection ability, it can penetrate some solid obstacles (see Detection, page 382).

Rank 3: You also learn the location of all creatures with that alignment.

Rank 5: The area increases to a Huge (90 ft.) cone.

Rank 7: You can use this ability as a minor action.

Rank 3 – Fearless Zeal

You are immune to being frightened (-2 Mental, -2 accuracy vs. source) and panicked (-4 Mental, cannot attack source).

Rank 4 – Zealous Fixation ✨

Whenever you deal damage to a creature, you ignore all miss chances against that creature with your attacks until you finish a short rest.

Rank 5 – Pass Judgment ✨

You can use the pass judgment ability as a minor action.

Pass Judgment ✨

Usage time: One minor action

Choose one creature within Distant (120 ft.) range. You always gain the benefit of your zealous fixation ability against that creature. In addition, the target is treated as if it had the alignment opposed to your devoted alignment for the purpose of all abilities. This only affects its alignment along the alignment axis your devoted alignment is on. For example, if your devoted alignment was evil, a chaotic neutral target would be treated as chaotic good. This effect lasts until you treat that creature as an ally, or until you dismiss this ability as a free action.

You can use this ability to do battle against foes who share your alignment, but you should exercise caution in doing so. Persecution of those who share your ideals can lead you to fall and become an ex-paladin.

Rank 6 – Zealous Offense

You gain a +1 bonus to your accuracy.

Rank 7 – Zealous Pursuit ✨

You can use the zealous pursuit ability as a minor action.

Zealous Pursuit ✨

Usage time: One minor action

You teleport up to Distant (120 ft.) range into an unoccupied space on solid ground adjacent to one creature of your choice affected by your zealous fixation ability. You do not need line of sight or line of effect to the creature. If multiple valid destination spaces exist, you teleport into the one closest to your original location. If no valid destination spaces exist, this ability fails with no effect.

After you use this ability, you briefly cannot use it again.

Ex-Paladins

If you cease to follow your devoted alignment, you lose all magical ✨ paladin class abilities. If your atone for your misdeeds and resume the service of your devoted alignment, you can regain your abilities.

Ranger

Rangers are skilled hunters who bridge the divide between nature and civilization. They are typically most at home on the frontiers, keeping monsters and civilized groups from interfering with each other. Different rangers may have more personal affinity for civilization or for monsters.

Like druids and monks, rangers are seldom self-taught. Just as rangers occupy a middle space between society and the wilds beyond it, their abilities are a complex combination of training, experience, and gifts freely granted by Nature herself. The vast majority of people who might attempt to learn how to be a ranger on their own would focus too much on only one aspect of a ranger's abilities. These people might find the path to becoming a fighter, druid, or rogue instead.

Rangers draw their core power from their training, which includes extensive experience with weapons and armaments like a fighter. However, they also study the natural world and the environment around them. This study is more focused on practical knowledge about survival and hunting than the more reverent study of druids. During this wilderness experience, some rangers forge a deep bond with a single animal who follows them everywhere. This bond is intensified by Nature's influence, and has a hint of her magic in it. Others shy away from that level of commitment or find no meaning in it, and prefer a more solitary hunt.

Traditionally, a ranger's training occurs under an experienced ranger leader. Some rangers train small packs of new recruits at once, while others prefer to oversee a single apprentice. There are many ways that a would-be ranger might find a mentor, but no single certain way. Rangers in the wild do not tend to maintain long-term societal bonds like druidic circles, so there are fewer obvious ways to easily find an experienced mentor. Without druidic magic for long-distance communication, rangers struggle to maintain cohesion across the vast territories that they patrol, so they typically make no attempt to do so.

Rangers are sometimes employed by a government to keep its borders safe from monsters. They may also be found as bounty hunters, using their skills to hunt prey within civilization instead of at its edges. Still others live among druidic circles. More than any other class, rangers struggle to find a place to fully call home, and may wander between widely varied walks of life for years at a time. They are caught between worlds, and only some rangers find peace in that division.

Animal Companion ★

Attune (deep), Emotion

Choose a non-elite Medium or smaller animal ally that you touch. Its level must not exceed your level. The target serves as a loyal companion to you. It follows your directions to the best of its ability.

Your magical connection to the animal improves its resilience and strength in combat. Its combat statistics are replaced with the values below. All other aspects of the animal, such as its speed and natural weapons, are unchanged. Animals are unable to understand complex concepts, so their ability to obey convoluted instructions is limited. Generally, your animal companion acts immediately before or after your action in combat, though the GM may decide that it acts separately in specific circumstances.

- Its size category is Medium, and its base speed is 30 feet.
- It has no resources, and it cannot use Exertion abilities.
- Its hit points are equal to the standard value for your level, base class, and Constitution (see Base Class Abilities, above).
- Its damage resistance is equal to half its hit points, ignoring any magic bonuses to hit points.
- Each of its defenses is equal to $5 + \text{half your level}$.
- Its accuracy is equal to half the sum of your level and Perception.

Rank 5: The accuracy bonus increases to +2.

Rank 6: The accuracy bonus increases to +4.

Rank 7: The animal's weapon damage is doubled. However, the accuracy bonus is reduced to +2.

Rank 5 – Beast Affinity+

The Creature Handling bonus increases to +6.

Rank 6 – Survival Bond

Whenever you regain hit points or damage resistance, your animal companion also regains that many hit points or damage resistance. If the healing ability had any limit, such as only healing up to half your maximum hit points, that limit also applies to your animal companion.

Rank 7 – Animal Companion+ ★

Your animal companion gains an additional attunement point. In addition, its bonuses to defenses increases to +2.

Rank 2 – Beast Affinity

You gain a +3 bonus to the Creature Handling skill.

Boundary Warden

This archetype improves your ability to guard the boundaries between civilization and nature.

Rank 1 – Know Your Enemy

Whenever you finish a short rest, you can choose a creature type: aberration, animal, animate, dragon, humanoid, magical beast, monstrous humanoid, planeforged, or undead. You gain a +1 bonus to accuracy against creatures of that type. In addition, whenever you see a creature of that type, you intuitively know what effects it is vulnerable (-4 defenses) to. This benefit lasts until you choose a different creature type with this ability.

Rank 2 – Experienced Guide

You and your allies who can see or hear you can ignore difficult terrain from inanimate natural sources, such as heavy undergrowth. In addition, any group you are part of can travel at full speed through difficult terrain during overland travel.

Rank 3 – Banestrike

As a standard action, you can use the banestrike ability.

Banestrike

Make a strike. If the target is vulnerable (-4 defenses) to the strike, or if the target is subject to your know your enemy ability and has no remaining damage resistance, the strike deals double weapon damage.

Rank 4: You gain a +1 accuracy bonus with the strike.

Rank 1 – Quarry

You can use the quarry ability as a minor action.

Quarry

Attune, Subtle

Choose a creature within Extreme (180 ft.) range. The target becomes your quarry. You and your allies within the same range are called your hunting party. Your hunting party gains a +1 bonus to accuracy against your quarry.

Rank 2 – Hunting Styles

You learn specific hunting styles to defeat particular quarries. Choose two hunting styles from the list below. You can also spend insight points to learn one additional hunting style per insight point. When you use your quarry ability, you may also use one of your hunting styles. Each hunting style ability lasts as long as the quarry ability you used it with.

Anchoring

As long as your quarry is adjacent to any member of your hunting party, it cannot travel extradimensionally. This prevents all teleportation effects.

Rank 4: This effect instead applies if your quarry is within Medium (60 ft.) range of any member of your hunting party.

Rogue

Rogues are exceptionally skillful characters known for their ability to strike at their foe's weak points in combat. It is dangerous to make any assumptions about rogues. They can be acrobatic fighters, charismatic tricksters, inspiring musicians, stealthy assassins, or all of the above. All rogues share a fundamental flexibility, preferring to use the right tools for the situation rather than solving all of their problems in the same way.

A rogue's power fundamentally comes from experience, but it is seldom the rigorous, structured training that a fighter or monk might undertake. More often, rogues develop their talents by following their instincts and seeing what works and what doesn't. They may have a natural gift for persuasion that they develop into a fine edge through years of charismatic conversations. The back alleys of cities are a natural training ground, where education comes in the form of evading or receiving punishments for misdeeds.

While most of a rogue's skills are intuitively understandable and mundane, bardic music is an odd exception. There is an underlying structure to the universe that some scholars call the Universal Harmony. Exceptionally talented performances can hit tones that resonate with the Universal Harmony, which amplifies the effects of the performance beyond mundane limits. This is always a simple amplification, taking effects that would be a natural result of the music and multiplying their effects. A humorous musical piece can become outrageously funny, and an ominous piece can become utterly terrifying, but the full complexity of true spellcasting cannot be replicated in this way.

Some rogues discover the effects of the Universal Harmony for themselves. There also exist bardic colleges that are dedicated to the study and replication of effects amplified in this way, and rogues may attend these colleges to deepen their skills. Officially, bardic colleges train their attendees in musical theory and practical performance. Unofficially, many bardic colleges have recognized that many of their students have a variety of less reputable talents. These colleges may have night classes that train rogues in other skills, including effective deception and even assassination. They maintain a level of plausible deniability, but would-be rogues can often discover the truth and complete their training there.

Table 6.9: Rogue Progression

Alignment: Any.

You have the following resources:

- Three attunement points, which you can use to attune to items and abilities that affect you (see Attunement Points, page 34).

- A number of insight points equal to 2 + your Intelligence. You can spend insight points to gain additional abilities (see Insight Points, page 25).
- Six trained skills from among your class skills, plus additional trained skills equal to your Intelligence (see Skills, page 144).

- Perception: Awareness, Deception, Persuasion, Social Insight.
- Other: Intimidate.

Assassin

This archetype improves your agility, stealth, and combat prowess against unaware targets.

Rank 1 – Sneak Attack

You can use the sneak attack ability as a standard action.

Sneak Attack

Make a strike with a Light or Compact weapon against a creature within Short (30 ft.) range (see Weapon Tags, page 165).

The strike deals 1d4 extra damage against each creature that is unaware (-6 Armor and Ref) or partially unaware (50% miss chance, -2 Armor and Ref) of your attack. You do not gain this damage against creatures that you are unable to score a critical hit against, such as excessively large creatures or oozes.

Rank 2: The extra damage also applies if the target is adjacent to one of your allies.

Rank 3: The extra damage increases to 1d8.

Rank 4: The extra damage increases to 2d8.

Rank 5: The extra damage increases to 4d6.

Rank 6: The extra damage increases to 4d10.

Rank 7: The extra damage increases to 6d10.

Rank 2 – Evasion

You take no damage from glancing blows or misses caused by abilities that affect an area and attack your Armor or Reflex defense. This does not protect you from any non-damaging effects of those abilities, or from abilities that affect multiple specific targets without affecting an area.

Rank 3 – Darkstalker

You can use the darkstalker ability as a standard action.

Darkstalker

Attune

You become completely undetectable by your choice of one of the following sense groups:

- Blindsight and blindsight
- Darkvision
- Detection abilities
- Lifesense and lifesight
- Scent
- Scrying abilities
- Tremorsense and tremorsight

If you have access to any other more unusual senses, such as the blood sense ability from the Executioner feat, you may also choose one of those senses as a separate sense group.

Rank 4 – Hide in Plain Sight

You can use the hide ability without moving in a way that causes observers to lose sight of you. This does not remove the bonus that observers receive if you have no cover or concealment at all. After you hide in this way, you briefly cannot do so again.

Rank 5 – Assassination

You can use the assassination ability as a minor action.

Assassination

You study a creature within Medium (60 ft.) range, finding weak points you can take advantage of. As a brief effect, whenever you make a strike against the target while it is adjacent to you and unaware (-6 Armor and Ref) of the attack, the strike deals maximum damage and automatically explodes regardless of what you roll.

Rank 5 – Darkstalker+

You can attune to this ability multiple times. Each time, you can choose a different sense group.

Rank 6 – Evasion+

You also take half damage from abilities that affect an area and attack your Armor and Reflex defense.

Rank 7 – Darkstalker+

When you use this ability, you become undetectable by any number of the possible sense groups rather than only one.

Bardic Music

This archetype grants you the ability to inspire your allies and impair your foes with musical performances.

Rank 1 – Bardic Lore

You gain all Knowledge skills as class skills. In addition, you gain a bonus equal to your rank in this archetype to Knowledge skills that you are untrained in (see Trained Skills, page 144).

Rank 1 – Bardic Performances ✨

You learn two bardic performances from the list below. You can also spend insight points to learn one additional bardic performance per insight point. You can use any bardic performance you know as a standard action unless it specifies that it requires a different type of action to activate.

All bardic performances have the Auditory tag. When you use a bardic performance ability, you begin a performance using one of your Perform skills. You must use either an instrumental performance or a vocal performance, and not a visual performance. If you use a vocal performance, the bardic performance gains the Speech tag, preventing it from affecting creatures that do not speak the language you perform in. If you have a Perform trained skill that you can use to make an auditory performance, you gain a +1 bonus to accuracy with any bardic performance ability using that perform skill.

The names of bardic performances do not have to precisely match your actual performance. For example, you can use the palliative poem ability with a gentle song using Perform (wind instruments) or a distracting joke using Perform (comedy) instead of a poem.

Many bardic performances require you to sustain the performance as a minor action. If the targets stop being able to see or hear you, depending on the nature of your performance, the effect ends for them as if you had stopped sustaining the performance. However, targets do not stop being affected by your performance simply by travelling beyond the initial range of the bardic performance ability. Using a bardic performance ability with an immediate effect does not interfere with your ability to sustain other bardic performance abilities.

Hit: The target it is compelled to spend its next standard action doing nothing at all. After it takes this standard action, it becomes immune to this effect until it finishes a short rest.

Rank 3: You can target an additional creature within range.

Rank 5: If the target has no remaining damage resistance, it does not become immune to this effect.

Rank 7: The maximum number of targets increases to 3.

Rank 2 – Trick Magic Device ✨

You can use wands as if you were able to cast arcane spells. Your maximum spell rank is equal to your rank in this archetype. In addition, you gain an additional attunement point. You can only use this attunement point to attune to magic wands or apparel items.

Rank 3 – Exploit Distraction

You can use the exploit distraction ability as a standard action.

Exploit Distraction

Make a strike. If the target gained a new condition this round, the strike deals double weapon damage. This does not apply if the creature was already suffering an identical condition when it gained the new condition.

Rank 4: The increased damage also applies if the target gained a new condition during the previous round, as long as it is still affected by that condition.

Rank 5: You gain a +1 accuracy bonus with the strike.

Rank 6: The strike deals triple weapon damage instead of double weapon damage.

Rank 7: The accuracy bonus increases to +3.

Rank 4 – What's That Over There

You can use the what's that over there ability as a standard action.

What's That Over ThereCompulsion

Make a attack vs. Mental against a creature within Medium (60 ft.) range. Your accuracy is equal to your Deception skill. In addition, choose a location on stable ground within range.

Hit: As a brief effect, the target is compelled to move to the location you chose if it can do so safely, and it cannot take any actions except to move to the location and look around at it. After this effect ends, the target becomes immune to it until it finishes a short rest.

Rank 6: You can target an additional creature within range.

Rank 5 – Trick Magic Device+ ✨

You can use wands as if you were able to cast spells from all magic sources, not just arcane spells. In addition, you gain a +2 bonus to accuracy with abilities granted to you by magic items. This includes spells cast from wands, the special strike you can make with a surestrike weapon, and other similar abilities. However, it does not include ordinary strikes or maneuvers that simply use a magic weapon.

Rank 6 – Master of Deceit

Whenever you make a Deception attack or check, you can roll twice and keep the higher result.

Rank 7 – Nothing Is Real

You can use the nothing is real ability as a standard action.

Nothing Is RealCompulsion

Make an attack vs. Mental against a creature within Short (30 ft.) range. Your accuracy is equal to your Deception skill.

Hit: The target is briefly convinced that nothing is real. It is unable to take any actions and is unaware (-6 Armor and Ref) of all attacks against it. After this effect ends, the target becomes immune to it until it finishes a short rest.

Sorcerer

Sorcerers are arcane spellcasters who draw power from their inherently magical nature. They require no training or external sources to access their magical abilities. Many sorcerers intuitively used their magic to influence their surroundings long before they understood exactly what they were doing, or that they were tapping into powers others could not.

Of all classes, sorcerers are the most likely to be completely self-trained. Each sorcerer has a unique connection to their magical nature, and they often have idiosyncratic requirements or limitations. For example, a sorcerer may feel ravenously hungry after tapping into their powers, or they may need to spend time upside down each day to “recharge” their magic.

The gestures and incantations spoken by sorcerers are similarly diverse - if they require any spellcasting components at all. Some sorcerers channel their magic through martial arts and battle cries, and may be easily confused with barbarians or monks. Others believe their magic comes from external forces, such as nature spirits or strange entities that they imagine for themselves. Still others study magic extensively and imagine themselves to be wizards, but their conclusions are nonsensical and no one else can replicate their findings. The only certainty is that each sorcerer is unique.

The true cause of a sorcerer’s magic has more consistency than its expression. Sorcerers do not draw power from their life energy or any internal storage, like monks do. Instead, they steal power from the primal forces of the universe, as wizards do. Sorcerers are intrinsic conduits for that raw power, and they can deepen their connection with experience. A sorcerer’s nature is fundamentally their birthright, and it cannot be learned.

Of course, that doesn’t entirely explain why sorcerers are intrinsic conduits. No one knows exactly how to predict or explain sorcerous potential. However, sorcerers are much more common in bloodlines that have immortal ancestors. Most commonly, this means draconic ancestry, and some sorcerers specifically tap into their draconic potential. However, celestial or infernal heritage is also not unheard of, and even stranger ancestry is possible. In addition, sorcerers seem to be more common in areas that have been affected by powerful magic.

Alignment: Any.

Archetypes: Sorcerers have the Arcane Magic, Arcane Spell Mastery, Draconic Magic, Innate Arcanist, and Wild Magic archetypes.

Base Class Abilities

If you are a sorcerer, you gain the following abilities.

Defenses

You gain the following bonuses to your defenses: +3 Fortitude, +4 Reflex, +5 Mental.

Hit Points

You have 6 hit points + your Constitution, plus 1 hit points per level beyond 1. This increases as your level increases, as indicated below.

- Level 7: 14 hit points + twice your Constitution, plus 2 hit points per level beyond 7.
- Level 13: 30 hit points + four times your Constitution, plus 4 hit points per level beyond 13.
- Level 19: 60 hit points + eight times your Constitution, plus 8 hit points per level beyond 19.

Resources

You have the following resources:

- Four attunement points, which you can use to attune to items and abilities that affect you (see Attunement Points, page 34).
- A fatigue tolerance equal to 2 + your Constitution. Your fatigue tolerance makes it easier for you to use powerful abilities that fatigue you (see Fatigue, page 34).
- A number of insight points equal to 2 + your Intelligence. You can spend insight points to gain additional abilities (see Insight Points, page 25).

- Three trained skills from among your class skills, plus additional trained skills equal to your Intelligence (see Skills, page 144).

Weapon Proficiencies

You are proficient with simple weapons.

Armor Proficiencies

You are not proficient with any type of armor. Encumbrance from armor interferes with the gestures you make to cast spells, which can cause your spells with somatic components to fail (see Somatic Component Failure, page 43).

Class Skills

You have the following class skills:

- Intelligence: Deduction, Knowledge (arcana, planes).
- Perception: Awareness, Deception, Persuasion.
- Other: Intimidate.

Arcane Magic

This archetype grants you the ability to cast arcane spells. All abilities from this archetype are magical .

Rank 1 – Arcane Spells

Your innate talents grant you the ability to use arcane magic. You gain access to one arcane mystic sphere, plus the universal mystic sphere (see Arcane Mystic Spheres, page 244). You may spend insight points to gain access to one additional arcane mystic sphere per two insight points. You can only learn arcane spells from arcane mystic spheres that you have access to.

You automatically learn all cantrips from each mystic sphere you have access to. In addition, you learn two rank 1 arcane spells. You can also spend insight points to learn one additional rank 1 spell per insight point.

Arcane spells require both verbal components and somatic components to cast (see Casting Components, page 43). Unless otherwise noted in a spell's description, casting any spell requires a standard action. For details about mystic spheres and casting spells, see Spell and Ritual Mechanics, page 43.

When you gain access to a new mystic sphere or spell rank, you can forget any number of spells you know to learn that many new spells in exchange, including spells of the higher rank.

Advancement: The maximum rank of arcane spells that you can learn is equal to your rank in this archetype. Arcane spells also increase in power in unique ways based on your rank in this archetype, as indicated in their descriptions.

Rank 1 – Mage Armor

You can use the mage armor ability as a standard action.

Mage Armor

You create a translucent suit of magical armor on your body and over your hands. This functions like body armor that provides a +3 bonus to your Armor defense and has no encumbrance. It also provides a bonus to damage resistance equal to three times your rank in this archetype.

You can also use a free hand to wield the barrier as a shield. This functions like a buckler, granting you a +1 bonus to your Armor defense, except that you do not need to be proficient with light armor. Since this bonus comes from a shield, it does not stack with the benefits of using any other shield.

This ability lasts until you use it again or until you dismiss it as a free action. In addition, it is automatically dismissed if you wear other body armor of any kind.

Rank 4 – Arcane Spells+

You learn an additional arcane spell.

Rank 6 – Mage Armor+

The damage resistance bonus increases to five times your rank in this archetype. In addition, the defense bonus from the body armor increases to +4.

Rank 7 – Arcane Spells+

You learn an additional arcane spell.

Rank 2 – Arcane Spells+

You learn an additional arcane spell.

Rank 3 – Mage Armor+

The damage resistance bonus increases to four times your rank in this archetype.

Arcane Spell Mastery

This archetype improves the arcane spells you cast. You must have the Arcane Magic archetype from the sorcerer class to gain the abilities from this archetype. All abilities from this archetype are magical.

Rank 1 – Metamagic

You learn how to further refine your spellcasting abilities. Choose two metamagic abilities from the list below.

Some metamagic abilities affect specific spells. You can only choose spells with a rank no higher than your rank in this archetype. In addition, you cannot choose the same spell with more than two metamagic abilities.

Distant Spell: Choose an arcane spell you know with a standard range: Short (30 ft.), Medium (60 ft.), Long (90 ft.), Distant (120 ft.), or Extreme (180 ft.). You increase that spell's range to the next standard range category, to a maximum of Extreme range. You can choose this ability multiple times, choosing a different spell each time. Whenever you learn a new spell, you may change which of your spells this ability affects.

Precise Spell: Choose an arcane spell you know. You gain a +1 bonus to accuracy with that spell. You can choose this ability multiple times, choosing a different spell each time. Whenever you learn a new spell, you may change which of your spells this ability affects.

Powerful Spell: Choose an arcane spell you know. You gain a +2 bonus to your magical power with that spell. You can choose this ability multiple times, choosing a different spell each time. Whenever you learn a new spell, you may change which of your spells this ability affects.

Widened Spell: Choose an arcane spell you know with a standard area: Small (15 ft.), Medium (30 ft.), Large (60 ft.), Huge (90 ft.), or Gargantuan (120 ft.). You increase that spell's area to the next standard area category, to a maximum of a Gargantuan area. You can choose this ability multiple times, choosing a different spell each time. Whenever you learn a new spell, you may change which of your spells this ability affects.

Rank 2 – Desperate Devastation

Whenever you use the desperate exertion ability to affect a magical attack, you also roll all damage dice for the attack twice and keep the higher result. If you use that ability to affect an attack that already hit, and the reroll also hits, your damage dice are maximized instead.

Rank 3 – Experienced Spellcaster

You gain a +1 bonus to accuracy with spells.

Rank 4 – Metamagic+

You gain an additional metamagic ability.

Rank 5 – Attunement Point

You gain an additional attunement point.

Rank 6 – Experienced Spellcaster+

The accuracy bonus increases to +2.

Rank 7 – Metamagic+

You gain two additional metamagic abilities.

Draconic Magic

Not all sorcerers know the reason for their innate connection to magic. Some discover that they have draconic blood in their veins, and some of those sorcerers learn how to tap into their heritage. This archetype deepens your magical connection to your draconic ancestor and enhances your spellcasting. You must have the Arcane Magic archetype from the sorcerer class to gain the abilities from this archetype.

Rank 1 – Draconic Bloodline

Choose a type of dragon from among the dragons on Table 6.11: Draconic Bloodline Types. You have the blood of that type of dragon in your veins. You are impervious to damage of the type dealt by that dragon's breath weapon.

Table 6.11: Draconic Bloodline Types

| Dragon | Damage Type | Mystic Sphere |
|--------|-------------|---------------|
| Black | Acid | Vivimancy |
| Blue | Electricity | Electromancy |
| Brass | Fire | Enchantment |
| Bronze | Electricity | Revelation |
| Copper | Acid | Terramancy |
| Gold | Fire | Photomancy |
| Green | Acid | Compulsion |
| Red | Fire | Pyromancy |
| Silver | Cold | Telekinesis |
| White | Cold | Cryomancy |

Rank 1 – Draconic Spells

If you already have access to your dragon's mystic sphere, you learn two spells from that sphere. Otherwise, you gain access to that mystic sphere, including all cantrips from that sphere.

Rank 2 – Draconic Hide

You gain a bonus equal to three times your rank in this archetype to your damage resistance.

Rank 3 – Draconic Scales

You gain a +1 bonus to your Armor defense.

Rank 4 – Draconic Precision

You gain a +1 bonus to accuracy with any spell that either deals damage of your dragon's damage type or is from your dragon's mystic sphere.

Rank 5 – Energy Immunity

You become immune to your dragon's damage type.

Rank 6 – Draconic Hide+

The damage resistance bonus increases to four times your rank in this archetype.

Rank 7 – Draconic Precision+

The accuracy bonus increases to +2.

Innate Arcanist

This archetype deepens your innate connection to arcane magic and improves your ability to defeat other spellcasters. You must have the Arcane Magic archetype from the sorcerer class to gain the abilities from this archetype. All abilities from this archetype are magical .

Rank 1 – Arcane Infusion

You gain a magic bonus equal to twice your rank in this archetype to your hit points and damage resistance. Because this is a magic bonus, it does not stack with other magic bonuses (see Stacking Rules, page 47).

Rank 1 – Innate Magic

None of your arcane spells have somatic components or verbal components.

Rank 2 – Magic Absorption

Whenever another creature uses a magical  ability to attack you, if that ability does not have the Attune or Sustain tags, you can choose to absorb its energy. This does not reduce the ability's effect on you, but it allows you to use that ability as a standard action. When you use the ability, you choose the area and targets affected by it. In all other ways, the ability functions in the same way as when it was used on you, including its accuracy and power. You cannot change its effects with your other abilities, including desperate exertion.

Whenever you are attacked by a new magical ability, if you already have a stored ability, you choose whether to absorb the new ability or retain your currently absorbed ability. When you finish a long rest, you lose all stored abilities.

Rank 3 – Implement Freedom

You can gain the benefits of one magical implement, such as a staff or wand, without having to hold it in your hands. You must still have it on your person, such as in a pocket or strapped to your back, and you must still be attuned to it to gain its benefits. This ability only affects one implement at a time.

Rank 4 – Arcane Infusion+

The magic bonuses increase to three times your rank in this archetype.

Rank 5 – Magic Absorption+

You can store up to three magical abilities.

Rank 6 – Implement Freedom+

You can gain the benefits of an additional magical implement with this ability. In addition, you gain an additional attunement point. You can only use this attunement point to attune to magic implements.

Rank 7 – Magic Absorption++ ✨

Whenever you absorb an attack with your magic absorption ability, if you have no stored abilities, that attack has no effect on you. Whenever you use a stored ability, you gain a +2 accuracy bonus with it for each other ability that you have stored.

Wild Magic ✨

This archetype makes the magic you cast more chaotic, generally increasing its power at the cost of your control over your magic. You must have the Arcane Magic archetype from the sorcerer class to gain the abilities from this archetype. All abilities from this archetype are magical ✨.

Rank 1 – Wildspell ✨

Whenever you cast a spell that does not have the Attune or Sustain tags, you may use this ability after making all other decisions for the spell (such as targets, intended area, and so on). When you do, you gain a +2 bonus to your magical power with the spell. In addition, roll 1d10 and apply the corresponding wild magic effect from Table 6.12: Wildspell Effects. Some wild magic effects cannot be meaningfully applied to all spells. For example, changing the damage dealt by a spell does not affect spells that do not deal damage. Any wildspell effects that do not make sense for a particular spell have no effect. The rolled wild magic effect always applies to the round that you cast the spell, even if the spell doesn't have its normal effect immediately.

Table 6.12: Wildspell Effects

| Roll | Effect |
|------|--|
| 1 | The spell fails with no effect |
| 2 | When you attack with the spell this round, you roll twice and take the lower result |
| 3 | When you attack with the spell this round, you are a target of the attack in addition to any other targets |
| 4 | The spell's area is halved this round |
| 5 | The spell's area is doubled this round |
| 6 | Each target that resists damage from the spell this round takes energy extra damage equal to your power with the spell |
| 7 | Each target that loses hit points from the spell this round takes energy extra damage equal to your power with the spell |
| 8 | When you deal damage with the spell this round, you roll twice for the damage and take the higher result |
| 9 | When you attack with the spell this round, you roll twice for the attack roll and take the higher result |
| 10 | During your next action, the spell takes effect again with the same choices for all decisions, such as targets |

Rank 2 – Chaotic Insight ✨

You learn a spell that does not have the Attune or Sustain tags from any mystic sphere, even if you do not have access to that mystic sphere. The spell does not have to be from a mystic sphere on the arcane mystic sphere list. As normal, you can change which spell you learn with this ability as you gain access to new spell ranks.

Rank 3 – Chaotic Exertion ✨

You gain a +2 bonus to the roll when you use the desperate exertion ability. This bonus stacks with the normal +2 bonus provided by that ability.

Rank 4 – Wildspell+ ✨

The power bonus increases to +3. In addition, if you use the desperate exertion ability on a spell affected by this ability, you can reroll the wild magic roll for that spell in addition to the normal effects of the desperate exertion ability. You do not gain any bonus to the wild magic reroll.

Rank 5 – Chaotic Insight+ ✨

You learn an additional spell with this ability.

Rank 6 – Chaotic Exertion+ ✨

Once per short rest, you can use the desperate exertion ability without increasing your fatigue level.

Rank 7 – Wildspell+ ✨

You replace your normal wild magic effects with the effects from the Table 6.13: Epic Wildspell Effects table.

Table 6.13: Epic Wildspell Effects

| Roll | Effect |
|------|---|
| 1 | The spell has its normal effect |
| 2 | All damage dealt by the spell is considered to be all damage types |
| 3 | When you deal damage with the spell this round, you roll twice for the spell and take the higher result |
| 4 | When you attack with the spell this round, you roll twice and take the higher result |
| 5 | Any conditions inflicted by the spell this round become a Curse instead of a condition, and are removed when the target finishes a short rest |
| 6 | When the spell would cause a creature to lose hit points this round, that creature loses twice as many hit points |
| 7 | The spell's area is tripled this round |
| 8 | Each target that loses hit points from the spell this round is also briefly stunned (-2 defenses) |
| 9 | You gain a +4 bonus to accuracy with the spell this round, but you take the minimum possible result when the spell would deal damage |
| 10 | During each of your next two actions, the spell takes effect again with the same choices for all decisions, such as targets |

Warlock

Warlocks are pact spellcasters who draw their power from a sinister deal made with infernal creatures. Their soulkeeper grants them access to great magical power. However, they must content with the whispers of demonic influence throughout their life, and they risk losing their immortal soul.

Most people view warlocks with suspicion, if not outright hostility. Few warlocks are noble individuals who undertook their pact out of some self-sacrificing necessity. Instead, warlocks are often power-hungry individuals who willingly fall under demonic influence to serve their own ends. Even warlocks who start out with good intentions can be led astray over the years. It takes great wisdom and mental fortitude to resist the constant pressure of a soulkeeper's twisted advice.

Warlocks are typically self-taught, or more accurately, educated by their soulkeeper in the use of their powers. It is not uncommon for warlocks to search for warlock mentors so they can master their powers without completely trusting their soulkeeper. These relationships are typically based on contracts and expectations of future services from the apprentice once their training is complete, just like a soul pact. A certain level of mistrust is common, and apprentices sometimes successfully betray their mentors, just like they hope to escape their soulkeeper's clutches. To minimize the danger of these relationships, warlock mentors almost never take more than a single apprentice at a time.

Clerics and warlocks have a complicated relationship. From a certain perspective, they both gain power in exchange for their service to a powerful extraplanar entity. Warlocks often enjoy emphasizing the similarity, which can be a useful rhetorical tool to mitigate anti-warlock prejudice. For their part, clerics tend to strongly disagree with this analogy.

Table 6.14: Warlock Progression

| Rank (Level) | Blessings of the Abyss | Keeper of Forbidden Knowledge | Pact Magic | Pact Spell Mastery | Soulkeeper's Chosen |
|--------------|---------------------------------------|---|------------------------------|--------------------------|------------------------|
| 1 (1) | Abyssal rebuke | Eldritch secret, reader of hidden tomes | Armor tolerance, pact spells | Metamagic | Possession |
| 2 (4) | Abyssal magic, resist the dark call | Unnatural insight | Pact spells+ | Desperate pact | Empowering whispers |
| 3 (7) | Banish to the abyss | Lore of corrupting power | Armor tolerance+ | Experienced spellcaster | Exchange soul fragment |
| 4 (10) | Hellfire | Eldritch secret+ | Pact spells+ | Metamagic+ | Unwavering possession |
| 5 (13) | Abyssal magic+, resist the dark call+ | Unnatural insight+ | | Attunement point | Exchange vitality |
| 6 (16) | Abyssal curse | Lore of corrupting power+ | Armor tolerance+ | Experienced spellcaster+ | Empowering whispers+ |
| 7 (19) | Hellfire+ | Eldritch secret+ | Pact spells+ | Metamagic+ | Soul fountain |

Rogues tend to get along better with warlocks than most classes do. Many rogues have a “do whatever works” attitude that helps them understand why warlocks would make a soul pact, even if they might not make the same pact themselves. In addition, rogues are generally flexible about their companions, and wouldn’t begrudge having a warlock in a group as long as the warlock doesn’t cause problems.

Special Class Abilities

Soul Pact

To become a warlock, you must make a pact with a creature capable of sharing its power with you. Such a creature must be 21st level, and must be a planeforged from a plane other than your own. You must make a sacrifice, the details of which are subject to negotiation, and offer a part of your immortal soul. In exchange, you gain the powers of a warlock. The creature you make the pact with is called your soulkeeper. Almost all warlocks make pacts with demons, though other soulkeepers are possible.

Offering your soul to an entity in this way grants it the ability to communicate with you in limited ways. This communication typically manifests as unnatural emotional urges or whispered voices audible only to you. Many soulkeepers use this influence to tempt their warlocks into greater evils, though the skill and subtlety of this influence can vary drastically between different soulkeepers.

Your pact specifies how much of your soul is granted to your soulkeeper, and the circumstances of the transfer. The most common arrangement is for a soulkeeper to gain possession of your soul immediately after you die. It will keep the soul for one decade per year of your life that you spend as a warlock. During that time, it will not prevent you from being resurrected. At the end of that time, if your soul remains intact, your soul will pass on to its intended afterlife. However, other arrangements are possible, and each warlock's pact can be unique.

The longer you spend in an afterlife that is not your own, the more likely you are to lose your sense of self and become subsumed by the plane you are on. Only a soul of extraordinary strength can maintain its integrity after decades or centuries in any plane. Of course, soulkeepers generally try to accelerate this process as much as possible with various forms of torture. Many warlocks seek power zealously while mortal to gain the mental fortitude necessary to keep their soul intact after death.

Whispers of the Lost

[] You hear the voices of souls that inhabit your soulkeeper's plane, linked to you through your soulkeeper. Choose one of the following types of whispers that you hear.

Mentoring Whispers: You hear the voice of a dead warlock whose soul is bound to the same soulkeeper as yours.

Spiteful Whispers: You hear the voices of cruel souls who berate you for your flaws and mistakes.

Sycophantic Whispers: You hear the voices of adoring souls who praise your talents and everything you do.

Warning Whispers: You hear the voices of paranoid and fearful souls warning you of danger, both real and imagined.

Whispers of the Mighty: Your soulkeeper forges the connection to your soul into a boon granted to any soul in the Abyss strong enough to claim it in battle. You hear the voice of whatever soul currently possesses the boon, which may change suddenly and unexpectedly.

Blessings of the Abyss

You can only choose this archetype if your soulkeeper is a demon. This archetype enhances your connection to the Abyss and allows you to channel its sinister power more directly. All abilities from this archetype are magical .

Critical hit: The effect lasts until this curse is removed.

Rank 7: You gain a +2 accuracy bonus with the attack.

Rank 7 – Hellfire ★

The power bonus increases to +2. In addition, whenever you use an ability that deals fire damage, you can change that ability to deal damage of all types. Any other aspects of the ability remain unchanged.

Keeper of Forbidden Knowledge ★

This archetype grants you access to dangerous secrets revealed to you by your soulkeeper. All abilities from this archetype are magical ★.

Rank 1 – Eldritch Secret ★

You learn one secret of your choice from the following list. Each secret grants great power at a cost.

Secret of Bloodforging: While you are not wearing other body armor, your blood flows to the surface of your skin, manifesting a carapace of armor around you. This functions like body armor that provides a +5 bonus to your Armor defense and has no encumbrance. It also provides a bonus equal to five times your rank in this archetype to your damage resistance. However, the recover ability no longer causes you to recover hit points or damage resistance (see Recover, page 60).

Secret of Bloodsharing: Once per round, when you deal damage to a creature that causes it to lose hit points, you regain hit points equal to $1d4 + 1$ per three power. This ability does not have the Swift tag, so it resolves after incoming attacks during the current phase. You cannot regain more hit points in this way than the target lost from your attack. However, whenever you take damage, half of that damage is applied to your hit points directly, ignoring your damage resistance.

Secret of Soul cursing: Whenever you would inflict a condition on a creature that is not already under the effects of a Curse, that effect becomes a Curse on it instead of a condition. It is removed when the creature finishes a short rest. However, whenever you would gain a condition that you are not immune to, that effect becomes a Curse on you instead of a condition. If you were already affected by a Curse from this ability, the old Curse becomes a condition instead. Whenever you finish a short rest, you remove any Curse affecting you as a result of this ability.

You treat all Knowledge skills as class skills for you.

Rank 2 – Unnatural Insight ★

You can choose to gain a +2 bonus to your power with all abilities. If you do, you take a -2 penalty to your Fortitude and Mental defenses. Otherwise, you gain a +2 bonus to your Mental defense.

Rank 1 – Armor Tolerance+

You reduce your encumbrance by 2 when determining your somatic component failure.

Rank 1 – Pact Spells

You automatically learn all cantrips from each mystic sphere you have access to. In addition, you learn two rank 1 pact spells. You can also spend insight points to learn one additional rank 1 spell per insight point.

Pact spells require both verbal components and somatic components to cast (see Casting Components, page 43). Unless otherwise noted in a spell's description, casting any spell requires a standard action. For details about mystic spheres and casting spells, see Spell and Ritual Mechanics, page 43.

When you gain access to a new mystic sphere or spell rank, you can forget any number of spells you know to learn that many new spells in exchange, including spells of the higher rank.

Distant Spell: Choose a pact spell you know with a standard range: Short (30 ft.), Medium (60 ft.), Long (90 ft.), Distant (120 ft.), or Extreme (180 ft.). You increase that spell's range to the next standard range category, to a maximum of Extreme range. You can choose this ability multiple times, choosing a different spell each time. The maximum rank of pact ritual you can learn or perform is equal to the maximum rank of pact spell that you can cast. In addition, you automatically learn one free pact ritual of each rank you have access to, including new ranks as you gain access to them. You cannot choose this ability multiple times.

Widened Spell: Choose a pact spell you know with a standard area: Small (15 ft.), Medium (30 ft.), Large (60 ft.), Huge (90 ft.), or Gargantuan (120 ft.). You can use the desperate exertion ability without increasing your fatigue level. When you do, you suffer no immediate negative consequences. After 10 minutes, your maximum hit points will be reduced by a quarter until you complete a long rest. Each time this penalty takes effect, you lose a quarter of your original maximum hit points, so using it four times would reduce your maximum hit points to 0. If your hit points are reduced below 0 in this way, you die.

Rank 3 – Experienced Spellcaster

You gain a +1 bonus to accuracy with spells.

Rank 4 – Metamagic+

You gain an additional metamagic ability.

Wizard

Wizards are arcane spellcasters who study magic to unlock its powerful secrets. They have spent years studying the primal forces that define the universe. Their extensive research has revealed complicated ways in which those forces can be accessed and manipulated by mere mortals.

Wizards are almost never completely self-taught. The primal forces of the universe do not give up their power easily, and the methods used to access that power are unintuitive. Most wizards learn at arcane colleges or through direct mentorship by older, wiser wizards. Even wizard prodigies who learn alone have some access to the research performed by wizards over the centuries, generally in the form of massive books.

There are two fundamental principles of arcane magic that are shared by all wizards. The first principle is the creation of links between planes. A wizard can expend a small amount of energy to open an extremely small, extremely short-lived interdimensional gate that leads to a source of power. The destination for this gate depends on the mystic sphere the wizard are manipulating. As a simple example, pyromancy spells generally require gates to the Plane of Fire. Other spheres can be more complex. For example, revelation spells generally require gates that lead to prescient entities or extraplanar sites with powerful ambient magic.

The second principle is the manipulation of raw power accessed through these gates. Wizards learn how to create complex magical bindings that can store power and release it in highly specific ways. This allows them to create long-lasting effects that were fueled by extremely brief flashes of power.

Sorcerers are an endless fascination and source of frustration to wizards. While wizards must spend years or decades perfecting their art, sorcerers are able to easily and intuitively replicate the same techniques for accessing and binding magical energy. This often makes younger wizards jealous. Wizards have spent centuries trying to understand how to mimic the shortcuts that sorcerers use, with little success. However, sorcerers lack the ability to perform complex arcane rituals that do not allow any simple shortcuts. Many older wizards regard this as a crippling weakness.

Alignment: Any.

Archetypes: Wizards have the Arcane Magic, Arcane Spell Mastery, Alchemist, Arcane Scholar, and School Specialist archetypes.

Base Class Abilities

If you are a wizard, you gain the following abilities.

Defenses

You gain the following bonuses to your defenses: +3 Fortitude, +4 Reflex, +5 Mental.

- A number of insight points equal to 3 + your Intelligence. You can spend insight points to gain additional abilities (see Insight Points, page 25).
- Three trained skills from among your class skills, plus additional trained skills equal to your Intelligence (see Skills, page 144).

Arcane Magic ✶

This archetype grants you the ability to cast arcane spells. All abilities from this archetype are magical ✶.

Rank 1 – Arcane Spells ✶

Your extensive studies grant you the ability to use arcane magic. You gain access to one arcane mystic sphere, plus the universal mystic sphere (see Arcane Mystic Spheres, page 244). You may spend insight points to gain access to one additional arcane mystic sphere per two insight points. You can only learn arcane spells from arcane mystic spheres that you have access to.

You automatically learn all cantrips from each mystic sphere you have access to. In addition, you learn two rank 1 arcane spells. You can also spend insight points to learn one additional rank 1 spell per insight point.

Arcane spells require both verbal components and somatic components to cast (see Casting Components, page 43). Unless otherwise noted in a spell's description, casting any spell requires a standard action. For details about mystic spheres and casting spells, see Spell and Ritual Mechanics, page 43.

When you gain access to a new mystic sphere or spell rank, you can forget any number of spells you know to learn that many new spells in exchange, including spells of the higher rank.

Rank 1 – Mage Armor ✶

You can use the mage armor ability as a standard action.

Mage Armor ★

You create a translucent suit of magical armor on your body and over your hands. This functions like body armor that provides a +3 bonus to your Armor defense and has no encumbrance. It also provides a bonus to damage resistance equal to three times your rank in this archetype.

You can also use a free hand to wield the barrier as a shield. This functions like a buckler, granting you a +1 bonus to your Armor defense, except that you do not need to be proficient with light armor. Since this bonus comes from a shield, it does not stack with the benefits of using any other shield.

This ability lasts until you use it again or until you dismiss it as a free action. In addition, it is automatically dismissed if you wear other body armor of any kind.

Rank 2 – Arcane Spells+ ★

You learn an additional arcane spell.

Rank 3 – Mage Armor+ ★

The damage resistance bonus increases to four times your rank in this archetype.

Rank 4 – Arcane Spells+ ★

Rank 1 – Metamagic ★

You learn how to further refine your spellcasting abilities. Choose two metamagic abilities from the list below.

Some metamagic abilities affect specific spells. You can only choose spells with a rank no higher than your rank in this archetype. In addition, you cannot choose the same spell with more than two metamagic abilities.

Distant Spell: Choose an arcane spell you know with a standard range: Short (30 ft.), Medium (60 ft.), Long (90 ft.), Distant (120 ft.), or Extreme (180 ft.). You increase that spell's range to the next standard range category, to a maximum of Extreme range. You can choose this ability multiple times, choosing a different spell each time. Whenever you learn a new spell, you may change which of your spells this ability affects.

Mystic Sphere: You gain access to an additional arcane mystic sphere, including all cantrips from that sphere. You cannot choose this ability multiple times.

Precise Spell: Choose an arcane spell you know. You gain a +1 bonus to accuracy with that spell. You can choose this ability multiple times, choosing a different spell each time. Whenever you learn a new spell, you may change which of your spells this ability affects.

Rituals: You gain the ability to perform arcane rituals to create unique magical effects (see Rituals, page 44). The maximum rank of arcane ritual you can learn or perform is equal to the maximum rank of arcane spell that you can cast. In addition, you automatically learn one free arcane ritual of each rank you have access to, including new ranks as you gain access to them. You cannot choose this ability multiple times.

Widened Spell: Choose an arcane spell you know with a standard area: Small (15 ft.), Medium (30 ft.), Large (60 ft.), Huge (90 ft.), or Gargantuan (120 ft.). Rank 2 – Intricate Spell ★

Rank 4 – Metamagic+ ★

You gain an additional metamagic ability.

Rank 5 – Attunement Point ★

You gain an additional attunement point.

The accuracy bonus increases to +2.

Rank 7 – Metamagic+ ★

You gain two additional metamagic abilities.

Alchemist

This archetype improves your ability to use alchemy to create unusual concoctions to aid your allies and harm your foes.

Rank 1 – Portable Workshop ★

You carry materials necessary to refine low-grade alchemical items wherever you are. This includes any item created using Craft (alchemy), such as potions, elixirs, and alchemist's fire. Where you lack material components, you fill in with some of your own magic, allowing you to create items more easily. The items are just as effective when used as items created normally. However, they are less durable, since they are partially sustained by your magic. Items created with this ability deteriorate and become useless after 24 hours or after you finish a long rest, whichever comes first.

You can use this ability to create alchemical items with a rank up to your rank in this archetype (see Item Ranks, page 161). Creating an item in this way functions in the same way as crafting items normally, with the following changes. First, you do not require any raw materials or an alchemist's lab. Second, you can create up to three items with this ability with 5 minutes of work. Third, you can only maintain the existence of three items with this ability at once. If you try to create a fourth item, you must stop maintaining the existence of another item created. You can do this as a free action regardless of distance. This removes any lingering effects from the removed item, such as the protective qualities of an antitoxin elixir.

Rank 2 – Alchemical Discovery ★

You learn how to create alchemical items more effectively. You gain your choice of one of the following benefits. Each benefit can only be chosen once.

Advanced Workshop: You can use your portable workshop ability to create items with a rank up to one higher than your rank in this archetype.

Aerodynamic Construction: You double the range of thrown alchemical items you create. This does not affect alchemical items that are not designed to be thrown.

Efficient Crafting: When you craft an alchemical item without using your portable workshop ability, you treat it as if it was one rank lower than its actual rank for the purpose of determining its material requirements.

Enduring Construction: The duration of alchemical items you create is doubled. In addition, alchemical items that last for a fixed number of uses have that number of uses doubled.

Expanded Construction: The area affected by any alchemical item you create is doubled.

Explosive Construction: Whenever you create an alchemical item that deals damage, you can enhance its destructive potential. Attacks with it explode on a 8 or higher. This does not affect bonus dice rolled for exploding attacks. However, if the attacker rolls a 1 on the attack roll, ignoring explosions, they suffer a glancing blow from the attack.

Repetitive Construction: Whenever you use your portable workshop ability, you can create two copies of the same alchemical item. This only counts as one item for the purpose of determining the number of items you can maintain with that ability.

Rank 3 – Alchemical Precision

You gain a +1 accuracy bonus with alchemical items.

Rank 3 – Alchemical Tolerance

You gain a +1 bonus to your Fortitude defense. In addition, you are immune to poisons.

Rank 4 – Alchemical Discovery+

You gain an additional alchemical discovery ability.

Rank 5 – Experienced Quaffing

You can drink up to two doses of potions, elixirs, and other drinkable alchemical items as part of the same standard action.

Rank 5 – Portable Workshop+

The number of items you can simultaneously create and maintain with this ability increases to be equal to your rank in this archetype.

Rank 6 – Alchemical Discovery+

You gain an additional alchemical discovery ability.

Rank 7 – Alchemical Precision+

The accuracy bonus increases to +3.

Rank 7 – Alchemical Tolerance+

The defense bonus increases to +2. In addition, you are immune to acid damage.

Arcane Scholar

This archetype deepens your study of arcane magic. You have the Arcane Magic archetype from the wizard class to gain the abilities from this archetype. All abilities from this archetype are magical .

Rank 1 – Ritualist

You gain the ability to perform arcane rituals to create unique magical effects (see Rituals, page 44). The maximum rank of arcane ritual you can learn or perform is equal to the maximum rank of arcane spell that you can cast. In addition, you automatically learn one free arcane ritual of each rank you have access to, including new ranks as you gain access to them.

Rank 1 – Spell Knowledge

You learn an additional spell from any arcane mystic sphere that you have access to.

Rank 2 – Scholastic Insight

You gain one of the following insights. Some insights can be chosen multiple times, as indicated in their descriptions.

Esoteric Spell Knowledge: You learn a single spell from any arcane mystic sphere. You do not need to have access to that mystic sphere. This does not grant you access to that mystic sphere for any other purposes. Whenever you gain access to a new mystic sphere or spell rank, you may choose a different spell with this ability.

You can choose this insight multiple times, learning an additional spell each time.

Expanded Sphere Access: You gain access to a new mystic sphere.

You cannot choose this insight multiple times.

Memorized Sphere: Choose a mystic sphere you have access to. You can perform rituals from that mystic sphere without having them written in your ritual book.

You can choose this insight multiple times, choosing a different mystic sphere each time.

Sphere Specialization: Choose a mystic sphere you have access to. You gain a +2 magical power bonus and a +1 accuracy bonus with abilities from that mystic sphere. This power bonus increases to +3 at rank 4, and to +4 at rank 7. In exchange, you must lose access to another mystic sphere you have. You must exchange all spells you know from that mystic sphere with spells from other mystic spheres you have access to.

You cannot choose this insight multiple times.

Rank 3 – Contingency

You gain the ability to prepare a spell so it takes effect automatically if specific circumstances arise. Preparing a spell with this ability takes 5 minutes. When the preparation is complete, the spell has no immediate effect. Instead, it automatically takes effect when some specific circumstances arise. During the time required to cast the spell, you specify what circumstances cause the spell to take effect.

The spell can be set to trigger in response to any circumstances that a typical human observing you and your situation could detect.

For example, you could specify “when I fall at least 50 feet” or “when I take a vital wound”, but not “when there is an invisible creature within 50 feet of me” or “when I have only one hit point remaining.” The more specific the required circumstances, the better – vague requirements, such as “when I am in danger”, may cause the spell to trigger unexpectedly or fail to trigger at all. If you attempt to specify multiple separate triggering conditions, such as “when I take damage or when an enemy is adjacent to me”, the spell will randomly ignore all but one of the conditions.

If the spell needs to be targeted, the trigger condition can specify a simple rule for identifying how to target the spell, such as “the closest enemy”. If the rule is poorly worded or imprecise, the spell may target incorrectly or fail to activate at all. Any spells which require decisions, such as the dimension door spell, must have those decisions made at the time it is cast. You cannot alter those decisions when the contingency takes effect.

You can have only one spell with this ability active at a time. If you use this ability again with a different spell, the old contingency is removed.

Rank 4 – Scholastic Insight+★

You gain an additional scholastic insight.

Rank 5 – Ritual Leader★

Whenever you lead a ritual, it requires half the normal number of fatigue levels and half the normal time to complete, to a minimum of zero fatigue levels.

Rank 6 – Scholastic Insight+★

You gain an additional scholastic insight.

Rank 7 – Contingency+★

You may have two separate contingencies active at the same time. Each contingency may have separate triggering conditions. Only one contingency can trigger each round. If multiple contingencies would activate simultaneously, choose one to activate randomly.

School Specialist★

This archetype improves your ability to cast spells from a particular school of magic while sacrificing some versatility. You have the Arcane Magic archetype from the wizard class to gain the abilities from this archetype. All abilities from this archetype are magical★.

Rank 1 – School Specialization★

The arcane mystic spheres can be divided into six traditional schools of magic. Choose one of the following schools of magic. You are a specialist in your chosen school. You cannot gain access to any arcane mystic spheres outside of your specialized school, and you cannot learn spells or rituals from those spheres by any means. In exchange, you gain a benefit based on your specialized school.

Abjuration: The telekinesis and thaumaturgy mystic spheres. If you specialize in this school, you gain a bonus equal to three times your rank in this archetype to your damage resistance.

Conjuration: The astromancy, fabrication, and summoning mystic spheres. If you specialize in this school, you gain a +30 foot bonus to the range of arcane spells you cast.

Evocation: The cryomancy, electromancy, and pyromancy mystic spheres. If you specialize in this school, you gain a +2 bonus to your magical power.

Illusion: The enchantment, photomancy, and umbramancy mystic spheres. If you specialize in this school, you gain a +1 bonus to your accuracy.

Transmutation: The chronomancy, polymorph, and terramancy mystic spheres. If you specialize in this school, you gain a +2 bonus to your Fortitude, Reflex, or Mental defense. You can change which defense this bonus applies to as a minor action.

Necromancy: The revelation and vivimancy mystic spheres. If you specialize in this school, you gain a bonus equal to three times your rank in this archetype to your maximum hit points.

Rank 2 – School Knowledge★

You learn an additional spell from any mystic sphere within your chosen school, even if you do not have access to that mystic sphere. If you already know at least one spell from all mystic spheres within your chosen school, you can instead gain an additional attunement point. Chapter 7

Skills

Skills represent the myriad of talents that people can have, such as cooking or swimming. This chapter describes each skill, including common uses for those skills.

As a reminder, the GM should feel especially free to improvise or expand on the rules governing skills. Unlike maneuvers or spells, skills have a broad and ambiguous purview. If it feels relevant to the skill, it's generally fine to allow a check to make a player's action succeed, especially for fun-sounding improvisations.

Skill Overview

This section describes how you learn and use skills.

Trained Skills

You are trained in certain skills. Your class gives you a certain number of trained skills from among the class skills for that class. The class skills for each class are summarized in Table 7.1: Class Skills, page 145.

There are other ways to become trained in skills that are not part of your class. If your Intelligence is positive, you gain additional trained skills equal to your Intelligence. Some abilities can grant additional trained skills.

Skill Modifiers

If you are untrained in a skill, your bonus with that skill is equal to its associated attribute (if any). If you are trained in a skill, your bonus with that skill is equal to $3 + \text{half your level} + \text{its associated attribute}$ (if any). Many abilities can increase or decrease your bonus with particular skills.

Tasks

Each skill contains a brief description of how the skill is usually used. This description is followed by a series of specific ways in which the skills can be used. These tasks are simply examples, and do not list everything the skill can be used for. You should be creative with your skills, rather than only using the tasks explicitly listed.

Learning Languages

You can replace skill training from your class or Intelligence with learning languages. For each trained skill you forgo, you learn two common languages or one rare language (see Communication and Languages, page 40).

C: class skill.

1. Any attribute could apply depending on how the skill is used.

Awareness (Per)

The Awareness skill represents your ability to observe things which you might otherwise fail to notice. It can be used to observe hidden creatures and traps, as well as to identify fleeting or subtle sensations.

The Awareness skill governs the result regardless of the specific sense or senses used. It is most commonly used with sight and hearing, though other senses can be used, such as smell or touch. Whenever you make an Awareness check, you roll only once, and most creatures have the same Awareness modifier with all of their senses. However, the difficulty value of the check, and the information granted by success, can be very different between senses. For example, it is impossible to see through walls or without light, but that does not make hearing impossible.

Common Awareness Tasks

Identify Disguise: If you succeed at an opposed Awareness vs. Disguise check, you can determine whether a creature or object is disguised.

Identify Forgery: If you succeed at an opposed Awareness vs. Craft check, you can determine whether an object is a forgery.

Notice Hidden Creature: If you succeed at an opposed Awareness vs. Stealth check, you can notice a hidden creature (see Stealth, page 159). Success with a sight-based Awareness check means you can see the creature perfectly. Success with any other sense just means you know its exact location, and are still partially unaware (50% miss chance, -2 Armor and Ref) of it.

Notice Hidden Object: If you succeed at an opposed Awareness vs. Craft or Devices check, you can notice hidden objects such as traps and secret doors.

Notice Magic Trap: If you succeed at an Awareness check, you can notice hidden magical effects such as traps. The difficulty value to is equal to $15 + \text{twice the rank}$ of the ability.

Notice Sleight of Hand: If you succeed at an opposed Awareness vs. Sleight of Hand check, you can notice a creature's attempt to use the Sleight of Hand skill.

Notice Subtle Effect: If you succeed at an Awareness check, you can notice the general effects of a Subtle ability affecting you. The difficulty value to notice the effect when it is first applied to you is $15 + \text{twice the rank}$ of the ability. In addition, you can make another check when the ability ends to notice that you feel normal again.

Common Awareness Modifiers

While sleeping, you take a -10 penalty to the Awareness skill. You gain a +20 bonus to notice the presence of creatures and events that directly touch or damage you, such as a creature shoving you or making a strike against you.

There are three common circumstances that can make Awareness checks more difficult: obstructions, distance, and similar background sensations. Minor obstructions, short distances, and slightly similar backgrounds increase the difficulty value by 2. Significant obstructions, long distances, and very similar backgrounds increase the DV by 5 or more. If a sensation is difficult to detect for multiple reasons, the difficulty modifiers stack.

The difficulty value of non-opposed checks changes depending on the size of the sensation. The difficulty value increases by 5 for each size category larger than Medium, and decreases by 5 for each size category smaller than Medium. Multiple sensations of the same type can also be treated as a single larger sensation, which makes them easier to detect. Non-visual sensations may not have a literal size category to rely on, so the GM can decide how this modifier applies.

Balance (Dex)

The Balance skill represents your ability to maintain your balance and poise on unsteady surfaces. The base difficulty value to balance on a normal surface is 0. Generally, creatures only have to roll Balance checks if the surface is unsteady for some reason.

Common Balance Tasks

Agile Charge: You can make a difficulty value 10 Balance check while using the charge ability to change directions while charging (see Charge, page 59). Success means you can make a single turn of up to 90 degrees during the movement.

Maintain Balance: If you take physical damage while on an unsteady surface, you must make a Balance reactive check based on the surface. Failure means that you fall prone (half speed, -2 Armor and Ref). You only need to make this check once per round, even if you take damage from more than one source.

Rapid Stand: You make a difficulty value 15 Balance check as a movement to stand up from a prone position. Success means that you stand up so quickly that you can immediately make another movement. Failure simply means that you stand up.

Walk While Balancing: When you move using your land speed on an unsteady surface, you must make an Balance check based on the surface. If you choose to move at half speed, you gain a +5 bonus to the check. Success means you move along the surface.

Common Balance Modifiers

There are four common circumstances that make Balance checks more difficult: slippery, mobile, narrow, and uneven surfaces. Slightly impaired surfaces increase the difficulty value by 2. Significantly impaired surfaces increase the DV by 5 or more. If a surface is impaired for multiple reasons, the difficulty modifiers stack.

Balance Difficulty Value Examples

| DV | Examples |
|----|---|
| 0 | Sandy beach, typical forest floor, city street after rain |
| 5 | Support beam almost a foot wide, rope bridge, ankle-deep rapid river, frozen lake |
| 10 | Support beam four inches wide, knee-deep rapid river, oil spill |
| 15 | Support beam one inch wide, slack rope, waist-deep rapid river |
| 20 | Oil-covered slack rope |

Climb (Str)

The Climb skill represents your ability to climb obstacles. A creature that is climbing without a climb speed takes a -4 penalty to its accuracy and Armor and Reflex defenses.

Common Climb Tasks

Creature Climb: As a standard action, you can make a Climb vs. Reflex attack against a creature adjacent to you. This requires one free hand, and the target must be two or more size categories larger than you. On a hit, you latch onto the target and can climb on it as if it was a surface with a difficulty value equal to its Reflex defense. This can allow you to use Size-Based abilities against the creature as if you were one size category larger than normal. The creature takes a -4 penalty to accuracy with strikes against you.

Grab Surface: You can make a Climb check as part of movement to grab a surface that you are passing by. The difficulty value is 10 higher than normal for the surface if you were moving for reasons out of your control (such as if you are falling). Success means you grab onto the wall and interrupt your movement. This does not prevent you from taking falling damage appropriate for the distance you fell.

Maintain Hold: Whenever you take damage while climbing on a surface, suddenly acquire significantly more weight (such as by catching a falling character), or otherwise are significantly distracted, you must make a Climb check based on the surface. Failure means you fall off of the surface, and are prone (half speed, -2 Armor and Ref) when you land.

Move: You can make a Climb check as a movement while you are touching a solid surface. This requires two free hands, or one free hand if you take a -5 penalty. The difficulty value is based on the surface. Success means that you move along the surface, up to a maximum distance equal to the vertical size of your space (see Size Categories, page 38). Critical success means the maximum distance you can move is doubled.

Wallrun: You can make a Climb check as part of your movement while you are touching a solid surface. The difficulty value is 10 higher than normal for the surface. Success means you can move using your land speed along the wall during the current phase. You move at half speed while going up. Failure means you fall. For every phase in which you use this ability on the same wall without reaching a stable stopping point, the DV increases by 5.

Common Climb Modifiers

Slippery and mobile surfaces make Climb checks more difficult. If you can brace against multiple surfaces, such as in a corner or between two opposed walls, climbing can be significantly easier.

Climb Difficulty Value Examples

| DV | Surface or Activity | Example |
|----|--|--|
| 0 | Steep slope | A hill too steep to walk up |
| 5 | Large, sturdy hand and foot holds | Knotted rope, heavily damaged stone wall, ship's rigging |
| 10 | Small, sturdy hand and foot holds | Surface with pitons or carved holes, weathered stone wall |
| 10 | Inconsistent or unsteady hand and foot holds | Unknotted rope, unweathered natural rock, shoddy brick or brick wall |
| 10 | Only large hand holds | Tree limbs, pulling yourself up by your hands while dangling |
| 15 | Rough surface with few holds | Weathered natural rock face, quality wood or brick wall |
| 20 | Rough surface without holds | Quality stone wall |
| 25 | Smooth surface without holds | Window |

Climb Speed

Some creatures have a listed climb speed. A creature with a passive climb speed must still make a Climb check to climb on surfaces. However, the distance it can move if it succeeds on the Climb check is equal to its listed climb speed, regardless of its size or whether it gets a critical success.

Craft (Int)

The Craft skills represent your ability to construct objects from raw materials. Like Knowledge, Perform, and Profession, Craft is actually a number of separate skills. You could have several Craft skills, each with a separate degree of training. Common Craft skills are listed below, with additional description for some skills. Other Craft skills exist in the universe, but are less generally useful for adventurers.

- Alchemy (Alchemist's fire, tanglefoot bags, potions)
- Bone
- Ceramics (Glass, pottery)
- Leather
- Manuscripts (Books, official documents, scrolls)
- Metal
- Poison
- Stone
- Textiles (Cloth, fabric)
- Wood

A Craft skill is specifically focused on physical objects. If nothing can be created by an endeavor, it probably falls under the heading of a Profession skill. Complex structures, such as buildings or siege engines, may require Knowledge (engineering) in addition to an appropriate Craft skill.

Common Craft Tasks

Create Item: You can make a Craft check to create an item. For details, see Crafting Items, page 148.

Create Forgery: You can make a Craft check to create a false or defective version of an item. This functions like creating the item normally, except that you treat the item's rank as being one lower than it actually is (to a minimum of 0). Forgeries which have a function, such as a weapon, are always defective in some way which makes them unsuitable for sustained usage. However, a forgery may function once or twice to pass cursory inspection.

Identify Forgery: If you succeed at an opposed Craft vs. Craft check, you can determine whether an object is a forgery.

Identify Item: You can make a Craft check to identify any unusual properties or functions of a magic item or esoteric mundane item. The difficulty value is equal to 5 + twice the item's rank. Items that are particularly common in a particular setting may be easier to identify, which can reduce the difficulty value by 2 or more. Success means that you know the item's general purpose, and how to activate its functions, including any magical effects. You also know the item's rank, which lets you estimate its value.

Rebuild Item: You can make a Craft check to repair a destroyed item. This functions like creating the item normally, except that you treat the item's rank as being one lower than it actually is (to a minimum of 0). Success means the item is restored to full hit points and functionality.

Repair Item: You can make a Craft check to repair a broken or damaged item. This takes as much time as creating an item two ranks lower than the item (to a minimum of 0), and does not require any raw materials other than the broken item. Success means the item is restored to full hit points and functionality.

Crafting Items

You can use the Craft skill to create an item by expending time and material components. Creating an item often requires multiple consecutive Craft checks. Success on a check means you make progress on completing the item. Failure means you failed to make progress, but can try again without penalty.

Each item takes a certain amount of working time to craft, as shown on Table 7.2: Craft Requirements, page 149. In addition, each item requires the expenditure of raw materials with a value equal to an item one rank lower than the item you are trying to craft (minimum rank 0). Note that raw materials for some items, particularly alchemical items, may be hard to come by in less civilized areas.

You can attempt to craft items from inferior or ad-hoc materials. The materials do not have to be well-suited to the item's construction, but they must be physically capable of performing any necessary actions. For example, you could construct a simple arrow-throwing trap from bent sticks or creatively strung rope, but not from sand. Generally, using ill-suited materials increases the difficulty value of the Craft check by at least 5, and it may negatively impact the item's function or longevity.

In order to craft an item, you must make a Craft check against the item's Craft difficulty value, as shown on Table 7.2: Craft Requirements. If you succeed, you make progress on the item based on how long you spend crafting. For every 5 points by which you beat the Craft check, you accomplish twice as much work in the same amount of time. Once your total effective working time exceeds the time required to craft the item, you have finished the item.

All item creation requires artisan's tools to give the best chance of success. If improvised tools are used, the check may be made with a penalty of -5 or greater, or it may be impossible, depending on the tools available and the item to be crafted. For example, crafting a bow with improvised woodworking tools would impose a -5 penalty, but cutting a diamond without specialized tools is impossible.

The time and difficulty involved in crafting an item depends on the item's rank, as defined in Table 7.2: Craft Requirements.

Table 7.2: Craft Requirements

| Item | Subskill | DV | Crafting Time ¹ |
|-----------------------------|----------|-----------------|---------------------------------|
| Alchemical item | Alchemy | 5 + twice rank | Eight hours |
| Body armor | Varies | 10 + twice rank | One month per rank ² |
| Exotic weapon | Varies | 10 + twice rank | 24 hours per rank |
| Shield or non-exotic weapon | Varies | 5 + twice rank | 24 hours per rank |
| Poison | Poison | 5 + twice rank | Eight hours |
| Other item | Varies | 5 + twice rank | 24 hours per rank |

1. For the purpose of crafting times, treat rank 0 items as having a rank of 1/2. 2. Assuming eight-hour working days for each day of the month.

Creature Handling (Per)

The Creature Handling skill represents your ability to influence non-sapient creatures. With it, you can convince them to do what you want or train them to follow commands. This skill has no effect on creatures with an Intelligence of -5 or higher.

Common Creature Handling Tasks

Command Auditory, Compulsion, Sustain (standard)
Make a Creature Handling vs. Mental attack against a creature within Medium (60 ft.) range. In addition, choose and state an action that the creature could take.

Hit: The target is unable to take any actions except to use the total defense ability (see Universal Abilities, page 58).

Critical hit: The target performs the chosen action if it is physically capable of performing it.

You take a -10 accuracy penalty against an actively hostile target. You take a -5 penalty to accuracy with this attack if the target is not an animal, as normal for Creature Handling attacks and checks. If the target is damaged or feels that it is in danger, this effect is automatically ended.

Perform Trained Action: You can make a difficulty value 5 Creature Handling check to convince an ally to perform an action it is already trained to perform.

Teach Trick: You can make a Creature Handling check to teach an ally a trick. A trick is a specific behavior that generally requires a single-word command, like “fetch” or “stay”. A creature can learn a maximum of two tricks per point of Intelligence it has above -10. Teaching a trick generally takes at least a week of intermittent training. Simple tricks have a difficulty value of 5, while complex tricks have a difficulty value of 10 or more.

Common Creature Handling Modifiers

Animals are easier to handle than other kinds of creatures. You take a -5 penalty to your Creature Handling skill when using it to affect non-animals.

Deception (Per)

The Deception skill represents your ability to lie or otherwise mislead people without being caught. Using a Deception check is part of conversation or other actions, so it requires no special action to perform.

Common Deception Tasks

Blend In: If you succeed at an opposed Deception vs. Awareness check, you can avoid notice among a crowd of similar creatures. If you act or look significantly different from the creatures around you, observers gain a bonus to their Awareness check to notice you.

Convey Hidden Message: If you succeed at an opposed Deception vs. Social Insight check, you can convey a hidden message in the guise of an ordinary conversation. Failure means that an observer recognizes that a hidden message is being conveyed, and may even recognize what that message is. In general, you must already have a pre-established code or understanding with the intended recipients of your hidden message so they can grasp its true meaning more easily than outside observers.

Distract: If you succeed at an opposed Deception vs. Social Insight check, you can distract a creature you are talking with. This generally makes the distracted creature briefly partially unaware (50% miss chance, -2 Armor and Ref) of you, which can allow you to hide or backstab them. Normally, the creature realizes that you tricked them once the distraction ends, which prevents them from being distracted again and may influence their behavior.

Fascinate: If you succeed at an opposed Deception vs. Social Insight check, you can keep attention focused on you during a conversation. This generally gives distracted creatures a -5 penalty to the Awareness and Social Insight skills to notice anything other than you. You repeat this check once per minute, with a cumulative -5 penalty for each minute that the distraction has lasted.

Impersonate: If you succeed at an opposed Deception vs. Social Insight check, you can impersonate another creature’s mannerisms and speech patterns. If you are unable to replicate important aspects of the impersonation, such as the beautiful singing voice of a famous bard, you may suffer a penalty to the Deception check. This does not allow you to mimic a creature’s appearance, which requires the Disguise skill.

Lie: If you succeed at an opposed Deception vs. Social Insight check, you can lie without giving any indication that you are lying. Failure means that the observer recognizes that you are intentionally lying. Even if you succeed at this check, you still need the Persuasion skill to believe or take actions based on your lies. This check only prevents a creature from recognizing the lie based on your body language and behavior.

When your overall intention is to mislead or conceal information in a conversation, you may need to make this check even if everything you are saying is technically true. Generally, using half-truths and similar trickery instead of bald-faced lies gives you a bonus to your Deception check, but a skilled observer can still see through your ruse.

Deduction (Int)

The Deduction skill represents your ability to make logical deductions based on evidence. It includes both determining which facts and observations are relevant to use as evidence, and reaching conclusions based on that evidence. However, this skill cannot protect you from coming to inaccurate conclusions if you rely on inaccurate or incomplete facts and observations.

Common Deduction Tasks

Identify Surroundings: You can make a Deduction check as a standard action to understand what aspects of your environment are important and why. This may require a successful Awareness check to locate hidden objects or subtle clues.

Reach Conclusion: You can combine information that you know to reach a specific conclusion. This may require other checks, such as Knowledge or Awareness checks, to ensure that you have enough information to work with. The time required to reach a conclusion can vary dramatically depending on how much evidence you have to work with and how easy the conclusion is to reach. You can reach simple conclusions immediately after learning all of the relevant information, but complicated scenarios might require days of study and analysis to eliminate all possibilities. In general, sifting through a mixture of helpful and misleading evidence increases the difficulty of the Deduction check and the time required to complete it.

Devices (Int)

The Devices skill represents your ability to manipulate mechanical devices such as locks, traps, and other contraptions. With enough skill, you can even manipulate magical devices. Each device has a base difficulty value based on its complexity. Some tasks are much easier than others, and modify the difficulty value accordingly.

Many Devices checks require the use of thieves' tools, which contains items like lockpicks and precision cutting implements. If you do not have a proper set of tools, you may be able to improvise from your surroundings. Generally, this imposes a penalty of at least -5 to the Devices check.

Common Devices Tasks

Activate Device: You can make a Devices check using thieves' tools to make a device perform a function it was designed to do, even if you lack the normal requirements. For example, you could tie or untie a knot, lock or unlock a lock without its key, or activate a trap without using its normal triggering mechanism (hopefully without being in its line of fire).

Analyze Device: You can make a Devices check to study a device and understand how it functions. The difficulty value to analyze a device is 5 lower than the device's base difficulty value.

Break Device: You can make a Devices check using thieves' tools to break a device. The device ceases to function in its intended way, and the sabotage is obvious to an observer. For example, you could jam a lock so it becomes unlocked and can never be locked again. Breaking a trap generally triggers the trap in an unpredictable way, which may be dangerous. The difficulty value to break a device is 2 lower than the device's base difficulty value.

Create Bindings: You can make a Devices check with a +5 bonus to create bindings from rope or similar materials. Binding a helpless foe in this way generally requires a minute of work, though tying up very large creatures may take longer. The Flexibility difficulty value to escape the binding is equal to your check result.

Improvise: You can make a Devices check to construct ad-hoc devices. This functions like creating the item with a Craft check (see Crafting Items, page 148), with two exceptions. First, the item is flimsy, and it breaks after being used once or twice. Second, the time requirement is dramatically reduced. It takes five minutes to make a device of up to Tiny size. You can make a Small device in the time required to make four Tiny devices, a Medium device in the time required to make four Small devices, and so on.

Remove Device: You can make a Devices check using thieves' tools to fully disable a device and remove it if possible. This can allow you to bypass traps without ever triggering them, and even take them with you if they are small and portable. Magical traps and large-scale physical traps, such as pit traps, are generally not portable. The difficulty value to remove a device is 5 higher than the device's base difficulty value.

Disguise (Int)

The Disguise skill represents your ability to create disguises to conceal the appearance of creatures or objects. This skill does not help you act appropriately while disguised, which generally the Deception skill and may also require Social Insight.

Many Disguise checks require the use of a disguise kit, which contains items like makeup and false beards. If you do not have a proper kit, you may be able to improvise from your surroundings. Generally, this imposes a penalty of at least -5 to the Disguise check.

Common Disguise Tasks

Camouflage: You can make an opposed Disguise vs. Awareness check to blend into your surroundings and avoid being noticed. This generally takes at least a minute of work to prepare your disguise to match your exact surroundings. It only protects you from visual observation, so you would generally need the Stealth skill to avoid being heard while moving (see Stealth, page 159).

Change Appearance: You can make an opposed Disguise vs. Awareness check using a disguise kit to change a creature's appearance. Generally, applying a disguise takes at least a minute, though complex makeup applications or clothing changes can take much longer. You take a penalty to the Disguise check based on how radical your changes are, especially to the creature's basic proportions.

Emulate Appearance: You can make a creature look like a different specific creature. This functions like the change appearance task, except that the result of your Disguise check can't exceed the result of an Awareness check you or someone helping you made to observe the creature you are trying to emulate.

Endurance (Con)

The Endurance skill represents your ability to persevere through physical trials.

Common Endurance Tasks

Hold Breath: You can make an Endurance check to hold your breath. While holding your breath, you must make an Endurance check at the end of every 5 rounds that you spend without taking any actions, or at the end of any round in which you take an action. The difficulty value starts at 0, and increases by 1 for each subsequent check until you breathe in air. Failure means that you try to breathe in air, and you gain a vital wound if there is no air available to breathe.

Essentially, you can fight while holding your breath for a number of rounds equal to your Endurance modifier with no risk of failure. If you stay still, you can hold your breath for a number of minutes equal to half your Endurance modifier with no risk of failure.

Maintain Exertion: Some activities are difficult to maintain indefinitely. For example, running at a dead sprint typically exhausts a creature in less than a minute. Even walking at a steady pace can become exhausting after hours without rest. You can make an Endurance check to continue performing a strenuous activity without rest.

Generally, this requires a difficulty value 5 Endurance check when you reach the point where an ordinary human might be forced to rest. If you succeed, you can maintain the exertion for the same length of time. At the end of that time, you must make another check with a difficulty value that is 5 higher. Each time you succeed, the difficulty value increases by 5. If you fail, you must rest. The details of how long you have to rest depends on the activity you were performing, at the GM's discretion.

Stay Awake: You can make an Endurance check to stay awake beyond healthy limits. A typical creature needs a minimum of 6 hours of sleep for every 18 hours spent awake, and a minimum of 50 hours of sleep every week. The difficulty value starts at 5, and increases by 5 for each subsequent check until you catch up on your missed sleep. Failure means you gain a vital wound from subdual damage. You must make another check every 8 hours as long as you are still beyond your normal sleep limits.

Flexibility (Dex)

The Flexibility skill represents your ability to escape bindings and move through small areas by contorting your body.

Common Flexibility Tasks

Escape Bindings: As a standard action, you can make an Flexibility check to escape physical bindings. For simple restraints like nets and manacles, the difficulty value generally depends on the quality of the restraint. For complex restraints like carefully tied rope bindings, make an opposed Flexibility vs. Devices check against the creature that created the restraint.

Escape Grapple: As a standard action, you can make a Flexibility check to escape a grapple. For details, see Escape Grapple, page 59.

Tight Squeeze: You can make a Flexibility check to squeeze into spaces too small to normally fit you (see Squeezing, page 57). A difficulty value 15 check allows you to move in a space that can fit your head and shoulders, but which is too tight to allow normal crawling. For a typical human, this means squeezing through a space about a foot and a half in diameter. A difficulty value 25 check allows you to move in a space that can fit your head, but not your shoulders.

Intimidate (Varies)

The Intimidate skill represents your ability to intimidate and coerce people into doing what you want.

Choosing an Attribute: No attribute is a key attribute for Intimidate. However, depending on how you are trying to intimidate creatures, you can add any attribute's base value to your Intimidate check. For example, if you intimidate a creature by smashing a table and threatening to smash its head in, you can add your Strength to the Intimidate check. On the other hand, if you intimidate a creature by staring it down in a cold fury, you can add your Willpower to the Intimidate check.

Common Intimidate Tasks

Coerce: You can make an Intimidate check to convince a creature to do what you want. This functions like a Persuasion check to form an agreement with a group, except that you do not apply a relationship modifier (see Persuasion, page 156). Generally, people dislike being coerced.

Demoralize: You can use the demoralize ability as a standard action.

Demoralize

Make an Intimidate vs. Mental attack against a creature within Medium (60 ft.) range.

Hit: If the target has no remaining damage resistance, it is frightened (-2 Mental, -2 accuracy vs. source) by you as a condition.

Jump (Str)

The Jump skill represents your ability to jump. If you are trained in the Jump skill, you can jump farther than normal (see Jumping, page 54).

You do not make a Jump check to determine how far you can jump. Instead, you make Jump checks if you need to jump precisely, or in unusual circumstances.

Common Jump Tasks

Shortened Running Start: You can make a difficulty value 15 Jump check when you jump after a 5 foot running start. Success means you treat your jump as if you had a 15 foot running start, which increases your maximum jumping distance.

Wall Jump: You can make a difficulty value 10 Jump check as part of movement to jump off of a wall you are adjacent to. This difficulty value increases by 5 for each time you have used this ability since landing on solid ground. Success means you can jump off of the wall. Failure means your jump fails, and your movement ends. Critical success means that you are treated as having a running start with the jump.

Knowledge (Int)

The Knowledge skills represent your understanding of particular aspects of the world. Like the Craft, Profession, and Perform skills, Knowledge actually encompasses a number of separate skills. Knowledge represents a study of some body of lore, such an academic or even scientific discipline. Typical fields of study are listed below, but the GM may create additional fields or decide that some fields are irrelevant in a particular setting.

- Arcana (arcane spells, dragons, magical beasts)
- Dungeoneering (aberrations, caverns, oozes, spelunking, subterranean monsters)
- Engineering (architecture, buildings, bridges, fortifications, siege weapons)
- Items (magic items, artifacts, constructs)
- Local (myths and legends, laws and customs, history, nobility and royalty, nearby monsters)
- Nature (nature spells, animals, fae, monstrous humanoids, plants, terrain and climate)
- Planes (pact spells, the Primal Planes, the Aligned Planes, the Astral Plane, planeforged, magic related to the planes, extraplanar monsters)
- Religion (divine spells, undead, deities, mythic history, religious traditions, holy symbols)

Common Knowledge Tasks

Identify Monster: You can make a Knowledge check to identify a monster and recall its special powers or vulnerabilities. Each monster notes in its description the specific information that you learn from a successful Knowledge check. In general, the difficulty value for basic information is equal to $5 + \text{the monster's level}$. Legendary monsters such as dragons can be much easier to recognize.

Identify Item: You can make a Knowledge check to identify any unusual properties or functions of a magic item or esoteric mundane item. The difficulty value is equal to $5 + \text{twice the item's rank}$. Items that are particularly common in a particular setting may be easier to identify, which can reduce the difficulty value by 2 or more. Success means that you know the item's general purpose, and how to activate its functions, including any magical effects. You also know the item's rank, which lets you estimate its value.

Recall Information: You can make a Knowledge check to remember information related to your field of study. The difficulty value varies depending on the difficulty of the question (see Standard Difficulty Values, page 36).

Identify Magical Effect: You can make a Knowledge check to identify the general nature of a magical effect that you observe. The difficulty value is generally equal to $10 + \text{twice the effect's rank}$. Unusually obscure or obvious magical effects can have higher or lower difficulty values.

You must use a Knowledge skill relevant to the magical effect. Arcane effects require Knowledge (arcana), divine effects require Knowledge (nature), nature effects require Knowledge (nature), and pact effects require Knowledge (planes). In some circumstances, other Knowledge skills could be used if they are directly relevant to the magical effect. For example, Knowledge (dungeoneering) could be used to identify many spells from the terramancy mystic sphere.

Medicine (Int)

The Medicine skill represents your practical understanding of how to tend to the wounds of living creatures. In order to use this skill to aid a creature, you must be able to see and touch it, and the creature must be alive.

Many Medicine checks require the use of a medical kit, which contains items like bandages and salves. If you do not have a proper kit, you may be able to improvise from your surroundings. Generally, this imposes a penalty of at least -5 to the Medicine check.

Common Medicine Tasks

Accelerate Recovery: You can make a difficulty value 15 Medicine check using a medical kit to accelerate the recovery of up to four creatures from among yourself and your allies during a long rest. Success means that each creature removes an additional vital wound (see Removing Vital Wounds, page 52). For every 10 points by which you succeed, each creature removes an additional vital wound.

First Aid: As a standard action, you can make a Medicine check using a medical kit to prevent a creature from dying from a vital wound with a negative vital roll. The difficulty value is equal to $0 + 10$ for each point by which the vital roll is below 1. Success means that the target treats the vital roll as a 1 instead of its original value. This changes the effect of the vital wound, generally preventing the target from dying. For details, see Vital Wounds, page 52.

Identify Affliction: You can make a Medicine check to identify a poison, disease, or similar affliction currently affecting a creature. The difficulty value is equal to $5 + \text{twice the rank}$ of the poison or disease.

Treat Disease: With five minutes of work, you can make a Medicine check to treat a creature that is currently diseased. The next time it is attacked by its current disease, it can use your Medicine check or its Fortitude defense, whichever is higher.

Treat Poison: As a standard action, you can make a Medicine check to treat a creature that is currently poisoned. The next time it is attacked by its current poison, it can use your Medicine check or its Fortitude defense, whichever is higher.

Perform (Dex)

The Perform skills represent your ability to create particular forms of entertainment. Like Craft, Knowledge, and Profession, Perform is actually a number of separate skills. You could have several Perform skills, each with a separate degree of training. Each of the nine categories of the Perform skill includes a variety of methods, instruments, or techniques, a small list of which is provided for each category below.

- Acting (drama, impersonation, mime)
- Comedy (buffoonery, limericks, joke-telling)
- Dance (ballet, waltz, jig)
- Keyboard instruments (harpsichord, piano, pipe organ)
- Oratory (epic, ode, storytelling)
- Percussion instruments (bells, chimes, drums, gong)
- Singing (ballad, chant, melody)
- String instruments (fiddle, harp, lute, mandolin)
- Wind instruments (flute, pan pipes, recorder, shawm, trumpet)

Performance Types

In general, there are three types of performances: instrumental performances, visual performances, and vocal performances.

Instrumental Performances: These performances require an instrument of some sort to create sound, which always requires at least one hand to manipulate the instrument. They affect all creatures who can hear the performance.

Visual Performances: These performances require some sort of motion, such as juggling. They affect all creatures who can see the performance.

Vocal Performances: These performances use your voice to create sound. These are simpler to create than instrumental performances, since they don't require an instrument. However, vocal performances are always in a particular language. They affect all creatures who can hear the performance and understand the language the performance is in.

Limitations while Performing

It takes a minor action to initiate and sustain a performance. While you are performing, you cannot cast spells. In addition, you take a -5 penalty to the Perform skill for any other performances. This penalty stacks, and applies separately for each simultaneous performance. For example, if you were playing a lyre, singing, and juggling balls with your feet, you would take a -20 penalty to all three performances. These limitations are in addition to any restrictions imposed by your method of performing, such as your hands being occupied playing an instrument.

You can otherwise act normally while performing, including attacking in combat, if doing so is physically possible.

Performance Time: In general, you can maintain a performance for up to an hour. After that time, you must finish a short rest before performing again.

Common Perform Tasks

Distract: If you succeed at an opposed Perform vs. Social Insight check, you can distract a creature observing your performance. This generally makes the distracted creature briefly partially unaware (50% miss chance, -2 Armor and Ref) of you, which can allow you to hide or backstab them. Normally, the creature realizes that you tricked them once the distraction ends, which prevents them from being distracted again and may influence their behavior.

Entertain: You can make a Perform check to provide entertainment or to show off your skills.

Earn Income: You can make a Perform check to practice your trade and make a decent living. You earn about half your Perform check result in silver pieces per week of dedicated performance.

Fascinate: If you succeed at an opposed Perform vs. Social Insight check, you can keep attention focused on you while you perform. This generally gives distracted creatures a -5 penalty to the Awareness and Social Insight skills to notice anything other than you. You repeat this check once per minute, with a cumulative -5 penalty for each minute that the distraction has lasted.

Persuasion (Per)

The Persuasion skill represents your ability to convince people to think what you want them to. Depending on how it is used, it represents a combination of verbal acuity, tact, argumentative ability, grace, etiquette, and personal magnetism. Using a Persuasion check usually takes at least a minute of sustained conversation.

Not all social interactions require Persuasion checks. Much of the time, being extraordinarily persuasive is unnecessary, and creatures can be convinced with normal, inartful conversation and good reasoning. Persuasion checks should only be used when your personal persuasiveness matters.

Common Persuasion Tasks

Compel Belief: As part of conversation, you can make a Persuasion check to cause creatures to believe something you say to be true. If you are lying, you must also make a Deception check to avoid revealing the lie. The base difficulty value is equal to each creature's Mental defense. It is generally easier to convince creatures of things that are highly plausible or beneficial to them. Similarly, it is generally harder to convince creatures of things that are highly unlikely or detrimental to them.

Form Agreement: As part of conversation, you can make a Persuasion check to cause creatures to accept a deal or arrangement you propose. The base difficulty value is equal to each creature's Mental defense. It is generally easier to convince creatures if the deal is good for them, and harder if it is bad for them.

Gather Information: You can make a Persuasion check to gather information from people around you. The difficulty value is 5 for basic information, 10 for information that most people wouldn't know, and even higher for secrets or intentionally concealed information. This generally requires spending a few hours to meet a variety of people and learn what they know.

Common Persuasion Modifiers

The difficulty value for all Persuasion checks is modified based on the relationship between characters in a conversation, as listed in Table 7.3: Persuasion Relationship Modifiers, page 156. Regardless of what you are saying, you are more likely to succeed when talking to a close friend than a sworn enemy.

Table 7.3: Persuasion Relationship Modifiers

| Relationship | Difficulty Modifier |
|---|---------------------|
| Intimate: Someone who with whom you have an implicit trust. Example: A lover or spouse. | -15 |
| Friend: Someone with whom you have a regularly positive personal relationship. Example: A long-time buddy or a sibling. | -10 |
| Ally: Someone on the same team, but with whom you have no personal relationship. Example: A cleric of the same religion or a knight serving the same king. | -5 |
| Acquaintance (Positive): Someone you have met several times with no particularly negative experiences. Example: The blacksmith that buys your looted equipment regularly. | -2 |
| Just Met: No relationship whatsoever. Example: A guard at a castle or a traveler on a road. | +0 |
| Acquaintance (Negative): Someone you have met several times with no particularly positive experiences. Example: A town guard that has arrested you for drunkenness once or twice. | +2 |
| Opposition: Someone who is part of a group that consistently works against your interests, with whom you have no personal relationship. Example: An outlaw (to a law-abiding person), a paladin of law (to an outlaw), or a soldier who fights for a country at war with your country. | +5 |
| Enemy: Someone with whom you have a specifically antagonistic relationship. Example: An evil warlord whom you are attempting to thwart, a bounty hunter who is tracking you down for your crimes, or a bandit currently robbing you. | +10 |
| Nemesis: Someone who has sworn to do you, personally, harm, or vice versa. Example: The brother of a man you murdered in cold blood, or the person who murdered your brother in cold blood. | +15 |

Profession (Varies)

The Profession skills represent your practical understanding of a particular profession. Like Craft, Knowledge, and Perform, Profession is actually a number of separate skills. You could have several Profession skills, each with a separate degree of training. While a Craft skill represents ability in creating or making an item, a Profession skill represents an aptitude in a vocation requiring a broader range of less specific knowledge. Most commoners have some training in a Profession skill.

Choosing an Attribute: No attribute is a key attribute for Profession. However, depending on how you are using your Profession, you can add any attribute's base value to your Profession check. For example, if you use your experience as a farmer to harrow a field, you can add your Strength to the Profession check. On the other hand, if you use your experience as a sailor to determine the right angle for sails in the current wind, you can add your Perception to the Profession check.

Common Profession Tasks

Earn Income: You can make a Profession check to practice your trade and make a decent living. You earn about half your Profession check result in silver pieces per week of dedicated performance.

Identify Item: You can make a Profession check to identify any unusual properties or functions of a magic item or esoteric mundane item. The difficulty value is equal to 5 + twice the item's rank. Items that are particularly common in a particular setting may be easier to identify, which can reduce the difficulty value by 2 or more. Success means that you know the item's general purpose, and how to activate its functions, including any magical effects. You also know the item's rank, which lets you estimate its value.

Perform Task: You can make a Profession check to perform some tasks related to your profession. This allows you to use Profession in place of other skills when it is appropriate. For example, a sailor could use Profession to tie common knots in place of Devices or Survival, or a farmer could use Profession to identify common animals and plants in place of Knowledge (nature). The difficulty value when using Profession may be higher than it would be to use the normal skill for the task, depending on the relevance of the Profession skill.

Ride (Dex)

The Ride skill represents your ability to ride and control horses and other mounts. Typical riding actions don't require checks. You can saddle, mount, ride, and dismount from a mount without a problem. However, some special actions require Ride checks.

Unless an ability says otherwise, you can only use this skill to ride allies that are exactly one size category larger than you.

Common Ride Modifiers

If a creature is not trained as a mount, the DV to ride it increases by 5. If it lacks a saddle and other riding gear, the DV to ride it increases by 5. If it takes a standard action other than movement, such as attacking, the DV to ride it that round increases by 5. If it uses a movement mode other than a land speed, the DV to ride it that round increases by 10.

Common Ride Tasks

Guide Mount: When riding on a non-sentient creature, you must make a Ride check at the start of each round to guide your mount's movement. If it is trained for battle, the difficulty value of this check is 0. Otherwise, the DV is 10. Failure means it acts of its own volition.

Maintain Ride: Whenever you take damage or your mount makes a sudden motion, you must make a DV 5 Ride check to continue riding the creature. Sudden motions include jumping, attacking, and moving at more than half speed. Failure means you fall off of your mount.

Take Cover: You can make a DV 15 Ride check as a movement to drop low and take cover behind your mount. This requires the use of a free hand. Failure means you can't get low enough and gain no benefit from the action.

Sleight of Hand (Dex)

The Sleight of Hand skill represents your ability to pick pockets, palm objects, and perform other feats of legerdemain.

Common Sleight of Hand Modifiers

All Sleight of Hand checks apply a special modifier based on the size of the action taken or object affected, as shown on Table 7.4: Sleight of Hand Difficulty Modifiers.

Table 7.4: Sleight of Hand Difficulty Modifiers

| Size | Difficulty Modifier |
|------------|---------------------|
| Fine | -10 |
| Diminutive | -5 |
| Tiny | +0 |
| Small | +5 |
| Medium | +10 |
| Large | +15 |
| Huge | +20 |
| Gargantuan | +25 |
| Colossal | +30 |

Common Sleight of Hand Tasks

Conceal Object: You can make an opposed Sleight of Hand vs. Awareness check to conceal an ally or unattended object on your person. The target must be at least one size category smaller than you are.

Conceal Action: You can make an opposed Sleight of Hand vs. Awareness check to conceal an action that you take. The space required to perform the action is the size of the action, and applies a size-based bonus or penalty appropriately. The action must be at least one size category smaller than you are. For example, throwing a dagger is a Small-sized movement, so you take a -5 penalty to conceal the action. If you successfully conceal an attack, the defender is at least partially unaware (50% miss chance, -2 Armor and Ref) of it (see Awareness and Surprise, page 63).

Pickpocket: You can make an Sleight of Hand check to steal an object from another creature. The object must be loose and accessible, such as in a pocket. All observers, including the creature you are stealing from, can make an Awareness check against your Sleight of Hand check result to observe your attempt. If your check result beats the target's Reflex defense, you steal the object.

Social Insight (Per)

The Social Insight skill represents your ability to read body language and emotion.

Common Social Insight Tasks

Discern Enchantment: You can make a Social Insight check to notice whether a creature is affected by any behavior-altering effects. Noticing a Compulsion effect is difficulty value 5, and noticing an Emotion or Subtle effect is difficulty value 20. You can use this task to notice effects on yourself in addition to other creatures.

Discern Hidden Message: You can make an opposed Social Insight vs. Deception check to recognize when a hidden message is being conveyed in a conversation.

Discern Lies: You can make an opposed Social Insight vs. Deception check to recognize when a creature is intentionally lying or concealing the truth.

Social Assessment: You can make a Social Insight check to get a general assessment of a social situation after a minute of observation. The base difficulty value is equal to 10. Simple and familiar social situations are easier to understand, while complex and unfamiliar social situations can be much harder to understand. Success means you learn relevant information about the situation, such as a general understanding of expected behaviors or a rough understanding of the social hierarchy.

Stealth (Dex)

The Stealth skill represents your ability to escape detection while moving or taking large-scale actions. All Stealth checks are made as part of movement or other actions, so they require no special action to perform. If you have been noticed by a creature, you automatically fail all Stealth checks against that creature until you can escape its notice, such as by disappearing out of sight.

Common Stealth Tasks

Avoid Notice: You can make an opposed Stealth vs. Awareness check to prevent creatures from noticing you. Success means that the observer's awareness of you, such as unaware or partially unaware, does not change. Failure means that the observer can observe you using any senses they detected you with. Generally, success with sight-based senses causes creatures to become fully aware of you, while success with other senses causes creatures to be partially unaware (50% miss chance, -2 Armor and Ref) of you. You must repeat this check whenever you take an action that you want to conceal, such as moving, or your circumstances otherwise meaningfully change in a way that would make you easier to observe.

Hide: You can make an opposed Stealth vs. Awareness check to make creatures that are aware of you lose track of your position. In order to use this ability, you must move in a way that makes observers lose sight of you for at least ten feet of your motion. In addition, you must have cover or concealment for the entire duration of your movement. This can be achieved by moving through total darkness, moving out of line of sight, teleporting at least ten feet, or similar activities. Success against an observer means that they become partially unaware (50% miss chance, -2 Armor and Ref) of you instead of fully aware of you.

Common Stealth Modifiers

A creature smaller than Medium size gains a +5 bonus to the Stealth skill for each size category by which it is smaller than Medium. Similarly, a creature larger than Medium size takes a -5 bonus to the Stealth skill for each size category by which it is smaller than Medium. These effects are summarized below.

- Fine: +20
- Diminutive: +15
- Tiny: +10
- Small: +5
- Medium: +0
- Large: -5
- Huge: -10
- Gargantuan: -15
- Colossal: -20

Stealth checks generally require cover or concealment (see Cover, page 62 and Concealment, page 62). For this purpose, do not consider any cover that would be hidden as a result of a successful check, such as an object you hold in front of you. You take a -20 penalty to Stealth checks against creatures who can observe you without any interfering cover or concealment. This includes creatures who can ignore concealment with abilities like blindsight.

You take a -10 penalty to Stealth checks against creatures who can know your location with a special ability like blindsight. This does not stack with the penalty for not having cover or concealment.

Moving stealthily is more difficult than hiding in place. If you use a movement speed to move, you take a penalty to your Stealth check to conceal that movement. This is a -5 penalty if you move at no more than half your speed. If you use the sprint ability or move faster than half your speed, this penalty increases to -10.

Making a strike, using somatic components, and taking other similar large-scale actions imposes a -10 penalty to the Stealth check. If you make a strike with a Heavy weapon, this penalty increases to -20. This is separate from and stacks with the +20 bonus that a creature gets to notice you if you hit it with a strike (see Common Awareness Modifiers, page 145).

Survival (Per)

The Survival skill represents your ability to take care of yourself and others in the wilderness, including the ability to follow tracks.

Common Survival Tasks

Find Sustenance: You can make a Survival check to hunt or forage for food and water. This generally takes a few hours of work to find enough food for you and a small group of allies. The difficulty value and details of what you find depend on the terrain.

Follow Tracks: You can make a Survival check to follow tracks at up to half your normal movement speed. You can move at full speed if you accept a -5 penalty to the check. The difficulty value depends on how easy the tracks are to notice. You must repeat this check whenever the trail changes significantly, such as when it crosses other tracks or passes through a different environment.

Navigate Wilderness: You can make a Survival check while moving overland to avoid natural terrain hazards and getting lost. The difficulty value and consequences of failure depend on the terrain.

Predict Weather: You can make a difficulty value 10 Survival check to predict the local weather for the next day.

Swim (Str)

The Swim skill represents your ability to swim.

Fighting While Swimming

A creature that is swimming without a swim speed takes a -4 penalty to its accuracy and Armor and Reflex defenses.

Distant fighting is limited while underwater, or otherwise submerged in a water-like liquid. In clear water, both line of sight and line of effect are limited to 120 feet. The density of the water blocks effects from spreading further than that. Murky water can have drastically more limited visibility, at the GM's discretion.

Ranged weapons have great difficulty functioning underwater. All ranged weapons have range limits of 5/15 when used by a creature that is underwater, or when used against a target that is underwater, regardless of the attack's normal range limits or any other modifiers.

Common Swim Tasks

Move: You can make a Swim check as a movement while you are in water or a similar liquid. This requires two free hands, or one free hand if you take a -5 penalty. The difficulty value is based on the turbulence of the liquid. Success means that you move through the water, up to a maximum distance equal to a quarter of the base speed for your size (see Size Categories, page 38). Critical success means the maximum distance you can move increases to half of your base speed.

Swim Speed

Some creatures have a listed swim speed. A creature with a passive swim speed must still make a Swim check to move in liquid. However, the distance it can move if it succeeds on the Swim check is equal to its listed swim speed, regardless of its size or whether it gets a critical success.

Chapter 8

Items and Equipment

This chapter defines the items and equipment that exist in the universe of Rise, including both magical and nonmagical items. Items are divided into five broad categories, described below.

- Weapons are typically used to make strikes. Weapons come in many forms, and can have very different uses in combat.
- Armor is worn or wielded to protect yourself. There are two types of armor: body armor and shields.
- Apparel items are worn on the body, but unlike armor they have no intrinsic defensive properties. Rings, cloaks, and all manner of other worn items are considered apparel. The only mechanically significant apparel items are magical ✨.
- Implements are typically held while casting spells or using other magical abilities. The only mechanically significant implements are magical ✨.
- Tools are used to achieve an effect instead of worn on the body. Potions, traps, and magic bags are all tools.

Wealth And Item Ranks

The worth of an item can be measured with money, or with the more abstract concept of an item's rank. Both measurements are closely connected. In general, gold pieces are a more useful concept at low levels, and item rank are more useful at high levels. However, both concepts function at any level, so you can use whichever makes more sense in a particular game.

Coins

The most common coin is the gold piece (gp). A gold piece is worth 10 silver pieces. Each silver piece is worth 10 copper pieces (cp). In addition to copper, silver, and gold coins, there are also platinum pieces (pp), which are each worth 10 gp.

The standard coin weighs about a third of an ounce (fifty to the pound).

Table 8.1: Coin Exchange Values

| | CP | SP | GP | PP |
|---------------------|----|-------|------|-------|
| Copper piece (cp) | = | 1 | 1/10 | 1/100 |
| Silver piece (sp) | = | 10 | 1 | 1/10 |
| Gold piece (gp) | = | 100 | 10 | 1 |
| Platinum piece (pp) | = | 1,000 | 100 | 10 |

Item Ranks

Each item has a rank associated with it. An item's rank is generally correlated with the item's effectiveness, rarity, and value. A magic item's power is equal to the class bonus to power that a barbarian of that rank would have. These effects are summarized in Table 8.2: Item Ranks.

In general, five items of a given rank are worth the same as a single item that is one rank higher. Likewise, one item of a given rank is worth four items that are each one rank lower.

Gear and Consumables: Long-term items that are expected to be worn or otherwise used repeatedly are more expensive than items that are destroyed immediately after being used. Although consumable items are cheaper, they still use their full rank for all other purposes, such as their power and how difficult they are to buy. In general, five consumable items of a given rank are worth as much as a single non-consumable item of that rank.

Table 8.2: Item Ranks

| Rank | Power | Typical Gear Price | Typical Consumable Price |
|------|-------|--------------------|--------------------------|
| 0 | 2 | 10 gp or less | 2 gp or less |
| 1 | 3 | 40 gp | 8 gp |
| 2 | 4 | 200 gp | 40 gp |
| 3 | 5 | 1,000 gp | 200 gp |
| 4 | 7 | 5,000 gp | 1,000 gp |
| 5 | 10 | 25,000 gp | 5,000 gp |
| 6 | 14 | 125,000 gp | 25,000 gp |
| 7 | 20 | 625,000 gp | 125,000 gp |

Items with a rank of 0 or 1 may be found among common folk, though few commoners would have more than one magic item of any value. Items with a rank of 2 or higher are usually only owned or used by nobility, wealthy merchants, and adventurers.

Buying and Selling Items

Items of any rank can be exchanged for other items based on their rank. In general, items with an rank of 3 or less can be bought or sold in exchange for gold pieces. Items with an rank of 4 or higher are exceptionally rare. The monetary value of such items is so exorbitant that they are almost never purchased or sold with gold pieces. Instead, they are typically exchanged for similarly rare magic items or gems.

Wandering adventurers typically have a limited time frame to sell their items, and it can be hard to find a buyer for highly valuable items on short notice, so they must accept lower prices than merchants can charge. When selling for gold pieces, you can expect to receive a fifth of the item's typical value according to its rank. When selling for another item, you can expect to receive an item or trade good of one rank lower in exchange. These ratios can be negotiated, and favorably disposed merchants or nobles may give better deals.

Trade Goods

Some items are considered trade goods. Trade goods have a widely agreed upon value, but no intrinsic use. Gold pieces and gems are examples of trade goods. Trade goods differ from other items in that even adventurers can typically receive their full value when selling them to established merchants. Some common trade goods are detailed in Table 8.3: Trade Goods, page 162.

Table 8.3: Trade Goods

| Cost | Item |
|--------|---|
| 1 cp | One pound of wheat |
| 2 cp | One pound of flour |
| 1 sp | One pound of iron, or one chicken |
| 5 sp | One pound of tobacco or copper |
| 1 gp | One pound of cinnamon, or one goat |
| 2 gp | One pound of ginger or pepper, or one sheep |
| 3 gp | One pig |
| 4 gp | One square yard of linen |
| 5 gp | One pound of salt or silver |
| 10 gp | One square yard of silk, or one cow |
| 15 gp | One pound of saffron or cloves, or one ox |
| 50 gp | One pound of gold |
| 500 gp | One pound of platinum |

Typical Wealth Acquisition

A typical character finds one non-consumable item appropriate for them per level. That item would have a rank equal to that character's highest rank at the time. For example, a typical 5th level character would have five items: two rank 2 items, and 3 rank 1 items. In addition, characters typically find several consumable items per level that are appropriate to their rank.

Over time, lower rank items stop being useful, so most characters use no more than five or six different items at a time, plus various consumables. A typical 20th level character does not carry around 20 different items. However, the lower level items are essentially irrelevant from the perspective of calculating wealth, so the "one item per level" guideline is still useful.

This is a drastic simplification of the sometimes messy process of accumulating wealth and magic items over the course of a typical campaign. Characters will often find additional items that they have no immediate use for. Players may go several sessions without acquiring any particular items until they complete their current quest, which may reward them with a large number of items at once. This is all fine, and the GM should not feel compelled to keep item acquisition perfectly on rails. Rise is only loosely balanced around this general pace of item acquisition, and it is not hard - or always necessary - to adjust encounters to deal with unusually wealthy or poor characters.

Using Items

Manipulating Ordinary Objects

In general, using a small object in a simple way requires a minor action. For example, you can draw or sheathe a weapon as a minor action. Using complex objects, large objects, or inconveniently stored objects generally requires a standard action. For example, drinking a potion requires a standard action.

Magic Item Activation

Some magic items have to be explicitly activated to have unusual effects. For example, the seven league boots can be activated to teleport you across great distances. Other magic items constantly have magical effects. For example, a ring of protection passively grants you a defense bonus.

The description of a magic item effect will specify what mechanical actions must be taken, if any, to activate the effects of the item. For example, a belt of healing requires taking a standard action. However, the item description will not specify the exact nature of the action. Different items, even if they have the same effect, can have different physical actions that are required to activate the item. These activation actions can come in one of the following forms:

- Command word: You must speak a specific word that the item will hear and react to. For example, you may need to say the word "healing" in Elven to activate an item that heals you.
- Mental command: You must mentally direct the item to activate, such as by visualizing the item or thinking a particular word. For example, you may need to imagine a warm blanket around you to activate an item that protects you from cold damage or environmental effects.
- Physical motion: You must perform a specific physical motion, usually involving the item in some way. For example, you may need to rapidly stomp one foot on the ground to activate an item that allows you to move faster.

Magic Item Limitations

There are three restrictions on your ability to use magic items. First, you cannot equip two apparel items that take up the same physical location on your body. For example, you cannot equip two different gauntlet sets and gain the effects of both, but you could equip several amulets or up to ten rings.

Second, all magic items require you to attune to them to gain their effect unless they indicate otherwise in their description. You can attune to a magic item with the item attunement ability, below.

Third, you cannot attune to two items with the same name, or if one is simply a Greater or Lesser version of the other.

Item Attunement

As a standard action, you can use the item attunement ability to attune to items. This is a magical ✨ ability.

Item Attunement

Attune

Choose a magic item you are touching. Any abilities the target has that require attunement become active, allowing you to use its full potential.

Shared Item Attunement: Multiple creatures can attune to the same item simultaneously. Since most items only function while worn or wielded, this does not usually allow multiple creatures to gain the benefits of the item. However, the creatures can swap the item between them without having to reattune to it each time.

Magic Item Power

The power of an item is equal to twice its rank. An item's power also affects its defenses. Its Fortitude and Mental defenses are equal to $5 + \text{its power}$. Its Armor defense and Reflex defense are not affected by its power, and are solely determined by its size and shape.

Removing Magic Items

Unless otherwise noted, magic items that have effects on the creature using the item must continue to be worn or held as long as the effect lasts. If a magic item has an ability with a duration, removing the item also ends the ability. Items which are consumed when used or which do not affect their user are unaffected by this rule.

Weapons

Each weapon has a weapon group and any number of weapon tags. In addition, each weapon has a particular accuracy modifier and defines a base dice pool for attacks using that weapon. This section explains each of those concepts and defines the statistics for weapons in Rise. You gain a bonus to your weapon damage equal to half your power (see Weapon Damage, page 50).

Unless otherwise specified, a weapon must be held in a single free hand. You can use two hands to hold a weapon if you want, but that provides no special benefit unless that weapon has the Versatile Grip tag (see Weapon Tags, page 165).

Weapon Groups

Weapons are organized into thematically related categories called weapon groups. They are described in Table 8.4: Weapon Groups. For example, all axes belong to the “axes” weapon group. Some weapons can be found in multiple weapon groups. For example, a dagger is a simple weapon, a blade, and a thrown weapon.

Exotic Weapons: Some weapons are rare and have unusual fighting styles. These weapons are called exotic weapons. Proficiency with a weapon group does not grant you with exotic weapons from that group. Some class abilities grant proficiency with exotic weapons.

Weapon Proficiency

Each character is proficient with different weapon groups. These indicate the weapons that you can use effectively. You take a -2 accuracy penalty with weapons you are not proficient with.

Table 8.4: Weapon Groups

| Group | Weapons | Exotic Weapons |
|--------------------|---|--|
| Armor weapons | Standard shield, spiked shield | Armbadge, spiked knee |

Improvised Weapons

Sometimes objects not crafted to be weapons nonetheless see use in combat. You can choose to be proficient with the improvised weapons weapon group, which has no specific weapons associated with it but which allows you to pick up and use non-manufactured weapons without taking a nonproficiency penalty (see Weapon Proficiency, page 163).

To determine the appropriate statistics for an improvised weapon, compare its shape and composition to the weapon list to find a reasonable match. An improvised weapon will generally have a -1 accuracy penalty, a -1d damage penalty, or be missing at least one weapon tag relative to a similarly structured manufactured weapon.

Natural Weapons

Natural weapons are weapons that are part of a creature's body instead of being manufactured and wielded. Many monsters have natural weapons, like claws or a bite attack. Natural weapons do not normally require a free hand to use. All bipedal creatures also have two punch/kick natural weapons.

Common natural weapons are listed in Table 8.6: Natural Weapons, page 172. In addition, some monsters and effects have unique natural weapons, such as the stonefist spell.

Physical Size: Like all objects and creatures, weapons have a size category that represents how physically large they are. Most weapons are one size category smaller than their wielder, but Heavy weapons are the same size category as the wielder. All weapons are lightweight unless otherwise noted.

Inappropriately Sized Weapons: You can use weapons that are sized for creatures that are one size category larger or smaller than you. However, you take a -2 accuracy penalty on attacks using an inappropriately sized weapon.

Weapon Range Limits

Ranged weapon attacks become less accurate if the target is far away. Ranged weapons have two range limits listed, with a slash between them, such as 90/270. The first number indicates the maximum range for a weapon's close range. The second number indicates the maximum range for a weapon's long range. You cannot attack a target that is beyond a weapon's long range limit.

Attacks at close range have no penalty. Attacks at long range have a -4 accuracy penalty. This is called a longshot penalty, and some abilities can reduce this penalty.

Drawing and Sheathing Weapons

Drawing and sheathing weapons always requires the hand or hands used to hold the weapon. The time it takes to draw and sheathe a weapon depends on how encumbering the weapon is. As a minor action, you can draw or sheathe a single non-Heavy weapon, assuming it is easy to access. You can also draw or sheathe a single Light weapon as a separate free action. As a standard action, you can draw or sheathe any weapon, even if it is Heavy, concealed, or otherwise difficult to access. Since you can only take any individual free action once per round, you can't draw or sheathe two weapons in the same round unless one of them is Light, or you spend a standard action.

A character can only store a limited number of weapons in locations that are easy to access in combat. Generally, a humanoid creature can carry no more than five ordinary weapons or shields. A Heavy weapon takes up twice the space of an ordinary weapon, and a Light weapon takes up half that space. This means it would be reasonable to carry up to ten Light weapons, or two Heavy weapons plus a normal weapon. At the GM's discretion, characters with an excessive number of weapons or similar items readily available may increase their encumbrance.

Weapon Tags

Some weapons found on Table 8.5: Weapons have tags that indicate that they have special abilities. The list of abilities that weapons can have is given below.

Ammunition: When you hit with a strike using this weapon, it becomes broken. It cannot have magic weapon properties. However, whenever you buy or craft this weapon, you receive multiple copies, as indicated in the table below.

Compact: This weapon is unusually small. It is one size category smaller than normal (that is, two size categories smaller than the creature it is intended for), though it is not lightweight for that size. This makes it easier to conceal (see Sleight of Hand, page 158). In addition, you only take a -5 penalty to Stealth when trying to conceal strikes with a Compact weapon instead of the normal -10 or -20 penalty for concealing a strike (see Stealth, page 159).

Forceful: Whenever you deal damage to a target with a strike using this weapon, you can knockback the target up to 10 feet. On a critical hit, this knockback distance is doubled. This is a Size-Based effect, so it does not affect creatures more than one size category larger than you.

Grappling: You gain a +2 bonus to accuracy on melee attacks with this weapon against creatures who are grappled by you.

Heavy: Heavy weapons are larger and heavier than other weapons. You normally need two hands to use a Heavy weapon. If you have a Strength of 3 or higher, you can wield a Heavy weapon in one hand, but you take a -1 accuracy penalty with the weapon while doing so. If your Strength is 6 or higher, this accuracy penalty is removed.

While holding a Heavy weapon in two hands, you gain a +1 bonus per 3 power to your weapon damage with the weapon. This bonus is in addition to the normal bonus that you gain from your power with weapons (see Weapon Damage, page 50).

Impact: If you roll an 8 or 9 on an attack roll with this weapon, the attack roll explodes (see Exploding Attacks, page 50). This does not affect bonus dice rolled for exploding attacks.

Keen: You gain a +4 bonus to accuracy with strikes using this weapon for the purpose of determining whether you get a critical hit.

Light: Light weapons are smaller and easier to handle than other weapons. Attacking with two weapons at once is more accurate with Light weapons (see Dual Wielding, page 58). In addition, Light weapons are easier to draw or sheathe (see Drawing and Sheathing Weapons, page 164).

Long: This weapon can be used to make melee strikes against targets up to 10 feet away from you. If you use an ability with more specific targets than simply making a melee strike, such as affecting “all enemies adjacent to you”, this weapon tag does not increase your range with that ability. In addition, you can inflict critical hits with melee strikes using a Long weapon against creatures up to two size categories larger than you (see Very Large Creatures, page 39).

Massive: This weapon cannot be used to attack individual creatures. Instead, a strike with a Massive weapon affects everything in a cube. Unlike a Sweeping weapon, this is an area attack, not a targeted attack. On a miss, you still deal half damage.

Massive weapons have a measurement that indicates the length of each side of the cube in feet. For example, a net is a Massive (10) weapon, so it affects everything in a 10 foot wide cube. If a weapon has the Massive tag, that replaces any Sweeping tag it would otherwise have.

Creatures that are Huge or larger automatically gain the Massive tag on all of their weapons. For details, see Table 4.1: Size Categories, page 39.

Mounted: If you are mounted, and your mount moves in the same phase that you make a strike with a Mounted weapon, you gain a +2 accuracy bonus with the strike.

Parrying: If a creature attacks you with a melee strike while you wield this weapon, you briefly gain a +2 bonus to accuracy with strikes using this weapon against that creature.

Projectile: This weapon fires ammunition at range to deal damage. The ammunition generally breaks when used. Projectile weapons have two range limits listed in their description (see Weapon Range Limits, page 164). They must be reloaded after being fired. The time required to reload a projectile weapon is given in the weapon description. You take a -4 accuracy penalty with Projectile weapons against creatures adjacent to you. While riding a moving mount, you take a -4 accuracy penalty with Projectile weapons, and your range limits are halved.

Subdual: This weapon deals subdual damage (see Subdual Damage, page 51).

Sweeping: When you make a melee strike with this weapon, you may also target one or more secondary creatures or objects adjacent to you. If the weapon also has the Long weapon tag, each secondary target may instead be within 10 feet of you. Each secondary target must be within 10 feet of a primary target, and must not already be a target of the strike. The strike affects each secondary target in the same way as the primary targets. Sweeping weapons have a number that indicates the number of secondary targets you can affect.

Thrown: This weapon is designed to be thrown to deal damage at range. Thrown weapons have two range limits listed in their description (see Weapon Range Limits, page 164). Unless otherwise noted in a weapon’s description, a throwing weapon can be used to attack in melee without penalty.

Heavy thrown weapons require a standard action to throw, rather than being thrown as part of any strike like normal. They are not always physically thrown with two hands, but they require the use of your entire body to propel the weapon, so you are not considered to have any free hands while throwing a heavy thrown weapon.

Tripping: When you use the trip ability, you can attack with this weapon instead of with a free hand (see Trip, page 61). This allows you to deal damage with the weapon if you successfully trip the target.

Versatile Grip: This weapon is designed to be held in either one hand or two hands. While holding this weapon in two hands, you gain a +1 damage bonus to your weapon damage with it, plus +1 per 3 power. This bonus is in addition to the normal bonus that you gain from your power with weapons (see Weapon Damage, page 50).

Weapon Table

Here is the format for weapon entries in the Weapons table, below.

Accuracy: This number modifies your accuracy with strikes using the weapon.

Damage: This dice pool indicates the damage dealt by the weapon on a hit.

Damage Type: This indicates the type of the damage dealt by the weapon. Some monsters may be impervious or immune to attacks from certain damage types.

Some weapons deal damage of multiple types. If a weapon is of two types, the damage it deals is not half one type and half another; all of it is both types. Therefore, a creature would have to be immune to both types of damage to ignore any of the damage from such a weapon. For details, see Multiple Damage Types, page 51.

In other cases, a weapon can deal either of two types of damage. The wielder chooses which type of damage to deal when they make each strike with the weapon.

Item Rank (Cost): The first value indicates the item rank of the item (see Item Ranks, page 161). The second value in parentheses indicates the average cost to buy the item. Items crafted for unusually large or small creatures are more expensive. For each size category larger or smaller than Medium, the item's rank increases by one, which increases its price.

Weapon Tags: Some weapons have special properties. See Weapon Tags, page 165 for details.

Individual Weapon Descriptions

Some weapons in Table 8.5: Weapons have additional abilities which are described below.

Arbalest: You draw an arbalest back by turning a small winch. Loading an arbalest requires two standard actions. Each standard action requires one free hand while holding the arbalest in another hand.

Armblade: This weapon is not held in a hand. Instead, it is affixed to the arm or body armor with a medium or heavy usage class. When you attack with an armblade, you cannot use the arm it is attached to for any other combat purpose in the same phase. You can still hold items in that hand, but they have no combat effect. If you are not proficient with this weapon, you increase your encumbrance by 2 when wearing armor with an armblade.

Bladed Whip: A bladed whip can be used to attack targets within 15 feet instead of the normal 10 feet for a Long weapon.

Boot Dagger: A boot dagger is a modified boot or boot sole which contains a hidden dagger. The dagger is normally concealed, and requires an Awareness check with a difficulty value of 15 to find. Attacking with a boot dagger does not require a free hand, but you must make a Balance check with a difficulty value of 10 during whenever you attack with it. If you fail this check, you fall prone (half speed, -2 Armor and Ref) after the attack.

After you attack with a boot dagger, the dagger remains plainly visible. Concealing the dagger again requires a standard action.

Claw Sheathe: A claw sheathe is not a weapon on its own. Instead, it wraps around one of your natural weapons. This gives no intrinsic benefit, but claw sheathes can be imbued with magic weapon properties that apply to the wrapped natural weapon. Claw sheathes are made for claws, but an equivalent can be made for any natural weapon that requires a free hand to use, such as a slam.

Crossbow, Hand: You can draw a hand crossbow back by hand. Loading a hand crossbow is a free action that requires one free hand while holding the crossbow in another hand.

Crossbow, Heavy: You draw a heavy crossbow back by turning a small winch. Loading a heavy crossbow is a standard action that requires one free hand while holding the crossbow in another hand. A heavy crossbow is the same size category as the creature it is sized for.

Crossbow, Repeating: The repeating crossbow holds 5 crossbow bolts. As long as it holds bolts, you can reload it as a free action by pulling the reloading lever with one free hand. Loading a new case of 5 bolts is a standard action that requires one free hand while holding the crossbow in another hand.

Flatbow: You need both hands to fire a bow. One hand is free when not firing the bow. Loading a bow is a free action that requires one free hand while holding the flatbow in another hand. A flatbow is too unwieldy to use while you are mounted. Unlike a longbow, a flatbow is flat when not under tension and has approximately rectangular limbs. This spreads stress more evenly over the bow's structure, allowing more precise shots, though the firing technique is different and less commonly known. A flatbow is the same size category as the creature it is sized for.

Fire Arrows: These arrows are treated with alchemist's fire so they can be ignited before being shot. The process requires thickening the arrow shaft, reducing the precision of the arrow. It takes a free action to ignite a fire arrow assuming you have access to an active flame the size of a torch or larger.

Lance: A lance can only be used effectively while mounted. Using a lance on foot imposes a -2 accuracy penalty for not being proficient with the weapon.

Lightning Arrows: These arrows are treated with a reactive alchemical substance so they deal electricity damage on contact. The process requires thickening the arrow shaft, reducing the precision of the arrow.

Longbow: You need both hands to fire a bow. One hand is free when not firing the bow. Loading a bow is a free action that requires one free hand while holding the bow in the other hand. A longbow is the same size category as the creature it is sized for.

Net: A net is used to entangle enemies. When you throw a net, you make an attack vs. Reflex against your target. If you hit, the target is slowed (half speed, -2 Armor and Ref).

A netted creature can escape with a difficulty value 10 Flexibility check (normally a standard action). The net has 10 hit points and can be burst with a difficulty value 10 Strength check as a standard action.

A net has no effect on creatures that are Tiny or smaller, or Huge or larger. It must be folded to be thrown effectively, which takes a minute of work. You take a -4 accuracy penalty with an unfolded net.

Pike: A pike can be used to attack targets within 15 feet instead of the normal 10 feet for a Long weapon. However, you cannot use it to attack targets adjacent to you.

Punch/Kick: All bipedal creatures have access to the punch/kick natural weapon. Normally, this represents a punch, which requires a free hand. If you are trained in the Balance skill, have a Dexterity of at least 3, or are currently flying or gliding, you can make it a kick instead. A kick does not require a free hand, but is not otherwise more powerful than a punch.

Shortbow: You need both hands to fire a shortbow, even though it is a medium usage class. One hand is free when not firing the bow. Loading a bow is a free action that requires one free hand while holding the shortbow in another hand. Unlike most Projectile weapons, your range limits are not penalized when firing a shortbow while riding a moving mount, and the accuracy penalty is reduced to -2 instead of -4.

Sling: You can fire, but not load, a sling with one hand. Loading a sling is a free action that requires both hands.

You can hurl ordinary stones with a sling, but stones are not as dense or as round as bullets. You take a -1 accuracy penalty with ordinary stones.

Spiked Knee: This weapon is not held in a hand. Instead, it is affixed to the leg of body armor with a medium or heavy usage class (see Armor Usage Classes, page 181). If you are not proficient with this weapon, you increase your encumbrance by 2 when wearing armor with a spiked knee.

Takedown Bow: A takedown bow is a bow assembled from multiple independent components that can be reconfigured into two different combinations. In its longbow configuration, it functions like a longbow, and in its shortbow configuration, it functions like a shortbow. In addition, when it is fully disassembled, it takes up space equivalent to a light usage class weapon, making it easier to transport and conceal.

Talon: A talon is always attached to a foot. In order to attack with a talon, you must be trained in the Balance skill, have a Dexterity of at least 3, or be currently flying or gliding.

Tower Shield: Although you can hold a tower shield in one hand, it is considered a Heavy weapon because of its weight. You would typically have to support it with your other hand to effectively smash it into an enemy.

Whip: A whip can be used to attack targets within 15 feet instead of the normal 10 feet for a Long weapon.

Weapon Special Materials

Nonmagical weapons can be made from special materials that can alter the properties of the item. These special materials are described in Table 8.7: Weapon Special Materials. Depending on the construction of the weapon, it may be entirely composed of the special material, or it may only have its striking surface altered. For example, a dragonfang spear may have a wooden haft and still gain the full benefits of being a dragonfang weapon. An adamantine club would only have a thin layer of adamantine around the outside, rather than being entirely forged from adamantine, because the weight and cost would otherwise be absurd.

A weapon that is made from a special material cannot have any magic item properties, and cannot be chosen as a legacy item. Projectile weapons cannot be made from special materials. However, the ammunition fired by Projectile weapons can be made from special materials.

Any individual weapon can only ever gain the combat benefits of a single special material, even if it contains multiple special materials in its construction. That special material is chosen at the time the weapon is crafted and cannot be altered without recrafting it.

Weapon Special Material Prices

Weapon special materials are listed as having a single rank and price in Table 8.11: Armor Special Materials. This is the price for an amount of the special material sufficient to forge a weapon of the appropriate type, when combined with other normal weapon-smithing materials.

Adamantine: An adamantine weapon deals +2 weapon damage. In addition, strikes with it deal double damage to objects that are not made of pure or ordinary adamantine. Unlike other weapons, adamantine weapons are not lightweight, so they typically require a minimum Strength of 1 to wield.

Adamantine, Pure: A pure adamantine weapon deals +1d8 weapon damage. In addition, strikes with it deal double damage to objects that are not made of pure adamantine. Unlike other weapons, adamantine weapons are not lightweight, so they typically require a minimum Strength of 1 to wield.

Cold Iron: Many fey creatures and some demons are vulnerable to cold iron weapons.

Diamondsteel: A diamondsteel weapon grants you a +2 bonus to accuracy with strikes using it for the purpose of determining whether you get a critical hit.

Diamondsteel, Pure: A pure diamondsteel weapon grants you a +4 bonus to accuracy with strikes using it for the purpose of determining whether you get a critical hit.

Dragonfang: Damage dealt by a dragonfang weapon is damage of the type dealt by that dragon's breath weapon in addition to its normal damage types (see Table C.2: Dragon Types, page 397).

Dragonfang, Ancient: Damage dealt by a pure dragonfang weapon is damage of the type dealt by that dragon's breath weapon in addition to its normal damage types (see Table C.2: Dragon Types, page 397). In addition, as a standard action, you can make a strike using the weapon that takes the form of a breath weapon emitted from the weapon. If the dragon's breath weapon is normally a line, the strike targets everything in a Large (60 ft.), 10 ft. wide line from you. Otherwise, the strike targets everything in a Medium (30 ft.) cone from you. After you use this ability, you briefly cannot use it again.

Mithral: A non-Heavy mithral weapon gains the Light weapon tag. A Heavy mithral weapon loses that tag and instead gains the Versatile Grip weapon tag. However, mithral weapons deal -1 weapon damage.

Mithral, Pure: A pure mithral weapon has a +1 accuracy bonus. In addition, a non-Heavy mithral weapon gains the Light weapon tag. A Heavy mithral weapon loses that tag and instead gains the Versatile Grip weapon tag. However, pure mithral weapons deal -2 weapon damage.

Silvered: Lycanthropes and some undead are vulnerable to silvered weapons.

Magic Weapons

Magic weapons improve a character's combat abilities. They must be wielded to gain their effects.

Ranged Weapons and Ammunition: Any magical properties of a Projectile weapon also apply to all ammunition fired from that weapon.

Craft Skills: The craft skills used to create and repair items are listed in parentheses before the item's description. All magic weapons simply use the same materials as the original, nonmagical weapon.

| Boomerang ★ | Rank 3 (1,000 gp) |
| Craft (as base weapon) | Attune |

After being thrown, this weapon flies back into your hand immediately after attacking all targets. Catching a boomerang weapon when it comes back is a free action. If you can't catch it, the weapon drops to the ground in the square from which it was thrown.

As a standard action, you can throw this weapon in a spinning arc. When you do, make a thrown strike against up to three targets within Short (30 ft.) range. The targets must still be within your range limits, and you take any longshot penalty as normal.

Rank 5 (25,000 gp): You gain a +2 accuracy bonus with the spinning arc strike.

Rank 7 (625,000 gp): The spinning arc strike deals double weapon damage.

Once per round, when you make a strike with this weapon, you gain a +1 accuracy bonus against one target of the strike with future strikes using this weapon. If the strike had multiple targets, you choose which target you gain the bonus against. This effect lasts until you make a strike with this weapon that does not include that creature as a target. It stacks with itself, up to a maximum of a +4 bonus.

Rank 6 (125,000 gp): The bonus increases to +2 per strike.

Rank 4 (5,000 gp): The damage die increases to 1d8 if your Strength is at least 4.

Rank 7 (625,000 gp): The damage dice increase to 2d6 if your Strength is at least 5, but the damage penalty also increases to 3.

Rank 4 (5,000 gp): The weapon also deals 1d4 bludgeoning extra damage.

Rank 6 (125,000 gp): The extra damage increases to 1d10.

|----------------------------|-------------------|
| Dimensional Trace ★ | Rank 3 (1,000 gp) |
| Craft (as base weapon) | Attune |

As a standard action, you can make a strike using this weapon. If the target takes damage, you can apply a dimensional trace on it that lasts briefly. While the dimensional trace lasts, you can activate this weapon as a minor action. When you do, you teleport into the closest unoccupied square adjacent to that creature, if such a space exists within Medium (60 ft.) range.

|------------------------|-------------------|
| Flaming ★ | Rank 3 (1,000 gp) |
| Craft (as base weapon) | Attune |

This weapon is on fire. It sheds light in a 15 foot radius of bright illumination. All damage dealt with it is fire damage in addition to its normal damage types (see Multiple Damage Types, page 51).

As a standard action, you can make a strike using this weapon that is imbued with fiery energy. Each damaged creature burns if your attack result beats its Reflex defense. A burning creature takes 2d6 fire damage during your next action.

Rank 5 (25,000 gp): The burning damage increases to 4d8 fire damage.

Rank 7 (625,000 gp): The burning damage increases to 8d10 fire damage.

| Hefty ★ | Rank 3 (1,000 gp) |
| Craft (as base weapon) | Attune |

This weapon feels heavy in the hand. It gains the Forceful weapon tag (see Weapon Tags, page 165). If it already has that weapon tag, the distance that you can knockback the target increases by 10 feet.

Rank 5 (25,000 gp): The maximum size category that you can affect with this weapon's Forceful tag also increases by one.

|------------------------|----------------|
| Iridescent ★ | Rank 1 (40 gp) |

This weapon shimmers with a chaotic pattern of colors, shedding multicolored bright illumination in a Small (15 ft.) radius. As a standard action, you can make a flashy melee strike using this weapon that accentuates its bewildering effect. If your attack result beats the target's Reflex defense, it is dazzled (20% miss chance, no special vision) as a condition.

Rank 3 (1,000 gp): When you make the strike, you also make an attack vs. Reflex against all enemies within a Small (15 ft.) radius of the strike's target. Your minimum accuracy is +5.

Hit: Each target is dazzled (20% miss chance, no special vision) as a condition.

|------------------------|-------------------|
| Jaunting ★ | Rank 4 (5,000 gp) |
| Craft (as base weapon) | Attune |

When you throw this weapon, it teleports directly from your hand to your intended target. This allows you to ignore any intervening cover with the attack, as long as you still have line of effect.

The weapon teleports back into your hand immediately after hitting or missing all targets of the strike. Catching a jaunting weapon when it comes back is a free action. If you can't catch it, the weapon drops to the ground in the square from which it was thrown.

Rank 7 (625,000 gp): You also reduce your longshot penalty with thrown attacks using the weapon by 2.

| Morphing ★ | Rank 1 (40 gp) |
| Craft (as base weapon) | Attune |

You can activate this weapon as a standard action. When you do, it changes shape into a new weapon of your choice from the weapon's original weapon group. If the weapon's original form belongs to multiple weapon groups, this property only applies to one of those weapon groups. The new shape lasts until you activate the weapon again.

When this effect ends for any reason, the weapon returns to its original form.

Rank 3 (1,000 gp): The weapon can change shape into any weapon of your choice that you are proficient with, not just weapons from a single weapon group. This can only change into existing manufactured weapons, not improvised weapons.

|------------------------|-------------------|
| Phasing ★ | Rank 3 (1,000 gp) |
| Craft (as base weapon) | Attune |

All strikes with this weapon, including projectiles fired by this weapon, can pass through a single solid obstacle of up to one feet thick on the way to their target. This can allow you to ignore cover, or even attack without line of effect. It does not allow you to ignore any equipment used by the target of your attack.

Rank 6 (125,000 gp): Your strikes can penetrate through any number of solid objects with a combined thickness of ten feet or less.

| Returning ★ | Rank 1 (40 gp) |
| Craft (as base weapon) | Attune |

After being thrown, this weapon flies back into your hand at the end of the current round as long as it is still unattended. Catching a returning weapon when it comes back is a free action. If you can't catch it, the weapon drops to the ground in the square from which it was thrown.

Rank 3 (1,000 gp): The accuracy bonus increases to +2.
Rank 5 (25,000 gp): The accuracy bonus increases to +3.

| Seeking ★ | Rank 3 (1,000 gp) |
| Craft (as base weapon) | Attune |

This weapon automatically veers towards its intended target. Any miss chance the strike would normally have is reduced. A 50% miss chance is reduced to a 20% miss chance, and a 20% miss chance is removed entirely.

Rank 6 (125,000 gp): Any miss chance the strike would normally have is removed completely instead of only being reduced.

|------------------------|--------------------|
| Soulreaving ★ | Rank 5 (25,000 gp) |
| Craft (as base weapon) | Attune |

This weapon is translucent and has no physical presence for anyone except you. It has no effect on objects or constructs, and creatures do not feel any pain or even notice attacks from it.

Attacks with this weapon deal no damage immediately. This means that any effects which trigger when you deal damage with the attack, such as conditions, do not happen. Instead, the damage is delayed. Damage that would be dealt by the weapon can be delayed indefinitely. While the damage is delayed, it cannot be removed by any means short of the destruction of this weapon or the creature's death.

As a minor action, you can hurt yourself with this weapon to activate it. This deals a single point of physical damage to you. When you do, each creature with delayed damage from this weapon takes untyped damage equal to the total delayed damage built up by the weapon for that target. Creatures farther than one mile away from the weapon are unaffected by this damage. This ability expends all delayed damage built up by the weapon for all targets, including targets farther than one mile from the weapon.

Rank 7 (625,000 gp): You gain a +1 accuracy bonus with strikes using this weapon against creatures that have delayed damage from this weapon.

|---|-------------------|
| Surestrike ★ | Rank 3 (1,000 gp) |
| Craft (as base weapon) | Attune |

| Tireless ★ | Rank 1 (40 gp) |
| Craft (as base weapon) | Attune |

| Rank 5 (25,000 gp): You ignore your fatigue penalty when determining your accuracy with strikes using this weapon. | |

|--|-----------------|
| Unbalanced ★ | Rank 2 (200 gp) |
| Craft (as base weapon) | Attune |
| You take a -1 accuracy penalty to strikes using this weapon. However, your attack rolls with strikes using this weapon explode on an 8 and 9. This does not affect bonus dice rolled for exploding attacks (see Exploding Attacks, page 50). | |
| Rank 5 (25,000 gp): The accuracy penalty increases to -2, but the expanded explosion range also affects 6 and 7. | |

| Vampiric ★ | Rank 3 (1,000 gp) |
| Craft (as base weapon) | Exertion |
| As a standard action, you can make a strike using this weapon with 1d4 extra damage . Damage dealt by the strike is energy damage in addition to its other types. If a living creature loses hit points from this strike, you can increase your fatigue level by one. When you do, you regain 1d6+1d8 hit points. | |
| Rank 5 (25,000 gp): The extra damage increases to 2d8, and the healing increases to 5d6. | |
| Rank 7 (625,000 gp): The extra damage increases to 5d10, and the healing increases to 6d10. | |

Armor

Most characters use armor to protect themselves. There are two kinds of armor: body armor, such as full plate armor, and shields. Body armor is worn on your body. You can only benefit from one body armor at a time. If you somehow wear multiple layers of body armor, the penalties stack and the benefits do not stack. A shield requires a free hand instead of being worn on the body.

Armor Mechanics

Armor Usage Classes

An armor's usage class is a measure of how the armor is used, and how much effort is required to use it. It indicates whether armor, when used by a creature the armor is sized for, is considered light armor, medium armor, or heavy armor.

Armor Proficiency

Proficiency with armor is defined by the armor's usage class. If you wear or use armor you are not proficient with, it provides half its normal defense bonus. In addition, you apply that armor's encumbrance as a penalty to your accuracy. Since standard shields and leather body armor have no encumbrance, you can use them without penalizing your attacks.

Getting Into And Out Of Armor

The time required to don armor depends on its type; see Table 8.9: Donning Armor. Donning and removing body armor and shields takes both hands.

Don: This column tells how long it takes a character to put the armor on. (One minute is 10 rounds.)

Remove: This column tells how long it takes to get the armor off.

Table 8.9: Donning Armor

| Armor Type | Don | Remove |
|-------------------|-------------------|-------------------|
| Light shield | 1 minor action | 1 minor action |
| Medium shield | 1 standard action | 1 standard action |
| Tower shield | 1 standard action | 1 standard action |
| Light body armor | 1 minute | 1 minute |
| Medium body armor | 5 minutes | 1 minute |
| Heavy body armor | 5 minutes | 5 minutes |

Weight and Size

The size category of body armor is the same as the size category of the creature it is sized for. Bucklers and standard shields are one size category smaller than the creature they are sized for, while tower shields are the same size category as the creature they are sized for. All armor and shields except for heavy body armor are lightweight objects. In general, heavy body armor weighs so much that only creatures with a Strength of at least 1 can wear it (see Weight Limits, page 39).

Barding

Armor is normally designed for creatures with two arms and two legs, matching the normal humanoid shape. Creatures with more esoteric shapes can wear armor if they are proficient, but it is not as effective. This is called barding.

The Armor defense bonus provided by barding is reduced by 2. This penalty also applies to magical effects that mimic armor, such as mage armor, if those bonuses do not stack with wearing regular armor. Barding must also be custom made for the creature's body type, so unusual creatures cannot simply wear armor designed for humanoid creatures.

Armor Table

Here is the format for armor entries (given as column headings on Table 8.10: Armor and Shields, below).

Defense: This value indicates how much the armor increases your Armor defense.

Damage Resistance: This value indicates how much the armor increases your damage resistance (see Damage Resistance, page 33).

Encumbrance: This value indicates how much the armor increases your encumbrance. You apply your encumbrance as a penalty to all Strength and Dexterity-based checks and skills. For details, see Encumbrance, page 33.

Speed: This penalty applies to speed with all of your movement modes while wearing the armor.

Dex Bonus: This multiplier affects the contribution of your Dexterity to your Armor defense. It does not change any other effects that Dexterity has. If you use multiple armor pieces that modify this bonus, use the lowest value from any single piece rather than multiplying them. For example, a creature using breastplate and a standard shield would still add half their Dexterity to their Armor defense.

Item Rank (Cost): The first value indicates the item rank of the item (see Item Ranks, page 161). The second value in parentheses indicates the average cost to buy the item. Items crafted for unusually large or small creatures are more expensive. For each size category larger or smaller than Medium, the item's rank increases by one, which increases its price.

Individual Armor Descriptions

Any special benefits or accessories to the types of armor found on Table 8.10: Armor and Shields are described below.

Buckler: This small metal shield is worn strapped to your forearm. You can treat the hand using a buckler as a free hand. However, if you wield weapons or otherwise take actions using the arm bearing the buckler, you do not gain the buckler's defensive bonus during that phase.

You can't bash someone with a buckler.

Full Plate: Each suit of full plate must be individually fitted to its owner by an armorsmith. A captured suit can be resized to fit a new owner with a day of work and a difficulty value 10 Craft (metalworking) check. The new owner must still be of the same size category as the size category and general body shape, such as humanoid, that the suit was originally designed for.

Shield, Standard, Wooden or Steel: You strap a shield to your forearm and grip it with your hand. A standard shield is so cumbersome that you can't use your shield hand for anything else. You can use a standard shield as a weapon (see Table 8.5: Weapons, page 167). However, you cannot dual wield with a shield.

Shield, Tower: This massive shield is nearly as tall as an average human. When you take the total defense action while wielding a tower shield, you gain a +2 bonus to Armor defense in addition to the normal bonuses from taking that action (see Total Defense, page 61). A tower shield is so cumbersome that you can't use your shield hand for anything else. You can use a tower shield as an exotic weapon (see Table 8.5: Exotic Weapons, page 169). However, you cannot dual wield with a shield.

While wielding a tower shield, you take a -1 penalty to accuracy because of the shield's unwieldy nature.

Shield Spikes: These spikes improve the effectiveness of a standard shield or tower shield when used as a weapon. For details, see Table 8.5: Weapons, page 167. You can't put spikes on a buckler.

Studded Leather: The studs on studded leather are made of metal, but this amount of metal is not generally enough to make the item count as being made of metal. Studded leather armor made with studs from special materials does not grant the wearer the properties of the special material.

Armor Special Materials

Nonmagical body armor can be made from special materials that can alter the properties of the item. These special materials are described in Table 8.11: Armor Special Materials.

The benefits of special materials only apply to body armor that is fully made from the given special material. If you combine multiple special materials in any way, such as by wearing deepforged leggings with a mithral breastplate, you do not gain any benefits for having special materials.

Body armor that is made from a special material cannot have any magic item properties, and cannot be chosen as a legacy item. However, you can combine magic items that are not body armor with any set of body armor. For example, a set of full plate armor typically comes with gauntlets and heavy boots. However, you could wear magic boots and magic gauntlets without sacrificing the benefits of the body armor.

Armor Special Material Prices

Armor special materials are listed as having a single price in Table 8.11: Armor Special Materials. This is the price for an amount of the special material sufficient to forge light or medium armor, when combined with other normal armorsmithing materials. Heavy armor requires twice as much of the special material.

Adamantine: Adamantine body armor is heavier than other armor. Light and medium body armor weighs as much as a normal item of its size category. Heavy body armor is a heavyweight item of its size category. For Medium creatures, light and medium adamantine armor requires a minimum Strength of 1 to wear, and heavy adamantine requires a minimum Strength of 4. In addition, it provides x6 damage resistance and increases your encumbrance by 2.

Adamantine, Pure: Pure adamantine body armor is heavier

1. This armor has special rules explained below.

than other armor, as described by adamantine armor. In addition, it provides x12 damage resistance and increases your encumbrance by 2.

Cold Iron: Cold iron armor grants you a +1 bonus to your defenses against magical ✨ abilities. However, the bonus that it provides to your Armor defense is reduced by 1.

Cold Iron, Pure: Pure cold iron armor grants you a +2 bonus to your defenses against magical ✨ abilities, and provides x2 damage resistance. However, the bonus that it provides to your Armor defense is reduced by 1.

Diamondsteel: Diamondsteel body armor grants you a +2 bonus to your defenses when determining whether a strike gets a critical hit against you instead of a normal hit. In addition, it provides x2 damage resistance.

Diamondsteel, Pure: Pure diamondsteel body armor grants you a +2 bonus to your defenses when determining whether any attack gets a critical hit against you instead of a normal hit. In addition, it provides x4 damage resistance.

Dragonhide: Each dragonhide body armor is made from the hide of a particular type of dragon. You are impervious to damage of the type dealt by that dragon's breath weapon (see Table C.2: Dragon Types, page 397). In addition, it provides x3 damage resistance.

Dragonhide, Ancient: Each ancient dragonhide body armor is made from the hide of a particular type of dragon. You are immune to damage of the type dealt by that dragon's breath weapon (see Table C.2: Dragon Types, page 397). In addition, it provides x6 damage resistance.

Dragonscale: Each dragonscale body armor is made from the scales of a particular type of dragon. You are impervious to damage of the type dealt by that dragon's breath weapon (see Table C.2: Dragon Types, page 397). In addition, it provides x3 damage resistance and is not considered to be metal, which may affect abilities like the heat metal spell.

Dragonscale, Ancient: Each ancient dragonscale body armor is made from the scales of a particular type of dragon. You are immune to damage of the type dealt by that dragon's breath weapon (see Table C.2: Dragon Types, page 397). In addition, it provides x6 damage resistance and is not considered to be metal, which may affect abilities like the heat metal spell.

Starmetal: Starmetal body armor is heavier than other armor, as described by adamantine armor. In addition, it provides x2 damage resistance and increases your encumbrance by 2.

Starmetal, Pure: Pure starmetal body armor is heavier than other armor, as described by adamantine armor. In addition, it provides x4 damage resistance and increases your encumbrance by 2.

Magic Armor

Magic body armor must be worn to gain its effects, while magic shields must be wielded. You cannot imbue magic body armor effects on ordinary clothing, even if that clothing is worn on the body instead of armor.

Magic Armor Damage Resistance

While you are attuned to magical body armor, that armor gains a multiplier to the damage resistance it provides. This multiplier does not apply to any special properties the armor might have, such as a magic bonus to your damage resistance. It only applies to the normal damage resistance normally provided by body armor of that type. The magnitude of the multiplier is based on the magic item's rank, as listed below.

- Rank 0–4: x1
- Rank 3: x2
- Rank 4: x3
- Rank 5: x4
- Rank 6: x6
- Rank 7: x8

|--|------------------------|
| Hidden Armor ★ | Rank 1 (40 gp) |
| Body armor – Craft (bone, leather, or metal) | Attune |

You can activate this armor as a standard action. If you do, it appears to change shape and form to assume the shape of a normal set of clothing. You may choose the design of the clothing. The item retains all of its properties, including weight and sound, while disguised in this way. Only its visual appearance is altered. This effect lasts until you revert it as a standard action.

Rank 3 (1,000 gp): The armor also makes sound appropriate to its disguised form while disguised.

|---------------------------------------|-------------------|
| Shield of Medusa ★ | Rank 3 (1,000 gp) |
| Shield – Craft (bone, metal, or wood) | Visual |

This shield normally has a cloth covering its face. As a standard action, you can pull the cloth back and reveal the horrifying face emblazoned on the shield. If the cloth is prematurely pulled back, allowing creatures to see the shield without a dramatic reveal, the shield has no effect on them.

When you activate the shield, make an attack vs. Fortitude against all creatures within a Medium (30 ft.) cone. Your minimum accuracy is +5. Whether you hit or miss, each creature who can see the face is immune to this ability until it finishes a short rest.

Hit: Each target is slowed (half speed, -2 Armor and Ref) as a condition. During this condition, if it takes a vital wound that leaves it unconscious, it immediately dies. When a creature dies in this way, its body is petrified in the form of a stone statue.

Critical hit: The condition must be removed an additional time before the effect ends.

Rank 7 (625,000 gp): Your minimum accuracy increases to +12, and the condition also causes each target to take 6d6 physical damage during each of your subsequent actions.

|---------------------------------------|-------------------|
| Shield of Mystic Reflection ★ | Rank 4 (5,000 gp) |
| Shield – Craft (bone, metal, or wood) | Attune |

Whenever you use the total defense ability, you can activate this shield. When you do, any targeted magical ★ abilities that target you this round also target the creature using that ability in addition to you. It cannot choose to reduce its accuracy or damage against itself. Any other targets of the ability are affected normally.

|---------------------------------------|-------------------|
| Soulguard Shield ★ | Rank 3 (1,000 gp) |
| Shield – Craft (bone, metal, or wood) | Attune |

Whenever you would be affected by a condition, you have a 25% chance to avoid gaining that condition. This does not prevent any other effects of the attack.

Rank 6 (125,000 gp): The chance increases to 50%.

Rank 3 (1,000 gp)

Boots – Craft (bone, leather, or metal)

Attune

Once per phase, while you are within 5 feet of an unattended object at least one size category larger than you, you can take a free action to adjust your personal gravity. When you do, gravity pulls you towards that surface instead of in the normal direction. This allows you to walk normally on walls or even ceilings.

Whenever you change the direction that gravity pulls you, you must make a difficulty value 10 Balance check to keep your feet. Failure means you fall prone (half speed, -2 Armor and Ref) and your movement for that phase ends.

| Ring – Craft (bone, metal, or wood) | Attune |

When you or an adjacent ally casts a spell that does not have the Attune or Sustain tags, you can invest the magic of the spell in the ring. If you do, the spell does not have its normal effect. All decisions about the spell's effect, except for targeting, must be made at the time that the spell is invested in this way. The desperate exertion ability cannot be used to affect the spell, either at the time it is invested or when it is activated. Only one spell can be stored this way.

You can activate this ring as a standard action. When you do, you cause the effect of the last spell invested in the ring. You choose the area and targets affected by the spell at this time. This does not require casting components, even if they would normally be required to cast the spell. The spell's effect is determined based on the power and other abilities of the original caster who invested the spell into the ring, not yours. You do not have to have the ability to cast the spell to activate a spell in this way.

After you use a spell in this way, the energy in the ring is spent, and you must invest a new spell to activate the ring again. Any lingering effects of spells activated through this ring automatically end after ten minutes, and whenever you invest a new spell into the ring.

Rank 6 (125,000 gp): You can invest up to two spells in the ring. When you activate the ring, you choose which spell to use.

| Boots – Craft (bone, leather, or metal) | Attune |

You can activate these boots as a free action. When you do, you may treat air as if it were solid ground to your feet for the rest of the current phase. You may selectively choose when to treat the air as solid ground, allowing you to walk or jump on air freely. These boots cannot be activated again until you land on a solid surface capable of supporting your weight.

Rank 6 (125,000 gp): The effect lasts briefly instead of only during the current phase.

|--|-----------------|
| Slinging Gauntlets ★ | Rank 2 (200 gp) |
| Gauntlets – Craft (bone, metal, or wood) | Attune |

Hit: 1d6+1d8 bludgeoning damage.

Rank 4 (5,000 gp): The damage increases to 5d6.

Rank 6 (125,000 gp): The damage increases to 6d10.

Whenever you use the sprint ability during the movement phase, you can activate these boots. When you do, you do not increase your fatigue level from using that sprint ability.

After you activate these boots, you cannot do so again until you spend a full round without making a movement.

Rank 7 (625,000 gp): You can activate the boots again after you spend a movement phase without making a movement, rather than a full round.

| Swarmhunter Amulet ★ | Rank 7 (625,000 gp) |
| Amulet – Craft (bone, metal, or wood) | Attune |

When you use the quarry ranger ability, you may target any number of creatures.

|--------------------------------------|-----------------|
| Thieving Gloves ★ | Rank 2 (200 gp) |
| Gloves – Craft (leather or textiles) | Attune |

You can activate these gloves as a standard action. When you do, they absorbs one Small or smaller object you are touching with either glove.

An absorbed object leaves no trace that it ever existed. This weapon can hold no more than three objects at once. If you attempt to absorb an object while gloves are full, the attempt fails.

As a free action, you can retrieve the last item absorbed by the gloves. The item appears in your hand, or falls to the ground if your hand is occupied. The item similarly reappears if you stop attuning to this gloves or take them off.

Rank 4 (5,000 gp): The maximum size category increases to Medium.

Rank 6 (125,000 gp): The maximum size category increases to Large.

|--|-------------------|
| Throwing Gauntlets ★ | Rank 3 (1,000 gp) |
| Gauntlets – Craft (bone, metal, or wood) | Attune |

You can throw creatures and objects as they had the Thrown (30/60) weapon tag (see Weapon Tags, page 165). They must be at least one size category smaller than you, and you must be able to pick them up within your weight limits.

Rank 6 (125,000 gp): The tag improves to Thrown (60/120).

Twinhunter Amulet ★

Amulet – Craft (bone, metal, or wood)

Rank 3 (1,000 gp)

Attune

When you use the quarry ranger ability, you may target an additional creature.

Utility Belt ★

Belt – Craft (leather or textiles)

Rank 2 (200 gp)

Attune

This belt contains five pockets, each of which is larger on the inside than the outside. The inside of each pocket is a six inch cube. You can put anything you want in each pocket, but you still carry the weight of anything in the pockets. If you put reactive objects in a pocket, such as acid or burning alchemist's fire, it may destroy the pocket until the belt is repaired.

As long as each pocket is no more than half full, or is full of completely interchangeable items, you can reach into any pocket just as easily as you can reach into a nonmagical pocket. Overstuffed pockets may take more time to sift through to find the specific item you want, just like rummaging through a backpack.

If you take off this belt or stop attuning to it, the items in the belt become inaccessible. If this belt is destroyed, the items within it become lost in the Astral Plane.

Rank 5 (25,000 gp): The belt has ten pockets instead of five, and each pocket is a one foot cube instead of a six inch cube.

Vanishing Cloak ★

Cloak – Craft (leather or textiles)

Rank 5 (25,000 gp)

Attune

You can activate this cloak as a standard action. When you do, you teleport to an unoccupied location within Medium (60 ft.) range of your original location. As normal for teleportation, you can immediately hide when you reach your destination (see Stealth, page 159). Unlike most teleportation, this teleportation does not make any noise.

Rank 5 (25,000 gp): Making a movement during the movement phase does not prevent you from becoming invisible.

Rank 7 (625,000 gp): Free actions and minor actions also do not prevent you from becoming invisible.

Wild Magic Amulet ★

Amulet – Craft (bone, metal, or wood)

Rank 3 (1,000 gp)

Attune

You gain a +2 power bonus with spells you cast using the wildspell sorcerer ability. However, you take a -2 penalty to your wild magic rolls. If your result is 0 or less, you are the only target of the spell.

Rank 6 (125,000 gp): The power bonus increases to +3.

Magic Implements

Like magic weapons, magic implements must be wielded to gain their effects. However, while weapons are used to deal damage to enemies, implements are used to grant or enhance magical abilities.

There are three types of implements: staffs, rods, and wands. Staffs improve your existing magical abilities. Rods grant new magical abilities, even to those who cannot cast spells. Wands grant spellcasters the knowledge of specific spells.

Staffs are long and thin, with even short staffs measuring no less than four feet long. Rods are about three feet long, but sturdily constructed. Wands are only about a foot long and very thin.

Somatic Components: While wielding an implement, you may gesture with it to perform somatic components. This means you do not need a separate free hand to perform those components. However, it does not remove the possibility of somatic component failure.

Staff Types: There are two types of staffs that you can find. Long staffs function like a quarterstaff weapon, but they require two hands to wield, even when used to cast spells. Short staffs only require one hand, but they are not suitable for combat.

|-------------------------|----------------|
| Reaching Staff ★ | Rank 1 (40 gp) |
| Staff – bone or wood | Exertion |

Whenever you use a magical ★ ability that does not have the Sustain or Attune tags, you may activate this staff. When you do, choose a location within Short (30 ft.) range. The ability takes effect as if you were in the chosen location. In addition, you increase your fatigue level by one, and you briefly cannot activate this staff again.

This affects your line of effect for the ability, but not your line of sight (since you still see from your normal location). Since an ability's range is measured from your location, this item can allow you to affect targets outside your normal range. For example, a cone that normally bursts out from you would instead originate from your chosen location, potentially avoiding an obstacle between you and your target.

Rank 4 (5,000 gp): Activating the staff does not increase your fatigue level, and it no longer has the Exertion tag.

Rank 7 (625,000 gp): The staff no longer has a brief cooldown after being activated.

|--------------------------|----------------|
| Spell Wand, 1st ★ | Rank 1 (40 gp) |
| Wand – bone or wood | Attune |

This wand grants you knowledge of a single rank 1 spell that does not have the Attune or Sustain tags. Each wand is associated with a specific spell, and a single magic source that can grant access to that spell. You must have the ability to cast spells of the given rank from the same magic source as the wand. However, you do not need to have access to the mystic sphere that the spell belongs to. Spells you know because of a spell wand gain any rank upgrades appropriate to your rank with that form of spellcasting.

If you stop wielding this wand, deattune from it, or otherwise lose access to its magical effects, the effects of any active spells that you know because of the wand also end, regardless of their normal duration.

Attune

Tools, Goods, and Mounts

The world of Rise has a wide range of minor items like backpacks, blankets, and ten-foot poles. In general, the cost of those items is so insignificant from the perspective of an adventuring party that it's not worth the effort to track their cost in detail. A subset of particularly expensive items is included in Table 8.16: Permanent Tools, Goods, and Mounts, page 221.

Standard Adventuring Kit

A standard adventuring kit costs 10 gp, weighs 50 pounds, and contains the following items:

- Backpack
- Bedroll
- Flint and steel
- Rations, trail (8 days)
- Rope, hempen (60 ft.)
- Sack (empty)
- Tent
- Torch
- Waterskin

| This is a Medium workstation that contains a wide variety of compounds and reagents. It is very difficult to create items using the Craft (alchemy) skill without this item (see Craft, page 148). | | | If you use this portable battering ram with two hands while trying to break down a door or similar object, you gain a +3 bonus to your Strength check. |
| Artisan's Tools Kit – Craft (metal) | Rank 0 (10 gp) | Bear Trap Trap – Craft (metal) | |
| These are Small tools that are appropriate to a particular Craft skill other than Craft (alchemy). It is very difficult to create items using the Craft skill without this item (see Craft, page 148). | | | You can deploy this trap on a space on the ground adjacent to you as a standard action. While this trap is deployed, a creature can notice it with a difficulty value 13 Awareness check. A creature that notices the trap can avoid triggering it while moving. The first time something enters the trap's space without avoiding the trap, the trap activates. |
| Rank 2 (200 gp): The tools are incredibly versatile, making them suitable for any Craft skill other than Craft (alchemy). | | When the trap is activated, it makes a +3 reactive attack vs. Armor and Reflex against the source of that activation. After the trap triggers, it must be manually deployed again. | |
| Bag of Holding Craft (textiles) | Rank 4 (5,000 gp) | Hit: 2d8 piercing damage. If the target takes damage, it is immobilized (-4 Armor and Ref, cannot use movement speeds) until it breaks free of the trap. Breaking free of the trap requires making a DV 10 Strength or Devices check as a standard action. | |
| This bag appears to be a bulky Medium cloth sack. However, it reduces the size and weight of any unattended , nonmagical objects placed inside of it by one size category and weight category. This allows it to hold items of up to Large size as long as they can fit inside the bag's opening, which is five feet in diameter. | | | Rank 4 (5,000 gp): The accuracy increases to +7, the Awareness DV increases to 19, and the damage increases to 4d10. |
| If this bag is destroyed, the items within it return to their original size. | | Belt Lantern Craft (metal) | |
| Rank 6 (125,000 gp): The bag reduces the size and weight of contained objects by two size and weight categories instead of one. | | | This is a belt with an attached lantern. As a standard action, you can light the lantern if you have flint and steel or another source of flame handy. When you do, it sheds bright illumination in a Small (15 ft.) radius. |
| Bag of Shrinking Craft (textiles) | Rank 1 (40 gp) | The lantern burns for one hour before it must be refueled with oil. You can extinguish the lantern to preserve its remaining oil. | |
| This bag appears to be a common Small cloth sack. However, it reduces the size of any unattended , nonmagical objects placed inside of it by one size category. This allows it to hold items of up to Medium size as long as they can fit inside the bag's opening, which is two feet in diameter. This reduction does not affect the weight of those objects. | | | The lantern is loose equipment , making it vulnerable to damage and being attacked directly. It has 10 hit points and no damage resistance. For details about repairing a damaged or broken belt lantern, see Common Craft Tasks, page 148. |
| If this bag is destroyed, the items within it return to their original size. | | Rank 3 (1,000 gp): The lantern's hit points increase to 15, and it has 5 damage resistance. It treats all damage as environmental damage (See Environmental Damage, page 51). | |
| Rank 3 (1,000 gp): The bag reduces the size of contained objects by two size categories instead of one. | | | |

One 2-pound bag of caltrops covers a 5-foot square.

Whenever a creature moves into the area, unless the creature moves at half speed to avoid the danger, the caltrops make a +3 reactive attack vs. Armor against the creature.

Hit: 1d6+2 piercing damage.

Caltrops may not be effective against creatures with an unusual anatomy. Multiple applications of caltrops in the same area have no additional effect.

Maneuvers

Armorcrusher

Rank 1

Make a weak strike using a bludgeoning weapon. The attack is made against the target's Fortitude defense instead of its Armor defense.

Desperate Smash

Rank 1

After you use this ability, you increase your fatigue level by one.

Make a strike using a bludgeoning weapon. The strike deals 1d6 extra damage per 4 power (minimum 1d6). You cannot use the desperate exertion ability to affect this strike.

Earsplitting Bonedrum

Rank 1

Make a melee strike. You and each damaged creature are deafened (20% verbal spell failure) as a condition.

Ground Slam

Rank 1

Make a melee strike using a bludgeoning weapon against a stable surface. It targets everything supported by that surface in a Small (15 ft.) cone from you. You take a -1 accuracy penalty with the strike. All damage dealt by this attack is bludgeoning damage instead of its normal types. On a miss, you still deal half damage.

Ground Stomp

Rank 1

Make an attack vs. Reflex against everything adjacent to you that is on the same stable surface as you.

Hit: 1d6 bludgeoning damage +1 per 2 power.

Miss: Half damage.

Headshot

Rank 1

Make a melee weak strike using a bludgeoning weapon. If the target loses hit points, it becomes stunned (-2 defenses) as a condition.

Knockdown

Rank 1

Make a melee strike using a bludgeoning weapon. If the target loses hit points, it falls prone (half speed, -2 Armor and Ref). This is a Size-Based effect, so it does not affect creatures more than one size category larger than you.

| | | | |
|--|--------|---|--------|
| Overhand Smash | Rank 1 | Gutshot | Rank 3 |
| Make a melee strike using a bludgeoning weapon. If you hit by 5 or more, the strike deals double weapon damage . If you miss with the strike, you briefly take a -2 penalty to your Armor and Reflex defenses. This ability does not have the Swift tag, so it does not affect attacks made against you during the current phase. | | | |
| Press Forward | Rank 1 | Knockdown+ | |
| Make a melee strike using a bludgeoning weapon. After you make the strike, you can move up to 5 feet. During this movement, you can move into space occupied by creatures that you damaged with the strike. When you do, you push that creature up to 5 feet in any direction. This push is a Size-Based effect, so it does not affect creatures more than one size category larger than you. | | | Rank 3 |
| All-In Smash | Rank 3 | Leap Slam | |
| Make a melee strike using a bludgeoning weapon. The strike deals double weapon damage . However, you briefly take a -2 penalty to accuracy and all defenses. This ability does not have the Swift tag, so it does not affect attacks made against you during the current phase. | | | |
| Armorcrusher+ | Rank 3 | You jump and move as normal for the jump (see Jumping, page 54). When you land, if the vertical distance in feet between the highest point of your leap and your landing point was at least ten feet, you emit a small shockwave. If you do, make an attack vs. Reflex against everything adjacent to you that is on the same stable surface as you. Hit: 1d6 bludgeoning damage plus 1d6 per 4 power. Miss: Half damage. | |
| Boneshatter | Rank 3 | Resonating Strike | |
| Make a strike using a bludgeoning weapon. The attack is made against the target's Fortitude defense instead of its Armor defense. | | | Rank 3 |
| Erupting Bonedrum | Rank 3 | Ricochet | |
| Make a melee strike using a bludgeoning weapon. You cannot get a critical hit with this strike. If you deal damage with the strike to a creature that is Small or larger, compare your attack result to the Fortitude defense of all other enemies within a Small (15 ft.) radius of the target of your strike. You deal each struck secondary target damage equal to the damage you dealt with the strike. On a miss against a secondary target, you still deal half damage. | | | |
| All-In Smash+ | | | Rank 5 |
| Make a melee strike using a bludgeoning weapon. The strike deals triple weapon damage . However, you briefly take a -2 penalty to accuracy and all defenses. This ability does not have the Swift tag, so it does not affect attacks made against you during the current phase. | | | |

| | | | |
|--|--------|---------------------------|--|
| Desperate Smash+ | Rank 5 | Leap Slam+ | Rank 7 |
| After you use this ability, you increase your fatigue level by one. | | | This maneuver functions like the leap slam maneuver, except that the damage increases to 1d10 bludgeoning damage plus 1d10 per 3 power. |
| Make a strike using a bludgeoning weapon. The strike deals 1d10 extra damage per 3 power. You cannot use the desperate exertion ability to affect this strike. | | | |
| Ground Slam+ | Rank 5 | Resonating Strike+ | Rank 7 |
| Make a melee strike using a bludgeoning weapon against a stable surface. It targets everything supported by that surface in a Large (60 ft.) cone from you. You take a -1 accuracy penalty with the strike, but it deals 1d6 extra damage per 4 power. On a miss, you still deal half damage. All damage dealt by this attack is bludgeoning damage instead of its normal types. | | | Make a strike using a bludgeoning weapon. If the target takes damage and your attack result beats its Fortitude defense, the strike deals 1d10 extra damage per 3 power against that target. |
| Ground Stomp+ | Rank 5 | Ricochet+ | Rank 7 |
| Make an attack vs. Reflex against all enemies adjacent to you that are on the same stable surface as you. | | | Make a thrown strike using a slashing or bludgeoning weapon against up to five creatures or objects within Medium (60 ft.) range of you. You can choose the same target multiple times, but not twice in a row, and no more than twice total. If you choose the same target twice, it takes double damage from the attack. |
| Hit: 2d6 bludgeoning damage plus 1d6 per 3 power. Miss: Half damage. | | | Each target must be within your maximum range limit with your weapon, and you take the normal longshot penalty for attacking a creature at long range (see Weapon Range Limits , page 164). If you choose yourself as one of the targets, you can catch the weapon instead of taking damage from it. |
| Overhand Smash+ | Rank 5 | | |
| Make a melee strike using a bludgeoning weapon. If you hit by 5 or more, the strike deals quadruple weapon damage . Otherwise, it deals double weapon damage. If you miss with the strike, you briefly take a -2 penalty to your Armor and Reflex defenses. | | | |
| Press Forward+ | Rank 5 | | |
| This maneuver functions like the press forward maneuver, except that you can move up to your full movement speed instead of only 5 feet. | | | |
| Tenderize | Rank 5 | | |
| Make a strike using a bludgeoning weapon. If the target loses hit points, it is vulnerable (-4 defenses) to all damage as a condition . | | | |
| Headshot+ | Rank 7 | | |

Maneuvers

Eye Poke

Rank 1

Make a strike. If the target loses hit points, it becomes dazzled (20% miss chance, no special vision) as a condition.

Knockback Shove

Rank 1

Brawling

This maneuver functions like the shove ability, except that you knockback the target up to 15 feet instead of pushing it. On a critical hit, you knockback the target 30 feet instead. Any accuracy bonuses you have that apply specifically to the shove ability also apply to this ability.

Muzzling Grapple

Rank 1

Brawling

This maneuver functions like the grapple ability, except that the target also has a 20% failure chance with abilities that have verbal components as long as it is grappled by you. Any accuracy bonuses you have that apply specifically to the grapple ability also apply to this ability.

Slipstrike

Rank 1

Make a melee strike with a +1 accuracy bonus. After making the strike, you fall prone (half speed, -2 Armor and Ref).

Stunning Fist

Rank 1

Make a strike using the punch/kick natural weapon (see Natural Weapons, page 164). If the target loses hit points, it becomes stunned (-2 defenses) as a condition.

Sweep the Leg

Rank 1

Switchstrike

Rank 1

Make a melee strike. If the target takes damage, you may switch spaces with it, as long as this would not result in either of you entering an occupied space. This is a Size-Based effect, so it does not affect creatures more than one size category larger than you.

Alchemical Strike

Rank 3

Make a melee strike. In addition, you can throw a tanglefoot bag, vial of alchemist's fire, or similar small object at a target of the strike. You must still have a free hand that is not being used to make the strike to throw the object.

Anklesprainer

Rank 3

Make a melee strike. If the target takes damage and your attack result beats its Reflex defense, it becomes slowed (half speed, -2 Armor and Ref) as a condition.

Battering Ram

Rank 3

Brawling

This maneuver functions like the overrun ability, except that it requires a standard action to use and does not increase your fatigue level. In addition, creatures cannot choose to avoid you, and each creature that you move through takes 1d8 bludgeoning damage +1 per 2 power. Any accuracy bonuses you have that apply specifically to the overrun ability also apply to this ability.

Fake-Out Assault

Rank 3

Make a melee strike. If your attack result beats a target's Reflex defense, the strike deals 1d6 extra damage per 4 power (minimum 1d6) against that target.

Knockback Sweep

Rank 3

Brawling

This maneuver functions like the shove ability, except that it affects up to three creatures adjacent to you instead of only one. In addition, you knockback each target up to 15 feet instead of pushing it. On a critical hit, you knockback each target 30 feet instead. Any accuracy bonuses you have that apply specifically to the shove ability also apply to this ability.

|------------|--------------------|
| Pin | Rank 7 Brawling |
|------------|--------------------|

This maneuver functions like the grapple ability, except that if the target has no remaining damage resistance, it is pinned completely instead of simply grappled. Fight reactively, shifting your style with the flow of combat.

Maneuvers

Certain Strike

Rank 1

Make a weak strike with a +3 accuracy bonus.

Counterstrike

Rank 1

Swift

Choose a creature you can see. If that creature tries to attack you this round, you immediately make a melee strike with a +2 accuracy bonus against them as a reactive attack if possible. This attack resolves before the creature's attack, so if you incapacitate it with the strike, its attack does not affect you. You can only attack that creature once in this way, even if it attacks you multiple times.

Power Strike

Rank 1

Make a strike with a -3 accuracy penalty. The strike deals double weapon damage.

Punish Inattention

Rank 1

Swift

Choose a creature you can see. If that creature takes a standard action that does not attack you this round, you immediately make a melee strike with a +2 accuracy bonus against them as a reactive attack if possible. This attack resolves before the creature's action, so if you incapacitate it with the strike, its action fails. Redeeming Followup

Rank 1

Make a strike. You gain a +2 accuracy bonus with the strike against each creature that you missed with a strike last round.

Sacrificial Strike

Rank 1

Tag-Team Followup

Rank 1

Make a strike. You get a +1 accuracy bonus with the strike if the target already took damage from one of your allies during the current phase.

Make a strike. You gain a +2 accuracy bonus with the strike if you regained hit points or damage resistance and did not make any attacks last round.

Counter Sweep

Rank 3

Swift

Whenever a creature attacks you this round, you immediately make a melee strike with a +2 accuracy bonus against them as a reactive attack if possible. This strike must be made using a slashing or bludgeoning weapon. This attack resolves before the creature's attack, so if you incapacitate it with the strike, its attack does not affect you. You can only attack any individual creature once in this way, even if it attacks you multiple times.

Guardbreaker

Rank 3

Choose an ally, then make a strike. Each creature damaged by the strike takes a -2 penalty to all defenses against that ally's attacks this round.

Hunting Strike

Rank 3

Make a strike. After making the strike, you gain a +1 bonus to accuracy against one target of the strike with future strikes. If the strike had multiple targets, you choose which target you gain the bonus against. This effect stacks with itself, up to a maximum of a +4 bonus. It lasts until you finish a short rest or make a strike that does not include that creature as a target.

Momentum Strike

Rank 3

Make a melee strike. If your movement during the movement phase of this round consisted entirely of moving at least 20 feet in a straight line towards your target, the strike deals 1d6 extra damage per 4 power (minimum 1d6). After using this maneuver, you briefly cannot use it again.

Make a strike using a slashing weapon. If the target loses hit points, it is dazzled (20% miss chance, no special vision) as a condition.

Desperate Bloodwhirl

Rank 1

After you use this ability, you increase your fatigue level by one.

Make a melee strike using a slashing weapon. The strike targets all enemies adjacent to you. On a miss, you still deal half damage. Make a melee weak strike using a slashing weapon. If the target loses hit points, it is slowed (half speed, -2 Armor and Ref) as a condition.

Sweeping Strike

Rank 1

Maneuvers

Defensive Strike

Rank 1

Swift (see text)

Make a melee weak strike. You gain a +1 bonus to Armor and Reflex defenses this round. The defense bonus is a Swift effect, but not the strike.

Parry

Rank 1

Swift (see text)

This maneuver functions like the total defense ability, except that you gain an additional +2 bonus to Armor defense if you are not using a shield. In addition, choose a creature you can see. Whenever that creature misses or glances you with a melee strike this round, it briefly takes a -2 penalty to Armor defense. As normal, this bonus does not stack with itself, even if the same creature misses you with multiple melee attacks. The defense bonus from this ability is Swift, so it protects you from attacks in the current phase. However, the penalty imposed on attackers is not Swift.

Prepared Defense

Rank 1

Make a weak strike. In addition, choose any one defense: Armor, Fortitude, Reflex, or Mental. You briefly gain a +2 bonus to that defense. This ability does not have the Swift tag, so it does not affect attacks made against you during the current phase.

Shield Bash

Rank 1

Swift (see text)

Make a strike using a shield. In addition, you gain a +1 bonus to Armor defense this round. The defense bonus is a Swift effect, but not the strike.

Steadfast Strike

Rank 1

Swift (see text)

Make a strike. In addition, you gain a +4 bonus to vital rolls this round. The vital roll bonus is a Swift effect, but not the strike.

Stunning Shield Slam

Rank 1

Make a melee strike using a shield. If the target loses hit points, it becomes stunned (-2 defenses) as a condition.

Brace for Impact

Rank 3

Swift

You are impervious to all damage this round. Because this is a Swift ability, it affects attacks against you during the current phase.

Cleansing Strike

Rank 3

When you use this ability, you increase your fatigue level by one.

Remove a condition affecting you. Then, make a strike.

Covering Strike

Rank 3

Make a melee strike. If the target takes damage and your attack result beats its Mental defense, it becomes goaded (-2 accuracy vs. non-goaded creatures) by you as a condition. This is an Emotion effect.

Redirecting Parry

Rank 3

Swift

This maneuver functions like the total defense ability, except that you gain an additional +2 bonus to Armor defense if you are not using a shield. In addition, choose a creature you can see. Whenever that creature misses or glances you with a melee strike this round, it treats itself as a target of that strike in addition to any other targets. It cannot choose to reduce its accuracy or damage against itself. This ability is Swift, so it protects you from attacks in the current phase.

Revitalizing Strike

Rank 3

When you use this ability, you increase your fatigue level by one.

Make a strike. In addition, you regain 1d6 hit points plus 1d6 per 4 power. This ability does not have the Swift tag, so it resolves after incoming attacks during the current phase.

Second Wind

Rank 3

Swift

When you use this ability, you increase your fatigue level by two.

You regain all of your hit points. After you use this ability, you cannot use it again until you finish a short rest.

| | | | |
|--|-----------------------------------|-----------------------------|--|
| Bracing Strike | Rank 5 | Revitalizing Strike+ | Rank 7 |
| Make a melee strike . You are impervious to all damage this round. Becoming impervious in this way is a Swift ability, so it affects attacks against you during the current phase. | | | When you use this ability, you increase your fatigue level by one. Make a strike . In addition, you regain 3d6 hit points plus 1d10 per 3 power. This ability does not have the Swift tag, so it resolves after incoming attacks during the current phase. |
| Cleanse | Rank 5 | | |
| You remove a condition affecting you. | | | |
| Flamboyant Parry | Rank 5 Swift (see text) | | |
| This maneuver functions like the total defense ability, except that you gain an additional +2 bonus to Armor defense if you are not using a shield. In addition, whenever a creature misses or glances you with a melee strike this round, it becomes dazzled (20% miss chance, no special vision) as a condition . This ability is Swift , so it protects you from attacks in the current phase. However, the penalty imposed on attackers is not Swift . | | | |
| Prepared Defense+ | Rank 5 | | |
| Make a strike . In addition, choose any one defense: Armor, Fortitude, Reflex, or Mental. You briefly gain a +4 bonus to that defense. This ability does not have the Swift tag, so it does not affect attacks made against you during the current phase. | | | |
| Covering Strike+ | Rank 7 | | |
| Make a melee strike with triple weapon damage. If the target takes damage, it becomes goaded (-2 accuracy vs. non-goading creatures) by you as a condition . This is an Emotion effect. | | | |
| Reflective Parry | Rank 7 Swift | | |
| This maneuver functions like the total defense ability, except that you gain an additional +2 bonus to Armor defense if you are not using a shield. In addition, choose a creature you can see. Whenever that creature misses or glances you with a targeted attack this round, it treats itself as a target of that attack in addition to any other targets. This ability is Swift , so it protects you from attacks in the current phase. | | | |

Aeromancy

Command air to protect allies and blast foes.

Cantrips

Airborne LeapAttune

You gain a +5 foot bonus to your maximum horizontal jump distance (see Jumping, page 54). This increases your maximum vertical jump distance normally.

Rank 2: You also gain a 30 foot glide speed. If you already have a glide speed, you gain a +10 foot magic bonus to your glide speed.

Rank 4: You also become immune to falling damage.

Rank 6: The jump distance bonus increases to plus10 feet.

The air rises beneath you and pushes you up, propelling you farther when you leap.

Feather Fall

Choose yourself or an ally within Long (90 ft.) range. That creature treats all falls as if they were 20 feet shorter for the purpose of determining falling damage this round.

Rank 2: The distance reduction increases to 50 feet.

Rank 4: The distance reduction increases to 100 feet.

Rank 6: The distance reduction increases to 200 feet.

The air beneath you suddenly accelerates into a great wind, softening the force of your unexpected fall.

Manipulate AirSustain (minor)

You change the wind speed within a Medium (30 ft.) radius emanation from you by up to 10 miles per hour. If you decrease the wind's speed to 0, you can increase it again with the remainder of your speed change and choose any direction for it to travel. You choose the speed change and direction when you cast this spell, and that choice persists for the duration of this effect.

Rank 3: You can choose to affect a Large (60 ft.) radius instead, and the maximum speed change increases to 20 miles per hour.

Rank 5: You can choose to affect a Huge (90 ft.) radius instead, and the maximum speed change increases to 40 miles per hour.

Rank 7: You can choose to affect a Gargantuan (120 ft.) radius instead, and the maximum speed change increases to 60 miles per hour.

The wind around you waxes and wanes at your command, softening the force of a tempest or creating one to harass your foes.

SpellsArrow Attraction*Rank 1

The air around your foe ripples with hidden air currents that seem to guide the flight of arrows.

BuffetRank 1

Make an attack vs. Fortitude against anything within Medium (60 ft.) range.

Hit: If the target has a weight category of Medium or less, you can knockback it up to 15 feet upwards or horizontally, to a maximum of a 30 foot height limit (see Knockback Effects, page 57). The knockback distance increases to 30 feet if the target has no remaining damage resistance, or if it is outside in open air. Moving the target upwards costs twice the normal movement cost.

The attack's accuracy increases by +1 for each rank beyond 1.

Dust In The EyesRank 1

Make an attack vs. Reflex against one creature within Short (30 ft.) range. If there is dirt, dust, or a collection of loose objects of similar size within 30 feet of the target's eyes, you gain a +2 accuracy bonus with this attack.

Critical hit: The condition must be removed an additional time before the effect ends.

The attack's accuracy increases by +1 for each rank beyond 1.

| You create a Medium (30 ft.) wall of wind within Long (90 ft.) range. It does not block passage or significantly obstruct sight. However, ranged strikes that pass through the wall take a -4 accuracy penalty. | | | You create a continuous blast of wind in a Large (60 ft. long), 10 ft. wide line-shaped zone from you. The wind blows either towards you or away from you. You choose the direction when you cast the spell. When you cast this spell, and during each of your subsequent actions, make an attack vs. Fortitude against everything in the area. |

| The attack's accuracy increases by +1 for each rank beyond 1. | | | |
| Air Walk | Rank 2 Attune | Windburst | Rank 3 |

Hit: 1d10 bludgeoning damage +1 per 3 power.

The attack's accuracy increases by +1 for each rank beyond 3.

Control Weather

Rank 4

Attune (deep)

When you cast this spell, you choose a new weather pattern. You can only choose weather which would be reasonably probable in the climate and season of the area you are in. For example, you can normally create a thunderstorm, but not if you are in a desert.

When you complete the spell, the weather begins to take effect in a two mile radius cylinder-shaped zone from your location. After five minutes, your chosen weather pattern fully takes effect. You cannot change the intensity of the weather beyond what would be possible without magic during this time frame. For example, you can change a clear sky into a light thunderstorm, but you cannot create a hurricane or tornado from untroubled air.

You can control the general tendencies of the weather, such as the direction and intensity of the wind. You cannot control specific applications of the weather, such as the location of lightning strikes. Contradictory weather conditions are not possible simultaneously.

After the spell's effect ends, the weather continues on its natural course, which may cause your chosen weather pattern to end. If another ability would magically manipulate the weather in the same area, the most recently used ability takes precedence.

Cyclone

Rank 4

Make an attack vs. Reflex against everything in a Medium (30 ft.) radius within Medium (60 ft.) range.

|--------------------|--------|
| Dust Storm | Rank 5 |
| Sustain (standard) | |

You create a dust storm at a location within Long (90 ft.) range. The area affected by the storm increases over time. It affects a Medium (30 ft.) radius zone in the first round, a Large (60 ft.) radius in the second round, and a Huge (90 ft.) radius in all subsequent rounds. When you cast this spell, and during each of your subsequent actions, make an attack vs. Fortitude against everything in the area.

Hit: Each target is dazzled (20% miss chance, no special vision) as a condition. If it was already dazzled by this effect, and it has no remaining damage resistance, this condition makes it blinded (50% miss chance, -2 Armor and Ref) instead.

|--------------------------|--------|
| Retributive Winds | Rank 5 |
| Attune (deep) | |

Whenever a creature within Medium (60 ft.) range of you attacks you, make a reactive attack vs. Armor against them. Any effect which increases this spell's range increases the range of this retaliation by the same amount. You can only make this attack against a given target once per phase.

Hit: 1d8 bludgeoning damage plus 1d6 per 4 power.

The attack's accuracy increases by +1 for each rank beyond 5.

|--------------------|--------|
| Windtheft | Rank 5 |
| Sustain (standard) | |

Make an attack vs. Reflex against one object within Medium (60 ft.) range. The object must have a weight category of Small or less. If it is held in two hands or well secured, this attack automatically fails.

Hit: You knockback the object up to 60 feet towards you. You can use a free hand to catch the object if it reaches you.

The attack's accuracy increases by +1 for each rank beyond 5.

Aquamancy

Command water to crush and drown foes.

Cantrips

Aquatic Freedom

Attune

You gain a +3 magic bonus to the Swim skill.

Rank 2: You also gain a swim speed 10 feet slower than the base speed for your size. If you already have a swim speed, you gain a +10 foot magic bonus to your swim speed.

Rank 4: You also gain the ability to breathe water as easily as a human breathes air, preventing you from drowning or suffocating underwater.

Rank 6: The Swim bonus increases to +6.

Create Water

Creation

You create up to two gallons of wholesome, drinkable water divided among any number of locations within Short (30 ft.) range, allowing you to fill multiple small water containers. You must create a minimum of one ounce of water in each location.

Rank 2: The volume created increases to five gallons.

Rank 4: The volume created increases to ten gallons.

Rank 6: The volume created increases to twenty gallons.

The desert air ripples with heat, scorching the group of adventurers. When they finally stop to rest, you conjure water from thin air, giving them all the strength to press on.

Manipulate Water

Sustain (minor)

You change the speed of water within a Medium (30 ft.) radius emanation from you by up to 5 miles per hour. If you decrease the water's speed to 0, you can increase it again with the remainder of your speed change and choose any direction for it to travel. You choose the speed change and direction when you cast this spell, and that choice persists for the duration of this effect.

In addition to allowing you to change the direction of currents within large bodies of water, you can also use this to propel water across surfaces. Generally, moving water uphill costs at least 5 miles per hour of speed for every foot of elevation that you are trying to climb, which can limit your ability to move water up large distances.

Rank 3: You can choose to affect a Large (60 ft.) radius instead, and the maximum speed change increases to 10 miles per hour.

Rank 5: You can choose to affect a Huge (90 ft.) radius instead, and the maximum speed change increases to 15 miles per hour.

Rank 7: You can choose to affect a Gargantuan (120 ft.) radius instead, and the maximum speed change increases to 20 miles per hour.

Raging River

Rank 5

Manifestation, Sustain (minor)

You create a continuous river of water in a Medium (30 ft. long), 10 ft. wide line-shaped zone from you. The water flows in a direction that you choose when you cast the spell. When you cast this spell, and during each of your subsequent actions, make an attack vs. Fortitude against everything in the area.

Hit: 1d8 bludgeoning damage +1 per 2 power. In addition, each Large or smaller target damaged by the attack is pushed 15 feet in the direction the water flows. Once a target leaves the area, it stops being moved and blocks any other targets from being pushed.

Miss: Half damage.

The attack's accuracy increases by +1 for each rank beyond 5.

Mighty Aqueous Tentacle

Rank 6

Manifestation, Attune (deep)

This spell functions like the aqueous tentacle spell, except that the damage dealt by the weapon increases to 2d6.

You grow a massive watery tentacle that extends from your body.

Intense Forceful Aquajet

This spell functions like the forceful aquajet spell, except that the damage increases to 1d10 per 3 power bludgeoning damage, and the knockback distance increases to 30 feet.

Liquify

Rank 7

Make an attack vs. Fortitude against one creature within Medium (60 ft.) range.

Massive Aquarium

Rank 7

Manifestation, Sustain (minor)

You create a self-contained body of water in a Medium (30 ft.) radius cylinder-shaped zone within Medium (60 ft.) range. Everything inside the area is underwater (see pcreffighting While Swimming).

RitualsDetect Water

Rank 1

Casting time: One minute

Detection

You learn the approximate distance and direction to any bodies of water within Distant (120 ft.) range of you. Since this is a Detection ability, its range can penetrate some solid objects (see Detection, page 382). This spell can detect bodies of water with a minimum size of Fine.

This ritual requires one fatigue level from its participants.

Purify Water

Rank 1

Casting time: One minute

You can separate out dirt, sand, salt, and similar minor pollutants from up to ten gallons of water within Short (30 ft.) range. The waste material moves to the edge of the water so it falls out or can be easily removed. This does not remove poisons, magical effects, or contaminants heavier than half a pound. Using this on a very large body of water is difficult, since the waste material can easily mix with the water unaffected by a single casting of this spell.

This ritual requires one fatigue level from its participants.

Rainstorm

Rank 1

Casting time: One Manifestation, Sustain (attuneable, minor) minute

Torrential rain begins falling out of thin air within a zone within Long (90 ft.) range. You choose the radius of the zone, up to a maximum of a Large (60 ft.) radius. The rain extinguishes minor fires such as campfires and torches on contact. Everything in the area is impervious to fire damage.

This ritual requires one fatigue level from its participants.

Dampen

Rank 2

Casting time: One minute

Attune (target)

Choose up to six ritual participants. Each target becomes impervious to fire damage.

This ritual requires one fatigue level from its participants.

Swimmers

Rank 3

Casting time: One minute

Attune (target)

Choose up to six ritual participants. Each target gains a swim speed 10 feet slower than the base speed for its size.

This ritual requires one fatigue level from its participants.

Water Breathing

Rank 3

Casting time: One minute

Attune (target)

Choose up to six ritual participants. Each target gains the ability to breathe water as easily as a human breathes air, preventing it from drowning or suffocating underwater.

This ritual requires one fatigue level from its participants.

Distant Detect Water

Rank 4

Casting time: One minute

Detection

This ritual functions like the detect water ritual, except that the range increases to 2,000 feet.

This ritual requires one fatigue level from its participants.

Massive Purify Water

Rank 4

Casting time: One minute

This ritual functions like the purify water ritual, except that the affected volume increases to a 5-foot cube, or a little over 900 gallons.

This ritual requires one fatigue level from its participants.

Astromancy

Transport creatures and objects instantly through space.

Special Rules: Many abilities from this mystic sphere cause creature to teleport. Unless otherwise specified, teleportation requires line of sight, line of effect, and an unoccupied destination on stable ground. For details, see Teleportation, page 46.

flicker: Some spells from this sphere can cause creatures or objects to very briefly teleport to other locations. If the space occupied by a flickered target is occupied or otherwise inaccessible when it returns, it instead reappears in the closest available open space. Flickering works even if the target is not stable ground that can support its weight.

When a creature or object flickers, it returns at the end of the current turn unless the ability specifies a different duration. That means that you can't make any additional attacks against it during your turn. If one of your allies takes a turn after you, they will be able to attack the flickered target normally, since it will have returned by then.

If the target cannot be teleported, the flicker fails. This also prevents effects that trigger when it returns, such as the damage from the planar jaunt – astral plane spell.

Phasestep

Rank 1

Attune

When you move using one of your movement speeds, you can move through a single creature freely. After you finish moving through one creature in this way, other enemies block your movement as normal. This does not allow you to move through inanimate objects. If you move into a creature's space with this ability, but you do not move out of it, you and the creature are usually considered squeezing (-2 Armor and Ref) as long as you continue sharing space (see Squeezing, page 57). If you are not able to move normally, such as if you are grappled, this spell does not help you.

You augment your body with the ability to travel short distances through the Astral Plane to reach your destination.

Planar Jaunt – Astral Plane

Rank 1

Make an attack vs. Mental against anything within Long (90 ft.) range.

Hit: The target flickers to the Astral Plane. When it returns, it takes 1d8 energy damage +1 per 3 power.

The attack's accuracy increases by +1 for each rank beyond 1.

Your foe disappears for a second into the Astral Plane. Though its destination is peaceful, the rough transit is jarring by itself.

Translocating Grasp

Rank 1

You must have a free hand to cast this spell.

Make an attack vs. Reflex against a creature you touch.

Hit: 1d6 energy damage +1 per 2 power. If the target is Large or smaller and loses hit points, you may teleport it up to 30 feet.

The attack's accuracy increases by +1 for each rank beyond 1.

Your touch makes your foe disappear. Most of it reappears intact elsewhere, but something important - and painful - was lost in transit.

Translocation

Rank 1

Choose either yourself or one unattended object or ally within Medium (60 ft.) range. If you choose something other than yourself, it must be Medium or smaller. The target teleports into a location within the same range.

Rank 3: The range increases to Long (90 ft.) range.

Rank 5: The range increases to Distant (120 ft.) range.

Rank 7: The range increases to Extreme (180 ft.) range.

One by one, you teleport your allies across the chasm. The orcs tracking you will never be able to follow your trail now.

Transposition

Rank 1

Choose two allies within Medium (60 ft.) range. Each target teleports into the other's location. If the teleportation is invalid for either target, it fails for both targets.

Rank 3: The range increases to Long (90 ft.) range.

Rank 5: The range increases to Distant (120 ft.) range.

Rank 7: The range increases to Extreme (180 ft.) range.

As your enemies drew close to you, they expected you to panic and run. When you were unexpectedly replaced by a raging barbarian, they briefly discovered how wrong they were.

Astral Refuge

Rank 2

Casting time: One minor action

Choose yourself or one Medium or smaller ally or unattended object within Medium (60 ft.) range. You flicker the target into a random safe location in the Astral Plane. When you cast this spell, you choose how many rounds the target spends in the Astral Plane, up to a maximum of five rounds. It returns at the end of the last round.

Rank 4: The maximum size of the target increases to Large.

Rank 6: The maximum size of the target increases to Huge.

Astral Rupture

Rank 2

Make an attack vs. Reflex and Mental against all enemies within a Small (15 ft.) radius from you.

Hit: 1d8 energy damage plus 1d6 per 4 power.

Miss: Half damage.

The attack's accuracy increases by +1 for each rank beyond 2.

Your foes are caught by a sudden rift that shunts them painfully through dimensions.

You create a rift at a location within Long (90 ft.) range. The area affected by the rift increases over time. It affects a Medium (30 ft.) radius zone in the first round, a Large (60 ft.) radius in the second round, and a Huge (90 ft.) radius in all subsequent rounds. When you cast this spell, and during each of your subsequent actions, make an attack vs. Mental against everything in the area.

Hit: 2d6 energy damage plus 1d6 per 3 power.

Miss: Half damage.

| Massive Astral Rupture | Rank 7 |
|-------------------------------|--------|

Make an attack vs. Reflex and Mental against all enemies within a Large (60 ft.) radius from you.

Hit: 2d10 energy damage plus 1d10 per 3 power.

Miss: Half damage.

Your foes are caught by a sudden massive rift that shunts them painfully through dimensions.

|---------------------------------|--------|
| Planar Jaunt – Far Realm | Rank 7 |
|---------------------------------|--------|

Make an attack vs. Mental against anything within Medium (60 ft.) range.

Hit: The target flickers to the Far Realm. When it returns, you deal it 2d6 energy damage plus 1d6 per 3 power. If it loses hit points from this damage, it is confused (-2 defenses, randomly attack or defend) as a condition.

Your foe briefly teleports into the Far Realm. The distance of the journey, combined with the bizarre destination, is deeply unsettling.

Rituals

|------------------------|--------|
| Retrieve Legacy | Rank 2 |
|------------------------|--------|

Casting time: 24 hours

Choose one ritual participant. If its legacy item is on the same plane and unattended, the item is teleported into the creature's hand.

This ritual requires 8 fatigue levels from its participants.

|---------------------|--------|
| Astral Chest | Rank 3 |
|---------------------|--------|

Casting time: One hour

When you cast this spell, you choose whether to send an object to the Astral Plane or retrieve the object you stored there. If you send an object to the Astral Plane, choose a a Medium or smaller unattended object within Medium (60 ft.) range of you. That object teleports to a random location in the Astral Plane.

If you retrieve an object, choose an unoccupied space on stable ground within Medium (60 ft.) range of you. The object you previously stored in the Astral Plane with this ritual appears at that location. The object normally returns exactly as it was sent away, since the Astral Plane is vast and mostly uninhabited. There is a 1% chance per year that the object spends in the Astral Plane that it has been lost irretrievably.

This ritual requires one fatigue level from its participants.

| When you perform this ritual, you must name an astral beacon connected to a location on your current plane. Choose up to six Medium or smaller ritual participants. Each target is teleported to the area defined by the beacon. This does not require line of sight or line of effect to the destination. | | | |
| If the anchor does not have enough open space to contain your group, the ritual has no immediate effect. You can continue the ritual for any length of time. At the end of each round during this continuation, if the anchor has room for your group, the teleportation succeeds and the ritual ends. | | | |
| This ritual requires one fatigue level from its participants. | | You must specify the destination with a precise mental image of its appearance. The image does not have to be perfect, but it must unambiguously identify the destination. If you specify its appearance incorrectly, or if the area has changed its appearance, the destination may be a different area than you intended. The new destination will be one that more closely resembles your mental image. If no such area exists, the ritual simply fails. | |
| Overland Teleportation | Rank 3 | This ritual requires 32 fatigue levels from its participants. | |
| Casting time: One minute | Attune (target) | | |
| Choose any number of Medium or smaller ritual participants. Each target can teleport up to 60 feet as a movement. If it takes any action other than movement or is dealt damage, this effect ends. | | | |

| You draw a magic circle in a Small (15 ft.) radius during this ritual. The circle creates an astral beacon , making it easy for creatures to teleport into the circle. When you create the beacon, you must give it a unique name that matches its construction and the patterns you chose for the circle. A creature who knows the name of an beacon can use rituals like guided teleportation to teleport to it. | | | |
| The beacon persists for one year. You can use this ritual to renew the duration of an existing beacon instead of creating a new beacon. | | | |

| Choose up to six Medium or smaller ritual participants. Each target teleports to the last spaces they occupied on their home planes. This does not require line of sight or line of effect to the destination. | | | |
| This ritual requires one fatigue level from its participants. | | | |
| | | | In addition, a localized planar rift appears at the destination area on the Astral Plane. The rift leads back to the location where this ritual was performed. The targets of this ritual can traverse the rift simply by walking through it, while other creatures can only navigate it with the help of effects like the plane shift ritual. It lasts for one week before disappearing permanently, potentially stranding the targets in the Astral Plane if they have not yet returned. |

This ritual requires one fatigue level from its participants.

Efficient Intraplanar Teleportation

Rank 6

Casting time: One hour

This ritual requires one fatigue level from its participants.

Interplanar Gate

Rank 7

Casting time: One week

Sustain (standard)

Choose a plane that connects to your current plane, and a location within that plane. This ritual creates an interdimensional connection between your current plane and the location you choose, allowing travel between those two planes in either direction. The gate takes the form of a 15-foot radius circular disk, oriented in a direction you choose (typically vertical). It is a two-dimensional window looking into the plane you specified when casting the spell, and anyone or anything that moves through it is shunted instantly to the other location. The gate cannot be sustained for more than 5 rounds, and is automatically dismissed at the end of that time.

You must specify the gate's destination with a precise mental image of its appearance. The image does not have to be perfect, but it must unambiguously identify the location. Incomplete or incorrect mental images may result in the ritual leading to an unintended destination within the same plane, or simply failing entirely.

The Astral Plane connects to every plane, but transit from other planes is usually more limited. From the Material Plane, you can only reach the Astral Plane.

This ritual requires 98 fatigue levels from its participants.

Cantrips

Divine Radiance

Sustain (attuneable, minor)

You emit bright illumination in a radius of your choice, up to a maximum of 15 feet, and shadowy illumination in twice that radius. The color of the light depends on the nature of your deity or alignment. Each deity has their own color or color combination. Typically, good is yellow, evil is purple, law is white, and chaos is a myriad of ever-changing colors.

Rank 2: The maximum radius of bright illumination increases to 30 feet.

Rank 6: The maximum radius of bright illumination increases to 120 feet.

Testament

The magical essence of your deity or alignment is overlayed on your body as an aura. This represents your deity if you are a cleric, or your alignment if you are a paladin. In either case, you gain the ability to see the auras of other creatures using this spell if they are within Short (30 ft.) range. If you see another creature with the same aura as you, this spell grants you the unerring knowledge of that similarity. This can allow you to identify other followers of your deity or alignment with certainty.

This effect lasts until you use it again or until you dismiss it as a free action.

Rank 2: The range increases to Medium (60 ft.).

Rank 4: If you are a cleric, you can also unerringly see an aura around creatures who worship your deity. If you are a paladin, you can also unerringly see an aura around creatures who share your devoted alignment.

| You ask your source of divine power a single yes or no question. You receive a correct answer to that question to the limit of that source's knowledge, which is usually quite extensive. In cases where a one-word answer would be misleading or contrary to the source's interests, a short phrase may be given as an answer instead. | |
| This ritual only yields accurate results once for any given situation. If you perform the ritual again in a situation that has not meaningfully changed, you receive no answer regardless of your question. Divine Seal

Casting time: Ten minutes

Rank 3

Attune

The area within a Large (60 ft.) radius zone from your location becomes sealed by your deity. Whenever a creature casts a divine spell in the area, if that creature does not share your deity, the spell has a 50% chance to fail with no effect.

This ritual requires one fatigue level from its participants.

Divine Transit

Rank 4

Casting time: 24 hours

Choose a destination on your current plane, and up to six Medium or smaller ritual participants. Each target is teleported to the temple or equivalent holy site to your deity that is closest to the chosen destination. This does not require line of sight or line of effect to the destination.

You can specify the destination by naming an astral beacon. Alternately, you can specify the destination with a precise mental image of its appearance. The image does not have to be perfect, but it must unambiguously identify the destination. If you specify its appearance incorrectly, or if the area has changed its appearance, the destination may be a different area than you intended. The new destination will be one that more closely resembles your mental image. If no such area exists, the ritual simply fails.

Chronomancy

Manipulate the passage of time to inhibit foes and aid allies.

Special Rules: Some spells from this mystic sphere can create a time lock on creatures.

time lock: A time lock causes an aspect of a creature to be frozen in time. It always locks a specific statistic or status, such as a creature's current hit points or location.

Some effects can unseal the time lock. This restores the creature to match the state it was in when the time lock was created. For example, the creature's hit points might be restored to their original value. Only the specific aspect of the creature sealed by the time lock is changed. Everything else about the creature remains the same unless otherwise stated. Unsealing a time lock ends the effect.

If a time locked creature dies, the time lock ends without being unsealed.

| You accelerate your mind to incredible speed, allowing you to process information quickly. From your perspective, you freeze time for five rounds. During this time, all creatures and objects are fixed in time, and cannot be targeted, moved, damaged, or otherwise affected by outside forces in any way. Your mind remains active during this time, and you are the only one aware of the stoppage of time. You cannot move or take any actions other than to observe your surroundings. In addition, you can release the time freeze as a free action . When this spell ends, time resumes in the same phase that it was originally frozen. | |
| After casting this spell, you cannot cast it again until you finish a short rest . | |

|---------------------|---------------|
| Weapon Haste | Rank 4 |
| | Attune (deep) |

As a minor action, you can make a strike with a -2 accuracy penalty. You cannot dual wield with this strike. You use the higher of your magical power and your mundane power to determine your damage with this ability (see Power, page 33).

The attack's accuracy increases by +1 for each rank beyond 4.

|----------------------------------|--------|
| Accelerated Double Strike | Rank 5 |
|----------------------------------|--------|

This spell has no somatic components.

Make two strikes with a -1 accuracy penalty. You use the higher of your magical power and your mundane power to determine your damage with this ability (see Power, page 33).

The attack's accuracy increases by +1 for each rank beyond 5.

|-----------------------|--------|

Make an attack vs. Mental against one creature within Medium (60 ft.) range.

Hit: The target is slowed (half speed, -2 Armor and Ref) as a condition.

Critical hit: The condition must be removed an additional time before the effect ends.

The attack's accuracy increases by +1 for each rank beyond 5.

|---------------------------------------|-----------------|
| Efficient Time Lock – Location | Rank 5 |
| | Attune (target) |

This spell functions like the time lock – location spell, except that the target attunes to the effect, so you don't have to sustain it. When you cast this spell, you can choose whether the lock unseals automatically when the target ends its attunement. If you do, you can still dismiss the effect to end it without unsealing the lock.

|---------------------------|--------|
| Temporal Duplicate | Rank 6 |
|---------------------------|--------|

Casting time: One minor action

When you cast this spell, you increase your fatigue level by one, and you briefly cannot cast this spell again. Choose yourself or one ally within Medium (60 ft.) range. You reach into a possible future and create a duplicate of the target. The duplicate is identical in all ways to the target when the spell resolves.

The target and its duplicate can act during the next round. At the end of that round, the target and its duplicate cease to exist. During that round, time does not pass for the target. At the end of the following round, the target reappears in the place where it ceased to exist. If that space is occupied, it appears in the closest unoccupied space. When the target reappears, its condition is unchanged from when it left. Its hit points, conditions, and all other statistics are unaffected, regardless of any damage or other negative effects suffered by the duplicate.

The duplicate is fragile, and its actions are limited. It cannot use abilities that have limitations on their usage, such as only being usable once per short rest. It cannot use abilities that would increase its fatigue level, cause it to lose hit points, or otherwise directly suffer negative consequences as a cost of the action. If it loses any hit points, it ceases to exist.

|----------------------------------|--------|
| Accelerated Triple Strike | Rank 7 |
|----------------------------------|--------|

| Time Lock – Vitality | Rank 7 Sustain (minor) | Gentle Repose | Rank 2 Attune |
| Choose yourself or an ally within Medium (60 ft.) range. You create a time lock for the target's current vital wounds . You can unseal the time lock as a standard action. | | | |
| Unsealing the time lock causes the creature's vital wounds to become identical to the locked vital wounds. This removes any excess vital wounds and reapplies any missing vital wounds. In addition, the creature increases its fatigue level by four. | | | |
| Time Stop | Rank 7 | Overland Haste | Rank 3 Attune (target) |

This ritual requires 72 fatigue levels from its participants and the consumption of diamond dust with the equivalent value of a rank 6 item (125,000 gp).

Cryomancy

Drain heat to injure and freeze foes.

Special Rules: Some spells from this mystic sphere can create icy terrain.

icy terrain: Icy terrain is covered in ice, making it hard to traverse. When an area becomes icy terrain, all water and solid ground in the area becomes covered in a layer of solid ice. This allows creatures to walk on ice-covered water. At the GM's discretion, water-like liquids may also become icy terrain, or they may be unaffected. The ice is similar to natural ice, but since it was created recently by a spell, the effects of icy terrain do not have as much variance as natural terrain.

Icy terrain requires a DV 5 Balance check to move at full speed, so most creatures can move at half speed even if they are untrained (see Balance, page 146). When a Large or smaller creature takes physical damage while on icy terrain, it must make a DV 5 Balance check to avoid falling prone (half speed, -2 Armor and Ref). Any individual creature only has to make his check once per phase. At the GM's discretion, icy terrain may have additional effects in specific circumstances, such as on steep slopes.

If an area of icy terrain takes any fire damage, it is destroyed and becomes normal ground or water again.

Cantrips

| | |
|--|--|
| Chill | Freezing Grasp |
| Make an attack vs. Fortitude against anything within Short (30 ft.) range. Hit: 2 cold damage. | Rank 1 You must have a free hand to cast this spell. Make an attack vs. Reflex against something you touch . Hit: 1d6 cold damage +1 per 2 power. If the target loses hit points, it slowly begins freezing as a condition . After your action next round, it becomes slowed (half speed, -2 Armor and Ref). The attack's accuracy increases by +1 for each rank beyond 1. |
| Chill Air | Icecraft |
| The temperature of the air within a Medium (30 ft.) radius emanation from you is reduced by an amount of your choice, to a maximum reduction of 20 degrees Fahrenheit. You cannot reduce the temperature below 0 degrees in this way. This typically imposes no direct penalties on other creatures, but it may make them more or less comfortable depending on their preferred temperature. This ability lasts until you use it again or until you dismiss it as a free action . | Rank 1 Choose one pool of unattended , nonmagical water within Short (30 ft.) range. This spell creates one or two weapons, suits of body armor, or shields from the target pool of water. You can create any weapon, shield, or body armor that you are proficient with, and which would normally be made of metal. It is sized appropriately for you, up to a maximum of a Medium size item. The pool of water targeted must be at least as large as the largest item you create. If you create body armor or a weapon, it can be created from any metallic special material other than cold iron. The item's rank cannot exceed your spellcasting rank with this spell, including any modifiers from special materials. An item created with this spell functions like a normal item of its type, with three exceptions. First, any strikes that you make with a weapon created with this ability are magical ✨ abilities, so you use your magical power to determine your damage instead of your mundane power (see Power, page 33). Second, while wearing body armor from this spell, you are impervious to fire damage. Third, whenever you lose hit points from fire damage, all items you made with this ability disappear. They reappear at the end of the next round. |

You take a -10 penalty to accuracy with this attack against creatures who have made an attack or been attacked since the start of the last round. |
| Hit: As a condition, the target is panicked (-4 Mental, cannot attack source) by the chosen creature. | | | Hit: As a condition, the target believes that it is the only real creature, and the rest of the world is an illusion. It may wander aimlessly, but generally takes no action to defend itself and does not perceive itself to be in danger from other creatures. It still avoids obvious environmental hazards, such as cliff edges or fires. If it takes any damage or is otherwise harmed, including significant subjective discomfort, this effect is automatically broken. |
| Critical hit: The condition must be removed an additional time before the effect ends. | | | After this effect ends, the target becomes immune to it until it finishes a short rest . |

| Efficient Selfstrike | | | This ritual requires one fatigue level from its participants. |
| This spell functions like the selfstrike spell, except that it works even if the target has damage resistance remaining. | | | Hit: The target is compelled to deliver a message for you. You can give the animal a small piece of parchment or similarly sized item containing up to 25 words. In addition, choose a destination that you can clearly visualize. You must have a general idea of the direction and distance to that location from your current location. You must also visualize what a valid recipient for the message looks like. You can leave this description vague, such as "any humanoid creature", or be more specific, like "a hawk-nosed human wearing a red cloak". |
| Intense Fearsome Aura | Rank 7 Emotion, Attune (deep) | The animal will attempt to travel to that destination to the best of its ability, following the directions you have given it. It will not willingly part with its message until it reaches its destination. Once it reaches its destination, it will wait until it observes a valid recipient, leaving the destination only briefly as necessary to sustain itself. When the animal has delivered its message, this effect ends, allowing you to know that the message has been delivered. | |

Your accuracy with this attack is equal to half the sum of your level and Perception. This accuracy is calculated at the time that you perform this ritual and does not change afterwards. After you make this attack against a particular creature, you do not make this attack against it again until it finishes a short rest. | |

Any act by you or by creatures that appear to be your allies that threatens or harms the creature breaks the effect. Harming the creature is not limited to dealing it damage, but also includes causing it significant subjective discomfort. | |
| Critical hit: The creature is also compelled to get as close as possible to the chosen object to admire it in greater detail. | |

Fabrication

Create objects to damage and impair foes.

Cantrips

Fabricate Trinket

Manifestation

You make a Craft check to create an object of Tiny size or smaller. The object appears in your hand or at your feet. It must be made of nonliving, nonmagical, nonreactive vegetable matter, such as wood or cloth. At the end of each round, this spell ends if you are not within Medium (60 ft.) range of the item.

This spell lasts until you use it again or until you dismiss it as a free action.

Rank 2: The maximum size of the object increases to Small.

Rank 4: The maximum size of the object increases to Medium.

Rank 6: The maximum size of the object increases to Large.

Forge

Attune, Manifestation

You can create any one weapon, shield, or body armor that you are proficient with. It is sized appropriately for you, up to a maximum of a Medium size item. The item appears in your hand or on the ground at your feet.

If you create body armor or a weapon, it can be created from any special material other than cold iron. The item's rank cannot exceed your spellcasting rank with this spell, including any modifiers from special materials.

Unlike normal Attune spells, you can attune to this spell any number of times, creating a different item each time. A difficulty value 5 Knowledge (items) or relevant Craft check reveals that the item is a magical fabrication rather than an ordinary item. If you spend ten consecutive minutes without line of effect to the item, your attunement to that item ends and it disappears.

Spells

Instant Arrow

Rank 1

Casting time: One minor action

Manifestation

This spell has no somatic components or verbal components.

You create an arrow in a bow that you are holding. You can create special ammunition of any type that you are proficient with. However, the item's rank cannot exceed half your spell-casting rank with this spell.

The object persists until the end of the round, at which point it disappears. Any attack with this ammunition is considered a magical strike, so you use your magical power to determine your damage instead of your mundane power (see Power, page 33).

Instant Weapon

Rank 1

Manifestation

This spell has no somatic components.

You create a nonmagical weapon that you are proficient with your hand. You can immediately make a strike with that weapon. You use the higher of your magical power and your mundane power to determine your damage with the strike (see Power, page 33). If you create a Projectile weapon that is not from the crossbow weapon group, you also create ammunition necessary for you to attack with. After you make the strike, the weapon disappears.

The attack's accuracy increases by +1 for each rank beyond 1.

The projectiles disappear after the attack is complete. Any strikes that you make with a weapon created with this ability are magical ✨ abilities, so you use your magical power to determine your damage instead of your mundane power (see Power, page 33). This spell lasts until you use it again or until you dismiss it as a free action. | |

Sonic Barrier

Rank 2

Barrier, Manifestation, Sustain (attuneable, minor)

This spell functions like the mystic barrier spell, except that you can choose whether the barrier blocks sound. You can change whether the barrier blocks sound as part of the action you use to sustain this spell, or as a minor action if you attune to this spell.

Both types of barrier still block line of effect for effects that deal bludgeoning damage, even if they narratively come from a sound or voice. If the barrier does not block sound, the sound or voice can be heard on the other side at a non-damaging volume, but the attack still damages the barrier instead of anything on the other side.

Rank 4: You can choose to create a Medium (30 ft. long) wall instead.

Rank 6: You can choose to create a Large (60 ft. long) wall instead.

Forceful Barrier

Rank 3

Barrier, Manifestation, Sustain (attuneable, minor)

This spell functions like the mystic barrier spell, except that it breaks objects in its area that obstruct its path. Each object in the path of the wall takes 1d8 bludgeoning damage plus 1d6 per 4 power. Any object destroyed in this way does not block the barrier's area of effect. This does no damage to creatures, who block the path of the barrier like normal.

Rank 5: You can choose to create a Medium (30 ft. long) wall instead.

Rank 7: You can choose to create a Large (60 ft. long) wall instead.

Color Spray

Rank 1
Visual

Make an attack vs. Reflex and Mental against each creature within a Medium (30 ft.) cone from you.

Hit: Each target is dazzled (20% miss chance, no special vision) as a condition. If it has no remaining damage resistance, it is also stunned (-2 defenses) as a separate condition.

Critical hit: The condition must be removed an additional time before the effect ends.

The attack's accuracy increases by +1 for each rank beyond 1.

Faerie Fire

Rank 1

Make an attack vs. Mental against all creatures in a Medium (30 ft.) radius within Long (90 ft.) range.

Hit: Each target becomes surrounded by glowing lights that highlight its outline as a condition. This gives it a -10 penalty to the Stealth skill, and it gains no benefit from concealment or being invisible. Other miss chances, such as the miss chance from attacking it while dazzled, are unaffected.

Critical hit: The condition must be removed an additional time before the effect ends.

The attack's accuracy increases by +1 for each rank beyond 1.

| Flash | Rank 1 |
| Make an attack vs. Fortitude against one creature within Medium (60 ft.) range of you. In addition, brilliant illumination briefly fills a 60 foot radius around the target. | |

|--|--------|
| Mirror Image | Rank 1 |
| Visual, Attune (deep) | |
| Three illusory duplicates appear around you that mirror your every move. The duplicates shift chaotically in your space, making it difficult to identify your real location. | |

All targeted attacks against you have a 20% miss chance. Like other miss chances, this miss chance is rolled before determining whether the attack beats your defenses. When an attack misses in this way, it affects an image, destroying it. When the last image is destroyed, this ability provides no further benefit. This ability provides no defensive benefit against creatures immune to Visual abilities.

|--|--------|
| Wall of Light | Rank 1 |
| Barrier, Sustain (attuneable, minor) | |
| You create a Medium (30 ft. long) wall within Long (90 ft.) range. The wall is visible as a solid block of light. It blocks all forms of vision, including darkvision, but does not block senses like blindsight that do not require the use of eyes. It does not inhibit the passage of objects or creatures. | |
| After using this ability, you briefly cannot use it or any other Barrier ability. | |
| Rank 3: You can choose to create a Large (60 ft. long) wall instead. | |
| Rank 5: You can choose to create a Huge (90 ft. long) wall instead. | |

| Subtle, Sustain (minor) | |
| Make an attack vs. Mental against one creature within Medium (60 ft.) range of you. If you target an ally, this attack automatically succeeds. | |

Hit: This spell has no verbal components.

You see out of the target's eyes instead of your own. This does not inhibit the target's vision. Whenever you sustain this spell, you can change between seeing out of your eyes and seeing out of the target's eyes. If you cannot see yourself, you are blinded (50% miss chance, -2 Armor and Ref) for combat purposes.

The attack's accuracy increases by +1 for each rank beyond 2.

| Illusory Twin | Rank 2 |
| Sustain (minor) | |
| You create an illusory duplicate of yourself overlayed on your body. Whenever you move using one of your movement speeds, you may also move the illusory duplicate the same distance in any direction. If the duplicate was sharing a space with you before this movement, onlookers cannot tell which is the real you and which is the duplicate. When the duplicate is attacked by a targeted attack, it is destroyed. At the end of each round, if the duplicate is outside of Medium (60 ft.) range from you, it is destroyed. This effect ends when there are no duplicates remaining. | |
| Rank 4: The maximum range increases to Long (90 ft.) range. Rank 6: The maximum range increases to Distant (120 ft.) range. | |

Rituals

|--|--------|
| Augury | Rank 2 |
| Casting time: One hour | |
| You receive a limited glimpse into your immediate future. When you perform this ritual, you specify a course of action that you could hypothetically take during the next hour. You can be as broad or as detailed as you want in your description of your plan, though more specific and plausible plans generally yield more accurate results. The GM specifies one of four possible outcomes for the augury based on what is most likely to occur if you follow your plan. This is not a guarantee of success or failure, especially for plans that have some intrinsic randomness or chance of failure (such as planning to defeat a monster in combat). <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Weal: The plan is likely to yield good outcomes for you. • Woe: The plan is likely to yield bad outcomes for you. • Weal and Woe: The plan is likely to yield a mixture of good and bad outcomes for you. • None: Either plan is unlikely to have any significant outcomes, or the outcomes of the plan are too vague to accurately predict. This ritual only yields accurate results once for any given situation. If you perform the ritual again in a situation that has not meaningfully changed, the augury always has no outcome regardless of the plan you specify. For example, if you are presented with seven doorways, with one doorway leading to a magnificent treasure and all other doorways leading to certain death, you cannot simply perform this ritual six times to determine the correct doorway. This ritual requires one fatigue level from its participants. | |
| Discern Location | |
| Casting time: 24 hours | Rank 2 |
| When you perform this ritual, choose a creature or object. You must have seen the chosen creature or object in person and either be able to clearly visualize its appearance or know its proper name to find it with this ritual. A creature or object without a proper name cannot be identified by name in this way. If you specify the chosen creature or object's appearance incorrectly, or if it has significantly changed its appearance, you may accidentally affect a different creature, or the ritual may simply fail. If the chosen creature or object is within 100 miles of you, you learn the location (place, name, business name, or the like), community, country, and continent where the target was at when you started performing this ritual. If there is no corresponding information about an aspect of the target's location, such as if the target is in a location which is not part of a recognized country, you learn only that that aspect of the information is missing. This ritual requires 8 fatigue levels from its participants. | |

|--|------------------|
| Seek Legacy | Rank 2 |
| Casting time: One hour | |
| One ritual participant learns the precise distance and direction to their legacy item, if it is on the same plane. This ritual requires one fatigue level from its participants. | |
| Locate Creature | |
| Casting time: One hour | Rank 3 |
| When you perform this ritual, choose a creature. You must have seen the chosen creature in person and either be able to clearly visualize its appearance or know its proper name to find it with this ritual. A creature without a proper name cannot be identified by name in this way. If you specify the chosen creature's appearance incorrectly, or if it has significantly changed its appearance, you may accidentally affect a different creature, or the ritual may simply fail. If the creature is within 100 miles of your location, you unerringly learn the relative direction from your location to the location it was in when you started performing this ritual. This ritual requires one fatigue level from its participants. | |
| Locate Object | |
| Casting time: One minute | Rank 3 |
| This ritual functions like the locate creature ritual, except that it locates objects instead of creatures. Objects currently being worn or carried by creatures cannot be found by this ritual. This ritual requires one fatigue level from its participants. | |
| Reveal True Form | |
| Casting time: One hour | Rank 3 Attune |
| Choose one creature within Long (90 ft.) range. You can see the target's true form, regardless of any shapechanging or illusion effects. This ritual requires one fatigue level from its participants. | |
| Scryward | |
| Casting time: 24 hours | Rank 3 |
| This ritual creates a ward against scrying in a Medium (30 ft.) radius zone centered on your location. All Scrying effects fail to function in the area. This effect is permanent. This ritual requires 18 fatigue levels from its participants. | |

|------------------------|---------------------------|
| Sending | Rank 3 |
| Casting time: One hour | Sustain (standard) |

You do not need line of sight or line of effect to the target. However, you must specify your target with a precise mental image of its appearance. The image does not have to be perfect, but it must unambiguously identify the target. If you specify its appearance incorrectly, or if the target has changed its appearance, you may accidentally target a different creature, or the ritual may simply fail.

You send the target a short verbal message. The message must be twenty-five words or less, and speaking the message must not take longer than five rounds.

After the target receives the message, it may reply with a message of the same length as long as the ritual's effect continues. Once it speaks twenty-five words, or you stop sustaining the effect, the ritual is dismissed.

This ritual requires one fatigue level from its participants.

|----------------------|---------------|
| Find the Path | Rank 4 |
| Casting time: 1 hour | Attune |

When you perform this ritual, you must unambiguously specify a location on the same plane as you, and you choose up to six ritual participants to guide. You know exactly what direction you must travel to reach your chosen destination by the most direct physical route. You are not always led in the exact direction of the destination – if there is an impassable obstacle between the target and the destination, this ability will direct you around the obstacle, rather than through it.

The guidance provided by this ability adjusts to match the current physical capabilities of each ritual participant, including flight and other unusual movement modes. It does not consider teleportation spells or any other active abilities which could allow the creatures to bypass physical obstacles. It does not see into the future, and changing circumstances may cause the most direct path to change over time. It also does not consider hostile creatures, traps, and other passable dangers which may endanger or slow progress.

This ritual requires one fatigue level from its participants.

|--------------------------|---------------|
| Telepathic Bond | Rank 3 |
| Casting time: One minute | Attune |

Each target can communicate mentally through telepathy with each other target. This communication is instantaneous, though it cannot reach more than 100 miles or across planes.

Each target must attune to this ritual independently. If a target breaks its attunement, it stops being able to send and receive mental messages with other targets. However, the effect continues as long as at least one target attunes to it. If you dismiss the ritual, the effect ends for all targets.

This ritual requires one fatigue level from its participants.

|------------------------|--------|
| Greater Augury | Rank 4 |
| Casting time: One hour | |

This ritual functions like the augury ritual, except that the augury considers events up to 4 hours into your future when evaluating the outcomes of your plan.

This ritual requires one fatigue level from its participants.

|---------------------------------|--------|
| Distant Discern Location | Rank 4 |
| Casting time: 24 hours | |

This ritual functions like the discern location ritual, except that there is no distance limitation. The creature or object must simply be on the same plane as you.

This ritual requires 32 fatigue levels from its participants.

|------------------------|----------------|
| Prophetic Dream | Rank 4 |
| Casting time: One hour | Scrying |

The next time you fall asleep, you have a dream that foreshadows some important event or decision in your future. The dream may be vague or even self-contradictory, since the future is never certain, but its contents always provide some hint about what may lie ahead of you. Generally, a prophetic dream concerns events no more than a month before they occur, though staggeringly important events can be prophesied years in advance.

Once you have performed this ritual, performing it again always yields the same dream until the prophesied event has happened or is no longer a relevant or likely future. This can happen as if your actions prevent the event from coming to pass.

This ritual requires one fatigue level from its participants.

If you specify its appearance incorrectly, or if the target has changed its appearance, you may accidentally target a different creature, or the spell may simply fail without effect. Summoning Summon creatures to fight with you.

Cantrips

Summon Distraction

Rank 1
Manifestation, Sustain (standard)

This spell functions like the summon monster spell, except that it has the Sustain \(standard\) tag instead of the Attune \(deep\) tag. In addition, it only has a single hit point.

The attack's accuracy increases by +1 for each rank beyond 1.

Spells

Ramming Summon

Rank 1
Manifestation

Make an attack vs. Armor against anything that is grounded within Short \(30 ft.\) range.

Hit: 1d6 bludgeoning damage +1 per 2 power. If the target loses hit points, you knockback it up to 15 feet horizontally away from you.

The attack's accuracy increases by +1 for each rank beyond 1.

You summon a creature with a large horn or horns, such as a moose, that rams into the target with great force before disappearing.

Summon Annoying Insects

Rank 1
Manifestation

Make an attack vs. Fortitude against one creature within Medium \(60 ft.\) range.

Hit: A swarm of insects surround the target as a condition. While it is below its maximum hit points, it is stunned (-2 defenses).

Critical hit: The condition must be removed an additional time before the effect ends.

The attack's accuracy increases by +1 for each rank beyond 1.

It's hard to concentrate on a fight when you keep being distracted by a swarm of mosquitoes that buzz right into your ears.

Summon Horde – Bees

Rank 1

Manifestation, Sustain (standard)

A horde of bees appears in a Small \(15 ft.\) cone-shaped zone from your location. The bees disappear shortly after they reappear, so they do not block movement and attacking them is pointless, but they last long enough to sting your enemies.

When you cast this spell, and during each of your subsequent actions, make an attack vs. Armor against all enemies in the area. You gain a stacking +1 accuracy bonus each time that you sustain this spell, to a maximum of +4.

Hit: 1d6 piercing damage +1 per 2 power.

Miss: Half damage.

Summon Monster

Rank 1

Manifestation, Attune (deep)

You summon a creature in an unoccupied square on stable ground within Medium \(60 ft.\) range. It visually appears to be a common Small or Medium animal of your choice, though in reality it is a manifestation of magical energy. If a summoned creature gains a vital wound or has no hit points remaining at the end of a phase, it disappears. Regardless of the appearance and size chosen, the creature's statistics use the values below.

- It has no resources, and it cannot use abilities that would cause it to increase its fatigue level.
- Its hit points are equal to the standard value for your level and base class.
- Its damage resistance is equal to half its hit points, ignoring any magic bonuses to hit points.
- Each of its defenses is equal to 5 + half your level.
- Its accuracy is equal to half the sum of your level and Perception.
- Its land speed is 30 feet.
- It has no attunement points.

Each round, you can choose the creature's actions by mentally commanding it as a free action. There are only two actions it can take. As a movement, it can move as you direct. As a standard action, it can make a melee strike against a creature adjacent to it. If it hits, it deals 1d4 physical damage +1 per 3 power. The subtypes of damage dealt by this attack depend on the creature's appearance, but are limited to bludgeoning, piercing, and slashing damage.

If you do not command the creature's actions, it will continue to obey its last instructions if possible or do nothing otherwise. Summoned creatures have no mind or independent agency, and will not act on their own even if attacked.

The attack's accuracy increases by +1 for each rank beyond 1.

|--------------------------------|--------|
| Summon Weapon | Rank 3 |
| Manifestation, Sustain (minor) | |

You summon a weapon in an unoccupied square on stable ground within Medium (60 ft.) range. It takes the form of a weapon of your choice that you are proficient with, though in reality it is a manifestation of magical energy. It is sized appropriately to be wielded by a creature of your size. If a summoned weapon gains a vital wound or has no hit points remaining at the end of a phase, it disappears. The summoned weapon's statistics use the values below.

- It has no resources, and it cannot use abilities that would cause it to increase its fatigue level.
- Its hit points are equal to the standard value for your level and base class.
- It has no damage resistance.
- Each of its defenses is equal to $4 + \text{half your level}$.
- Its accuracy is equal to half the sum of your level and Perception, plus any accuracy modifier for the chosen weapon.
- It has a 30 foot fly speed and no land speed, with good maneuverability and a maximum height of 5 feet.
- It has no attunement points.

You cannot control the summoned weapon's actions. Each round, the weapon automatically moves towards the creature closest to it during the movement phase, following that creature to the best of its abilities. During your action, it makes a melee strike against a creature adjacent to it. The weapon prefers to avoid accuracy and damage penalties that would be imposed by cover or special weapon grips. It chooses randomly if all possible targets are equally easy to attack.

When the weapon hits, it deals damage appropriate for your chosen weapon. This damage is improved by your magical power as normal for magical ✨ attacks.

The attack's accuracy increases by +1 for each rank beyond 3.

| Manifestation, Attune (deep) | |

This spell functions like the summon monster spell, except that the summoned creature appears to be a snake. Its attacks deal 1d8 physical damage plus 1d6 per 4 power. Whenever its strike causes a living creature to lose hit points, the damaged creature becomes poisoned with asp venom (see Table ???: Typical Poisons, page ??). Its stage 1 effect makes the target stunned (-2 defenses) while the poison lasts. Its stage 3 effect makes the target blinded (50% miss chance, -2 Armor and Ref) while the poison lasts.

The attack's accuracy increases by +1 for each rank beyond 4.

This spell functions like the summon weapon spell, except that it creates a fully functional Large ballista instead of a weapon. The ballista functions like any other weapon, with the following exceptions.

The ballista cannot move, and it makes projectile strikes instead of melee strikes. Its attacks deal 1d8 piercing damage +1 per 2 power and have range limits of 90/270. The ballista chooses to attack the creature farthest from it instead of the creature closest to it, though it avoids taking longshot penalties unless there are no valid targets within close range.

The attack's accuracy increases by +1 for each rank beyond 4.

|--------------------------------|--------|
| Aerial Weapon | Rank 5 |
| Manifestation, Sustain (minor) | |

Casting time: One minute

Attune, Manifestation

The creature appears in an unoccupied location on stable ground within Medium (60 ft.) range. It comes with a bit and bridle and a riding saddle, and will only accept the chosen creature as a rider. It has the same statistics as a creature from the summon defensive monster spell, except that it follows its rider's directions to the extent that a well-trained horse would and it cannot attack.

This ritual requires one fatigue level from its participants.

Telekinesis

Manipulate kinetic energy at a distance.

Special Rules: All Barrier effects from this mystic sphere are made of telekinetic force, not physical objects. They can still be destroyed normally, but this makes them especially effective against incorporeal creatures. Incorporeal creatures cannot enter or pass through the barriers, and must move around them in the same way that any other creature does. This allows a telekinetic barrier to completely block passage in a hallway for an incorporeal creature as long as the surrounding walls are too thick for it to pass through.

CantripsDistant Hand

Sustain (minor)

Choose one Medium or smaller unattended object within Medium (60 ft.) range. You can telekinetically control the target object as if you were holding it in a single extra hand. Any attacks you make with the object or checks you make to manipulate the object have a maximum bonus equal to your power. At the end of each round, if the target is outside of this ability's range, this ability ends.

During the movement phase, you can move the target up to 5 feet in any direction. You use your Willpower instead of your Strength to determine your weight limits when moving objects in this way (see Weight Limits, page 39).

Rank 2: The distance moved increases to 15 feet.

Rank 4: The distance moved increases to 30 feet.

Rank 6: The distance moved increases to 60 feet.

Gentle Force

Sustain (minor)

You can exert minor force on objects and creatures around you. When you cast this spell, and during each of your subsequent actions, you may choose any object or creature within Short (30 ft.) range of you. That object or creature feels a push in a direction of your choice. The force is sufficient to lift an object with a Diminutive weight category, or to push an object with a Tiny weight category across the ground. The force exerted by this ability is insufficient to physically move or even meaningfully impede any creature, but it can be perceived.

Rank 2: The force increases to lift a Tiny weight object, or to push a Small weight object.

Rank 4: The range increases to Long (90 ft.) range

Rank 6: The force increases to lift a Small weight object, or to push a Medium weight object.

Personal Ward

Swift

You are impervious to physical damage this round. Because this is a Swift ability, it affects damage you take during the current phase.

- Rank 2: You also gain a +1 bonus to your Armor defense.
- Rank 4: The defense bonus increases to +2.
- Rank 6: The defense bonus increases to +3.

SpellsAnimated Weapon

Rank 1

Make a melee strike using a weapon you hold in a single hand. The weapon gains the Long tag for this strike, allowing you to attack more distant targets. You use your magical power to determine your damage with the strike (see Power, page 33). The weapon flies back into your hand after making the strike.

The attack's accuracy increases by +1 for each rank beyond 1.

Fling Object

Rank 1

Choose a Tiny or Small unattended object within Medium (60 ft.) range of you. You fling that object at another creature or object within Medium (60 ft.) range of you. You gain a +2 accuracy bonus if you fling a Tiny object.

Hit: The target and the thrown object each take 1d6 bludgeoning damage. If you fling a Small object, the damage increases by +1 per 2 power. Specific objects may add additional damage types appropriately. For example, flinging a sharp spear would also deal piercing damage.

The attack's accuracy increases by +1 for each rank beyond 1.

Kinetic Shell

Rank 1

Manifestation, Attune (deep)

You surround yourself with two layers of shielding that reduce the power of physical attacks against you. Whenever you would take physical damage, you reduce that damage by 5, and one layer of shielding is destroyed. When the last layer is destroyed, this ability provides no further benefit.

If you take simultaneous damage from more sources than you have remaining layers, the remaining layers apply to the largest damage sources, and you take full damage from any lower damage values.

Rank 3: The damage reduction increases to 10.

Rank 5: The damage reduction increases to 20.

Rank 7: The damage reduction increases to 40.

Kinetic Shield

Rank 1

Attune

You gain a +4 magic bonus to your damage resistance.

- Rank 3: The bonus increases to +8.
- Rank 5: The bonus increases to +16.
- Rank 7: The bonus increases to +32.

Mind Arrow

Rank 1

Make a strike using a projectile as if you were firing it from a longbow. You do not have to be proficient with bows, and you do not have to manually draw the arrow. It must be easily accessible on your person, such as in a quiver. As normal for a longbow, the strike's base weapon damage is 1d6, and your range limits with this strike are 90/270. You use your magical power to determine your damage with the strike (see Power, page 33).

The attack's accuracy increases by +1 for each rank beyond 1.

Telekinetic Lift

Rank 1

Sustain (attuneable, minor)

Choose yourself or one Medium or smaller unattended object within Medium (60 ft.) range. The target's weight is reduced by one weight category, which makes it easier to lift and move. It also gains a +10 foot bonus to its maximum horizontal jump distance, if applicable (see pcrefJumping). This increases the target's maximum vertical jump distance normally.

Toss Foe

Rank 1

Make an attack vs. Fortitude against anything Medium or smaller within Medium (60 ft.) range.

Hit: If the target has no remaining damage resistance, you knockback it up to 30 feet upwards or horizontally (see Knockback Effects, page 57). Moving the target upwards costs twice the normal movement cost.

The attack's accuracy increases by +1 for each rank beyond 1.

|---|--------|
| Kinetic Discharge | Rank 3 |
| Sustain (minor), Swift (see text) | |

This spell has no immediate effect. Whenever you take physical damage during this spell's effect, you build up a kinetic charge. This is a Swift effect, so you build up kinetic charges during the first round that you cast this spell. When you stop sustaining this spell, make an attack vs. Fortitude against all enemies in a Medium (30 ft.) radius from you. You gain an accuracy bonus with this attack equal to the number of kinetic charges you built up, to a maximum of +5.

Hit: 1d6 bludgeoning damage +1 per 2 power.

Miss: Half damage.

The attack's accuracy increases by +1 for each rank beyond 3.

|--------------------------|--------|
| Interposing Force | Rank 4 |
|--------------------------|--------|

Make an attack vs. Fortitude against one creature within Medium (60 ft.) range.

Hit: As a condition, the target is unable to move closer to you without effort. This does not impede its movement unless its movement would bring it closer to you while it is within Medium (60 ft.) range of you. As part of the movement, it can make a Strength check with a difficulty value of 5. If it succeeds, it can move normally. Otherwise, it is unable to move towards you, and that part of its movement is wasted.

Critical hit: The condition must be removed an additional time before the effect ends.

The attack's accuracy increases by +1 for each rank beyond 4.

|----------------------------|--------|
| Mass Kinetic Shield | Rank 3 |
| Attune (target) | |

This spell functions like the kinetic shield spell, except that it affects up to five creatures of your choice from among yourself and your allies within Medium (60 ft.) range.

Rank 5: The bonus increases to +8.

Rank 7: The bonus increases to +16.

| | |
|-----------------|--------|
| Levitate | Rank 4 |
| Attune | |

You gain a 15 foot fly speed with a maximum height of 15 feet (see Flight, page 55). Your maneuverability with this fly speed is perfect (see Flying Maneuverability, page 55).

Rank 6: The maximum height above the surface increases to 30 feet.

|-------------------|--------|
| Multifling | Rank 3 |
|-------------------|--------|

This spell functions like the fling object spell, except that you can fling two objects, each at a different target within range. In addition, the base damage increases to 1d8.

The attack's accuracy increases by +1 for each rank beyond 3.

|------------------------|--------|
| Repulsion Field | Rank 4 |
| Sustain (minor) | |

When you cast this spell, you create a repulsive field in a Small (15 ft.) radius zone from your location. Whenever an enemy makes physical contact with the spell's area, you make a reactive attack vs. Fortitude against it. Creatures in the area at the time that the spell is cast are unaffected by the spell.

Hit: Each target is unable to enter the spell's area for the rest of the round. The rest of its movement in the current phase is cancelled.

The attack's accuracy increases by +1 for each rank beyond 4.

|-----------------------------------|--------|
| Empowered Telekinetic Lift | Rank 4 |
| Sustain (standard) | |

Choose yourself or one Large or smaller unattended object within Medium (60 ft.) range. The target's weight is reduced by two weight categories, which makes it much easier to lift and move. It also gains a +20 foot bonus to its maximum horizontal jump distance, if applicable (see perefJumping). This increases the target's maximum vertical jump distance normally.

|-------------------------|--------|
| Intense Toss Foe | Rank 5 |
|-------------------------|--------|

Make an attack vs. Fortitude against anything Large or smaller within Medium (60 ft.) range.

Hit: If the target has no remaining damage resistance, you knockback it up to 60 feet upwards or horizontally (see Knockback Effects, page 57). Moving the target upwards costs twice the normal movement cost.

The attack's accuracy increases by +1 for each rank beyond 5.

|-----------------------------|-----------------|
| Mass Force Extension | Rank 5 |
| | Attune (target) |

This spell functions like the force extension spell, except that it affects up to five creatures of your choice from among yourself and your allies within Medium (60 ft.) range.

|---------------------------|--------|
| Intense Mind Shove | Rank 6 |
|---------------------------|--------|

Make an attack vs. Fortitude against everything that is Huge or smaller in a Small (15 ft.) radius within Medium (60 ft.) range of you.

Hit: You push each target up to 60 feet in a straight line.

|----------------------------|-----------------|
| Mighty Fling Object | Rank 5 |
| | Attune (target) |

Choose a Small or Medium unattended object within Medium (60 ft.) range of you. You fling that object at another creature or object within Medium (60 ft.) range of you. You gain a +2 accuracy bonus if you fling a Small object.

Hit: The target and the thrown object each take 2d8 bludgeoning damage. If you fling a Medium object, the damage increases by 1d6 per 4 power. Specific objects may add additional damage types appropriately. For example, flinging a sharp spear would also deal piercing damage.

The attack's accuracy increases by +1 for each rank beyond 5.

|--------------------------|--------|
| Massive Blastwave | Rank 6 |
|--------------------------|--------|

Make an attack vs. Reflex and Fortitude against everything in a Large (60 ft.) cone from you.

Hit: 1d10 bludgeoning damage plus 1d10 per 3 power. You knockback each creature that loses hit points up to 30 feet horizontally away from you.

Miss: Half damage.

The attack's accuracy increases by +1 for each rank beyond 6.

|-----------------------------------|---------------|
| Retributive Kinetic Shield | Rank 5 |
| | Attune (deep) |

You gain a +16 magic bonus to damage resistance. In addition, whenever you resist damage, the attacker takes bludgeoning damage equal to half the damage resisted this way. If the attacker is beyond Short (30 ft.) range of you, this reflection fails. Any effect which increases this spell's range increases the range of this effect by the same amount.

Rank 7: The bonus increases to +32.

|---------------------------------|-----------------------------------|
| Mighty Kinetic Discharge | Rank 6 |
| | Sustain (minor), Swift (see text) |

This spell functions like the kinetic discharge spell, except that the damage increases to 1d10 per 3 power bludgeoning damage.

The attack's accuracy increases by +1 for each rank beyond 6.

|-----------------------------|---------------|
| Greater Rapid Reload | Rank 6 |
| | Attune (deep) |

This spell functions like the rapid reload spell, except that using this ability does not prevent you from using it again.

|------------------|--------------------------|
| Forcecage | Rank 7 |
| | Barrier, Sustain (minor) |

You slowly create a 10 ft. cube of telekinetic force within Medium (60 ft.) range. The cage appears at the end of the next round after you cast this spell. Before that time, there is no visible indication of where the cage will appear. Any physical obstacles in the way of the cage at the time that it forms prevent it from appearing. You can create the cube around a sufficiently small creature to trap it inside. Each wall is transparent, but it blocks physical passage and line of effect.

The wall has hit points equal to three times your power. After using this ability, you briefly cannot use it or any other Barrier ability.

|-------------------|--------|
| Impllosion | Rank 6 |
|-------------------|--------|

Make an attack vs. Fortitude against anything within Short (30 ft.) range from you.

Hit: 1d10 per 3 power bludgeoning damage immediately, and again during your next action. If it takes a vital wound from this damage that leaves it unconscious, it is crushed into a small sphere and immediately dies. The sphere left behind is three size categories smaller than the original creature.

Critical hit: All instances of damage are doubled, not just the initial damage.

The attack's accuracy increases by +1 for each rank beyond 6.

|----------------------------------|---------------|
| Greater Floating Armament | Rank 7 |
| | Attune (deep) |

You can hold any weapon or shield other than a tower shield without using a free hand. It functions as if you were holding it in two hands if possible, or one hand otherwise. You still suffer the normal penalties if you are not proficient with it, or if it is not sized appropriately for you.

Intense Interposing Force

Rank 7

This spell functions like the interposing force spell, except that the difficulty value of the Strength check increases to 10.

RitualsForce Lock

Rank 2

Casting time: One minute

Attune

Choose one Large or smaller closable, nonmagical object within Short (30 ft.) range, such as a door or box. The target is surrounded by a telekinetic barrier that prevents it from being opened. It gains a +10 bonus to its damage resistance. The barrier can be bypassed with a DV 20 Devices check, allowing the object to be opened.

When you perform this ritual, you may choose a Fine object within Short (30 ft.) range to function as a key. When the chosen key touches the protected object, this ritual is suppressed for one minute, allowing the object to be opened normally.

This ritual requires one fatigue level from its participants.

Empowered Force Lock

Rank 5

Casting time: One minute

Attune

This ritual functions like the force lock ritual, except that the maximum size increases to Huge, and the Devices DV to unlock it increases to 30. In addition, the damage resistance bonus increases to +20.

This ritual requires one fatigue level from its participants.

Terramancy

Manipulate earth to crush foes.

Special Rules: Some spells from this mystic sphere are more effective if you or the target are grounded.

CantripsShape Earth

Choose one unattended, nonmagical body of earth or unworked stone you touch. You make a Craft check to alter the target (see Craft, page 148), except that you do not need any special tools to make the check, such as a shovel or hammer and chisel. The maximum damage resistance of a material you can affect with this ability is equal to your power.

Each time you cast this spell, you can accomplish work that would take up to five rounds with a normal Craft check.

Rank 2: The amount of work you accomplish with the spell increases to one minute.

Rank 4: The amount of work you accomplish with the spell increases to two minutes.

Rank 6: The amount of work you accomplish with the spell increases to five minutes.

SpellsEarthcraft

Rank 1

Attune

This spell creates one or two weapons, suits of body armor, or shields from a body of earth or stone within 5 feet of you. The body targeted must be at least as large as the largest item you create. You can create any weapon, shield, or body armor that you are proficient with, and which would normally be made of metal. It is sized appropriately for you, up to a maximum of a Medium size item. The items appear in your hand or on the ground at your feet.

If you create body armor or a weapon, it can be created from any special material other than cold iron. The item's rank cannot exceed your spellcasting rank with this spell, including any modifiers from special materials.

An item created with this spell functions like a normal item of its type, except that any strikes that you make with a weapon created with this ability are magical ✨ abilities, so you use your magical power to determine your damage instead of your mundane power (see Power, page 33).

| | | | |
|--|-------------------------|--|--|
| Earthen Anchor | Rank 1 Attune | Rocky Shell | Rank 1 Manifestation, Attune (deep) |
| You are immune to knockback , push , and teleport effects from attacks, unless the effects come from an attack that scores a critical hit. In addition, you are always considered either grounded or not grounded, whichever is more beneficial for you. | | | You cover your body with two layers of rock that crumple when they take damage. The rock does not cover your joints, allowing you to move, though the shell increases your encumbrance by 2. Whenever you would take damage, you reduce that damage by 5, and one layer of rock is destroyed. When the last layer is destroyed, this ability provides no further benefit. |
| For example, you would not take damage from the earthquake spell. You must still stand on appropriate materials for effects like rock throw which require a specific type of grounding. | | | If you take simultaneous damage from more sources than you have remaining layers, the remaining layers apply to the largest damage sources, and you take full damage from any lower damage values. |
| Earthspike | Rank 1 Manifestation | Rank 3: The damage reduction increases to 10. Rank 5: The damage reduction increases to 20. Rank 7: The damage reduction increases to 40. | |
| Make an attack vs. Armor and Reflex against anything within Medium (60 ft.) range that is grounded . | | | Wall of Stone |
| Hit: 1d6 piercing damage +1 per 2 power. If the target loses hit points, it is slowed (half speed, -2 Armor and Ref) as a condition. | | | Rank 1 Barrier, Manifestation, Sustain (attuneable, minor) |
| The attack's accuracy increases by +1 for each rank beyond 1. | | | You create a Small (15 ft. long) wall of stone within Medium (60 ft.) range. Every square of the wall must be grounded . Nothing can pass through the wall until it is destroyed. |
| Rock Throw | Rank 1 Manifestation | Rank 3: You can choose to create a Medium (30 ft. long) wall instead. Rank 5: You can choose to create a Large (60 ft. long) wall instead. Rank 7: You can choose to create a Huge (90 ft. long) wall instead. | |
| Make an attack vs. Armor against anything within Short (30 ft.) range. You gain a +2 accuracy bonus if you are grounded on stone. | | | The wall has hit points equal to three times your power . If the entire wall is directly supported by stone, its hit points are doubled. After using this ability, you briefly cannot use it or any other Barrier ability. |
| Hit: 1d6 bludgeoning damage +1 per 2 power. | | | |
| The attack's accuracy increases by +1 for each rank beyond 1. | | | |
| Rockshard Blast | Rank 1 Manifestation | Boulder Heave | |
| Make an attack vs. Armor and Reflex against everything in a Small (15 ft.) cone from you. You gain a +2 accuracy bonus if you are grounded on stone. | | | Rank 2 Manifestation |
| Hit: 1d8 bludgeoning and piercing damage +1 per 2 power. Miss: Half damage. | | | When you cast this spell, you create a boulder in midair above your space and choose a target within Medium (60 ft.) range. If the area above you is occupied, this spell fails without effect. During your next action, if that target is still within Medium (60 ft.) range, make an attack vs. Armor against it. Otherwise, the boulder disappears and this spell is wasted. |
| The attack's accuracy increases by +1 for each rank beyond 1. | | | Hit: 1d8 bludgeoning damage plus 1d6 per 4 power. |
| The attack's accuracy increases by +1 for each rank beyond 2. | | | |

|---|------------------|
| Crushing Gravity | Rank 2 |
| Make an attack vs. Fortitude against anything within Medium (60 ft.) range. You gain a +1 accuracy bonus for each size category by which the target is larger than Medium. This accuracy bonus is doubled if the target is not grounded . | |
| Hit: 1d8 bludgeoning damage +1 per 3 power. If the target loses hit points , it cannot use any fly speed or glide speed as a condition. | |
| The attack's accuracy increases by +1 for each rank beyond 2. | |
| The bigger they are, the more heavily gravity pulls them to the ground. | |
| Earthbind | Rank 2 |
| Make an attack vs. Fortitude against one creature within Medium (60 ft.) range that is no more than 60 feet above a stable surface that could support its weight. You gain a +2 accuracy bonus if you are grounded on stone. | |
| Hit: As a condition, the target is pulled towards the ground with great force, approximately doubling the gravity it experiences. It is unable to use any fly speed or glide speed, and its jump distance is halved. All falling damage that it takes is doubled. | |
| Critical hit: The condition must be removed an additional time before the effect ends. | |
| The attack's accuracy increases by +1 for each rank beyond 2. | |
| Personal Gravitation | Rank 2 Attune |
| Once per phase, while you are within 5 feet of an unattended object at least one size category larger than you, you can take a free action to adjust your personal gravity. When you do, gravity pulls you towards that surface instead of in the normal direction. This allows you to walk normally on walls or even ceilings. | |
| Whenever you change the direction that gravity pulls you, you must make a difficulty value 10 Balance check to keep your feet. Failure means you fall prone (half speed , -2 Armor and Ref) and your movement for that phase ends. | |
| Rank 4: The maximum distance increases to 15 feet. This can allow you to pull yourself towards distant objects, though you may take falling damage if you fall too far. | |
| Rank 6: The maximum distance increases to 30 feet. | |

|---|---------------------------|
| Stonefist | Rank 2 |
| Attune, Manifestation | |
| You gain a stonefist natural weapon , replacing one of your free hands . It deals 1d10 bludgeoning damage and has Forceful weapon tag (see Weapon Tags , page 165). You use the higher of your magical power and your mundane power to determine your damage with strikes using the weapon (see Power , page 33). | |
| You encase one of your arms in a mighty stone bulkward, empowering it to crush your foes with sheer brute force. | |
| Mass Earthen Anchor | Rank 3 Attune (target) |
| This spell functions like the earthen anchor spell, except that it affects up to five creatures of your choice from among yourself and your allies within Medium (60 ft.) range. | |
| Meld into Stone | Rank 3 Attune |
| You and up to 100 pounds of nonliving equipment meld into one stone object you touch that is at least as large as your body. If you try to bring excess equipment into the stone, the spell fails without effect. | |
| As long as the spell lasts, you can move within the stone as if it was thick water. However, at least part of you must remain within one foot of the place you originally melded with the stone. You gain no special ability to breathe or see while embedded the stone, and you cannot speak if your mouth is within the stone. The stone muffles sound, but very loud noises may reach your ears within it. If you fully exit the stone, this spell ends. | |
| If this spell ends before you exit the stone, or if the stone stops being a valid target for the spell (such as if it is broken into pieces), you are forcibly expelled from the stone. When you are forcibly expelled from the stone, you take 4d8 bludgeoning damage and become stunned (-2 defenses) as a condition. | |
| Rippling Earthwave | Rank 3 |
| Make an attack vs. Reflex against all Large or smaller grounded creatures in a Medium (30 ft.) cone from you. | |
| Hit: Each target is knocked prone (half speed , -2 Armor and Ref). | |
| The attack's accuracy increases by +1 for each rank beyond 3. | |

| | | | |
|--|---------------------------------|------------------------------|---|
| Tremor | Rank 3 | Mighty Rock Throw | Rank 4 |
| The earth shakes in a Medium (30 ft.) radius zone around you. When you cast this spell, and during your next action, make an attack vs. Reflex against everything in the area that is grounded. | | | Manifestation |
| Hit: 1d6 bludgeoning damage +1 per 2 power. Miss: Half damage. | | | Hit: 1d8 per 3 power bludgeoning damage. |
| The attack's accuracy increases by +1 for each rank beyond 3. | | | The attack's accuracy increases by +1 for each rank beyond 4. |
| You crack the earth around you, shaking everyone violently. | | Mighty Rockhard Blast | Rank 4 |
| Earthen Fortification | Rank 4 Attune, Manifestation | Manifestation | |
| You construct a fortification made of packed earth within Medium (60 ft.) range. This takes the form of up to ten contiguous 5-foot squares, each of which is four inches thick. The squares can be placed at any angle and used to form any structure as long as that structure is stable. Since the fortifications are made of packed earth, their maximum weight is limited, and structures taller than ten feet high are usually impossible. | | | Make an attack vs. Armor and Reflex against everything in a Medium (30 ft.) cone from you. You gain a +2 accuracy bonus if you are grounded on stone. |
| The fortifications form slowly, rather than instantly. The structure becomes complete at the end of the next round after this spell is cast. This makes it difficult to trap creatures within structures formed. | | | Hit: 1d8 per 3 power bludgeoning and piercing damage. Miss: Half damage. |
| Rank 6: You can also construct fortifications from stone. This makes them more resistant to attack and allows the construction of more complex structures. | | | The attack's accuracy increases by +1 for each rank beyond 4. |
| Meteor | Rank 4 Manifestation | Quagmire | Rank 4 Sustain (attuneable, minor) |
| When you cast this spell, you choose a Medium (30 ft.) radius within Medium (60 ft.) range. A meteor appears high in the sky over that area, falling down towards it. During your next action, the meteor crashes into your chosen area, and you make an attack vs. Armor against everything in the area. If there is not at least fifty feet of open space above your chosen area, this spell fails with no effect. | | | Choose a Small (15 ft.) radius zone within Medium (60 ft.) range. All earth and stone in the area is softened into a thick sludge, creating a quagmire that is difficult to move through. The area becomes difficult terrain . |
| Hit: 1d10 bludgeoning damage plus 1d10 per 3 power. Miss: Half damage. | | | This does not affect objects under structural stress, such as walls and support columns. Affected objects retain their own fundamental structural integrity and do not blend with other objects. When the spell ends, affected objects regain their original shape, suffering no damage from their time spent softened. |
| The attack's accuracy increases by +1 for each rank beyond 4. | | | Rank 6: You can choose to affect a Medium (30 ft.) radius instead. |
| Earthglide | Rank 5 Attune | | |
| | | | You can move through earth and unworked stone at a rate of 10 feet per round. This does not allow you to breathe while inside the earth or stone, so your ability to traverse long distances may be limited. |

|--|-------------------------|
| Penetrating Earthspike | Rank 5 Manifestation |
| Make an attack vs. Reflex against anything within Medium (60 ft.) range that is grounded . | |
| Hit: 1d8 piercing damage plus 1d8 per 4 power. If the target loses hit points , it is immobilized (-4 Armor and Ref, cannot use movement speeds) as a condition. | |
| The attack's accuracy increases by +1 for each rank beyond 5. | |

|---|--------|
| Earthquake | Rank 7 |
| The earth shakes in a Large (60 ft.) radius zone around you. When you cast this spell, and during your next action, make an attack vs. Reflex against everything in the area that is grounded . | |
| Hit: 2d6 bludgeoning damage plus 1d6 per 3 power. | |
| Miss: Half damage. | |

You crack the earth around you, shaking everyone violently.

|--|--|
| Volcano | Rank 5 Manifestation, Sustain (minor) |
| You create a volcano at a grounded location within Short (30 ft.) range. The area affected by the volcano increases over time. It affects a Small (15 ft.) radius zone in the first round, a Medium (30 ft.) radius in the second round, and a Large (60 ft.) radius in all subsequent rounds. When you cast this spell, and during each of your subsequent actions, make an attack vs. Reflex against everything in the area. | |
| Hit: 1d8 bludgeoning and fire damage plus 1d6 per 4 power. | |
| Miss: Half damage. | |

The attack's accuracy increases by +1 for each rank beyond 5.

You create a small volcano that showers everything nearby in burning shrapnel.

|--|-------------------------|
| Greater Earthglide | Rank 7 Attune (deep) |
| You can move through earth and unworked stone at a rate equal to your base speed . This does not allow you to breathe while inside the earth or stone, so your ability to traverse long distances may be limited. | |

|---|--------|
| Intense Earthbind | Rank 6 |
| This spell functions like the earthbind spell, except that the target is also slowed (half speed, -2 Armor and Ref) as part of the same condition. | |
| The attack's accuracy increases by +1 for each rank beyond 6. | |

|---|-------------------------|
| Meteor Swarm | Rank 7 Manifestation |
| This spell functions like the meteor spell, except that you can choose up to four separate areas within Distant (120 ft.) range, creating one meteor per area. In addition, the damage increases to 4d10 bludgeoning damage plus 1d10 per 2 power. Any individual creature can only be attacked by one meteor, even if it occupies multiple areas, and overlapping the areas has no benefit. | |

|--|--------|
| Massive Rippling Earthwave | Rank 6 |
| This spell functions like the rippling earthwave spell, except that the area increases to a Huge (90 ft.) cone. | |
| The attack's accuracy increases by +1 for each rank beyond 6. | |

|---|--------|
| Swallowed by Earth | Rank 7 |
| Make an attack vs. Reflex against one Large or smaller grounded creature within Short (30 ft.) range. You gain a +2 accuracy bonus if the target is grounded on stone. | |
| Hit: If the target has no remaining damage resistance , it is swallowed by the earth as a condition . While it is swallowed by the earth, it is paralyzed (cannot move) and does not have line of sight or line of effect to any creature other than itself. During each of your subsequent actions, it takes 2d6 bludgeoning damage plus 1d6 per 3 power as the earth grinds it into paste. If the earth or stone it is swallowed by is destroyed or otherwise rendered unable to contain the creature, this effect ends. Special movement abilities such as teleportation can also remove the target from the fissure. | |

|---|--|
| Mighty Stonefist | Rank 6 Manifestation, Attune (deep) |
| This spell functions like the stonefist spell, except that the damage dealt by the weapon increases to 2d6, and it gains the Impact weapon tag (see Weapon Tags, page 165). | |

You open up a rift in the ground that swallows and traps a foe.

Rituals

Thaumaturgy

Suppress and manipulate magical effects.

Cantrips

Detect Magic

Detection

Choose a Large (60 ft.) cone from you. You know whether any magical ✨ abilities were activated in that area since the start of the last round. This does not provide any information about passive magical effects, such as attuned spells. It also does not provide any information about the number or location of those magical effects.

Rank 2: You also learn if any passive magical effects existed in the area. This is separate from your knowledge of active magical effects.

Rank 4: You can choose to create a Huge (90 ft.) cone instead.

Rank 6: You also learn the number of magical effects in the area.

Sense Magical Potential

You discern whether one creature within Short (30 ft.) range has any magical ✨ abilities. This does not give you any information about the nature of those magical abilities.

Rank 2: You can also discern whether the target has the ability to cast spells of any kind.

Rank 4: You can also discern which magic sources the target has access to, if they have access to any.

Rank 6: You can also discern which mystic spheres the target has access to, if they have access to any.

Spells

Enhance Magic – Might

Rank 1

Attune

Whenever you cast a damaging spell that does not have the Sustain or Attune tags, you can choose to enhance it. If you do, the spell deals 1d4 extra damage when it deals damage for the first time. After you enhance a spell in this way, this effect ends.

Rank 3: The extra damage increases to 1d8.

Rank 5: The extra damage increases to 2d6.

Rank 7: The extra damage increases to 2d10.

Magic Missile

Rank 1

Make an attack vs. Armor against anything within Short (30 ft.) range. This attack ignores cover and concealment.

Hit: 1d8 energy damage +1 per 3 power.

Miss: Half damage.

The attack's accuracy increases by +1 for each rank beyond 1.

An unerring projectile made of pure magical energy streaks towards your foe, inflicting damage unavoidably.

Spellseal

Rank 1

Make an attack vs. Fortitude with a +2 bonus to accuracy against one creature within Medium (60 ft.) range.

Hit: The target's magic is partially sealed as a condition. The first time it tries to cast a spell while it is below its maximum hit points, the spell automatically fails with no effect instead. When the target fails to cast a spell in this way, this effect ends, and the target becomes immune to this spell until it finishes a short rest.

Critical hit: The condition must be removed an additional time before the effect ends.

The attack's accuracy increases by +1 for each rank beyond 1.

Dimensional Seal

Rank 2

Sustain (attuneable, minor)

Make an attack vs. Mental with a +2 accuracy bonus against anything within Medium (60 ft.) range.

Hit: The target cannot be teleported. An object affected by this spell is left behind if it is carried by a creature that teleports.

The attack's accuracy increases by +1 for each rank beyond 2.

Dismissal

Rank 2

Make an attack against anything within Medium (60 ft.) range. If the target is an effect of an ongoing magical ✨ ability, such as a summoned monster or created object, its defense against this attack is equal to 5 + twice the rank of the effect. Otherwise, this spell has no effect.

Hit: The target is treated as if the ability that created it was dismissed. This usually causes the target to disappear.

The attack's accuracy increases by +1 for each rank beyond 2.

| | | | |
|--|---------------------------|---|---|
| Suppress Item | Rank 2 Sustain (minor) | Cryptic Spells | Rank 3 Attune |
| Make an attack vs. Mental with a +4 accuracy bonus against one Large or smaller magical ✨ object within Medium (60 ft.) range. If the object is attended by a creature, the attack must also beat the attending creature's Mental defense. | | | |
| Hit: All magical properties the target has are suppressed. The attack's accuracy increases by +1 for each rank beyond 2. | | | |
| Suppress Magic | Rank 2 Sustain (minor) | Whenever you cast a spell, you may choose to mimic the identifying characteristics of a different spell you know. If you do, the verbal components, somatic components, visual effects, and magical aura of the spell you are casting change to match the mimic spell. This affects inspection of the spell itself by any means. However, it does not alter the mechanical effects of the spell in any way. This change cannot fully remove verbal, somatic, or visual components. If the mimic spell does not have an identifying characteristic, the original characteristic of the spell you are casting is unchanged. | |
| Choose a single 5-ft. square within Medium (60 ft.) range. Make an attack against a random magical ✨ effect active in that square, if any exist. This can only target magical effects that are sustained or which have a specific duration. This includes brief effects, conditions, and Sustain abilities, but it does not include attuned effects or permanent magical abilities on creatures. It also does not include Curse effects, which are more difficult to remove. The attack cannot explode by any means. | | | An observer who gets a critical success to identify the spell's effects can identify the true spell that you are casting (see Identify Magical Effect, page 153). |
| The target's defense against this attack is equal to 5 + twice its rank. For effects that have no specific rank, such as some monster abilities, treat their rank as being equal to one third of their level. | | | |
| This spell cannot be used to interrupt or negate immediate effects, such as spells being cast. Identifying non-visual magical effects can be difficult, so you may have to guess which area to target. | | | |
| Hit: The effect is suppressed as long as you sustain this ability. The attack's accuracy increases by +1 for each rank beyond 2. | | | |
| Teleportation Ward | Rank 2 Attune | Magic Missile Storm | Rank 3 |
| Teleportation into and out of a Large (60 ft.) radius emanation from you is impossible. | | | Make an attack vs. Armor against all enemies in a Small (15 ft.) radius within Short (30 ft.) range. This attack ignores cover. |
| Hit: 1d6 energy damage +1 per 2 power. Miss: Half damage. The attack's accuracy increases by +1 for each rank beyond 3. | | | |
| A barrage of unerring projectiles made of pure magical energy streak towards an area, inflicting damage unavoidably. | | | |
| Reflect Magic | Rank 3 Swift | You gain a +2 bonus to all defenses this round. In addition, whenever a creature within Medium (60 ft.) range of you misses or glances you with a magical ✨ attack this round, that creature treats itself as a target of that strike in addition to any other targets. It cannot choose to reduce its accuracy or damage against itself. | |

|--|---------------------------------------|---|--|
| Delay Teleportation | Rank 4 Attune | Second Mind | Rank 4 Attune |
| Whenever a creature or object would teleport into a Large (60 ft.) radius emanation from you from outside of that area, that teleportation is delayed by a round. The teleporting creature or object remains stuck in the Astral Plane and can take no actions during that time. Creatures delayed in this way do not experience a delay, though they may be able to deduce that they were delayed based on observable evidence. | | | Choose a magical ⚡ ability you are currently sustaining that requires either a free action or a minor action to sustain. That ability is automatically sustained as long as this effect lasts. This can allow you to sustain that ability for longer than 5 minutes. This does not allow you to make any choices as part of sustaining the chosen ability, such as telling summoned creatures how to act. Instead, you always make the same choice you made the last time you manually sustained the effect. |
| Whenever something is delayed in this way, you learn its approximate size and location within the area, allowing you to know which space or spaces it will occupy when it arrives. Creatures and objects delayed by this effect remain delayed even if you move such that their destination is no longer within the area of this effect. This does not affect teleportation away from the area unless that teleportation's destination lies within the area. | | | |
| Dimensional Lock | Rank 4 Sustain (attuneable, minor) | Dead Magic Zone | Rank 5 Sustain (minor) |
| This spell creates a dimensional lock in a Large (60 ft.) radius zone from your location. Extraplanar travel into or out of the area is impossible. This prevents all Manifestation effects and effects teleport targets or move them between planes. | | | Choose a zone within Medium (60 ft.) range. You can choose this spell's radius, up to a maximum of a Medium (30 ft.) radius. Whenever a creature casts a spell in the area, that spell has a 50% chance to fail with no effect. |
| Dispel Magic | Rank 4 | You break an area's connection to magic. | |
| This spell functions like the suppress magic spell, except that on a hit, the effect ends completely instead of being suppressed. | | | |
| The attack's accuracy increases by +1 for each rank beyond 4. | | | |
| Mighty Magic Missile | Rank 4 | Distant Magic Missile | Rank 5 |
| Make an attack vs. Armor against anything within Short (30 ft.) range. This attack ignores cover and concealment. | | | Make an attack vs. Armor against anything within Long (90 ft.) range. This attack ignores cover and concealment. |
| Hit: 1d10 energy damage plus 1d6 per 4 power. Miss: Half damage. | | | Hit: 1d8 energy damage plus 1d6 per 4 power. Miss: Half damage. |
| The attack's accuracy increases by +1 for each rank beyond 4. | | | The attack's accuracy increases by +1 for each rank beyond 5. |
| An unerring projectile made of pure magical energy streaks towards your foe, inflicting severe damage unavoidably. | | | An unerring projectile made of pure magical energy streaks towards your foe, inflicting severe damage unavoidably. |
| Efficient Spellseal | Rank 5 | Enhance Magic – Echo | Rank 5 Attune (deep) |
| This spell functions like the spellseal spell, except that it works even if the target is at full hit points. | | | Whenever you cast a spell that does not have the Sustain or Attune tags, you can choose to echo it. If you do, the spell takes effect again during your next action. It has the same choices for all decisions, such as targets. After you echo a spell in this way, this effect ends. |

|-------------------------------|---------------------------|
| Greater Suppress Magic | Rank 5 Sustain (minor) |
|-------------------------------|---------------------------|

This spell functions like the suppress magic spell, except that it can also affect Curse effects.

| Reflect Targeted Magic | Rank 5 Swift |
|-------------------------------|-----------------|

You gain a +2 bonus to all defenses this round. In addition, any targeted magical abilities that would target you this round also target the creature using that ability in addition to you. It cannot choose to reduce its accuracy or damage against itself. Any other targets of the ability are affected normally.

|---------------------------------|---|
| Wall of Magic Impediment | Rank 5 Barrier, Manifestation, Sustain (attuneable, minor) |
|---------------------------------|---|

You create a Medium (30 ft. long) wall of magical energy within Medium (60 ft.) range. The wall is visible as a shimmering magical membrane that does not block sight. Objects, creatures, and mundane abilities can pass through the wall freely, but any magical ability treats the wall as an impassable barrier.

The wall has hit points equal to three times your power. After using this ability, you briefly cannot use it or any other Barrier ability.

Rank 7: You can choose to create a Large (60 ft. long) wall instead.

|---------------------|-------------------------|
| Absorb Magic | Rank 6 Attune (deep) |
|---------------------|-------------------------|

You gain a +2 bonus to your defenses against magical effects. In addition, the next time a magical attack beats your defenses, it has no effect on you. After you negate two attacks in this way, this spell's effect ends.

|-----------------------------------|--------|
| Mighty Magic Missile Storm | Rank 7 |
|-----------------------------------|--------|

Make an attack vs. Armor against all enemies in a Small (15 ft.) radius within Short (30 ft.) range. This attack ignores cover.

Hit: 1d10 energy damage plus 1d10 per 3 power.

Miss: Half damage.

A massive barrage of unerring projectiles made of pure magical energy streak towards your foes, inflicting damage unavoidably.

|------------------|-------------------------|
| Spellvoid | Rank 7 Attune (deep) |
|------------------|-------------------------|

Whenever you are targeted by a spell cast by another creature, before determining if it hits you, you absorb the spell. It has no effect on you. You cannot voluntarily allow spells cast by other creatures to affect you while this effect lasts. After you absorb three spells in this way, this effect ends.

| Lifeweb Transit | Rank 4 |

Casting time: 24 hours

Choose up to six Medium or smaller ritual participants. In addition, choose a living plant that all ritual participants touch during the ritual. The plant must be at least one size category larger than the largest chosen ritual participant. In addition, choose a destination up to 100 miles away from you on your current plane. By walking through the chosen plant, each target is teleported to the closest plant to the destination that is at least one size category larger than the largest chosen ritual participant.

You can specify the destination by naming an astral beacon. Alternately, you must specify the destination with a precise mental image of its appearance. The image does not have to be perfect, but it must unambiguously identify the destination. If you specify its appearance incorrectly, or if the area has changed its appearance, the destination may be a different area than you intended. The new destination will be one that more closely resembles your mental image. If no such area exists, the ritual simply fails.

This ritual requires 32 fatigue levels from its participants.

| Animate Dead | Rank 3 |
| Casting time: One hour | Attune (deep) |

Choose up to four corpses within Short (30 ft.) range. The combined levels of all targets cannot exceed your level. Each target becomes an undead creature that obeys your mental commands.

You choose whether to create a skeleton or a zombie from each corpse. Creating a zombie require a mostly intact corpse, including most of the flesh. Creating a skeleton only requires a mostly intact skeleton. If a skeleton is made from an intact corpse, the flesh quickly falls off the animated bones.

As a minor action, you can mentally command your undead. The command must be no more than 10 words, and overly complex commands may cause strange and unintended behavior. It affects any undead you created with this ability that are within Distant (120 ft.) range of you. Undead will obey their most recent command indefinitely.

This ritual requires one fatigue level from its participants and the consumption of diamond dust with the equivalent value of a rank 3 item (1,000 gp).

Soul Bind

Rank 6

Casting time: One hour

Choose a nonmagical gem you hold that is at least rank 5 (25,000 gp). In addition, choose one intact corpse within Short (30 ft.) range. A fragment of the soul of the creature that the target corpse belongs to is magically imprisoned in the chosen gem. This does not remove the creature from its intended afterlife. However, it prevents the creature from being resurrected, and prevents the corpse from being used to create undead creatures, as long as the gem is intact. A creature holding the gem may still resurrect or reanimate the creature. If the gem is shattered, the fragment of the creature's soul returns to its body.

This ritual requires one fatigue level from its participants.

Universal

Spells and rituals that can be accessed by any spellcaster.

Special Rules: The universal mystic sphere does not work in the same way as other mystic spheres. Every spellcaster has access to this mystic sphere without needing to spend insight points. It contains a variety of simple magical effects that all spellcasters can manage to replicate, though the details can change based on their individual fields of specialization.

Whenever you learn a spell or ritual from the universal mystic sphere, you must choose a different mystic sphere that you have access to. Treat that spell or ritual as if it belonged to your chosen mystic sphere instead of this one. This allows you to gain the benefits of any sphere-specific effects when you use the spell or ritual, such as a wizard's specialization ability (see Sphere Specialization, page 141). In addition, the chosen mystic sphere determines the spell's damage type and which targets are valid, as listed in Table 10.2: Universal Mystic Spheres, page 372. If the spell is mystic bolt, your chosen mystic sphere also determines the spell's defense. You can learn the same spell from this mystic sphere any number of times, choosing different base mystic spheres for that spell each time.

The names of the abilities from this mystic sphere have fairly generic names to reflect their universal nature. As with all other spells, you should feel free to rename them for your own character to make them more interesting and relevant for you. For example, a pyromancer might rename their mystic bolt spell to something more fire-themed, like firebolt or flamelance.

SpellsMystic Bolt

Rank 1

The attack's accuracy increases by +1 for each rank beyond 1.

However, they do not need line of effect to you, and they can be beyond the ability’s original range.

Unless otherwise noted in a spell’s description, the secondary targets from chaining are affected by the ability in the exact same way as the primary target. Both creatures and objects are valid targets for chaining, but they have to be reasonably sized. You can’t chain off of the ground.

Player characters can remove conditions with the recover ability or by taking a short rest, as well as with various special abilities (see Recover, page 60). attunement. For details, see Deep Attunement, page 40.

defeat: You defeat a creature if you personally cause it to become defeated. Abilities that trigger when you defeat a creature generally activate if you deal damage to it in a phase when it dies or is knocked unconscious. This often means multiple creatures are considered to have defeated the same enemy. For narrative purposes, you can choose to give credit to the creature who dealt the most damage in the last phase, but you shouldn't use that method for determining whether creatures gain the benefit of effects like an onslaught weapon.

defeated: A creature is defeated if it dies, surrenders or is incapacitated for an extended period of time (such as by being knocked unconscious). Some abilities, such as a ranger's quarry ability (see Quarry, page 113), last until their target is defeated. If there is ambiguity about whether a surrendering or seemingly incapacitated enemy still poses a threat, you choose whether you consider the enemy to be defeated.

energy damage: There are four types of energy damage: cold, electricity, fire, and psychic. For details, see Damage Types, page 50.

If you have multiple failure chances, only the highest one applies. Failure chances are rolled independently from miss chances, and they are not affected by abilities that mitigate miss chances. They are less common than a miss chance, and reflect circumstances that no amount of skill can mitigate.

This damage is called falling damage, and it is equal to 1d10 per 10 feet you fell, up to a maximum of 20d10 damage. If you fall intentionally, you ignore the first 10 feet of your fall when calculating falling damage.

Points, page 33.

icy terrain: See Cryomancy, page 279.

immune: A creature that is immune to a particular damage type, debuff, or other ability treats that effect as if it did not exist. An immune creature cannot gain conditions or similar effects like poison if it is immune to them, or if the only effect of that condition would be to apply a specific debuff that it is immune to. In addition, a creature that temporarily becomes immune to an effect immediately removes all instances of that effect. For example, a creature that suddenly becomes immune to poison would remove all poisons currently affecting it, and those poisons would not return once the immunity ends.

A knockback movement is always a single straight line.

land speed: A creature's land speed is a movement mode that determines how fast it can walk on land (see Movement Modes, page 55). It also includes exposed metal objects or parts of objects that are no more than two size categories smaller than the creature. This includes most weapons with any metallic components. It does not include creatures who have small amounts of metal safely stowed in larger containers, such as a common amount of coins or metallic tools stowed in a coin purse or backpack.

Similarly, an object is generally considered metallic if it has an exposed piece made of metal that is no more than two size categories larger than the object as a whole.

that is antethical to its principles and goals. Good and Evil are opposed alignments, and Chaos and Law are opposed alignments. For details, see Alignment, page 29.

overrun: An overrun is a special movement that allows you to move directly through creatures. For details, see Overrun, page 60.

Perception: Perception is an attribute that describes your ability to observe and be aware of your surroundings. For details, see Perception, page 24.

phase: A phase is part of the combat round. There are two phases: the movement phase and the action phase. A phase does not represent a fixed span of time. It is an abstract concept designed to represent a variety of actions that all take place nearly simultaneously.

physical damage: There are four types of physical damage: acid, bludgeoning, piercing, and slashing. For details, see Damage Types, page 50.

planar rift: A planar rift is a location where the boundaries between planes are unusually thin. Planar rifts can be used to travel between planes using the appropriate rituals. For details, see the Tome of Guidance.

plane: A plane is a distinct realm of existence. Except for the connections between planes through planar rifts, each plane is effectively an isolated universe, and different planes can obey different fundamental laws. For details, see the Tome of Guidance.

point of origin: A point of origin is the grid intersection, creature, or object that an area originates from. For details, see Area, page 41.

poison: For a description of poisons and how they work, see Poison, page 64.

poison stage: Each poison progresses in a series of stages. Each stage inflicts a particular negative effect on the poisoned creature according to the poison's description. For details, see Poison, page 64.

potion: A potion is a magical liquid that is typically contained in a Fine vial. In general, drinking a potion requires a standard action. Potions cannot be safely mixed together without diluting their magic, so you cannot consume two potions with the same action.

power: The power of an activeability represents how strong the ability is. For details, see Power, page 33.

primary target: Some abilities that affect multiple targets distinguish between their primary and secondary targets. For details, see Primary and Secondary Targets, page 41.

proficient: A creature can be proficient with weapons and armor. If you try to attack with a weapon you are not proficient with, you take a -2 accuracy penalty (see Weapon Proficiency, page 163). If you try to use armor you are not proficient with, it is less effective and your accuracy is reduced (see Armor Proficiency, page 181).

projectile: A projectile is an object fired from a weapon at a target. Arrows and bolts are projectiles.

push: A push is a type of forced movement. It represents being pushed by a constant force. If a creature being pushed encounters an obstacle, it stops moving with no negative consequences. You cannot be pushed vertically, only horizontally along a solid surface.

A push movement is always a single straight line.

range: The range of an ability determines how far away it can be used. Unless otherwise noted, all abilities with a range require both line of sight and line of effect to the point of origin or to all targets. There are five standard ranges: Short (30 ft.) range, Medium (60 ft.) range, Long (90 ft.) range, Distant (120 ft.) range, and Extreme (180 ft.) range. For details, see Range, page 41.

range limit: Ranged weapons have two range limits listed, with a slash between them, such as 60/180. The first number indicates the maximum range for a weapon's close range. The second number indicates the maximum range for a weapon's long range. For details, see Weapon Range Limits, page 164.

rank: Many abilities have a rank. This is typically equal to the minimum archetype rank you need to learn or use the ability. For abilities with no explicitly defined rank, use one third of the minimum level required to learn or use the ability (minimum 0).

rare language: Rare languages are languages that are only spoken by rare or distant creatures or cultures. They are described in Table 4.5: Rare Languages, page 40.

reactive attack: A reactive attack is an attack that you make during the resolution of another creature's actions. You cannot modify a reactive attack in any way - it happens entirely outside of your control. For example, you cannot use the desperate exertion ability to reroll a reactive attack. If you would make multiple reactive attacks during the same phase with the same ability against different targets, use the same attack roll for each target. A reactive attack can never be triggered by a reactive attack or reactive check.

reactive check: A reactive check is a check that you make during the resolution of another creature's actions. Just like a reactive attack, you cannot modify a reactive check in any way.

reroll: Some abilities allow you to reroll a roll you just made. The most common ability that allows rerolling is desperate exertion (see Desperate Exertion, page 59). You must reroll the entire roll, not just one die from the roll (such as if the original roll explodes). It is possible to reroll the same same roll multiple times with different abilities. Each reroll only grants one extra roll.

resource: A resource is something that a character can lose during play or expend to gain a benefit. Most resources are shared between all types of characters, though different characters can use them differently. There are two resources that are used during the character creation and leveling process: insight points and trained skills. In addition, there are five resources that are used during gameplay: attunement points, damage resistance, fatigue level, hit points, and vital wounds.

resurrection: When a creature is resurrected, it comes back to life after being dead. For details, see Resurrection, page 45.

ritual: A ritual is a discrete magical ✨ ability with esoteric effects.

For details, see Rituals, page 44.

round: Combat takes place in a series of rounds, which represent about six seconds of action. Rounds are divided into two phases: the movement phase, and the action phase.

secondary target: Some abilities that affect multiple targets distinguish between their primary and secondary targets. For details, see Primary and Secondary Targets, page 41.

scent: A creature with the scent ability has an unusually good sense of smell. For details, see Scent, page 386.

scrying sensor: A scrying sensor is a magical construct created by some magical abilities. Scrying sensors are Fine objects resembling a human eye in size and shape, though they are invisible. Scrying sensors typically float in a fixed position in the air. They normally can't be moved by external forces without destroying the sensor. Unless otherwise specified, a scrying sensor's visual acuity is the same as that of a normal human, giving it a +0 bonus to the Awareness skill and similar checks.

sentient: A sentient creature has an Intelligence of at least -5. Most non-sentient creatures have an Intelligence of -6 or lower. Some creatures, such as golems, have no Intelligence at all.

shadowed: A creature or object is shadowed if it is not in bright illumination or brilliant illumination.

shadowy illumination: In an area with shadowy illumination, creatures can see dimly. Creatures and objects within this area have concealment, which can allow creatures to make Stealth checks to hide (see Stealth, page 159). For details, see Vision and Light, page 62.

shapeshift: Shapeshifting abilities change the physical form and abilities of a creature or object. For details, see Shapeshifting, page 46.

shield: Shields are a form of armor that you wield in a hand to protect you from harm. For details, see Armor, page 181.

short rest: A short rest represents ten minutes of relaxation. It allows you to regain lost hit points and any attunement points you released from attunement. For details, see Short Rest, page 38.

size category: A creature's size category indicates how large it is. There are nine size categories, from smallest to largest: Fine, Diminutive, Tiny, Small, Medium, Large, Huge, Gargantuan, Colossal. For details, see Size Categories, page 38.

skill: A skill represents your degree of talent with a particular non-combat aspect of the world. For example, the Climb skill represents how skilled you are at climbing. For details, see Skills, page 144.

somatic components: Somatic components are hand motions required to cast arcane and pact spells. For details, see Casting Components, page 43.

somatic component failure: If you have any encumbrance, you may fail to successfully perform the intricate gestures required to cast spells with somatic components. For details, see Somatic Component Failure, page 43.

space: Your space is the area that your physical body occupies. For convenience, your space is measured in five-foot squares. Medium creatures occupy space equal to a single five-foot square. For details, see Size Categories, page 38.

speed: Your speed represents the number of feet you can move with a single movement (see The Movement Phase, page 53).

spell: A spell is a discrete magical ✨ ability with combat-relevant effects. For details, see Spells, page 44.

spell list: The list of spells you can cast from a particular magic source. Each spell source has a specific spell list which is described at Spells, page 44. Most characters with the same spell sources have the same spell lists. However, some effects, such as a cleric's domains, can add spells to a character's individual spell list.

square: A square represents a single 5-ft. by 5-ft. space. Many areas are measured in squares for convenience.

standard action: You can use a standard action to attack with a weapon, cast a spell, and do most other things that take concentration and effort.

Strength: Strength is an attribute that measures your muscle and physical power. For details, see Strength, page 23.

strike: A strike is a single physical attack with a weapon. It is the most common type of attack. You can make a strike as a standard action in the action phase. For details, see Strikes, page 58.

subdual damage: Subdual damage is a special kind of damage that can't kill you. If you would gain a vital wound from subdual damage, you increase your fatigue level by three instead. For details, see Subdual Damage, page 51.

suppressed: A suppressed ability has temporarily ceased to function. It has no effect for as long as it remains suppressed. Time spent while suppressed counts against the ability's duration, and it may expire while suppressed if it lasts for a specific amount of time. Only magical ✨ abilities can be suppressed. Mundane results of magical abilities that have already occurred, such as the water created by a create water ritual, cannot themselves be suppressed, and do not disappear if they enter an area that suppresses magical abilities.

sustain: Some abilities last as long as you sustain them. Each ability specifies a particular action that is required to sustain the ability, such as a minor action. When Swift abilities resolve during each action phase, the ability is dismissed unless you take the action to sustain the ability that round. For details, see Sustained Abilities, page 42.

Swift: An ability with this ability tag resolves its effects before other actions in the same phase. For details, see Swift Abilities, page 53.

swim speed: A creature with a swim speed can swim as easily as a human walks on land. The effects of a swim speed are described at Swim Speed, page 160.

target: A target is a creature or object directly affected by an ability. Many abilities only affect a single target, and some affect a specific number of targets.

target square: A target square is a particular square that an attack is made against. A target square is chosen to determine cover and concealment (see Cover, page 62).

targeted: A targeted ability is an ability that allows you to directly choose which targets the ability affects. A spell that affects an area is not a targeted ability, because you choose the area affected instead of choosing the targets directly. A strike is a targeted ability, and so is a spell or other special ability that causes you to immediately make a single strike.

telepathy: A creature with telepathy can mentally communicate with other creatures within a given range. For details, see Telepathy, teleportation: A creature or object that is teleported instantly leaves one location and arrives at another. Unless otherwise specified, teleportation requires line of sight, line of effect, and an unoccupied destination on stable ground. For details, see Teleportation, page 46.

thrown weapon: A thrown weapon is a weapon designed to be thrown at a target. For details about attacking with thrown weapons, see Throw Strike, page 58.

time lock: See Chronomancy, page 273.

touch: You can touch an adjacent creature if it is an ally or if you beat its Reflex defense (see Touch, page 41).

trained skill: If you are trained in a skill, you have learned how to use it well. Your modifier with a trained skill is equal to $3 +$ the higher of its associated attribute (if any) and half your level. For details, see Trained Skills, page 144.

tremorsense: A creature with tremorsense can sense its surroundings without light, as long as there is a path through solid objects. For details, see Tremorsense, page 386.

tremorsight: A creature with tremorsight see perfectly without light, as long as there is a path through solid objects. For details, see Tremorsight, page 386.

unattended: An unattended item is an item not being held or carried by a creature, or that is being held or carried by an ally. Some abilities can only affect unattended items.

unaware: See Circumstances and Debuffs, page 383.

unconscious: See Circumstances and Debuffs, page 383.

undergrowth: The presence of a significant amount of roots, bushes, and similar plants that can obstruct movement is called undergrowth. There are two kinds of undergrowth: light undergrowth and heavy undergrowth. For details, see Undergrowth, page 57.

usage class: The usage class of armor is a measure of how much effort it takes to use it. For details, see Armor Usage Classes, page 181.

verbal components: Verbal components are words required to cast most spells. For details, see Casting Components, page 43.

Visual: See Ability Tags, page 382.

vital wound: A vital wound is a serious injury that inflicts negative effects on you. You gain one or more vital wounds when you take damage in excess of your hit points (see Negative Hit Points, page 51). For details, see Vital Wounds, page 52.

vulnerable: A vulnerable creature takes a -4 penalty to all defenses against whatever it is vulnerable to. For details, see Vulnerable, page 386.

wall: A wall is an area shape that an ability can have (see Area Shapes, page 41). A wall-shaped area has a length and height, but its width is not measured in squares.

weak strike: When you make a weak strike, you roll your weapon damage twice and take the lower result. You do not reroll any extra damage that the strike deals. For details, see Weak Strikes, page ??.

weapon: A weapon is an object used to inflict damage. Some creatures can treat parts of their body as weapons. For details, see weapon damage: Your weapon damage is the damage you deal with weapons. Typically, weapon damage is dealt by strikes (see Strikes, page 58). You gain a bonus to your weapon damage equal to half your power (see Power, page 33). For details, see Weapon Damage, page 50.

weapon group: A weapon group is a category of weapons with a similar design and fighting style. You have proficiency with some number of weapon groups based on your class. For details, see Weapon Groups, page 163.

weapon tag: A weapon tag describes the special effects of a weapon. For details, see Weapon Tags, page 165.

weight limit: Your weight limits define the amount of weight you can carry or push without penalty. For details, see Weight Limits, page 39.

weight category: The weight category of an object or creature is a broad measurement of how much it weighs. Weight categories are closely related to size categories. For details, see Table 4.3: Weight Categories, page 40.

Willpower: Willpower is an attribute that represents your ability to endure mental hardships. For details, see Willpower, page 24.

vital roll: When you gain a vital wound, you make a vital roll to determine the detrimental effect of the vital wound. To make a vital roll, roll 1d10 – the number of vital wounds you already had, ignoring the vital wound you are rolling for. For details, see Vital Wounds, page 52.

zone: A zone is a type of area that an ability can have (see Area Types, page 42). A zone ability has effects within an area for the duration of the ability. Unless otherwise noted, it does not move after being created.

Ability Tags

Attune: Attune abilities require an attunement point to maintain. For details, see Attuned Abilities, page ??.

Auditory: Auditory abilities use sound to cause their effects. Creatures and objects that cannot hear the effect are immune to it.

Barrier: Barrier abilities create obstacles that block or punish passage through them. They create a powerful magical resonance around themselves that inhibits other barriers from being formed. Any part of a Barrier ability that would extend within 5 feet of an already active Barrier ability is not created, unless the new barrier simply extends an already existing wall along its length.

Brawling: Brawling abilities rely on brute force in hand to hand combat. Your accuracy with Brawling abilities is equal to half the sum of your level and Strength. Most Brawling abilities are described in Special Combat Abilities, page 59.

Compulsion: Compulsion abilities forcibly alter a creature's actions, but do not necessarily affect its opinions or personality. They have no effect on objects or creatures without minds.

Creation: Creation abilities create permanent physical objects. Objects created with Creation abilities are identical to objects created through more mundane means.

Curse: Curse abilities lay supernatural curses on their targets. They cannot be dismissed, but can be removed with the dispel curse spell.

Detection: Detection abilities reveal magical auras or information within an area. They can penetrate up to 1 foot of stone, 1 inch of common metal, a thin sheet of lead, or 3 feet of wood or dirt. For its ability to penetrate other materials, use the most similar substance from the list above.

Emotion: Emotion abilities alter a creature's opinions or personality, but do not necessarily affect their actions. They have no effect on objects or creatures without minds.

Exertion: Exertion abilities increase your fatigue level. Most Exertion abilities increase your fatigue when used, but some increase fatigue when they end or have some other timing, as indicated in the ability's description. If an Exertion ability increases your fatigue level when used, that fatigue is applied after you finish using the ability, so you do not suffer a fatigue penalty from that extra fatigue while using the ability.

Manifestation: Manifestation abilities create temporary constructs formed from raw magical energy. Objects and creatures created with manifestation abilities seem real on the surface, but they have no internal structure. When an object or creature created by a Manifestation ability is destroyed or killed, or when the duration of the ability that created it ends, it disappears without a trace.

Ritual: Ritual abilities have a number of shared properties. For details, see Spell and Ritual Mechanics, page 43.

Scrying: Scrying abilities create one or more invisible magical sensors that send you information. Unless otherwise noted, the sensor created has the same powers of sensory acuity that you possess. This includes the effect of any abilities which target you personally, such as spells to increase your visual acuity, but not abilities which affect an area around you. However, the sensor is treated as a separate, independent sensory organ, and it functions normally even if you have been blinded, deafened, or otherwise suffered sensory impairment.

The sensor can be dismissed as if it were an active spell. You cannot create a sensor in a location with lead sheeting between you and the location, and you sense that the effect is blocked in this way.

Size-Based: Size-Based abilities are limited based on your own size. They have no effect on creatures or objects that are two or more size categories larger than you. You can mitigate this limitation with the creature climb ability (see Creature Climb, page ??), or simply by flying close (see Flight, page 55).

Speech: Speech abilities use words to achieve their ends. You must specify a language when using a Speech effect, and the language must be one you know (or have memorized the correct words to say). They have no effect on objects or creatures that do not understand the chosen language.

Spell: Spell abilities have a number of shared properties. For details, see Spell and Ritual Mechanics, page 43.

Subtle: Subtle abilities have no visual or otherwise perceivable manifestation. Creatures successfully affected by Subtle abilities do not generally know that they are being influenced. However, a creature that successfully resists a Subtle ability can generally notice that it resisted a special effect of some kind, just like a non-Subtle ability. You can notice the effects of a Subtle ability on yourself with the Awareness skill (see Notice Subtle Effect, page ??).

Sustain: Sustain abilities require an action to maintain. The tag includes an action type, such as (minor), which indicates the type of action required to sustain the ability. If it also includes “attuneable”, you can choose to attune to the effect instead of sustaining it every round. For details, see Sustained Abilities, page 42.

Swift: Swift abilities take effect before non-Swift abilities used during the same phase. For details, see Swift Abilities, page 53.

Trap: Trap abilities create triggered effects that punish trespassing. They create a powerful magical resonance around themselves that inhibits other barriers from being formed. Any part of a Trap ability that would extend within 15 feet of an already active Trap ability is not created.

Visual: Visual abilities use visible objects or forces to cause their effects. Creatures and objects that cannot see the effect are immune to it. Special vision abilities that replace normal vision entirely, such as blindsight and tremorsense, are unable to perceive Visual effects. A creature that exclusively perceives its surroundings without normal sight, such as by closing its eyes and relying on its blindsight, is unaffected.

Circumstances and Debuffs blinded: A blinded creature cannot see. It is at least partially unaware (50% miss chance, -2 Armor and Ref) of everything, it may be fully unaware (-6 Armor and Ref) as normal depending on its non-visual understanding of its surroundings. In addition, it automatically fails at actions which depend on vision, including simply seeing the locations of other objects and creatures.

charmed: A charmed creature is mentally influenced to like another creature. It always sees the words and actions of the creature that charmed it in the most favorable way, as a close friend or trusted ally. A charmed creature cannot be controlled like an automaton, but can be persuaded to take particular actions with the Persuasion skill (see Persuasion, page 156). It treats the creature that charmed it as a friend (a +10 relationship modifier) for the purpose of Persuasion checks.

Any act by the charming creature or by creatures that appear to be its allies that threatens or harms the charmed person breaks the effect. Harming a charmed creature is not limited to dealing it damage, but also includes causing it significant subjective discomfort. An observant creature may interpret overt threats to its allies as a threat to itself.

climbing: A creature that is climbing without a climb speed takes a -2 penalty to its accuracy and Armor and Reflex defenses.

confused: A confused creature takes a -2 penalty to all defenses and is unable to independently control its actions. This penalty does not stack with the stunned (-2 defenses) effect. When a creature becomes confused, and at the beginning of each round, it randomly decides to have one of two behaviors that round: attack its enemies, or protect itself and its allies without attacking. Within those constraints, it can freely choose its actions. If it can't carry out the indicated action, it does nothing but babble incoherently.

A confused creature automatically stops being confused after ten minutes, even if it was unable to rest due to its confusion.

dazzled: A dazzled creature has difficulty seeing. It loses the benefits of the darkvision and low-light vision abilities if it has them. In addition, it treats everything as if it had concealment. Among other effects, this gives its targeted attacks a 20% miss chance.

deafened: A deafened creature cannot hear. It automatically fails at actions which depend on hearing. In addition, it has a 20% failure chance when casting any spell with verbal components.

dominated: A dominated creature is mentally compelled to obey another creature. It obeys the commands of the creature of the dominated it unquestioningly, as an automaton. If it does not understand the language of the creature that dominated it, it still attempts to obey as much as possible, and simple commands (such as “attack” or “follow”) can usually be communicated successfully. A creature that is both dominated and confused (-2 defenses, randomly attack or defend) obeys its dominated orders, ignoring the confusion.

enraged: An enraged creature must spend a standard action to make an attack during each round. It can still take other actions normally. The creature's attacks do not have to specifically target other creatures, so it can attack inanimate objects. If it is unable to take standard actions, such as if it is unconscious, it suffers no extra penalty.

An enraged creature automatically stops being enraged after ten minutes, even if it was unable to rest due to its rage.

flying: A creature that is flying takes a -2 penalty to its Armor and Reflex defenses. If it has a poor maneuverability, this penalty increases to -4 (see Maneuverability, page ??).

frightened: A frightened creature takes a -2 penalty to its Mental defense. In addition, it takes a -2 penalty to accuracy against the source of its fear. This does not stack with the panicked (-4 Mental, cannot attack source) effect. If the source of a frightened creature's fear is defeated, this effect is broken. Being frightened is always an Emotion effect, even if it is caused by an ability that does not have that tag.

goaded: A goaded creature takes a -2 penalty to accuracy against creatures other than the creature that goaded it as long as it is within Medium (60 ft.) range of that creature. If the goading creature is defeated, this effect is broken. If a creature is goaded by multiple different creatures simultaneously, it suffers the accuracy penalty on all of its attacks. Being goaded is always an Emotion effect, even if it is caused by an ability that does not have that tag.

grappled: A grappled creature is wrestling or in some other form of hand-to-hand struggle with at least one other creature. While grappled, you suffer certain penalties and restrictions, as described below.

- One of your hands cannot be used for any purposes other than grappling. This prevents humanoid creatures from taking any actions which would require having two free hands, such as attacking with Heavy weapons. This does not affect creatures without hands.
- You take a -2 penalty to Armor and Reflex defenses.
- You cannot move unless you push all creatures grappling you, such as with the shove ability (see Shove, page 60). In addition, you cannot push a creature grappling with you so it stops being adjacent to you. However, you can use the shove ability to affect creatures you are grappling with as a movement instead of as a standard action.
- You can use the escape grapple and maintain grapple abilities to stop or continue grappling (see Special Combat Abilities, page 59).

helpless: A helpless creature is completely at an opponent's mercy. It is considered to be unaware (-6 Armor and Ref) of all attacks against it, even if it knows they are coming. Paralyzed, bound, and unconscious creatures are helpless.

immobilized: An immobilized creature takes a -4 penalty to its Armor and Reflex defenses and can't use any of its movement speeds. Immobilized flying creatures that have the ability to hover can maintain their initial altitude. All other flying creatures subjected to this condition descend at a rate of 20 feet per round until they reach the ground, taking no falling damage. This does not stack with the slowed (half speed, -2 Armor and Ref) effect.

panicked: A panicked creature takes a -4 penalty to its Mental defense. In addition, it is unable to make any attacks that include the source of its fear as a target. The penalty from this effect does not stack with the frightened (-2 Mental, -2 accuracy vs. source) or panicked (-4 Mental, cannot attack source) effects. If the source of a panicked creature's fear is defeated, this effect is broken. Being panicked is always an Emotion effect, even if it is caused by an ability that does not have that tag.

paralyzed: A paralyzed creature is unable to take physical actions. It is helpless (-6 Armor and Ref), but can take purely mental actions. This can cause flying creatures to crash, swimming creatures to drown, and so on. Any creature can move through a space occupied by a paralyzed creature without slowing down, and creatures can stand in a square with a paralyzed creature without squeezing (-2 Armor and Ref).

partially unaware: A creature that is partially unaware knows that something is nearby, but is missing information about the exact location or nature of the creature, object, or attack it is partially unaware of. Creatures take a -2 penalty to Armor and Reflex defenses against attacks that they are partially unaware of. They have a 50% miss chance with targeted attacks against creatures and objects that they are partially unaware of, and they can only attempt to target creatures and objects that they know the location of.

These penalties do not stack with the penalties for being unaware (-6 Armor and Ref). For details, see Awareness and Surprise, page 63.

prone: A prone creature is lying on the ground, rather than standing normally. It takes a -2 penalty to Armor and Reflex defenses. However, it gains a +4 bonus to all defenses against ranged strikes as long as the attacker is not adjacent. It moves at half of its normal speed, and is considered one size category smaller than normal when determining whether it is subject to Size-Based effects, including critical hits.

If a creature becomes prone while in a precarious situation, such as on a narrow ledge, it may fall. Mounted creatures that are knocked prone fall off their mounts. Creatures cannot glide or fly while prone.

A creature can stand up from being prone as part of a movement using one of their move speeds. This generally requires one free hand. Standing up from a prone position costs half of the creature's speed during that movement.

slowed: A slowed creature moves at half speed and takes a -2 penalty to its Armor and Reflex defenses. This does not stack with the immobilized (-4 Armor and Ref, cannot use movement speeds) effect.

squeezing: A squeezing creature is trying to move though an area too small for it to fight in normally. While squeezing, a creature moves at half speed and takes a -2 penalty to its Armor and Reflex defenses. For details, see Squeezing, page 57.

stunned: A stunned creature takes a -2 penalty to all defenses. This does not stack with the confused (-2 defenses, randomly attack or defend) effect.

swimming: A creature that is swimming without a swim speed takes a -2 penalty to its accuracy and Armor and Reflex defenses.

unaware: A creature that is unaware makes no attempt to defend itself. Creatures take a -6 penalty to Armor and Reflex defenses against attacks that they are unaware of. They are completely unable to use targeted abilities against creatures and objects that they are unaware of.

These penalties do not stack with the penalties for being partially unaware (50% miss chance, -2 Armor and Ref). For details, see Awareness and Surprise, page 63.

unconscious: While you are unconscious, you are helpless (-6 Armor and Ref) and completely unable to take any actions. Some sensory abilities, such as the Awareness skill, can be used while you are asleep, but not while you are forcibly knocked unconscious.

underwater: Ranged weapons have difficulty working underwater. All ranged weapons have range limits of 5/15 when used by a creature that is underwater, or when used against a target that is underwater, regardless of the attack's normal range limits or any other modifiers.

Traits

Blindsight: A creature with blindsight can sense the location of everything in its surroundings. It does not need to use its eyes to gain this benefit. This ability works regardless of concealment, invisibility, or light levels. Blindsight always has a specific range limit, and provides no benefit beyond that range. However, it only grants knowledge of location, not actual sight, so does not mitigate any miss chances that would apply. It also does not mitigate cover or otherwise allow sensing through objects that block line of effect.

Blindsight: A creature with blindsight can perceive its surroundings perfectly regardless of concealment, invisibility, or light levels. It does not need to use its eyes to gain this benefit. This allows the creature to ignore all miss chances caused by those effects. Blindsight always has a specific range limit, and provides no benefit beyond that range. It also does not mitigate cover or otherwise allow sensing through objects that block line of effect.

Darkvision: A creature with darkvision can see perfectly in both complete darkness and shadowy illumination just like a human does in bright illumination. Darkvision always has a specific range limit, and provides no benefit beyond that range. As long as a creature with darkvision is in bright illumination or brilliant illumination, their darkvision stops working. The darkvision briefly stays disabled even after they leave the lit area. Darkvision is disabled while you are dazzled (20% miss chance, no special vision).

Impervious: A creature can be impervious to a particular damage type. It gains a +4 bonus to all defenses against attacks that would cause it to take damage of that type. If an attack deals damage of multiple types, a creature is impervious to that attack only if it is impervious to all of the attack's damage types. For attacks with random effects, such as the chromatic orb spell, determine the random effect before determining if the creature is impervious. An impervious creature gains no defensive benefit against attacks that do not deal damage.

Immune: A creature that is immune to an attack is completely unaffected by it. Creatures and objects can be immune to specific damage types or debuffs. It is also possible to be immune to more esoteric concepts, like being grappled or gaining conditions.

Being immune to part of an attack does not grant immunity to other aspects of that attack. If an attack deals damage of multiple types, a creature is immune to that attack only if it is impervious to all of the attack's damage types. This also applies to more specific immunities that are not related to damage types. For example, if you are immune to being stunned (-2 defenses), you still take full damage from an attack that deals damage and stuns you.

Incorporeal: An incorporeal creature does not have a tangible body. It is immune to physical damage and is never considered to be squeezing (-2 Armor and Ref). It moves silently and ignores the effects of abilities that only work if it has a corporeal body, such as difficult terrain and the grapple or shove abilities. This includes being grappled, detected by tremorsense, setting off pressure plates, and so on.

Many incorporeal creatures have no Strength attribute. If an incorporeal creature has a Strength attribute, it has some ability to manipulate the physical world despite being incorporeal. Unless otherwise noted, an incorporeal creature with a Strength attribute may selectively choose whether it wants to interact with physical objects.

An incorporeal creature can enter or pass through solid objects, but it must remain adjacent to the object's exterior at all times. If it is completely inside an object, it cannot see out or attack. It can fight while partially inside an object, which grants it cover and allows it to attack and see normally.

Invisible: An invisible creature or object cannot be seen with light. Creatures unable to see an invisible creature are at least partially unaware (50% miss chance, -2 Armor and Ref) of its attacks, and they can be fully unaware (-6 Armor and Ref) as normal depending on their level of awareness. Attackers suffer a 50% miss chance with targeted attacks even if they know the location of the invisible creature. See Awareness, page 145, and Stealth, page 159, for how to identify invisible creatures.

Lifesense: Lifesense functions like blindsight, except that it only grants knowledge of the location of living creatures.

Lifesight: Lifesight functions like blindsight, except that it can only see living creatures.

Limbless: A limbless creature has no arms or legs. Limbless creatures are immune to being prone (half speed, -2 Armor and Ref). In addition, they treat natural weapons that do not require free hands, like a bite, as if they had the Heavy weapon tag and were being held in two hands. This gives them a weapon damage bonus equal to +1 per 3 power.

Low-light Vision: A creature with low-light vision can see perfectly in shadowy illumination, just like a human does in bright illumination. This provides no benefit in areas of complete darkness. Low-light vision is disabled while you are dazzled (20% miss chance, no special vision).

Mindless: A mindless creature lacks a normally functioning mind. Mindless creatures do not have an Intelligence attribute. They are immune to Compulsion and Emotion abilities.

It is possible for mindless creatures to still act as if they were intelligent through various magical means. For example, animated objects can obey simple commands by virtue of the magic that controls them, but they are still mindless.

Multipedal: A multipedal creature uses three or more legs to move. Bipedal creatures, like humans, are not multipedal.

Multipedal creatures gain a +10 foot bonus to their land speed and a +5 bonus to the Balance skill.

Scent: A creature with the scent ability has an unusually good sense of smell. It reduces the difficulty value of scent-based Awareness checks by 10 (see Awareness, page 145).

Telepathy: A creature with telepathy has the ability to mentally communicate with other nearby creatures. All telepathy abilities have a defined range. Unless otherwise specified, a telepathic creature can only communicate with one creature at a time.

As a free action, a telepathic creature can open a telepathic communication channel with one creature it sees within the range of its telepathy ability. The target does not have to be willing to receive telepathic communication in this way. While this channel is open, the telepathic creature can cause the target to "hear" the telepathic creature's voice inside the target's head. If the target attempts to mentally reply while the channel is open, the telepathic creature can similarly "hear" the reply in its head as if the target was speaking. This does not generally grant the ability to detect any other thoughts, though exceptionally stupid targets may accidentally broadcast their private thoughts.

Telepathic communication uses words, so it still requires a shared language to be intelligible, even though the words are only imagined. A telepathic creature may attempt to telepathically communicate with creatures without a language, though this is generally unproductive. A skilled telepath can customize the mental "voice" it projects in the same way that a creature can attempt to disguise or alter its voice when speaking.

Tremorsense: Tremorsense functions like blindsight, except that it requires an uninterrupted path through solid objects instead of line of effect. This makes it incapable of sensing flying creatures, but it ignores cover and can even sense through solid obstacles that are no more than half a foot thick.

Tremorsight: Tremorsense functions like blindsight, except that it requires an uninterrupted path through solid objects instead of line of effect. This makes it incapable of seeing flying creatures, but it ignores cover and can even see through solid obstacles that are no more than half a foot thick.

Vulnerable: A creature can be vulnerable to a particular damage type or ability tag. It takes a -4 penalty to all defenses against attacks that would cause it to take damage of that type, or from abilities with that tag. For attacks with random effects, such as the sudden entropy ability from the Entropist feat, determine the random effect before determining if the creature is vulnerable.

Undead: Undead are creatures that are made from the corpse or spirit of a dead creature. They are animated by some part of the soul of the original creature.

Although undead are not living, they are affected in unusual ways by effects that directly manipulate life energy. They can be targeted as if they were living allies by effects that would cause living creatures to regain hit points. Whenever they would regain hit points from an ability that normally only affects living creatures, they instead take energy damage equal to the hit points that they would have regained, ignoring any hit point maximum the ability would normally have. If the ability requires an attack roll, such as an attack vs. Reflex to touch the target, they are vulnerable (-4 defenses) against that attack, and a critical hit doubles the damage they take as normal for damaging attacks.

Any other effects beyond simple hit point recovery are ignored. For example, if a cleric uses their divine aid ability to heal an undead creature, the undead would take damage, but it would not gain any bonus to its defenses.

Similarly, undead are always considered living creatures for the purpose of effects that would normally deal energy damage to living creatures. Whenever they would take energy damage from an ability that normally only affects living creatures, they instead regain hit points equal to the energy damage that they would have taken. This ability does not have the Swift tag, so it resolves after incoming attacks during the current phase. Any other effects beyond simple energy damage are ignored.

Appendix C

Feats

This chapter describes a set of optional rules that the GM can choose to use in a campaign. If you use these rules, characters gain feats which allow them to further specialize in specific areas, making characters more mechanically distinct from each other. Feats also make the system more mechanically complex, so they are not necessarily enjoyable for all groups.

Gaining Feats

There are two main ways you can use feats in your game. You cannot gain the same feat twice.

Species Feat Only: One simple option is that characters gain a single feat at 1st level based on their species, and no other feats. This makes your choice of species more significant without dramatically increasing character complexity.

Feat Progression: If you want characters to be more complex and to have more powerful abilities, you can also use a feat progression system. For example, you could gain a feat from your species at 1st level, and an additional feat at 3rd, 6th, and 9th level. Alternately, you could gain feats based on the completion of major story events. In general, it is inadvisable to gain more than four feats total, or to gain feats after about 10th level.

Species Bonus Feats

If you use this rule, each species grants a bonus feat at 1st level. Most species can only choose from a small group of feats. The specific feats for each species are listed below. A character must meet any prerequisites for these bonus feats, as normal.

Human: Any feat.

Dwarf: Any from the following list: Battle Armory, Blindfighter, Craft Specialization and Endurance Specialization, Iron Will, Martial Training, or Toughness.

Elf: Any Casting feat (see Casting Feats, page 390), or any from the following list: Awareness Specialization and Balance Specialization, Sniper, or Rapid Reaction.

Gnome: Any Casting feat (see Casting Feats, page 390), or any from the following list: Blindfighter, Craft Specialization and Stealth Specialization, Telepath, or Toughness.

Half-Elf: Any Skill feat (see Skill Feats, page 390).

Half-Orc: Any Combat feat (see Combat Feats, page 391), or any from the following list: Endurance Specialization and Intimidate Specialization, or Toughness.

date Specialization, or Toughness.

Halfling: Any from the following list: Balance Specialization, Stealth Specialization, Climb Specialization, Iron Will, or Rapid Reaction.

Uncommon Species

If you are using uncommon species, the feat lists for each uncommon species are given below. Note that uncommon species are normally ineligible for any Ancestry feats.

Animal Hybrid: Any feat strongly associated with the chosen animal. For example, a hybrid shark might choose from Awareness Specialization, Survival Specialization, Swiftrunner, or Swim Specialization. A hybrid wolf might choose from Awareness Specialization, Rapid Reaction, Stealth Specialization, Survival Specialization, or Swiftrunner.

Awakened Animal: Any feat strongly associated with the chosen animal. For example, an awakened cat might choose from Awareness Specialization, Climb Specialization, Flexibility Specialization, Rapid Reaction, Stealth Specialization, or Swiftrunner.

Changeling: Chameleon, or any Skill feat.

Dragon: Iron Will, Toughness, or any Casting feat (see Casting Feats, page 390).

Drakkenfel: Draconic Ancestry. The type of dragon chosen for the drakkenfel's draconic ancestry must match its draconic essence.

Dryaidi: Herbalist, Mental Magic, Regenerator, Sphere Focus: Toxicology, Sphere Focus: Verdancy, or Toughness.

Eladrin: Boongiver, Chameleon, Combat Style Versatility, Deception Specialization and Persuasion Specialization, or Spellwarped.

Kit: Balance Specialization and Stealth Specialization, Deception Specialization and Social Insight Specialization, or Swiftrunner.

Naiadi: Boongiver, Leadership, Mental Magic, Persuasion Specialization and Swim Specialization, or Sphere Focus: Aquamancy.

Orc: Any Combat feat (see Combat Feats, page 391), or any from the following list: Endurance Specialization and Intimidate Specialization, or Toughness.

Ozeborn: Blindfighter, Chameleon, Climb Specialization and Flexibility Specialization, Juggernaut, Regenerator, Sphere Focus: Toxicology, or Toughness.

Tiefling: Deception Specialization and Intimidate Specialization, Executioner, Spellwarped, or Sphere Focus: Pyromancy.

Changing Species

In extraordinary cases, a creature may change its species. For example, the reincarnation ritual returns a creature to life as a different species. Regardless of its new species, the creature keeps its original species bonus feat.

Feat Mechanics

Prerequisites

Some feats have prerequisites. Unless you meet all of the prerequisites, you cannot take the feat. Prerequisites can include a minimum base attribute score, another feat or feats, a minimum level of training in a skill, or some other property of a character. A character can gain a feat at the same level at which they gain the prerequisite.

A character who no longer meets all prerequisites for a feat loses all abilities from that feat.

Skill Feats

Skill feats are weaker and more narrow in their focus than other feats. Whenever a character would choose a single feat, they may instead choose two skill feats.

Feat Tags

All feats are organized into different groups by tags.

General: General feats can have a wide variety of effects. They often grant new abilities or improve your defenses.

Combat: Combat feats improve your combat capabilities. They can increase the damage you deal, grant you new combat abilities, or improve your defenses.

Casting: Casting feats improve your spellcasting abilities. Casting feats are useless to characters who cannot cast spells.

Skill: Skill feats improve your skills. They can make you more likely to succeed with skill checks and grant you new abilities based on your skills.

Ancestry Feats: Some characters have traces of monstrous blood running in their veins. Most of those will never understand the full potential of their unusual heritage. Ancestry feats allow characters to explore those possibilities by gaining abilities related to their ancestry. You can only have one Ancestry feat.

Magical Feats: All abilities granted by feats with the Magical type are magical ✨ in nature. Many feats are not entirely magical, but have specific effects that are magical.

Feat Descriptions

Each feat has a set of benefits it provides to a character with the feat. Some feats also have specific requirements that a character must meet before taking the feat. These are listed under a Prerequisites heading. If a character loses the prerequisites for a feat, they lose all benefits of the feat until they meet the prerequisites again.

Ascetic [General]

Prerequisite: Willpower 1.

1st – Deny Wealth: You cannot knowingly own, consume, or use any item or collection of items that is worth more than 1gp. If you do, you lose all benefits of this feat, and you suffer a -2 penalty to all attacks, checks, and defenses. These penalties last until you spend a month following this restriction again. If you break this prohibition under duress, including magical compulsion, these penalties only last for three days.

Any item you craft yourself is exempt from this limitation, as long as the raw materials used to create the item have a value less than 1gp. You are allowed to carry valuable items as long as you gain no direct benefit from them, so you can hold items for your allies or carry gold until you can find an appropriate place to donate it. You can also interact with expensive structures that you do not own, such as ornate doors.

1st – Open Mind: You gain an additional insight point.

1st – ✨Sanctified Garb: Any clothing you wear provides a +4 bonus to your Armor defense. This defense bonus does not stack with the benefits of body armor. However, you are not considered to be wearing body armor, so you can still gain damage reduction from effects like mage armor.

6th – ✨Ascetic Archetype: Choose one archetype from your base class that you do not already have any ranks in. You are rank 1 in that archetype, and gain the appropriate abilities. Your rank in that archetype increases by 1 at 9th level, and every 3 levels thereafter.

6th – ✨Renounce Legacy: You do not choose a legacy item, and you do not gain any legacy item upgrades (see Legacy Items, page 35). Instead, you gain a +1 bonus to all defenses. This bonus increases to +2 at level 12 and to +3 at level 18.

12th – Open Mind+: You gain an additional insight point.

12th – ✨Sanctified Garb+: The Armor defense bonus increases to +5.

18th – Open Mind++: You gain two additional insight points.

Awareness Specialization [Skill]

Prerequisite: Awareness as a trained skill.

1st – Specialization: You gain a +3 bonus to the Awareness skill.

6th – Extraordinary Senses+: You gain one of the following senses: blindsight (90 ft.), darkvision (120 ft.), tremorsense (60 ft.), or tremorsight (30 ft.). As normal, if you already have the chosen sense from another source, you sum the ranges from both abilities to determine your total range with that sense.

12th – Specialization+: The bonus from your specialization ability increases to +6.

18th – Extraordinary Senses+: You can choose an additional sense from the list given in your extraordinary senses ability, except that the range is doubled. You cannot choose the same sense that you chose with your extraordinary senses ability. However, you can also change the sense you chose with that ability.

Balance Specialization [Skill]

Prerequisite: Balance as a trained skill.

1st – Specialization: You gain a +3 bonus to the Balance skill.

6th – Instant Stand: You can use the rapid stand ability as a free action instead of a minor action (see Rapid Stand, page 146).

12th – Specialization+: The bonus from your specialization ability increases to +6.

18th – ✨Air Dancer: You can attempt to move on surfaces that cannot support your weight, as described below.

- Surfaces that can support at least a quarter of your weight, such as thin tree branches and dense liquids, are difficulty value 15.
- Surfaces that can support at least a tenth of your weight, such as water, are difficulty value 20.
- Surfaces that can support at least a hundredth of your weight, such as tree leaves, are difficulty value 25.
- Surfaces that cannot support your weight at all, such as air, are difficulty value 30.

Success means you move along the surface. Failure means you fall through the surface, and you cannot use this ability again during the current phase. The difficulty value increases by 5 for each consecutive round that you spend moving in this way.

Barbaric Ancestry ✨ [Ancestry, Magical]

Prerequisite: Strength, Dexterity, and Constitution sum to at least 3

Special: You can only have one Ancestry feat.

1st – ✨Ancestral Battlecry: You can use the ancestral battlecry ability as a standard action.

Ancestral Battlecry ✨

Three ghostly spirits of your ancestors appear around you. They cannot be attacked or interacted with. Whenever you make a melee strike, each spirit mimics you. For each spirit that mimics you, the strike can affect an additional secondary target of your choice within 15 foot range of you, even if you are not adjacent to it.

At the end of each subsequent round after you use this ability, one of the spirits disappears. When all of the spirits have disappeared, this effect ends.

6th – ✨Ancestral Totem: You can use the ancestral totem ability as a standard action.

Ancestral Totem ★

Manifestation, Sustain (minor)
Choose an unoccupied location on solid ground within Short (30 ft.) range of you. A Medium totem representing your ancestors appears in that location. The totem is a creature that cannot take actions of any kind, including movement. Its hit points are equal to the standard value for your level and base class. Its damage resistance is equal to half its hit points, ignoring any magic bonuses to hit points. Each of its defenses is equal to 5 + half your level.

While you are within a Medium (30 ft.) radius emanation from the totem, you gain a +2 accuracy bonus with melee strikes.

12th – ★ Ancestral Protectors: While you have ghostly spirits active from your ancestral battlecry ability, you gain a +1 bonus to your Armor defense. In addition, you create four spirits when you use that ability rather than three.

18th – ★ Ancestral Warchief: The range of secondary strikes from your ancestral battlecry ability increases to Short (30 ft.) range. In addition, you can use your ancestral battlecry and ancestral totem abilities as a minor action. When you use either ability as minor action in this way, you increase your fatigue level by one.

Battle Armory [Combat]

Prerequisite: Strength 1, Dexterity 2.

1st – Overburdened Quickdraw: You can draw or sheathe any weapon or shield other than a tower shield as a free action. You can combine this with the normal ability to draw or sheathe weapons as a minor action, allowing you to quickly draw or sheathe two weapons.

6th – ★ Legacy Armory: You do not choose an individual weapon as a legacy item (see Legacy Items, page 35). Instead, if you choose weapons as your legacy item category, you choose magic weapon abilities that apply to all nonmagical weapons you wield. If you attune to a magical weapon, it keeps its own magical effects instead of your chosen legacy item properties.

12th – Versatile Force: You gain a +1 bonus to your power with all abilities.

18th – Versatile Force+: The bonus from your versatile force ability increases to +2.

Blindfighter [Combat]

Prerequisite: Perception 2.

1st – Unerring: You ignore all miss chances, such as from concealment. This does not prevent your attacks from failing for other reasons.

6th – Blindsight: You gain blindsense with a 90 foot range, allowing you to sense your surroundings without light (see Blindsight, page 385). If you already have blindsense, the range of your blindsense increases by 90 feet. In addition, you gain blindsight with a 30 foot range, allowing you to see without light (see Blindsight, page 385). If you already have blindsight, the range of your blindsight increases by 30 feet.

12th – Unseeing Precision: You gain a +1 bonus to accuracy.

18th – Blindsight+: The range of your blindsense increases by 90 feet. In addition, the range of your blindsight increases by 150 feet.

Blood Magic ★ [Casting, Magical]

Prerequisite: Access to a mystic sphere, Constitution 2.

1st – ★ Bloodspell: Whenever you cast a spell, you may use this ability. When you do, you lose hit points equal to your maximum spell rank. In exchange, you gain a +2 power bonus with the spell, and the spell does not require casting components.

6th – ★ Bloodbind: Whenever you make a living creature lose hit points using a spell, you can choose to bind the target's blood to yours. While the target is bound, you are always considered to have line of sight to it. You can see it through all forms of concealment and cover, even if it is invisible or fully behind a solid object. This binding lasts until you finish a long rest.

12th – ★ Blood-Sworn Allegiance: You can swear a blood oath to your allies. You automatically fail any attack rolls you make against a creature that you have sworn this blood oath with. In addition, those creatures automatically fail any attack rolls they make against you. This allows you to safely use area spells that include your allies as targets, since they will suffer no ill effect from the attack.

18th – ★ Bloodbind+: You are always considered to have line of effect with magical ★ abilities to a creature bound by your bloodbind ability, regardless of intervening obstacles. This allows you to cast spells on them through solid walls.

18th – ★ Bloodspell+: The power bonus from your bloodspell ability increases to +4.

Boongiver ★ [Casting, Magical]

Prerequisite: Access to a mystic sphere.

1st – ★ Share Boon: When you cast a spell with the Attune tag, you can use the share boon ability.

Share Boon ★

The spell's Attune tag changes to Attune (target). Choose one ally within Medium (60 ft.) range. That ally is the target of the spell, and the spell affects that creature as if it were you instead of affecting you.

You can only use this ability to affect one spell at a time. If you use it again, the original ally's attunement to the old spell ends.

6th – ★ Sustain Attunement: Whenever you cast an Attune spell that is not a deep attunement, you can choose to replace its Attune tag with the Sustain (minor) tag.

12th – ★ Versatile Boon Lore: You learn additional spell. The spell must have the Attune tag, but you do not need to have access to the mystic sphere it is from. The mystic sphere it is from must still be part of your magic source. As normal, you can exchange this spell for other spells as you gain access to new spell ranks, but the spell must always have the Attune tag.

18th – ★ Share Boon+: You can use your share boon ability on up to three different spells at once. If you use the ability while it already affects another spell, you choose which spells are affected by the ability.

Brawler [Combat]

Prerequisite: Strength 1, Dexterity 1.

1st – Unarmed Warrior: You gain a +2 accuracy bonus with the punch/kick natural weapon, and you deal 1d4 damage with it (see Natural Weapons, page 164). This ability does not stack with the ability of the same name from the Perfected Form monk archetype (see Perfected Form, page 104).

1st – Brawling Expertise: You gain a +2 bonus to accuracy with all Brawling abilities (see Special Combat Abilities, page 59).

6th – Large Grappler: You are considered one size category larger than normal for the purpose of the grapple and Maintain Grapple abilities.

12th – Unarmed Warrior+: The damage from your unarmed warrior ability increases to 1d6.

12th – Brawling Expertise+: The bonus from your brawling expertise ability increases to +4.

18th – Grapple Supremacy: When you grapple a target with the grapple ability, you do not become grappled by that target.

Celestial Ancestry ★ [Ancestry, Magical]

Prerequisite: Non-evil alignment.

Special: You can only have one Ancestry feat.

1st – ★ Rebuke Evil: You can use the rebuke evil ability as a standard action.

Rebuke Evil ★

Make an attack vs. Mental against one creature or object within Medium (60 ft.) range. You gain a +2 accuracy bonus to this attack against evil creatures, and against any creature that damaged any of your allies during the previous round.

Hit: 1d6 energy damage +1 per 2 power.

Level 3: You gain a +1 accuracy bonus with the attack.

Level 6: The damage bonus from your power increases to 1d6 per 4 power (minimum 1d6).

Level 9: The accuracy bonus increases to +2.

Level 12: The damage bonus from your power increases to 1d6 per 3 power.

Level 15: The base damage increases to 2d6.

Level 18: The damage bonus from your power increases to 1d6 per 2 power.

6th – ★ Healing Radiance: When you use the recover ability, you briefly emit brilliant illumination in a Large (60 ft.) radius zone from you, and shadowy illumination in twice that radius. At the end of each round, each ally in the radius of brilliant illumination regains hit points equal to your power.

12th – ★ Angel Wings: You gain feathery wings that sprout from your back. These wings grant you a fly speed equal to the base speed for your size with a maximum height of 30 feet (see Flight, page 55). As a free action, you can increase your fatigue level by one to ignore this height limit until the end of the round. The wings themselves are mundane, but the ability to fly with them is magical ★.

18th – ★ Angel Wings+: Your maneuverability with the fly speed from your angelic flight ability increases to perfect (see Flying Maneuverability, page 55).

18th – ★ Healing Radiance+: The healing provided by your healing light ability increases to twice your power.

Chameleon [General]

Prerequisite: Disguise as a trained skill, Intelligence 2.

1st – Adaptive Archetype: Choose one archetype that you currently have, and two archetypes you do not have from among any of your classes. You cannot choose an archetype that you have which is a prerequisite for another archetype that you have. Whenever you finish a long rest, you can choose which one of those three archetypes you actually have access to. You gain all benefits of your chosen archetype, and temporarily lose all benefits from the archetypes you did not choose in this way.

You must track which choices you made for archetypes that you lose access to in this way, such as which spells and maneuvers you learned. When you regain access to that archetype, you must make the same choices.

6th – Adaptive Specialty: Whenever you finish a short rest, you may choose an effect from the list below. Each effect lasts until you finish a short rest.

- Martial: You become proficient with an additional weapon group and an additional armor usage class of your choice. You must be proficient with light armor to become proficient with medium armor, and you must be proficient with medium armor to become proficient with heavy armor.
- Mystic: You gain the ability to use wands as if you were able to cast arcane spells. Your maximum spell rank for this purpose is 2. This spell rank increases by 1 at 9th level, and every 3 levels thereafter.
- Primal: You gain a +2 bonus to your fatigue tolerance.
- Skilled: You gain a +1 bonus to all skills.

12th – Instant Adaptation: As a minor action, you can change your choice of adaptive archetype and adaptive specialty. When you do, you increase your fatigue level by two.

18th – Adaptive Archetype+: Instead of choosing a single archetype to activate with your adaptive archetype, you may choose a blend of two archetypes simultaneously. First, choose two archetypes to combine. For each rank you have access to, you choose one archetype and gain all abilities of that rank from that archetype and no abilities of that rank from the other archetype. You cannot choose abilities from an archetype that reference or improve abilities from that same archetype which you do not have. For example, you cannot choose the wildspell+ ability unless you also have the wildspell ability.

Whenever you finish a long rest, you may choose up to three archetype blends. You can use your instant adaptation ability to switch between these archetype blends, but you cannot use it to create entirely new archetype blends.

18th – Adaptive Specialty+: The effects of your adaptive specialty ability improve, as described below.

- Martial: You gain a +1 bonus to your Armor defense.
- Mystic: You gain a +2 bonus to your Mental defense.
- Primal: The fatigue tolerance bonus increases to +4.
- Skilled: The skill bonus increases to +2.

Climb Specialization [Skill]

Prerequisite: Climb as a trained skill.

1st – Specialization: You gain a +3 bonus to the Climb skill.

6th – Climb Speed: You gain a climb speed 10 feet slower than the base speed for your size. If you already have a climb speed, you gain a +10 foot bonus to your climb speed. A successful Climb check to move allows you to travel a distance equal to your climb speed.

12th – Specialization+: The bonus from your specialization ability increases to +6.

18th – Rapid Climb: You gain a +10 foot bonus to your climb speed.

Combat Style Versatility [Combat]

Prerequisite: Intelligence 1, access to at least one combat style.

1st – Combat Styles: You gain access to two additional combat styles.

6th – Maneuver: You learn two additional maneuvers. When you gain access to new maneuver ranks, you can change which maneuvers you know.

12th – Precise Maneuvers: You gain a +1 bonus to accuracy with strikes.

18th – Combat Styles+: You gain access to all combat styles.

18th – Maneuvers+: You learn two additional maneuvers.

Craft Specialization [Skill]

Prerequisite: Any Craft skill as a trained skill.

1st – Specialization: You gain a +3 bonus to all Craft skills.

6th – ⚡ Craft Magic Item: You can imbue items with magic using your crafting skill. There are two ways to craft magic items: by sacrificing valuable raw materials or by salvaging other magic items. If you sacrifice valuable raw materials, you must destroy trade goods or gold pieces as if you were buying an item one rank lower than the item you are crafting (see Item Ranks, page 161). If you salvage another magic item, you must either destroy a non-consumable magic item that is at least one rank higher than the item you are crafting, or destroy a non-consumable magic item with the exact same effect as the item you are crafting. As normal, you can treat five items of one rank as being equivalent to a single item of one rank higher for either of these crafting methods.

Crafting a magic item in this way normally requires 24 hours of continuous work which may be split between any number of crafting sessions. You can make weaker items more quickly. The time required to craft magic items is halved for every rank by which your highest rank exceeds the item's rank, to a minimum of 15 minutes.

You can also mend a broken magic item if it is one that you could make, or transfer a magical property from one item to a nonmagical item. If you transfer an item property in this way, the magic item ability must be valid for the new item. If you do so, you treat the item as if it were two ranks lower than its actual rank for the purpose of determining the cost and crafting time, to a minimum rank of 0. You cannot mend a destroyed magic item.

12th – Specialization+: The bonus from your specialization ability increases to +6.

18th – Craft Legacy Item: You can use your crafting ability to enhance your legacy item (see Legacy Item, page ??). This allows you to add one additional magic item property to it. The maximum rank for this magic item property is 5, but the crafting costs and difficulty are calculated as if it were a rank 7 magic item property. You gain the benefits of this property without attunement, just like your other legacy item properties. You can recraft it to change this extra magic item property for the same cost as crafting a new item.

Creature Handling Specialization [Skill]

Prerequisite: Creature Handling as a trained skill.

1st – Specialization: You gain a +3 bonus to the Creature Handling skill.

6th – Binding Command: You can sustain the effect of the command ability from the Creature Handling skill with a minor action instead of with a standard action. For details, see Command, page 149.

6th – Efficient Training: You can teach a creature a trick with 12 hours of work, split as you choose, rather than in a week of 4 hour sessions (see Training Creatures, page ??). In addition, you can train creatures to learn two bonus tricks beyond their normal maximum (see Bonus Tricks, page ??).

12th – Specialization+: The bonus from your specialization ability increases to +6.

18th – Battleforged Companion: You can teach a creature the Battleforged Companion trick. This does not work on creatures that are already significantly enhanced or altered from their natural state, such as a druid's natural servant or a ranger's animal companion. The difficulty value to train the trick is 20. A creature with the trick gains a +2 bonus to accuracy and all defenses.

Deception Specialization [Skill]

Prerequisite: Deception as a trained skill.

1st – Specialization: You gain a +3 bonus to the Deception skill.

6th – ⚡ Forked Tongue: When you speak, you can use the dual speech ability.

| Forked Tongue | Sustain (minor) |
|---|-----------------|
| You speak the same words with two different vocal patterns, such as tone or accent, though you cannot significantly change the volume. You can freely choose which creatures hear which pattern, treating all creatures you are not aware of as a single group. | |
| You can freely choose different vocal patterns each round that you sustain this ability. | |
| Level 12: You can speak entirely different words with your two voices. | |
| Level 18: You can also speak with a third voice, using separate words and vocal patterns. | |

6th – Undetectable Lies: Any magical  abilities which detect lies are unable to detect lies you speak. This does not protect you from magical effects which control your actions, such as by compelling you to tell the truth.

12th – Specialization+: The bonus from your specialization ability increases to +6.

18th –  Deceive Reality: Once per long rest, you can use the deceive reality ability as a standard action.

Deceive Reality

You tell a lie that becomes true. The lie must not directly affect sentient creatures. The effects of the lie must be mundane, so you cannot create artifacts or specific spell effects. You cannot affect anything beyond one mile from you, ignoring line of sight and line of effect. In addition, all effects of this ability end after ten minutes. However, within those limits, you can generally alter reality around you.

Some examples of lies that would be valid to use with this ability are “I have a bathtub full of diamonds in the other room”, “Suddenly, all of the torches in the room were extinguished simultaneously”, and “Don’t worry, my basement cellar has always had an escape tunnel for emergencies”.

Devices Specialization [Skill]

Prerequisite: Devices as a trained skill.

1st – Specialization: You gain a +3 bonus to the Devices skill.

6th – Rapid Improvisation: It takes you only a standard action to make a device of up to Tiny size with the improvise ability (see Improvise, page ??).

12th – Specialization+: The bonus from your specialization ability increases to +6.

18th – Rapid Improvisation+: It takes you only a standard action to make a device of up to Small size with the improvise ability (see Improvise, page ??).

Disguise Specialization [Skill]

Prerequisite: Disguise as a trained skill.

1st – Specialization: You gain a +3 bonus to the Disguise skill.

6th – Versatile Disguise: Whenever you use the disguise creature and emulate creature abilities on yourself, you may simultaneously create two different disguises. This takes twice as long as creating a single disguise. You can change your appearance between the two chosen disguises as a minor action.

12th – Specialization+: The bonus from your specialization ability increases to +6.

18th – Quick Change: You can create disguises with the disguise creature, emulate creature, and versatile disguise abilities as a single standard action, regardless of the complexity of the disguise.

Draconic Ancestry [Ancestry]

Special: You can only have one Ancestry feat.

1st – Draconic Ancestry: Choose a type of dragon from among the dragons on Table C.2: Dragon Types. You have the blood of that type of dragon in your veins. You are impervious to that dragon’s damage type.

1st – Scales: You gain a +1 bonus to your Armor defense.

1st – Draconic Weapons: You gain a bite natural weapon and two claw natural weapons, one on each arm. For details, see Table 8.6: Natural Weapons, page 172.

6th – Breath Weapon: You can use the breath weapon ability as a standard action.

Breath Weapon

Make an attack vs. Reflex against everything in the area defined by the type of dragon from your draconic ancestry ability (see Table C.2: Dragon Types). After you use this ability, you briefly cannot use it again.

Hit: 1d8 damage plus 1d6 per 4 power. The damage type is defined by your draconic ancestry ability.

Miss: Half damage.

Level 9: The area increases. A line breath weapon becomes a Large (60 ft.), 5 ft. wide line. A cone breath weapon becomes a Medium (30 ft.) cone.

Level 12: The damage increases to 2d6 damage plus 1d6 per 3 power.

Level 15: The area increases. A line breath weapon becomes a Huge (90 ft.), 10 ft. wide line. A cone breath weapon becomes a Large (60 ft.) cone.

Level 18: The damage increases to 2d10 damage plus 1d10 per 3 power.

12th – Draconic Ancestry+: You become immune to damage of the type dealt by your dragon’s breath weapon.

12th – Draconic Wings: You gain leathery wings that sprout from your back. These wings grant you a fly speed equal to 10 feet faster than the base speed for your size (see Flight, page 55). Your maximum height is 30 feet, and your maneuverability with this fly speed is poor (see Flying Maneuverability, page 55). As a free action, you can increase your fatigue level by one to ignore this height limit until the end of the round. The wings themselves are mundane, but the ability to fly and glide with them is magical ✨.

18th – Scales+: The Armor defense bonus from your draconic scales ability increases to +2.

18th – Draconic Wings+: The height limit from your draconic wings ability increases to 60 feet. In addition, you gain a +10 foot bonus to the fly speed.

Table C.2: Dragon Types

| Dragon | Damage Type | Breath Weapon |
|--------|-------------|----------------------------------|
| Black | Acid | Medium (30 ft.), 5 ft. wide line |
| Blue | Electricity | Medium (30 ft.), 5 ft. wide line |
| Brass | Fire | Medium (30 ft.), 5 ft. wide line |
| Bronze | Electricity | Medium (30 ft.), 5 ft. wide line |
| Copper | Acid | Medium (30 ft.), 5 ft. wide line |
| Gold | Fire | Small (15 ft.) cone |
| Green | Acid | Small (15 ft.) cone |
| Red | Fire | Small (15 ft.) cone |
| Silver | Cold | Small (15 ft.) cone |
| White | Cold | Small (15 ft.) cone |

Duelist [Combat]

Prerequisite: Dexterity 2, Intelligence 1.

1st – Duel Focus: At the start of each round, you may choose a creature you can see. During that round, you gain a +1 bonus to your defenses against that creature's attacks.

6th – Duelist Strike: You can use the duelist strike ability as a standard action.

Duelist Strike

Make a melee strike with a non-Heavy weapon. This strikes only targets a single creature, even if your weapon would normally have the Sweeping tag. If you are the creature's only enemy adjacent to it, you gain a +2 accuracy bonus with the strike. If that creature is not adjacent to any of its allies, you gain an additional +2 accuracy bonus.

Level 9: If either accuracy bonus applies, the strike deals 1d4 extra damage.

Level 12: The extra damage increases to 1d8.

Level 15: The extra damage increases to 2d8.

Level 18: The strike always deals double weapon damage.

12th – Defensive Stance: You gain a +1 bonus to your Armor defense as long as you wield a non-Projectile weapon. This bonus is doubled if you are not using a shield.

18th – Duel Focus+: The bonuses from your duel focus ability increase to +2.

Endurance Specialization [Skill]

Prerequisite: Endurance as a trained skill.

1st – Specialization: You gain a +3 bonus to the Endurance skill.

6th – Delay Condition: Whenever you gain a condition, you can make an Endurance check. The difficulty value starts at 10 and increases by 5 in each subsequent round. Success means that you do not suffer the effects of the condition. You must repeat this check at the end of each subsequent round to continue to delay the effects of the condition. Failure means that the condition has its normal effect on you.

You can only delay one of your conditions in this way. If you gain a new condition, you can choose to either delay the new condition or continue delaying the old condition.

12th – Specialization+: The bonus from your specialization ability increases to +6.

18th – Ignore Vital Wound: Whenever you gain a vital wound, you can choose to ignore its effect after making the vital roll. It still penalizes your future vital rolls. You can only ignore one vital wound in this way at a time. If you ignore a new vital wound, you suffer the full effects of the old vital wound.

Entropist ✨ [General, Magical]

Prerequisite: Willpower 2.

1st – ✨ Sudden Entropy: You can use the sudden entropy ability as a standard action.

Sudden Entropy ✨

Make an attack vs. Fortitude against one creature or object within Short (30 ft.) range.

Hit: 1d8 damage +1 per 2 power. The damage is of a random damage type from among the following options: physical damage, energy damage, or all damage types simultaneously.

Miss: 50% of the time, you still deal half damage.

Level 3: The base damage increases to 1d10.

Level 6: The damage bonus from your power increases to 1d10 per 5 power (minimum 1d10).

Level 9: The damage bonus increases to 1d10 per 4 power.

Level 12: The base damage increases to 2d10.

Level 15: The damage bonus increases to 1d10 per 3 power.

Level 18: The base damage increases to 4d10.

6th – ✨ Friend of Chaos: Whenever you roll to determine a random effect, such as a miss chance or a sorcerer's wild magic ability, you may roll twice and keep whichever result you prefer. This includes random effects for that do not explicitly tell you to roll, such as your behavior while confused (-2 defenses, randomly attack or defend). However, the damage type of your sudden entropy ability is unaffected by this ability.

12th – ✨ Entropic Defense: Whenever you are hit by a critical hit, there is a 50% chance that the attack is treated as a regular hit against you instead of a critical hit. This is not affected by your friend of chaos ability, since the attacker rolls this chance instead of you.

18th – ✨ Master of Chaos: Whenever you roll to determine a random effect, you can use this ability. When you do, you increase your fatigue level by two, and you may freely choose the random result.

Executioner [Combat]

Prerequisites: Perception 2.

1st – Marked for Execution: You consider living creatures that either have a vital wound, have less than their maximum hit points, or have no remaining damage resistance to be marked for execution. Several abilities from this feat affect creatures marked for execution.

1st – ✨ Blood Sense: You gain lifesense with a 60 foot range, allowing you to sense the location of living creatures without light (see Lifesense, page 386). Your lifesense functions like lifesight against creatures who are marked for execution, allowing you to see them perfectly. You can also automatically identify which creatures within the range of your lifesense are marked for execution, even if you can already see them normally.

6th – Purge the Weak: You gain a +1 accuracy bonus against creatures that are marked for execution. In addition, your attack rolls against creatures that are marked for execution explode on a 9 in addition to the normal explosion on a 10. This does not affect additional rolls with exploding dice.

12th – ✨ Blood Sense+: The lifesense range increases by 120 feet. In addition, you no longer need line of sight or line of effect to see creatures that are marked for execution. This allows you to see them through solid objects, but grants you no special ability to attack through solid objects, so your attacks are still affected normally by cover.

18th – Purge the Weak+: The accuracy bonus increases to +2, and you also explode on an 8.

Fateweaver [General, Magical]

Prerequisite: Perception 2.

1st – ✨ Inevitable Attack: Whenever you would make an attack roll, you can instead choose to treat your roll as a 5. You must use this ability before rolling. If this result does not cause you to hit the target, you roll the attack roll normally.

6th – ✨ Fateseal: You can use the fateseal ability as a standard action.

Fateseal ✨

Make an attack vs. Mental against one creature within Medium (60 ft.) range of you.

Hit: The target is fatesealed as a condition. Whenever you or one of your allies make an attack roll against it, if the roll would be less than a 6, treat it as a 6 instead. This does not affect extra dice from exploding attacks.

Critical hit: The minimum roll is instead 8.

You gain a +2 accuracy bonus for every 3 levels beyond 6.

12th – ✨ Inevitable Success: Whenever you would make a check, you can instead choose to treat the result of your roll as a 5. You must use this ability before rolling. If this result does not cause you to succeed at the check, you roll the check normally.

18th – ✨ Fated Victory: The fixed results from your inevitable attack and inevitable success abilities each increase to 7.

Flexibility Specialization [Skill]

Prerequisite: Flexibility as a trained skill.

1st – Specialization: You gain a +3 bonus to the Flexibility skill.

6th – Rapid Escape: You can squeeze and escape bindings and grapples as a movement, rather than as a standard action.

12th – Specialization+: The bonus from your specialization ability increases to +6.

18th – Unnatural Flexibility: You take no penalties while squeezing (-2 Armor and Ref).

Ghostblade ✨ [Combat, Magical]

Prerequisite: Dexterity 1, Willpower 2.

1st – ✨ Ghost Step: When you use the sprint ability, you can become invisible for the duration of the movement (see Invisible, page 386, and Sprint, page 60). This usually makes it impossible for creatures to react to your movement, such as by using the block or follow abilities (see Movement Abilities, page 56). This ability has the Swift tag, so it affects attacks against you during the current phase. After using this ability, you briefly cannot use it again.

6th – ✨ Spectral Armament: The equipment you choose as your legacy item becomes ghostly and translucent (see Legacy Items, page 35). If you chose a weapon, all damage dealt with it is cold damage in addition to its other types. If you chose body armor or a shield, you are impervious to cold damage.

6th – ✨ Spectral Strike: You can use the spectral strike ability as a standard action.

Spectral Strike ✨

Make a melee strike. The attack is made against the target's Reflex defense instead of its Armor defense. You use the higher of your magical power and your mundane power to determine your damage with this ability (see Power, page 33). If the target takes damage and your attack result beats its Fortitude defense, it is slowed (half speed, -2 Armor and Ref) as a condition.

Level 9: The strike deals 1d6 extra damage.

Level 12: The extra damage increases to 2d6.

Level 15: The extra damage increases to 2d6 plus 1d6 per 4 power.

Level 18: The extra damage increases to 2d8 plus 1d8 per 4 power.

12th – ✨ Ghost Step+: When you use your ghost step ability, you can also become incorporeal for the duration of the movement. This ability has the Swift tag, so it grants you the defensive benefits of being incorporeal during the current phase. If you choose not to become incorporeal, you do not have to wait briefly before being able to use your ghost step ability again.

18th – ★ Spectral Armament+: The effect of your legacy item improves. If you chose a weapon, whenever you make a melee strike, you can make the strike against each target's Reflex defense in place of its Armor defense. This has no effect on strikes that are not made against Armor defense. If you chose body armor or a shield, you may use your Armor defense in place of your Reflex defense against all attacks.

Greatweapon Warrior [Combat]

Prerequisite: Strength 3.

1st – Cleave: Whenever you make a melee strike with a weapon you use with two hands, it gains the Sweeping (1) tag (see Sweeping, page 165). If the weapon already has the Sweeping tag, you increase the tag's value by 1, allowing you to choose an additional secondary target. In addition, you can choose secondary targets within 15 feet of the primary target instead of the normal 10 feet. Each secondary target must still be adjacent to you unless you are using a Long weapon (see Weapon Tags, page 165).

6th – Power Attack: Once per round, when you make a melee strike with a weapon that you use with two hands, you may take a -2 accuracy penalty. If you do, the strike deals 1d6 extra damage per 4 power (minimum 1d6).

12th – Cleave+: You instead gain the Sweeping (2) tag, or you increase the existing tag's value by 2.

18th – Power Attack+: The damage from your power attack ability increases to 1d6 per 3 power.

Herbalist [General]

Prerequisite: Knowledge (nature) as a trained skill.

1st – Esoteric Concoction: You can use your Knowledge (nature) skill in place of Craft (alchemy) or Craft (poison) to create poisons and potions. This does not help you create other alchemical items, such as alchemist's fire. When you do, you must use esoteric natural ingredients in place of the normal ingredients. However, all poisons you create with this ability deteriorate and lose their effectiveness after 8 hours.

The replacement ingredients must be difficult to acquire in large quantities and impossible to acquire in a normal city. For example, you can use the tail of a blind mouse or the dew from a four-leafed clover, but you could not use dirt or ordinary tree bark. Once you have determined a purpose for a particular replacement ingredient, you cannot use that ingredient as a replacement in any other poison or potion.

In general, it requires an hour of work and a Knowledge (nature) check equal to $5 + \text{twice the rank of the item}$ to find ingredients for an item in this way. Each time you find ingredients for an item this way, the time required to find ingredients again increases by an hour and the difficulty value increases by 5. Whenever you finish a long rest or enter a different environment with different ingredients, these penalties reset.

6th – Potent Poisons: You gain a +1 bonus to accuracy with any poisons you create, including poisonous spells you cast.

6th – Tempting Concoction: You can use the tempting concoction ability as a standard action.

Tempting Concoction ★

Attune, Emotion, Subtle

Choose one liquid poison or potion you created, or an object containing one of those liquids, within Short (30 ft.) range. Whenever an enemy notices the chosen object, make a reactive attack vs. Mental against it. You are not aware of this attack, so you cannot use abilities like desperate exertion to affect it. If the poison or potion is not concealed inside a less suspicious object, such as a tankard of ale or an apple, you take a -4 penalty to accuracy. You cannot make this attack more than once against any individual target during this ability's duration.

Hit: The target is filled with the desire to investigate and try to consume the liquid or the object containing the liquid. It will not generally interrupt combat or wander into obvious danger to fulfill its desire, but individual creatures may react more or less strongly. This effect lasts until the target consumes the object or until it finishes a short rest.

You gain a +2 accuracy bonus with the attack for every 3 levels beyond 6.

12th – Esoteric Concoction+: The time required to find ingredients with your esoteric concoction ability is halved. In addition, the difficulty value of the Knowledge check is reduced by 10.

18th – Potent Poisons+: The bonus from your potent poisons ability increases to +3.

Intimidate Specialization [Skill]

Prerequisite: Intimidate as a trained skill.

1st – Specialization: You gain a +3 bonus to the Intimidate skill.

6th – Greater Demoralize: When you use the demoralize ability, the target is frightened by you even if it has damage resistance remaining. For details, see Demoralize, page ??.

12th – Specialization+: The bonus from your specialization ability increases to +6.

18th – Threatening Presence: Creatures that are frightened or panicked by you suffer a penalty to their Armor, Fortitude, and Reflex defenses equal to the penalty they suffer to their Mental defense.

Iron Will [General]

Prerequisite: Willpower 2.

1st – Mental Discipline: You gain a +2 bonus to your Mental defense. In addition, you are impervious (+4 defenses) to psychic damage.

6th – Unclouded Mind: You are immune to being stunned (-2 defenses) and confused (-2 defenses, randomly attack or defend).

12th – Mental Discipline+: The defense bonus from your mental discipline ability increases to +4. In addition, you become 6th – Trample: You can use the trample ability as a standard action.

Level 12: The base damage increases to 2d6.

Level 15: The damage bonus increases to 1d6 per 3 power.

Level 18: The damage bonus increases to 1d10 per 3 power.

12th – Unblockable: Your attacks deal double damage to walls, doors, and similar vertical obstructions that block passage. This does not affect your damage to other objects. to +15 feet.

Maneuverist [Combat]

Prerequisite: Intelligence 2.

1st – Maneuver Access: You gain access to one combat style that you did not already have access to (see Combat Styles, page 227). In addition, you learn one rank 1 maneuver from that combat style. You may spend insight points to learn one additional maneuver from that combat style per insight point. Unless otherwise noted in an ability's description, using a maneuver requires a standard action.

Maneuvers granted by this feat are not martial maneuvers. They cannot be improved with the enhanced maneuvers ability from fighter or any other class.

6th – Maneuver Expertise: You gain a +1 accuracy bonus with your rank 1 maneuvers from this feat. This bonus increases by 1 at 9th level, and every 3 levels thereafter.

1st – Equipment Training: You choose one of the following benefits. Unless otherwise noted in its description, you can only choose each benefit once.

- You gain proficiency with a usage class of armor (light, medium, or heavy). You can choose this ability multiple times, choosing a different usage class each time. Gaining proficiency with medium armor requires proficiency with light armor, and gaining proficiency with heavy armor requires proficiency with medium armor.
- You gain proficiency with an additional weapon group of your choice. You can choose this ability multiple times, choosing a different weapon group each time.
- You gain proficiency with exotic weapons from a weapon group of your choice that you are already proficient with. You can choose this ability multiple times, choosing a different weapon group each time.
- You reduce the encumbrance of body armor you wear by 1. You can choose this ability multiple times, and its effects stack.

- You gain a +1 bonus to your mundane power.

Trained Strike

Make a strike and choose either precision or power. If you choose precision, you gain a +2 accuracy bonus. If you choose power, the strike deals 1d4 extra damage.

Level 9: +4 accuracy or 1d8 extra damage.

Level 12: +6 accuracy or 2d8 extra damage.

Level 15: +2 accuracy and double weapon damage or 3d10 extra damage.

12th – Equipment Training+: You gain two additional equipment training abilities of your choice.

Medicine Specialization [Skill]

Prerequisite: Medicine as a trained skill.

1st – Specialization: You gain a +3 bonus to the Medicine skill.

6th – Healing Touch: You can use the healing touch ability as a standard action.

Healing Touch

Swift

Choose yourself or a living ally you touch. The target regains 2d8 hit points and increases its fatigue level by one. In addition, make a Medicine check. For each poison and disease on the target, if your check result beats a difficulty value equal to 10 + twice its rank, the effect is removed.

Level 9: The healing increases to 3d8.

Level 12: The healing increases to 4d8.

Level 15: The healing increases to 5d10.

Level 18: The healing increases to 7d10.

12th – Specialization+: The bonus from your specialization ability increases to +6.

18th – Vital Touch: When you use your healing touch ability, the target can also remove one vital wound. If it does, its increases its fatigue level by three.

Mental Magic ✨ [Casting, Magical]

Prerequisite: Spellcasting ability, Willpower 3.

1st – ✨ Mental Casting: You connect to the magical essence of the universe differently from other spellcasters, allowing you to cast spells with purely mental effort. None of your spells have somatic components or verbal components. However, you cannot use magic implements such as staffs to affect spells you cast.

6th – ✨ Fractured Mind: Once per round, you can sustain an ability with the Sustain (minor) tag as a free action.

12th – ✨ Potent Mind: You gain a +1 bonus to your magical power.

18th – ⚡ Fractured Mind+: You can also use your fractured mind ability to sustain abilities with the Sustain (standard) tag. Whenever you sustain a Sustain (standard) ability in this way, you increase your fatigue level by one.

18th – ⚡ Potent Mind+: The magical power bonus from your potent mind ability increases to +2.

Metacaster ⚡ [Casting, Magical]

Prerequisite: Metamagic ability, Intelligence 2.

1st – ⚡ Sphere Access: You gain access to an additional mystic sphere. Each mystic sphere has a set of spells associated with it. You automatically learn all cantrips from any mystic sphere you have access to. If you have multiple magic sources, you can cast spells from that sphere with any magic source that the mystic sphere belongs to.

6th – ⚡ Adaptive Metamagic: Choose one spell you know. Whenever you cast that spell, you may apply one metamagic ability of your choice to that spell. You can choose any of the metamagic abilities offered by your class which are valid for that spell. This does not allow you to exceed the normal maximum of two metamagic abilities on a single spell.

12th – ⚡ Spell Fusion: You can use the spell fusion ability as a standard action.

Spell Fusion ⚡

Choose two spells that you know which do not have the Sustain or Attune tags. You cast both spells simultaneously. Both spells that you fuse in this way must have the same area shape, such as a cone or sphere, and targeting restrictions, such as affecting only enemies or living creatures. If one spell affects a strictly larger area or a strictly larger number of targets than the other, you must use the smaller of the two areas or target counts. You must choose the same targets and area for both spells, if applicable. Roll the attack roll and damage for each spell separately. You cannot use the desperate exertion ability to affect either spell.

After you use this ability, you are unable to take any standard actions during the action phase of the following round.

18th – ⚡ Adaptive Metamagic+: You can choose an additional spell you know with your adaptive metamagic ability. In addition, you can apply two metamagic abilities to your chosen spells, rather than only one.

Mystic Archer ⚡ [Casting, Magical]

Prerequisite: Access to a mystic sphere.

1st – ⚡ Magical Projectiles: Whenever you make a ranged strike with a Projectile weapon, you can choose to treat that as a magical ⚡ ability. When you do, you use your magical power to determine your damage instead of your mundane power (see Power, page 33).

1st – ⚡ Imbue Projectile: You can use the imbue projectile ability as a standard action.

Imbue Projectile ⚡

Attune

Choose a spell you know that does not have the Attune or Sustain tags. The spell's power is imbued in a projectile you hold. Unlike most Attune abilities, you can attune to this ability any number of times, choosing a different spell and projectile each time. An individual projectile can only be imbued with this ability once, even if multiple creatures use this ability on the same projectile.

When you make a strike with that projectile, the spell takes effect on one primary target of the strike. Area spells use the corner of the target's square that is closest to you as their point of origin. If the spell has a direction, such as a cone or line, it faces directly away from you.

You must make any attack rolls required for the spell separately from your attack roll with the strike. The spell takes effect even if the strike misses the target's defenses. However, the spell does not take effect if the strike misses or fails for some other reason, such as cover or concealment.

After the spell takes effect, your attunement to this ability ends, and you briefly cannot trigger any more spells you imbued this ability. If you fire multiple projectiles imbued with this ability at once, one of the spells takes effect and the others do not.

6th – ⚡ Guided Projectiles: Your ranged strikes with Projectile weapons ignore all miss chances, such as from concealment. This does not prevent your attacks from failing for other reasons.

12th – ⚡ Imbue Projectile+: Each time you attune to your imbue projectile ability, you can imbue two different projectiles with two different spells. Your attunement to the ability ends when either spell takes effect.

18th – ⚡ Phasing Projectiles: Your ranged strikes with Projectile weapons ignore cover. In addition, you can ignore all physical obstacles in single one-foot span. This can allow you to fire projectiles through creatures or solid walls, though it does not grant you the ability to see through a wall.

Null [General]

Prerequisite: Willpower 2.

1st – Mundane Resilience: You gain a bonus to your hit points and damage resistance equal to your level.

1st – Nullify Magic: You gain a +4 bonus to your defenses against magical ⚡ abilities. In exchange, you lose the benefits of all magical abilities you possess. You are unable to attune to any magical abilities, such as magic items or spells cast by other creatures. You cannot use potions or other similar magic items or abilities that affect you personally, even if they do not require attunement. In addition, you are never considered an ally for a magical ability, even while unconscious.

6th – Sever Magic: You can use the sever magic ability as a standard action.

Sever Magic

Make a strike. If the target takes damage from the strike, it stops being attuned to one effect of its choice that it is currently attuned to. If it has any magical abilities, but has no remaining attuned effects, it becomes stunned (-2 defenses) as a condition instead. On a critical hit, the strike deals double damage and the target stops being attuned to two abilities of its choice that it is currently attuned to. In addition, as a condition, it stops being able to attune to abilities.

You gain a +2 accuracy bonus with the strike for every 3 levels beyond 6.

6th – Personal Legacy: You do not choose a legacy item, and you do not gain any legacy item upgrades (see Legacy Items, page 35). Instead, you gain a +1 bonus to your accuracy, your fatigue tolerance, and all defenses. These bonuses increase to +2 at level 12 and to +3 at level 18.

12th – Disruptive Presence: Whenever an enemy within an Medium (30 ft.) radius from you uses a magical ✨ ability as a standard action, the ability has a 50% chance to fail with no effect. This cannot cause passive or triggered abilities to fail.

18th – Mundane Resilience+: The bonuses from your mundane resilience ability increase to twice your level.

18th – True Null: You are unaffected by all magical ✨ abilities.

Perform Specialization [Skill]

Prerequisite: Any Perform skill as a trained skill.

1st – Specialization: You gain a +3 bonus to all Perform skills.

6th – Synergistic Performance: You can use any Perform skill you have as a trained skill in place of other related skills. Each Perform skill has an associated skill that it can be used to replace, as listed below. When you replace a skill in this way, you add half your modifier with the Perform skill instead of your full modifier since the two skills do not exactly match.

- Acting: Deception
- Comedy: Deception
- Dance: Balance
- Keyboard instruments: Devices
- Oratory: Persuasion
- Percussion instruments: Creature Handling
- Singing: Persuasion
- String instruments: Devices
- Wind instruments: Creature Handling

12th – Specialization+: The bonus from your specialization ability increases to +5.

18th – Synergistic Performance+: You add your full Perform modifier instead of half your modifier.

Persuasion Specialization [Skill]

Prerequisite: Persuasion as a trained skill.

1st – Specialization: You gain a +3 bonus to the Persuasion skill.

6th – First Impressions: When you first meet creatures, you have an Ally relationship instead of a Just Met relationship (see Table ??: Relationship Modifiers, page ??). This does not affect your relationship with creatures who would not normally have a Just Met relationship with you.

12th – Specialization+: The bonus from your specialization ability increases to +6.

18th – Suggestion: You can use the suggestion ability as a standard action.

| Suggestion | Emotion, Subtle, Sustain (minor) |
|--|----------------------------------|
| Make an attack vs. Mental against a creature within Medium (60 ft.) range. Your accuracy is equal to your Persuasion skill. You must also make a verbal suggestion of a particular course of action to the target. If your suggestion does not seem reasonable, you take a -10 accuracy penalty on this attack. Exceptionally unreasonable suggestions can impose even greater penalties, and exceptionally reasonable suggestions can give accuracy bonuses. Whether you hit or miss, you cannot attack the target with this ability again until it finishes a short rest . | |

Hit: As a condition, the target thinks your suggestion is a good idea and will try to follow it to the best of its abilities. The effect ends once the target thinks it has completed the suggestion, or after ten minutes have passed. Any act by you or by creatures that appear to be your ally that damages the target or makes it feel that it is in danger breaks the effect. An observant target may interpret overt threats to its allies as a threat to itself.

Precognition [General]

Prerequisite: Intelligence 3.

1st – Precognitive Offense: You can add your Intelligence to your mundane power instead of your Strength (see Power, page 33).

6th – Combat Prediction: You can use the combat prediction ability as a standard action.

| Combat Prediction | Subtle, Sustain (minor) |
|--|-------------------------|
| Choose a creature within Medium (60 ft.) range of you. That creature's intentions become obvious to you as long as you sustain this ability. This gives you a +1 bonus to accuracy and defenses against that creature. | |

In addition, when you choose your action during each phase, you can do so after learning the result of the actions the target took during that phase. This includes learning whether its attacks hit, and any obvious effects of those attacks. You do not gain any knowledge of actions that have no obvious signs, such as purely mental actions, or actions which you are not observant enough to notice. You cannot communicate your understanding of the creature's actions to your allies before they decide their actions.

12th – Mobile Foresight: During the movement phase, you choose your action after all other creatures have chosen their actions. When you choose your action, you have insight into the actions chosen by any creatures within Long (90 ft.) range of you that you can see. This insight gives you the same information as the insight from your combat prediction ability, except that it only provides information about their actions during the movement phase. You choose your actions simultaneously with any other creatures who have a similar ability.

Knowing another creature's action does not automatically allow you to interrupt that action. If you want to interrupt an action, such as by blocking a creature's intended movement, you must make an initiative check as normal.

18th – Combat Prediction+: The bonuses from your combat prediction ability increase to +2.

Prepared Spellcasting ✨ [Magical, Spell]

Prerequisite: Access to a mystic sphere, Intelligence 3.

1st – ✨ Spellbook: Choose up to four spells you do not know from among mystic spheres you have access to. The spells must be of a rank that you know how to cast. Whenever you gain access to a new spell rank, you may change the spells in your spellbook for any other spells you can cast. You inscribe the knowledge of those spells into a book you carry with you. This book is your spellbook.

Whenever you finish a long rest, you may choose one of the spells in your spellbook. You learn how to cast that spell until you choose a different spell with this ability.

6th – ✨ Ritual Book: You gain the ability to perform rituals to create unique magical effects (see Rituals, page 44). In addition, you automatically learn one free ritual of each rank you have access to, including new ranks as you gain access to them.

12th – ✨ Study of Magic: You gain a +1 bonus to your magical power.

18th – ✨ Spellbook+: You can choose up to six spells to be in your spellbook instead of only four. In addition, whenever you finish a long rest, you may choose two spells in your spellbook with your spellbook ability instead of one. You learn how to cast both spells until you choose a different pair of spells in this way.

18th – ✨ Study of Magic+: The bonus from your study of magic ability increases to +2.

Rapid Reaction [General]

Prerequisite: Dexterity 2.

1st – Lightning Reflexes: You gain a +2 bonus to your Reflex defense.

1st – Sidestep: If you have movement remaining with your land speed after the movement phase, you may use that movement during the action phase as a free action. You cannot carry over more than five feet of movement in this way.

6th – Evasive Reaction: You take no damage from glancing blows or misses caused by abilities that affect an area and attack your Armor or Reflex defense. This does not protect you from any non-damaging effects of those abilities, or from abilities that affect multiple specific targets without affecting an area. If you have the evasion monk or rogue ability with the same effect as this ability, you also gain a +2 bonus to your Armor and Reflex defenses against area attacks.

12th – Lightning Reflexes+: The bonus from your lightning reflexes ability increases to +4.

12th – Sidestep+: The movement you can carry over with your sidestep ability increases to ten feet.

21st – Greater Evasive Reaction: You take half damage from abilities that affect an area and attack your Armor and Reflex defense. This does not stack with the evasion+ monk or rogue ability with the same effect.

Regenerator [General]

Prerequisite: Constitution 3.

1st – Regenerative Recovery: You can use the regenerative recovery ability as a standard action.

| Regenerative Recovery | Swift |
|---|-------|
| When you use this ability, you increase your fatigue level by one. | |
| You regain 1d10 hit points . If you gained any vital wounds during the previous round, your healing with this ability is doubled. | |
| Level 3: The healing increases to 2d6. | |
| Level 6: The healing increases to 2d8. | |
| Level 9: The healing increases to 3d8. | |
| Level 12: The healing increases to 4d8. | |
| Level 15: The healing increases to 5d10. | |
| Level 18: The healing increases to 7d10. | |

6th – Diehard: You gain a +3 bonus to vital rolls.

12th – Regenerative Rest: When you take a short rest, you can remove any number of vital wounds affecting you. If you do, you increase your fatigue level by three per vital wound removed this way. You can use this ability to remove vital wounds even once your fatigue level would already make you unconscious. This allows you to recover any number of vital wounds if you go unconscious to do so, regardless of your maximum fatigue level.

18th – Battlefield Regeneration: When you use the recover action, you can also remove a single vital wound. If you do, you increase your fatigue level by one.

18th – Regenerative Rest+: You only increase your fatigue by two per vital wound.

Ride Specialization [Skill]

Prerequisite: Ride as a trained skill.

1st – Specialization: You gain a +3 bonus to the Ride skill.

6th – Mounted Defense: Your mount gains a +3 bonus to all defenses, up to a maximum of your own corresponding defense.

6th – Mounted Warrior: The penalty you take for making strikes with Projectile weapons while riding a moving mount is reduced by 2. In addition, while you are mounted, you gain a +1 accuracy bonus with Mounted weapons (see Weapon Tags, page 165).

12th – Specialization+: The bonus from your specialization ability increases to +6.

18th – Mounted Defense+: The defense bonus from your mounted defense ability increases to +6.

18th – Mounted Warrior+: The penalty reduction from your mounted warrior ability increases to 4. In addition, the accuracy bonus increases to +2.

Shieldbearer [Combat]

Prerequisite: Strength 2.

1st – Shield Expertise: You gain a +1 bonus to Armor defense while you wield a shield.

6th – Forceful Block: Whenever a creature misses or glances you with a melee strike, if you are wielding a shield, that creature briefly takes a -2 penalty to Armor defense. As normal, this bonus does not stack with itself, even if the same creature misses you with multiple melee attacks.

12th – Arrow Deflection: While you wield a shield, you and each ally adjacent to you gain a +2 bonus to Armor defense against ranged strikes. This bonus is doubled when you take the total defense action.

18th – Forceful Block+: The penalty from your forceful block ability increases to -4.

18th – Shield Expertise+: The bonus from your shield expertise ability increases to +2.

Sleight of Hand Specialization [Skill]

Prerequisite: Sleight of Hand as a trained skill.

1st – Specialization: You gain a +3 bonus to the Sleight of Hand skill.

6th – Deep Pickpocket: You can use the pickpocket ability to retrieve objects that are loose within larger containers, such as backpacks or sacks, even if they are not immediately accessible. You must be able to reach at least one of your fingers into the bag, such as through a narrow gap at the opening. This does not allow you to retrieve objects from locked containers with no openings. The container's size category cannot exceed your own size category.

12th – Specialization+: The bonus from your specialization ability increases to +6.

18th – Extradimensional Pocket: When you use the conceal object ability, you can use the extradimensional pocket ability.

Extradimensional Pocket

Attune

You conceal the object in a pocket dimension that cannot be accessed by nonmagical means. When your attunement to this ability ends, the object appears in a free hand. If you have no free hands, it drops to the ground.

Sniper [Combat]

Prerequisite: Perception 2.

1st – Aim: You can use the aim ability as a standard action.

Aim

Subtle, Sustain (minor)

Choose a creature or object you can see. You gain a +2 accuracy bonus against the target.

If you lose sight of the target for a full round, this effect ends.

6th – Sniper’s Precision: You gain a +1 bonus to accuracy with ranged strikes.

12th – Steady Shot: If your location did not change since the start of the round, you reduce your longshot penalty by 2.

18th – Sniper’s Precision+: The accuracy bonus from your sniper’s precision ability increases to +2.

18th – Steady Shot+: The penalty reduction from your steady shot ability increases to 4, allowing you to ignore any longshot penalty.

Social Insight Specialization [Skill]

Prerequisite: Social Insight as a trained skill.

1st – Specialization: You gain a +3 bonus to the Social Insight skill.

6th – Read Emotions: You can use the read emotions ability as a standard action.

Read Emotions

Emotion, Sustain (minor), Subtle

Make an attack vs. Mental against a creature within Short (30 ft.) range. Your accuracy is equal to your Social Insight skill. Whether you hit or miss, you cannot attack the target with this ability again until it finishes a short rest.

Hit: You know the target’s current emotions. In addition to the obvious effects, this grants you a +3 bonus to Deception, Persuasion, Intimidate, and Social Insight attacks and checks against the target. This bonus does not stack with other effects that allow you access to the target’s mind, such as read mind.

Level 12: The range increases to Medium (60 ft.) range.

Level 18: The range increases to Long (90 ft.) range.

12th – Specialization+: The bonus from your specialization ability increases to +6.

18th – Truthsense: Whenever a creature that you can hear and see speaks truth to the best of its knowledge with no attempt at evasion, concealment, or creative wording, you automatically recognize that. You do not recognize truth in this way if a creature is using the Deception skill in any way, even if it is speaking the truth.

Spellsword [Magical, Spell]

Prerequisite: Access to a mystic sphere.

1st – ⚡ Magical Strikes: Whenever you make a melee strike, you can choose to treat it as a magical ⚡ ability. When you do, you use your magical power to determine your damage instead of your mundane power (see Power, page 33).

1st – ⚡ Energized Weaponry: Whenever you deal damage with a spell, your melee strikes briefly deal damage of that type in addition to their normal damage types. In addition, you can cast spells using a non-Projectile weapon as if it were an implement (see Implements, page 207).

6th – ⚡ Spellstrike: You can use the spellstrike ability as a standard action.

Spellstrike ⚡

After you use this ability, you increase your fatigue level by one, and you briefly cannot use it again.

You cast a spell and make a melee strike, in either order. Because this is a magical ⚡ ability, you use your magical power to determine your damage with the strike instead of your mundane power (see Power, page 33). The spell and the strike must affect completely different targets, with no overlap between their targets or areas (if any). You cannot use the desperate exertion ability to affect the strike or the spell.

Level 9: You gain a +1 accuracy bonus with the strike.

Level 12: The accuracy bonus increases to +2.

Level 15: The accuracy bonus increases to +4.

Level 18: The strike deals double weapon damage.

18th – ⚡ Spellsword Conduit+: The accuracy bonus increases to +4.

Spellwarped ⚡ [General, Magical]

Prerequisite: Willpower 2.

1st – ⚡ Mystic Sphere: You gain the ability to use arcane magic. You gain access to one arcane mystic sphere, plus the universal mystic sphere (see Arcane Mystic Spheres, page 244). Each mystic sphere has a set of spells associated with it. You automatically learn all cantrips from the mystic sphere you have access to.

You require both verbal components and somatic components to cast spells from your chosen sphere. For details about mystic spheres and casting spells, see Spell and Ritual Mechanics, page 43.

3rd – ⚡ Spell Rank: You become a rank 1 spellcaster in your chosen mystic sphere. You learn one spell from that mystic sphere. In addition, you can spend insight points to learn one additional arcane spell per insight point. Unless otherwise noted in a spell's description, casting a spell requires a standard action.

When you gain access to a spell rank, you can exchange any number of spells you know for other spells, including spells of the higher rank.

6th – ⚡ Spell Knowledge: You learn one spell from your mystic sphere.

6th – ⚡ Spell Rank: You become a rank 2 spellcaster in your chosen mystic sphere. This gives you access to spells that require a minimum rank of 2.

9th – ⚡ Spell Rank: You become a rank 3 spellcaster in your chosen mystic sphere. This gives you access to spells that require a minimum rank of 3 and can improve the effectiveness of your existing spells.

12th – ⚡ Spell Knowledge: You learn one spell from your mystic sphere.

12th – ⚡ Spell Rank: You become a rank 4 spellcaster in your chosen mystic sphere. This gives you access to spells that require a minimum rank of 4 and can improve the effectiveness of your existing spells.

15th – ⚡ Spell Rank: You become a rank 5 spellcaster in your chosen mystic sphere. This gives you access to spells that require a minimum rank of 5 and can improve the effectiveness of your existing spells.

18th – ⚡ Spell Knowledge: You learn one spell from your mystic sphere.

18th – ⚡ Spell Rank: You become a rank 6 spellcaster in your chosen mystic sphere. This gives you access to spells that require a minimum rank of 6 and can improve the effectiveness of your existing spells.

21st – ⚡ Spell Rank: You become a rank 7 spellcaster in your chosen mystic sphere. This gives you access to spells that require a minimum rank of 7 and can improve the effectiveness of your existing spells.

Sphere Focus: Aeromancy ⚡ [Casting, Magical]

Prerequisite: Access to the Aeromancy mystic sphere.

1st – ★ Distant Winds: You gain a +15 foot bonus to your range with ranged spells from the Aeromancy mystic sphere. This does not affect spells that do not have a range listed in feet.

6th – ★ Windborne Spell: You learn an additional spell. The spell can be up to rank 3, even if you do not have access to rank 3 spells. When you cast that spell, choose a location within Short (30 ft.) range of you. The spell takes effect as if you were in the chosen location. This affects your line of effect for the ability, but not your line of sight (since you still see from your normal location).

When you gain access to new spell ranks, you can change which spell you know with this ability, including spells with a higher rank.

12th – ★ Airborne: You gain a fly speed equal to the base speed for your size with a maximum height of 30 feet (see Flight, page 55). As a free action, you can increase your fatigue level by one to ignore this height limit until the end of the round.

18th – ★ Distant Winds+: The range bonus from your distant winds ability increases to +60 feet.

Sphere Focus: Aquamancy ★ [Casting, Magical]

Prerequisite: Access to the Aquamancy mystic sphere.

1st – ★ Aquatic Propulsion: Once per round, when you make an attack with a spell from the Aquamancy mystic sphere, you can push yourself up to 10 feet. You can use this ability with strikes using natural weapons from that sphere, such as from the aqueous tentacle spell. The attack does not have to hit for you to use this ability.

6th – ★ Bubble Spell: You learn an additional spell. The spell can be up to rank 3, even if you do not have access to rank 3 spells. When you cast that spell, you can imbue it in a Small bubble of water that appears in your space. If you do, the spell does not take effect immediately, and you choose a location within Medium (60 ft.) range of you. The bubble floats 15 feet through the air towards your chosen destination during each subsequent phase. It pops when it reaches its destination or hits an intervening obstacle. As normal for simultaneous actions, creatures cannot dodge the bubble by moving away in the same phase that it would reach them.

When the bubble pops, the spell takes effect at the bubble's location as if you were there. A targeted spell only targets the creature or object that the bubble popped on. Area spells must have their point of origin where the bubble popped, but you can otherwise control their direction normally. This affects your line of effect for the ability, but not your line of sight (since you still see from your normal location).

When you gain access to new spell ranks, you can change which spell you know with this ability, including spells with a higher rank.

12th – ★ Partially Liquid: You gain a +4 bonus to the Flexibility skill. In addition, you gain a +4 bonus to your defenses when determining whether a strike gets a critical hit against you instead of a normal hit.

18th – ★ Partially Liquid+: You are immune to critical hits from strikes.

Sphere Focus: Astromancy ★ [Casting, Magical]

Prerequisite: Access to the Astromancy mystic sphere.

1st – ★ Astral Spell Transit: You gain a +15 foot bonus to your range with abilities from the Astromancy mystic sphere.

6th – ★ Transposing Spell: You learn an additional targeted spell. The spell can be up to rank 3, even if you do not have access to rank 3 spells. When you cast the spell on a Large or smaller creature, you can switch places with the target. This requires an attack vs. Mental if the target is not an ally. When you switch places, you teleport into the target's location, and it teleports into your location. If the teleportation is invalid for either target, it fails for both targets.

When you gain access to new spell ranks, you can change which spell you know with this ability, including spells with a higher rank.

12th – ★ Efficient Transit: You learn how to transport creatures and objects more smoothly between planes. The difficulty value to hear noise caused by creatures and objects you teleport increases by 10 (see Teleportation Noise, page 46). In addition, whenever you fail to teleport a creature or object due to specifying an invalid destination, you may immediately specify a different destination for that ability. If that second destination is also invalid, the ability fails normally.

18th – ★ Astral Spell Transit+: The range increase from your astral spell transit ability increases to +30 feet. In addition, you gain a +15 foot bonus to your range with all magical ★ abilities that are not from the Astromancy mystic sphere.

Sphere Focus: Channel Divinity ★ [Casting, Magi-cal]

Prerequisite: Access to the Channel Divinity mystic sphere.

1st – ★ Aspect of Divinity: You gain a magic bonus equal to your level to your hit points and damage resistance.

6th – ★ Judging Spell: You learn an additional spell. The spell can be up to rank 3, even if you do not have access to rank 3 spells. When you cast the spell, each non-ally affected by it briefly takes a -1 bonus to all defenses. This penalty also affect any attacks made by the spell itself. If the spell did not affect any non-ally creatures, you briefly gain a +1 bonus to all defenses.

When you gain access to new spell ranks, you can change which spell you know with this ability, including spells with a higher rank.

12th – ★ Font of Divinity: Choose a spell with the Attune tag from the channel divinity mystic sphere that is not a deep attunement. When you attune to that spell, you may also choose one ally within Medium (60 ft.) range. That ally can also choose to attune to the spell, and you both gain its benefits. When you stop attuning to that spell, your ally is also forced to stop attuning to the spell.

Since you cannot attune to the same spell more than once, you cannot share the effects of the spell with more than one ally at a time in this way. You can change which spell you choose with this ability whenever you learn a new spell or gain access to a new spell rank.

18th – ★ Greater Aspect of Divinity: The bonus from your aspect of divinity ability increases to twice your level.

Sphere Focus: Chronomancy ★ [Casting, Magical]

Prerequisite: Access to the Chronomancy mystic sphere.

1st – ★ Accelerated Mind: You can perform primarily mental tasks more quickly as normal. Mundane mental actions that would normally take a standard action instead take a minor action. Long-term activities can be done twice as quickly as normal. This includes reading books, searching areas, and other similar activities. It does not affect spellcasting, performing rituals, or other similar magical abilities.

6th – ★ Quickened Chronomancy: You learn an additional spell from the Chronomancy mystic sphere. The spell can be up to rank 3, even if you do not have access to rank 3 spells. You can cast the spell as a minor action. When you do, you briefly become slowed (half speed, -2 Armor and Ref) and cannot take standard actions.

When you gain access to new spell ranks, you can change which spell you know with this ability, including spells with a higher rank.

12th – ★ Thief of Time: Whenever you cast a spell from the Chronomancy mystic sphere that deals damage to another creature or causes another creature to be slowed (half speed, -2 Armor and Ref), you briefly gain a +20 foot bonus to your land speed.

18th – ★ Accelerated Mind+: Once per round, you can perform a purely mental action that would normally require a minor action as a free action. This can be used to sustain spells or perform other magical feats. However, you cannot use the same ability twice in the same round. In addition, the speed increase for long-term tasks from your accelerated mind ability increases to five times normal speed.

Sphere Focus: Cryomancy ★ [Casting, Magical]

Prerequisite: Access to the Cryomancy mystic sphere.

1st – ★ Frozen Blood: You are impervious to cold damage, poisons, and diseases.

6th – ★ Icy Carapace: You learn the icy shell spell, or another spell from the Cryomancy mystic sphere if you already know that spell. In addition, the number of layers you can create with icy shell increases by one.

12th – ★ Frozen Blood+: You are immune to cold damage, poisons, and diseases.

18th – ★ Icy Carapace+: The number of bonus layers you gain from your icy carapace ability increases to two.

Sphere Focus: Electromancy ★ [Casting, Magical]

Prerequisite: Access to the Electromancy mystic sphere.

1st – ★ Electricity Tolerance: You are impervious to electricity damage.

1st – ★ Extended Chain: The distance that your abilities can chain is increased to 30 feet instead of 15 feet.

6th – ★ Chaining Spell: You learn an additional targeted spell. The spell can be up to rank 3, even if you do not have access to rank 3 spells. It chains one additional time, even if it did not originally chain.

When you gain access to new spell ranks, you can change which spell you know with this ability, including spells with a higher rank.

12th – ★ Electricity Immunity: You are immune to electricity damage.

12th – ★ Static Buildup: Whenever you use the sprint ability, you gain a +2 accuracy bonus with your next spell from the Electromancy mystic sphere. This bonus disappears if not used before the end of the next round.

18th – ★ Extra Chain: All of your targeted Electromancy spells chain one additional time, even if they did not originally chain. If your chaining spell ability affects a non-Electromancy spell, it also chains two additional times instead of only one.

Sphere Focus: Enchantment ★ [Casting, Magical]

Prerequisite: Access to the Enchantment mystic sphere.

1st – ★ Hidden Influence: You gain a +4 accuracy bonus with spells from the Enchantment mystic sphere against unaware (-6 Armor and Ref) creatures. In addition, the difficulty value to observe the effects of your Emotion abilities with the Awareness and Social Insight skills increases by 10 (see Notice Subtle Effect, page ??, and Discern Enchantment, page ??).

6th – ★ Mind Fragments: When you use Compulsion and Emotion abilities, you can affect creatures that are immune to those abilities due to not having a mind. You treat them as being impervious (+4 defenses) instead of immune. This does not allow you to affect creatures who are immune to those abilities for other reasons.

12th – ★ Sympathetic Enchantment: You learn an additional targeted spell from the Enchantment mystic sphere. The spell can be up to rank 5, even if you do not have access to rank 5 spells.

When you cast that spell, you can spend a minor action to sympathetically link yourself to the spell's targets. If you do, you are target of that spell in addition to any other targets. In exchange, you roll all attacks for that spell twice, keeping the higher result.

When you gain access to new spell ranks, you can change which spell you know with this ability, including spells with a higher rank.

18th – Hidden Influence+: The accuracy bonus from your subtle influence ability also applies against partially unaware (50% miss chance, -2 Armor and Ref) creatures. In addition, the difficulty value increase from that ability increases to +20.

18th – Mind Fragments+: You no longer treat those creatures as being impervious.

Sphere Focus: Fabrication ✨ [Casting, Magical]

Prerequisite: Access to the Fabrication mystic sphere.

1st – Fabricate Trinket+: The maximum size of the trinket you can create with your fabricate trinket cantrip increases by one size category. You can also cast it with the Sustain (minor) tag. If you do, it lasts as long as you sustain it, and does not remove any previous trinkets you created with that cantrip.

1st – Mighty Creator: You can use your power in place of your Craft skill to create items with spells from the Fabrication mystic sphere.

6th – Fabricated Armaments: You gain a +1 accuracy bonus with strikes using weapons you created with spells from the Fabrication mystic sphere. In addition, you gain a +1 bonus to the Armor defense provided by body armor from the Fabrication mystic sphere.

12th – Overbuilt Fabrication: You learn an additional spell from the Fabrication mystic sphere. The spell can be up to rank 5, even if you do not have access to rank 5 spells. When you cast the spell, you can spend a minor action to expand its construction. If you do, the spell's area is doubled, and the hit points of any objects the spell creates are also doubled.

When you gain access to new spell ranks, you can change which spell you know with this ability, including spells with a higher rank.

18th – Fabricate Trinket+: The size increase from your fabricate trinket+ ability increases to two size categories.

18th – Fabricated Armaments+: The accuracy bonus from your fabricated armaments ability increases to +2.

Sphere Focus: Photomancy ✨ [Casting, Magical]

Prerequisite: Access to the Photomancy mystic sphere.

1st – Scour Vision: Whenever you cause a creature to become dazzled (20% miss chance, no special vision) with a spell from the Photomancy mystic sphere, you briefly become invisible to that creature. This works even if the creature was already dazzled. The creature can still see everything other than you normally.

6th – Hardlight Photomancy: You learn an additional spell from the Photomancy mystic sphere that does not have the Sustain or Attune tags. The spell can be up to rank 3, even if you do not have access to rank 3 spells. When you cast the spell, you can spend a minor action to solidify the spell's light.

If you do, any damage dealt by the spell is bludgeoning damage in addition to its other damage types. In addition, the edges of any areas of brilliant illumination created by the spell become physical barriers. These barriers provide cover against attacks made across them, though they cannot be destroyed by damage. Moving through the barriers costs an additional ten feet of movement. The barriers are only at the edges of the brilliant illumination, so this does not affect movement or attacks entirely within or entirely outside of the illuminated area.

When you gain access to new spell ranks, you can change which spell you know with this ability, including spells with a higher rank.

12th – Solar Beacon: Whenever you make a creature lose hit points with a spell from the Photomancy mystic sphere, that creature suffers consequences as if it had been struck by a beam of natural sunlight. This can be deadly for some creatures.

12th – Unwavering Sight: You are immune to being dazzled (20% miss chance, no special vision) and blinded (50% miss chance, -2 Armor and Ref).

18th – Piercing Sight: You can see through solid objects and spell effects up to one inch thick. You can perceive the existence of obstacles thinner than that, but they do not inhibit your sight. This does not grant you line of effect to anything you see in this way, since the obstacle still exists.

Sphere Focus: Polymorph ✨ [Casting, Magical]

Prerequisite: Access to the Polymorph mystic sphere.

1st – Augmented Body: You can use the augmented body ability whenever you finish a short rest.

Augmented Body ✨

Attune (deep)

Choose a physical attribute: Strength, Dexterity, or Constitution. You gain a +1 magic bonus to that attribute.

6th – Fleshbending Spell: You learn an additional spell. The spell can be up to rank 3, even if you do not have access to rank 3 spells. When you attack with the spell, if your attack beats a living creature's Fortitude defense, it takes a -4 penalty to its other defenses against that spell.

When you gain access to new spell ranks, you can change which spell you know with this ability, including spells with a higher rank.

12th – Malleable Flesh: You gain a +4 bonus to the Flexibility skill. In addition, you gain a +4 bonus to your defenses when determining whether a strike gets a critical hit against you instead of a normal hit.

18th – Augmented Body+: The bonus from your augmented body increases to +2.

Sphere Focus: Prayer ✨ [Casting, Magical]

Prerequisite: Access to the Prayer mystic sphere.

1st – Shared Boon: When you cast a targeted spell from the Prayer mystic sphere that does not have the Sustain or Attune tags on a single ally, you can target an additional ally within range.

6th – Sustained Blessing: Whenever you cast a spell from the Prayer mystic sphere with the Attune (target) tag that is not a deep attunement, you can choose to replace that tag with the Sustain (minor) tag. When you do, you must cast the spell as a standard action, even if it could normally be cast as a minor action. You can only apply this ability to one spell at a time.

12th – ★Sustained Blessing+: When you used your sustained blessing ability, you can replace the tag with Sustain (free) instead of Sustain (minor). You can still only sustain one spell in this way at a time.

18th – ★Shared Boon+: When you use your shared boon ability, you can also target yourself or a third ally within range.

Sphere Focus: Pyromancy ★ [Casting, Magical]

Prerequisite: Access to the Pyromancy mystic sphere.

1st – ★Spreading Flame: Whenever you cast a spell from the Pyromancy mystic sphere with a standard area, you can increase its area to the next standard area category, to a maximum of a Gargantuan area. If you do, the spell deals no damage against targets that it misses, even if it would normally deal half damage. The standard area categories are: Small (15 ft.), Medium (30 ft.), Large (60 ft.), Huge (90 ft.), and Gargantuan (120 ft.).

1st – ★Fire Tolerance: You are impervious to fire damage.

6th – ★Overheated Pyromancy: You learn an additional spell from the Pyromancy mystic sphere. The spell can be up to rank 3, even if you do not have access to rank 3 spells. When you cast the spell, you can spend a minor action to briefly overheat the spell. You roll all attacks for an overheated spell twice, keeping the higher result. After using this ability, you briefly cannot use it again and are vulnerable (-4 defenses) to cold damage.

When you gain access to new spell ranks, you can change which spell you know with this ability, including spells with a higher rank.

12th – ★Friendly Fire: Whenever you deal fire damage to your allies, you deal half damage.

12th – ★Fire Immunity: You are immune to fire damage.

18th – ★Spreading Flame+: When you use your spreading flame ability, you can still get a glancing blow with the spell.

Sphere Focus: Revelation ★ [Casting, Magical]

Prerequisite: Access to the Revelation mystic sphere.

1st – ★Oracle: Once per long rest, you can gain the benefit of the augury ritual as a standard action. Using this ability does not increase your fatigue level.

6th – ★Prescient Spell: You learn an additional spell. The spell can be up to rank 3, even if you do not have access to rank 3 spells. As a minor action, you can foresee the future of casting that spell. When you do, roll 1d10 and record the result. If you cast the spell, then the first time you attack with it this round, you must use this die result for the attack roll. This does not tell you whether your attack will hit, only how your roll will be. A 10 explodes as normal, but only when you actually cast the spell and make the attack, not when foreseeing the future. If you don't like the result, you can simply choose not to cast the spell this round, and the die result is ignored. Either way, you briefly cannot use this ability again.

When you gain access to new spell ranks, you can change which spell you know with this ability, including spells with a higher rank.

12th – ★Blind Seer: You gain blindsense with a 90 foot range (see Blindsight, page 385). If you already have blindsense, you increase its range by 90 feet. In addition, you gain blindsight with a 30 foot range, allowing you to see without light (see Blindsight, page 385). If you already have blindsight, the range of your blindsight increases by 30 feet.

18th – ★Oracle+: You can use your oracle ability once per short rest instead of once per long rest.

Sphere Focus: Summoning ★ [Casting, Magical]

Prerequisite: Access to the Summoning mystic sphere.

1st – ★Empower Summon: You can use the empower summon ability as a minor action.

Empower Summon ★

Swift

Choose one creature within Medium (60 ft.) range that you created with a spell from the Summoning mystic sphere. That creature gains a +2 bonus to its accuracy and defenses this round.

6th – ★Resummon: You can use the resummon ability as a standard action.

Resummon ★

After you use this ability, you increase your fatigue level by one.

Choose a spell from the Summoning mystic sphere that you are still attuned to, even if all creatures created by that spell are dead. All effects of that spell, including any active creatures, immediately end. Then, you recreate all creatures from that spell as if you had just cast it. Those creatures do not act until the next round.

12th – ★Generosity: Whenever you attune to an item or spell that is not a deep attunement, you may use this ability. If you do, all creatures you create with the Summoning mystic sphere gain the benefit of all magic bonuses from the chosen item or spell. It still affects you normally. You may only choose one attunement with this ability at a time.

12th – ★Resummon+: You can use your resummon ability as a minor action.

18th – ★Empower Summon+: The bonuses from your empower summon ability increase to +4.

Sphere Focus: Telekinesis ★ [Casting, Magical]

Prerequisite: Access to the Telekinesis mystic sphere.

1st – ★Efficient Hand: You can cast the distant hand cantrip as a minor action, and you can sustain it as a free action. In addition, the distance you can move the object increases to 30 feet, as if you had that spell's rank 4 upgrade.

6th – ★Telekinetic Strike: You can use the telekinetic strike ability as a standard action.

Telekinetic Strike ✶

Choose a weapon you are proficient with and currently controlling using the distant hand cantrip. Make a melee strike with a +2 accuracy bonus using that weapon. The strike comes from the weapon's location, not your location. Because this is a magical ✶ ability, you use your magical power to determine your damage instead of your mundane power (see Power, page 33).

Level 9: The accuracy bonus increases to +4.

Level 12: The accuracy bonus increases to +6.

Level 15: The accuracy bonus is reduced to +2, but the strike deals double weapon damage.

Level 18: The accuracy bonus increases to +4.

12th – ✶ Kinetic Spell: You learn an additional spell. The spell can be up to rank 5, even if you do not have access to rank 5 spells. Whenever you cast that spell, you can spend a minor action to briefly imbue it with kinetic force. All damage dealt by a kinetic spell is bludgeoning damage in addition to its other types. In addition, when the spell deals damage to a Huge or smaller target, you knockback that target 15 feet away from you. You can only knockback any individual creature or object once per round. After using this ability, you briefly cannot use it again.

When you gain access to new spell ranks, you can change which spell you know with this ability, including spells with a higher rank.

18th – ✶ Multiple Hands: When you use the distant hand cantrip, you can create two hands instead of one. This can allow you to hold multiple objects simultaneously, though you must still take separate actions to manipulate those objects in any way more complicated than simple movement. Alternately, you can hold a single object with two hands instead of one. This gives you a +1 bonus to your Willpower for the purpose of determining your weight limits, and allows you to make two-handed attacks with Heavy and Versatile Grip weapons using your telekinetic strike ability.

Sphere Focus: Terramancy ✶ [Casting, Magical]

Prerequisite: Access to the Terramancy mystic sphere.

1st – ✶ Earthen Alloys: You may treat iron, steel, and worked stone as if they were unworked stone for the purpose of spells from the Terramancy mystic sphere.

6th – ✶ Rocky Carapace: You learn the rocky shell spell, or another spell from the Terramancy mystic sphere if you already know that spell. In addition, the number of layers you can create with that spell increases by one.

12th – ✶ Earthen Alloys+: You may treat dirt, sand, glass, and all kinds of metal except for cold iron and adamantine as if they were unworked stone for the purpose of spells from the Terramancy mystic sphere.

18th – ✶ Rocky Carapace+: The number of bonus layers you gain from your rocky carapace ability increases to two.

Sphere Focus: Thaumaturgy ✶ [Casting, Magical]

Prerequisite: Access to the Thaumaturgy mystic sphere.

1st – ✶ Mystic Power: You gain a +1 bonus to your mystical power.

6th – ✶ Invented Spell: You learn an additional spell from any mystic sphere, even a mystic sphere you do not have access to. The spell can be up to rank 3, even if you do not have access to rank 3 spells. When you learn the spell, you can replace one damage type dealt by the spell with energy damage or any energy damage subtype: cold, electricity, or fire. In addition, you can replace one defense that the spell attacks with any one other defense not already referenced by the spell.

When you gain access to new spell ranks, you can change which spell you know with this ability, including spells with a higher rank.

12th – ✶ Countermagic: You can use the countermagic ability as a standard action.

Countermagic ✶

Swift

Choose a creature within Medium (60 ft.) range of you. If the target uses a magical ✶ ability as a standard action this round, that ability has no effect. When you negate an ability in this way, if that ability's rank was higher than your maximum rank, you increase your fatigue level by one. After you use this ability, you briefly cannot use it again, whether or not it actually negated a magical effect.

If a creature is capable of using multiple abilities during a single phase, only the first ability it uses can be countered. This is common for elite monsters.

18th – ✶ Mystic Power+: The bonus from your mystic power ability increases to +2.

Sphere Focus: Toxicology ✶ [Casting, Magical]

Prerequisite: Access to the Toxicology mystic sphere.

1st – ✶ Poisonous Blood: Whenever you become poisoned by a contact or ingestion poison, such as by drinking poison or from an enemy's attack, your body naturally repurposes the poison. The poison has no effect on you, but your body gains a dose of natural poison. This has no effect on injury-based poisons, which affect you normally without being absorbed.

Whenever a living creature makes you lose hit points with a melee strike using a non-Long weapon, you may have that creature become poisoned by your choice of one of the poisons you store with this ability. This expends the dose of that poison.

Poisons that you carry in your body with this ability automatically decay after 24 hours, regardless of the normal duration of the poison. You can store up to 3 doses in your body with this ability at a time.

6th – ✶ Venomous Spell: You learn an additional spell. The spell can be up to rank 3, even if you do not have access to rank 3 spells. Whenever you damage a living creature with that spell, you can cause the creature to become poisoned with your choice of one of the poisons you store with your poisonous blood ability. This expends the dose of that poison. You can poison multiple creatures simultaneously in this way, but it costs one poison dose per creature affected.

When you gain access to new spell ranks, you can change which spell you know with this ability, including spells with a higher rank.

12th – ✨ Poisonous Blood+: You can store up to 6 poison doses with your poisonous blood ability. In addition, you become immune to all poisons that you do not absorb with that ability.

18th – ✨ Bloodstream Corruption: Whenever you make a living creature lose hit points with a Toxicology spell or your venomous spell, that creature becomes vulnerable (-4 defenses) to all poisons as a condition.

Sphere Focus: Umbramancy ✨ [Casting, Magical]

Prerequisite: Access to the Umbramancy mystic sphere.

1st – ✨ Lightbane: You can cast the suppress light cantrip from the Umbramancy mystic sphere as a minor action, and you can sustain it as a free action.

6th – ✨ Shadowspell: You learn an additional spell. The spell can be up to rank 3, even if you do not have access to rank 3 spells. You gain a +2 accuracy bonus with that spell against shadowed targets. This stacks with any existing bonus the spell has against shadowed targets.

When you gain access to new spell ranks, you can change which spell you know with this ability, including spells with a higher rank.

12th – ✨ Shadow Jumper: While you are shadowed, the distance you can teleport with spells from the Umbramancy mystic sphere is doubled.

18th – ✨ Lightbane+: When you cast your suppress light cantrip, you can choose to completely block all light in the area instead of dimming it to be shadowy illumination. If you do, the maximum area is reduced to a Medium (30 ft.) radius, and you briefly cannot cast it in this way again.

Sphere Focus: Verdamancy ✨ [Casting, Magical]

Prerequisite: Access to the Verdamancy mystic sphere.

1st – ✨ Verdant Allies: Your speed is not reduced when moving in heavy undergrowth. In addition, you can ignore cover and concealment from plants whenever doing so would be beneficial to you, as the plants move out of the way to help you. This prevents you from suffering a miss chance on your attacks, and also prevents creatures from using cover or concealment from plants to hide from you.

6th – ✨ Residual Undergrowth: Whenever you cast a spell from the verdamancy sphere, you may create either light undergrowth or heavy undergrowth in the area of the spell. The undergrowth persists briefly. It appears on the ground within the area for area spells, or on the ground in all spaces occupied by each target of the spell for targeted spells.

12th – ✨ Lifeweb Spell: You learn an additional spell. The spell can be up to rank 5, even if you do not have access to rank 5 spells. Whenever you cast that spell, you can choose another Small or larger plant or living creature within Medium (60 ft.) range of you. The spell takes effect as if you were in that plant or creature's space. This affects your line of effect for the ability, but not your line of sight (since you still see from your normal location).

When you gain access to new spell ranks, you can change which spell you know with this ability, including spells with a higher rank.

18th – ✨ Verdant Army: Your allies within a Large (60 ft.) radius emanation from you also gain the benefit of your verdant allies ability.

Sphere Focus: Vivimancy ✨ [Casting, Magical]

Prerequisite: Access to the Vivimancy mystic sphere.

1st – ✨ Hidden Life: You can treat nonliving creatures other than undead as if they were living creatures for the purpose of your abilities from the Vivimancy mystic sphere.

1st – ✨ Personal Vitality: You gain a bonus equal to your level to your hit points.

6th – ✨ Soulscar Spell: You learn an additional spell that does not have the Attune or Sustain tags. The spell can be up to rank 3, even if you do not have access to rank 3 spells. Any hit point loss that would be inflicted on a living creature by the spell is doubled. However, whenever you cast the spell, you lose hit points equal to its rank.

When you gain access to new spell ranks, you can change which spell you know with this ability, including spells with a higher rank.

12th – ✨ Life Suppression: You are no longer considered a living creature for the purpose of attacks against you. This means that attacks which only affect living creatures have no effect against you.

18th – ✨ Personal Vitality+: The hit point bonus increases to twice your level.

Stealth Specialization [Skill]

Prerequisite: Stealth as a trained skill.

1st – Specialization: You gain a +3 bonus to the Stealth skill.

6th – Mobile Stealth: Your penalties for moving while hiding are reduced by 5. This allows you to move at half speed without penalty.

12th – Specialization+: The bonus from your specialization ability increases to +6.

18th – Ambush the Unwary: You gain a +2 accuracy bonus against unaware (-6 Armor and Ref) and partially unaware (50% miss chance, -2 Armor and Ref) creatures.

Survival Specialization [Skill]

Prerequisite: Survival as a trained skill.

1st – Specialization: You gain a +3 bonus to the Survival skill.

6th – Terrain Tolerance: You ignore difficult terrain and harmful natural terrain of any kind. If a skill check, such as Climb or Swim, would normally be required to move through the terrain, this ability does not help.

12th – Specialization+: The bonus from your specialization ability increases to +6.

18th – ✨ Planar Survival: You are immune to damage and conditions imposed by being on other planes. In addition, you gain a +5 bonus to checks and defenses related to planar effects, such as checks required to manipulate subjective gravity.

Swiftrunner [General]

Prerequisite: Dexterity 3.

1st – Sprinter: When you use the sprint ability, you can move up to triple your movement speed.

6th – Rapid Movement: You gain a +10 foot bonus to your land speed.

6th – Water Runner: During your movement with the sprint ability, you can move on water and similar liquids as if they were solid ground.

12th – Long-Distance Runner: You gain a +2 bonus to your fatigue tolerance.

18th – Cloud Runner: During your movement with the sprint ability, you can move on clouds, fog, and similar gaseous substances as if they were solid ground.

18th – Rapid Movement+: The speed bonus from your rapid movement ability increases to +20 feet.

Swim Specialization [Skill]

Prerequisite: Swim as a trained skill.

1st – Specialization: You gain a +3 bonus to the Swim skill.

6th – Swim Speed: You gain a swim speed 10 feet slower than the base speed for your size. If you already have a swim speed, you gain a +10 foot bonus to your swim speed. A successful Swim check to move allows you to move a distance equal to your swim speed.

12th – Specialization+: The bonus from your specialization ability increases to +6.

18th – Earth Swimmer: You can swim through loose earth and dirt as if it were water. Your swim speed in earth is 10 feet, regardless of any bonuses or penalties that would normally apply to your swim speed. In addition, you take a -4 penalty to accuracy and your Armor and Reflex defenses while swimming in this way. The earth and dirt around you blocks line of sight and line of effect, so you usually cannot used ranged attacks of any kind.

Telepath ✨ [General, Magical]

Prerequisite: Intelligence and Willpower sum to at least 3

1st – ✨ Telepathy: You gain telepathy with a 120 foot range (see Telepathy, page 386). If you already have telepathy, the range of your telepathy increases by 120 feet.

6th – ✨ Mental Assault: You can use the mental assault ability as a standard action.

Mental Assault ✨

Compulsion

Make an attack vs. Mental against one creature within half the maximum range of your telepathy. You use your full Intelligence or Willpower in place of half your Perception to determine your accuracy with this attack (see Accuracy, page 33).

Hit: 1d6 psychic damage +1 per 2 power. If the target loses hit points from this damage, it becomes stunned (-2 defenses) as a condition.

Level 9: The damage bonus from your power increases to 1d6 per 4 power (minimum 1d6).

Level 12: The base damage increases to 1d10.

Level 15: The damage bonus increases to 1d6 per 3 power.

Level 18: The target is confused (-2 defenses, randomly attack or defend) instead of stunned.

12th – ✨ Read Mind: You can use the read mind ability as a standard action.

Read Mind ✨

Emotion, Subtle, Sustain (standard)

Make an attack vs. Mental against a creature within half the maximum range of your telepathy. You use your full Intelligence or Willpower in place of half your Perception to determine your accuracy with this attack (see Accuracy, page 33). Whether you hit or miss, you cannot attack the target with this ability again until it finishes a short rest.

Hit: You know the target's current thoughts and emotions. In addition to the obvious effects, this grants you a +5 bonus to Deception, Persuasion, Intimidate, and Social Insight attacks and checks against the target. This bonus does not stack with other effects that allow you access to the target's mind, such as read emotions. You cannot directly search the target's mind for arbitrary thoughts or information. However, creatures often think about questions they are asked, and their thoughts may reveal much more than their words.

Critical hit: You can also delve through the target's mind to answer a specific question. You can pose a question to it mentally and search its mind to know the exact answer to that question. This takes five rounds of continuous concentration, and you can only get answers to one such question each time you use this ability. The process of searching a creature's mind in this way is no easier to notice than normal for a Subtle ability.

You gain a +2 accuracy bonus for every 3 levels beyond 12.

12th – ✨ Telepathy+: You can maintain mental channels with up to 5 creatures at once with your telepathy. You can send separate thoughts to each creature.

18th – ✨ Mindsight: You can perfectly see intelligent creatures within the maximum range of your telepathy. This functions like blindsight, except that it only allows you to see creatures with an Intelligence of 0 or higher.

18th – ⭐ Telepathy++: The range of your telepathy increases by 120 feet.

Toughness [General]

Prerequisite: Constitution 2.

1st – Fortified Body: You gain a +2 bonus to Fortitude defense. In addition, you reduce your encumbrance by 1.

6th – Durable: You gain a bonus equal to your level to your hit points.

12th – Fortified Body+: The defense bonus from your fortified body ability increases to +4. In addition, you need half the normal amount of rest and sleep each day to function normally. For example, a human would only need four hours of sleep per night. This does not reduce the time required for you to take a long rest.

18th – Durable+: The hit point bonus increases to twice your level.

Twinhand Spellcaster ⭐ [Casting, Magical]

Prerequisite: Dexterity 2.

1st – ⭐ Twinhand Precision: You can always choose to use somatic components to cast your spells (see Casting Components, page 43). As long as you have two free hands, you gain a +1 accuracy bonus with spells that you cast using somatic components.

6th – ⭐ Freehand Implement: You can gain the benefits of up to two magical implements, such as staves or wands, without having to hold them in your hands. You must still have them on your person, such as in a pocket or strapped to your back, and you must still be attuned to them to gain their benefits. In addition, if your legacy item is an apparel item, you may choose both apparel and implement magic item effects for it.

12th – ⭐ Twinspell: You can use the twinspell ability as a standard action.

Twinspell ⭐

You can only use this ability if you have two free hands. After you use this ability, you increase your fatigue level by two.

Choose two spells that you know. You cast both spells simultaneously, one with each hand. This gives the spells somatic components, regardless of any other effects which would normally prevent you from requiring somatic components. Both spells must affect completely different targets, with no overlap between their targets or areas (if any). You cannot use the desperate exertion ability to affect either spell.

18th – ⭐ Twinhand Precision+: The bonus from your twinhand precision ability increases to +2.

Twin-Weapon Fighting [Combat]

Prerequisite: Dexterity 2.

1st – Twin-Wielding: You are considered to be twin-wielding while two of your hands are each wielding an identical weapon that you are proficient with. Each hand must hold a different weapon, rather than simply holding a heavy weapon in two hands. You can use natural weapons to meet this condition, such as claws, as long as your hand is exclusively dedicated to using the natural weapon and not holding or being used for anything else. Several abilities from this feat only function while you are twin-wielding.

1st – Paired Precision: You gain a +1 bonus to accuracy with strikes while twin-wielding.

6th – Twin-Weapon Stance: At the start of each round, you can enter one of the stances below or change which stance you are in. You can maintain that stance as long as you are twin-wielding.

- Balanced: You gain a +1 bonus to your Armor defense.
- Deflecting Offhand: You gain a +3 bonus to your Armor defense. However, you cannot make dual wielding attacks. This bonus is considered to come from a shield, and it does not stack with the benefits of using any other shield.
- Offhand Precision: When you make dual wielding attacks, if you miss or glance with one weapon, you gain a +4 accuracy bonus with the second weapon.
- Steady Hands: You gain a +2 bonus to your accuracy with dual wielding strikes. However, you cannot get critical hits with dual wielding strikes.
- Two Weapons As One: You gain a +2 bonus to your accuracy with strikes. However, you cannot make dual wielding strikes.

12th – ⭐ Paired Imbuement: While you are twin-wielding, both of your weapons share all magical ⭐ properties from either weapon.

18th – Paired Precision+: The accuracy bonus increases to +2.

Wardweaver ⭐ [Casting, Magical]

Prerequisite: Knowledge of a spell with the Barrier tag.

1st – ⭐ Hardened Barriers: Objects you create using abilities with the Barrier ability tag gain a bonus equal to your power to their damage resistance. In addition, they treat all damage as being environmental damage, so their damage resistance is never reduced (see Environmental Damage, page 51).

6th – ⭐ Defensive Barriers: You gain a +1 bonus to your Armor defense. In addition, objects you create with Barrier abilities have minimum defenses equal to $5 + \text{half your level}$. If the object already has specific defenses listed, it gains a +2 bonus to those defenses.

12th – ⭐ Barrier Spell: You learn a spell with the Barrier ability tag from any mystic sphere that your magic source gives access to, even if you do not have access to that mystic sphere. When you gain access to new spell ranks, you can change which Barrier spell you know.

18th – ⭐ Defensive Barriers+: Your Armor defense bonus from your defensive barriers ability increases to +2. In addition, objects you create with Barrier abilities gain an additional +2 bonus to their defenses.

18th – ⭐ Hardened Barriers+: The damage resistance bonus from your hardened barriers ability increases to twice your power.

Weapon Focus [Combat]

1st – Focused Weapon: Choose one type of weapon, such as a broadsword. This is your focused weapon, and many abilities from this feat give you benefits with your focused weapon.

1st – Precise Focus: You gain a +1 accuracy bonus with your focused weapon.

6th – Enhanced Legacy: If you choose your focused weapon as your legacy item, you can choose an additional magic item property with a maximum rank of 3.

12th – Precise Focus+: The accuracy bonus increases to +2.

12th – Mighty Focus: You gain a +2 bonus to weapon damage with your focused weapon.

18th – Enhanced Legacy+: You can change the item property, and the maximum rank increases to 7.

Whirlwind Warrior [Combat]

Prerequisite: Dexterity 2.

1st – Unfettered Movement: You can move through spaces occupied by enemies as if they were unoccupied.

6th – Cyclone: You can use the cyclone ability as a standard action.

| Cyclone | Sustain (standard) |
|---|--------------------|
| When you use this ability, make a melee strike with a slashing weapon. The strike targets all enemies adjacent to you. Whenever you sustain this ability, you can move up to half your land speed and make a melee strike with a slashing weapon. The strike targets all enemies adjacent to you at any point during your movement. Miss: Half damage. Level 9: You gain a +1 accuracy bonus with the strike. Level 12: The strike deals 1d6 extra damage. Level 15: The extra damage increases to 1d6 per 4 power. Level 18: The extra damage increases to 1d6 per 3 power. | |

12th – Eye of the Storm: You take no penalties for squeezing (-2 Armor and Ref) with other creatures. This does not reduce your penalties for squeezing in tight spaces.

18th – Storm's Heart: You gain a +2 bonus to your Armor and Reflex defenses against creatures that you are sharing space with.

Appendix D

Optional Rules

Attributes

Other Methods of Attribute Generation

Point buy offers the fairest and most customizable system for determining attribute scores, ensuring that players can be almost any character they want to be. However, some groups may wish to determine attribute scores differently. Other options are provided below.

Simple Random Point Buy

With this method, you have only a small degree of control over your attribute scores, but all characters generated in this way are equally powerful. As with the point buy method, all your attribute scores start at 0, and you get 15 points to distribute among your attribute scores. However, you do not have full control over how to distribute those points.

For each attribute, starting with the attributes you care about most, roll 1d8. You spend that many points on that attribute, ignoring any extra points that can't be spent. For example, if you roll a 4, you spend 3 points on the attribute, causing you to start with a 2. If you do not have enough points remaining to spend the amount indicated by the die roll, spend as many as you can and move on to the next attribute.

If you have points remaining after rolling all of your attribute scores, you may distribute the points freely among your abilities, using the normal point buy rules. You cannot increase the starting value of any individual attribute by more than 1 during this stage. If any of your attributes start as a 0, you may choose to lower them to gain the normal benefits from having low attributes (see Attribute Penalties, page 24).

To further limit your character creation options, you may choose to randomize the order in which you roll your attributes instead of rolling them in an order of your choice.

Smoothed Random Point Buy

This method functions like the Simple Random Point Buy method, except that the resulting attribute values have a smoother distribution, and you can randomly end up with attribute penalties.

For each attribute, starting with the attributes you care about most, roll 4d6. Then, remove any one of the rolls after seeing the results. Sum the results of the remaining three dice and spend the appropriate number of attribute points as indicated in Table D.1: Smoothed Random Point Buy Results. If you do not have enough points remaining to spend the amount indicated by the die roll, spend as many as you can and move on to the next ability.

If you have points remaining after rolling all of your attribute scores, you may distribute the points freely among your abilities, using the normal point buy rules. You cannot increase the starting value of any individual attribute by more than 1 during this stage.

To further limit your character creation options, you may choose to randomize the order in which you roll your attributes instead of rolling them in an order of your choice.

Table D.1: Smoothed Random Point Buy Results

| Roll | Base Attribute | Point Cost |
|-------|----------------|----------------|
| 3-4 | -2 | 0 ¹ |
| 5-6 | -1 | 0 ² |
| 7-8 | 0 | 0 |
| 9-10 | 1 | 1 |
| 11-12 | 2 | 3 |
| 13-15 | 3 | 5 |
| 16-18 | 4 | 8 |

1 You gain one insight point.

2 You gain an additional trained skill.

Classic Hardcore

This method is completely random and can generate very overpowered or underpowered characters. It represents the unfairness of the world, where some people are just better or worse than others. For each attribute, roll 2d6, take the average (rounded down), and subtract 2. If you roll a 1 on both dice, treat the average as a 0. The result is your base value for that attribute.

Epic Fates

After 21st level, characters no longer gain levels normally. However, they can still increase their personal power as they make progress towards their ultimate fate.

When you reach 21st level, you may choose an epic fate that you qualify for, or you may delay choosing until you meet the prerequisites for your desired fate. You do not start with any ranks in your chosen epic fate. Each epic fate specifies ways that you can make progress towards that epic fate. Whenever you make dramatic progress towards your epic fate, your rank in that epic fate may increase, at the discretion of the Game Master.

None of the epic fate abilities have a tag to indicate that they are magical ✨ abilities. Many of them are not fundamentally mundane in nature, but they are beyond normal magic, and effects like an antimagic field cannot interact with or suppress them.

Artificial Immortality

You have sought out strange magical power in search of a way to artificially prolong your life. As your power grows, you become increasingly able to resist death and return from it. Eventually, you will transcend death entirely.

Prerequisites: You must perform a series of rituals to prepare yourself for immortality, at least one of which must be rank 7 or higher. There are many kinds of immortality that you can pursue with this epic fate, and the exact nature of the rituals will change depending on the type of immortality you pursue.

Progression: You must discover powerful new magic rituals that support your particular form of immortality. This generally requires exploring sites of ancient magic, gaining favor with powerful creatures who have relevant knowledge or abilities, and independent experimentation based on your findings.

Artificial Immortality Ranks

Rank 1 – Life After Death: If you die from any cause other than old age, you resurrect according to nature of your chosen path to immortality. For example, you can have a phylactery regenerate a new body for you like a lich, or you can create clones of yourself or golems that you inhabit if your first body dies. You must always return in a new body of some sort.

Your specific form of immortality determines where you return, such as at the site of your death or at your personal sanctum. However, it cannot be based on the location or state of your old corpse, since that corpse is no longer “you”. The timing of your resurrection may also differ based on your immortality, but you cannot complete your resurrection sooner than one day after the time of your death. After you resurrect in this way, this ability does not function for one week, allowing you to be killed normally.

This immortality may change your base species, such as if you become a lich or move your body into a flesh golem. If it does, you retain all benefits and modifiers from your original species other than size, and you gain the effects of the new species in addition.

Rank 2 – Death Familiarity: You become so familiar with the trauma of injury and death that your mind and body adapt to it. You gain a +10 bonus to vital rolls. In addition, the time of your vulnerability to true death after resurrection is reduced to 48 hours.

Rank 3 – Artificial Life: Whenever you resurrect with your life after death ability, your new body gains a +2 bonus to two random attributes. The attributes are randomized differently for each new body. In addition, that resurrection functions even if the cause of your death was old age, and you can control the physical age of your new body.

Rank 4 – Deathcaller: You are deeply familiar with death, and know how to most effectively inflict it on others. Whenever you cause a living creature to lose at least half its hit points in a single round, you may kill that creature outright. In addition, your artificial life ability grants a bonus to three random attributes instead of two random attributes.

Rank 5 – True Immortality: You become fully immortal. There is no time limit after the resurrection from your life after death ability where you become vulnerable to a true death. In addition, the resurrection can complete as quickly as one minute after your death. If a physical component limits your immortality, such as a phylactery, it can no longer be damaged or destroyed without the direct intervention of a rank 5 Slayer.

Ascendant

You have begun to see through the weave of the world and glimpse the higher truths beyond. As your insight into the true nature of reality grows, you begin to transcend the physical realm. Eventually, you become a being of pure energy.

Prerequisites: You must have spent at least a week living in each of the following planes: Air, Astral, Earth, Fire, Material, and Water. In addition, you must have an Intelligence or Perception of at least 2.

Progression: You must discover and spend time in exotic environments with unusual properties, especially with energy-related phenomena, to discern the underlying structure of the universe revealed in extremes. This involves a mix of meditation, observation, and potentially dangerous personal experience. Discovering potentially valuable locations may require extensive research. In order to reach the highest ranks, you must journey into forbidden realms of powerful magic, like the inner sanctums of major deities or the horrific depths of the Far Realm.

Ascendant Ranks

Rank 1 – Energetic Soul: Whenever you deal damage, you can treat it as energy damage in addition to its other types. In addition, whenever you take or deal energy damage while not incorporeal, you and your equipment briefly become incorporeal. While you are incorporeal in this way, you gain a fly speed equal to your base speed with a height limit of 60 feet (see Flight, page 55). Your maneuverability with this fly speed is perfect (see Flying Maneuverability, page 55).

Rank 2 – See Through the Weave: You can see everything within 120 feet of you perfectly, regardless of obstacles of any kind or light levels. This is similar to blindsight, except that it also ignores solid obstacles of any kind, allowing you to have line of sight through walls. You can perceive the presence of obstacles just as well as you can see what lies behind them.

Rank 3 – Reach Through the Weave: When you use any of your abilities, you can treat yourself as being up to 60 feet away from your true location. You do not need line of effect to your chosen location. For example, this allows you to make melee attacks against creatures up to 60 feet away. This changes your line of effect, but does not change your line of sight.

Rank 4 – Become Energy: You become permanently incorporeal, along with any equipment you carry. The fly speed from your energetic soul ability also becomes permanent. In addition, you no longer age and no longer have hit points. Instead, you gain a bonus to your damage resistance equal to the number of hit points you would normally have from your level, base class, and Constitution. Other effects that would increase or decrease your maximum hit points have no effect on you. You gain vital wounds based on taking damage in excess of your damage resistance rather than in excess of your hit points, including the extra vital wounds for taking massive damage.

Rank 5 – Ascension: You cannot be killed, only dissipated. When you die, you automatically reform at a random location within a mile of your death after 10 minutes. Reforming in this way returns you to full damage resistance and removes all conditions and vital wounds, but your fatigue and other effects remain the same.

Deity

People have begun to worship you, putting you on the path to become a deity. As your followers grow, you become capable of ever greater miraculous acts, and you can grant your followers some of your power. Eventually, you ascend into the pantheon of gods.

Prerequisites: You must have at least a hundred sentient worshippers to choose this epic fate. In addition, you must not have any cleric archetypes.

Progression: To progress towards this epic fate, you must gain a significant number of additional worshippers. In general, you must at least double your worshippers to progress towards each new rank of this fate, though this can vary widely. Having worshippers among many different places is more valuable than converting an isolated group to worship you, though both are helpful.

Deity Ranks

Rank 1 – Domain Influence: Choose a cleric domain. You gain all abilities from that domain except for its mastery ability. In addition, your worshippers become eligible to gain cleric archetypes, though they cannot exceed a maximum rank in those archetypes of twice your rank in this epic fate (to a maximum of 8). This does not grant additional archetypes to worshippers who have already chosen their three archetypes, and is usually only relevant to NPC worshippers.

Rank 2 – Prayers: You hear all prayers directed to you. Once per week, you can teleport yourself and up to ten allies any distance within the same plane as a standard action. Your destination must either be a worshipper actively praying to you or a holy place dedicated to you. In addition, choose a second cleric domain. You gain all abilities from that domain except for its mastery ability.

Rank 3 – Domain Mastery: Choose a third cleric domain. You gain all abilities from that domain. In addition, you gain the mastery ability from the domains you chose with your domain influence and prayers abilities.

Rank 4 – Demigod: You become a demigod. You no longer age normally, and you cannot die from old age. You become a planeforged native to an Aligned Plane matching your alignment. For details about the aligned planes, see the Tome of Guidance. While you are on that plane, you can teleport to any plane with your prayers ability from this epic fate. In addition, you can use that teleportation ability once per hour instead of once per week.

Rank 5 – Deification: You become a deity. You are transported to an Aligned Plane matching your alignment, and you gain divine dominion over an amount of territory in that plane. While you are in your territory, you can freely reshape your territory with a thought to match your desires, and you are immune to all damage and conditions.

Regardless of which plane you are on, you can teleport to anywhere within your home plane as a standard action. In addition, there is no limit on the number of times you can teleport with your prayers ability from this epic fate.

Hero of Legend

You are widely known as a hero, rescuing those in need. As your deeds of heroism spread, you gain abilities to help you protect others. Although you will eventually die, your legend will live on, inspiring others to save people as you did.

Prerequisites: You must be publicly known to be involved with saving at least one major country or similarly large group of people from some sort of disaster to choose this epic fate.

Progression: To progress towards this epic fate, you must publicly contribute to saving large numbers of people from death or other major disasters in a way that builds your reputation. Reaching the higher ranks typically requires saving a significant fraction of a major plane from some sort of catastrophe.

Hero of Legend Ranks

Rank 1 – Worthy Hero: You and all allies who can see or hear you are immune to being frightened and panicked. In addition, you gain a +100 bonus to your hit points.

Rank 2 – Heroic Intervention: As a free action, you may choose any number of allies within Short (30 ft.) range of you. Whenever a chosen creature would be attacked that round, that attack is made against you instead. If the attack would have targeted both you and that ally, the attack only targets you once, not twice. This ability has the Swift tag.

Rank 3 – Invincible Hero: You gain a +4 bonus to all defenses. In addition, you cannot be vulnerable (-4 defenses) for any reason.

Rank 4 – Answer the Call: You gain an intuitive sense for when people need your aid. Whenever someone on the same plane as you is in danger, you are aware of the existence of that danger. You can sense the general category of danger (fire, combat, drowning, etc.) and a very approximate direction and distance. This generally allows you to sense if a large number of people are in danger from the same thing. As a standard action, you can teleport any distance within that plane to reach a person in danger.

Rank 5 – Heroic Legacy: If you die, your legend lives on. You may choose a worthy successor, either before your death or after your death from your afterlife plane. When you die, or as soon as you choose a successor while dead, your successor immediately gains the Rank 1 benefit from this archetype. As long as your successor lives and remains worthy, you cannot choose to be resurrected from your afterlife. As a player, you may choose to play as your successor instead of your original character if the GM allows it.

Mutant

Your body has been altered by battle scars and strange experiments. As your mutations grow ever more extreme, you become more powerful - and more monstrous. Eventually, you can regenerate from death itself, though some scars never fade.

Prerequisites: Dangerous experiments to mutate your body in extreme ways must have been performed on you. You can choose the nature of these experiments, such as alchemical or magical. Some mutants do this to themselves, while others find willing collaborators. In addition, you must have a Constitution of at least 2.

Progression: To progress towards this epic fate, you must continue ever more radical forms of experimentation. As you become inured to ordinary alterations to your body, you must travel and research to find unique substances of immense power to fuel the experiments. To reach the higher ranks, you must undergo experiments that kill you far more often than they succeed, so you will need to be resurrected multiple times to continue down this path.

Mutant Ranks

Rank 1 – Unnatural Arsenal: You grow an extra functioning arm and hand. In addition, you gain a wide variety of natural weapons (see Table 8.6: Natural Weapons, page 172). You gain a bite, horn, ram, stinger, and tentacle. In addition, two of your hands become claws. You gain these weapons in addition to any natural weapons you already have, no matter how biologically implausible that may be. In addition, each of your natural weapons has the Sweeping (3) weapon tag in addition to its other weapon tags.

Rank 2 – Regeneration: At the end of each round, you regain hit points equal to a quarter of your maximum hit points. In addition, you may increase the result of one of your vital wounds by 1, to a maximum of 10. If you are unconscious, this automatically applies to your most severe vital wounds first.

Rank 3 – Monstrous Form: Your size increases by one size category. In addition, you gain a wide variety of movement modes.

You gain a climb speed and swim speed equal to your base speed, and a 10 foot burrow speed. For each of those movement modes, if you already have it, you gain a +10 foot bonus to your speed with that movement mode instead. Wings also grow from your back, granting you a fly speed equal to your base speed with a 60 foot height limit (see Flight, page 55).

Rank 4 – Two Heads Are Better Than One: You grow a second head. Whenever you gain a condition, you choose which head gains the condition, with the restriction that the chosen head must not already have more conditions than the other head. At the start of each round, you can choose which heads are active during that round. You are only subject to the effects of the conditions affecting active heads. If you choose for both heads to be active, you can use an extra minor action during the action phase.

Rank 5 – Regenerative Immortality: You can regenerate from any wounds, even lethal ones. When you die, your unnatural regeneration ability continues functioning. Once that ability improves your vital wounds so they are all above 0, you return to life. However, each time you die, you gain a new scar that your regeneration always recreates.

If your corpse is mutilated, burned, immersed in acid, or fully destroyed, this process can take much longer to complete, but it cannot be fully stopped. Some drop of blood, flake of skin, or other remnant of your corpse will always persist and regenerate eventually. If your body is separated into pieces while you are dead, each piece will attempt to regenerate individually. Your soul will automatically return to the first piece that regenerates completely, at which point the remaining fragments will wither and die.

Paradox

You exist partly outside of the ordinary flow of time. Your very existence wreaks havoc on prophecies and the orderly sequence of events. As your alterations to the natural timeline of the universe grow in scope, your ability to bend time to your whims grows in turn. Eventually, you become a fixed point across all of time.

Prerequisites: You must have been directly involved with an action that resulted in a significant change to at least one major country or similarly significant entity. Any type of change is acceptable, as long as it would be historically important would not have happened without your intervention.

Progression: To progress towards this epic fate, you must be alter the course of other major events that will be remembered to history. Reaching the higher ranks typically requires changing the fate of major planes, or creatures of similar importance.

Paradox Ranks

Rank 1 – Temporal Aberration: Your actions, and events involving you, cannot be observed in any effect that sees or predicts the future. This applies against both magical abilities and abilities that rely on direct observation. Prophecies are only able to describe how events would happen without your intervention, and are blind to any changes you might cause.

In addition, whenever you would make a movement, you can make two different movements and then decide which one was the movement you actually made. You can make this decision after observing how other creatures react to your movement, but before taking any other actions.

The other movement never happened, and had no effect. Only the movement itself is reverted in this way. Any other abilities you used during the resolution of that movement, such as the sprint ability, still happened, so you would still gain fatigue and resolve other effects.

Rank 2 – A Fork In Time’s Road: Whenever you would take a standard action, you can take two different standard actions and then decide which one was the action you actually took. You can make this decision after seeing all die results and observing all effects of both actions, but before taking any other actions.

The other action never happened, and has no effect. Only the standard action itself is reverted in this way. Any other abilities you used during the resolution of that action, such as the desperate exertion ability, still happened, so you would still gain fatigue and resolve other effects.

Rank 3 – Choose Fate: Once per short rest, whenever you or any other creature you are aware of rolls an attack or check, you can choose the result of that die. You can choose to use this ability after learning the result of the action using that die roll, including whether it succeeded or failed and the result of any damage dice based on the attack. However, you must use it before any other actions resolve. If you use this to make an attack explode, subsequent dice after the die you modify in this way are rolled normally. Using this to affect an enemy's action may change the actions taken by other enemies in that enemy's allied group, which the GM should resolve.

Rank 4 – Paradoxical Defense: Whenever a creature attacks you, it must roll twice and take the lower result. This does not protect any other targets of the attack.

Rank 5 – Fixed Point: You become an immutable fact across all of time. You no longer age. Whenever you die, history is rewritten so you retroactively never died instead. The changes are as subtle and believable as possible, but even extraordinary coincidences can occur to save you from death. You typically still end up unconscious from vital wounds, and are always removed from combat or otherwise unable to usefully act for at least ten minutes, but you survive.

Slayer

You are a killer of legendary skill. As your body count increases, you gain abilities to help you track down and kill increasingly powerful foes. Eventually, your powers threaten the gods themselves, allowing you a unique ability to transcend death.

Prerequisites: You must be directly involved with slaying at least one elite creature with a level of at least 21.

Progression: To progress towards this epic fate, you must publicly contribute to slaying increasingly dangerous and fearsome foes. To reach the higher ranks, you must kill creatures of singular power whose influence is felt across multiple planes. This might include demon princes, supreme dragons beyond even the power of wyrms, or the nightmarish aberration progenitors in the Far Realm.

Slayer Ranks

Rank 1 – Lethality: You gain a +4 bonus to your accuracy for the purpose of determining whether you get a critical hit. This bonus stacks with other abilities with the same effect, such as Keen weapons.

Rank 2 – Precision Killer: You gain a +4 bonus to your accuracy. In addition, you can inflict critical hits on any creature, regardless of its size, body structure, or other abilities.

Rank 3 – Mark of the Slayer: As a minor action, you can choose to mark any creature you can unambiguously identify. This includes any creature you can see, as well as any creature you know the name of and can differentiate from other similar creatures. You can only mark one creature at a time, and applying a new mark replaces any previous mark. You cannot use this ability to replace a mark that is less than a week old if the recipient of the previous mark still lives.

This mark is visible on the creature's body with a design that is recognizably yours. It appears on top of any clothing or other attempt to conceal it, even if the creature is invisible. Anyone can recognize the significance of the mark with a difficulty value 15 Knowledge (arcana or local) check, and creatures that understand the significance of the mark may refuse to give your target aid of any kind to avoid risking your wrath.

You know the exact distance and direction to any creature you have marked with this ability that is on the same plane as you. As a standard action, you can create a scrying sensor adjacent to them that you can see and hear through. The sensor lasts as long as you sustain it as a free action. It moves to stay adjacent to the target, regardless of its speed.

Rank 4 – Slayer's Journey: As a standard action, you can teleport yourself and up to ten allies any distance within the same plane to the location of a creature affected by your mark of the slayer ability from this epic fate. You cannot precisely choose the destination of this ability, and it does not leave you immediately adjacent to the marked creature. Generally, it leaves you just outside any sort of fortress or defenses the marked creature has constructed. After you use this ability, you cannot use it to travel to the same creature for a day. This does not limit your ability to travel to a different creature if you mark a different creature.

Rank 5 – Godslayer: Damage from your attacks ignores all forms of invulnerability and immunity. You can deal fire damage to fire elementals, physical damage to ghosts, and so on. In addition, you can destroy artifacts and even inflict damage on deities in their divine dominion. As a result, even deities fear to interfere with you directly. If you ever die, you can generally threaten or fight your way past any planar guardians to leave your afterlife whenever you want. After you do this once, you become a planeforged native to your afterlife plane, since your new body is formed from the raw material of that plane.

Uncommon Species

Animal Hybrid

Animal hybrids are humanoid creatures that are a combination of humans and animals. The abilities of an animal hybrid depend on the type of animal it is based on.

Size: Medium.

Attributes: The attributes of an awakened animal depend on its size.

Special Abilities: As the original animal.

Automatic Languages: Common and any one common language (see Table 4.4: Common Languages, page 40).

Sample Animal Hybrids

Hybrid Bee:

Special Abilities:

Attribute: +1 Dexterity, -1 Constitution.

- Low-light Vision: A hybrid bee has low-light vision, allowing it to see clearly in shadowy illumination (see Low-light Vision, page 386).
- Stinger: A hybrid bee has a stinger natural weapon (see Natural Weapons, page 164). Whenever it causes a creature to lose hit points with that natural weapon, the struck creature is poisoned by giant wasp venom (see Poison, page 64). Its stage 1 effect makes the target slowed (half speed, -2 Armor and Ref) while the poison lasts. Its stage 3 effect makes the target immobilized (-4 Armor and Ref, cannot use movement speeds) while the poison lasts.
- Winged Agility: A hybrid bee has wings that are not strong enough to help it fly. However, the wings still help it stabilize its movements. It gains a +3 bonus to the Balance and Jump skills, and it gains a +5 foot bonus to its maximum horizontal jump distance (see Jumping, page 54). This increases its maximum vertical jump distance normally.

Hybrid Shark:

Special Abilities:

- Bloodscent: A hybrid shark has the scent ability (see Scent, page 386). In addition, it gains a +10 bonus to Awareness checks to detect blood.
- Bite: A hybrid shark's mouth is elongated, which it can use as a bite attack (see Natural Weapons, page 164). A hybrid shark's bite deals 1d6 damage.
- Gills: You can breathe water as easily as a human breathes air, preventing you from drowning or suffocating underwater.
- Swim Speed: A hybrid shark has a swim speed equal to the base speed for its size.

Hybrid Wolf:

Special Abilities:

- Scent: A hybrid wolf has the scent ability (see Scent, page 386).
- Bite: A hybrid wolf's mouth is elongated, which it can use as a bite attack (see Natural Weapons, page 164). A hybrid wolf's bite deals 1d6 damage.
- Low-light Vision: A hybrid wolf has low-light vision, allowing it to see clearly in shadowy illumination (see Low-light Vision, page 386).

Automaton

An automaton appears to be a humanoid construct, like a golem. Its body is made from some combination of stone, wood, and metal. However, its artificial body is inhabited by a true soul, making it an indwelt (see Indwelt, page 22).

Size: Medium.

Attributes: +1 Constitution or Intelligence, -1 Dexterity.

Special Abilities:

- Artificial Life: Automatons are not alive. They ignore abilities which only affect living creatures, including poisons and most healing abilities. In addition, they do not need to eat, drink, or sleep.
- Automaton Archetype: Automatons only gain two class archetypes instead of three. Instead, they treat the Automaton archetype as one of their archetypes, and they gain ranks in it just like they gain ranks in class archetypes.

- Manual Repair: A Craft skill relevant to the automaton's body can be used to achieve the same effects that the Medicine skill would have on a living creature.
- Mechanical Body: Automatons are considered both objects and creatures, and are affected by abilities which affect either. They are always considered to be attended by themselves, so they are never affected by abilities that only affect unattended objects, even while unconscious.
- Mechanical Intuition: Automatons gain a +2 bonus to the Devices skill and one Craft skill of their choice.

Automaton Archetype

Rank 1 – Modular Carapace

You can adjust the density and layering of your hardened exterior to augment your defenses. Changing your configuration in this way requires 10 minutes of work, and spare armor parts that you generally keep with you. You can choose to treat your carapace as being light, medium, or heavy armor. The benefits from this ability are considered to come from body armor, and do not stack with actual body armor.

- Light armor: You gain a +3 bonus to your Armor defense, and a damage resistance bonus equal to three times your rank in this archetype. You can wear body armor on top of this carapace. Although the benefits of that armor do not stack with the carapace, you can use the higher Armor defense value and damage resistance bonus from either armor.
- Medium armor: You gain a +4 bonus to your Armor defense, and a damage resistance bonus equal to four times your rank in this archetype. However, your Dexterity bonus to your Armor defense is halved, and you cannot wear body armor.
- Heavy armor: You gain a +5 bonus to your Armor defense, and a damage resistance bonus equal to five times your rank in this archetype. However, your Dexterity bonus to your Armor defense is removed, you take a -10 foot penalty to your speed with all movement modes, and you cannot wear body armor.

If you lose your original armor parts, you can create or buy new parts that are suited to your body. These parts are considered a Rank 1 (40 gp) item.

Rank 2 – Modular Weaponry

You can customize your arms to augment your combat prowess. Changing your configuration in this way requires 10 minutes of work, and spare arm and weapon parts that you generally keep with you.

- Blade: You convert one of your arms into a blade natural weapon. It has a +1 accuracy bonus, deals 1d8 slashing damage, and has the Keen and Sweeping (1) weapon tags (see Weapon Tags, page 165). However, that arm no longer has a free hand.
- Bulk: You convert one of your arms into a bulky, overburdened slam natural weapon. It has a -1 accuracy penalty, deals 1d10 bludgeoning damage, and has the Forceful and Impact weapon tags. However, that arm no longer has a free hand.

- Fortified: You add additional protective plating to your arms. You gain a +1 bonus to your Armor defense. This does not require a free hand, but it is still considered to come from a shield, and it does not stack with the benefit from using a shield.
- Slim: You trim away the excess protection from your arms to make their movements more precise. You gain a +1 accuracy bonus with any attack that uses your hands, including strikes and abilities like grapple. This does not apply to spells that simply have somatic components, though it does apply to touch spells like freezing grasp. However, you take a -1 penalty to your Armor defense.

If you lose your original arm and weapon parts, you can create or buy new parts that are suited to your body. These parts are considered a Rank 1 (40 gp) item.

Rank 3 – Imbued Carapace ✨

When you gain this ability, choose one magic body armor property for each of your three modular carapace types (see Table 8.12: Magic Armor, page 185). The property must be rank 3 or lower. Whenever you use a carapace type, you can gain the benefit of its magic armor property, though you must still attune to the property. Each carapace can have a unique property, or you can choose the same property for multiple carapace types. If you are using a light carapace, you can gain the benefit of its magic armor property in addition to any magic armor you wear on top of the carapace.

Whenever you gain a rank in this archetype, you can choose a new property for each of your carapace types. Each property's rank must be no higher than your rank in this archetype. Magic armor of rank 3 or higher does not multiply the damage resistance provided by your carapace, as magic armor normally does (see Magic Armor Damage Resistance, page 185).

Rank 4 – Embedded Armory ✨

Whenever you use your modular weaponry ability to change your configuration, you can also embed one magic weapon, implement, glove, gauntlet, or bracer into one of your arms. You can attune to that item without having it physically present on your arm. If you attune to a weapon embedded this way, you apply its magical properties to any nonmagical weapons you use with that arm, including natural weapons and weapons made from special materials. You cannot embed a legacy item in this way.

Rank 5 – Modular Carapace+

The damage resistance from your modular carapace armor increases. Light carapace increases to four times your rank in this archetype, medium carapace increases to five times your rank, and heavy carapace increases to seven times your rank.

Rank 5 – Reassembly

You can recover from vital wounds more easily by simply replacing broken parts. You can remove a vital wound with ten minutes of work. This increases your fatigue level by three, and it requires replacement parts that you generally keep with you. The parts are considered a consumable Rank 3 (200 gp) item.

This can even save you from death, though that is more difficult and requires more advanced parts. A creature can spend eight hours replacing broken parts of your corpse to resurrect you (see Resurrection, page 45). This requires a difficulty value 15 Craft check appropriate to the composition of your body. The parts required to perform this feat are considered a consumable Rank 5 (5,000 gp) item.

Rank 6 – Artificial Mind

You become immune to Compulsion and Emotion attacks.

Rank 7 – Hypercognition

You can take an additional minor action each round, as long as that minor action is purely mental. As normal, you cannot use the same ability twice in the same round.

Alternately, you can take an additional purely mental standard action instead of a minor action. When you do, you increase your fatigue level by one and you briefly cannot take any additional actions with this ability.

Base Class Abilities

If you choose automaton as your base class, you gain the following abilities.

Defenses

You gain the following bonuses to your defenses: +5 Fortitude, +3 Reflex, +4 Mental.

Resources

You have the following resources:

- Three attunement points, which you can use to attune to items and abilities that affect you (see Attunement Points, page 34).
- A fatigue tolerance equal to 4 + your Constitution. Your fatigue tolerance makes it easier for you to use powerful abilities that fatigue you (see Fatigue, page 34).
- A number of insight points equal to 1 + your Intelligence. You can spend insight points to gain additional abilities (see Insight Points, page 25).
- Three trained skills from among your class skills, plus additional trained skills equal to your Intelligence (see Skills, page 144).

Weapon Proficiencies

You are proficient with simple weapons and one weapon group of your choice.

Armor Proficiencies

You are not proficient with armor.

You have the following class skills:

- Strength: Climb.
- Dexterity: Balance, Flexibility.
- Constitution: Endurance.
- Intelligence: Craft (any), Deduction, Devices, Disguise.

Special Abilities: As the original animal.

Automatic Languages: Common.

Attributes: -2 Strength, +1 Dexterity

Special Abilities:

Attributes: No change.

Special Abilities:

- Alter Shape: A changeling can alter its physical form in minor ways. As a standard action, a changeling can make a Disguise check with a +10 bonus to alter its body. This ability does not alter the changeling's equipment, which may give away its identity unless disguised normally.

This is a magical ✨ ability.

Bonus Languages: Any.

Automatic Languages: Common, any two common languages.

Dragon

Ancient dragons are magical creatures of immense power and wisdom, and are far more powerful than any ordinary character of the same level. However, young dragons can be played as characters, though their unique abilities do pose unique challenges.

Creature Type: Unlike most other playable species, dragons are magical beasts instead of humanoids.

Size: Small. This gives a dragon a 20 foot base speed and a +5 bonus to the Stealth skill, among other effects (see Size Categories, page 38).

Attributes: -2 Strength, +1 Dexterity.

Special Abilities:

- Dragon Archetype: Dragons only gain two class archetypes instead of three. Instead, they treat the Dragon archetype as one of their archetypes, and they gain ranks in it just like they gain ranks in class archetypes.
- Draconic Senses: Dragons have darkvision with a 60 foot range, allowing them to see in complete darkness (see Darkvision, page 385). In addition, dragons gain low-light vision, allowing them to see clearly in shadowy illumination (see Low-light Vision, page 386).
- Draconic Scales: Dragons gain a +2 bonus to their Armor defense.
- Draconic Weapons: Dragons have a bite natural weapon and two claw natural weapons. For details, see Natural Weapons, page 164.
- Draconic Wings: Dragons have scaly wings that sprout from their backs. These wings grant them a glide speed equal to the base speed for their size (see Gliding, page 55). The wings themselves are mundane, but the ability to fly and glide with them is magical ✨.
- Dragon Type: Each dragon has a single type from among the dragon types on Table C.2: Dragon Types. They are immune to the damage type dealt by their type's breath weapon.
- Limited Equipment: A dragon's claws are not able to effectively wield shields or manufactured weapons. They can wear armor, but it is treated as barding instead of normal armor, reducing its effectiveness (see Barding, page 181).

Automatic Languages: Common, Draconic, any one common language.

Dragon Archetype

Rank 1 – Draconic Breath

You can use the breath weapon ability as a standard action.

Table D.2: Dragon Types

|--------|-------------|----------------------------------|

| Blue | Electricity | Medium (30 ft.), 5 ft. wide line |

Make an attack vs. Reflex against everything in the area defined by your dragon type (see Dragon Types, above). After you use this ability, you briefly cannot use it again.

Hit: 1d8 damage +1 per 2 power. The damage type is defined by your dragon type.

Miss: Half damage.

Rank 2: The area increases. A line breath weapon becomes a Large (60 ft.), 5 ft. wide line. A cone breath weapon becomes a Medium (30 ft.) cone.

Rank 3: The damage increases to 1d8 damage plus 1d6 per 4 power.

Rank 4: The damage increases to 1d8 damage plus 1d8 per 4 power.

Rank 7: The damage increases to 2d10 damage plus 1d10 per 3 power.

Rank 2 – Draconic Body

Rank 3 – Draconic Flight

Your wings grow larger, granting you a limited ability to fly. You gain a fly speed equal to the base speed for your size with a maximum height of 15 feet (see Flight, page 55). As a free action, you can increase your fatigue level by one to ignore this height limit until the end of the round.

Rank 4 – Draconic Bulk

Your size category increases to Medium. This increases your base speed to 30 feet. You reduce your Dexterity by 1 and increase your Strength by 2. In addition, you gain a +1 bonus to your power with all abilities.

Rank 5 – Draconic Body+

The Armor bonus from your draconic body ability increases to +2.

The maximum height from your draconic flight ability increases to 60 feet. In addition, you gain a +10 foot bonus to your fly speed with that ability.

Rank 7 – Draconic Bulk+

Your size category increases to Large. This increases your base speed to 40 feet. In addition, the attribute modifiers to Dexterity and Strength increase to -2 and +3 respectively, and the power bonus increases to +2. You also gain a tail slam natural weapon. It deals 1d10 bludgeoning damage and has the Forceful weapon tag (see Weapon Tags, page 165). In addition, you gain a +20 foot bonus to your fly speed with your draconic flight ability, but your maneuverability drops to poor maneuverability (see Flying Maneuverability, page 55).

Base Class Abilities

If you choose dragon as your base class, you gain the following abilities.

Defenses

You gain the following bonuses to your defenses: +5 Fortitude, +3 Reflex, +4 Mental.

Hit Points

You have 8 hit points + twice your Constitution, plus 2 hit points per level beyond 1. This increases as your level increases, as indicated below.

- Level 7: 20 hit points + three times your Constitution, plus 3 hit points per level beyond 7.
- Level 13: 40 hit points + six times your Constitution, plus 6 hit points per level beyond 13.
- Level 19: 80 hit points + twelve times your Constitution, plus 12 hit points per level beyond 19.

You have the following resources:

- Three attunement points, which you can use to attune to items and abilities that affect you (see Attunement Points, page 34).

- A number of insight points equal to 1 + your Intelligence. You can spend insight points to gain additional abilities (see Insight Points, page 25).

- Three trained skills from among your class skills, plus additional trained skills equal to your Intelligence (see Skills, page 144).

Weapon Proficiencies

You are not proficient with any weapon groups, even simple weapons. You are still proficient with your natural weapons.

Armor Proficiencies

You are proficient with light and medium armor. Armor shaped appropriately for dragons can be hard to find, and may need to be crafted individually for the dragon.

Skills

You have the following class skills:

- Strength*: Climb, Swim.
- Dexterity*: Balance, Stealth.
- Constitution*: Endurance.
- Intelligence*: Craft, Deduction, Knowledge (arcana), Medicine.
- Perception*: Awareness, Creature Handling, Social Insight, Survival.
- Other*: Deception, Intimidate, Persuasion.

Drow

Drow are an offshoot group of elves that live deep underground. The deep caves are a far harsher environment than the surface world. Resources are scarce, and dangerous monsters are far more common. In order to survive, drow were forced to adopt a variety of practices condemned by surface civilizations. The most notorious are their frequent use of poison, their refusal to take prisoners, their willingness to eat any non-drow creatures they kill, even sentient creatures. In addition, drow society tends to reward selfishness and ambition more explicitly than surface civilizations, and the vast majority of drow are evil.

When drow find opportunities to reach the surface world, they seek to conquer territory for themselves, usually with great violence. They have always been defeated and banished back to their caves, but surface civilizations still remember the danger that drow pose. Even more so than tieflings or orcs, who are already viewed with suspicion, drow are anathema in almost any civilized society. Drow who escape the deep caves are more likely to find a peaceful existence on other planes that do not fear an underground invasion.

Size: Medium.

Attributes: -1 Constitution, +1 Dexterity

Special Abilities:

- Darkvision*: Drow have darkvision with a 120 foot range, allowing them to see in complete darkness (see Darkvision, page 385).
- Deep Darkness* [★]: A drow can use the deep darkness ability as a standard action.

|---|-----------------|
| Deep Darkness ★ | Sustain (minor) |
| Target: One zone within Medium (60 ft.) range | |

You can choose this ability's radius, up to a maximum of a Medium (30 ft.) radius. Light within or passing through the area is dimmed to be no brighter than shadowy illumination. Any object or effect which blocks light also blocks this spell's effect.

- Drow Prejudice*: Almost all surface-dwellers have negative associations with drow. Drow have an Opposition relationship with most people that they meet, which influences people's behavior and makes Persuasion checks harder (see Persuasion, page 156). People in some locations, such as deep underground, do not have this attitude.
- Keen Senses*: Drow gain a +2 bonus to the Awareness skill (see Awareness, page 145).
- Poison Tolerance*: Drow are impervious to poison.
- Sensitive Eyes*: Drow take a -2 penalty to accuracy while they are in bright illumination. This penalty is doubled while they are in brilliant illumination.
- Trance*: Drow do not sleep, and are immune to magical ★ effects that would cause them to sleep. Instead of sleeping, drow can trance for 4 hours. An elf in trance may make Perception-based checks at a -5 penalty. Drow must still avoid strenuous activity for 8 hours to heal and gain other benefits of taking a long rest.

Automatic Languages: Common, Elven, Undercommon

Dryaidi

Dryaidi are humanoid creatures with plantlike characteristics. They might have leaves instead of hair, a green skin tone, or rough, barky skin. They are descended from dryads, and share some fey heritage and an affinity for trees.

Size: Medium.

Attributes: No change.

Special Abilities:

- Dryad Archetype*: Dryaidi only gain two class archetypes instead of three. Instead, they treat the Dryad archetype as one of their archetypes, and they gain ranks in it just like they gain ranks in class archetypes.
- Enchanting Appearance*: A dryaidi gains a +2 bonus to the Creature Handling, Perform, and Persuasion skills.
- Fey Vulnerability*: Dryaidi are vulnerable (-4 defenses) to cold iron weapons.
- Tree Bond*: A dryaidi must be bonded with a specific tree. The tree must be at least a hundred years old, healthy, and intact. Forming a bond or severing a bond takes one week of meditation and ritual, periodically interrupted by rest. Forming a bond also requires asking permission from the tree through the ritual. Any individual tree can only be bonded to one dryad or dryaidi in this way.

As long as the bonded tree remains healthy and intact, the dryaidi gains a +1 bonus to Mental defense and a +1 bonus to its fatigue tolerance. If the bonded tree becomes unhealthy, is seriously damaged, or is killed, these bonuses are inverted into penalties until the dryaidi forms a bond with a new tree. A bonded dryaidi can passively observe the general health and status of the tree it bonded to.

- Verdant Flourishing: Dryaidi can use the fertile patch and rapid growth cantrips from the verdamancy sphere. If they already have access to that sphere, they can cast each of those cantrips as a minor action.

Automatic Languages: Common, Sylvan.

Dryad Archetype

Rank 1 – Tree Stride

You can walk into and through living trees. Moving through a tree does not impede your movement in any way, and you can end your movement inside a tree. When you do, you can choose to be partially melded or fully melded with the tree. While partially melded, the tree provides cover against all attacks against you. While fully melded, the tree blocks line of sight or line of effect between you and the outside world as long as it remains intact.

At the end of each round, if you are fully or partially melded with a tree that you are bonded with using your tree bond ability, you regain hit points equal to half your maximum hit points.

Rank 2 – Natural Speech

You can speak with plants and animals as if they were capable of ordinary speech. This ability does not make them any more friendly or cooperative than normal. Wary and cunning animals are likely to be terse and evasive, while stupid ones tend to make inane comments and are unlikely to say or understand anything of use. Plants do not have complex thought processes, but can provide information about events that have happened near them. In general, plants can remember events that happened within the most recent quarter of their lifespan.

Rank 3 – Tree Stride+

You can teleport between living trees instead of moving using your land speed. Teleporting a given distance costs movement equal to half that distance. If this teleportation fails for any reason, you still expend that movement.

Rank 4 – Fey Charm

You can use the fey charm ability as a minor action.

| Fey Charm  | Emotion, Subtle, Sustain (minor) |
|---|---|
| Make an attack vs. Mental against a creature within Medium (60 ft.) range that is an animal, plant, or humanoid. You take a -10 penalty to accuracy with this attack against creatures who have made an attack or been attacked since the start of the last round. Hit: The target is charmed (friendly with charmer) by you. Any act by you or by creatures that appear to be your allies that threatens or harms the charmed person breaks the effect. Harming the target is not limited to dealing it damage, but also includes causing it significant subjective discomfort. An observant target may interpret overt threats to its allies as a threat to itself. | The attack's accuracy increases by +2 for each rank beyond 4. |

Rank 5 – Tree Bond+

You can bond to a grove of trees instead of a single tree. The cumulative age of all trees in the grove must be at least a thousand years, and the grove must fit within a 500 foot radius. While bonded to a grove, the bonuses from your tree bond and enchanting appearance abilities double.

Rank 6 – Tree Union

When you meld with a tree using your tree stride ability, you can fully unite with it. When you do, you have line of sight and line of effect from all areas of the tree simultaneously, as if you were everywhere in the tree's body. Attacks against the tree simultaneously affect both you and the tree, but both you and the tree are impervious (+4 defenses) to all damage except for fire damage and damage from cold iron weapons. You and the tree are instead vulnerable (-4 defenses) to fire damage and damage from cold iron weapons.

Rank 7 – Acorns of Life

Whenever you visit a tree you are bonded to with your tree bond ability, you can gather acorns of life. You can have up to ten acorns of life at once. As a minor action, you can throw an acorn of life onto an unoccupied grounded space within Medium (60 ft.) range of you. The space must be made of dirt, earth, or stone. When the acorn lands, a tree immediately grows in that space. The tree has a five foot diameter trunk and grows vertically until it reaches a hundred feet tall or until it encounters a solid obstacle preventing its growth.

- A number of insight points equal to 1 + your Intelligence. You can spend insight points to gain additional abilities (see Insight Points, page 25).
- Five trained skills from among your class skills, plus additional trained skills equal to your Intelligence (see Skills, page 144).

- Fae Step: As a standard action, you can use the fae step ability.

Fae Step ✨

You teleport horizontally to a location within Short (30 ft.) range.

This ability improves based on your rank in your highest-rank archetype.

Rank 3: The range increases to Medium (60 ft.) range.

Rank 5: The range increases to Long (90 ft.) range.

Rank 7: The range increases to Distant (120 ft.) range.

- Fae Season: Eladrin respond strongly to their emotions, and change their abilities based on the season they currently represent. An eladrin must choose one of the following seasons when it finishes a short rest. The chosen season lasts until it changes to a different season.

Spring: +1 bonus to Mental defense, -1 penalty to Fortitude defense. Eladrin expressing the spring season are filled with the joy of a new year. However, they are also visibly thinner and more frail, as if recovering from a long winter.

Summer: +1 bonus to Fortitude defense, -1 penalty to Reflex defense. Eladrin expressing the summer season are visibly hearty and a little more plump. However, they also move with all the alacrity of a long summer day.

Autumn: +1 bonus to all checks, -1 penalty to accuracy.

Eladrin expressing the autumn season embody the spirit of the harvest. They are filled with goodwill towards all creatures, and prefer finding peaceful solutions to problems. Their bodies tend to be firm and toned, reflecting the hard work required to prepare for the winter.

Winter: +1 bonus to vital rolls, -1 penalty to Mental defense. Eladrin expressing the winter season are prepared for the worst. They tend to be dour and pessimistic, but they press on despite the certainty of doom.

- Low-light Vision: Eladrin have low-light vision, allowing them to see clearly in shadowy illumination (see Low-light Vision, page 386).
- Trance: Eladrin do not sleep, and are immune to magical ✨ effects that would cause them to sleep. Instead of sleeping, eladrin can trance for 4 hours. An eladrin in trance may make Perception-based checks at a -5 penalty. Eladrin must still avoid strenuous activity for 8 hours to heal and gain other benefits of taking a long rest.

Species Feat Options:

Automatic Languages: Common, Sylvan, and any one common language (see Table 4.4: Common Languages, page 40).

Harpy

Harpies are winged creatures with the upper body of a humanoid and the lower body of a bird. Most harpies are female, but male harpies do exist.

Creature Type: Unlike most other playable species, harpies are monstrous humanoids instead of humanoids.

Size: Medium.

Attributes: -1 Intelligence, +1 Dexterity.

Special Abilities:

- Harpy Archetype: Harpies only gain two class archetypes instead of three. Instead, they treat the Harpy archetype as one of their archetypes, and they gain ranks in it just like they gain ranks in class archetypes.
- Limited Equipment: Harpies can wear armor, but it is treated as barding instead of normal armor, reducing its effectiveness (see Barding, page 181). Harpy talons are not able to effectively wield shields or manufactured weapons.
- Prehensile Talons: Harpies have a talon natural weapon on each foot (see Natural Weapons, page 164). In addition, they can use their feet as free hands.
- Wings: Harpies have a feathered wings that sprout from their shoulders. These wings grant them a glide speed equal to the base speed for their size (see Gliding, page 55). However, they have no arms or hands.

Automatic Languages: Common.

Harpy ArchetypeRank 1 – Winged Agility

While you are able to use your wings, you gain a +2 bonus to Armor defense and a +4 bonus to the Balance and Jump skills. In addition, you gain a +10 foot bonus to your maximum horizontal jump distance (see Jumping, page 54). This increases your maximum vertical jump distance normally.

Rank 1 – Winged Combat

As a free action, you can make a short hop off of solid ground to hover in your space using your wings. This allows you to use both of your feet without standing on them during that phase, so you can attack with both talons at once. You must land at the end of the phase, and you can only use this ability once per round. This brief hovering does not cause you to suffer penalties for flying.

Rank 2 – Luring Song ✨

You can use the luring song ability as a standard action.

Luring Song ✨

Auditory, Compulsion

Make an attack vs. Mental against a creature within Long (90 ft.) range.

Hit: As a condition, the target must move towards you as best it can during each movement phase. In addition, it cannot move farther away from you at any time, except as necessary to get closer to you (such as to avoid an intervening obstacle). It can otherwise act freely, and is still able to attack you and your allies.

If you attack the target with any ability other than this one, this effect is automatically broken. When this effect ends, the target becomes immune to this effect until it finishes a short rest.

Critical hit: The condition must be removed twice before the effect ends.

Rank 4: You can target an additional creature within range.

Rank 6: The maximum number of targets increases to 5.

Rank 3 – Flight

You gain a fly speed equal to the base speed for your size with a maximum height of 15 feet (see Flight, page 55). As a free action, you can increase your fatigue level by one to ignore this height limit until the end of the round.

Rank 4 – Greater Winged Agility

You can use your wings to help you maneuver on the ground more effectively, such as by briefly hovering or gliding over obstacles. The Balance and Jump bonuses from your winged agility ability increase to +8. In addition, you ignore difficult terrain.

Rank 4 – Greater Winged Combat

You can use your winged combat any number of times in the same round. You must still land at the end of each phase.

Rank 5 – Siren Song ✨

You can use the siren song ability as a standard action.

Siren Song ✨

Auditory, Emotion, Sustain (minor)

Make an attack vs. Mental against all enemies within a Medium (30 ft.) radius from you.

Hit: Each target is both charmed (friendly with charmer) by you and stunned (-2 defenses) as long as it can still hear you sing. It remains stunned even if it stops being charmed, such as if you or your allies attack it. This ability does not have the Subtle tag, so an observant target may notice that it is being influenced.

Rank 7: The area increases to a Large (60 ft.) radius.

Rank 6 – Agile Flight

Your flight improves to have good maneuverability (see Flying Maneuverability, page 55). In addition, your maximum height increases to 30 feet.

Rank 7 – Mythic Siren

You gain a +5 accuracy bonus with your luring song and siren song abilities.

Base Class Abilities

If you choose harpy as your base class, you gain the following abilities.

Defenses

You gain the following bonuses to your defenses: +3 Fortitude, +5 Reflex, +4 Mental.

Hit Points

You have 8 hit points + your Constitution, plus 1 hit points per level beyond 1. This increases as your level increases, as indicated below.

- Level 7: 18 hit points + twice your Constitution, plus 2 hit points per level beyond 7.
- Level 13: 35 hit points + five times your Constitution, plus 5 hit points per level beyond 13.
- Level 19: 70 hit points + ten times your Constitution, plus 10 hit points per level beyond 19.

Resources

You have the following resources:

- Two attunement points, which you can use to attune to items and abilities that affect you (see Attunement Points, page 34).
- A fatigue tolerance equal to 4 + your Constitution. Your fatigue tolerance makes it easier for you to use powerful abilities that fatigue you (see Fatigue, page 34).
- A number of insight points equal to 2 + your Intelligence. You can spend insight points to gain additional abilities (see Insight Points, page 25).
- Five trained skills from among your class skills, plus additional trained skills equal to your Intelligence (see Skills, page 144).

Weapon Proficiencies

You are proficient with simple weapons.

Armor Proficiencies

You are proficient with light armor.

Skills

You have the following class skills:

- Strength: Climb, Jump.
- Dexterity: Balance, Flexibility, Perform, Stealth.
- Perception: Awareness, Creature Handling, Deception, Persuasion, Survival.
- Other: Intimidate.

Kit

Kit are humanoid creatures that have noticeable foxlike characteristics. They are descended from natural fox spirits. All kit have at least one tail, and some have multiple tails. Their tails are distinctly fluffy and fox-like, and most kit put effort into concealing their tails to avoid revealing their true nature.

Size: Medium.

Attributes: No change.

Special Abilities:

- Foxlike Agility: Kit gain a +2 bonus to the Balance and Stealth skills.
- Illusory Guise: As a standard action, a kit can magically disguise its physical appearance in minor ways. This functions like the change appearance ability with a +4 bonus, except that a kit cannot change the appearance of its equipment, creature type, or number of limbs, including any tails it may have (see Change Appearance, page 151). This is a magical  ability. It lasts until the kit dismisses it as a free action or uses this ability again.
- Instinctive Trickster: Kit gain a +2 bonus to the Deception and Social Insight skills.
- Low-light Vision: Kit have low-light vision, allowing them to see clearly in shadowy illumination (see Low-light Vision, page 386).

Automatic Languages: Common, any one common language.

Naiadi

Naiadi are humanoid creatures descended from naiads. Most naiadi are unusually physically appealing, but show no other outward signs of their heritage.

Size: Medium.

Attributes: No change.

Special Abilities:

- Create Water: A naiadi can cast the create water cantrip. When they do so, they do not require verbal or somatic casting components, and their spellcasting rank is considered to be equal to their rank in their highest rank archetype. If they would already know that cantrip through the Aquamancy sphere, the volume of water created with the cantrip doubles.
- Enchanting Appearance: A naiadi gains a +2 bonus to the Creature Handling, Perform, and Persuasion skills.
- Low-light Vision: Naiadi have low-light vision, allowing them to see clearly in shadowy illumination (see Low-light Vision, page 386).
- Naiad Archetype: You may choose three class archetypes, as normal. However, you may choose the Naiad archetype in place of one of your class archetypes. If you do, you gain ranks in it just like you gain ranks in class archetypes. You cannot choose naiad as your base class.
- Water Affinity: A naiadi has a swim speed equal to the base speed for their size. In addition, they can breathe clean water like a human breathes air.

Automatic Languages: Common, Sylvan, any one common language.

Naiad Archetype

Rank 1 – Water Bond ✶

You can form a bond with a fresh stream, lake, or other Gargantuan or larger body of fresh water (not salt water). Forming a bond or severing a bond takes one week of meditation and ritual, periodically interrupted by rest. Forming a bond also requires asking permission from the water. Any individual body of water can only be bonded to one naiad or naiadi in this way.

As long as your bonded water remains clean, pure, and large enough to be a valid subject of bonding, you gain a +1 bonus to Mental defense and a bonus equal to twice your rank in this archetype to your hit points. If your bonded water becomes contaminated or shrinks below the minimum size, these bonuses are inverted into penalties until you sever the bond. You can passively observe the general health and status of water you are bonded to, including knowing when significant pollutants enter the water and when the water grows or shrinks significantly.

Rank 2 – Fluidseeker ✶

You gain a +1 bonus to accuracy against creatures significantly composed of water or watery fluids. This is true of almost all living creatures.

Rank 2 – Freshwater Fountain ✶

The volume of water you can create with the create water cantrip increases by five times.

Rank 3 – Aqueous Form ✶

You can cast the aqueous form spell. When you do, you do not require verbal or somatic casting components, and you use your rank in this archetype as your spellcasting rank. In addition, it has the Attune tag instead of the Attune (deep) tag.

Rank 4 – Greater Water Bond ✶

The bonuses from your water bond ability increase to +2 Mental defense and three times your rank in this archetype to your hit points.

Rank 5 – Greater Fluidseeker ✶

The accuracy bonus from your fluidseeker ability increases to +2.

Rank 5 – Greater Freshwater Fountain ✶

The multiplier from your freshwater fountain ability increases to twenty times the normal volume of water.

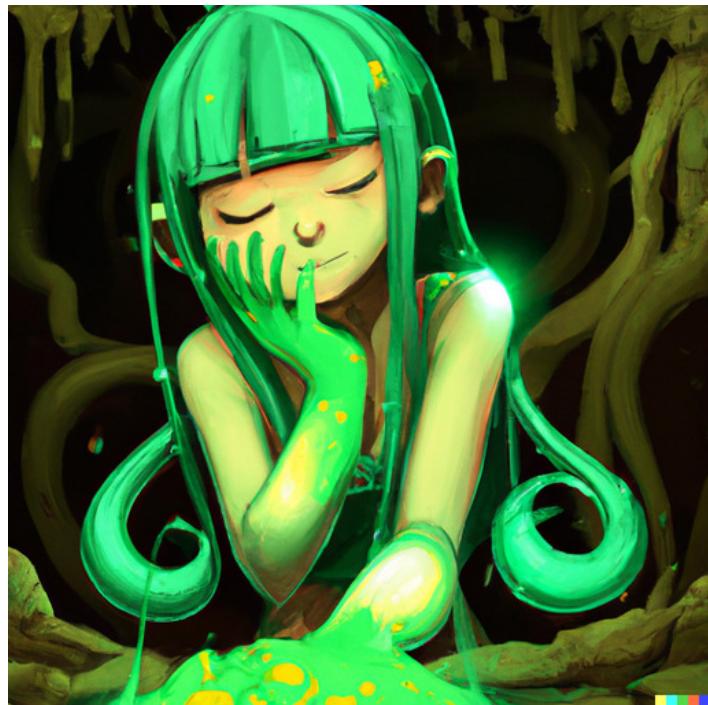

Rank 6 – Greater Aqueous Form ✶

When you cast the aqueous form spell, it does not have the Attune tag. Instead, it lasts until you dismiss it as a free action.

Rank 7 – Supreme Water Bond ✶

The bonuses from your water bond ability increase to +3 Mental defense and three times your rank in this archetype to your hit points.

Oozeborn

Oozeborn are sentient ooze creatures that have gained true sentience through a strange quirk of their birth. They are very rare to see in civilized lands, as most oozeborn lack the opportunity to discover more than the dark caves in which they were spawned. Since they often grow up without mentorship from any civilized creature, oozeborn tend to have odd mannerisms and a poor ability to mask their emotions, even after spending years in civilization. Old oozeborn may eventually adapt to societal norms and act perfectly natural, or they may abandon civilized company entirely.

The body of an oozeborn is amorphous, and they lack any identifiable internal organs. Their natural color depends on the nature of the ooze that spawned them, so green and gray are the most common colors. Adventuring oozeborn typically assume a bipedal shape for both practical and social convenience, but their natural shape is a loosely spherical blob. Unconscious oozeborn revert to their default state automatically, though some learn to maintain a semblance of cohesion while asleep.

Creature Type: Unlike most other playable species, oozeborn are animates instead of humanoids.

Size: Medium.

Attributes: -1 Intelligence, +1 Constitution.

Special Abilities:

- Acidic Body: Oozeborn are impervious to acid damage and poisons.
- Amorphous Form: An oozeborn's natural form is a loosely spherical blob. They have a -10 foot penalty to their land speed, but they gain a +5 bonus to the Flexibility skill (see Flexibility, page 152). They can use the mold body ability as a standard action to adopt a particular shape.

| Mold Body | Sustain (free) |
|--|----------------|
| You make a Disguise check to alter your appearance (see Change Appearance, page 151). This physically changes your body to match the results of your disguise. You gain a +4 bonus on the check, and you ignore penalties for changing your gender, species, subtype, age, and number of limbs (up to 4). However, this effect is unable to alter your equipment in any way. | |

You cannot create more than two free hands with this ability. If you add at least two legs, you gain a +10 foot bonus to your land speed. This speed bonus does not stack with the bonus for becoming multipedal, so the only benefit you gain from creating three or more legs is a +5 bonus to the Balance skill. If you give yourself a standard humanoid shape, you can wear armor designed for humanoids without suffering the normal penalties for barding (see Barding, page 181).

You can sustain this ability for any length of time without mental strain, ignoring the normal 5 minute limit.

- Compressible Body: Oozeborn can compress their head and shoulders down to a minimum of a one inch radius, allowing them to squeeze through very small areas. Their clothing or armor is not compressed, so they may limit their ability to move through extremely narrow spaces.
- Darkvision: Oozeborn have darkvision with a 60 foot range, allowing them to see in complete darkness (see Darkvision, page 385).
- Oozeborn Archetype: Oozeborn only gain two class archetypes instead of three. Instead, they treat the Oozeborn archetype as one of their archetypes, and they gain ranks in it just like they gain ranks in class archetypes.

Automatic Languages: Common.

Oozeborn Archetype

Rank 1 – Acidic Pseudopod

One of your arms becomes a pseudopod natural weapon. It deals 1d10 bludgeoning and acid damage and has the Long weapon tag (see Weapon Tags, page 165). You do not have a free hand on that arm while using it as a weapon in this way.

In addition, all damage you deal with natural weapons is acid damage in addition to its other types. This does not affect damage you deal with manufactured weapons.

Rank 2 – Darkborn Senses

You gain blindsense with a 60 foot range, allowing you to sense your surroundings without light (see Blindsight, page 385). If you already have the blindsense ability, you increase its range by 60 feet. In addition, you gain blindsight with a 15 foot range, allowing you to see without light (see Blindsight, page 385). If you already have the blindsight ability, you increase its range by 15 feet.

Rank 2 – Ingest Object

You can use the ingest object ability as a standard action. This functions like the absorb object spell, except that the maximum size of the object is equal to your size. Anything you absorb in this way takes a single point of environmental acid damage during each of your actions while it remains absorbed. This damage is insufficient to hurt most objects made from wood, stone, or metal, but it can destroy more fragile objects like paper or complex mechanical traps.

Rank 3 – Greater Amorphous Form

You gain a +4 bonus to your defenses when determining whether a strike gets a critical hit against you instead of a normal hit. In addition, your mold body ability loses the Sustain (free) tag. Instead, it lasts until you choose to dismiss it as a free action. This allows you to maintain your shape while unconscious.

Rank 3 – Greater Compressible Body

You reduce your penalties for squeezing (-2 Armor and Ref) by 1.

Rank 4 – Acidic Body+

You are immune to acid damage and poisons.

Rank 5 – Greater Darkborn Senses

The range of your blindsense increases by 60 feet. In addition, the range of your blindsight increases by 15 feet.

Rank 5 – Greater Ingest Object

The maximum number of objects you can absorb with your ingest object ability increases to 2. In addition, you may absorb allies with that ability in addition to unattended objects.

Rank 6 – Supreme Amorphous Form

The bonus from your greater amorphous form ability increases to +8.

Rank 6 – Supreme Compressible Body

You reduce your penalties for squeezing by 2, which means you take no penalties for squeezing unless you use the tight squeeze ability (see Flexibility, page 152).

Rank 7 – Third Arm

When you use your mold body ability, you can create three arms instead of two. You can use all three hands as free hands. For example, this can allow you to use a Heavy weapon and a shield simultaneously.

In addition, your arms become stronger and more agile. You can use any of your arms as a pseudopod natural weapon, and your pseudopods gain the Light weapon tag (see Weapon Tags, page 165).

Base Class Abilities

If you choose oozeborn as your base class, you gain the following abilities.

Defenses

You gain the following bonuses to your defenses: +5 Fortitude, +3 Reflex, +4 Mental.

Hit Points

You have 10 hit points + twice your Constitution, plus 2 hit points per level beyond 1. This increases as your level increases, as indicated below.

- Level 7: 24 hit points + four times your Constitution, plus 4 hit points per level beyond 7.
- Level 13: 50 hit points + eight times your Constitution, plus 8 hit points per level beyond 13.
- Level 19: 100 hit points + fifteen times your Constitution, plus 15 hit points per level beyond 19.

Resources

You have the following resources:

- Two attunement points, which you can use to attune to items and abilities that affect you (see Attunement Points, page 34).
- A fatigue tolerance equal to 4 + your Constitution. Your fatigue tolerance makes it easier for you to use powerful abilities that fatigue you (see Fatigue, page 34).
- A number of insight points equal to 1 + your Intelligence. You can spend insight points to gain additional abilities (see Insight Points, page 25).
- Four trained skills from among your class skills, plus additional trained skills equal to your Intelligence (see Skills, page 144).

Weapon Proficiencies

You are proficient with simple weapons.

Armor Proficiencies

You are proficient with light armor. However, you cannot wear armor unless you sustain your mold body ability, so you cannot wear armor while sleeping.

Skills

You have the following class skills:

- Strength: Climb, Swim.
- Dexterity: Balance, Flexibility, Sleight of Hand, Stealth.
- Constitution: Endurance.
- Intelligence: Craft, Knowledge (dungeoneering).
- Perception: Awareness, Survival.
- Other: Intimidate.

Orc

Orcs are green-skinned humanoid creatures known for their strength and brutality.

Size: Medium.

Attributes: +1 starting Strength, -1 starting Intelligence.

Special Abilities:

- Darkvision: Orcs have darkvision with a 60 foot range, allowing them to see in complete darkness (see Darkvision, page 385).
- Intimidating: Orcs gain a +3 bonus to the Intimidate skill (see Intimidate, page 152).
- Mighty: You gain a +1 bonus to your Strength for the purpose of determining your weight limits (see Weight Limits, page 39).
- Orcish Prejudice: Most people have negative associations with orcs thanks to their violent and dangerous behavior. Orcs have an Acquaintance (negative) relationship with most people that they meet, which influences people's behavior and makes Persuasion checks harder (see Persuasion, page 156). People in some locations, such as orcish tribes, do not have this attitude.
- Powerful: You gain a +1 bonus to your mundane power.

Automatic Languages: Common, Orc.

Sapling

Saplings are young treants that have left their forest home in search of adventure. They tend to be slow to think and act, but resilient once they have made up their mind.

Creature Type: Unlike most other playable species, saplings are considered animates instead of humanoids.

Size: Medium.

Attributes: +1 Constitution, +1 Willpower, -1 Dexterity, -1 Intelligence

Special Abilities:

- Barkskin: A sapling gains a +2 bonus to Armor defense.
- Ingrain: A sapling can use the ingrain ability as a minor action while it is grounded.

Ingrain

The sapling's land speed becomes 5 feet, regardless of any modifiers that normally apply. It cannot voluntarily stop being grounded while this ability lasts. It gains a +4 bonus to Fortitude defense and a +2 bonus to Armor defense.

If the sapling finishes a long rest with this ability active for the duration of the rest, it acquires nutrients sufficient to replace a day's worth of food and water. This ability lasts until the sapling ends it as a standard action, or until it stops being grounded.

- Limited Equipment: Saplings can wear armor, but it is treated as barding instead of normal armor, reducing its effectiveness (see Barding, page 181).
- Made of Wood: Saplings are vulnerable (-4 defenses) to fire damage. In addition, they are both creatures and plants.
- Treant Archetype: Saplings only gain two class archetypes instead of three. Instead, they treat the Treant archetype as one of their archetypes, and they gain ranks in it just like they gain ranks in class archetypes.
- Tree Appearance: When a sapling stays perfectly still, observers must make a DV 15 Awareness check to recognize that it is not an ordinary tree. Careful observers may still notice that the ordinary tree has appeared where no tree used to be, so they may be suspicious of a sapling even if they do not pass this check.

- Unhurried and Unfaltering: Saplings have a -10 penalty to speed with all movement modes. However, saplings ignore all penalties to their land speed, such as from wearing heavy armor. Those penalties still apply to any other movement modes normally. This also does not change effects that completely replace the sapling's land speed, such as the ingrain ability. In addition, saplings ignore difficult terrain from inanimate natural sources, such as heavy undergrowth.

Automatic Languages: Common, Sylvan.

Treant Archetype

Rank 1 – Nourishing Ingrain

At the end of each round while you are ingrained, you regain hit points equal to twice your rank in this archetype, and you may choose to remove a condition. If you do, you increase your fatigue level by one.

Rank 2 – Sturdy as the Mighty Oak

You gain a bonus equal to three times your rank in this archetype to your hit points (see Hit Points, page 33).

Rank 3 – Animate Plants

You can use the animate plants ability as a standard action.

Animate Plants

Manifestation

Make an attack vs. Reflex against one Large or smaller grounded creature within Medium (60 ft.) range. You gain a +2 accuracy bonus if the target is in undergrowth.

Hit: The target is slowed (half speed, -2 Armor and Ref) as a condition. In addition, it takes 1d8 bludgeoning damage immediately, and during each of your subsequent actions while this condition lasts.

This condition can be removed if the target makes a difficulty value 10 Strength check as a movement to break the plants. If the target makes this check as a standard action, it gains a +5 bonus. In addition, this condition is removed if the target takes fire damage.

Critical hit: The condition must be removed an additional time before the effect ends.

For each rank beyond 3, the attack's accuracy increases by +2 and the difficulty value to break the plants increases by 2. In addition, the damage increases at each rank as described below.

Rank 4: 1d10 bludgeoning damage.

Rank 5: 2d6 bludgeoning damage.

Rank 6: 2d8 bludgeoning damage.

Rank 7: 2d10 bludgeoning damage.

Rank 4 – Tall as the Noble Pine

Your size category increases to Large. This would normally increase your base speed to 40 feet. However, you take a -10 foot penalty to your base speed, so it is still 30 feet. You also gain a +1 bonus to your Strength, and a -1 penalty to your Dexterity.

Rank 5 – Nourishing Ingrain+

The healing from your nourishing ingrain ability increases to three times your rank in this archetype. In addition, removing a condition with that ability no longer increases your fatigue level.

Rank 6 – Sturdy as the Mighty Oak+

The hit point bonus increases to four times your rank in this archetype.

Rank 7 – Tall as the Noble Pine+

Your size category increases to Huge. This increases your base speed to 40 feet. The modifiers to Strength and Dexterity increase to +2 and -2, respectively.

Base Class Abilities

If you choose treant as your base class, you gain the following abilities.

Defenses

You gain the following bonuses to your defenses: +5 Fortitude, +3 Reflex, +4 Mental.

Hit Points

You have 8 hit points + twice your Constitution, plus 2 hit points per level beyond 1. This increases as your level increases, as indicated below.

- Level 7: 20 hit points + three times your Constitution, plus 3 hit points per level beyond 7.
- Level 13: 40 hit points + six times your Constitution, plus 6 hit points per level beyond 13.
- Level 19: 80 hit points + twelve times your Constitution, plus 12 hit points per level beyond 19.

Resources

You have the following resources:

- Two attunement points, which you can use to attune to items and abilities that affect you (see Attunement Points, page 34).
- A fatigue tolerance equal to 4 + your Constitution. Your fatigue tolerance makes it easier for you to use powerful abilities that fatigue you (see Fatigue, page 34).
- A number of insight points equal to 1 + your Intelligence. You can spend insight points to gain additional abilities (see Insight Points, page 25).
- Three trained skills from among your class skills, plus additional trained skills equal to your Intelligence (see Skills, page 144).

Weapon Proficiencies

You are proficient with simple weapons and club-like weapons.

Armor Proficiencies

You are proficient with light, medium, and heavy armor.

Skills

You have the following class skills:

- Dexterity: Balance.
- Constitution: Endurance.
- Intelligence: Knowledge (nature).
- Perception: Awareness, Creature Handling, Survival.
- Other: Intimidate.

Tiefling

Tieflings are humanoid creatures descended from fiends. They inherit a tendency towards evil from their ancestors, and are therefore viewed with great suspicion by most civilized societies. Good-aligned tieflings exist, but they may have difficulty using their natural talents for subterfuge and deceit for noble ends, and they often struggle with hidden vices.

Size: Medium.

Attributes: No change.

Special Abilities:

- Darkvision: Tieflings have darkvision with a 60 foot range, allowing them to see in complete darkness (see Darkvision, page 385).
- Demonic Prejudice: Most people have negative associations with tieflings thanks to the malign influence that demons have on the world. Tieflings have an Opposition relationship with most people that they meet, which influences people's behavior and makes Persuasion checks harder (see Persuasion, page 156). People in some locations, such as the Abyss, do not have this attitude.
- Hellfire Tolerance: Tieflings are impervious to fire damage.

- Infernal Presence: Tieflings gain a +2 bonus to the Deception and Intimidate skills.
- Tiefling Archetype: You may choose three class archetypes, as normal. However, you may choose the Tiefling archetype in place of one of your class archetypes. If you do, you gain ranks in it just like you gain ranks in class archetypes. You cannot choose tiefling as your base class.

Automatic Languages: Abyssal, Common, any one common language.

Tiefling Archetype

Rank 1 – Abyssal Hop ✨

You can use the abyssal hop ability as a standard action.

Abyssal Hop ✨

You teleport horizontally into an unoccupied location within Short (30 ft.) range on a stable surface that can support your weight. If the destination is invalid, this spell fails with no effect. In addition, make an attack vs. Reflex against each enemy adjacent to your location after you arrive.

Hit: 1d8 fire damage +1 per 3 power.

Miss: Half damage.

Rank 2: The damage bonus from your power increases to +1 per 2 power.

Rank 3: The base damage increases to 1d8.

Rank 4: The damage bonus increases to 1d6 per 4 power (minimum 1d6).

Rank 5: The base damage increases to 2d6.

Rank 6: The damage bonus increases to 1d6 per 3 power (minimum 1d6).

Rank 7: The base damage increases to 2d10.

Rank 1 – Infernal Resilience

You gain a bonus equal to twice your rank in this archetype to your damage resistance.

Rank 2 – Infernal Ancestry ✨

You deepen your connection to a particular aspect of your demonic ancestry. Choose one of the following infernal ancestries: hellfire conduit, tempting allure, or unholy might. You gain a benefit based on your chosen ancestry.

- Infernal Rebuke: You can use the infernal rebuke ability as a standard action.

Infernal Rebuke ★

Make an attack vs. Fortitude against one creature within Short (30 ft.) range. You gain a +2 bonus to accuracy with this attack if the target attacked you during the previous round.

Hit: 1d8 fire damage plus 1d6 per 4 power.

Rank 3: The base damage increases to 2d6.

Rank 4: The damage bonus from your power increases to 1d6 per 3 power.

Rank 5: The base damage increases to 2d10.

Rank 6: The damage bonus from your power increases to 1d10 per 3 power.

Rank 7: The base damage increases to 4d10.

- Tempting Allure: You gain a +2 bonus to the Deception, Disguise, and Persuasion skills. In addition, you can use the charming temptation ability as a standard action.

Charming Temptation ★

Emotion, Subtle, Sustain (minor)

Make an attack vs. Mental against a humanoid creature within Medium (60 ft.) range. You take a -10 penalty to accuracy with this attack against creatures who have made an attack or been attacked since the start of the last round.

Hit: The target is charmed (friendly with charmer) by you. Any act by you or by creatures that appear to be your allies that threatens or harms the charmed person breaks the effect. Harming the target is not limited to dealing it damage, but also includes causing it significant subjective discomfort. An observant target may interpret overt threats to its allies as a threat to itself.

The attack's accuracy increases by +2 for each rank beyond 2.

- Unholy Might: You gain two claw natural weapons and one bite natural weapon (see Natural Weapons, page 164). In addition, you gain a +1 bonus to your mundane power.

Rank 3 – Abysswalker ★

You can use your abyssal hop ability to teleport as a movement instead of as a standard action. When you do, you do not deal fire damage at your destination, and you briefly cannot use that ability as a movement again.

Rank 4 – Greater Infernal Ancestry ★

The benefits of your infernal ancestry ability improve.

- Infernal Conduit: You gain a +1 bonus to your magical power. In addition, the area affected by your abyssal hop ability increases to a Small (15 ft.) radius from your destination.
- Tempting Allure: The skill bonuses from your infernal ancestry ability increase to +3. In addition, you can use the dominating temptation ability as a standard action.

Dominating Temptation ★

Emotion

Make an attack vs. Mental against a humanoid creature within Short (30 ft.) range.

Hit: The target is stunned (-2 defenses) as a condition.

Critical hit: The target is confused (-2 defenses, randomly attack or defend) instead of stunned. In addition, if the target is humanoid and was already confused from a previous use of this ability, you may attune to this ability. When you do, the target becomes dominated (must obey commands) by you for the duration of that attunement.

The attack's accuracy increases by +1 for each rank beyond 4.

- Unholy Might: You can use the unholy strength ability as a standard action.

Unholy Strength ★

Attune

You gain a +1 magic bonus to your Strength.

Rank 5 – Greater Hellfire Tolerance

You become immune to fire damage.

Rank 5 – Greater Infernal Resilience

The bonus from your infernal resilience ability increases to three times your rank in this archetype.

Rank 6 – Supreme Infernal Ancestry ★

The benefits of your infernal ancestry ability reach their peak.

- Infernal Conduit: The magical power bonus from your greater infernal ancestry ability increases to +2. In addition, the area affected by your abyssal hop ability increases to a Medium (30 ft.) radius from your destination.
- Tempting Allure: The skill bonuses from your infernal ancestry ability increase to +4. In addition, your tempting domination ability can dominate non-humanoid creatures.
- Unholy Might: The power bonus from your infernal ancestry ability increases to +2. In addition, your unholy surge ability loses the Attune tag. Instead, it lasts until you dismiss it as a free action.

Rank 7 – Greater Abyssal Hop ★

When you use your abyssal hop ability, you no longer require line of sight or line of effect to your destination. In addition, when you use it to teleport as a standard action, the range increases to Distant (120 ft.) range.

Vampire

A vampire is an undead creature that must drink the blood of living creatures to survive. Unlike most undead creatures, vampires appear to be alive and human, allowing them to act normally in society. Vampires have great power, but also many dangerous weaknesses.

Creature Type: Unlike most other playable species, vampires are undead instead of humanoids.

Size: Medium.

Attributes: +1 Strength and Dexterity, -1 Constitution.

Special Abilities:

- Climb Speed: Vampires have a climb speed 10 feet slower than their base speed.
- Darkvision: Vampires have darkvision with a 90 foot range, allowing them to see in complete darkness (see Darkvision, page 385).
- Fangs: Vampires have a bite natural weapon (see Table 8.6: Natural Weapons, page 172). These fangs retract when not in use, so vampires cannot be identified as non-human by their fangs unless they choose to expose them.
- Undead: Vampires are undead instead of living, and they take damage from most healing effects (see Undead, page 386).
- Unnatural Charm: Vampires gain a +3 bonus to the Persuasion skill.
- Vampire Archetype: Vampires only gain two class archetypes instead of three. Instead, they treat the Vampire archetype as one of their archetypes, and they gain ranks in it just like they gain ranks in class archetypes.

Special Weaknesses: Vampires have a number of specific weaknesses.

- Blood Dependence: For every 24 hours that a vampire remains awake without ingesting at least one pint of blood from living creatures, its maximum hit points are reduced by 20. If its maximum hit points are reduced to 0 in this way, it dies and withers away into a pile of ash. This penalty is removed as soon as the vampire drinks a pint of blood. A vampire can enter a torpor to survive indefinitely without blood. While in a torpor, it is unconscious until it smells blood nearby.
- Garlic: Whenever a vampire smells or touches garlic, it takes 10 energy damage and becomes frightened (-2 Mental, -2 accuracy vs. source) by any creatures bearing garlic as a condition. This damage is repeated at the during each subsequent action phase that the vampire spends exposed to garlic.
- Holy Water: Whenever a vampire takes damage from holy water, it becomes stunned (-2 defenses) as a condition.
- Running Water: Whenever a vampire touches or flies over running water, it takes 10 energy damage and briefly becomes immobilized (-4 Armor and Ref, cannot use movement speeds). This applies as long as the vampire is within 100 feet of the running water, even the water is underground or under a bridge. It can use the struggle ability to move despite being immobilized, but only towards the closest shore. This damage is repeated at the during each subsequent action phase that the vampire spends touching or flying over running water.
- Silver: Vampires are vulnerable (-4 defenses) to strikes using silvered weapons.
- True Sunlight: Whenever a vampire is exposed to true sunlight, it takes 100 energy damage and becomes blinded (50% miss chance, -2 Armor and Ref) as a condition. If it loses hit points from this damage, it immediately dies and dissolves into a pile of ash. This damage is repeated at the during each subsequent action phase that the vampire spends in true sunlight.

- Unmirrored: Vampires have no reflection in mirrors, including their clothes and equipment. This can allow careful observers to identify vampires.
- Wooden Stakes: If a vampire loses hit points from a critical strike using a wooden stake, the stake becomes impaled in its heart. The vampire becomes paralyzed (cannot move) until the stake is removed. A wooden stake is a light improvised weapon that deals 1d4 piercing damage.

Vampire Archetype

Rank 1 – Blood Drain

Whenever a creature loses hit points from a strike using your bite natural weapon, you can increase your fatigue level by one. When you do, you regain damage resistance and hit points equal to the hit points the target lost from the attack, ignoring any extra damage from critical hits. This recovery does not have the Swift tag, so it applies after attacks during the current phase.

Rank 2 – Reviving Coffin ✶

You can designate a coffin as your home by resting in it for 24 consecutive hours. When you take a long rest in your home coffin, you recover two vital wounds instead of one. In addition, you can cross running water without penalty while in your home coffin.

When you die, if your corpse is placed in your home coffin, you can be resurrected after 24 hours. You can only be resurrected in this way if you were killed by a vital wound with a vital roll of -3 or higher. If you were killed by a more severe vital wound, or by some other effect, even your home coffin cannot save you.

Rank 3 – Charming Gaze ✶

You can use the charming gaze ability as a standard action.

Charming Gaze ✶ Emotion, Subtle, Sustain (minor), Visual

Make an attack vs. Mental against all humanoid creatures in a Large (60 ft.) cone from you. You take a -10 penalty to accuracy with this attack against creatures who have made an attack or been attacked since the start of the last round.

Hit: The target is charmed (friendly with charmer) by you. Any act by you or by creatures that appear to be your allies that threatens or harms the charmed person breaks the effect. Harming the target is not limited to dealing it damage, but also includes causing it significant subjective discomfort. An observant target may interpret overt threats to its allies as a threat to itself.

The attack's accuracy increases by +2 for each rank beyond 3.

Rank 4 – Creature of the Night ✶

You can use the creature of the night ability as a standard action.

| Creature of the Night  | Attune |
|---|--------|
| You shapeshift into the form of a Tiny bat, a Medium cloud of mist, or your normal humanoid form. While in your bat form, you gain blindsight (120 ft.) and a 40 foot fly speed with a 60 ft. height limit. While in your mist form, you become incorporeal and gain a 20 foot fly speed with a 30 ft. height limit and perfect maneuverability. In either non-humanoid form, you are unable to take any standard action other than movement. You cannot use this ability while paralyzed (cannot move). | |

Rank 4 – Reviving Coffin+

You can designate up to three home coffins, rather than only one. This can allow you to travel with one coffin while keeping others safe for emergencies.

Rank 5 – Unholy Perfection

Choose any two attributes other than Constitution. You gain a +1 bonus to those two attributes.

Rank 6 – Dominating Gaze

You can use the dominating gaze ability as a standard action.

| Dominating Gaze  | Emotion |
|---|---|
| Visual Make an attack vs. Mental against a humanoid creature within Short (30 ft.) range. Hit: The target is stunned (-2 defenses) as a condition. While it has no remaining damage resistance, it is confused (-2 defenses, randomly attack or defend) instead of stunned. Critical hit: If the target is humanoid and was already confused from a previous use of this ability, you may attune to this ability. When you do, the target becomes dominated (must obey commands) by you for the duration of that attunement. The attack's accuracy increases by +2 for each rank beyond 6. | |

Rank 7 – Blood Drain+

Using your blood drain ability does not increase your fatigue level.

Rank 7 – Eternal Undeath

Your reviving coffin ability can revive you from any cause of death or severity of vital wound. As long as some part of your corpse, even just a pinch of ash, is placed inside one of your home coffins, you will resurrect after 24 hours. Only the destruction of all of your home coffins or the total annihilation of your corpse can prevent your return.

Base Class Abilities

If you choose vampire as your base class, you gain the following abilities.

Defenses

You gain the following bonuses to your defenses: +3 Fortitude, +4 Reflex, +5 Mental.

Hit Points

You have 8 hit points, plus 1 hit points per level beyond 1, plus your Constitution. This increases as your level increases, as indicated below.

- Level 7: You have 18 hit points, plus 2 hit points per level beyond 7, plus twice your Constitution.
- Level 13: You have 35 hit points, plus 5 hit points per level beyond 13, plus five times your Constitution.
- Level 19: You have 70 hit points, plus 10 hit points per level beyond 19, plus ten times your Constitution.

Resources

You have the following resources:

- Three attunement points, which you can use to attune to items and abilities that affect you (see Attunement Points, page 34).
- A fatigue tolerance equal to $3 + \text{your Constitution}$. Your fatigue tolerance makes it easier for you to use powerful abilities that fatigue you (see Fatigue, page 34).
- A number of insight points equal to $1 + \text{your Intelligence}$. You can spend insight points to gain additional abilities (see Insight Points, page 25).
- Five trained skills from among your class skills, plus additional trained skills equal to your Intelligence (see Skills, page 144).

You are proficient with light armor.

You have the following class skills:

- Strength: Climb, Jump.
- Dexterity: Balance, Stealth.

- Other: Intimidate, Persuasion

Classes

Bard

A bard is a rogue with the ability to perform magical feats through music. It is unclear whether bards actually draw power from music in the same way that druids draw power from nature, or whether they simply channel their innate magical talent through music.

The bard class functions like the rogue class, with the following exceptions:

- A bard cannot choose the assassin archetype. However, the arcane magic sorcerer archetype is considered to be part of their class, and they may choose that archetype without spending insight points to multiclass.
- A bard casts spells without somatic components.
- A bard can only cast spells while sustaining a performance with the Perform skill. This performance can be either a mundane performance or a bardic performance ability.

Blighter

Blighter practice a strange inversion of druidic traditions. While druids venerate nature in all its forms, blighters dedicate their lives to the destruction of nature for its own sake. They rip power directly from the death of natural beings, using it to fuel their own warped version of nature magic. The blighter class functions like the druid class, with the following exceptions:

- Whenever a blighter rests, they automatically destroy nature and kill anything living around them. Plants wither and die, insects fall dead in the air, and so on. A ten minute rest destroys life in a radius equal to five feet times the blighter's highest rank in the blighter class (minimum 5 feet total). In general, Diminutive or larger creatures and Medium or larger plants suffer no ill effects, though creatures may feel subtle pains. An eight hour rest destroys life in ten times that radius, and kills life one size category larger. Resting beyond that point does not increase the radius or severity of the effect. This destruction spreads out gradually throughout the resting period, and even a partially completed rest destroys some natural life.
- A blighter cannot choose the wildspeaker archetype. However, the domain influence cleric archetype is considered to be part of their class, and they may choose that archetype without spending insight points to multiclass. A blighter can only choose the Death, Destruction, and Evil domains.
- A blighter cannot gain access to the verdamancy mystic sphere by any means.

Faebonder

A faebonder is a warlock who made their pact with a fae creature instead of a demon. The faebonder class functions like the warlock class, with the following exceptions:

- The magic source for the faebonder class is nature magic instead of pact magic. This changes the mystic spheres a faebonder has access to and all other effects based on their source of magic. However, they still require both verbal components and somatic components to cast spells from the faebonder class (see Casting Components, page 43).
- A faebonder cannot choose the blessings of the abyss archetype. However, the elementalist druid archetype is considered to be part of their class, and they may choose that archetype without spending insight points to multiclass.

- Faebonders add Knowledge (nature) to their class skill list and remove Knowledge (planes).

Favored Soul

A favored soul is a warlock who made their pact with a deity instead of a demon. This is an unusual arrangement, as deities would normally influence their clerics to achieve their aims. However, in special circumstances, a deity may want to empower a non-worshipper to influence mortal affairs. The favored soul class functions like the warlock class, with the following exceptions:

- The magic source for the favored soul class is divine magic instead of pact magic. This changes the mystic spheres a favored soul has access to and all other effects based on their source of magic. However, they still require both verbal components and somatic components to cast spells from the favored soul class (see Casting Components, page 43).
- A favored soul cannot choose the blessings of the abyss archetype. However, the domain influence cleric archetype is considered to be part of their class, and they may choose that archetype without spending insight points to multiclass.
- Favored souls add Knowledge (religion) to their class skill list and remove Knowledge (planes).

Shaman

A shaman, like a cleric, is a divine worshipper. However, while clerics worship powerful, well-established deities, shamans worship more primitive deities of lesser power. As a result, their divine powers are more limited and take different forms. Shamans are common among less civilized humanoid societies like bugbears. The shaman class functions like the cleric class, with the following exceptions:

- The magic source for the shaman class is nature magic instead of divine magic. This changes the mystic spheres a shaman has access to and all other effects based on their source of magic.
- A shaman cannot choose the divine spell mastery archetype. However, the elementalist druid archetype is considered to be part of their class, and they may choose that archetype without spending insight points to multiclass.
- A shaman cannot gain access to more than two mystic spheres from the magic source granted by the shaman class by any means.
- Shamans add Knowledge (nature) to their class skill list and remove Knowledge (planes).

Alternate Play Styles

Being Surrounded

Normally, exact positioning doesn't matter that much in combat. This makes it easier to play without a grid, or to just spend less time worrying about the details of everyone's positions on a grid. With this optional rule, you can make positioning more important in combat, increasing tactical depth for melee characters. This generally has the downside of making movement more complicated, however, as combatants try to surround others and avoid being surrounded themselves.

If you play with this alternate rule, when you are being attacked by multiple foes at once, you are less able to defend yourself. If every space adjacent to you either contains an enemy or is adjacent to an enemy, you are surrounded. A creature that is surrounded takes a -2 penalty to its Armor and Reflex defenses. When determining whether you are surrounded, ignore any enemies that are sharing space with you, and ignore any enemies that are at least two size categories smaller than you.

Any effect that makes a creature immune to being partially unaware (50% miss chance, -2 Armor and Ref), such as the foresight spell, also makes that creature immune to being surrounded.

Easy Magic Item Reforging

The Craft Specialization feat allows characters to transfer magic item properties between different items. For example, if the players find a magic meteor hammer that none of them could use, they could reforge that item as a magic battleaxe so they could use its property. With this optional rule, skilled item crafters capable of this action are assumed to be common in major cities or towns. The typical price to reforge an item in this way is two ranks lower than the item's rank, to a minimum rank of 1.

The advantage of using this optional rule is that it makes magic items more likely to be useful to the party. Without this rule, you may be forced to have the party "randomly" only find magic items that they are coincidentally proficient with, or the party may frequently find magic items that they can't use. On the other hand, this rule assumes a more magical and highly developed civilization. It also may require the party to frequently return to town to reforge useless items into items that are useful for them. Either of those requirements may not match the intended tone of your campaign.

Expanded Insight Points

Normally, insight points can only be used to learn new special abilities from your class, or from a small number of feats. This alternate rule allows you to spend insight points to gain a wide variety of other proficiencies and benefits. This makes character creation more complicated, but it also allows you to personalize your character much more precisely.

If you play with this alternate rule, you can spend insight points in any of the following ways.

- You can spend an insight point to gain an additional trained skill.
- You can spend an insight point to gain proficiency in an additional usage class of armor (light, medium, or heavy). You must be proficient with light armor to become proficient with medium armor, and you must be proficient with medium armor to become proficient with heavy armor.
- You can spend an insight point to gain proficiency in an additional weapon group.
- You can spend two insight points to gain proficiency with exotic weapons from a single weapon group you are already proficient with.

- You can spend an insight point to learn two common languages or one rare language (see Communication and Languages, page 40).

Longer Rests

Normally, characters can take a short rest in ten minutes and a long rest in eight hours. With this optional rule, a short rest instead requires eight hours of rest, and long rest requires a week.

This dramatically slows down the narrative pacing of the world, and makes the world feel much more brutal and unforgiving. Characters will often be forced to start a combat while missing damage resistance or even hit points, and taking vital wounds can be crippling.

Obscure Magic Items

The base rules of Rise make it fairly easy to identify magic items. This keeps the pace of the game up when players find magic items frequently. However, you may choose to treat magic items as being more rare and mysterious. If you do, make the following changes:

- The identify item ability from the Craft and Knowledge skills provides no information about how to use a magic item's properties or what they might be. It can still be used to identify whether or not an item is magical.
- The Knowledge (items) Knowledge skill is removed entirely.
- Magic items are more rare, and therefore more valuable. Calculate the prices for all magic items as if they were one rank higher than they actually are. Rank 7 magic items cannot be bought for any price - they are simply too rare.
- All spells with the Attune tag require an additional attunement point to attune to. If magic items are hard to find and use, spellcasters gain a powerful benefit, since their personal attunement spells are still reliably available. This change ensures that spellcasters still gain a benefit from their personal access to magic, but they are not drastically more powerful than characters who depend on finding useful magic items.

You may also want to add complex or unintuitive activation conditions to magic items. For example, boots of speed may only function while hopping on one foot, or while you are not wearing socks. This can encourage players to experiment more with magic items to figure out how to use them.

Restricted Archetype Order

Normally, when a character in Rise levels up, they can freely choose which of their class archetypes they want to rank up (as long as they don't exceed their maximum rank). However, this means that most levels require making a choice that may be confusing for newer players. The process of leveling up can be simplified if each player chooses an order for their archetypes.

With this variant, each character has a primary archetype, a secondary archetype, and a tertiary archetype. This choice is made at character creation. Whenever they increase their maximum rank, they increase their rank in their primary archetype. In their next level up, they increase their rank in their secondary archetype, and then finally their tertiary archetype.

Sleeping While Encumbered

Normally, characters can sleep in their armor without any penalty. This is unrealistic, but it can be time-consuming to make everyone track how their sleeping statistics differ from their waking statistics. Being ambushed while sleeping is very rare in most games, so it's generally not worth the hassle. However, if you want a more realistic game with more punishing night ambushes, you can use this alternate rule.

If you play with this alternate rule, resting in armor is difficult. If you take a long rest while you have encumbrance, you finish your rest with a fatigue level equal to the value of your encumbrance. In addition, only half the time you spend sleeping while you have encumbrance counts as sleep for the purpose of determining your fatigue (see Sleep and Fatigue, page 38).

Tap Out

With this optional rule, whenever you gain a vital wound, you can "tap out" to guarantee that you survive while taking yourself out of the fight. If you tap out, you treat the result of the vital roll for that vital wound as a 10, regardless of any bonuses or penalties you would normally have to the vital roll. However, you fall unconscious immediately, and you cannot regain consciousness by any means until you finish a short rest.

This optional rule significantly reduces the likelihood of character death, and makes fights less likely to impose long-term consequences on characters. However, it also makes vital wounds more likely to entirely knock characters out of a fight, which can increase the risk that the entire party is defeated.

Variant Rage

Normally, a barbarian's rage ability provides a +2 accuracy bonus. With this variant, raging barbarians instead gain no accuracy bonus, but roll 1d12 instead of 1d10 for their attack rolls while raging. The attack explodes on a 9 or higher for the first roll, but subsequent rolls only explode on a 12. A barbarian's overall accuracy and damage output with this rule essentially equivalent to the normal rule, but they are more likely to get critical hits or completely whiff on important attacks.

This variant can be more fun for people who like big hits and big misses, and for RPG veterans who naturally associate a barbarian with a d12. It is considered a variant rule because not everyone owns a 12-sided die, and you shouldn't need to buy one just to play a barbarian.

Acknowledgements

A number of marvelous people have helped me make this revision possible, and many clever minds produced ideas I that have incorporated into the new system. I cannot hope to properly credit everyone who contributed, knowingly or otherwise, but I can at least make an attempt here. The following individuals have my gratitude:

Connor Haines, for being a great brainstorming partner and excellent roommate.

Zontan Ferrah, for frequently telling me when my ideas were stupid. Sometimes he was even right.

Desmond Henderson, for his remarkably thorough and insightful feedback, and for being the first person brave enough to run a game with Rise.

Kyle McCauley, Linchaun Zhang, and Scott Kottkamp for helping to correct foolish errors that once littered this document and for providing ideas about how to improve the system.

Tarkisflux, for his excellent Tome of Prowess, feedback on spell design, and more.

Kholai, for keeping me on my toes in our monstrously long discussions of rules minutia.

Douglas Milewski, for his insightful essay on the nature of fighters. It helped inspire me to think that I could make D&D right.

Rich Burlew, for providing a forum for house rule enthusiasts like myself to gather and for his insightful articles that guided my thought.

Shannon Carty, for the donation of her vocabulary.

Dave Rosenberg, for his insight into the nature of druids.

Ryan Beck, for his helpful commentary and criticism.

Jordan MacAvoy, for his endless patience and creativity that repeatedly revealed flaws in the wording and design of this book.

Wizards of the Coast, for making a great game and releasing it under the OGL license, which makes all of this tinkering possible.

In addition, the art for this book came from Stable Diffusion and Dall-E 2, which is very exciting! We live in the future!
